

Airline: Sky Airline

Title: Sky Airline customer review

Review: Buenos Aires to Santiago. Staff have no intention to speak in English - not all of us speaks Spanish. My friend's got damaged on first flight. Couldn't get help or no one to complain. Just gave email address and walked off. Not even sorry. Second flight was even worse. Luggage got lost and the same. Asked for hotel and another people translated that bag will come with next flight and be delivered to your hotel. Next day took a couple hours until those staff found bag.

Route: Buenos Aires to Santiago

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Corsair

Title: "first and last time flying with them"

Review: Montreal to Paris Orly. Corsair postponed my evening flight to the next morning. They refunded me 17$ Canadian, saying they only refund expenses incurred before the flight. I asked their customer service to direct me to their policy which I didn't see on their website nor on my boarding pass/booking confirmation, and they stopped responding to me. I live in Canada, and their call centre hours, 9 am to noon France time, make it impossible for me to call them. First and last time flying with them.

Route: YUL to ORY

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "Go with another airline"

Review: The system auto assigned my 8 yr old daughter to a seat 12 rows from me, which is against the airline's safety policy. When I contacted Customer service to raise my concern, they agreed to move her to a seat close by. But then at airport check in, I couldn't print boarding pass. Was told to go to payment counter and pay for changing my daughter's seat! After escalation, the manager even accused me of putting my daughter in a far away seat but now wants to move her closer, hence I should pay. I find her accusation so ridiculous. She finally agreed to waive seat charge, as though she did me a favor. I wonder why AirAsia system would assign young kids to sit by themselves. My advise. Go with another airline!

Route: Singapore to Bali

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "They kept changing the flight time"

Review: Worst experience ever. They kept changing the flight time, we had to over go a delay of one hour and when we finally got to the airport we waited for an extra one hour because there was another plane in our spot. Not recommended.

Route: Punta Cana to Montreal

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Seychelles

Title: " my worst flight experience"

Review: Flew Air Seychelles from Seychelles to Mauritius (had to take this as this would be the only direct option with a high price of $300+), and this became my worst flight experience in my life as my original departure time of Apr. 19, 10:00 eventually became Apr. 20, 15:10. A transactional email arrives the night before the flight that the flight will be delayed but new flight time will be released later on, shattering my sleep already as I am in fear that my travel plans will be disrupted (and it did in a serious manner). Had to be at the airport on time nonetheless (as I now know that Air Seychelles will never care about my travel plans and therefore I will have to be at the airport to be at the scene myself) and another email arrives that 13:20 would be the new departure time. But then nothing happens and nobody at the check-in counter knows what is going on except that there is a "discussion" about the flight's fate if it would fly out on 13:20 as planned or not (and it did not). Finally, at around 11:00 an Air Seychelles temporary employee approaches the passengers that the flight is "decided" to be delayed (a quick check on its two A320 Neos reveal that they are flying other routes instead, but no explanations were given at all so how would I know what is happening at all) and that all passengers will have to stay where Air Seychelles sends them to. All passengers end up taking the bus provided by Air Seychelles (after loading their luggage on an open truck's cargo hold) and are all bussed to a terrible resort about 30 minutes away from the airport. Then rooms were assigned arbitrarily (couples were okay but solo travelers were randomly assigned rooms together) and a terrible lunch buffet with only one free non-alcoholic beverage was offered (not even a meal voucher as that would be so much more expensive to the airline). Then we were told by Air Seychelles that the flight could depart any time that day or the day after and that the passengers should wait for the call in their hotel rooms (that is, someone should be in the hotel room instead of being at the beach in front of the resort) as well as frequently consult Air Seychelles Facebook page for updates. Then the hotel calls that passengers should gather by 11:00 the next morning without even telling us what the new departure time would be (had to check myself via the aforementioned Facebook page that the new departure time had been announced as Apr. 20, 15:10). Then the next morning, once again the weird bussing back from the hotel to the airport, and then found out that an Ethiopian B737-MAX8 was there to run the route instead. Checked-in and finally departed at around 15:40, landing in Mauritius at around 18:00 (a whopping ~30 hour delay). Cannot say much about the aircraft and in-flight service as it was provided by Ethiopian Airlines, but it was pretty basic with basic seats without any IFE and a tiny sandwich given during the flight (alcoholic beverages were available though). At the end of the day, my Mauritius travel plans were disrupted without any reimbursement of any kind from the airline for the losses. I heard before that Air Seychelles had financial troubles in the past and now I think understand why. Will never fly again with Air Seychelles, and even give up Seychelles as my vacation destination if Air Seychelles is unavoidable.

Route: Seychelles to Mauritius

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: SilkAir

Title: "not recommend this airline"

Review: Singapore to Cairns. I would not recommend this airline. What a disappointment considering they are affiliated to Singapore Airlines which are great. Firstly the seating feels the way it looks. Must be the worst looking interior, old badly maintained (seat pockets were broken on both flights), the seats were super uncomfortable, the food was terrible and the flights were late on both occasions. Silk Air will not see me again.

Route: Singapore to Cairns

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Aerolineas Argentinas

Title: "No complaints whatsoever"

Review: Vast improvement compared to my last experience some years ago. Used Aerolineas Argentinas as a 'feeder' from/to AEP (which is so much more convenient than EZE for my needs) to connect with my Swiss (Edelweiss actually) flights from/to GIG. No complaints whatsoever, brand new, clean planes and enjoyable service both on the ground and in the air. Complementary catering absolutely sufficient for a 3 hour flight with 2 ham/cheese sandwiches, soft drinks and coffee on offer. The only inconvenience was that my reservation number (ticket issued by Lufthansa) wasn't recognized by AR, hence I was unable to make online check-in and reserve seats for the GIG-AEP leg upfront. However, it did work for the return flight once I obtained the locator/PNR code. Overall a good experience and an option I will again take into consideration for my next trip.

Route: Zurich to Buenos Aires via Rio de Janeiro

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Avior Airlines

Title: "Terrible experience"

Review: Miami to Caracas. Terrible experience. Bought a non stop ticket. Upon returning, Avior decided to put 2 flights together and passengers were sent to a different city, we were delayed for over 6 hours, I advised Avior that I had a connecting flight to 2 different agents that advised that they would contact Avior USA, by the time I got to USA, I had lost my connecting flight, spoke the situation to Avior Personnel who not only were extremely rude but refused to pay for my hotel and took no responsibility on the issue. Next day, I tried to contact Avior by phone and email providing all info to no avail. The difference between a non stop ticket vs a stop ticket was over $200-$300.

Route: Miami to Caracas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "unacceptable service"

Review: Hong Kong to Ho Chi Minh City. Our flight was delay 6 hours from SFO to Hong Kong. Our flight from Hong Kong to Ho Cho Minh delayed. Once we landed in Hong Kong they gave me the first flight out but its 23 hours wait. They gave another family of 3 guests on the same flight out as ours from Hong Kong to Ho Chi Minh on Vietnam Airline. This is the worst experience of flying. This is unacceptable service.

Route: Hong Kong to Ho Chi Minh City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Maya Island Air

Title: "1950s era third world airline"

Review: San Pedro to Belize City. Enjoy the experience of a 1950s era third world airline. Reservations and confirmations mean nothing. Your flight will always be leaving in 15 minutes and passengers cheer when they are finally called to board. Particularly difficult on families with children. Officials sit inscrutably at the front desk and must be approached numerous times to ensure you have not lost your place in line. Really great way to start and end a vacation.

Route: San Pedro to Belize City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "The most wonderful experience"

Review: Ho Chi Minh City to Hanoi return. The most wonderful experience today and I'm 64 years old. How the staff assisted me with my health declarations, then changed my flight to my convenience, is beyond any belief. I thank them all from the bottom of my heart. I've been flying VN Airlines for so many years and my experience overall is a very positive one, but what happened today I cannot just forget without a very special mention. I recommend the company at all times. Reliable and good service. I'm never looking for perfect (I know they are), just imagine if I should have to review myself.

Route: Ho Chi Minh City to Hanoi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Batik Air

Title: "flight attendant was attentive"

Review: Flew Jakarta to Batam with Batik Air in Business Class. I was the only passenger in business class on this flight. They use Terminal 1 Soekarna Hatta to check in - but business class passengers get a small lounge in Terminal 1 C for Batik Business Class only. The flight was good. Take off was smooth, but landing was not due to bad weather in Hang Nadim Batam. The flight attendant was attentive since I was the only one in the business cabin. The meal they served was good, but a little bit salty for me. Overall its good - their price for business class is very competitive.

Route: Jakarta to Batam

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: United Airlines

Title: "36-hours on the phone"

Review: United is the worst airline in the world Ive spent 36 hours on the phone with them over the last 2 days. I will never fly with this company ever again! Maybe instead of paying people $5/hr in another country that cant help anyone or has no permission to do anything you should invest in actual US customer service that you pay $30+/hr

Route: Denver to Hawaii

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "once again another delay"

Review: I fly frequently for and 9 out 10 times I have a delay with Southwest Airlines. All I want to do is get home today and once again another delay. Pay extra and book with another airline and get to your destination within time. I can understand an occasional, but all the time.

Route: Kansas City to Las vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Primera Air

Title: "Do not book with this airline!"

Review: Alicante to Stansted. Booked this flight because it was the cheapest and didnt look into them that much. Woke up on the morning of the flight to say that it was delayed from 12:40pm to 04:20 the next morning. Nobody was the airport until 11am (staff wise) and they then checked us in before sending us off to a hotel at 3pm. As we pulled into the hotel we all received a text message saying that the flight was cancelled and we had to book our own flights home. I got one of the last British Airways flights which cost me £500. There were lots of distressed people who couldnt afford a new flight and I honestly dont know what happened to them in the end. Lots of people had to fly to East Midlands the next afternoon and then make their own way to Stansted. This isnt ideal but these things happen and at this point I wasnt too annoyed with Primera Air. However, upon returning I have emailed my refund claim as asked and have had no reply. I have tried to phone them and their refund department do not have a phone number. The lady in customer services told me that they get thousands of claims a day so I shouldnt expect a reply soon. Its so frustrating that they still havent been in contact (nearly 3 weeks later) to even give me a reference number. Do not book with this airline! Pay the extra money to fly with an airline that will actually treat you properly.

Route: Alicante to Stansted

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: LC Perú

Title: "frustrating and stressful time"

Review: Cusco to Lima. LC Peru cancelled my flight twice. Once yesterday 9/21, which they rebooked to this morning 5:40am 9/22 2502. Both times all passengers had to checkin, go through security, wait at gate, wait to board, get inside plane, then be told there was mechanical issues and had us deplane, get our luggage, checkin again (in an impossible non-English) line. They never made clear announcements in English or Spanish to explain to everyone what was going on. I ended up having to buy an expensive same-day flight on a different airline just to get back to Lima to catch a $400+ tour I already rebooked because it was supposed to start today at 4:00am from Lima! Whereas I am still in Cusco. I am so very disappointed with this airline. I had a great time in Cusco but that was overpowered by this miserable and annoying and very frustrating and stressful time with LC Peru. I

Route: Cusco to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: PLAY

Title: "unexplained waiting time in baggage claim"

Review: OG605, 10.02.2023 Flight on time off gate ALC, ahead of schedule in KEF. Payed for extra leg space, turned out excellent seating. Onboard service normal. At baggage claim in KEF, no passengers from other flights waiting in baggage area, not a single piece of luggage on belt for over one hour. Waiting for luggage is one thing, but receiving no information or explanation can become extremely irritating. The unexplained waiting time in baggage claim definitely affected the value of the excellent experience during flight.

Route: Alicante to Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "Shame on you Safair for poor service"

Review: My mother in law who is 88 years old was booked to go to Durban as an assisted passenger. At Or Tambo airport a Safair staff member escorted her to the boarding area of the plane. When she got to Durban, she and an elderly couple who were also as assisted passengers, waited on board to be helped out the plane. This service was not forthcoming by the cabin crew. They decided to then disembark by themselves, because they were not attended to.

When my mother in law went to collect her luggage which was supposed to be on carousel 4, it was nowhere to be found, she was given the run around on the collection area. Eventually it was found on carousel 1, imagine a frail 88 year old person trying to take her luggage of the carousel by herself, she could have fallen and injured herself. She was traumatized and disrespected in this process. This could have been prevented if Safair cabin crew had done their job's and escorted her and the other elderly couple of the plane. Shame on you Safair for poor service and disrespecting elderly people, where's your sense of Ubunyi?

Route: Johannesburg to Durban

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Flynas

Title: "its so disappointing"

Review: I booked a flight on 27th December 2018 from Jeddah to Kuwait to visit my family. The flight first delayed for 30 min. When I reached to the airport while waiting to check in I have been told the flight may cancel due to the lack of customer at the aircraft. Flight was at 14.30pm and it was already 16.00pm and there was no manager of supervision to guide us. Than we have been told we will fly with Jazeera and 18.10pm and they took our passports to issue the tickets and we have been told the bus will take us to the north terminal. While we are waiting we have been told none of he flights are available for today and they were trying to send us to the hotel. There was no clarification on when we will fly. Even for next day or whatever! There was an agent and he said dont talk to me and complain to the call center! So irresponsible I had to book another flight and mean time I have been told I can refund! After waiting over the hearing their cheap on going advertising for 25 min. I manage to talk to agent and he said there was no delay with the flight and place took of to Kuwait on time! They had no idea what was happening at the airport. He gave a agent name to talk to him and he said he has the solution for you .Pay a bit more and never use this is airline as its so disappointing!

Route: Jeddah to Kuwait

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air India Express

Title: "a great experience"

Review: Dubai to Kochi return. I had a great experience. Both these days the service rendered by the cabin crew. Air India express should improve there seats and also include some variety in the foods which are serving to guest. And also take care about the time management.

Route: Dubai to Kochi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia Philippines

Title: "so many schedule changes"

Review: Worst airline ever. Ive never known an airline that makes so many schedule changes a few hours before boarding time. Were already on our way to airport then suddenly I receive an email from them that our flight schedule have change from 6pm boarding to 10pm. I cannot recall how may times theyve change our schedule but i got home at 1am. I will never fly again with Airasia!

Route: Bacolod to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Airways

Title: "experience with Jetstar was not a good one from the beginning"

Review: My experience with Jetstar was not a good one from the beginning. I had vouchers to use but Jetstar made it so difficult and complicated to redeem them that I had to eventually pay a travel agent to do it for me. The vouchers had been paid to fly to Thailand but when I went to redeem them they didn't even get me to Bali. The flight was 2 hours late in leaving, the staff on the plane were adequate. I was happy we were on a Dreamliner 787 for all the good features it delivers. I paid extra for an exit row so I could stand up and avoid a third DVT. In fact the knowledge that I could fly on a 787 both ways confirmed that I would go to Bali. On the return trip, Jetstar changed the aircraft to a A321LR Neo, a narrow bodied smaller plane with no entertainment and a minimum of space to stand and exercise. All previous seat booking disappeared so I tried to again book exit rows. The Jetstar webpage interface was so unaccommodating that it was difficult to execute this so I missed out on the two that were available. I think it is pertinent that I wouldn't even have known the plane had changed except that my travel agent had sent me an email. I received nothing from Jetstar. When I finally did book some seats and Jetstar emailed me my new itinerary, it indicated that I now had no checked luggage even though I had paid for it. As it turned out other people were sent the same information but none of us knew it was going to be ok. I tried to contact Jetstar on their website chat, but after 20 mins waiting I gave up, but I'm sure I'm important to them. The plane was also 2 hours late in leaving Bali because it was 2 hours late in arriving from Australia. The plane was crowded but the seats were unexpectedly comfortable. This service would not be tolerated without fines in other parts of the world. Next week I fly Virgin, I'm hoping for a better flight.

Route: Denpasar to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Malaysia Airlines

Title: "the flight was a nightmare"

Review: On the way out the crew were lovely and the food was very good. On the journey back home to UK the crew were not to be seen.. The temperature in the cabin was freezing to the point of having 3 blankets luckily as the flight wasn't full etc. Due to that fact you couldn't get comfortable with being so cold, the flight was a nightmare. Many passengers said that they shivered all the journey. We had priority economy seats which I was so pleased with until the journey began, I felt so poorly with being so tired, it tarnished the whole experience.

Route: Penang to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "seats are very comfortable"

Review: A few months ago I traveled Virgin America premium economy and the service was terrible, I thought it was because I wasn't in first class. On my recent trip from Los Angeles to New York JFK I purchased first class tickets. The service was still very poor. I fell asleep and when I woke up later they did not offer anything to drink or eat. The seats are very comfortable though.

Route: LAX to JFK

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "I have cancelled our reservation and rebooked on a less greedy airline"

Review: My wife and I had round-trip Business Class reservations with Finnair from London to Bangkok. We are elderly and my wife is a very nervous flyer and so it is essential that I always sit beside her on a flight. So, I went online to make our seat selections in the usual way and was shocked to find that Business Class passengers on Finnair now have to pay extra to select their seats! So an elderly couple flying in Business Class cannot sit together unless they pay extra! I have cancelled our reservation and rebooked on a less greedy airline.

Route: London to Bangkok via Helsinki

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "a nightmare to deal with"

Review: Nothing positive to report from this trip review. Flight was four hours late, missed onward connection to Florianopolis, forced to overnight at GRU. LATAM had apparently organized hotel bookings for us and I received my voucher upon arrival. Unfortunately when we got to the hotel the hotel had no rooms and they claimed LATAM never confirmed any of the bookings with them. LATAM was unreachable to resolve this problem. We tried on social media channels and five different phone numbers. Basically all of us were left to fend for ourselves. Ultimately secured my own room at another hotel and got myself there. Zero chance of being reimbursed by LATAM who refuses to respond to my queries on Twitter. At GRU was told there is not one person who could help resolve this despite it being a hub airport - they said I have to call them - we tried multiple times with no success. They have been completely unresponsive since the problem has occurred and their customer service is less than zero. Their lack of competence is outdone only by their lack of integrity. As for the flight itself, their B767 product is antiquated, circa 1990 in look and feel, badly in need of refurbishment. Seats uncomfortable, 2x2x2 configuration offer no privacy. IFE did not work properly and hardware was falling apart. Business class headphones were the same cheap plastic as economy and they had some dog ate the homework excuse as to why they didn't have the noise cancelling or noise reducing variety that made no sense. Needless to say I'd avoid LATAM and this aircraft for all of said reasons unless you absolutely need to fly them. They are a nightmare to deal with, are extraordinarily unethical in their dealings with customers and they need to be called out for what they are - basically a bunch of frauds. Avoid these people like the plague.

Route: Barcelona to Sao Pulo

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Qantas Airways

Title: "experience couldn't have been better"

Review: My experience couldn't have been better. Before boarding we used the Qatar Airways Lounge in Bangkok which is simply the best. Boarding was well organised. The crew were welcoming and the seat ready with pj's, blanket and seat cover. The Champagne was cold and the food was really good. I slept for 5 hours and had a light breakfast before arrival. What more could I have asked for?

Route: Bangkok to Sydney

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thomson Airways

Title: "impressed with the aircraft and staff"

Review: East Midlands to Heraklion with Thomson Airways. We were very impressed with the aircraft and staff on this flight. The plane was very clean and much better than previous flights with Thomson. The aircraft looked almost new and I am sure there was more legroom. The least said the better about the airport when we reached our destination.

Route: EMA to HER

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "good deal - if you have flexible plans"

Review: Melbourne to London via Brunei and Dubai. The deal with flying Royal Brunei is more complicated than flying other airlines. The flying experience on the 787 is excellent - great legroom for an economy seat , good food served every flight. IFE is OK - take your own headphones. Crew are very good. The price is very low compared to other airlines. However, this is a small airline with no back up plan if things go wrong - and they do. We had a 13 hour delay in Brunei but met people who were delayed several days. RB put us into a basic 3 star hotel for the night and organised a pretty poor evening meal but a meal nonetheless. We also travelled with people who had experienced this sort of delay several times. RB is a good deal - if you have flexible plans - delays in Brunei especially are not uncommon but not that hard to deal with if you do not have to be somewhere at a particular time. The extra night in Brunei helped with jet lag but wasn't really in or plans.

Route: MEL to LHR via BWN / DXB

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Peruvian Airlines

Title: "delay and lack of service"

Review: Cuzco to Lima. "Puntualidad y Servicio" meaning punctuality and service? I had neither. My flight was delayed over 1.5 hours and there were no announcements made in the Cuzco airport. Nothing on the screen displays. No online status update, not even the option to check flight status on the Peruvian Airlines website. I spoke to a Peruvian airlines rep in the airport multiple times, in English and Spanish, and she could not tell me what was going on or when the flight was expected to land. I told her I had an international transfer in Lima along with checked luggage. All she could do was give me the "yikes" look and there was nothing else to do. While boarding the flight, the flight attendants took down all of my information and tried very hard to get something worked out ("perhaps Peruvian airlines can reimburse you for your missed flight" etc). The same unhelpful airport rep as previously mentioned came aboard and told me that she sent an email to Peruvian Airlines staff in Lima and that once I landed, they would help me. Upon landing, I went to the Peruvian Airlines desk, and they had no idea who I was and were completely unhelpful stating "I don't know how they do it in the Cuzco, there's nothing we can do." I ended up having to spend $300+ changing my connecting flight, taking a taxi, and paying for hotel accommodations due to this delay and lack of service. I will never fly with Peruvian Airlines again and would not recommend anyone else do so.

Route: Cuzco to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "Really nice cabin crew"

Review: Brussels to Rome. Really nice cabin crew, clean plane. Flight comfortable and fast, we landed in Rome even 30 minutes before, they allowed me to arrive on time on Christmas Eve. I will fly again with Alitalia

Route: Brussels to Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Berlin

Title: "helpful crew and food was not bad"

Review: Vienna to Los Angeles via Dusseldorf. We started our trip from the US very confused. When we booked our tickets we did learn that Air Berlin does not fly in the US and part of our flights were with American Airlines for US domestic. I liked that they did not charge for luggage and our luggage went all the Way to Vienna. Unfortunately one of the pieces of luggage did not make it until 12 hours later which was not too bad. The flight was pleasant, nice, helpful crew and the food was not bad. On the way home none of our 4 checked pieces of luggage came on time. We landed Monday night, and as of Friday we have not received them. It could be a really drawback if we were not home but trying to enjoy our vacation.

Route: VIE to LAX via DUS

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Allegiant Air

Title: "every flight has been delayed"

Review: I had 3 of my employees on this flight, one just beat cancer and was still weak but she really wanted to come. We were supposed to fly out at 8:50 pm we got to the airport at 6:45 everything was OK till a hour later when the first two hour delay happened, then from 11pm to 12am, then 1am, then 2, we boarded the plane at 4am sat in the plane another hour before taking off. We missed our car rental had to take a $300 uber straight to Orange County Convention Center so we wouldn't miss the education we were there for, zero sleep, we left the Convention at noon had to find a car to rent from there. I was so upset with the customer service I kept the rented car and drove back to Indiana 20 hours and several extra hotel meals. That delay if they would have told us from the start I could have made other flight plans, but we were told it won't be long now. So many times. When we did get on the plane they didn't give us any beverages and I'm even a Allegiant air card member, I have had 3 flights this year with them and every flight has been delayed.

Route: South Bend to Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: ZIPAIR

Title: "the visa I did not have"

Review: This is the worst service I have ever received from an airline! I spent more than 1000$ USD on a one way ticket only to find that there was no phone number to verify my flight details/requirements. The Japanese and US embassy claimed that I didn't need a visa for Japan to transfer there as long as my flight was within 24 hours. Since my layover in Tokyo was 6 hours I thought I was in the clear. When I got to my departure airport, Noi Bai Hanoi International Airport, the staff would not let me board my flight. Aside from the visa I did not have, the airport staff claimed I needed a negative PCR test, all for only a 6 hour layover in the same day? I used the online chat feature to chat with what seemed like a robot (programmed in India with barely understandable English) prior to my flight. However, this robot could not inform me, nor give me any information regarding where to search for the requirements of flying through Tokyo and needing to recheck my baggage. I am now stuck on an expired visa,. In addition, I need to purchase a 2000$ USD plane ticket home.

Route: Hanoi to Los Angeles via Tokyo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Malindo Air

Title: "Still have not heard back"

Review: Malindo Air cancelled our flights due to COVID-19 requested a refund or vouchers in April. Still have not heard back. Have sent multiple emails to customer service and they keep saying that they have forwarded them on to the correct department. Then nothing. Just want email back confirming they are processing them. Not sure how you can rate them if they didnt fly you anywhere.

Route: Brisbane to Denpasar

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Nok Air

Title: "crew was very friendly"

Review: Ho Chi Minh to Bangkok. Top service from beginning to end. Aircraft was clean and spacious and the cabin crew was very friendly. No wait times on either end and our luggage was returned ASAP.

Route: Ho Chi Minh to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: QantasLink

Title: "Boeing 717 and I was impressed"

Review: Adelaide to Sydney. This was my first time on a Boeing 717 and I was impressed. I am a large man and usually require a seat belt extension, however, on this plane the belt was long enough for me with a few cm to spare. We also managed to get an empty seat between us which made the flight even more comfortable. IFE was provided via a courtesy iPad with many channels to choose. The inflight snack was carrot sticks, crackers and dip. Seat pitch and width were acceptable for economy.

Route: Adelaide to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "Employees are nice but are not empowered"

Review: Zero customer service; phone hold times over 2 hours, their assistance bot couldn't be any more useless, absolutely no help at any counters. Pay extra for Flex, can't even use it because there's no one to help and no one answers any phones. Employees are nice but are not empowered to really help you beyond a kind word; Honestly, the company puts them in the line of fire to distance themselves instead of doing anything solve any issues. Wish I could score them lower all around, save your money fly with someone who actually cares.

Route: Toronto to Dominica

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Vistara

Title: "flight was excellent"

Review: London to Mumbai, flight was excellent. Dreamliner flight. The staff, the cabin crew were good. But I feel the flight from Mumbai to Chennai was not up to the mark. Not faced any issue but I feel it's not as standardised as the international London to Mumbai flight. The food was amazing and overall I love Vistara more than BA.

Route: London to Chennai via Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "luggage did not arrive for three days"

Review: Almaty to Copenhagen via Moscow. The plane(s) were fine, although there is no entertainment system, unless you download an app before you go, but I have never been able to get it to work because the language is always in Russian (there is a button for English, but it doesn't work), The food was awful, service was OK, but my luggage did not arrive for three days (and only just before I was leaving to fly to my next destination). I have flown Aeroflot 9 times between Almaty and Copenhagen via Moscow in the last 5 months and my luggage has arrived on the same flight I have arrived on less than 15% of the time. Furthermore, it often does not arrive for 48 hours, which is incredibly inconvenient. And on the Almaty end, I have to go to the airport myself (or get a courier) to pick it up. The service is simply atrocious. Moscow SVO airport is crowded and stressful to transit through with few good places to see for several hours. I have reached a point where I am going to try to avoid it if at all possible in the future.

Route: Almaty to Copenhagen via Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Southern Airlines

Title: "Amazing experience"

Review: Amazing experience. Not much expectation due to fly since we are still in Covid-19 period. Out of expectation very smooth along the journey. nice experience. I will recommend China Southern Airlines.

Route: Guangzhou to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: SATA Air Azores

Title: "a nightmare to deal with"

Review: It's a nightmare to deal with the customer service, they lied about the information about my trip, and try to get a refund they wanted to charge more for their pocket, and I'm sure they do this to other people. Thank God I had proof to back up my situation, lets make sure they treat people with respect, dignity, and honesty.

Route: Boston to Praia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air New Zealand

Title: "allowed us to pay the online price"

Review: We were unable to add luggage via the website. While adding bags at the airport would usually incur a higher cost, the staff allowed us to pay the online price - which was greatly appreciated.

Route: Queenstown to Christchurch

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Peruvian Airlines

Title: "unpleasant and terrible experience"

Review: La Paz to Lima via Cusco. My husband and I had the most unpleasant and terrible experience with Peruvian Airlines. We booked flight number P9 330 flying out from La Paz, Bolivia at 10.40 to Lima, Peru. We knew the plane would stop in Cusco for about half an hour. We each got one boarding pass and were told at the counter to collect our checked bags in Lima. Our seats were 21E and 21F, at the back of the plane. There were altogether 3 female flight attendants, one was more senior and was alright. The other two flight attendants (one younger, one older) were sitting at the back when the plane took off. We asked one flight attendant at the back (the older one) whether we need to leave the plane when arriving at Cusco. She spoke English, which was not even marginally understandable. She just replied, Cusco, and we could not understand other words that she was mumbling. When that same flight attendant served drinks, her attitude was like she did not want to work and serve customers. When I said "coffee with milk please", she replied "no milk" impatiently. When the plane touched down in Cusco, some passengers were still in their seats while others were picking their bags. My husband asked one flight attendant at the back (the younger one, not the one that served drinks) and said we were heading to Lima and "do we need to leave the plane?". That younger flight attendant told my husband to "remain seated". We therefore remained seated, thinking that other passengers were leaving because their destination was Cusco. Then, after a few minutes, the flight attendant (the older one, who served us drinks and had a bad attitude all along) came to us and said, in a very rude tone, "I told you to go out!". I asked if we need to bring our bags and she replied, without any patience, "take all your personal belongings!" Again, in a very rude way, like we were told off! For Christ's sake, we were the customers and I just cannot believe that this was the service that an airline would deliver! I was angry and told her that her attitude could be much better and this was very bad service. She just went back to her seat at the back. We left the plane, and there was a long queue at the immigration counter. No one told us we need to go through the immigration and customs in Cusco (as we only had a very short stop in Cusco and we're heading to Lima). If not because some very kind passengers allowed us to go through the immigration first, we would have missed our flight to Lima. As we only got one boarding pass at La Paz, after customs in Cusco, we did not know there was a new flight number and which departure gate was our flight. We had to ask around before queuing up to board the plane. When we arrived at Lima, we did not know the new flight number and had to guess before we collected our checked bags. Until then, we came to know the flight from Cusco to Lima was flight number P9 218. I am a frequent traveller but this was the first time that I travelled to Peru and Bolivia. It really struck me that the arrangements for such a short (half an hour) stop could be that bad, particularly when one flight attendant asked us to remain seated on the plane while another flight attendant rudely demanded us to go out! This is also the first time that I came across a flight attendant who is so impolite, rude and so bad-mannered. It is totally unacceptable. We are extremely disappointed by the services provided.

Route: La Paz to Lima via Cusco

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "Delays and lies"

Review: Delays and lies: First we are told there is a 1 hour delay but for some reason they board us anyway. We wait in the plane for 2 hrs, with the excuse being that they are waiting on a part that needs to be shipped to Maui. Finally they deplane us, and lie to us saying that they need to install said part now - so first it was that the part needed to be shipped, and now it needs to be installed? Will we get to Maui today? Probably not, and Im assuming a few more lies every hour or two while we sit in the terminal twiddling our thumbs. NOT RECOMMENDED - spend the extra cash for a more reliable, trustworthy airline.

Route: Seattle to Maui

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: BA CityFlyer

Title: "excellent flight with BA Cityflyer"

Review: Manchester to London City. Terminal 3 at Manchester was a nightmare, fast track was slow. The lounge was quiet and the lunch offering consisted of soup, sandwiches and cheese, crackers and crisps, together with the usual alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages including champagne on request. There is a view of the runway and taxi way which can be a pleasant distraction. Boarding was called and we made our way to the gate where our Embraer was waiting for us. After about 10 minutes we boarded and made our way down the jet bridge and eventually reached our long legroom seats in row 2 on the right hand side. Hot towels and menus were handed out prior to take off, followed after take off by drinks and meal requests. We both had champagne and the bbq'd salmon and salad, chicken salad was the alternative, accompanied by black forest gateau, all served together on one tray. Our cabin crew attendant was very attentive and although she helped her colleague to serve economy, still managed to provide us with excellent service on this relatively short flight. We landed facing west and quickly disembarked and was in the car park waiting for our car in a matter of minutes. An excellent flight with BA Cityflyer.

Route: Manchester to London City

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Insel Air

Title: "avoid this airline like the plague"

Review: This was my worst experience since travelling. On my arrival in Trinidad, instead of collecting both pieces of luggage for me and my husband, we only received one. We filled out a PIR form. We were first told the next day Wednesday another flight will bring it. The next day I called and they said the flight is coming in at 4pm. When I called again, they said 6pm instead. I called again, and they said 1pm the next day Thursday. I called again and they said 1pm on Fri. They also confirmed that Curacao said they have the luggage. When I called at 2:15pm on Friday, they said the flight is coming in at 11pm. An agent called my husband and told him Curacao said they do not have the luggage. I call soon after and another agent said he has to resend the e-mail to Curacao, that they got no response from Curacao, but the flight is coming in at 11pm and hopefully our luggage will be in it. They will call us. Well I am waiting to hear what other story they are concocting next. Please avoid this airline like the plague. If you want stress you can travel with them.

Route: SXM to POS via CUR

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: SmartWings

Title: "rude staff and long delays"

Review: Podgorica to Malaga via Prague. Old airplane, with no room for legs, rude staff and long delays. But the worst thing happened after arrival at Malaga airport. My luggage was lost at Prague Airport and I waited for 4 days to get it back! When I finally got my luggage it was destroyed. At baggage claim we made a damage report. After that I was advised to fill up a form about my damage on SmartWings website but since today nobody have contacted me.

Route: Podgorica to Malaga via Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Qantas Airways

Title: "not a refined experience more"

Review: Qantas Business Class is not a refined experience more, Economy with a little lift - customer is left lacking. Business Class Service is not 'Standard Business Class' you get elsewhere. No name recognition, No lovely to have you flying with us today. Food is boring and mostly unpalatable. They scurried around for a Jameson Whiskey and failed to produce it offering something else. You arrive at your destination feeling somewhat cheated of a 'Real Business Calls Service'

Route: Auckland to Bangkok via Sydney

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Pobeda Airlines

Title: "Charged us 75 to check in"

Review: Istanbul to St Petersburg. Charged us 75 to check in, even though we tried multiple times to check in online, but could not. The other 45 in fees, I still dont know what it was for. Their cabin luggage policy is the most ludicrous thing ever. Nothing over the size of a shoe-box. We travel a lot so we have our luggage nailed - not for them. Couldnt even get our iPad Pros or laptops in the box. Don't fly them - any saving is not worth the extra stress.

Route: Istanbul to St Petersburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "the plane was a bit dated"

Review: Barcelona to Prague with CSA Czech Airlines. The flight went smoothly, with a lot of information provided at all times. However, there is very little room between rows and the plane was a bit dated.

Route: Barcelona to Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Icelandair

Title: "awful way of doing business"

Review: Chicago to Copenhagen via Keflavik. Cancelled flight 12 hours before we were leaving, although flight is arriving in Chicago and returning to Europe tonight. Who gets to stay on, we did not, awful way of doing business, never again

Route: Chicago to Copenhagen via Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: WOW air

Title: "not worth the savings"

Review: Chicago to Paris via Keflavik. Our trip to Paris was wonderful, but we were continually shocked by the lack of service and overall rudeness of the WOW air staff and those at Reykjavik airport. The airport is far too small, is laid out in a very confusing way, and is filled with staff that doesn't know what they are doing and isn't interested in helping people find flights, get information, and transition smoothly. the fare was cheap, but it meant smaller than small seats (and I, as a tall man, had absolutely no room and didn't sleep on an overnight flight because of it), Absolutely no food or water (water is for sale at a ridiculous premium), and rude staff. The WOW air staff seems to have no problem with yelling at passengers to get out of the aisle or sit down, and they either have not been trained on how to handle a gate check or find it helpful to have the people mob the ticket counter rather than line up according to group. I write this to warn anyone flying to Europe to avoid connecting in Iceland or using WOW air; it is not worth the savings.

Route: Chicago to Paris via Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Madagascar

Title: "friendly flight attendants"

Review: Tuléar to Antananarivo. Quick Check-in; on time; plane a bit old; refreshments and a snack served; friendly flight attendants. The fare was somehow high, but this is Madagascar. You shouldn't come here if you are pampered by low-cost carriers;

Route: Tuléar to Antananarivo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "worst flight I have had"

Review: Rome to Athens. This must be the worst flight I have ever had. One of the most uncomfortable planes I have ever been on. Rude air hostesses which were talking down to passengers and giggling all through the flight at the back of the plane. I am surprised they are still allowed to fly with such service and state of aircraft. Only positive in the whole trip was the ground staff service at transfer desk.

Route: Rome to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "I'm disappointed, I will never use their service again"

Review: This is the worst experience ever! I bought my tickets, and the day before my flight I got a covid positive test. What should I do? I had to apply for a refund. Later they said I can rebook my tickets, I agreed to that, but in 2 weeks I got a refund 95$ out of 250$! It's less than 50%! Seriously? Are Egyptair trying to take advantage of this whole covid situation? It's unpredictable, I didn't cancel it with my will, I had shown them my results even, they just said sorry, we can't refund more! I'm disappointed, I will never use their service again, and wouldn't recommend anyone!

Route: Nairobi to Cairo

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "They lost my luggage"

Review: Hong Kong to Moscow. Old Boeing 777 (5 years old), seats are super tight, and the choice of movies available is quite limited. Food: lowest quality I have seen on a plane. They lost my luggage - what can happen - however, to receive it back I received phone calls at night (11.30pm).

Route: Hong Kong to Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: flydubai

Title: "Its outrageous and bad branding"

Review: I booked Emirates from Dubai to Salalah. Flight was operated by Flydubai. I was flying to Salalah because I was participating in a cycling race. I needed of course to take a bicycle. I thought it would be fine given that I had booked though Emirates and I have flown numerous times with my bike. I thought everything was fine. However I was wrong. Since the leg was operated by FlyDubai apparently my normal luggage allowance was not taken into consideration. Even though my bike was within my allowance for size and weight flydubai denied taking it on board. Initially upon booking they told me to ring 24hrs prior to flight to confirm my sports equipment. Emirates never asked this but I thought on this occasion I would try. However when doing so I was told that the flight was full and they couldnt load my bike. They made me book an additional and separate cargo shipment for my luggage for what I had to pay an had to pay extra 1000aed and go through the hassle of arranging and picking up at Dubai cargo terminal. And to my very surprise I then found out that they actually loaded my bike on same flight as I was booked on! Many of my colleagues never called to confirm booking and they got their bicycles on the plane, for free with no hassle. I was furious. Why did I have to pay all this extra money. FlyDubai is a cheap airline that use fraudulent upselling techniques to get more money out of the passengers. Why couldnt they just have taken my luggage on board as normal like they did with everyone else. Dont understand what a reputable airline, like Emirates, would work together with flydubai. Its outrageous and bad branding.

Route: Salalah to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Spirit Airlines

Title: "customer service is very worst"

Review: I booked my flight for 198$. I have a flight at 12.30pm but delayed multiple times and finally to 6pm. After reaching Atlanta again delayed for 5 hours and then they cancelled the flight. When I went to them and talked. They said they are going give me the full refund. I waited in the airport until 5am and booked a new flight for 200$ on United Airlines. Reached IAD. I received mail from Spirit Airlines saying they are going to refund me only 45$. Initially for the full refund they sent me a receipt. Now they changed their mind and not given a single $ of a refund. I'm a student, I cannot afford more amount and i booked a ticket for 198$ for two way. Now my flight cancelled and i booked on more for 200$. Total 400$ i paid. I haven't waited this many hours in airport in my life time. They wasted more than 12 hours of my time, my money, I don't even have a proper food and accomodation. The customer service is very worst. Their answers are rude, They are not even caring our pain and not even considering our words. I hate spirit airlines. Please people don't choose Spirit airlines.

Route: Dallas to Baltimore via Dallas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Fiji Airways

Title: "has been over 300 days now"

Review: I booked my fights in Dec 2019 for travel in Nov 2020. Flights were cancelled in Sep 2020. I filled out the Fiji online form for my refund of $4350. Initially I got a response that it would take 90+ days. I tried contacting again with the response that I was in the queue and it would be 120+ days. Contacted again, no response. Filled out the online form for status update, no response. Initiated dispute with credit card company and they could do nothing because of the amount of time that had passed. It has been over 300 days now.

Route: Sydney to Los Angeles via Nadi

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Oman Air

Title: "The flight was very comfortable"

Review: The flight was very comfortable and we had no issues during check-in from Dammam. The flight was full and the service on board the aircraft was very good and the staff was very friendly. I was surprised at how good the food was on the second leg of the journey from Muscat to Kozhikode. The flight was comfortable but I would recommend they add more leg space. It can get a tad bit uncomfortable.

Route: Dammam to Kozhikode via Muscat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "No alternative solution was provided"

Review: I have a stroller that you can carry inside the plane. When boarding they asked me if they could store it in the storage compartment. I agreed only if they could give it back to me on my connection. I asked 3 employees and all said the same, that I could pick it up at the airplane door. When we arrived they didn't provide my stroller. My baby is too small for the airport stroller and I have back problems. No alternative solution was provided. If you have baby do not fly with Finnair.

Route: Lisbon to Helsinki via Vaasa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Hi Fly

Title: "very favorably impressed with this airline"

Review: Orlando to London Gatwick. Flight was booked for Norwegian. We learned shortly before flight that we would be actually flying with HiFly. Did a quick internet search and did not find any alarming negatives. We were surprised to see a plain, white jet pull up to the terminal. We were informed that the flight would be minimally delayed by the crew. The boarding process was as smooth as rude, impatient customers would allow - the crew handled it well. The flight attendants were young, fresh, energetic, efficient and very nice - a nice change for us. The flight crew/captain informed us right away about the flight route, that we were navigating around a storm, that he apologized for the initial delay, but that he believed we could make up the time. He did just that. The seats and food were what we expected in economy class - so no real complaints there, as I choose not to pay for upgrades. All in all, very favorably impressed with this airline.

Route: Orlando to London Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: VivaAerobús

Title: "Stay away from this airline"

Review: Stay away from this airline. Due to flight delay, I missed the connection flight and was put on a flight on the next day in the morning although there were flights on the same night. The airline sent a sms stating the delay was due to a technical problem. At the airport counter the personnel said it was instructed to say the delay was due to weather which was a lie because other flights in the same direction and at the same time took place on time. They refused any reimbursement for the hotel that was paid for at the destination, no accommodation for the night, no food, not even water on the plane. The personnel when confronting immediately lost the ability to speak English.

Route: Acapulco to Cancun via México City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: US Airways

Title: US Airways customer review

Review: I was due to travel from Philadelphia to Brussels (direct flight) at 6:20pm 17 August. The flight was delayed for 2 hours before they informed us that the aircraft needed to be changed. After the aircraft was changed and we actually took off, 20 minutes into the flight, there was a technical problem and we were informed that the plane had to return to Philadelphia. After we returned to the airport, we were told that there was another plane ready for us, and were left there for 3 hours waiting for a crew to arrive. In the end there was no crew and the flight was cancelled. It took another 3 hours to rebook everyone on different flights. It was disorganised chaos with no guidance whatsoever as to how to get vouchers and how to get to our hotels. It was 4am by the time we got to our hotel. I was rebooked on a flight to Brussels via Munich due to depart at 6:30pm on 18 August. After boarding was completed we were told that there was a technical problem - were left on the plane for 1.5 hours without any update. Eventually we were told to disembark and to board another plane. This was the 3rd plane with technical issues in a period of 24 hours. We eventually departed at 10pm. The staff on the flight were extremely rude and patronising. The inflight entertainment was a nightmare to use as the touch screen was pretty much not working. I would definitely not recommend this airline.

Route: Philadelphia to Brussels via Munich

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "cabin crew unresponsive"

Review: Bangkok to Chennai. No specific order of boarding beyond the premium seat passengers. Buses used to transport passengers from gate to plane overly packed and crowded. The time from boarding till take off (in air) was around 40 minutes when the air inside the plane was hot and steamy. Cabin crew unresponsive and refused to give complimentary water to my small daughter. Not sure about the age of the plane.

Route: Bangkok to Chennai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air India

Title: "Good experience overall"

Review: Good experience overall. Positives: Great leg room for the long flight. Warm staff, higher check-in limits (25Kg) and smooth landing. Areas of Improvement: Food could be a tad better (but its still decent), Punctuality.

Route: Bangalore to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Viva Air

Title: "they made me pay 120$ for one cart"

Review: I bought ticket through Orbits. Chose one that said carry on free and first checked bag free! At the airport they made me pay 120$ for one cart on and one checked in bag. Total lie!

Route: Lima to Cusco

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: British Airways

Title: "Economy class seating was truly dreadful"

Review: Travelled to Heathrow to Kalamata and return journey 11 days later. World Traveller (aka Economy) Class. Both flights departed on time. Return flight landed early - BUT - we then had a 1 1/4 hour wait for the baggage to be offloaded which rather ruined the journey home as we then caught a motorway closure. Flights OK - FA's (particularly on return flight) pleasant enough. But, as usual, Economy class seating was truly dreadful - no legroom at all. No better in Club class either - only the middle seat left free. Marked down because of this. Can only recommend if you are not tall.

Route: London Heathrow to Kalamata

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Brussels Airlines

Title: "forced to put luggage in the hold"

Review: Brussels to Geneva. Despite a half-empty flight, we were forced to put our luggage in the hold while there was plenty of room in the cabin! The staff did not want to hear, so we lost 45 minutes on arrival to collect luggage that returned without any problems in the cabin. Malgré un vol à moitié vide, nous avons été forcés de mettre nos bagages en soutes alors qu'il y avait toute la place en cabine! Le personnel n'a pas voulu entendre et nous avons donc perdu 45 minutes à l'arrivée pour récupérer des bagages qui rentraient sans aucun souci en cabine

Route: Brussels to Geneva

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cathay Dragon

Title: "cabin crew were not helpful"

Review: Manila to Hong Kong. The cabin was spacious and clean. I understood that we did not have any IFE monitor because it was just an hour and 55 minutes flight but they have this entertainment portal that you can access via your phone but it did not work at all so that was a flop. The cabin crew were not helpful at all. They were really bossy and it seems like they were not enjoying their job and would not smile. I would not fly with them again.

Route: Manila to Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Tigerair Australia

Title: "show your attitude if they are at fault"

Review: I always travelled with them this trip coming into Sydney was cancelled 3.30 hours and today 30 September 2019 going back to Brisbane boarded flight on time and then went in the runway. Told technical problem which is radar - these things should be checked in maintenance everyday people like us we boarded this early to be at work on time on a Monday morning I had a salon to open to service a client at 9am Im not unreliable. The staff are so rude on the floor which is worst at least they should be friendly and help. We have to pay lot if prices if as a passenger we only have 2 kilos over they dont have mercy on us but when they in fault no drama. They still show you attitude if they are at fault.

Route: Sydney to Brisbane

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Philippine Airlines

Title: "Flight attendants are very hospitable"

Review: We were served 2 meals for my 9 hour flight and the serving is, I would say is complete. Flight attendants are very hospitable and willing to help. For the negatives, crowded leg space for Economy Class for their DXB-MNL flights. They are using the same crowded aircraft for many years and not one ounce of this have improved. Im stuck with the same airline over and over again because its my employer who chooses the flight and not me. Not only the leg spaces are crowded, the in-flight entertainment is inconvenient. They have, but you have to download an app for it on your mobile and connect to the aircraft wifi. While thats not a bad idea, this consumes battery and seats dont have charging slots. It feels like they never considered improving their Middle East flights since most passengers are Filipino Expatriates but of course, their flights going to countries such asUS, Canada, UK, Australia are way better - better leg space and actual screens for in-flight entertainment. Not to mention, all of my flights to Dubai from Manila are late (1-2 hours delayed).

Route: Manila to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Volotea

Title: "The flight was on time"

Review: The flight was on time from Heraklion to Athens, also the flight Athens to Heraklion 12/07/2023 was also on time something that is very important for me. Another thing that was interesting is that for the low cost airline I had some space between my knees and the front seat.

Route: Heraklion to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Ellinair

Title: "nice and comfortable journey"

Review: Thessaloniki to Athens. Very nice and comfortable journey. Flight was almost full. Used the website to check-in and a mobile phone boarding pass was sent, making it really easy. Crew was friendly and helpful. Candy, small snack and drink offered in this 40' domestic Greek flight. Luggage was included in the price and although I did not have any, it made the cabin have much more space for people's hand-luggage. Timely and orderly departure and arrival. Very good experience - I recommend them on this route.

Route: Thessaloniki to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Corendon Airlines

Title: "Do not, you've been warned"

Review: Bad service and rip-off. First please note, that when flying Corendon everything thinkable will be charged surplus. Not doing online self check-in will cost an extra 10EUR p.p. Any additional luggage, other than Cabin-luggage, is charged surplus (1X20kg = 60EUR). A coffee, inflight, would have cost me 3 EUR surplus. Further, the "flight-information" was not understandable - but at least deafening. Conclusion: Do not, you've been warned.

Route: Heraklion to Crete

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Iberia Express

Title: "worst airline I have ever flown"

Review: This is the worst airline I have ever flown. I am emerald on oneworld (Iberia is part of the alliance) and the experience was worse than anything I have experienced. Upon boarding the flight attendants watch you like a hawk to make sure you are not one KG over the limit or that your bag is not too large. They count how many bags you put in the overhead bin and come running down the aisle on boarding if they see you put more than one bag in the overhead. They also asked how much the bag weighed. Granted we are first on board due to status. They changed the seats on every reservation the day of check in from the exit row to the last row of the aircraft and they split our seats up. Never will I fly them again. The only nice thing was being able to use the lounge. Other than that they are bad.

Route: Barcelona to Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "it was a very good experience"

Review: Kahului to Newark via San Francisco. My flight with Virgin America was very good! It was originally supposed to leave Kahului at 1:10 p.m (January 1) but it was changed to 11:10 p.m (January 1) a few months in advance. It was good that I was made aware of this a good few months before by trip. This meant I got to spend a couple extra hours in Kahului before heading back home to Newark. The flight to SFO was very good, the captain was funny and made a few jokes and the flight attendants were friendly. We were able to make it to SFO in about 4 hours and 15 minutes instead of the scheduled 5 hours. This meant I could enjoy a nice breakfast at the airport before my second leg. The flight from SFO to EWR was just as good. There was a wide selection of drinks and snacks as well as movies. However, the movies did have to be paid for but I didn't much mind as I had my kindle and 3DS. Cabin crew was also friendly. We did have to enter a hold when approaching Newark as there was bad weather and congestion in the air. But, this was to be expected (after all this is Newark and it happens all the time). We touched down at 5-ish in the afternoon on January 2. Overall, it was a very good experience.

Route: Kahului to Newark via San Francisco

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SilkAir

Title: "service on board are good"

Review: Yogyakarta to Singapore. Flight was on schedule. Most of service on board are good, with enough food and beverages. In flight entertainment has to use own mobile phone, but we have to download the application before on board, because no internet connection on board to download the application by apple store or google play. Airlines need to give more advance information about it before boarding. WiFi on board is only for the in flight entertainment but no internet connection.

Route: Yogyakarta to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "still fighting to have my refund"

Review: Montreal to Medellin via Cancun. I've booked a flight to Medellin with Interjet and they decided to cancel my flight for no reason without advising me. I asked for a full refund which they said would be processed and it has been almost two months and still nothing. They've been giving me the run around this whole time plus they don't hold themselves accountable for their actions.They are the most incompetent and unprofessional company I've ever known. I'm still fighting to have my refund.

Route: Montreal to Medellin via Cancun

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air China

Title: "crew were cold and abrupt"

Review: Newark to Mumbai via Beijing. The seats are small. On one flight if you had empty seats next to you , you couldn't move the arm rest to recline. Most of the crew were cold and abrupt. It seemed if I asked for something I was bothering them. You would think the food would be good. It wasn't, no frills. Cheap cold sandwiches, and rice and meat, with seaweed and imitation fish? I was seated next to a male that wanted to flirt it seemed. Since I was very uninterested, he just leaned and leered the whole flight instead. I moved to the 2 empty seats next to me, and a stewardess can over and told me the seats were for the crew, which they didn't use. Halfway through the 13hr flight a couple attempts to use the seats. They saw me alert the flight attendant, and then change their story saying she was sick. She was allowed to stay there, which was rubbish. On my first leg of me trip I had to stand for most of my 13hr flight. The price was good, and you get what you pay for! Next time I will afford better.

Route: Newark to Mumbai via Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: WOW air

Title: "Do not use this airline"

Review: Newark to Dublin via Reykjavik. They hook you with cheap fare. Average size carry on luggage 70USD each way. No free meals, no screens but they will charge you for use of a tablet. No free tea or coffee. $3.25 per cup. If you think that purchasing a ticket will save you money you are wrong. Everybody complained about the cost of a bag ($150 round trip). Never before have I traveled with people who were openly critical of the airline before take off. Seats were not comfortable. We ate nothing, drank nothing, watched nothing, listened to nothing, no internet. Be prepared to pay far more than expected. Do not use this airline.

Route: Newark to Dublin via Reykjavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: VivaAerobús

Title: "their staff is pathetic"

Review: I have traveled so much on different airlines and they have never treated me like they did on this airline. I mean that this airline "VivaAerobús" is the most terrible to treat its passengers. They sell all the services online and oversell the tickets. I bought a ticket from Houston to Mexico 1st class, as it was VIP! for October 14, 2022. The day before I did my checking and paid for my luggage and seat. Grab my boarding pass! I show up at the airport 3 hours before. First the flight was delayed and when boarding they said that my boarding pass had a problem and with me other people. The manager had assigned my room because I missed the flight! When I was in the front row to board as a VIP! They are thieves and their staff is pathetic! I give it 1 star and they don't deserve it! Be careful when you choose an airline like this to travel!

Route: Houston to Mexico

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: fastjet

Title: "not a bad experience"

Review: Flew fastjet from Dar Es Salaam to Johannesburg and two days later on the return flight. Not a bad experience overall. The cabin could be a little more tidier and cleaner. The cabin crew could smile a little bit more. I felt like I was bothering the lady whom I asked for coffee. It would also help if they could mention somewhere pre booking that you will have to pay for checked in luggage. I ended up paying for both flights a total of $50, for checking in a backpack which only had my toiletry (as these are not allowed on carry-on luggage) and a pair of flops. We were also delayed out of Johannesburg by almost an hour, the reason given was that the aircraft doing the flight arrived late (the same aircraft that does the inbound flight from Dar es Salaam) and once we were allowed to board, we were then stopped on the jetway at the aircraft door as we had to wait for both the pilots to come from shopping at the duty free shop. We started boarding again after they had passed us by into the aircraft, shopping bags in hand. I found this very unprofessional and have written a complaint by email to fastjet. Still waiting for a response.

Route: DAR to JNB

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: flydubai

Title: "failure to manage the time of the flights"

Review: Dubai to Tabuk. I'm waiting for my boarding and I was just shouted at for a simple misunderstanding. They asked me to come 4 hours in advance simply to cover for their failure to manage the time of the flights.

Route: Dubai to Tabuk

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "beyond bad customer service"

Review: Last week my wife and son flew Aeroflot with a 1hr 20 min connection through Moscow Sheremetyevo. The flight from Almaty touched down in Moscow on time, but passengers had to wait 20 minutes for the terminal bus to arrive. The stewardess assured my wife that if the connecting flight was missed, "they will give you seats on the next flight." The plane was served by only one bus, so everyone had to wait for all passengers on the plane to disembark before the bus ever left for the terminal. Transit passengers in Terminal D must pass through a security and passport control check before entering the terminal. By the time my wife and son cleared the security check, the boarding gate for their connecting flight to JFK had closed. Nevertheless, they made all haste to the departure gate, hoping they would be allowed to board, but they were too late. Aeroflot agents told my wife that the missed connection was her fault and she would have to pay full fare for the onward journey, more than $1,700. My wife had only a little over $900 on her card. I transferred the money to my wife's card so she could buy her and my son's ticket. This kind of mistreatment goes far beyond bad customer service.

Route: Almaty to New York via Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "had a terrible experience"

Review: The food options finished before they could get to us. They had no options except vegetarian. My 19 month old had no options to choose from on the plane. They served ice cream for dinner for kids and pasta throughout. Pasta dishes and salads. Nothing else. The flight attendants had mixed messages about the use of bassinets. My bag arrived 3 days later. We had a terrible experience.

Route: Johannesburg to Edinburgh via Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Panama

Title: "Air Panama get the job don"

Review: Panama City to Bocas del Torro. After reading reviews i was not looking forward to flying Air Panama. But the experience i had with them on the day of the flight was nothing as to what has been written. Check-in was fast, there is no online checking available as far as i could find. The plane was an old Fokker 50. Boarding was fast, we had to walk from the terminal to the plane. Once in the plane you could see the age (and there was a nasty smell onboard). We departed 15 minutes early. The seats were comfortable and plenty of legspace. It was a 40 minute flight, a drink and snack were served by 2 friendly flight attendants. Air Panama get the job done and I didn't have horrible service described by other people. It was fast and efficient nothing more and nothing less, maybe an upgrade in their fleet could do magic for them.y.

Route: Panama City to Bocas del Torro

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "unprofessional and disappointing experience"

Review: 5pm flight was cancelled at 9:45pm. A JetBlue representative online said we would get hotel vouchers as the next available flight was 48 hours later. When we asked for compensation for our hotel, JetBlue stated it wasnt their responsibility since the delay was weather related. Very unprofessional and disappointing experience overall.

Route: Milwaukee to Boston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Sichuan Airlines

Title: "is completely unacceptable"

Review: Kunming to Los Angeles via Chengdu. Sichuan Airlines and the way it treats its customers is completely unacceptable. They not only cancelled our international flight last minute (one we had booked months prior) but refused to help us over customer service and gave us two terrible options, to either fly home two entire days later or get a refund. There was no way we could fly home that much later due to other commitments, health issues, and connecting flights so we were forced to take the refund. Even then, our refund has not come in and they are refusing to get back to us. They should not only have gotten our refund immediately but compensated us for having to pay for a last minute international flight. I have never been more frustrated and upset with an airline.

Route: Kunming to Los Angeles via Chengdu

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Vueling Airlines

Title: "cancelled flight an hour before boarding"

Review: After going through security, the airline cancelled flight an hour before boarding. Went to the airline desk to be assisted and there was no one from Vueling airline to assist. We had to wait an hour for someone to take us back to landside, went to find someone from Vueling landside to assist but there were no staff available to assist and the lady at the info desk advised to call the airline customer service instead. A complete nightmare. We had to buy additional ticket with another company, and we never succeed to have the customer services, either online or hotline, for a compensation or refund.

Route: Rome to Paris Orly

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "I cannot use the e-voucher"

Review: I had booked tickets for my family to visit me in Denmark in May 2020, the tickets got cancelled and no refund. I contacted customer care and they are suggesting e-voucher. I am ready to take the e-voucher but there is no flight from India to Denmark for this month, next month and in May 2021. So logically I cannot use the e-voucher. Aeroflot don't have flight for using e-voucher so please refund my money.

Route: Delhi to Copenhagen via Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Avelo Airlines

Title: "think twice before ever flying Avelo"

Review: 3 h delay both coming and going and 1 1/2 h wait on the plane with some sort of mechanical difficulty (repairmen coming and going) for that 1 1/2 h. Waiting areas packed and no place to sit. Weather was not a factor. I would think twice before ever flying Avelo.

Route: Burbank to Medford

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "charge you for every ounce of luggage"

Review: Terrible airline. Please don't waste your money by choosing to fly with them. They will charge you for every ounce of luggage including laptops. Do not recommend them ever

Route: Kolkata to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Tailwind Airlines

Title: "Nobody has ever replied to me"

Review: Antalya to Prague. I tried to claim compensation for the delay and issues that happen on 29th August with flight no TWI757. The plane was supposed to depart on 13:00. Instead the departure was delayed to 16:50. Due to technical issues we landed in Burgas and were not properly informed about exact procedure and next steps. Moreover we didnt get any refreshment while staying almost 5 hours in Burgas. The overall delay was 8.5 hours which is over 5 hours according to passengers rights document of Tailwing. Nobody has ever replied to me after sending emails and reminders.

Route: Antalya to Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "staff on the plane were impeccable"

Review: I was somewhat sceptical in picking Gulf Air for my Christmas trip to the Philippines. The reviews were not overly great, neither is their reputation (most I spoke to had not heard of this airline). The flight times were not great either. The price however was the sticking point and offered the cheapest method of flying to the Philippines for the Christmas period. The Gulf Air fleet is relatively modern. The dreamliner I rode in had plenty of foot-room and the interior was very pleasant to the eye. All my connecting flights were extremely comfortable. My return flight did have a slightly annoying whining noise from the toilet near the entrance to the plane. It sounded more like a technical issue with the bathroom flushing mechanism as it only stopped periodically when people went to the bathroom! The inflight entertainment was extremely responsive, more responsive than any other that I have used before. Regrettably the same cannot be said for the range of content available to watch. I found the offering limited. The staff on the plane were impeccable and worked extremely hard from start to finish. The food can only be described as very average. Certainly better than Etihad's atrocious recent food offering on their long haul product. It does not however meet the same level of standard that befits Qatar Airways or Singapore Airlines. A definite area to improve I think! The worst experience I had was the Bahrain terminal. You are forced to go through security upon arrival for your transit. If you have a tight connection there is no urgency to prioritise those customers, often most people were shoving their way past in the queue to try and meet the connection. Meanwhile the staff were somewhat carefree and very brazenly dismissed the concerns of those passengers. I know from experience it's likely the plane would not leave and be held back slightly, but that reassurance for other passengers was not there. Instead they are forced to queue in what is a seamlessly endless line in an non-air-conditioned room. With only 2 security checkpoints it was woefully inefficient. My return flight to London required a 2nd security check at the actual gate, whereas my first flight to Manila (or any other visible flight) did not, Why? If you are to have security at the gate, be consistent and do it for all gates (Like Changi airport) and at least make the transiting customers have a positive experience. Facilities at the Bahrain terminal are Ok. McDonalds, Costas, enough seating. The building aesthetically is not like any other big airline terminal, but it's okay for what it is. Ground staff - I found rude really and inefficient. My return flight to London insisted on a 2nd security check at the gate with a very forceful and intimidating manner against the passengers already present, the whole process was chaotic, to be herded into a separate section. They tore our boarding passes but we had not actually boarded. So we couldn't leave the closed off area to go to the toilet if needed. When we finally started boarding, it was not done in a Zoned manner. Which meant the boarding process took twice as long. It felt a very frustrating experience. My initial flight to Manila was nothing like this. Though the member of staff processing passengers onto the Manila flight from Bahrain did not actually open my passport to check against my boarding pass, which is frankly shocking. Workers from retail shops were extremely courteous and friendly.

Route: London to Manila via Bahrain

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Canada

Title: "our experience was excellent"

Review: From check-in to boarding our experience was excellent. Regular texted updates, efficient bag drop and speedy boarding. The service from the attentive staff was excellent. The food was amazing and a reasonable choice of wines. The seats were comfortable and roomy. Great experience. Will do again!

Route: Edinburgh to Toronto

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: China Airlines

Title: "an inconsistent experience"

Review: Los Angeles to Denpasar via Taipei. Check-in at LAX was smooth. They gave us a transfer sleeve to store boarding passes for later segment, which was a nice touch. We had a remote gate far away and had to be shuttled by bus. That experience wasn't very pleasant as we had to wait inside the bus for a very long time. Despite having reservation for four seats (traveling as a family), there was no available overhead storage. All four of us had requested special meals, but the flight attendants started serving us regular meal. It was only after we showed them our boarding passes that they served our special meals. The overall ambiance, seating comfort, and IFE were excellent. Both B777-300ER and A330-300 were tastefully decorated. The service between Taipei and Bali segment was far superior to what we experience between LA and Taipei. The service on our final segment from TPE to LAX fell below the mark. The flight attendants serving us in economy didn't smile and were quite rude while interacting with us. So, while friendly service was absent in TPE-LAX segment, the WiFi worked well on B777-300ER. Overall, China Airlines offered an inconsistent experience where the positives outweighed the negatives, so we will still fly with them again.

Route: Los Angeles to Denpasar via Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "They are now horrific"

Review: My last several flights were very late. In July 22 I was bumped and now exactly a year later they cancelled my July 9 flight two hours before takeoff when I had already paid $150 for a car service. They said theyd email a new flight.

They didnt. They removed the flight from my app so I couldnt manage it. I finally got on a new flight on July 12 (3 days later) after spending literally 4 hours trying to reschedule and losing money for a hotel and time share points. In addition I had to pay a car service to get home. Then they sent an email saying the cancellation was out of their control and they didnt have to reimburse any of my expenses. Friends told me not to use them. I used to love them. They are now horrific and do not care about their customers. Most working people save all year to go on vacation. We have limited vacation time and money. Shame on you JetBlue!

Route: New York to Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Kenya Airways

Title: "Never use this airline"

Review: Never use this airline, original flight had a 2 hour layover. It was canceled and the new flight had a 8+ hour layover. Nowhere comfortable to sit as the don't give you access to the Pride Lounge but only a food voucher with no food selection but a set meal. Staff have a terrible attitude and not bothered to help. I will never use this Kenya Airways again.

Route: Johannesburg to Zanzibar via Nairobi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Batik Air

Title: "I enjoyed the flight"

Review: Flying from Kota Kinabalu to Jakarta with Batik Air, ticket was booked easily, but i could not do mobile check in so i had to make line up at counter check in. I sat at 11A which was at emergency exit windows so its really spacious. Breakfast served was fried rice and hot tea. Flight departed and arrived on time. I enjoyed the flight.

Route: Kota Kinabalu to Jakarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "remains a 5 star Airline"

Review: Enjoyed my recent flight with ANA from YVR to HND. Flight left and arrived on time. The flight attendants were very helpful, even preparing my bed when it was time to sleep. The seats are comfortable in business class and convert to a lie-flat bed. The seats on the sides are off-set with one directly at the window and the next somewhat closer in and away from the window. Seating is 1-2-1. A common complaint with the 787 is that the windows do not go completely dark as there are no shades but simply window tinting. The food and beverage service was excellent. I always select that Japanese meals with this airline and am never disappointed. The entertainment system offers a good selection of movies and of course headphones are provided. It is no surprise why ANA is and remains a 5 star Airline.

Route: Vancouver to Tokyo Haneda

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Blue Air

Title: "they disappointed me too much"

Review: This company is incredibly disrespectful. They used to be good but last years they have degraded significantly. A few weeks after booking first issue came up: the last leg (Bucharest - Iasi) of the flight was cancelled. No refunds, no nothing. So on top of the ticket price i now had to pay for an extra bus ride to Iasi ! Online check in was not possible, presumably due to the Covid-19 pandemic. But they do charge you 36! Euros for airport check-in fee! When calling them to ask about these problems they just hang up the phone, when contacting them on social media they block you and if you mail them they ignore you. This company needs to be looked at by authorities because this is not serious at all. I used to fly them a lot but last few years they disappointed me too much.

Route: Brussels to Iasi via Bucharest

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "Frequent cancellation"

Review: The worst flight experience ever. Pathetic service. Frequent cancellation. Long waiting hour for connecting. My too and fro both got cancelled at last moment. Even after booking prior to a month. As per the tag line you are first - I doubt any time that we are first. Apart from being economical rest nothing assured. If you are travelling for any important work. Keep two days additional else you are expected to get delayed for sure.

Route: Bangalore to Male

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "a few stand out points"

Review: With the budget carriers, you tend to get what you see on the tin. That said, there are a few stand out points for Thai AirAsia. The food and beverage offerings are better quality and cheaper than average for a budget carrier. Out of Bangkok, they fly from Don Muang (I prefer that over Suvarnabhumi). Most of all, the staff appear to know what they are doing. I quite liked the clear pre-recorded arrival PA announcement. The only notable downside was they operated this flight with bus access to the apron. Don Muang is not over congested, so you would think they could find a spare gate.

Route: Bangkok to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "they have completely been ignoring me"

Review: After standing at baggage claim for an hour, Interjet informed us that they intentionally left many suitcases in another country and that they would give us paperwork to fill out in order to send the luggage to wherever our final destination/home. This resulted in many of us missing connecting flights. After 12 hours stuck in an airport, having to buy and book my own flight out after they refused to do it for me. It was not until 16 days later that I was notified that they are sending my suitcase to a city over two hours away from. During this entire process, they have completely been ignoring me and refusing to send me any of the compensation forms for the numerous expenses that began to accumulate due to Interjet. I have traveled the world, on numerous airlines and worked with hundreds of various customer services and Interjet is by far, the worst customer service I have ever received. It has now been nearly a month and I have consistently been contacting them regarding these compensation forms and they have been nothing but silent. I will ensure that no friend, family, stranger or anyone I meet will ever even consider flying with an airlines like Interjet.

Route: Mexico City to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "Delay in flights and luggage"

Review:

Moscow to Milan via Belgrade. Delay in flights and luggage delivery. Your luggage will be lost at 95% because they use small airplane And exceed the takeoff weight so definitely they take only the first half or even less than 50% of the passengers suite cases and expect if you get lucky to receive your lugage in the next 6 to 8 weeks after. As for this moment, I am leaving MXP to Singapore without my suiteecas and I dont know where I will get it or maybe will not and as of the This moment.

Route: Moscow to Milan via Belgrade

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air India

Title: "comment is mainly for safety concern"

Review: My comment is mainly for safety concern. I was allotted seat at emergency exit row, along with me in same row one was senior citizen and one was obese. I have request that emergency exit seats to be allocated to passengers which can actually help in evacuation in case of emergency. Please look into the issue for future flights considering safety of passengers

Route: Mumbai to Nagpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Bangkok Airways

Title: "Once again a great flight"

Review: Vientiane to Bangkok. Once again a great flight. Left on time and smooth all the way. Food was good quality but not to my taste. Only issue is they have premium, priority and privilege customers which does lead to confusion.

Route: Vientiane to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "Totally unorganized company"

Review: Totally unorganized company. On our first flight from Orlando to Santo Domingo we waited 45 min at the gate because of mechanical issues. Then we boarded the flight only to be removed 30 min later. Gates were switched and boarded again a couple hours later. Then we waited on plane because they needed another crew to fly back since current pilots reached their limit. Another hour and a half later, they found another crew. We taxied to the runway then pilot says theres a service light that came on. 10 min later that was resolved. Then they said their flight schedule was deleted and they had to wait another 30 min. Im surprised we arrived to our destination that day. After we made it, we waited on our luggage over an hour before they got it to baggage claim. Now our trip back to Orlando ran an hour and a half late getting out of the gate including another gate change. Weve landed in Orlando and now they dont have a gate for us to pull into. Shame on this company, Ill avoid them all together.

Route: Santo Domingo to Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "the wonderful service"

Review: Tokyo Haneda to Bangkok. I wish to put on record the wonderful service I and my son received on your flight on 31 March 2019. The flight attendants were smiling and ever helpful. So was the airport staff. Thank you and keep it up.

Route: Tokyo Haneda to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Xiamen Airlines

Title: "everything average"

Review: Dalian to Bangkok via Fuzhou. A very strange flight, both International and domestic passengers to Fuzhou, you then vacate the plane rush through immigration and then get back on the same plane with new customers from Fuzhou going to Bangkok. The return is the same, apart from at Dalian you are bused to the terminal in two separate buses, one for people from Bangkok the other for new passengers from Fuzhou. Bags come out in different sections of Dalian airport. It very confusing and only one hour on ground in Fuzhou, makes it a rush job. Seating average, food average, actually everything average.

Route: Dalian to Bangkok via Fuzhou

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: "no rights to any compensation"

Review: My flight from Sarajevo to Vienna in December 2022 got canceled last minute. No Austrian Airlines employee on sight. Luckily I had a look at my mails where I saw that I was re-booked on another flight 16 hours later. The canceled flight made me miss work and important meetings. I sent a claim on the Austrian Airlines websites to which they took 3 months to answer. Before they answered I tried to call several times, several numbers, and the answer was always same "we don't handle claims, you need to wait, claims are answered by mail". After 3 months they finally answered to tell me that I have no rights to any compensation because "force majeure: weather was bad".

Route: Sarajevo to Vienna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: TAP Portugal

Title: "the flight attendants were very arrogant"

Review: Like always flight on time and arrived early but this time they changed my assigned seat, no justification and put me in the aisle which was not nice. First complaint on more then 20 flights last two years and also the flight attendants were very arrogant, that was a first.

Route: Milan to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Jeju Air

Title: "I will not recommend them"

Review: Seoul to Manila . I'm traveling alone with my 3 year old daughter from Incheon South Korea to Manila, Philippines. I know we had 15 kgs baggage each but I prepared a combine luggage for both of us since I'm traveling alone. Given my situation, they asked me to separate our luggage because it is their policy even though we did not exceed 30 kgs. I cant carry my daughter with two bags. They are inconsiderate for mothers traveling alone. I will not recommend them nor taking another flight to them.

Route: Seoul to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thai Lion Air

Title: "worst refund experience"

Review: This is the worst refund experience, I ever have. They say only a credit account refund is possible, and you have to redeem within a year. My ticket was on 3 April 2020. And now the pandemic isn't over, there is no flight available from Taiwan to Thailand. However, there are no notice for any refund or extension.

Route: Taipei to Thailand

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thomson Airways

Title: "extra leg room a waste of money"

Review: Manchester to Cancun with Thomson - we had paid for extra leg room which I felt was a waste of money as the seat is not as wide and felt uncomfortable in the middle seat. There was no foot rest which would have made the 10 hour flight slightly more comfortable. The entertainment was good but not what I was expecting. Food was nothing different to what I've had on previous flights. Staff were far from helpful on the outbound flight. Toilets are more spacious than other aircraft. On the whole the Dreamliner is overrated in my experience and was disappointed. Slightly better on the way back as managed to get an aisle seat which was spare but meant sitting apart from my husband. Snacks very expensive compared to other airlines but complimentary drinks are available throughout the flight. All in all I've travelled on better and more comfortable airlines. I found flying with Airtours 14 years ago to Cancun was a more comfortable and enjoyable experience than the Dreamliner.

Route: MAN to CUN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: AirAsia Philippines

Title: "Kite bag wasn't accepted"

Review: Davao to Manila. Kite bag wasn't accepted as sports equipment. I've been to kite festivals in Philippines, China and Indonesia and never had a problem. The thing that made me mad was when the supervisor laughed at me when I paid the extra money.

Route: Davao to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Winair

Title: "Winair is the worst company"

Review: Winair, the company of shame! I travel around the world often and Winair is the worst company I have ever taken. I made two trips from France to St. Barth, with three flights in all (Pau / Paris, Paris / Saint-Martin and Saint-Martin / Saint-Barth). These flights cost 1500 euros. On two occasions, I could not take the flight between St. Martin and St. Barth when I arrived on time from Paris. The reason? The poor organization and incompetence of the Winair staff. The first time, I had a ticket "Standby". We were many passengers waiting in the heat in a large hall. The hour of our flight had arrived and we had no information. After a while, they called passengers for St. Barts and people rushed and pushed for a place. Many people could not fly, and we were told that there would be no more flights to St. Barts. We then wanted to get out of the airport to go to the boat, but we were stuck in the airport. Finally, we were able to leave an hour later, and the taxi had to drive very fast to arrive on time to take the boat. I had to pay 20 euros for a taxi and 90 euros for a boat. The sea was very bad and I was very sick on the boat because of the sea and fatigue. I was up since 3am (French time) and I was traveling since 20H. When I arrived in St. Barth I had to wait another hour at the customs, and I did not have my car to go home because I left it at the airport. The second time, I encountered exactly the same problem. But besides, I had a problem with my luggage. The lady of Winair (the only one who speaks French) said that the luggage had gone to St. Barts, and that we could go take the boat. I asked if she was sure of herself, and she said yes. I had a bad feeling and looked for my suitcase in the mess of the airport. Finally, after 30 minutes, I found my suitcase in the airport, all wet. I opened it and inside everything was wet: computer equipment, clothes. If I had listened to the lady of Winair, my luggage would have remained abandoned in this state at the airport. A shame ! In the end, in addition to my two trips that cost me 3000 euros in total, I had to pay 250 euros more for the taxi and the boat. In the end, in addition to my two trips that cost me 3000 euros in total, I had to pay 250 euros more for the taxi and the boat. They give no information to the passengers. When asked a question, they do not answer. They are unpleasant and give the impression that they are annoyed, while as a customer I have always been polite to them. They do not respond to emails to the email address of their site. - If you finally get the personal customer service mails, they give the impression that you bother and respond aggressively. They say the tickets have not been bought on their site so they will not refund you. They make no commercial gesture for you. They do not take their problems.

*PASSENGER NAME BLANKED OFF AND CANNOT VERIFY THIS

Route: St Maarten to St Barth

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Bahamasair

Title: "choose to sit anywhere"

Review: I'm totally confused, I have paid for an upgrade to sit in the front row and priority and when we boarded the plane we were told the seating was you can pick and choose to sit anywhere. This was complete chaos and families were not informed in advance as we had kids onboard and we could no longer sit with one another. Bags have now been displaced, the flight crew couldn't tell you who was sitting in a certain seat in case of an emergency, not to mention our flight was over two hours delayed.

Route: Nassau to Miami

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "the worst customer service"

Review:

They lost my backpack on the transfer through Mexico city .. at least it showed up on next day but i still dont have it as they want me to collect it again on the airport. but what can i do? It was not my fault to lose my own baggage, at least they could bring it to my hotel I'm staying, but obviously they cant deliver. Also theyre not able to deliver it on a Sunday, because theyre not working on Sunday, but still they operate flights on every day. This is the worst customer service I've ever experienced.

Route: Cancun to Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Vistara

Title: "In flight service was good"

Review: Good experience, done web check-in and traveling without checking baggage so no check in experience, boarding was smooth. In flight service was good and so was food. Aircraft looks clean and hygienic.

Route: Delhi to Guwahati

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Japan Airlines

Title: "one of the truly best airlines in the world"

Review: Found a great deal and flew with JAL when I traveled from southeast Texas to Singapore. JAL staff in Seattle weren't particularly friendly, but JAL staff at Narita were quite pleasant and helpful in my brief interactions with them. The quality of the meal and drinks were quite satisfactory for economy class. They had a decent selection of entertainment from around the world, including some Japanese movies that I ended up watching with English subtitles. The plane and lavatories were clean; the on-flight personnel, the utmost in being pleasant and professional. One flight attendant in particular, Cindy from Singapore, chatted with me about Singapore for a minute and wished me safe and enjoyable travels to that city. Something else: I got up and went to the toilet, and came back only to find my neck pillow missing (I'm convinced that some passenger stole it. Who does that, steal a nondescript black neck pillow?!) At any rate, I disembarked the plane after landing at Narita; right before walking out of the jetway, I still wanted to try to at least make one more effort to find that neck pillow. I explained to the flight staff that I was looking for a pillow, and it had gone missing. 5-6 flight attendants sprung into action, with me, to look for that pillow. While it was never found, I made sure to smile and say "Thank you!" I have a hard time imagining that that level of service would ever occur on a North American airline. The only reason that I've reduced JAL's rating from 9 to 7, is because trying to call, email or contact them otherwise through my online JAL account about changing flights is absolutely like pulling teeth (this has been a problem for a different trip than this one). JAL desperately needs to work on aspects of their off-flight customer service, at least for non-Japanese customers. Nonetheless, they're still one of the truly best airlines in the world.

Route: Seattle to Singapore via Tokyo Narita

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "customer service and logistics were abysmal"

Review: I'm not even complaining about the flight cancellation (actually, we had boarded the 2pm plane from KUL to SIN- were then told to disembark, instructed twice about subsequent delays and then that it was cancelled with the next flight occurring the next evening.) But the follow up customer service and logistics were abysmal. It took four hours to exit the airport and onto the overnight hotel. I was not informed that the replacement flight was delayed again - had to hear it from another customer. When you try to contact customer service you're forced to use a live chat system which keeps you waiting for ages, and when it finally connects and if you haven't responded immediately (because you waited thirty mins and needed to look at I don't know, work emails) then they'll disconnect you. When I got through they said they'd send me an email with my case Id. It never came. When I enquired again they told me the garbled email address they'd sent it to (eg dot com) which was clearly a dummy email that was generated by trip.com the third party. I told them my email. They promised they'd send it to the right address. They never did. This airline is basically - fly at your peril - if you have a complaint, we'll pretend enough to care so we don't break the law, but we'll make it as difficult as possible for you to bother complaining and hope you'll give up eventually and not bother us.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Blue Air

Title: "Very good value"

Review: Liverpool to Milan Bergamo. Not a very full flight so had an entire row to myself. Aircraft wasn't very new, however took off on time. Offered a non alcoholic drink and 2 vegetarian sandwiches at no cost. Any other snacks were charged for. Very good value when I only paid £25 for a ticket.

Route: Liverpool to Milan Bergamo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "Great service, lovely crew"

Review: Great service, lovely crew, comfortable seats, lots of leg room (I am 6'2"), roomy toilets and an immaculately clean aircraft. Its hard to imagine how a 14 hour flight in economy could be done any better. I paid in advance an extra £15 for a special Japanese meal which was most definitely worth it and really delicious, beautifully presented.

Route: Tokyo Haneda to London Heathrow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Belavia

Title: "overall it's a decent product"

Review: Minsk to Gatwick. The airport in Minsk looks like it has been renovated recently and it was modern and efficient. Boarding was slightly delayed but we got to Gatwick on time. The aeroplane was fairly comfortable and you get a bit more room in an Embraer which has a 2x2 seating configuration. The food and beverages were quite good and the aeroplane had some cool branding featuring a tank-based computer game that was developed in Belarus. Cabin crew were a little gruff and could have been warmer and more welcoming, but overall it's a decent product and good value for money.

Route: Minsk to Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "disappointed in the service"

Review: Munich to Pisa via Rome. I found out there is a strike at my layover airport. I understand there is nothing you can do immediately to prevent strikes. But how do I only find out my connection takes twice as long when I check in? With no reason given at all? Ok there is a note in the email that notifies me about cancelled flights with no further information to talk to a ticketing officer where one can ask for passenger rights. Thus I explain my situation to random Alitalia employees to find it. After half an hour later I am at an empty booth. Other airport employees explain me where the real booth is and that I should ask for a ticket. After half an hour my number is called. I go there, they explain me to wait in line because the system does not work right now. But the line does not move at all since some passengers are arriving with Alitalia employees to be injected at the front of the line. Finally after 1:30 hours later I can explain my situation to the person I have been referred to countless times. I ask her about the compensation policy for delayed flights and my passenger rights, yet she only refers me to the website. After multiple requests she writes down the address of the website in my notebook. If this is truly the only way to file complaints, I would have expected this to be communicated beforehand and not 2h after I spoke with the first Alitalia ground personnel about the matter. I am seriously disappointed in the service you are providing, your communication policy and how you are handling complaints.

Route: Munich to Pisa via Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai Lion Air

Title: "Ridiculous policy on carry-on"

Review: Bangkok to Chiang Mai. Ridiculous policy on carry-on bags. If your bag weighs more than 7k you have to take items out of your bag and hold them. I ended up walking with my backpack, neck pillow, toiletry bag, running shoes and make up bag. It was so inconvenient that I just put my stuff back in my bag, but there was another scale at the gate before boarding so we had to go through the process again. When we got on the plane we stowed the carry on bags and just put all the extra items up in the overhead compartments, completely defeating the purpose of lightening our bags. Once seated my partner and I took out our lunches that we'd packed, only to be told that in fact, outside food isn't allowed on the plane, there were no signs or announcements outlining this policy. We had to sneak bites of our food during the flight. When we landed the airline operated shuttle bus was broken and we had to stand in the isles (holding all of our items that had been pulled from our bags) for 25 minutes. Overall it was a pretty funny experience! Weird policies (attempt to make more money by charging baggage fees and making people buy food on the plane?) and one inconvenience after another!

Route: Bangkok to Chiang Mai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Avianca

Title: "Inadequate customer service"

Review: The worst customer service! My friend and I were traveling to Lima. On our way to Lima, our flight was delayed for almost 12 hours, we were supposed to land at 09.00 and instead came to Lima very late, after 01.00 in the morning the next day. My luggage was also damaged on the way. While I was returning to LA. I had a checked luggage, it was a small carry on, 12.5 kg, I had another carry on with me (even smaller). While I was boarding, the representative for Avianca at Lima Airport was very rude and inappropriate and kept arguing that I had to pay for that small carry on and charged me 80$. Her attitude was very bad and inappropriate. Our plane was almost empty and there was space for every customer to take carry-ons. I flew so many times, and this has never happened to me. Inadequate customer service! Stay away from this company!

Route: Lima to Los Angeles via Bogota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Rex Airlines

Title: "true blue hospitality on board"

Review: REX does bring its heart back into the country. I have completed 7 flights with REX all on board the 737, and I think their level of service leaves the other two major airlines for dead. The staff are genuine, engaging, and take the time to talk to you, regardless of class. I have flown majority in Economy. The great true blue hospitality on board, great fares, included bags is why I keep going back. I have only flown them between Melbourne to Sydney or Sydney to Brisbane (or reverse). I just wish they connected Sydney to Adelaide.

Route: Brisbane to Sydney

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sichuan Airlines

Title: "no food and drink service during the flight"

Review: Follow travel procedures carefully I traveled with them on the A350-900 from Cairo to Chengdu. Due to travel restrictions in China, there are procedures that must be followed in order to board the plane to travel to China with Sichuan Airlines. The ticket price is very expensive and ranges between five and nine thousand US dollars (for a one-way ticket from Cairo to Chengdu). It is difficult to buy tickets online, and you can buy them easily if you know someone in China who can buy them for you, or through the company's page on WeChat. If you are traveling from a third country to Egypt to travel with them, you must take PCR tests for coronavirus (COVID-19) three times within 48 and twenty-four hours before traveling in three different medical institutions recognized by the Chinese Embassy in that country, and if the result of the virus tests is negative, the Chinese embassy will give you Green light to travel to Egypt. Upon arrival in Cairo they will contact you to give you travel instructions that must be followed to travel to China from Cairo, and then they will add you to the group of travelers on WeChat, you must have an account on WeChat. You must take PCR tests for coronavirus (COVID-19) two times before traveling in two different medical institutions recognized by the Chinese Embassy in Cairo (they will give you the address, and name of the laboratories, and the date and time of the tests on WhatsApp). The first PCR test is conducted forty-eight hours before travel and starts from seven in the morning until ten in the morning. If the result of the PCR test is positive, they will add you to another group on WeChat, and you cannot travel. If the result of the PCR test is negative, they will not contact you, and you must do the test again on the day of travel. On the day of travel, the flight departs at around four o'clock in the afternoon. You must go to the laboratory to do a PCR test at exactly four o'clock in the morning. If the result of your examination is positive, they will cancel your travel and add you to another group on WeChat, if the result of the PCR test is negative, they will not contact you and you must go to the airport to complete your travel procedures. 7-You should apply for the Electronic Health Codes. You can fill in the information, declare your health status and upload relevant documents online. You must obtain it before traveling, and it is preferable that you do so upon your arrival at the Sichuan Airlines counter at Cairo Airport and before completing your other travel procedures. You must wear a hazmat suit, the airline staff will prevent you from boarding the plane if you are not wearing it, and it can be purchased from any medical supplies store in the Kasr Al-Aini area in Cairo at a cheap price. You must wear a face mask during the whole flight. The company does not provide food and drink service during the flight. Upon boarding the plane, you will find a plastic bag tied in front of your seat containing some snacks and a small bottle of water. You must tell the flight crew if you want to use the bathroom, as they sterilize it after any passenger uses it. In general, the flight from Cairo to Chengdu was quiet and comfortable.

Route: Cairo to Chengdu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sriwijaya Air

Title: "further delayed by another 5 hours"

Review: Denpasar to Sorong via Makassar. Horrible service!! The flight to Sorong was delayed by one hour in the beginning. At the time of boarding it was told that the flight was further delayed by another 5 hours! This is ridiculous. No information was given to customers before arrival at the boarding gate, to plan accordingly. Moreover due to this, my connecting transportation got missed and the airline did not agree to compensate for that.

Route: Denpasar to Sorong via Makassar

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Sun Country Airlines

Title: "bad culture problem"

Review: Nashville to Minneapolis. As I was checking in I noticed the rep processing it was new and had questions she referred to another rep that was more experienced. The new rep took my bags and had not labeled them yet. So I made the statement that I would like to see my bags label for check in before I walk away just make sure nothing gets missed. The experienced worker with an attitude said that we are professionals it will be handled. She said it in the most unprofessional condescending way and then walked away. I hope that customer service training will be followed up with this experienced rep. She was certainly teaching the new lady to be a smart mouth just like her. Sounds like a bad culture problem within Sun Country the at has gone unchecked!!

Route: Nashville to Minneapolis

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "serious zeal of economising"

Review: Flight was done in a worn A340 - despite a very personal welcome by the captain all the other items were not okay not for First Class. Hot towels are gone, F&B operations were not appropriate for First Class. There is some caviar however with one tin of 100 g FA must serve 8 people. Other appetisers were very so-so, and beef cheeks is not a luxurious product. Also the fish was not nice. The second meal was ranging from rather fat cold cuts to stewed fruits. The wines were not very attractive and cheap mineral waters were thrown out of plastic bottles in a kind of carafe. For First Class a rather limited alcoholic drinks - despite friendly one of the FA was not qualified to do the service in First. Lufthansa in First : a poor experience the result of a rather serious zeal of economising despite the very high fares. A very hefty deterioration in standards and the red rose in front of my seat could not change my mind that I did not enjoy my flight at all. There was an amenity bag however not in leather.

Route: Munich to Miami

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Allegiant Air

Title: "Very disappointed in this airline"

Review: Traveling home and canceled flights and couldn't rebook for a whole week, had my children with and left us high. Very disappointed in this airline, shame on you for leaving not only me but other customers in a bind and make other arrangements. Had to get a car rental which was way more than my ticket!

Route: Las Vegas to Grand Forks

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SilkAir

Title: "Long check-in queue"

Review: Makassar to Singapore. Crowded flight, Long check-in queue and time. The take-off is smooth Great service, a good meal. The flight attendant is great.

Route: Makassar to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Panama

Title: "left me with a bad experience"

Review: Horrible. This woman at security decided to make up her own TSA rules and took all of my souvenirs that the locals when purchasing assured me they would make it through security. Tiny hot sauce in plastic 2 Oz bottles. Anything glass that was empty. Cocoa farm souvenirs from green acres. Confiscated. Meanwhile, my multi purpose utility metal chingadera with a serrated edge was ok. Perfume in glass ok. Tiny hot sauce in glass not ok. Ive traveled over 20 countries without issue with same items. Also tiny school backpack forced to check. Never do I have to check. While some passengers brought 2 to 3 times bigger bags on without checking. This agent ruined my otherwise pleasant experience in bocas. Dont buy anything over there thats not made of wood basically. Hate you Air Panama. Ive included photos of huge bags twice the size of mine allowed on plane. Pat yourself on the back because you lost a return customer and did not make the flight any safer. Might sound petty but just left me with a bad experience that unfortunately overshadowed my good time.

Route: Bocas del toro to Panama city

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "We will fly with them again"

Review: This was the first time we had flown with Gulf Air, what a pleasant surprise. At the airport great staff, really helpful. The plane clean and seat comfy for economy. Food good for economy, staff helpful, entertainment system good but choice of newer films very limited. We will fly with them again.

Route: Bangkok to Manchester via Bahrain

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aer Lingus

Title: "left 9 hours in the airport"

Review: Geneva to Dublin. Airline's IT systems went down and I was left 9 hours in the airport with zero updates from the company or staff. Was eventually accommodated in a 4 star hotel nearby at midnight but extremely poor service and I will be flying with Ryanair in the future. I had to book a flight home the next day for 200euro with another airline but still haven't been compensated for anything.

Route: Geneva to Dublin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air France

Title: "outstanding, professional"

Review: The Manchester to Paris segment was very average with a very poor seat pitch but for a 1hr 20 min flight I could grin and bear it. However the Paris to Bangkok segment was excellent on all counts. The service provided by Aurelie Luche was outstanding, professional and ever so efficient and friendly. The food for the 11hour and twenty minute flight was plentiful and tasty. The overall comfort of the seat was not that outstanding but I have to say that what was my first flight with Air France it certainly won't be my last. Well done to the crew, especially to Aurelie.

Route: Manchester to Bangkok via Paris

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "they canceled the rest of my itinerary"

Review: The flight from JFK to Helsinki was sub-par. The food was nothing to write home about. You get one free alcoholic beverage and the rest are paid (not usual on international flights). After arriving in Helsinki I had a 14 hour layover and missed my connection (totally my fault). The lady at the Finnair desk told me there was nothing they can do and I should rebook with another airline (seriously?). So that's what I did. However, I still had my return tickets correct? Wrong, they canceled the rest of my itinerary, no refund, and they didn't even offer to try and rebook me a flight to pay for, like they didn't care. I think that is an absolutely disgusting way to treat paying customers. Especially since I had to pay for my 1st checked bag and the round trip flight was almost +$1600usd after luggage and seat selection. I hope if you read this and have an alternative route and airline to travel with you do. Good luck if you do decide to. And it is sad, because Helsinki is such a beautiful and friendly city.

Route: New York to Bangkok via Helsinki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air India

Title: "bad airline service"

Review: How bad airline service can be? We got a text message at 630 am today (June 5th) saying our flight for June 6th from JFK is delayed and all other connecting flights are moved as well - resulting in 24 hour delay. Email was sent with just two options - accept or cancel! So, called Orbitz (another useless service provider), they booked our flight to JFK-Mumbai - MAA and sent confirmation email etc all good. Then in 2 hours, we check, our tickets were cancelled.- including original booking! called Air India, nohelp - blamed Orbitz.. called Orbitz, same process again, rebooked, showed up in Air india, after 2 hours.. magic, ticket disappeared. Air India - no help total failure to take care of customers and causing anxiety -- 24 hours before start of important trip.. will never book in AI ever again.

Route: New York to Chennai via Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thai Smile Airways

Title: "Staff are less friendly"

Review: Flight was 30 minutes late. No reason given. Staff are less friendly on this flight. More focused on their own lunch in the back behind the curtain than on passenger service.

Route: Bangkok to Hat Yai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Meridiana

Title: "my emails were returned!"

Review: Prior to the booking I called to Meridiana 2 times to confirm that my flight from Milan to Sharm el Sheik return in April 2016 will not be cancelled. So I booked and in addition I booked 2 connection flights from the UK and the hotel in Italy for my family of 4. Three weeks before flight my flight to Egypt was cancelled so we lost around 200GBP in booked flights plus the alternative route was 200GBP more! I contacted Meridiana many times by emails and calls requesting to get a compensation, but my emails were returned! Very disappointed!

Route: MXP to SSH

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: ITA Airways

Title: "Worst Airline for travel"

Review: Worst Airline for travel in my experience. I booked my ticket way in advance for my engagement and on the day I'm at the airport and only to find out they don't start working until 12 midday. Then there was an issue with my flight which I still don't know what the issue was and my flight was delayed. I told them I have a connecting flight and was planning my engagement where friends were waiting on me. They couldn't guarantee me my flight for that time so I had to cancel the engagement. They are now telling me that I'm not eligible for reimbursement.

Route: Athens to Miami via Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "really bad customer service"

Review: On the Emirates return flight from Kolkata there was no option to pay for extra baggage during online check in even though the Emirates website mentions that passengers should be paying for extra baggage during check in to save money. The option to do so was greyed out and unavailable. I ended up paying the equivalent to $270.00 CAD for 1 extra luggage at the Emirates counter at the airport during baggage drop off. I called Emirates to complain and the customer service said its because it is a connecting flight from Kolkata and that option is not available. It shouldn't matter because i paid only $100 CAD during the Air Canada check in to Dubai for a stop over on the way to Kolkata. On top of that Emirates didn't update me by email or text messages after online check in. I think Emirates has really bad customer service and I will never fly with this airline again.

Route: Kolkata to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Breeze Airways

Title: "worst airline I have ever used"

Review: This is by far the worst airline I have ever used and it is not even close. I have flown this airline for about two years solely because it gets me to where I need to go without a layover. However, I have recently decided that I would rather have a layover than fly with this airline. Not one of my flights over the years has ever been on time (or even close to on time). None of the staff ever knows what is happening and are basically completely useless. The app is God awful. They constantly have problems updating delays, and sometimes even say your flight has been moved up when it has in fact been delayed further. The communication has become increasingly poor, and they no longer send any texts or emails to indicate delays or cancellations. You know an airline sucks when they start having to refund you in airline points instead of money. Do not fly this airline.

Route: Pittsburgh to Hartford

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Transavia

Title: "This company does not value customers"

Review: Transavia treated us terribly. From the ticket agent who rudely declared we couldn't fly (because she couldn't communicate the document they needed) to the mechanical issues that forced us to deplane after boarding to the way that they crammed us into a bus and forced us to stand together like sardines for an hour on the tarmac, this was one of the worst airline experiences of my entire life. This company does not value customers. I don't care how cheap they are, I'll never fly with them again.

Route: Paris to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "Good airline, faster checkin"

Review: Good airline, faster checkin. Less Queues. Only issue was lack of info on terminals in JKT. On time service from Jakarta to Bali. Baggage collection was fast

Route: Jakarta to Bali

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: ITA Airways

Title: "unacceptable, unprofessional and unworthy"

Review: Absolute shame of an airline. Sold tickets, then proceed to cancel your flight a month after, doesn't offer any kind of commercial gesture, and can't rebook you on another flight from the same alliance (pretexting they can't get tickets for other airlines). For a Skyteam Platinum frequent flyer this is just unacceptable, unprofessional and unworthy of a "national" airline.

Route: Paris to Tokyo via Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Iberia Express

Title: "Not a comfortable experience"

Review: Gran Canaria to Madrid. From start to finish I felt like there was so many problems. Firstly I arrived at the airport early so I didn't have to leave my baggage in the hold. However everyone who was priority was allowed on before. They put people into groups so I was group 3 the last even though I was the first near the gate. After that my luggage was put into hold. Once on the flight the staff seemed disconnected and also flustered themselves, I suppose because things don't run smooth. The back of my seat was broken so I had to be transferred next to a mother and small baby crying, at this point I just wanted to rest. The food and drinks were overpriced and I had to pay £2.50 for a tea which was that bad I had to ask for it to be changed. The hot water was not warm enough to brew the tea so it ended up looking like dirty dishes water. At the other end of the flight I waited over 20 mins to get off the plane and then a further half an hour to get my bag which was only very small. Not a comfortable experience in total and wouldn't think of flying again with them. easyJet is a much better option for low cost.

Route: Gran Canaria to Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "seats and windows were disgustingly dirty"

Review: I fail to understand how Egyptair meets the minimum standards for Star Alliance. The boarding process was 15 minutes late with no communication to passengers. The plane smelt and the seats and windows were disgustingly dirty (I have pictures). There was only water and sweetened juice offered to the passengers to drink. No soft drinks to offer passengers. The boarding process was not directed or organized by anyone. The group letters for boarding were not used. First come-first serve so it was like boarding a herd of cows.

Route: Istanbul to Cairo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jet Airways

Title: "a third class airline"

Review: Jet Airways is a third class airline. I booked the ticket from Ahmedabad to Mumbai but after 2 days I got the message that they cancelled the flight for operation reasons. So I called customer care executive with holding line 1.45 hrs and make arrangement in another flight. Unluckily that flight was also cancelled with same reason and arranged for another flight. Same thing happened 4 to 5 times. Finally last flight also cancelled with same reason.

Route: Ahmedabad to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "applied for cancellation"

Review: Pune to Jaipur. I paid for a flight I didn't even get on due to lockdown. I applied for cancellation right away but so far got nothing in return for that flight. And since the day I applied for cancellation I kept contacting the flight but they kept wasting my time for a month and still I got nothing.

Route: Pune to Jaipur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "Do not trust Cathay Pacific"

Review: The flights that I booked for my daughter and fiancé were great, they got to the UK fine. Two days later they cancelled the flight from Hong Kong to Sydney. No explanation no alternative just cancelled, but not the flight from Heathrow to Hong Kong. So they get to Hong Kong and are left there. No communication, no assistance, just left. I have now paid for their return on a reliable airline. Do not trust Cathay Pacific.

Route: Sydney to London via Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "Very poor communication"

Review: Toronto to Taiwan. Unfortunately, they responded very poorly for their foreign customers during the strike. Not aware of the strike, I purchased the ticket just days before it and only had to find out about the strike in the media when I was in Taiwan. EVA made no attempt to communicate, besides a text that the flight was cancelled 2 days before departure, during the travel peak season of late June. Tried contacting the office and submitted refund request on their website. Received about 20% of what I originally paid for, in my credit card refund. The crews cannot speak English and they communicate poorly with their customers. I would not recommend it, especially if you are a foreigner. Very poor communication.

Route: Toronto to Taiwan

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Swoop

Title: "Such terrible customer service"

Review: It has been over 30 days since Swoop lost my luggage. I filed a report at the airport, sent multiple emails, tried calling their customer service (which is just an automated voice that tells you to email them then hangs up the call) and there is still no response. Such terrible customer service. This was my first flight with Swoop and I will never make that mistake again. It is a scam of an airline and needs to be shutdown

Route: Veradero to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "Wasted time and ruined trip"

Review: Terribly unprofessional organization. Customer service is not existent. No one replies to the inquiries. I purchased ticket with confirmation number on their website only to be told that that it never captured. I was told to write to customer service but never received a reply. Wasted time and ruined trip.

Route: New York to Bogota via Panama City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: ZIPAIR

Title: "$300 savings was absolutely not worth it"

Review: My issues started before we even flew. I recovered from Covid but was still testing positive for over a week. Had to get a letter from the Japanese Consulate. At first Zipair said they don't know if they can accept it and to email a copy in. So I emailed a copy and was told they won't accept it. So I called overseas to their Japan HQ and the people there said "They might accept it at LAX, try your luck". No I am not going to try my luck. 12 hours before before my flight was to leave they send me an email saying they can accept the consulate paper. Ridiculous that they are so disorganized. Check-in was easy but their online support said they will add TSA precheck when we check-in. At check-in they refused to do so. On the flight you are only given 1 meal, if you paid in advance and 1 bottle of water - it's barely a snack even to Japanese. You are also given the food 1 hour after boarding so enjoy 10 hours of nothing. You will get no more food, water, etc. If you want anything else you have to order it via your phone connected to their in-flight wifi. I ordered a coffee, cost about $2.50 and was brought in a very small cup. At least when you order snacks they do come fast. In-flight entertainment didn't exist. The system worked on the ground but the second it was airborne all entertainment didn't work. So bring your own movies and entertainment. The seats were clear and nice. Felt the same as any other airline but it certainly was cleaner. The $300 savings was absolutely not worth it. This is Spirit airlines Japan Edition

Route: Los Angeles to Narita

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Transavia

Title: "there were so many other passengers not wearing their masks properly"

Review: This is the third time I have flown Transavia since Covid entered our world. Twice (round trip Paris-Crete) and recently from Paris to Tivat (Montenegro). Each time despite making repeated announcements in various languages about how mask wearing is mandatory, the stewards/esses walk by the people with masks around their necks or their noses out and don't say a word. The photos below are the men across from me at the start of the flight and towards the end. As you can see no change over a 2.5 hour journey. And these photos are the ones I managed to take discretely - there were so many other passengers not wearing their masks properly.

Route: Paris Orly to Tivat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Belavia

Title: Belavia customer review

Review: Belavia is one of the carrier 2 operators on this route. For 5kg of excess baggage I was not charged. Was a very old 737-500 with the smell of fuel and unwashed socks in the cabin. No leg room and uncomfortable seats. Crew talking and seemed very strict with no smiles.

Route: Ashgabat to Minsk

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: AirAsia Philippines

Title: "again there will be delay of flight"

Review: I booked a connecting flight from Manila to Tacloban few weeks ago then Airasia cancelled and rebook my flight 1hr after my arrival from international flight. Then when I tried to re book the customer service is doesnt want to entertain my issue. I had no choice but to rebook it the next flight. I have waited 9 hrs at Manila then 2 hrs before the scheduled departure they announce again there will be delay of flight.

Route: Manila to Tacloban

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "Huge disappointment"

Review: Huge disappointment flying with lynx, first our flight got delayed for more than 24 hours and on top after paying 70$ for the checked in baggage we were refused to take our luggage even being on time. As our boarding time was 5:25am and we reached their 4:45 am, still they told us you are late and after being through security check we were in the lounge waiting to get to the board till 6am. They have ruined our vacation by delaying us for one day and with their misleading luggage policy. Never travelling with Lynx again also Im trying emailing them but only we get in respond is the automated mails and if u tryna call them there is a wait time of atleast 30-35 mins I guess low staff maybe and that too unhelpful.

Route: Toronto to Calgary

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: AirAsia X

Title: "flights were delayed by 6-7 hours"

Review: AirAsia IS NOT READY to carry passengers after COVID hiatus! They sell you a 5am flight, but claim it leaves at 11pm, then on the day of departure you get a nasty SMS that "your flight was re-scheduled from 11pm to 5am". Now you'd have to book an airport hotel (owned AirAsia as well), get up at 5am, just to learn that the flight is "re-scheduled" AGAIN, now to 6.15am. Next 7am etc. Wasting WHOLE day of your holiday to sit in the worst terminal in SE Asia (KLIA). All you get is a 20RM meal voucher that NO SHOP accepts. Nobody of the ground staff knows what's going on, claiming it's a 'medical issue', but if you check past days departure times, ALL these flights were delayed by 6-7 hours! 200 people stuck in the airport, no hotel, no food, no information. Ruined holiday for all, and AirAsia is not even apologetic. Every single person of the ground staff just points finger at each other, and nobody knows what's going on and when the flight will leave. FLY SINGAPORE OR THAI, avoid Malaysia at all cost!

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Sapporo

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Asiana Airlines

Title: "Korean Air fared far better"

Review: During the flight, a huge majority of the passengers as well as most, if all not, of the cabin crew were Koreans. Except from the announcements (turbulence, arriving message, etc) played over the PA system, all other announcements (asking if anyone wanted extra servings of beverages or had rubbish for throwing, etc) relayed by the flight attendants face-to-face were done in the Korean language only. No efforts were made by the cabin crew to engage non-Korean speaking passengers, as they seemed to have forgotten that there were passengers of other nationalities on board. In this aspect, Korean Air fared far better.

Route: Incheon to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Airways

Title: "a nightmare of an experience for me"

Review: JetStar was a nightmare of an experience for me, an older and not experienced traveler. I booked my flight early to coincide with a connecting flight from the US and back. Two weeks before flying I had to spend a week speaking with the airline because they changed my Australia flight to an earlier time. The only flight options they offered gave me a 14 or 17 hour layover in the airport. That was unacceptable to me and should be unacceptable to anyone. I researched myself and booked a less objectionable flight alternative. (I lost time with family and inconvenient to another family member to drive me to the airport (IN VALUABLE TIME). When i arrived at Melbourne airport at midnight there wasn't anywhere to sit for my 6 hour layover. Not a chair, I sat on a cold metal window sill. I had made it from the US with a carry on bag (3 flight changes) but Jetstar charged me an additional $65 at the gate because my bag was to big. I would never use them again. They were unsympathetic, unbendable and acted like their change in my flight was my problem and not theirs.

Route: Sydney to Perth

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Olympic Air

Title: "not recommend this airline"

Review: I had my flight booked in the evening at 23:00 from Chania to Athens. Due to unforeseen circumstances my partner had to leave earlier in the morning to a different destination. I was at Chania airport from 11am for that reason and I asked at the Olympic Air desk about availability of earlier flights instead of waiting alone till 11pm at the airport. I found the staff very unhelpful reporting that there are seats left at the 18:00 flight but I have to pay 60 euros extra fee for the change of flight. I was expecting a little bit more understanding, especially since they saw me standing there all day in front of them until 5pm. I value kindness and morality above money, but clearly this is not the case for this company. I would not recommend this airline for that reason.

Route: Chania to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aer Lingus

Title: "telling me I would be fully reimbursed"

Review: Atrocious. +6 hour delays. Left stranded in the connecting airport due to the delay, causing us to miss our connecting flight. No customer assistance in getting to our final destination. Had to book my own alternate flight on my own dime. Awful customer service. Still haven't gotten my money back 2 months after the flight, despite all the airline people telling me I would be fully reimbursed while I was stranded. The planes are old with broken infotainment systems.

Route: Chicago to Venice via Dublin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "Made me pay more for luggage"

Review: Chandigarh to Delhi. Worst experience ever. Made me pay more for luggage than I did for the flight. Also flight was late and nobody from the staff was at the gate to answer any questions. Not traveling from this ever again.

Route: Chandigarh to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Insel Air

Title: "sitting with no information"

Review: Insel Air is probably the worst airline I have flown. I had a ticket from Caracas to Curacao on June 23 leaving at 10.30pm. A week ago they changed the flight time to 07.40am. I emailed them to say that this didn't suit me because I had a connecting flight that afternoon but received no response. To leave Venezuela I had to forfeit my ticket and purchase another ticket out and could only get a ticket to Aruba at short notice. When I arrived I went to the Insel office to explain my situation. They said I had to pay a $110 penalty to fly to Curacao to make my connection. The flight from Curacao to Santo Domingo was delayed 2 hours, finally after leaving and 1 hour into the flight we turned back to Curacao because of mechanical problems. Right now we are sitting in the transit lounge with no information about what happens next. Avoid this airline at all costs.

Route: CUR to SDQ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeromexico

Title: "worst ground staff in Mexico"

Review: Aeromexico has the worst ground staff in Mexico. Bring your ear plugs, for, there are so many announcements, so irritating, but, the worse is when you are watching a movie, they stop it and slaps you an ad from one of their sponsors. The flight attendants are in most part 90% apathetic. Food average. I choose always 1J, sometimes i regret , the flight attendants talk all night when they are not working. If you are a frequent flyer and want to use your miles, good luck, for a business class R/T you would probably need aver 800,000 points. Ground servers in Mexico are not pleasant at all. It seems that they either don't get paid well enough or just don't like their jobs. Avoid any problems.

Route: Paris to Mexico city

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: " Worst flight experience"

Review: Worst customer service. Rude, unprofessional and unpleasant. Combative and unreasonable. Does not offer concrete solutions. Lures you to pay more. Worst flight experience

Route: Manila to Cebu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thomas Cook Airlines

Title: "most uncomfortable seats"

Review: Gatwick to Orlando. Never again! The worst airline I have ever been with. The most uncomfortable seats I have ever sat in on a flight. Everyone in my family had backache after 20 minutes and a numb bum, plastic armrests, and almost no padding. We paid nearly £800 per person and being expected to pay for drinks, is simply a disgrace. Never mind paying for decent films etc! My nephew was horribly sick and was told that there were no more sick bags available. He got given a carrier bag. I would like to say that the service made a difference, but, after being shoved aside by an oblivious steward, no! We have flown on many airlines over the years and Thomas Cook is by far the worst. Next time we'll go with any other company.

Route: Gatwick to Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: CityJet

Title: "avoid it like the plague"

Review: If anyone is considering flying with CityJet, I strongly advise you not to do so. Flight cancelled due to fog at London City. Agreed, this is not the airline's fault and therefore the airline does not have to pay compensation. However under European Regulation No EC 261/2004 the airline is obliged to give passengers written notice of their rights. Even when we asked for a statement of our consumer rights the airline actually refused to provide this information. The airline is also expected to offer rerouting or another flight at the earliest opportunity and is required to look after its passengers (meals, hotels in the event of overnight delay) in the meantime. Cityjet did not admit responsibility for doing any of this, the staff at Orly were brusque to the point of rudeness and refused to do anything for us, stating "it's the weather". Unfortunately at the time we did not know our rights, but no reputable company would behave this way. Avoid it like the plague.

Route: Paris Orly to London City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "abysmal customer service"

Review: I recently had the unfortunate experience of booking a flight with Lynx Airlines, and I can confidently say it was the most nightmarish travel encounter I have ever endured. From the moment our journey began, it was clear that Lynx Airlines was utterly incompetent and completely indifferent to their customers' plight. We were scheduled to board our flight at 8 PM, with an expected arrival time in Calgary at 10:30 PM. However, this journey quickly descended into chaos as our flight was plagued by continuous delays. After waiting at the airport for an agonizing six hours, our hopes were dashed when we received the devastating news that our flight had been canceled. Seeking assistance, we approached the Lynx Airlines staff, hoping they would take some responsibility for the situation. To our dismay, their response was dismissive, stating that they couldn't do anything and that we should contact Lynx Airlines instead. Frustratingly, when we tried to reach out to Lynx Airlines, we were met with a deafening silence as we waited for three hours on the phone, with no one bothering to answer our call. In desperation, we turned to Kiwi.com, the platform through which we had booked our flight. Regrettably, even they offered no help or support. They simply told us that we could schedule another flight, which was set for two days later. This was an impractical solution, considering I was traveling from another country and had limited time before my return to Sweden on Wednesday. It was absolutely inconceivable to catch a flight under such circumstances. The lack of understanding and assistance exhibited by both Lynx Airlines and Kiwi.com was beyond frustrating. Their failure to communicate effectively, return our calls, and provide any form of resolution exemplifies their abysmal customer service. Furthermore, their refusal to refund our hard-earned money in light of the dire situation is utterly unacceptable.

Route: Toronto to Calgary

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Botswana

Title: "consistent in letting down their passengers"

Review: Air Botswana is consistent in letting down their passengers. My family and I have had 4 encounters with Air Botswana and we were let down 4 times. First my mother received an itinerary and a payment confirmation only to arrive at the airport to be told that her ticket was not issued and that she would have to purchase another. She complained about this and Air Botswana tried to calm the situation down stating that she will be reimbursed for the purchase. The second issue was that i had a connecting flight from Johannesburg to Gaborone with air Botswana. My initial flight was from Cape Town. 2hrs before my departure from Cape Town i get informed that the flight from Johannesburg to gabs was cancelled. I was forced to take the flight from Cape Town to Johannesburg but to purchase accommodation for the next day for when air Botswana could give me another flight. I was not reimbursed for the expenses incurred. The third issue is the same as the first which happened to my brother who experienced the same issue as my mother. The fourth issue occurred this morning when I arrived at the check in desk after having travelled 300km on road to get to Gaborone Airport I was inform that although I have a payment confirmation from DPO Pay, Air Botswana had still not received any reflected money in their account and thus would have to purchase another ticket from the ticket sales. This resulted in me having to pay all my travel money and borrowing some to purchase this ticket. I am a student and one can only imagine the difficulty this caused. Air Botswana is consistent in giving trouble and all 4 times my family and I have travelled with them we had problems. When you see this many negative reviews take heed.

Route: Gaborone to Cape Town

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Rwandair

Title: "childrens allergies were not taken seriously"

Review: Flew Rwandair from Harare, Zimbabwe. to London, UK. via Kigali. My childrens allergies were not taken seriously. They both have anaphylactic reactions to various food. I struggled to get suitable meals for them and my children were given nothing but fruit at times yet hot meals could and should have been prepared for them. I checked in Kigali if theyd have their correct meals given to them and was reassured everything had been sorted. To my surprise nothing had and staff didnt know if allergens were in the meals they were serving. You are only asked if you want 'beef' or 'chicken' and wont know till you open your meal if it was spicy or not. I tried to swap my childs meal as theyd been serving beef curry with pasta and a creamy chicken dish with rice. All Id been told was 'beef or curry' by a very rude member of staff. I asked if both my kids untouched and unopened meals could be swapped with chicken but the vile member of staff argued with me saying the meal which he hadnt tasted himself, wasnt spicy! What could have been resolved in seconds took longer than necessary. He challenged me in an aggressive tone, which was completely unnecessary. He reluctantly agreed to swap the meals over. Hed told me there were no other meals for my children so I based my choice on guess work. Had I known in advance that my childrens dietary requirements wouldnt be met on such a long flight, Id have spent my money elsewhere. Other than that there were several stops and delays on our way to Zimbabwe. Seats were double booked from Kigali to Lusaka. On our return we struggled to find seats with our children and staff announced that passengers should sit wherever there was a seat. Staff made sure toilets were clean but they could have at least changed gloves as they wore the same gloves theyd been wearing while serving food. The plus side is: one of their meals was delicious, their flights are generally more affordable than most but that comes with a price. Rwandair has more luggage allowance than most in relation to Zimbabwe, staff on our way to Zimbabwe were friendly and approachable aside from speaking in their own language, they also kept passengers well hydrated considering the heat. It would be helpful for staff to carry a laminate list of ingredients as none of them seem to know whats in the food they serve and it would be helpful to actually say to passengers Would you like beef curry served with pasta or would you like creamy chicken and rice rather than beef or rice. Some customers who dont eat spicy food can make a choice rather than having to guess and waste food by returning or swapping it. To and from, staff didnt know what sort of meals they were serving.

Route: Harare, Zimbabwe. to London, UK. via Kigali

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jet2.com

Title: "limited space for anything"

Review: Birmingham to Rome. Avoid. Stewardess spilt coffee on me and still charged me for it. I was checked into an emergency seat which was horrendous due to limited space for anything. There is no pocket in the seats in front which is very inconvenient. The seats do not recline. The stewardesses are very inexperienced. No in flight entertainment.

Route: Birmingham to Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "They have lost 2 very good clients"

Review: I just wanted to share my terrible experience (and it is the same for a lot of people!) with Aegean Airlines! In my case, after booking a flight to Athens, they first cancelled my flight and, instead of reimbursing the ticket, they offered me a voucher. I've reluctantly accepted, considering that my girlfriend and I go very often to Greece because we love it and we have dear friends there. The voucher, due to the Covid emergency still not allowing us to use it, expired. When I asked a reimbursement, as per point 9 of their Terms & Conditions policy, they have deliberately ignored all the emails I have sent. They have lost 2 very good clients, considering that we had always flown with Aegean and that we keep going to Greece as often as we can. Now I will rather swim to Greece, than using Aegean again! Worst airline ever!

Route: Brussels to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air France

Title: "everything was so uncoordinated"

Review: New York to Stuttgart via Paris. I had a bad experience, on my flight from New York to Paris. Firstly everything was so uncoordinated, the flight got delayed, even the staff from the plane wasn't in yet even though the boarding would be in 5 minutes. While we were flying there were many inconveniences. First the AC was so cold that I froze the whole time, secondly we flew at night (0:30) and people wanted to sleep but the lights from the airplane were fully on. It was a longer flight but we didn't receive much to eat and when they came by with water, tea, coffee they didn't ask me, just a few passengers.

Route: New York to Stuttgart via Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Avianca

Title: "The seats are brutal"

Review: Abysmal service and highly overpriced. Please consider the following: Checking the second luggage on an international flight will cost you +250USD. They will not provide even a cup of water for a flight that is 6h long, from Bogota to Toronto nor from Bogota to Miami. No more complimentary water - it is a 6h flight for goodness sake! Avianca will not allow you to enter your own water on flights from Colombia to Miami. This should be illegal! The seats are brutal, the width of the seat does not cover the back of a male and there is no legroom even in an L tariff. They reserve the right to overbook the flight - this happens quite often.

Route: Bogota to Toronto

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Avelo Airlines

Title: "never recommend Avelo to anyone"

Review: Worst experience ever. 3 hour delays to Orlando and back home. No communication explaining delay. Attendants at gates refuse to talk to you or go to tarmac. Overall the worst experience Ive ever had flying. Will never recommend Avelo to anyone nor will I ever fly Avelo again. Abysmal.

Route: Orlando to Newport News

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Breeze Airways

Title: "Bereavement credits are not offered"

Review: I initially booked a direct flight but the flight plan was changed approximately two weeks prior to our departure. The stop in Charleston, SC which was approximately over an hour and caused our flight time to be over 7 hours rather than less than 5 hours as initially planned. My family and I flew from Hartford, CT to Phoenix, AZ on May 31st for my daughters graduation and my mother was traveling with a portable oxygen compressor which has a limited charge on the two batteries. The flight staff were very helpful and professional and this complaint doesnt have anything to do with them. Corporate changed the flight plan after we booked and we paid for a direct flight. The day before our return flight, my mother was hospitalized and the morning of our planned return flight (June 4th), my mother passed away suddenly. I tried to change the flights for myself and cancel my mothers due to her death but, the app wouldnt allow me to change or cancel only my moms flight and my own. I sent a text to the number thats stated online but I didnt hear back from anyone or at least not a human for hours after my text message on June 4th at 10:56am. I finally received a response on June 5th at 6:56pm (Hello Ida our condolences on the loss of your mom). Im assuming the very nice young lady at the ticket counter forwarded the information about the loss of my mother. I responded with, thank you. Any chance I could get a credit for the flights my mom and I weren't able to use? And, their response was we were sad to hear about your loss and our thoughts are with you. Bereavement credits are not offered, but we hope our low fares allow you to be with your loved ones at this time.

Route: Hartford to Phoenix via Charleston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "flying Southwest out of Reno is a breeze"

Review: Reno-Vegas. As usual flying Southwest out of Reno is a breeze. Check-in using self service kiosk was effortless as was bag drop. We were the only passengers checking in and it was an hour before the flight. TSA was empty so went right on through in no time at all. Arrived at gate and grabbed a bite to eat and then boarded the plane. Full flight, usual beverage and snack while in the air. Free wifi worked fine but since it's only an hour flight not really time to get too involved with the movies and shows offered. Arrived in Vegas and luggage was coming off the belt as we arrived at the carousel. Ground staff and cabin crew all did their jobs and made for a pleasant trip. No complaints.

Route: Reno to Las Vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Corendon Airlines

Title: "crew more interested in standing around chatting"

Review: Old, cramped and dirty aircraft (OM-FEX), parts of the inner cabin lining detached. Lack of on-line check in meant we had to suffer the painfully slow check in at the airport. The chaotic boarding delayed our departure, crew more interested in standing around chatting than getting passengers to their seats. In-flight service continued the slow theme, didn't get to us in row 18 until 2 and a half hours into a 4 hour flight. No card machines which meant the crew having to do manual currency conversions, it does without saying they lacked change too. Crew didn't seem to know what they had to sell of where it was in the trolley, every request seemed to require searching every drawer or having a conference with colleagues. Clearly drunk passengers allowed to board and then fall asleep across 3 seats with their feet in the aisle, kids fighting and climbing over the back of seats, throwing water at each other, banging the windows - not a word from the crew. Not a flight I would like to experience again.

Route: Dalaman to Newcastle

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Malta

Title: "boarding card an error"

Review: On my flight from Berlin to Malta Valetta I had a boarding card for the seat 2F issued by Air Malta. At the time of embarking on the ground staff checked and accepted my boarding card. When I sat down I realized that this seat is bigger than the others so I was happy. The stewardessess checked 3 times my boarding card and gave me back saying OK. At fourth time another steward asked my boarding card and said this is an error and I have to go to row 23 but she did not give me a new boarding card. She said that the plane was reorganized and row 2 was in fact Business Class, and I had an economy class ticket. After I was re-seated, nobody was at row 2!

Route: TXL to MLA

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Turkish Airlines

Title: "No leg room"

Review: Horrible experience! No leg room. They are just trying to make money by cramming every last airplane seat they can into the plane to fit more people. It was terribly uncomfortable, the seat was rigid, the head support flaps didnt work at all to hold your head in place while sleeping, you cant extend your legs. It was the worst international flight Ive had. I will not be using Turkish airlines again.

Route: San Francisco to Istanbul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "pay 550 Euro for a new flight"

Review: Oslo to Bangkok via Moscow. Due to problems at the airport, we did not pass our flight on, and had to pay 550 Euro for a new flight that departed 24 hours after the original flight. We could not get out of the airport without paying 150 Euro for visas due Norwegian passports. A lot of other passengers had the same problem and there was a very long queue where you had to stand for about 90 - 120 minutes before getting help since they had only had two people for this. When you arrive at Moscow airport the staff are on their cell phones rather than coming up with menus when you sit down at the restaurants, they do not smile at all and show that they are not interested in providing good customer care. This is my first time in Russia, and I hope I don't have to come back any time soon. HR

Route: Oslo to Bangkok via Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "calling card to win my business"

Review: Hong Kong to Beijing. 0740 departure on this return leg trip. On the inward trip for the long haul, wanted to change seats on their partner Hainan Airlines, as the inward seats 15 D/G were close to the lavatories etc. On checking in at HKG the agent issued our boarding tickets and lounge pass. I neglected to ask her prior to issue to elect another seat assignment. She said there was availability to change. She would work on it and I should advise their lounge staff to finalize the change. Yeah, like that would happen. In being accustomed to CX's lounge offerings, I was hoping for the noodle bar, unfortunately not at HK Airlines. I did ask the lounge staff to assist, as advised. They said they would help. Their lounge was nice and had plenty to select. The lounge staff advised we could collect our new passes at the departure gate. Arrived at the departure gate and they had no information, but would check. The flight was now on airport hold. Gave the original passes back and said they would contact Beijing staff to assist. Flight was on time, again nice presentation and service. Breakfast, albeit a western choosing was excellent. Fresh, served piping hot and refills on coffee and juice. Arrived on time. On deplaning, much to my surprise a HK Airlines agent was at the end of the jet way with name cards for us. She not only had our new boarding passes, but lounge invitation cards to boot. She also pointed out the security and screening location. We were through the process in 20 minutes. Way to go! That's service and a great calling card to win my business.

Route: HKG to PEK

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Oman Air

Title: "3 months later still no refund"

Review: Disgraceful company. Booked flights for April which were cancelled by the airline. Refund applied for in May and 3 months later still no refund. Their approach to the pandemic appears to be sticking their head in the sand and pretending it's not happening. I've flown them before and they certainly weren't bad but not in the same league as other middle Eastern carriers. I would never recommend them to anyone after this though, no matter how cheap the flights. Terrible, terrible airline.

Route: London to Kuala Lumpur via Muscat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Etihad Airways

Title: "Etihad made this a really bad experience"

Review: I flew from Munich to Kochi via Abu Dhabi with an infant and my 5 year old child. We had booked the bassinet seats more than a month prior to the travel and they were confirmed. During online check-in we found that for the second leg, the seats were changed. Initially booked seats were 6A and 6B. However, they moved my seat to 6E and my daughter's seat a couple of rows behind and it was not possible to book the seats together online. The flight was the same type. I contacted support and they said it could be a technical fault or something and we can change it at the airport. At Munich airport, they agreed that the change of seats were unacceptable (from the automatic assignment) and that they cannot make a child sit in another row from the parent. However, they said they cannot change the seat from Munich but the boarding staff "should" change it at Abu Dhabi airport. At Abu Dhabi, they said the flight is full and we should have got this changed earlier. The cabin crew asked to initially sit in the assigned seat and that they can get us seated together when boarding is complete. I did not want to leave my crying daughter in another row and luckily the person in seat 6F said that he can move to my daughter's seat. The seats 6A-6D were given to a family with older children. Flying with children is not easy and Etihad made this a really bad experience. We booked Etihad owing to the good schedule even though the price was quite high owing to the holiday period. We sent a complaint 3 weeks ago and we have still not received any replies.

Route: Munich to Kochi via Abu Dhabi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Japan Airlines

Title: "wonderful and superb customer service"

Review: Thank you Japan Airlines for taking care of my Mom on her flight going back to US. From the airport ticketing office, to airport staff and airplane crew. My mom had a super nice and amazing flight experience going back to US. Special commendation and mention to Jerald Rosa of JAL NAIA 1, for assisting and accommodating us in all our inquiries even it is already out of his shift and was about to go home. Indeed giving an extra mile in helping us and answering all our clarifications especially during my Moms departure at the Airport when I am no longer there to assist her. Jerald and other JAL staff made sure she is okay and assisted her on all her needs. Really customer obsession and bias for action. Definitely a great and amazing first time with Japan Airlines and definitely will not only be the first. Kudos and continue giving a wonderful and superb customer service.

Route: Manila to Los Angeles via Tokyo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "Poor customer service"

Review: London to Rome. We came very Early. In fact came in 4 hrs. At the airport and was the first few early passengers. The staff asked us to gave up our carry on luggage saying it was a full flight and gave us a zone 1 assignment for boarding. The flight was delayed, and at boarding they didn't follow The zoning assignment. Very disappointed. Poor customer service.

Route: London to Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Iberia Express

Title: "refund of the airport taxes"

Review: Berlin to Madrid. For personal reasons I couldn't travel. The website is not accessible for complaints or doubts. After looking in Internet, I found a telephone where you can call them and ask. Once I got in touch I asked for a refund of the airport taxes. It is true that they return them, but they charge a management fee higher than the fees, so they do not return anything. From the consumer's point of view, we are unprotected.

Route: Berlin to Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "said this may have been a computer glitch"

Review: I booked 2 flights with Hawaiian airlines (HA) directly through their website. I tried to check in and and baggage for my flights the day before when I received the email reconfirming my flight. It would not allow me. So I called. The customer service rep told me the amount I had paid for said flight was just to "place my flight on standby" and the 2 seats I purchased were not actually confirmed. He said this may have been a computer glitch because this never happens or sometimes with HA this happens because people want to pay their taxes for the flight at the airport. This has never happened before with any other airline I have used. I received no notice that my flight was not confirmed, instead I received the opposite that my flights were confirmed. If I had not called I may have gone to the airport to find out there were no more available seats on the flight (customer service rep told me this). This is crazy. I paid another $100 something for taxes. At first I thought it was a scam, but realized that didn't make sense because they had the correct flight info and my info before I have it to them. So thank God it wasn't a scam, but risked almost missing 2 flights on my honeymoon because of a "computer glitch" or failure to contact me to let me know my flight was not confirmed. None of this makes any sense. Customer service rep was very nice and worked with me. But extremely frustrating and still do not understand how this happened

Route: Honolulu to Maui

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "Never again with Jetstar"

Review: Horrible flight experience: 1-hour flight from Singapore to Kuala Lumpur was delayed for 30 minutes. Also, they forced me and at least 10-20 passengers to ship our carry on luggage because they didn't have enough space. So I had to waste another 30 minutes at the airport. In total, I spent as much time waiting because of Jetstar as I did on board of the plane. Definitely there are way better alternatives in Asia. Never again with Jetstar.

Route: Singapore to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Buta Airways

Title: "Hand luggage is not included"

Review: Kazan to Baku. It's not really a low cost airline, because the cost is not low and quality is even lower than a usual lowcost. But I had no choice. Hand luggage is not included, it is made clear on their website. But the problem is that you can't pay for the hand luggage on their website, you have to pay at check-in counter. And they force you to pay in different currency using their crazy exchange rate, so you will overpay for it a lot. The reason, as they explained it, it is because they need to check your bag (size and weight) to see if it will fit. Can't they allow to pay for it online and deal with overweight bags at the airport for extra cost? My bag was within the limits, but I had to pay more. Surprisingly, seats were pretty comfortable and spacious enough for tall people. They even gave a free sandwich. But tea/coffee was not free. Anyway, I can't recommend to fly with Buta.

Route: Kazan to Baku

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Batik Air

Title: "Moved flight three times"

Review: Worst airline. Moved flight three times with no regard to connecting flights, visa expiry, personal need to arrive on the day. Not flight delays, complete three times date changes on the flights. We regret to inform you that your flight has been changed to xx date? Never seen this happen before. - Customer care doesn't pick phone, nor replies to mails. - Cannot cancel online. - Extremely rude staff at Subang airport when you go to their counter. They keep shuttling you from one point to another point. No answers, no responsibility.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Wings Air

Title: "cheap and the plane is new"

Review: Jakarta (HLP) to Bandung is a new route from Wings Air. This flight only take about 22 minutes. since Wings Air is a LCC, inflight food are only available by purchasing it. I dont know what are they selling, maybe some snacks and there wasnt any menu card or something like that. I like to fly with Wings Air since it is cheap and the plane is new but what I dont like is the stewardess are just little bit smile less.

Route: Jakarta to Bandung

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Super Air Jet

Title: "choose another airline"

Review: I can't recommend the Airline at all! I booked a flight with them via Booking.com for the 8.10 at 11:15 am and the day before at 11:30 PM Booking informed me that the flight was cancelled! So less then 12 hours before the flight start and also late at night the flight was cancelled. No support or any information from Super air Jet at all. Also when i requested a refund afterwards they are not responding to any of my mails, so please avoid the unnecessary stress and choose another airline.

Route: Denpasar to Jakarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Niugini

Title: Air Niugini customer review

Review: My daughter and I are back in Sydney tonight thanks to Air Niugini going the extra mile. When the flight from Alotau to Port Moresby was cancelled we were in a challenging situation, then when the rebooked flight from Alotau to Moresby couldn't land because of difficult weather conditions we had to overnight in Alotau and hope to connect early through a rescheduled flight from Alotau the following morning. The Air Niugini staff at Alotau handled a difficult situation for customers extremely professionally both the day of the delay issues and through rebooking everyone on the rescheduled flight the next morning.

Route: Gurney to Sydney via Port Moresby

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Omni Air International

Title: "staff and service were excellent"

Review: Ramstein Air Force Base Germany to Baltimore-Washington. Flew as Space-A on the AMC- USAF Patriot Express or informally Freedom Bird. Seats were narrow, as would expect for transporting physically fit soldiers, but adequate legroom. Departure delayed for two hours for technical reasons, but better 'safe than sorry' since flight over Atlantic Ocean precludes any emergency diversion and landing! All seatback electronics functioned. Cabin staff and service were excellent! Supper (from Germany, not US) was to European standards, quite good, (not the untasty US airline food), and had a real breakfast, (not a 'snack' as on the inadequate 'other' charter company outbound). Crew was attentive, gracious, and always helpful. Overall, much better than US-flagged carriers and up to European standards. Although flew as military retired at minimal cost, I would be pleased to pay full-price ticket for the service rendered on this flight.

Route: Ramstein to BWI

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Malta

Title: "Complete rip-off"

Review: Malta to Lyon. First time ever flying Air Malta, visiting the beautiful island of Malta for the first time with my wife on our honeymoon. Arrived on easyJet and Purchased one-way tickets to leave thru Air Malta. Paid 2 x 90 for the flights. Paid 2 x 80 for 2 pieces of 20kg luggage. 180 in air fare. 160 in luggage. Complete rip-off.

Route: Malta to Lyon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air North Yukon's Airline

Title: "amazed by their services"

Review: We were totally amazed by their services, since none of us have ever heard of this airline. The trip was arranged by the travel agency who arranged our tour. Even during a short trip they provided us gourmet sandwiches and a warm cookie; while beverages was served twice, which is far much better than what we experienced from those larger airlines. How we wish they can cover more routes.

Route: Dawson to Vancouver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "my ticket type doesn't qualify"

Review: I had a ticket that was rescheduled. Upon inquiry with the customer service agent, for which I had to be on hold for around 45 mins on phone, I was assured that I am eligible for a full refund. So, as instructed, I canceled the ticket and applied for a refund. After a couple of weeks, I get an email saying that I do not get any refund since my ticket type doesn't qualify for one. The ticket price was around 650 euros. I thought this might have been a mistake and I can reach out to them again to reopen my case again. Only to my surprise, I see a new section in their refund form eligibility criteria that a new bullet point has been added which says the following. "there is a schedule change of more than 1 hour for your planned flight (schedule changes less than 1 hour, a refund will be based on ticket rules)" Upon checking this page's history in the web archive this was a new addition that was added recently. What a sneaky move!

Route: Tallinn to Delhi via Helsinki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Virgin Australia

Title: "staff were friendly and efficient"

Review: Unfortunately my flight was cancelled and I was put on a flight departing 30 minutes later and then that flight was delayed by 45 minutes. Ah well, the staff were friendly and efficient.

Route: Melbourne to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "If you can, avoid this company at all costs"

Review: Flying with LATAM has been my worst flight experience so far. Despite involving a 30 min flight, I managed to experience a 12h delay (which would have been acceptable if they would have done as legally required, meaning warning the passenger of a change in the flight schedule). They advanced my flight 2h, I was coming in with an international connection and had my boarding pass. I show up at the airport and the flight is not programmed, instead of being guided, I was forced to do a super long line (baggage drop off) at 4am in the morning, fight to get my luggage, and fight to get a flight rescheduled. Apparently this was all the "weather". I fail to see how worldwide emails stop, and the customer service of an international airline collapses, when it rains in one city in Colombia but this is so far their explanation. On top of this, they take months to treat every customer claim. If you can, avoid this company at all costs.

Route: Bogota to Pereira

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: LIAT

Title: "utter madness with this airline"

Review: My family decided to take a mini vacation to the beautiful island of St Vincent for 4 days from 12th to 15th November 2015. The flight to get to St Vincent was without incident but when it was time to return home to Port of Spain our real troubles began. On the 15th November our flight was scheduled for 6:55 pm, we checked out our hotel at 12 noon, bummed around until 4pm then made it to the airport. On arrival to the SVG airport we were then told our flight was cancelled totally until the 16th at the same time 6:55pm. I had my 84 year old grandmother traveling with me as well and this was already too much for her. We were put up in another resort close to the airport for the night until 12 noon on the 16th. We again left for the airport at 2pm on the 16th. We arrived here to be told, we are on a flight to Barbados at 4:30pm which has a layover of 3 hrs and we will finally reach Trinidad at 10:25pm. I am now seated at the SVG airport - it is 4:30pm on the 16th Nov and we were just told the flight to Barbados is delayed for 1 hour. Home seems like a figment of my imagination at this point! This is utter madness with this airline. There is no flight board, no reps to give you any updated information and no recourse offered to hungry, tired and frustrated passengers! I will never fly with LIAT again and I will certainly never do this to put my 60yr old parents and my 84 yr old grandmother through this torture.

Route: SVG to POS

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: LAN Airlines

Title: "flight had been cancelled"

Review: I had purchased a ticket between Buenos Aires Aeroparque and Santiago, Chile. On the date of my return to Buenos Aires, when I went to check in at the LAN ticket counter, a LAN staffer told me my flight had been cancelled and she sent me to be rechecked in a line for a flight to Ezeiza, the airport 45 minutes outside of town. Instead of the exit-row aisle seat I had reserved for the Aeroparque flight, I was placed in a middle seat on a full flight to Ezeiza. However, once I landed at Ezeiza, I discovered that not only had the Aeroparque flight not been cancelled but that it was arriving at Aeroparque 10 minutes after I arrived at Ezeiza. The LAN ticket counter staff never provided an explanation for why I was bumped off the flight I had purchased, nor was I offered an apology for being taken an hour out of my way. All I got was a free transfer into the city. To add insult to injury, LAN has not credited my LANPass kilometers for this flight.

Route: EZE to SCL

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Nostrum

Title: "leg room was a bit on the short side"

Review: IB8496 from Palma to Menorca, operated by Air Nostrum. Boarding started with a significant delay of two hours but the ground crew were very conscious of that fact and tried to speed up the boarding process as good as possible. At boarding, the aircraft was baking hot. This bettered only a little during the flight but with the flight being just 30 minutes long, the temperature wasn't as big a deal as it would have been on a longer flight. The crew were friendly and talking to them in English was no problem at all. The aircraft was very clean. The leg room was a bit on the short side. There was no complimentary drink or meal service.

Route: Palma to Menorca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Asiana Airlines

Title: "In Flight Service was exceptional"

Review: Great experience. A350 clean and in good condition, welcome was friendly and tentative even cabin was full. Departure on time, captain welcomed us and explains the route till the destination. IFE was OK, limited to my taste of movies. I managed to find 2 movies to keep me busy. In Flight Service was exceptional, I had ordered Western menu. Everything was perfect and tasty. Obstacle they do not offer pajamas. You can have WiFi connection but you have to pay even if you are in Business Class.

Route: Frankfurt to Seoul

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "polite and friendly"

Review: Flew to DFW from Vancouver one way after attending a wedding. No delays on inbound flight. The flight was smooth with very little turbulence encountered. Kudos to American Airlines flight crew. They were polite and friendly. Premium Economy seat had enough legroom for a comfortable flight. Service is typical (biscotti, snack and soft drinks) of all domestic flights. American does a pretty good job of getting you where you want on their domestic and trans border flights.

Route: Vancouver to Dallas Ft Worth

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thai Smile Airways

Title: "service on the plane is quite complete"

Review: Everything was on time and quite comfortable. But in the lounge there will be a lot of users that make me feel uncomfortable. But the service on the plane is quite complete and worth the price.

Route: Bangkok to Hanoi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Germanwings

Title: "Seat was fine with enough legroom"

Review: Dusseldorf to Berlin. Eurowings flight operated by Germanwings EW9050. Flight had a slight delay of 15 minutes. Flight was smooth and good. Seat was fine with enough legroom. Food and drinks for purchase, crew was just average.

Route: Dusseldorf to Berlin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Turkish Airlines

Title: "Whole experience was really painful"

Review: Whole experience of flying with Turkish Airlines was really painful. Crew is of course very angry and displeasing, you can hardly see more unpleasant people working as crew. Food is universal and dull, for example they also don't want to open a bottle of wine, because another kind of wine is opened, so why not that one. Shocking was also behaviour of captain, who chatted in middle of small alley and blocked way to restroom. I asked him if I can go and he barked "go away". I returned a few minutes later and he just opened door to his cabin saying I must immediately leave or he will do consequences. Well, if he wasn't blocking the way so long, I was already back in my seat. And many similar small details and situations clearly saying "we are the worst airline in the world but we fly everywhere, get used to it". Only positive is that they arrived as they should (but it shouldn't be appraised, it should be automatic). Don't recommend unless you have no other option.

Route: Denpasar to stanbul

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: La Compagnie

Title: "recommend and fly them again"

Review: Return flights from Luton to New York for 4 of us. Flight was cancelled with a flight rebooked to fly 12 hours later. We were advised a couple of weeks in advance so didn't cause any problems, but a little irritating. Swift check in, lounge at Luton was fine (used it before as priority pass holders). The flight was excellent. Seats were comfortable and reclined (although not full flat) to be suitable to sleep. Pleasant staff who were attentive and discreet throughout. Champagne and very nice meal with choice of wines. Samsung Galaxy pads enabled viewing of limited films, magazines etc. Dozed off and woken by staff offering refreshments. Newark arrival processes swift and easy. Return check in similar. Lounge busy but adequate seating with plenty of refreshments. As it was a night flight, light meal, okay but not exciting then went to sleep.. Although there appeared to be only 3 staff, they were charming and efficient. Hugely impressed by La Compagnie. The flight both ways was a pleasure and would recommend and fly with them again.

Route: LTN to EWR

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Skymark Airlines

Title: "comfy seat and legroom"

Review: Tokyo Haneda to Sapporo return with Skymark Airlines. First leg on Boeing 737-800NG. New cabin, comfy seat and generous legroom for a low-cost airline. Even though I didn't purchase any, the drinks and snacks are sold at a cheap price. Departure and arrival on time. Return leg, delayed for 30 mins due to congestion at destination airport. Return aircraft was an older Boeing 737-800. Very warm cabin temperature. But overall worth the ticket price. Definitely better than AirAsia and JetStar.

Route: HND to CTS

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "Avoid this airline"

Review: Total Nightmare. Booked flights for a round trip from Toronto to St. Johns. Not worth the savings. The level of stress of having to deal with their ridiculous level of unreliability is just too much. They tell you to be there at least a couple hours early and then delay your flight by at least a few hours. We were at the airport at 5 am for a 7:20 am flight and didn't take off until 10:20 a.m. They'll keep you having to check for delays constantly because they'll just keep furthering an original delay and then have you sit on the tarmac for ages. The way back from St. Johns to Toronto was, unbelievably, even worse. A two and a half hour delay and an additional hour and a half sitting on the tarmac in Toronto just waiting for our gate to be available (with very little communication from staff until people started getting angry) made for a harrowing 7 hour ordeal, all for what was supposed to be a quick 3 hour flight! Could have flown to Europe by then. Avoid this airline! It's just not worth it.

Route: Toronto to St. Johns

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Alaska Airlines

Title: "flight attendants did the bare minimum"

Review: Terrible attitude from the lady at 11am at gate D6. Plane was uncomfortable and the flight attendants did the bare minimum and could use some classes in being better to people. No entertainment, no snacks. Tiny bathrooms. Not a great airline at all.

Route: San Francisco to Newark

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "flight was quite comfortable"

Review: I flew from Singapore to Jakarta on Jetstar Asia (codeshare with Jet Airways). The flight was quite comfortable for the short flight. The legspace and seat width and support was comfortable. Since it was a codeshare flight, I got a complementary snack and beverage which was sufficient and good for the flight duration.

Route: Singapore to Jakarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Qatar Airways

Title: "best part as always is the Q Suite"

Review: I travelled Qatar Airways from JFK to Islamabad, 1st leg from JFK to Doha was operated by AA. The transit experience at Hamad international Airport was great, from disembarking the plane, going to the lounge and then boarding the plane again to Islamabad was pleasant and easy. The ground staff were very pleasant, professional and eager to help. Next step on board the flight was equally nice. Would especially like to mention the supervisor from Lebanon who introduced himself to all business class passengers and personally helped the staff. I didnt eat during the flight as wanted to sleep, but I am sure it would have been a good experience. The best part as always is the Q Suite, it gives you comfort and privacy, I was tired after flying on a long transatlantic flight but still sleeping in Q suite for about 3 hours was worth it. Overall great experience!

Route: New York JFK to Islamabad via Doha

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "told the ticket had expired"

Review: Deplorable customer service. After having my flight cancelled in March 2020 due to Covid 19, Gulf Air issued a ticket which I was told could be used to book another flight within 12 months. After finally reaching a customer service representative on an international call, only to be told the ticket had expired and that it was 12 months from the initial purchase of September 2019! During this period I was unable to book my flights as they were unavailable from Gulf Air? How can a goods or service expire when it was never provided, surely this is a breach of contract?

Route: Bahrain to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Qatar Airways

Title: "the aircraft had changed"

Review: I bought a round trip business class Lite ticket under the expectation that it would be Q-Suite. I selected my seats in Qatar Airways seat app, which showed the Q-Suite layout. At ATL check-in I was told that there was an operational issue and the aircraft had changed with an old business class seat. This happened on my return from DOH to ATL leg. As for DOH to BLR and BLR to DOH, we did get a Q-Suite and it was as expected.

Route: Atlanta to Bangalore via Doha

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Turkish Airlines

Title: "flight attendants were extremely rude"

Review: My Mom was traveling transit from Beirut to San Francisco, She had a medical condition and was not able to move so we ordered a wheelchair. However the agent that was responsible to escort took advantage of her and the fact that she did not have so much time for transit (for the next flight to San Francisco she had only an hour) and asked her for money in order to make her reach her gate. He asked for 50$ or else she will be missing her flight. This is apart from the fact that the flight attendants were extremely rude with her during the flight from Istanbul to San Francisco. Also do not indicate that you have Wifi during your flights when you don't. Obviously wifi is not available on all airplanes.

Route: Beirut to Istanbul via San Francisco

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: flyadeal

Title: "Hidden charges always leave the clients with negative experience"

Review: Flyadeal price advertised price is not the real price which you will be asked to pay at the end of the booking process! You will be surprised with the additional cost. If you say from the start the flight cost will be for example 200$, why you add at the end 30$ for the seat cost! Where do you expect us to sit? On the wings or hanging on the airplane's landing gears! Hidden charges always leave the clients with negative experience, and indicate bad customer service.

Route: Dammam to Jeddah

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Canada

Title: "expect this service off a cheap airline"

Review: First time flying Air Canada and very disappointed for a flagship airline. Bought expensive long haul tickets and then they want you to pay £50 each to choose seats next to each other. Flight was delayed two hours for technical issues then another hour while they tried to find volunteers to give up their seat due to over booking. Once on the plane we sat there for an hour before take off and had to ask three different staff for headphones so we could watch the entertainment system while we waited. Would expect this service off a cheap airline but not Air Canada

Route: London to Vancouver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "a terrible experience"

Review: Overall, it was a terrible experience. My flight was originally scheduled for 10:40pm, but then it was delayed to midnight, a few minutes later it was delayed to 12:30, then 4:00am, and finally 7:30am. By the time we were made aware that the flight was going to leave in the morning, it no longer made logical sense to take a hotel voucher because by the time you would have made it to the hotel, you would have to leave an hour later to make it through TSA, so almost everyone on my flight decided to spend the night at the airport. In return, customer service representatives gave us $12 food vouchers. This is unacceptable. Not to mention, the customer service representatives were in a terrible mood and I do not blame them. They deserve better than having to tell a hundred angry customers back to back that all they can do is give a $12 food voucher. I am disappointed and will not be flying with American again. It is in your best interest to do the same.

Route: Dallas to Wichita

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Sky Express Airlines

Title: "missed my connection on Sky Express"

Review: I missed my connection on Sky Express from Corfu to Athens on July 18 2022 because of the unprecedented melted tarmac at London Luton that date. We arrived at nearly 1 AM in Corfu. I was not able to secure a connected flight the next day, July 19 2022 to Athens, but finally was able to persuade the only agent at Corfu airport at that time of night, and had to pay again - even though I had a ticket for a flight which I had missed as noted above for a ticket to Athens the next morning July 19 2022. I had to spend the night in the airport, no accommodation or food or anything. My travel insurance was disregarded, I had no recompense whatsoever.

Route: Corfu to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Avelo Airlines

Title: "We were treated terribly"

Review: Do not take this airline! In response to your question, no it is not worth it. My plane was delayed 10 hours. There was no one at the desk to talk to. There was no information provided. We were told that if we left we would not get another flight because this one was not canceled. We were treated terribly.

Route: New Haven to West Palm Beach

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "All in all a horrible experience"

Review: Flight was delayed on top of a 4 hour layover to the point where I missed my flight home and the next flight had to be the next time. That was after switching us from our first class ticket to economy, which means our plans for the evening meal were completely ruined. A 12 dollar meal voucher doesn't really cut it. Also, on the flight in the in flight meal sucked anyway. Like, some of the worst food I've been subjected to in a while. I'm never voluntarily flying American again in the future. All in all a horrible experience.

Route: Puerto Vallarta to Houston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Sriwijaya Air

Title: "price is quite affordable"

Review: I had a flight last week from Yogyakarta to Jakarta with Sriwijaya Air. Check in staff are very friendly. I asked where the airplane coming from and she replied with a smile. The flight was delayed about 10 or 15 minutes due the traffic congestion in Yogya. With an hour flight, I got a tango snack and a cup of mineral water. The seat was good, and the airplane little bit hot at that time. My main criticism is to their cabin crew, which is not quite friendly enough. One of the staff doing the safety demonstration did not have any smile or attract any attention from the passengers. I think they should smile a lot during the flight. Overall, the flight is good and the price is quite affordable.

Route: JOG to CGK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "impossible to communicate with interjet"

Review: It is absolutely impossible to have an answer to our questions. Have been left in the void. Our flights have been scheduled on July 20, 2020. I am trying to communicate with e dream who eyx sends me a letter saying that the company concerned was in procedure or to worry that I would receive an email with the voucher. We are in November I have not received anything. And impossible to communicate with interjet. C'est absolument impossible d avoir une reponse a nos questions. Ont est laisse dans le néant. Nos vols ont ete cencellé ke 20 juillet 2020. J'essaie de communiquer avec e dream qui eyx m envoie une lettre disant que la compagnie interjet était en pricedure dene oas m inquiéter que je recevrais un mail avec le * voucher* . Nous sommes en novembre je n ai rien reçu. Et impossible communiquer avec interjet.

Route: Montreal to San Jose via Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "its hard to get your money back"

Review: My flight is supposed to be a round trip. When Vietnam Airlines cancelled my flight back, they only want to refund me MYR42. That is not even a ticket price. So, I wanted a ticket change, they charged me 20 only to cancel the flight again. I asked for a refund, and they want to refund me only MYR127. I refuse to accept that Covid19 is the reason because they only canceled part of my flight. If they can fly from KUL-SGN, and cancelled SGN-FRA without wanting to refund me, then it isnt even Covid19. So I do not know why they wont refund me what I have rights to. How could they just refund me such meagre amount? It is unacceptable. Also, they havent replied me after I tried to contact them many times. I have spent so much Skype credits to contact them but all was in vain. They have nice in-flight comfort and all. However, when faced with issues like this, its hard to get your money back or even to get an answer from them.

Route: Frankfurt to Kuala Lumpur via Ho Chi Minh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Monarch Airlines

Title: "extra leg room worth the money"

Review: Gatwick to Alicante return. Both flights almost full and on time. We booked extra leg room seats, well worth the money. Crew very good. Did not purchase any refreshments.

Route: Gatwick to Alicante

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "We as passengers expect some amount of certainty before our travel"

Review: Flight from Srinagar to Mumbai was cancelled arbitrarily due to poor weather and passengers weren't informed until they reached the airport. Flight kept getting delayed and eventually got cancelled. Airline offered accommodation for 7 days (which we didn't take) and agreed to defer our tickets to a later date. We were supposed to travel on 7/1/2021 but we got our confirmed ticket from the airline for 12/1/2021. Apparently, flights for an earlier day were unavailable. On 8/1/2021 in the evening, we got our confirmation tickets from the airline for our upcoming journey on 12th. However, this changed real quick as a mail was sent by the airline at 10.30pm on the same day saying that we have been allotted seats in the following days (9/1/2021) flight which was scheduled at 11.40am. Due to unfavourable weather conditions in Srinagar, there was heavy traffic outside the airport which could take up to 2-3 hours to clear. It is important that passengers are informed much ahead of time so that they are prepared and have sufficient time in hand. Minimum of 24 hours prior notice should be given to the passengers in case of any changes so they can plan their day accordingly. What was done by GoAir is extremely unfair as passengers cannot be taken on a ride like this. We as passengers expect some amount of certainty before our travel. Airline cannot change the date of departure as per the whims and fancies and should be considerate of their fellow passengers. The call centre staff are most unhelpful of the lot. They fail to provide basic information regarding the flight. There are no possible ways by which you can put forth your grievance. As passengers, we expect service for the price we pay. Attitude of the airline towards customers is very poor. Will strongly dissuade people from flying this airline unless they want confusion and uncertainty until the very last moment of their travel.

Route: Srinagar to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Condor Airlines

Title: "The baggage is lost"

Review: The absence of the service. The baggage is lost, no contact, no information on the web site that does not operate in standard way. Even the report form does not recognise the flight number. So tricky management that no human contact the only machine voice.

Route: Nürnberg to Crete

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Condor Airlines

Title: "will NEVER book with Condor again"

Review: Booked tickets Munich to Split with Condor. When we went to check in online, were redirected to Marabu Airlines webpage. Never heard of them, but ok. Online check in doesnt work, ok. Got to airport 2 hours before our flight - hundreds of people in the Marabu queue, which is not moving. Everyone looks confused. We talked to other people waiting and it turns out many of them were there for the second day in a row, and had been there hanging out for the whole pervious day waiting to fly before being sent away the evening before. After 5 hours or so, the one check-in staff member made an announcement that all Marabu flights were cancelled and people should return at 9am the next morning for more information. He didnt work for either Marabu or Condor so had no further information. Need a hotel? Book it yourself and try to get the money back from the airline was the advice. We go home, return at 9am the following morning. Same scene as the day before. A few hours later, the check in staff tell us all flights are cancelled and there will be no replacement flight. So we had to book our own alternative flight with Lufthansa. Condor customer service say we have to pursue Marabu for a refund - EVEN THOUGH THEY OWN MARABU. We will NEVER book anything with Condor again. If you think this is just a once-off bad experience, have a look at Condors Facebook page. You have been warned!!

Route: Munich to Split

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: British Airways

Title: "lack of customer service"

Review: I travelled with British Airways from Sweden to Los Angeles via London in December 2022. When I arrived at LAX one of my bags were missing. There was no information of the whereabouts of my bag and after searching for someone for about 30 minutes, I found the point of contact and she told me my bag was left behind. I gave her my details of where I would be staying and she told me that they would contact me. After a few days and still no contact I tried to call British Airways customer service. The woman at the airport didnt give me a file reference number, so it was quite difficult to try and locate my bag, but they finally found the reference number and my bag and said it would be delivered in a couple of days. I told them that I had switched hotels and gave them the address for where I was staying and everything was fine. But then a couple of weeks went by and my bag was still nowhere to be seen and it was time for me to fly home. At the airport I tried to talk with the personnel there to try and locate my bag and they said that it was delivered to the first hotel I stayed at, even though I had given them an updated address. I asked them what I should do since I was flying home now. The guy at the counter told me that it wasnt his problem and that I should figure it out myself. I questioned him about his response and he just walked away. A manager saw that and came up to me and apologized for his colleague and that they would send someone to fetch my bag and send it with either my flight or the next one. I came home and a couple of days later I received my bag. I made a complaint and claims on British Airways website since I had to buy clothes and toiletries during my vacation because I didnt have my bag. In January they said that they would refund me for my claims, it is now April (almost May) and I have still not received the refund even after multiple email conversations. I dont know what to do anymore about this situation since it appears that no one is willing to help me. I am appalled about how the situation is being handled and frankly disappointed at British Airways and the lack of customer service.

Route: Sweden to Los Angeles via London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "I regret my decision every single time"

Review: Flew from Kuala Lumpur to Singapore. Never ever fly with Jetstar. Due to connection flight timing I have had to fly Jetstar 6 times within the past 6 months and I regret my decision every single time. Leg room, cramped. Departure, late (6/6 times). Service, sub par. Regardless of price, it is just not worth the headache. It is understandable that an airline's flight is late here and there, but every single time is just absurd. Please, do yourself a favour and never fly with Jetstar Asia.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: China Airlines

Title: "Amazing cabin crew"

Review: Frankfurt to Hanoi via Taipei. Amazing cabin crew. They are professional, caring and nice. Updated in-flight entertainment programme. Food is fairly good. They serve ice-cream for lunch.

Route: Frankfurt to Hanoi via Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeromexico

Title: "you can't change your flight date"

Review: It's important to know that if you book a ticket in economy you can't change your flight date if you need to. With over a month's notice, they would not let me change my flight date. I had to lose the entire ticket - full payment. First thing is they should warn you about this at booking. I understand paying a penalty, but having to pay the entire ticket is unbelievable to me. I'll never fly with them ever and I'll advise others to avoid them also.

Route: San Jose to Toronto via Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "they only accepted credit cards"

Review: Avoid like the plague. Ground crew is not helpful. We were unable to check in online due to a Wi-Fi failure on the airport. We expected some consideration from the Ryanair-staff. After a rather unpleasant conversation we had to pay £100 for our boarding passes. But they only accepted credit cards which we didn't have. So we couldn't fly. Staff were ice-cold. That's how they are trained. Finally, a friend paid for us. But we had already missed our flight because of this. Now we had to rebook our tickets. Of course, again we received the emotionless treatment of the staff and an extra 200 pounds lighter, we were finally able to leave London Stansted Airport. Ryanair takes advantage of the fact people don't own a credit card, and they do this on purpose. It's just a low strategy to make a bit of extra money.

Route: London Stansted to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "had to spend the night at the airport"

Review: This is my second time flying with Lynx. I went to the Lynx counter at TO Pearson Airport to check into my flight. I was told I had to pay $225.00 because I changed the flight from April 8th to Apr 7th. The account was locked by Lynx. I did not have the money to pay the difference. So I left the counter and went to see if I could borrow some money to cover the difference which I thought was excessive for a simple flight change. Nevertheless, when I went back to the counter, the agent told me she was trying to get hold of Lynx to get them to free the account so I could pay and check in. No one was answering the phone. So she had me stand aside saying she left a msg and would call me back. I waited for a while and when she did not call me back I approached the desk and she told me I was too late that the gate was closed. Meantime Lynx sent a revised time for the flight departure to my dead cell phone. Why did she not mention/know the departure was delayed. I had to spend the night at the airport because of her inefficiency. I did not use my ticket. I missed the flight because the agent was not paying attention and no one answered the phone in a timely manner to unlock the account. My request for a credit went unacknowledged and unanswered.

Route: Toronto to Vancouver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Airlink

Title: "satisfied flying with Airlink"

Review: Airlink from Kimberley to Cape Town, a 1h30 flight. Leather black seats with enough legroom and nice cabin interior. The were lack of space meant I had to put my tripod and a great part of my hand luggage with the cabin crew luggage. The plane itself only has luggage compartments on the one side. We were served drinks and a choice of beef or chicken sandwiches. It was a pity they chose cheap instant coffee as the genuine substitute. We departed ahead of schedule and arrived 22 minutes ahead at Cape Town. We had only one crew member who served well. All in all, when you pay near nothing (R850 is about USD $65) and get so much - a meal, drinks, good seats and ground crew you have to be mad not to realise the value. It goes without question that this is just a very ordinary route with nothing special going for it, yet it has enough to lure me in. I was satisfied flying with Airlink.

Route: KIM to CPT

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "the airline is comfy"

Review: Phu Quoc to Ho Chi Minh City. Our flight was delayed by 70 mins and this is not for the first time. Otherwise, the airline is comfy, has friendly staff. Really stressful if you have connecting flight that can be missed because of delay.

Route: Phu Quoc to Ho Chi Minh City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Astana

Title: Air Astana customer review

Review: Moscow to Delhi via Almaty. Moscow to Almaty on a new Boeing 767, with personal entertainment screens and mood lighting. Staff accommodating and professional. The meal was delicious with metal cutlery. Wine and beer were complimentary (no spirits on the menu, though), and extras were served with no frowns. IFE was one of the best I experienced, no lag whatsoever. One weird thing was that the screen by design could not be adjusted when the seat in front was reclined, so the viewing angles could be uncomfortable. We were given outstanding amenity kits with neck air pillow, slippers, pen, some hand cream, eye shades and ear plugs. Different coloured kits seemed to have slightly different content, so make sure to collect them all. The crew passed the cabin with drinks several times after the meal service. Seat comfort was okay, nothing outstanding. Almaty to Delhi was on an older A321, with no personal screens. The seats were very comfortable with great seat pitch and traditional "thick" profile of the seats. Cabin crew were lovely and the meal was even better. There were some amenity kits given as well, except a bit smaller ones (which makes sense on a 3 hour daytime flight). You could access their entertainment via your own device and onboard wi-fi for free with no issues, and the selection was impressive, but the lack of power ports meant you will run out of power quite soon. Delhi to Almaty was practically the same as the flight from Almaty to Delhi. For Almaty - Moscow I have made a bet to upgrade on their website (the lowest amount possible), and we were upgraded to business. The flight on a Boeing 767 was wonderful with lie-flat seats, lots of privacy and space, great IFE and pleasant cabin. The cabin crew were very accommodating, greeting us with champagne as a pre-departure drink, and the purser greeted us by name, making sure we had a fantastic flight. Meals were delicious, each course was brought separately. If I could think of any improvement in business class, it would be alcohol menu, because there were just one type of champagne, one type of white and red wine (plus lots of spirits and cocktails). I believe the wine card can and should be improved. Their Bloody Mary was perfect, by the way. Almaty airport is an absolute disaster - it's small, crowded, with nowhere to sit or relax, no decent cafes, everyone is shouting at everyone. Even in business class lounge there is nothing to eat or drink for free, which is just a disgrace. Our luggage made it, and the flights were on time, though. To conclude, I recommend Air Astana, and the economy experience is outstanding, but I will try to fly via Astana next time, since Almaty airport is just so awful.

Route: Moscow to Delhi via Almaty

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Iberia

Title: "really good experience"

Review: I was really looking forward to this flight as I do fly between Madrid and London a lot and Iberia flies also their A330s and even A350 on this route so picking up time to try their A350 was no brainer, Iberia also offers upgrade to business class at check in, you won't get extra miles or extra baggage allowance, but you get full experience, fast track, lounge and of course on board experience. This time it cost 52 Euros, which is a pretty good price and worth paying. I got to airport only 2 hours before as I was busy during the day, checked in my carry on (you can for free) as I was filming this experience as well and went through fast track, which was close at London Heathrow, you only got to skip most of the line. The flight was leaving from Gates C, but there is no lounge there, so I went to BA lounge right after security, which was a bit crowded, but managed to get a seat, got some snack and drink, for hot food you have to use QR code and order online, but didn't have much time as boarding started already. Took me like 15 minutes to get there, but you can board any time using priority lane, unfortunately everyone boarded through one jet bridge, even though there were more doors and it could have been done differently. On board I had seat 3L which was really wide, comfortable and I like that its 1-2-1 so everyone has aisle access which is great, unfortunately my IFE wasn't working so I was moved to 8A which is exactly the same type of seat, most private one which is exactly what I wanted so all good. There is no pillow or blanket on this 2 hours flight which makes sense and no pre departure drink which is lacking a bit. Headphones are good though and I can't complain. Seat in general is very wide and comfortable and I'm sure I would be comfortable to be there for 10 or more hours. Business class passengers also have free Wi-Fi, even though only basic, but better than nothing. Service started around 30-40 minutes and there were two food options, I took a beef and it was good, its served on the tray, but I get that its short flight and for drink I got gin and tonic and coke. Overall happy with service, as for IFE, there are plenty of choices and I'm sure I would have enough things to watch on 10 hours flight. Overall really good experience, just one little thing, crew pretty much always start speaking Spanish and keeps doing it, would be better if they first ask you if you speak Spanish and than try to remember at least for business, I get that economy is too big. Otherwise happy with this airline and A350 is really nice aircraft.

Route: London Heathrow to Madrid

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "no luggage shipped for us"

Review: Not recommended, we are three persons flew from Istanbul to Amman with RJ with first class. When we arrived Amman there was no luggage shipped for us. On the return flight at the same class, no water or juice served.

Route: Istanbul to Amman

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: "trip was uncomfortable even with the upgrade"

Review: Athens to Vienna wasn't too bad but Vienna to Newark was a nightmare. Having to walk down the planes steps in the rain, herded onto a bus (the driver drove recklessly) then having to fight to see our gate # and finally loaded on another bus!? The gate was total chaos. The employees never announced they were boarding and it was a crush to get thru where we had to check in for a 2nd time. The plane trip was uncomfortable even with the upgrade. A totally bad experience.

Route: Athens to Newark via Vienna

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "they are the absolute worst"

Review: I did a trip to South America four years ago, and many of my flights were with LATAM. Let me say as someone who has been to 60 countries and flown at least 100 airlines, they are the absolute worst. You can literally book an early morning flight that you have to have, on Tuesday, four weeks before the trip and by Thursday theyll tell you sorry, we had to reschedule it to a late night flight. Really all they are doing is bumping you for somebody that might be using their SkyMiles. Theyve done that to me three out of five trips. The other two flights they were late, so they are batting 0% for efficiency. Again, I am saying they are the worst out of 100 airlines without exaggeration as someone who has traveled to over 60 countries.

Route: Cali, Colombia to Cartagena, Colombia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "as compensation they upgraded us"

Review: Hong Kong to Okinawa. We arrived at the airport to check in. Tried checking in online and at the airport kiosk and didn't work, we saw the line was rather long so asked their staff whether we should do anything and both told us to stay in line until they call our destination for last minute boarding. We wait until they finally call Okinawa, followed the staff to the express counter, at which point they told us "your flight is closed cos you're late". What's worse is that they tried to pass it off as our fault at the beginning despite us following their instructions. When they did finally rebook us on tomorrow's flight they said "we normally charge customers to rebook but we'll waive it for you" as if they were being generous. In the end they rebooked us on tomorrow's early flight and as compensation they upgraded us. Also gave us two food vouchers for the airport, as if airport food is great. I told them I wanted to be compensated for the taxi rides to the airport, lost hotel night, and lost day of car rental but they can't do anything about it.

Route: Hong Kong to Okinawa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Flynas

Title: "no one was telling us what was going on"

Review: Riyadh to Delhi with Flynas. Our flight was delayed one hour, after the delay we boarded the flight at 9.15 pm, we waited 3 hrs on the flight. I don't know if the problem was the weather but during the 3 hrs we were very bored, no one was telling us what was going on. We were very hungry. After three hours the cabin crew were not answering our questions with any gentleness.

Route: Riyadh to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "Scoot's call centre had a lot of disrupting options"

Review: I sought to change my return dates a few times prior to flying. Went on to "manage booking" but the webpage led to had "internal server error". This was despite several attempts during the few weeks leading up to my flight. At the actual Scoot counter in the airport I was referred to a staff who unconcernedly insisted that all flight changes needed to be done via the call centre. I had to quickly call before to change, and Scoot's call centre had a lot of disrupting options before I was put through. Finally I got the change. If your "manage booking" page is down, kindly be upfront and notify customers to call your line first. Secondly, do fix that page. I had much better airline service in Africa when some flight changes were needed, compared to what I got from Scoot.

Route: Singapore to Ipoh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeromexico

Title: Aeromexico customer review

Review: I used to be the biggest fan of Aeromexico. The staff was amazing - professional, courteous, and very friendly (and still are with the obvious exceptions (mentioned below)). Unfortunately, our recent trip leaves us questioning whether or not we will ever risk using their services again. If you have or have traveled with someone with, a disability, you know how important it is that boarding the aircraft be done in an organized manner. Those that have issues (health, age, children, etc) need that little extra time before regular boarding commences. It's not meant to be a free-for-all. Well, not unless you board your Aeromexico (AM) flight out of the satellite Mexico City airport, NLU (Santa Lucia). NLU is a relatively brand new airport (opened March 2022) and it appears that the AM staff has yet to be trained on basic procedures. We had 2 bad experiences in NLU. The first was flying in on the way to Veracruz and the second was the return trip out. While the first flight was total chaos, we were fortunate enough that several of the gentlemen at the front of the line saw that my husband was an amputee, etc, and immediately waved us to the front. While this was disorganized, it wasn't the mess that the return flight out of NLU was. The second flight, NLU to Guadalajara was a nightmare. There was absolutely no control over the passengers. When it was time to board, there were no zones or even basic pre-boarding. AM had a group of 20-30 who appeared to be traveling together (not young, disabled, etc) who were let on first. We were about halfway in the line. There was no Premier boarding -- one of the benefits that AM promises its passengers who pay a bit more. Nope, it was a cluster eff free-for-all. Oh, silly my. I forgot to mention not only does my 76-year-old amputee husband need the special boarding, but WE WERE also PAYING PREMIER PRICES for the early boarding. We didn't get it. So, we finally get to our seats and watched as there was no control as the passengers boarded. Several economy passengers just casually jammed their stuff in the Premier overhead bins. Result? Hubby had problems with his carry-on (which had his meds) and which came off badly scuffed. Please understand, I realize that space is limited on flights, but if you pay for certain benefits, you should get those benefits. We did not. I wrote to complain and got the standard "too bad, so sad" letter in return. I had asked for compensation. Of course, that's not going to happen. No, I wasn't looking for a free flight or reimbursement of our tickets. As my girl Judge Judy says, "we ate the steak." What I was looking for was a small compensation to acknowledge that they did not deliver as promised. Instead, I got a form letter that any trained lizard could, and did, write. We will look elsewhere in the future and heartily recommend that you do the same.

Route: Veracruz to Guadalajara via Mexico City

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Ethiopian Airlines

Title: "I will not be flying ET again"

Review: Flight from Nairobi to Addis was okay, albeit 40 minutes late landing after having to hold due to bad weather in Addis. Took ages to disembark in Addis as they parked at a remote stand and there seemed to be a shortage of passenger buses. Transit in Addis is always a shambles. Massive queues at the security checkpoint with multiple lanes unmanned and extremely slow screening. Boarding is always chaotic at Bole Airport, especially if the aircraft is at a remote stand and you have to be taken by bus to the aircraft. Took off an hour late for Khartoum and, after an interminable wait for baggage after landing, discovered that the airline had left more than half the passenger baggage in Addis so they could carry more cargo, as evidenced by the dozens of boxes that arrived on the luggage conveyor as compared to very few suitcases. Basically sitting in Khartoum with just the clothes on my back now with absolutely no idea when/if my luggage will actually get here. I will not be flying ET again.

Route: Nairobi to Khartoum via Addis Ababa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "I had the best flight"

Review: Durban to Cape Town. I had the best flight with my 3 kids. Best staff. Was assisted by staff who went out of their way to make sure that our experience was the best. They really are an asset to the company. Everything went smoothly, on time and well organised.

Route: Durban to Cape Town

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: British Airways

Title: "delays and cancellations"

Review: Having experienced delays and cancellations departing from USA to Europe and now a 3.5 hour estimated delay at LHR heading back to USA, I would warn travelers that BA has become unreliable and is now on my Do Not Fly list until they get better organized.

Route: Amsterdam to London

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "there is no consistency with their product"

Review: This was the fourth long haul flight I have taken with Thai Airways in the last three months. I can say there is no consistency with their product. Every flight has been completely different. For example all the other flights you had wine with your meal then a drink afterwards. Although they had wine on the trolley they wouldn't let you have a glass. This time you was allowed a maximum of 2 beers. Which for a 12 hour its rather stringent. I found the flight attendants to be unfriendly and not willing to help. Food quality was ok. Movie choice not great. Still the direct route is convenient.

Route: Bangkok to London Heathrow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Mauritius

Title: "customer service is really poor"

Review: Mauritius to Rodrigues. Horrible service! I sent numerous emails, I phoned the recovery department so many times regarding my flight which happened 3 weeks ago (which was delayed by almost 5 hours). And nobody even had the decency to answer one of these calls / emails! In my opinion the department does not even exist, even the manager is MIA. The only option I have is to call call-centre agents who are not even capable of directing me to the right person, they just pass me through to another department. One of the agents even told me that it's easier for me to go directly to the office in the capital to talk to someone from the department. I wonder why they have phones to begin with. The customer service is really poor! They'll definitely be there to take your money, for the rest, not so much. You definitely won't get anywhere close to what you paid for. Stay away!

Route: Mauritius to Rodrigues

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jet Airways

Title: "service was fine"

Review: Singapore to Delhi. If you have less budget just like me, Jet Airways is the answer. The flight & service was fine. Food is okay, mineral water is only 100ml cup, so we have to ask the cabin crew often. But there no entertainment in flight, you have to instal Jet Airways app on your phone first if you wanna get it.

Route: Singapore to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "ruined my birthday trip"

Review: They pushed my flight back 6 times & told all the guest they could get on the next flight in the morning . Left me having to spend the night at a hotel (pay out of pocket) Come back the next morning and they pushed the flight time back 3-4 times before I had to book another flight with another company. Then all they would say is We can get you on our next flight which was like 2-3 days later. I ended up having to fly to Tennessee & find a ride to Alabama because no flights were going to Alabama that day. Missed work, ruined my birthday trip & I ended up spending $300+ on a last minute one way ticket to get home & a 2 hour drive from Nashville at midnight. The only thing they are offering is $100 towards the room which was $145. Then it takes 3-4 months to get that back.

Route: Fort Lauderdale to Huntsville

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: "The worst I have ever tried"

Review: The worst I have ever tried. The food was very cold, airplane was not clean, they lost my luggage, when they found it they did not offer any delivery, instead asking me to come back to the airport in Amman while I live in Palestine. You will not be able to talk to any human being their chat system is useless they do not answer any call.

Route: Vienna to Amman

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: TAR Aerolineas

Title: "excellent service and attitude"

Review: Leon Bajio to Puerto Vallarta. Punctual airline. Small plane but comfortable for a 50 minute flight and very clean. Excellent service and good attitude of ground staff and flight attendants. They offer you a small snack on board, free of cost. The check in process at the airport was quick because the airplane has a 50 passenger capacity.

Route: Leon Bajio to Puerto Vallarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: PLAY

Title: "Rated highly, especially for value"

Review: Rated highly, especially for value. Flew twice, Boston to Reykjavik then return in January 2023. No issues with plane, weather, delays, staff. Inconsistencies to note: 1) on flight into KEF the seat/legroom was uncomfortable in middle seat (I am of above average height/weight), but return flight to BOS appeared to have more legroom and was very comfortable. 2) arrival into KEF disembarked into a climate-controlled gangway attached to the terminal, but departure from KEF included a bus ride on tarmac and onboarding outside to include climbing stairs into plane.

Route: Reykjavik to Boston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Belavia

Title: "think twice before booking Belavia"

Review: Covid, . N 624. Belavia . My wife travelling on transit Belavia flights via Minsk was just not allowed to exit the airport, even with negative Covid test, so has to sleep in the airport tonight. This is in a contraction with the resolution N 624, regulating border control during pandemic period. So think twice before booking Belavia tickets via Minsk.

Route: London to Minsk

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Vistara

Title: "don't travel on Vistara"

Review: London to Kochi via Delhi. Unless you have money to waste or want to be treated like a freeloader don't travel on Vistara. The staff both on ground and in flight treat the passengers like they are travelling for free. There is absolutely no respect given. On top of this the operations are terrible to say the least. The gates at Heathrow were announced 15 minutes before the gates closed. Considering the size of the airport it was highly inconvenient. The flights neither take off nor land in time. Our flight was supposed to depart from Delhi airport at 15:55 as per their boarding pass. But they called us to check our baggage for something at around 1545 even though the luggage was cleared at Heathrow airport and Delhi customs. They made us wait for absolutely no reason for almost half an hour. We had to run back to the boarding gate so that we don't miss our flight. For the price we pay the service is pathetic to say the least. The staff who are hardly exist around the airport are so arrogant and rude. I would rather walk for a day or 2 than fly in a one hour flight of Vistara.

Route: London to Kochi via Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Norse Atlantic Airways

Title: "7 hour delay while already boarded"

Review: 7 hour delay while already boarded. They left us in our seats on the runway the entire time and wouldnt serve any food or drink until the aircraft is in the air - which is never was, the flight was cancelled after 7 pointless hours on the tarmac. The staff were rude and gave us very little information. When we asked what we should do about missing a connecting flight due to the delay, they said next time book a longer connection between flights. Worst airline experience of my life.

Route: Los Angeles to London via New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Malindo Air

Title: "2 months and still no refund"

Review: Last minute Malindo Cancelled Flight from Lahore to Kuala Lumpur without giving any proper explanation. No local customer service phone number in Pakistan, so I called international phone number in Malaysia to reschedule but I was told that all Malindo flights from Lahore were cancelled for the whole month of July. I could not wait that long and due to last minute re-purchase ticket, I had to buy very expensive ticket for almost double price with another airline. I requested refund for the tickets with Malindo on June 30th, 2019 (had to do online, no phone request accepted). Since then I have been chasing via email and phone, till today (August 14, 2019) no refund issued despite several emails and phone calls. I again called today to Malaysia office and I was told it is still being processed and will take 2 more weeks. Initially I was told and it is also listed on website that refund processed within 30 days. It is going to be 2 months and still no refund. When I asked the amount, they told me only basic ticket price is being refund and not the additional payment I made for seats. What is rip off! I am very frustrated and the worse experience ever I had. I will never ever travel Malindo Airline again.

Route: Lahore to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "the worst airline ever"

Review: Easily the worst airline ever. Maybe it was some kind of joke to switch my seat so that a 2 meter tall guy would sit in the smallest seat on the plane? I didn't notice it when I got the ticket and they couldn't fix it afterwards. I wish I never had to fly with WizzAir again. Even 1/10 would be too high for such service.

Route: Kutaisi to Berlin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Airways

Title: "the worst airline I have ever flown"

Review: This was the worst airline I have ever flown with. Not even worth the cheap flights. Wanted to do something nice for our honeymoon and we ended up stuck in Bali with none of our luggage and no one knew where it was. Two days later it showed up at our hotel with no notice of its details. We tried to get in contact for compensation and they refuse to email us back and assist us for our troubles. On our flight back to the United States, there was no communication telling us we needed Australian visas for our layover. We spent another hour and a half at the customer service desk. Because of our layover in Sydney, they are making us claim our bags in the Sydney Airport and then pay another big amount to recheck our bags in to fly to Honolulu. This airline is a scam. Dont fly with them. They lack integrity and honesty and will do everything they can to screw you out of a dollar.

Route: Denpasar to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "like a budget long haul flight"

Review: First flight was poor, seat backs were like bricks, no food, no viewing screens. 3 hr flight. Second flight had a problem so had to get off the plane and wait on another. 1st plane seat was good but when seated back on new aircraft same seat number it turned out to be a seat with no seat in front, good some would say for leg room but the tray table did not fold and as I'm a large guy could not get it down. There was no headphone for the screen which seemed odd. The original girl beside me had switched with her husband and he being a large guy as well made the flight awkward. He was much larger than me. The best is the food. Piece of chicken with cauliflower and spinach. Not nice at all with a tiny bread bun. Salad bowl thing which I passed on and a chocolate wafer bar. Poor offerings and not plentiful at all. Landing was only an hour late so no worries but before we landed at 5.30 pm we were given a small box contain 2 wet hash browns and a few mushrooms with an omelette on more spinach. Breakfast. The seats were fine, the staff were nice but I really think this was like a budget long haul flight. And I will not be flying with them again until people start raving about how good they are. One more thing, Dublin had 2 of the worst and slowest check in staff out of 3, appalling how they did not show any interest in being professional.

Route: Dublin to Bangkok via Helsinki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "Absolute worst airline experience"

Review: Absolute worst airline experience I've ever had. Our flight was delayed 5 hours. We were told it was because the incoming flight from Las Vegas was delayed. When our plane arrived at LAX JetBlue used that plane to accommodate another flight that was on time. Since our flight was delayed they pushed us back hour after hour with no help or announcements from customer service. Anytime we asked for help we were told there's nothing they can do and they had no idea when we would take off. We still haven't even boarded or been updated in hours so we're at a 5 hour delay and counting. Completely unacceptable and unprofessional. I was told this was a good airline to fly yet every other airline I've ever flown has treated their customers far better than this.

Route: Los Angeles to Reno

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "best ANA flight attendant service"

Review: Jakarta to Tokyo Narita. I love ANA, is the best airline in the world. The best ANA flight attendant service and very helpful. I want to fly to Japan using All Nippon Airways again.

Route: Jakarta to Tokyo Narita

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Caribbean Airlines

Title: "went above and beyond"

Review: Staff was very helpful, did not have a acceptance pass to enter my home land of Trinidad and Tobago after traveling 200 miles from Boston MA for a funeral my mon and brothers was stuck missing one acceptance letter and not being able to board due to the letter Mr. Willcott at the ticket center went above and beyond and helped find the missing travel pass. He made things happen for us.

Route: New York to Trinidad and Tobago

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Aer Lingus

Title: "terrible customer service"

Review: Delayed bags and terrible customer service. First and last time I will ever fly Aer Lingus. Medications in the bag theyve supposedly been out for delivery for two days but nobody can give me any real information because the folks are in call centers in Asia. Im solo traveling I dont have my medication Im supposed to check out today and take a train to another country so now I dont know whether to spend my own money to stay wait for my bag of course getting refunds for any of this is probably going to be impossible. Do yourself a favor learn from my mistake and spend more for a better airline

Route: Chicago to Amsterdam via Dublin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "very helpful flight attendant"

Review: We travelled Toronto to Varadero with Air Canada rouge in late August and very pleased: the on-time departure, flight crew service, food served / purchased, very comfortable, not as cold as we have experienced with other airlines. Karim and Cassandra were very helpful flight attendant. We will chose this airline in our future travel. Thank you.

Route: Toronto to Varadero

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Sky Airline

Title: "a great experience"

Review: Nice travel. We had a great experience with Sky Airline from Buenos Aires to Santiago. The only thing I can say is that they could offer a snack with the drinks. The seats were comfortable. In general it was good!

Route: EZE to SCL

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Japan Airlines

Title: "staff very attentive"

Review: Lots to like about this flight but are few negative points. The good: Great value as purchased 9 months in advance and travel was at Easter, excellent check-in, lounge given OW Status, boarding was efficient and on time departure. Midnight departure so snack bag and water given less than 10 mins after seat belt sign off letting everyone get to sleep. Minimal announcements and big breakfast served 2.5 hours before arrival. Leg room great, toilets always clean, staff very attentive. The Improvements: Seat base is thin and while leg room great I found the seat thin and uncomfortable, Toilets, 3 shared amongst 150 economy and Premium economy pax, so while clean there was always a line. Movie range was a bit limited, great system but minimal new movies. Overall still a great way to get to Japan from Melbourne, leave at midnight and arrive at 9am, no time lost. WiFi while active was never strong enough to do anything.

Route: Melbourne to Narita

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Oman Air

Title: "Boeing 787 was comfortable"

Review: Manchester to Colombo via Muscat. I was not impressed with the on-line checkin experience. I was given error messages suggesting I try later, and this was the only advice given when I telephoned them. Eventually I tried with Chrome instead of Firefox and everything worked: however, you cannot check in online unless you choose and pay for a seat (and if you are willing to pay to reserve a seat you can do that as soon as you have bought your ticket). So I checked in at a desk at the airport: I was not asked to pay anything but was not given a choice of seat. (I was given a window seat for the first sector; an aisle seat for the second leg, but both of these were towards the rear of the aircraft.) The lounge provided for premium class passengers at Manchester is only the Aspire lounge, which is OK but pretty basic. Food for the Manchester to Muscat sector was generous and acceptable (apart from a horrible sausage roll for breakfast!), but somewhat lacking in flavour. Service was incredibly slow: I think I began eating my supper at around 11 at night (departure time scheduled for 20.05). One poor woman was desperate for the toilet but the food trolley would not let her get past for a prolonged period. On the Muscat to Colombo sector we were served a spicy and delicious fish curry, but the woman next to me could not tolerate the spices and there was no alternative (we were near the rear and all the vegetarian lunches had been given out already). The real star was the inflight entertainment: a broad selection of intelligent films from Europe; Iran and other cultures, many of which were recent releases. There were also TV series and Hollywood or Bollywood rubbish for those so inclined, as well as a wide range of interesting music. (Unfortunately the listening conditions with the roar of the engines made musical appreciation impossible, even using my own noise-cancelling headphones. The earphones provided in economy were of good quality but obviously not noise-cancelling.) Oh: the coffee was very sad. Maybe it is time that some Middle Eastern airlines shared this aspect of their culture with all their passengers. My seat on the Boeing 787 was comfortable, with just enough space. On the 737 I was rather cramped, even in an aisle seat (and I am not particularly large).

Route: Manchester to Colombo via Muscat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "get ready to face some surprises"

Review: Airline don't care about passengers luggage, you can see my luggage pictures attached. This was brand new luggage, only 10 days old. When I checked in there was not a single spot on the bag and when received my luggage in Amritsar it was hard for me to recognize my luggage, it was full of oil stains and very dirty. More over when I tried to complain to the Go First staff, instead admitting and finding the solution they were telling me, this is not happened by them and can't do anything. This is not oil stains and we don't know how and where your luggage get messed up. I told them you check any footage you can find there was nothing wrong with my luggage but all that was wastage of time. I have decided, will never travel again in this airline and I will suggest every one else before you book on this airline get ready to face some surprises.

Route: Amritsar to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Viva Air

Title: "it's just really dishonest"

Review: In terms of the actual flying experience, the planes themselves are relatively new (at least the ones I flew in), I found there to be sufficient legroom, they were very clean and even comfortable. They tended to arrive and depart on time and there were minimal disruptions here. The problem lies within: 1) Booking anything on the website and; 2) Making any small misstep along your journey. I work in digital design and UX and like to think of myself as quite adept when it comes to booking flights online, either on my laptop or mobile. Until I needed to book flights with Vivaair. It works by automatically sticking on all these little extras through their "Combo++" packages, confuses you to the point where you don't know what you have paid for (they have these three packages which come pre-selected, or you can handpick your extras, and oftentimes "inadvertently" making you double up). I had to start again many times over, as it just became so convoluted - obviously intentionally designed to confuse you. Vivaair's booking system is at best misleading (not to mention unethical) and makes Ryanair's website seem like a walk in the park. I just hate to think of the number of people it has conned out of their money this way which I'm sure is part of their business model. 2. So maybe this was partially my fault, I'm not sure. On one occasion I had to pay a proportionately hefty penalty for not having checked-in online and doing this at the airport instead. Fair enough. The second, was when at the time of my booking, I selected check-in luggage instead of extra carry-on luggage and paid a premium for this (my luggage was actually just a standard carry-on sized suitcase, I just had a backpack on me as well). On the day I arrived quite early to the gate. The staff at the desk here (who I struggled to communicate with in Spanish or English) made me aware that there was an issue, as I had not checked-in my bag. He said he would come back and rectify this for me (to which I was oblivious at the time), as he gestured for me to sit down. He, of course, never returned, and I was forced to pay £60 for this misdemeanour (this is in Colombia, mind you.). I would have been ok to pay a small fee as it was a misunderstanding on my part .. but £60 is enough to pay for one night at a very good hotel in the capital. Finally, one of my flights was cancelled from Lima to Bogota due to the COVID-19 crisis and government borders closing down. Vivaair sent me an email to say that this flight was cancelled (as expected), as Peru had already shut down all air traffic. Once I was back in London, I spoke to one of the customer service agents via their chat service about requesting a refund for this cancelled flight. The response I received was from their agent was "Sorry refunds aren't allowed. Any flights can('t) be refunded, besides the flight was not cancel(ed) by the airline, it was cancelled by the airport". Not to mention that I had to reconnect to the chat so many times, as the moment it takes you to the front of the queue, it gives you a mere few seconds until you are automatically disconnected sent to the back of the line. All in all, I now know why I was warned against this airline - it's just really dishonest and should really be called up on it.

Route: Medellin to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: Royal Brunei Airlines customer review

Review: FAs address customers by name, very attentive service, meals tasty and plentiful and more food was available on request. Seats flat recline and pillows and duvets supplied. The IFE was not as expansive as other carriers but it is acceptable. Boeing 787 is noisier than the A380, but not the airlines fault. Would use again.

Route: LHR to MEL via Brunei

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "Pleasantly surprised"

Review: Pleasantly surprised. Hadnt heard of the airline before - chose as it was a direct flight. Seating in economy was fine. Inflight entertainment, although the interface was slow had a couple of films Id not seen. The food was surprisingly good! Serviced with metal (not plastic) cutlery. Made the journey more enjoyable. One of the basins in the loos became blocked - staff addressed this as soon as they were aware. Cabin temperature was fine

Route: London to Hanoi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "Outrageous customer service"

Review: We booked for a 3 week vacation. After 6 days at resort we received an email telling us we had to come home at the end of 2 weeks with a full refund for 1 week hotel accommodation credited to our credit card. Several emails and phone calls and no response to either myself or my travel agent. We have been home for 10 weeks. Outrageous customer service. Right now not certain will use again! Especially after they changed our departure airport from London to Toronto and only offer take it or leave it offer. Cost us extra money for Hotel and food both for departure and arrival. Plus: hour drive both ways and we are Seniors.

Route: Toronto to Cancun

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Citilink

Title: "compensated the passengers"

Review: My flight was supposed to be at 20.05 from Denpasar to Jakarta. At around 18.30, I received a text message from Citilink saying that my flight is delayed to 21.50. At the airport, when I asked the staff about the delayed time, they seemed clueless. It was rather confusing, since the boarding pass and information board showed the flight time at 20.05. After not receiving any news from the staff or from the information board, at 21.50 they announced that the flight is being delayed again for another 3 hours. Citilink compensated the passengers with food and ISD23.

Route: DPS to CGK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Delta Air Lines

Title: "excellent customer service"

Review: I am currently on a flight, lost my headphones (Bose headphones, gift from wife), and a flight attendant was on her hands and knees looking for it while 36,000 feet above sea level (Laura flight 837). Needless to say, her efforts paid off as she found my headphones under a seat three rows in front of me. This is excellent customer service, and they have gained a forever customer. This may seem insignificant to some, but these headphones have sentimental value to me since I am a soldier who travels often, and my wife purchased these for me on our 13th year anniversary. Thank you Laura, and thank you Delta for hiring such a wonderful staff.

Route: Baltimore to Honolulu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Airnorth

Title: "Horrible customer service"

Review: Horrible customer service, double charged and have now been unreachable and not returning any e-mails or calls for months. Pure garbage. The only way they are still operational is they have a monopoly on remote access.

Route: Maningrida to Darwin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Canada

Title: "lost both of our strollers"

Review: We were flying from Ottawa to Florida and lost both of our strollers. We had to pay for rental strollers everyday at Disney and when we came back we submit our claim online & they offer to give us 25% off on our next flight. We refused the offer and asked for money toward our new strollers. They denied our offer and said now you dont get the 25% off either and the case is closed. We flew with air Canada all these years but from now on we will never fly with Air Canada or recommend to anyone anymore.

Route: Ottawa to Florida via Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Mauritius

Title: "Air Mauritius flight was awful"

Review: This Air Mauritius flight was awful. There is very limited leg room due to a metal box taking up most of the available leg room beneath the seat in front. Impossible to get remotely comfortable on the flight. No sleep was had due to very uncomfortable seats and constant cabin announcements. Badly designed and old plane. Inflight entertainment system poor. Service poor. Food awful. What a shame as we love Mauritius but with no option but to fly from Perth via Air Mauritius, we will not be returning until they have upgraded aircraft. Or perhaps there is another direct carrier.

Route: Perth to Mauritius

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Bulgaria Air

Title: "never again Bulgaria Air"

Review: Never again I will book Bulgaria Air. We booked in October 2015 7 tickets to fly the 1st June 2016 to Sofia for a citytrip. They already changed a few times the hours of the flight. The return was to be in the evening and now they changed it to 6am in the morning. And last week they changed the depart from 9am in the morning to 20.25 in the evening. So we lose 2 days of our city trip. Never again!

Route: BRU to SOF

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Uganda Airlines

Title: "experience wasnt that as I expected"

Review: I used Uganda Airlines to travel to Dubai but the experience wasnt that as I expected. Many customers dont comply with rules on a plane, talking loudly, they change seat to seat, their hand language with plastic bags everywhere. The rest where fine, the crew, service, food, safe flight.

Route: Entebbe to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SilkAir

Title: SilkAir customer review

Review: The outbound flight from COK was on time and the crew were tolerant to us even though we were a bit late to get to the gate. The crew were friendly and the food was okay (had ordered an avml meal). The boeing sky interior was fantastic. The leg space was a bit small. Im around 6 foot and I was cramped. The crew were friendly and pleasant. The toilet was clean too. However I can't believe that they have no personal IFE screens and no headphones were provided either. I spent the 4 hour journey reading and sleeping. The inbound flight was pretty much the same as the the outbound but the seats were quite worn out. The worst thing was the food.

Route: COK to SIN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jet Airways

Title: "never use it again"

Review: I booked my ticket and received an email saying that the flight cancelled and need change the flight for onward journey. Then I had to change my coach by paying £12 extra. After my onward journey they send another email that my return flight cancelled from Cochin to London and they have no option for me. They said they will pay half of the price and cancelled my ticket. I paid £293 for my return journey with other airline and paid another £15 for change coach. Total I paid £320 extra and today jet Airways send me an email saying they will pay me only £140 . I lost £180 for their faults. I am an Etihad silver card member always use jet Airways but never use it again. They show cheap price and later make you pay more.

Route: Mumbai to Cochin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Batik Air

Title: "food was just edible"

Review: Perth to Denpasar. Checkin at Perth airport was fast and friendly. Business class passengers are invited to use the Qantas Lounge. A simple breakfast was available. Boarding called after the Queues had reduced so no waiting. On boarding friendly welcome but not shown to seat. Offered pre-takeoff juice. Departure was on time. After seat belt sign turned off, blankets and Sony headsets were offered for entertainment and meal service commenced choice of vegetables with rice or chicken with rice. Tray was presented with cut fresh fruit chocolate cake hot meal and a glass of water, metal cutlery provided, food was just edible. No coffee or tea service, apparently no milk available on board anyway. Meal trays were cleared away quickly. No further service offered. Entertainment was ok 18 English language movies plus a number of foreign language movies. Could not access music. No alcohol offered and not available only water juice and Pepsi were available. Call bells were answered in seconds, crew were smiling but not engaging. Indonesian arrival forms only provided after being asked. Seat comfort was excellent and although not lie flat the seat was fully adjustable. Arrival on time. Remote stand used a private mini bus for business class to terminal. Arrival formalities completed quickly and luggage appeared around half an hour after landing. Batik Air although marketed as full service and clearly they are not. They are priced lower than the other Indonesian carrier operating the same route.

Route: Perth to Denpasar

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: LOT Polish Airlines

Title: "The cabin crew were courteous and helpful"

Review: I always look forward to flying LOT Polish Airlines. I know I can count on the great service. Food is always tasty as well. My last experience was as expected, great. From the time we stepped on the plane to the moment we stepped off. The cabin crew were courteous and helpful. They were patient and ready to offer assistance to all passengers. It was another great experience. Thank you LOT for providing great service and taking care of your internal and external customers.

Route: Toronto to Warsaw

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: China Southern Airlines

Title: "Very attentive staff at airport"

Review: Very attentive staff at airport check in and the cabin staff. Exceptionally clean surroundings and up to date equipment for entertainment etc. Meal service was polite and quick with plenty of good, tasty food. I would happily fly this airline again and recommend it. I would like to thank the airport information worker who gave me vital information and advice about necessary travel preparations, and PRC test requirements before my journey, without her support, it would have been very stressful days.

Route: Guangzhou to Auckland

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "did nothing to compensate the loss"

Review: I paid for a reservation of a specific seat and they confirmed with my online ticket. After arriving at the airport i received a ticket for a different seat. After approaching the staff about this, he pretty much told me that this is my problem and he wasn't going to do anything about it. Once again it was a paid seat and they did nothing to compensate the loss for me.

Route: Vienna to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "a huge step above the economy class seats"

Review: Hong Kong's strict quarantine procedure has been lifted and flights between Hong Kong and America are resuming gradually, so me and my family decided to fly to New York for vacation. Cathay Pacific was extremely thorough with its check-in procedures. At the beginning, all passengers will have to line up to have their body temperature checked before being able to get into one of the baggage check-in isles. I was flying premium economy and I had to stay with the economy class line. Fortunately thanks to the world class efficiency of the Cathay Pacific baggage check-in staffs, I did not have to wait too turn to have my turn. Check-in staff has kindly asked to check all my identifications and itinerary. Despite I was flying premium economy class, I was able to access and enjoy the Cathay Lounge in Hong Kong with my credit card. The lounge is simply top notch. Boarding was on schedule. There was a slight but acceptable waiting time at the taxiway due to the traffic. The flight was operated with a B777-300 with 34 seats in premium economy class configured 2x4x2. Half of the seats were occupied. On boarding I was offered a drink and asked for the specifically non-alcoholic mixed drink that Cathay Pacific always offers. In addition to that, the cabin crew also offered me a hot towel to clean up my hands before enjoying the welcome drink and all the facilities around my seat. A care kit was at each seat with a disposable mask and a few sheets of antiseptic wipes. The Cathay Pacific premium economy class seats are quite well designed to take advantage of the available space. It was surprisingly comfortable and a huge step above the economy class seats. For those who want a little more seat comfort, you should pay the extra bucks for upgrading to the premium economy seats! I have been flying Cathay Pacific for many years and I have seen the ranking of Cathay Pacific has been dropping significantly and people were talking about the deterioration of the service and cabin quality as opposed to other Asian airline counterparts. It was sad to hear because my satisfactory experience with Cathay Pacific has always been consistent and I don't notice any deterioration of the service and cabin quality. Cathay Pacific definitely deserves better. Last but not least, I recommend everyone to fly with Cathay Pacific Airways, whether long haul or short haul flight. I'm sure you will enjoy single moment of it. Thank you!

Route: Hong Kong to New York

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Volotea

Title: Volotea customer review

Review: I have always had a very good experience without delays and good experience on board. The megavolotea membership offers other advantages such as being able to carry the suitcase in the cabin, lowest prices. Regarding the experience on board, they offer music, series, movies, and books on the plane's internal network and this makes the trip much more enjoyable.

Route: Asturias to Valencia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "Crew were friendly and efficient"

Review: Excellent flights between Johannesburg and Mauritius. We paid for extra legroom (which was worth the money as normal seats are quite cramped). Both flights left on time and arrived slightly ahead of schedule. Crew were friendly and efficient and we were even provided with a box of food which was unexpected.

Route: Johannesburg to Mauritius

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Akasa Air

Title: "customer support is not good"

Review: Never try this airline. Akasa Air ground staff and customer support is not good. No one can help in airport. My life bad experience in this airline. Everyone just blamed to other..no one help. I have no words for this airline how can describe my problem here. It almost three months completed but at the moment no one help me.

Route: Ahmedabad to Bangalore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: easyJet

Title: "cancelled less than 1 hour before"

Review: Our flight from Geneva to Brussels on 28 august was cancelled less than 1 hour before flying, without giving a reason. We were asked through the airport speakers to find a hotel. No assistance or clarification available. No contingency whatsoever. We needed to purchase new tickets from Swiss for over 600 euro to get home the next day. Reimbursement, if any, is limited on their flyer to be maximum 220 euro. No news yet after one month. No help, no assistance through their UK help line. This is a joke. EasyJet treated us worse than cattle.

Route: Geneva to Brussels

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "Avoid if you can"

Review: Prague to Gatwick. I will strongly recommend not to use this airline, I went with them to Prague and back. Going in to Prague they told me there is not enough space for me to fly as they oversold the tickets and they lost several passengers bags. Luckily someone didnt show up so I could fly. I have paid and booked the flight weeks before. On the way back flight was delayed, no explanation to what why etc, I have lost my connection home and staff said its a shame no sorry etc. Avoid if you can.

Route: Prague to Gatwick

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "being waiting on hold for online"

Review: I made my reservation online couples of weeks ago. I need to confirm everything before I leave on the 28th because I am leaving from Montreal and do not wish to make the trip without making sure that all is good. And also have some questions regarding luggage and prices. because on the website it says that the 3rd piece of luggage would be 235$. I understand the 1 being 35, 2nd being 65$ but the 3rd one being 235$ is a bit tough. I have being waiting on hold for online for 42hrs already for the past 3 days with no answer and a very very irritating horrible music. I have tried the chat yesterday Oct 18th where I waited almost 2 hours to the point that I forgot about and when about doing my stuff ... someone answered but I wasn't there so I missed it. I have to say that the airlines are taking for granted that people want to travel but, eventually we will get fed up with the bad services.

Route: Montreal to Puerto Plata via Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SATA Air Azores

Title: "refuse to give compensation"

Review: Terceira to Lisbon, cancel the flight and refuse to give compensation according to EU law. They refuse to take responsibility and lie to you. Perfect example how an airline should not be run.

Route: Terceira to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Laudamotion

Title: "put my luggage under the seat"

Review: I want to complain about our Flight from Wien to Amman which was late about 30 minutes, but that wasn't that bad. But my main complain is about our flight from Amman do Wien from 23.2.19 departing time at 17:25. This plane was late almost 2 hours. When we boarded I didn't have place where to place my luggage because people placed small bags in storage place where big luggage should go. After we tried to talk to the crew to help us with that, and where we should give our luggage. She just said "I don't know, give it wherever you want." It's her job to help with that! I had to put my luggage under the seat. I don't expect them to serve champagne or something, but basic services like assisting when experiencing problems onboard should be standard!

Route: Amman to Vienna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Pegasus Airlines

Title: "They ruined my entire vacation"

Review: The worst airline in the world. 2 weeks ago I was flying with them, my luggage was lost. I had in my luggage the medications necessary for my life because I'm chronically ill. Moreover, in my suitcase I had the things necessary for my work, because of their lack, I incur material losses. They ignore e-mails. I've been calling them for a week, they expose me to the costs of making calls abroad. My suitcase still hasn't arrived, although they promised to send it 72 hours after it went missing and arrive at the hotel within the next 2 days. 16 days have passed and the suitcases are still gone. They ruined my entire vacation!

Route: Sweden to Turkey

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Fly540.com

Title: "flights reasonably on time"

Review: 2 short flights Nairobi - Eldoret return, in a modern newish jet. Flights reasonably on time, and comfortable.

Satisfactory ground staff and flight crew for low cost airline. Soft drink and biscuits served.

Route: Nairobi to Eldoret

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Pegasus Airlines

Title: "I did not need a pet passport"

Review: They told me I cannot enter the plane with my pet even though I confirmed with their airline prior to the flight and with a vet which papers I would need. It even says on their website that I did not need a pet passport, that only flights to the EU require this. They admitted it was wrong, but they didn't do anything about it. No refund or anything. I had to speak to 10 employees and all of them were unprofessional and rude.

Route: Istanbul to Hurghada

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jet2.com

Title: "Catastrophic experience"

Review: Manchester to Faro. Catastrophic experience. Loud and ice cold Cabin. Arrogant and rude staff. Left 45 min too late. Arrived late therefore too. Food had no taste. Drinks expensive. Seats stiff and hard. Not able to recline. No leg room. Total waste.

Route: Manchester to Faro

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SriLankan Airlines

Title: "the cabin lights didn't dim"

Review: I was very tired and i was expecting to sleep during the flight, unfortunately i can't sleep because the cabin lights didn't dim throughout the flight and the cabin crew selling the alcohol in the middle of the flight which is very noisy. Also passengers keep gathering and talking in very loud voice. 1 hour before landing i was felt so thirsty and I contact the cabin crew from my seat more than 5 times, but no one approached me till we landing.

Route: Kuwait to Jakarta via Colombo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jeju Air

Title: "try and avoid this company"

Review: Macau to Seoul as a long holiday trip around Asia. I don't make airline reviews a lot, but I must do it for Jeju Air because of it's terrible customer service ever seen. Starting from a long check in with only some Jeju Air customer representative are visible at Macau Airport. Our flight was delay with no explanation from the airport which was making itself a 2 hour delay. As Jeju Air is a budget airline, you must pay for everything including changing seat, but then we boarded an old plane for an uncomfortable 3 hours and 30 minutes flight to South Korea. Overall for this flight include seat was broken, legroom uncomfortable, no free food and drinks and nothing. The only positive thing was their onboard staff which was friendly. But please try and avoid this company to avoid disappointment and fly an alternative airline if possible.

Route: Macau to Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Iberia Express

Title: "missed my connection in Paris"

Review: My flight was originally on Delta from Salt Lake City to Madrid for both business and pleasure. Due to Delta leaving 3.5 hours late I missed my connection in Paris and as all the Delta Partner flights were booked going down to Madrid that evening they put me on an Iberia flight. This gave me a 4 hour layover or so in Paris so you would think my luggage would have arrived. It didn't. I figured it would show up a day or so later because how do you lose luggage for longer than that and I made the mistake of only making only one pair of underclothes and two shirts in my backpack. As the days progressed with no luggage I was told by Iberia to hold onto my receipts for reimbursement as I had to by clothes I could wear for my conference, makeup and some clothes for the vacation portion of my trip. I didn't go wild. Finally, on the 9th day of no luggage they contacted me to say it was found and now in Madrid. That didn't help as I was in Barcelona. I instructed them to send it to my home in Utah to which they told me they would send me the shipping information. They never did. Three days later there was a knock at my door at 4:50 a.m. that freaked me out because I wasn't expecting anyone. It ended up being my luggage. Luckily, it was all there. Unfortunately, the story doesn't end there. When the Iberia representative told me to hang onto my receipts he gave me an email address to send all my documentation. I did so knowing that reimbursement could take up to 30 days. After 3 weeks of radio silence from Iberia I contacted them to check the status and they said they never received my paperwork! They gave me a new email address and I resubmitted again. This time I saw emails from them saying they were processing and I could expect a check in approximately 30 days. Fast forward to this week. At day 36 I called them and was told that they couldn't help me. That I would need to lodge a complaint through their website. I immediately did and received an email that said it could take up to 21 days to respond. When I got home that day there was a check in the mail for less than half of the amount submitted. I've since contacted them without response. The customer service of this airline is unbelievably horrible! As Iberia was the airline I last flew with when the luggage went missing, according to airline regulations they are responsible for whatever happens to it.

Route: Paris to Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Tigerair Australia

Title: "include handbags for weighing"

Review: Brisbane to Adelaide. Put my luggage on the scale at home before leaving it was 7.3kg thought they would consider a bit of excess, was shocked when the crew put it on the scale it was 8kg. They also include handbags for weighing. Never seen anything like this. Worst experience my wife and I ever had. We have to pay $90 and have to bring along our luggage with us.

Route: Brisbane to Adelaide

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thai Smile Airways

Title: "Excellent full service"

Review: Excellent full service, including light meals on board. Comfortable seat. Nice and friendly staff with enthusiasm. Appropriate time schedule and destination.

Route: Bangkok to Khon Kaen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Caribbean Airlines

Title: "staff was excellent"

Review: My flight from Miami to Port of Spain with Caribbean Airlines was the most comfortable, staff was excellent the attendant was brilliant. With service like that you can never ask more. I can give thumbs up to that staff. Thanks for everything.

Route: MIA to POS

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Spirit Airlines

Title: "the customer service was abysmal"

Review: When you have a line of people entering a plane all saying, I will never fly Spirit again, you know you have a problem. The staff was SO incredibly rude. From check in to boarding, the customer service was abysmal. Our reservation had a carry on and checked bag. At check in, the attendants were determined to make our lives hell. We spent $90 per bag to check in. The attendant told us we could have saved money if we vacuum sealed our clothes inside our bags, and she plans to make a TikTok of tips and tricks to save money on spirit. Then the same attendants were at boarding. They made me zone 1 and my friends ticket zone 4, after we spent $180 to bring our bags with us, and checked in together on the same reservation. We didnt realize this when we started to board. They allowed some people on one reservation board together, but not us! They pulled my friend out of the line then told her she would need to spend $100 more if she didnt put her wristlet inside her carry on. While that happened, they told me I wasnt allowed to wait for her. You think youre getting a deal. Some info they dont tell you- a checked bag is 40 lbs, not the usual 50. A carry on is $80 and a checked bag is $89. It is $20 minimum to secure a seat. Extra charge to use the Wi-Fi. No TVs. No leg room (and Im 5 feet tall). Never again. Id rather walk.

Route: Nashville to Newark

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "Why should we feel hungry on such a long flight?"

Review:

I remember that we were very satisfied with this airline until a few years ago. But now it has been 3 times that we are very dissatisfied with the quality of food and the number of times served on a long flight! Why should we feel hungry on such a long flight and when we asked for food, they only give a small packet of crackers and we have to wait for several hours until it is time to serve their disgusting food? It was not like that before, that's why we surprised!

Route: Dubai to Brisbane

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Ethiopian Airlines

Title: "flight time is good"

Review: The flight time is good. It leaves on time at 00:20 hrs in the morning and reaches Mumbai by 08: 00 am. Thereby passengers can have a good sleep after the dinner. The service is good except that the air hostess after dinner vanishes and arrives for cleaning up the leftovers just half an hour before landing and they do not have time to attend to passengers. Many passengers after waking up from sleep require a cup of water. It will be nice if an hour before landing the passengers are served with water.

Route: Addis Ababa to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: easyJet

Title: "Worst airline I used so far"

Review: At first, the ground crew manager came up to the passengers asking for volunteers to change to another flight (they would fly to Santiago de Compostela instead, and have a bus waiting for them to take them to Porto, and all they offered was a 500 compensation, which is much less than what they should actually have to pay every passenger if no one took the offer and they had to refuse entry to passengers) as they mismanaged and overbooked this flight (even though they kept insisting on that it was an aircraft issue and they had to use a smaller one, while the people at the check in desks said clearly that it was overbooked). After that, the boarding process took ages, as some people had their passes invalidated due to the mentioned overbooking issue, meaning their seats (mine included) were unavailable. What's funny about this is that even people in rows as low as 10-15 or so had their seats invalidated. Anyway the boarding process took well over an hour for the lucky ones, all the while the ground crew was being extremely rude to people that didn't yet fully understand the issue, instead of explaining what they were trying to do to solve the issue (we passengers do not care how your worthless service screwed up the bookings, do not belittle us for not understanding what stupid excuses you make). Now for the unlucky ones that had their seats invalidated, we were put to the side while they tried to figure out what to do, all the while the ground crew kept insisting for us to take the 500 and go on another flight or whatever, which I find extremely distasteful, knowing that all of us should be compensated much better had we been refused entry. Some people that were put to the side still accepted the offer, which in the end did make room for everyone else on the flight, after of course another hour or so of waiting. Now with all that said, I wouldn't have minded the issue as much if it weren't for the rudeness of the ground crew, the almost 2 hours of keeping us in the dark about what was going to happen to us, and the persistence of the ground crew manager to have us go to another flight, if you really wanted that to happen offer something better than just 500, you know very well the compensation the airline would have to give us had we been refused entry. To add insult to injury, when at last the flight took off, we weren't offered anything at all in flight, not one measly bottle of water or a bag of chips or a small cup of coffee, nothing, absolutely worst customer service ever. As a bonus, the cabin crew hit my leg with the food/beverage cart while I was sleeping, admittedly I had my leg on the corridor, which I hadn't done on purpose or willingly, but instead of waking me up to move my leg, they just hit it and all I got was a "Oh sorry sir", then the attendant moved on like nothing happened. It only hurt for a bit, it's not like I want monetary compensation or anything for that, but yeah a cup of coffee could have made it up for almost everything. Worst airline I used so far, don't recommend it, I certainly won't be using it ever again.

Route: Gatwick to Porto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Oman Air

Title: " not responding to my emails"

Review: We book 4 tickets to India on Jan 2020. Unfortunately this coincided with the covid pandemic, and both flights to india and UAE was cancelled. we request for refund but was only offered a rebooking for 2 year/ refund after 1 year of purchase date. Obviously did not expect the pandemic to last this long. The same pandemic situation we book other airline tickets, all airline give back my Money. We agree the airline policy and wait for 1 Year, on Jan 2021, 1 Year was completed, after the one completion on one year i am eligible for the refund, now they are not responding to my emails from last 4 Months. Customer care are saying that contact only e-mail. Visited their Dubai office but no use, no one dont know about their refund, all are saying that contact through e-mail, they are avoiding the e-mails for refund customers. Many times we traveled in Oman Air, now we was facing poor customer service and irresponsibility attitude towards the customer complaint.

Route: Dubai to Trivandrum via Muscat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Fly540.com

Title: "they still let you buy tickets"

Review: This airline had apparently been suspended from service about a month ago (September 2022), I was told on the airport in Nairobi as well as in Lamu. They haven't informed passengers, they even still let you buy tickets and do check in online and when you show up at the airport it's only then when you realize that there is no flight of fly540.

Please do not book with this airline.

Route: Nairobi to Lamu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "deteriorated in quality so rapidly"

Review: 3 years has changed the ethos of the Cathay. I checked in from Bangkok at 4.30pm on 1/4/23 to catch a connecting flight to Narita via Hong Kong. In Bangkok I requested to be seated with my wife. The staff said that the Hong Kong Narita seating can only be changed in Hong Kong. When we reached Hong Kong we waited 30 min to be attended to and was informed that the seating could only be changed at the boarding gate. The staff were only present at 12.15am for a 1.20am flight. When they arrived, I asked about the seat change and I was just answered seat remains the same. Cannot change - that was the staffs exact words. I just walked away and swore never to fly Cathay again.

Cathay has deteriorated in quality so rapidly.

Route: Bangkok to Narita via Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "This airline is a joke"

Review: When flying from Toronto to Vancouver, the flight was delayed by three hours. Then when I was to come back to Toronto I get an email that my flight is cancelled at 9.30 pm and the flight was to depart at 12.10 (departure was supposed to be 11.10 but was delayed. I saw the nasty reviews of this airline but decided to give them the benefit of the doubt. This airline is a joke and should cease operations soon. I learned my lesson that its better to spend a few hundred more and fly with a peace of mind.

Route: Toronto to Vancouver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "unacceptable from Thai Airways"

Review: Paris to Bangkok in Economy. Plane quite old 777: torn carpet, sidepanels and seats. Inflight Entertainment System not operative as remote control cable was damaged. Return in business, same plane, very dirty pillow. This is unacceptable from Thai Airways. The legendary TG service is gone and this is very disappointing

Route: Paris to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Europa

Title: "Worst customer service"

Review: Worst customer service ever. The staff at embarking point particularly a lady checking the boarding pass was super rude, she did not hide her anger against many customers. She accused us multiple times of breaking the line, while she was allowing people of later groups to skip in front of us, then when my husband asked why, she threatened him to not allow us to embark, it was very unprofessional.

Route: Madrid to Malaga

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "I hope volaris can do better"

Review: On our way back to the United States I had my younger sister, grandmother and aunt with me. It already started off bad when the lady at the counter said that my sister wouldn't be able to receive her ticket because we simply didn't put her second last name. Though that lady was really understanding, it was when the time to get on the plane that angered me and people around me. They had switched the plane number stations last minute without telling anyone. The counter people were rushing us and hurrying us and even end up yelling at me and my sister pushing us to the side separating me and my grandmother which is what i was trying to avoid as she cannot read or write. I had tried asking for help as it was the first time flying and without my parents to help guide us. Counter lady was yelling at everyone but didn't want to help because she wanted everyone on the plane at a certain time even though they started check ins very late. We then encountered the same issue again about my sisters ticket not having her second last name and when i tried explaining to the lady that the people downstairs said it was fine she kept interrupting me asking for my last name. I was visibly frustrated as i was already separated from my grandmother. As i was able to meet up with my grandmother a lady behind me was complaining about the same thing about being rushed. We both talked about it as it was frustrating because many of these people are boarding with grandparents and are doing double the work with their own ticket and their grandparents ticket. I hope volaris can do better as it just looks like that the attendants feel special and higher up than everyone around them.

Route: Chicago to Guadalajara

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thomas Cook Airlines

Title: "Thomas Cook passed the buck"

Review: Gatwick to Orlando. This is what check-in at Gatwick Airport looked like on Wednesday July 19. Hundreds of passengers in the queue. One person at the counter. We arrived early at 8:30 for an 11:00 flight. We waited almost 2 hours to check-in. Therefore we had to rush through the airport to make our flight, bypassing any purchases we intended to make (including food and duty-free items) and bathrooms we intended to visit. Was an explanation given? Only the comment that the check-in desk employees are not Thomas Cook employees so Thomas Cook Airlines took no responsibility. Yes, we were told that. With the Thomas Cook Airline banner over every desk, Thomas Cook Airlines passed the buck. Were any courtesies offered like a complementary beverage on the plane? No. A beautiful first-time holiday in London capped off by an atrocious reception on our departure. With all the competition for the travel dollar to Great Britain, I would hope that Thomas Cook Airlines improves and starts placing customer service highest of their priorities.

Route: Gatwick to Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "I did not receive any refund"

Review: I was due to fly with Royal Jordanian on the 17th December 2021 to Frankfurt with a stopover in Amman, Jordan and return back to Abu Dhabi on 1st January 2022 via Amman. As I had booked the flight on Skyscanner, the booking was made via a third party website called Trip, which seemingly came across as a decent third party booking website. The problems began on 12th November when I received an email from Trip stating that Royal Jordanian had made schedule changes to my return flight and therefore would make it impossible for me to make my connection to Abu Dhabi. The change was only 15 minutes, however this gave me only 35 minutes to make my connection which I was informed is not allowed as per airline regulations as you are required to have at least 45 minutes between the two flights. I was directed by Trip via email to make a cancellation as this trip was now not possible and was assured me that I would receive a full refund as the changes were made by the airline and not by the passenger i.e. myself. I called the airline before I made the cancellation and their customer service team were firstly unaware that there were any issues about the returning connection, and when I did direct their attention to the issue they simply stated there is nothing they can do and I have to deal with the Third Party only. One of the customer service representatives of Royal Jordanian was arrogant enough to state why I was making problems and I should just change my return date! I reminded him that it is the passenger's choice about when he/she wishes to travel and if the airline has accepted payment for those dates then they are responsible of providing that service. After all this, I spoke with the Third Party company, Trip, who directed me to cancel my flight and that there will be no issues with the refund. Therefore on the 14th November 2021 the cancellation was made. Over 5 months have passed, and I did not receive any refund and now have been duly informed that "as per the fare rules" the ticket is completely non-refundable and I will not receive any money back, even though it was the airline that caused the cancellation! The customer service of Trip has been deplorable. They are only available via a phone number located in the UK, or email to which they barely respond to. They stated that they contacted me via email with all updates of which I have received none, with the last email sent on 24th December 2021 stating that the airline has rejected the refund. I called them back and they said they will escalate the issue again as it is not fair and they will try their best as I have a genuine case. This went on and on for another 4 months. Over the 5 months I contacted Royal Jordanian and they said they don't deal with refunds regarding bookings made by Third Parties. Trip kept assuring me that the refund will come and that they will "escalate" the issue and "try their best". Both parties in this situation have been culpable and have utilized poor business practices and customer service. It took them less than a minute to take my money and over 5 months to reject a valid refund. For anyone reading this review, I implore you to please avoid this airline and avoid the third party booking website; Trip. I have had a nightmare experience dealing with them and I am shocked at the fact that through no fault of my own, and due to changes made by the airline, I have lost over 400 Euros.

Route: Abu Dhabi to Frankfurt via Amman

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Eastern Airlines

Title: "recommend it for the price"

Review: Toronto to Cebu via Shanghai. I stayed up the night before my flight, petrified of the terrible reviews I was reading. It wasn't a bad experience, well worth the price of my roundtrip from Canada to the Philippines with a quick stopover in Shanghai. You can't expect premium service for bargain prices, but I'd say nothing was bad about this airline, just average quality (minus the wi-fi, which was non-existent). I found the food perfectly fine- no vegetarian options, but it was served hot and was serviceable, though definitely nothing to write home about. The staff were pleasant enough and had decent English, the in-flight entertainment had an average selection of movies with Chinese subs, and the plane itself was very clean and comfortable enough, if a bit cramped. What matters was every flight left on time and got me to my destination in one piece. Overall I'd recommend it for the price.

Route: Toronto to Cebu via Shanghai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "Definitely not the worst low cost"

Review: When I was preparing our trip to the UAE, I read a lot of reviews about wizz air. Unfortunately, there are no other low-cost airlines flying from Yerevan (at least, other flights are much more expensive). I hated Wizz Air in advance, and expected worse. I have installed wizz mobile app, and I couldn't check in - I was getting error "Something went wrong". But I successfully checked in on the wizz site. I checked in one person for free, got the free random place, and I checked second person (my wife), purchased next to my place for 11 euro. This way you can have places near not for twice price. We traveled with 1 year child. We got 3 cabin baggage places 40x30x20 up to 10kg each included, plus stroller for free. I have to say that was enough for us. We printed "boarding cards" (not boarding passes!) because airline can take money if you don't have them. The experience starting from the airport was fine. Good people, good service.

Comfortable plane. Food is not included in the ticket. Definitely not the worst low cost.

Route: Yerevan to Abu Dhabi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "average hold time is 5 hours"

Review: The worst airline I have ever flown with. I am used to budget airlines and no amenity travel so that is not the issue here. Although it was the most budget airline I have flown, the plane smelled terrible and there were old stickers all over the plane as if it was tagged. My first flight they delayed the flight by over an hour right before boarding. Odd but ok.

My second flight they canceled the flight 45 minutes after their customer service number was closed. They asked me to fill out a form online in regard to my canceled flight. I did so and also called at 8 am the next day and didn't get a representative on the phone until 5 pm. I was stuck in the city. Their website says that they cover amenities if the flight is delayed longer than 4 hours and a hotel room up to $100 if it is delayed or canceled overnight. I had paid $50 for a change fee for this flight. So when I finally got in the phone with a representative I was told that they couldn't refund the change fee, they didn't know what amenities were covered (and it would take 30 business days to get back to me), and that they could only issue a refund of 1/2 the price of the flight. I am still going back and forth with customer service because I was supposed to get an email that I could reply to directly for concerns and updates and I never received it. The average hold time for calling their center is 5 hours. I will never ever fly this airline again.

Route: Ft Lauderdale to Jacksonville

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "virtual assistant is of no use"

Review: The company doesn't have any live customer care people to talk to which in times we really needed to get important information easily. Their so called virtual assistant AVA is of no use. I tried checking my flight rescheduled time number of times and all the time the result was "there are no flights". Thirdly, the flight which was supposed to be departed around 8pm it got rescheduled 3 times which in turn made the flight to be departed at 1 am next day. The boarding in the plane started at 12:45 am which delayed the flight further. Lastly, there were no announcements being made regarding this matter.

Route: Delhi to Hyderabad

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: fastjet

Title: "never fly with them again"

Review: We flew fastjet from Johannesburg to Mt Kilimanjaro Airport as my family and I had a 4 day game park safari booked. Bags were to be sent straight to Mt Kilimanjaro as there was a transit in Dar Es Salaam. When asking staff at Dar Es Salaam where the bags were just to make sure checked in bags were still with us, they advised us that they had no idea where the bags were - staff were clueless. Then they assured us that it would reach Mt Kilimanjaro based on where we asked for it to be sent, instead of actually tracking the bag. Upon reaching Mt Kilimanjaro, we waited for our bags(which held all our safari supplies and clothing for 4 days). Nothing came and a claim had to be lodged to find our bags. The lost baggage counter staff called someone from fastjet and found out that the bags were still in Johannesburg. I cannot understand why fast jet Staff could not tell us this information when we asked them in Dar Es Salaam. Took 3 days to find our bags, and by then we had just blown $700US on supplies and clothing for 4 days. We requested the airline to send the bags to Arusha airport as that is where our safari agent could have picked up our bags, but they were rude and refused to assist us with the small issue despite them being the ones who misplaced our bags and did not complete their full service that we paid for(transporting bags and passengers) on time. Will never fly with them again.

Route: JNB to JRO

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air New Zealand

Title: "bumped to Economy with United"

Review: In May 22 I booked, very deliberately a direct flight Auckland to San Francisco. 3 days before the flight I was informed the direct flight was not happening, my choice to fly the same day was via LAX. Although I paid a business class flight I would be bumped to Economy with United for the LAX SFO flight. So no big deal you say. But take into consideration one of the busiest hubs in the world, customs, security , pick up bags, drop bags off, travel by bus to the other terminal wait 3 hours in transit, its not the premium and easy trip I paid for. Same issue on return. It was no small thing at 69 to pay extra to avoid these issues, have a comfortable flight , minimise time spent in transit and definitely avoid LAX. And a last minute change making it too costly and difficult to make alternative plans.

Route: Brisbane to San Francisco

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air China

Title: "does not have personal IFE"

Review: Hong Kong to Beijing. The ground handling and boarding process wasn't the smoothest - the flight was delayed, and Air China tends to operate out of remote terminal boarding gates which require a shuttle ride or extensive walking times. Everything was fine once we were airborne. The staff were attentive and the seats offered a reasonable amount of legroom, even though they seemed narrower than usual. The Air China A321 does not have personal IFE, they still use the archaic communal IFE systems. Food was average at best. Keep your expectations in line with prices paid, and you should be fine.

Route: Hong Kong to Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Avianca

Title: "space was extremely tight"

Review: I paid $1,100 for a flight from JFK to Guayaquil, with a layover in Bogota. The planes did not offer even a cup of water for free. No snack whatsoever either. The seats did not recline at ALL. The space was extremely tight and uncomfortable. The aircraft was hot and stuffy. I had to go to the bathroom repeatedly just to get some fresh air. The staff were rude. My husband and I were asked to check our carry on bags because there was supposedly no space for them on the plane. However, we saw that the overhead cabins were mainly empty. People even put their personal bags in the overhead compartments because there was so much space left.

Route: New York to Guayaquil via Bogota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "such a wonderful staff"

Review: Very good experience with such a wonderful staff from Juanda International Airport. Especially Lopez, Sulis, Eka, and Ganda. Very helpful and friendly. Thank you so much for helping me a lot when during check in time, amazing service! All the best.

Route: Surabaya to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Southern Airlines

Title: "service was very good"

Review: I lost my boarding pass and was very nervous. Fortunately, a staff member picked it up and took the initiative to contact me and gave it back to me to calm me down. The service of the ground staff and flight attendants was very good.

Route: Guangzhou to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "Service was rude and incompetent"

Review: Cancelled the flight we reserved months before a few days before the wedding we were attending to. No explanation just seems to be their usual ways. Service was rude and incompetent, took about two months to get my money back. By the time they cancelled the flight all other flights were full and prices skyrocketed. Not their problem, they just returned the amount we paid months ago, even if we could no longer get anything around that price. They gave us a fishy 20% or so credit. It was a yet another scam, hardly usable for my family since you need to activate it, its issued per passenger, and it expires days after, and only covers the main passenger of your next reservation, so I would need to do different reservations for myself, my wife and each of our kids. The only good thing was that after adding the very basic (hand luggage and seat), we realized their sale price became higher than that of a real airline, even after their fishy credits and so called discount, so we realized there wasnt any reason for us to even consider flying Volaris ever again.

Route: Sjo to Dulles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Croatia Airlines

Title: "check in was rude, unhelpful"

Review: The Croatia Airlines staff during check in was rude, unhelpful, and refused, without explanation to print out the boarding passes for each part of the flight. Forcing us to run around trying to get boarding passes before boarding actually starts. Overall, experience with staff at the check in left me under impression that I'm unavoidable annoyance to the lady who was checking me in. Very unpleasant experience. Flight itself was average, typical boring flight.

Route: Zagreb to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "There is plenty of leg room"

Review: This was the first time that I have taken the nonstop flight between Taipei to Chiang Mai. I have always gone through BKK and up to CNX. The connection with my incoming flight from Vancouver was perfect and instead of arriving at CNX around supertime, I arrived later in the morning. Once again, the flight crew are incredible, courteous, respectful, communicate well and helpful in any way needed. The food and red wine were great and I certainly was not hungry upon arrival. There is plenty of leg room on the 321 and this is a route that I will most definitely use again between CNX-YVR or CNX-YYZ. I never hesitate to recommend EVA to my friends coming over here from either Canada or the U,.S. The ground crew in Vancouver, where my trip originated are also great and really helpful.

Route: Taipei to Chiang Mai

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air India Express

Title: "took off and landed on time"

Review: Bikaner to New Delhi. Ticket bought in the morning of the flight as the province was locking down that evening. Check in was fast and efficient. There were no problems with my checked bag being slight overweight. The flight took off and landed on time. The plane was turboprop and looked fairly new. Seating was 2x2 and there was adequate room. Minimal cold refreshments were served on the flight. As expected there was no IFE. In New Delhi the bag came off quickly.

Route: Bikaner to New Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Flynas

Title: "flight being delayed hourly"

Review: Riyadh to Dubai. They call themselves a budget airline but work out more expensive when seats, luggage and meal on flight has been selected. I am sitting at the airport in Riyadh with updates coming up showing the flight being delayed hourly. I regret having booked this airline.

Route: Riyadh to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Airways

Title: "Staff could be nicer to customers"

Review: Staff could be nicer to customers instead of yelling. There are some people who do not fly often and are not familiar with the rules, so be considerate of that and tell them what they are doing wrong instead of being rude.

Route: Sydney to Avalone

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Porter Airlines

Title: "Magnificent service"

Review: I traveled to Washington Dc on Porter airlines with wheelchair assist. I left a therapy cushion in the airport lounge. When I asked the flight attendant if someone could get it and bring it onto the still- boarding aircraft, she said a ground staffer would bring it. That did not work out, so after a word from the flight attendant, the pilot got off the plane, found the cushion and brought it to me. Magnificent service. Fly Porter.

Route: Toronto Billy Bishop to Washington Dulles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Malaysia Airlines

Title: "Could not be a worse experience"

Review: After using book now and pay later option I could not make payment with my credit card. Many error messages after numerous attempts. Numerous call centre calls could not fix this, and they make erroneous claims as to the terms on which I had made the booking. Suggesting that my booking had times out and was no longer valid which was untrue as I had written confirmation as to when I needed to pay. Couple of these calls to their call centre cut off after 20 mins. Their system will always cut you off after 20 mins on hold After a few days I finally got a link to a site to be able to make the payment. And I asked that the actual ticket be sent to me immediately after making the payment, which was verified during that call. That never happened. Couple of days later called again to chase up the ticket. Person took long time to act, and I asked him to be sure to call me back if we got the usual cut off after 20m mins. I got cut off. He did not call back. Made another call. This time Philippines answered, No notation on my file that the previous call to KL had been made or any action arising from that. She kept me "on line" this time so that I would not be cut off after 20 mins. But after ~30 mins waiting I was cut off. No call back. Made another call. And they then told me there is no record of my flight being booked. But they confirmed that they had received my payment! Probably spent more than 4 hours in total on the phone and waiting over about 8 calls during this process over 4-5 days. If the departure date had been closer it would have been disastrous. Could not be a worse experience. Almost as if they want to insult you so badly that you will go elsewhere, which I have now done.

Route: Auckland to Bangkok via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Canada

Title: "There's no space, it's cramped"

Review: There's no space, it's cramped, half of the menu options were not available, there's no entertainment system.

The bathrooms are so tiny you can barely fit. It's like someone in corporate thought of every possible way to cut corners and cheapen and degrade the experience to the point where it's intolerable. No detail is spared when it comes to awfulness. The staff are fine, though and completely not their fault.

Route: Kelowna to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Icelandair

Title: "a refund or compensation"

Review: New York JFK to Keflavik on 21st January. I was supposed to land in Iceland at 6am after a flight from NYC, but due to the weather, we were stuck inside a plane for over 10 hours upon arrival. No food or water were provided and no updates available. After 16 hours of being on the plane we were able to get out, no apologies or explanations were provided. I tried to reach out to the airline for a refund or compensation of some sort but have not received a response after 2 months. My return flight to NYC was a similar horrific experience when a flight got delayed and overbooked which caused me to miss my connecting flight upon arrival. Yet again no explanation was provided except a smirky comment from the flight attendants that at least we made it to NY. Would not recommend to anyone.

Route: New York JFK to Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Etihad Airways

Title: "I will never fly Etihad in future"

Review: Awful airline. They did not transfer my miles to American and for several months never bothered to respond to my calls and emails. Then they rudely sent an email saying they needed proof from me that I did not get miles from American. This is preposterous. First of all it is their job to transfer miles. Secondly they should respond on time. Finally how can I prove a negative. Then they said that it has been a long time and so they are unsure how they can help and I should work with American. I have all the emails. I will never fly Etihad in future.

Route: Washington to Mumbai via Abu Dhabi

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: fastjet

Title: "think twice before booking"

Review: This was my first time flying with Fastjet. I selected it after reading mostly good reviews and that they are using bigger jet planes compared to the competition on this route. The ticket price was very good and the booking process rather simple. Now the bad part - I couldn't check in online for the flight. I headed to JRO airport with plenty of time. When I arrived there was nobody at the check in desk. Apparently the flight was cancelled and I was informed via e-mail and voicemail just 2 hours before departure and while I was on my way to the airport. They had rebooked me on the next flight (8+ hrs later) and I was refused re-protection on another airline. As a matter of fact there was a Precision Air flight leaving 3 hours later. I was told I could get a refund (only for the base fare and not for the extras like baggage fees etc) and then pay for my own ticket. The staff was apologetic and understanding. No food voucher or any other support was provided. I had to wait almost 9 hours at the airport. This is not the fault of the local staff but rather an issue of the upper management. They should look after their passengers better and have provisions when flight cancellations occur. I will think twice before booking with Fastjet.

Route: JRO to DAR

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Malta

Title: "perfectly adequate airline"

Review: Munich to Malta. Good friendly service and on time arrival. The aircraft was modern and I liked the random Maltese facts painted on the inside of each engine. When I first sat down in my seat the plane had been configured wrongly and my economy seat was in fact in business class. Once the passengers were all seated the crew reconfigured the aircraft and moved the curtains further up. This meant that we couldn't see the screen displaying the safety and emergency procedures video. The food was very limited and if we wanted anything more including coffee there was an extra surcharge. Overall, though this was a perfectly adequate airline.

Route: MUC to MLA

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: American Eagle

Title: "Generally unfriendly service"

Review: This was a top to bottom terrible experience with American Eagle. I usually fly Delta and now know why. This flight was booked for me for business. Generally unfriendly service especially by gate staff that either seem inexperienced or poorly trained. 1 to 1.5 hour delays on O'Hare-Wichita both ways, with a 20 min wait on tarmac at O'Hare from CVG due to no boarding tunnel driver. 3 gate changes at O'Hare within 45 min. Late arrival, arrived at hotel after midnight for AM talk. Coming home, was reassured connection would be no problem, then progressive delays and missed connection. Was told by attendant there would be customer service agent to rebook and arrange hotel, but there was none. Gate staff was grumpy and blithely said no hotel because was weather delay, then I asked her to confirm, she reluctantly called and confirmed it was mechanical. Took 15 min to get hotel voucher 30 min away and told could call for shuttle, called hotel and they said no shuttle and airline "always does that". Returned to gate and another 15 for cab voucher, still had to cover tip. Hotel at midnight, rebooked for 8am flight. Meal voucher $7 did not cover meal at airport. Flight itself was average enough, arrived safely. Given option, would not travel on American again.

Route: Wichita to Cincinnati via Chicago

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Peruvian Airlines

Title: "caused me so many problems"

Review: Pucallpa to Lima. This has been my worst experience with an airline. I was traveling from Pucallpa on 24th July 2018 to Lima. The flight should have been at 16:10 and I was at the airport more than two hours before the flight. When I arrived together with my friends, my flight was not listed on the departure screens, and when finally the Peruvian staff got available, I was informed, that there was a delay 5 hours. However, I was checked in and knew I would not make my connection flight from Lima back to Europe at 8PM. I was forced to buy a new ticket, which cost me 700 USD. Not only that the new flight got me too late for my work and I lost a customer because of this. At the airport - the staff did not know any information about the flight nor the plane nor even when there would be the departure. Instead, we kept being promised (lied) that the flight will depart another hour later and later on again and again. In the end, the flight departed only at 23:45. This caused me so many problems with no compensation whatsoever, no apology, no support at the airport, no interest in the customer. This was for the last time I used services of this airline.

Route: Pucallpa to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "overall performance was great"

Review: Flying first time with Virgin America LaGuardia to Dallas - experienced a 1 hour delay due to delayed departure from Dallas. The ground staff were very attentive and responsible on handling passengers while waiting for the plane to arrive. During the entire flight, the cabin crew were polite and nice and they were quite good at dealing with the kids onboard. Despite the slight delay and Dallas Love Field Airport location was not as expected, the overall performance was great.

Route: LGA to DAL

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "The app is horrible"

Review: First off they force masks which isn't bad, but they don't tell you until you get to board. I almost lost my flight trying to find one in Bogota airport and had to pay 20 dollars for the one I got. The app is horrible and I paid for a window seat and didn't get it. As the app didn't save my boarding. Lastly the check in and boarding staff at the gate in Bogota airport are rude. They lost my bag on my arrival flight had to send it with Avianca and i got my clothes a day late and my bag was beaten to hell. No wifi, no video screens and no electric plugs. The cabin staff are wonderful but that can't make up for how horrible a company LATAM is.

Route: Bogota to Miami

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Flynas

Title: "organised and efficient"

Review: Riyadh to Dubai. Organised and efficient. I take this route every week. Most of the times the plane arrives before scheduled time. The only suggestion I have is to apply strict hand baggage control in Dubai Airport

Route: Riyadh to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Jetairfly

Title: "my last trip on Jetairfly"

Review: I have travelled with Jetairfly about 8 times. Every time there were some issues, most of the time involving my reserved seats, that they unannounced changed. Very uncomfortable and no refund given. Every time they had a minimum delay of 2.5hrs, the longest delay 5 hours. All leaving from Miami. They did not announce this at any time, desk people never gave correct answers. I live 90 minutes from the Airport, they could have warned me by email. Every time I say this will be my last time. But it is convenient for me because of the nonstop to Brussels/Miami. Today, I have a bigger issue with them. I need to take my Support dog with me and am not able to reach them by phone from USA, neither they don't want to give an email address. On top of all of it they raised their price $200 one way, since last year. It definitely will be my last trip on Jetairfly.

Route: BRU to MIA

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SpiceJet

Title: "Affordable and good service"

Review: Flight attendants and ground staff were really courteous and very attentive. The flight was small ATR but the service was 5/5. Affordable and good service.

Route: Kolkata to Visakhapatnam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "has been quite disappointing"

Review: My recent experience with them has been quite disappointing. The cabin crew are less friendly than I remember them to be years back, especially the male crew. I experienced this on all four legs of my recent journey.

They felt like more of bouncers (i.e the men), as they didn't smile, weren't friendly or approachable, and instead of telling me "this way, please," as I have always been used to during boarding, one of the men simply got in my way and gestured me to go in the other direction, without uttering a word. I found this to be a bit rude. To add to this, some crew members on various legs of my trip didn't offer me a beverage during snacktime, while they offered my neighbours some. And it's not because I had my headphones on or was asleep or seemed uninterested. They glanced at me and somehow decided I wouldn't be interested in a cuppa? This happened three different times! I will continue to fly with them as they offer some of the best prices. However, i do hope to see friendlier faces in future.

Route: Newcastle to Nairobi via Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Airlines

Title: "abandoned in the middle of the airport"

Review: I'm writing this review on behalf of my mom who took the flight with China Airlines in the second week of May 2023. I registered her for wheelchair services because of her back and leg problems which restricted her from walking long distance. I confirmed with the agent on the phone that she would be assisted all the way to the end of arrival. Upon landing Vancouver, she was picked up with other customers on wheelchair services in the cart. However, when finishing her custom declare, she found herself abandoned in the middle of the airport. The cart had left without her!! She had to walk all the way to baggage claim and found herself being denied of help with the luggage again. China Airlines customer reps kept passing her from one to another. Speaking no English, it was challenging for her to get connected to the Wifi at the airport. It was almost an hour after arrival that she could reach out to me so that I could sort out the luggage situation with an airport porter. Don't fly with China Airlines if you need assistance.

Route: Ho Chi Minh City to Vancouver via Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "quality has taken a sharp downturn"

Review: I have flown Finnair business several times and always had a very lukewarm experience. This recent flight confirmed my impression that the quality has taken a sharp downturn. There were, for example, no menus and simply a choice of 'fish or meat'. The starter was barely edible and the main quite revolting. The dessert consisted of two small pieces of cheese. Oh, the champagne, from the lower end of the market, was warm. To cap it all, the service was surly and the attendants had to be buzzed for an additional drink (of red Portuguese wine). In Bangkok, the lounge set aside for Finnair BC travellers was a general lounge and completely packed. In all honesty, apart from the bed (narrow but flat), the whole experience was economy-class circa 2000. Never again.

Route: Bangkok to Rome via Helsinki

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Nepal Airlines

Title: "no entertainment system"

Review: Kathmandu to Mumbai. Flight time was 13.55 in ticket. To confirm I called in office and the informed that time has been changed and been 4.30 but it got half an hour delay. Thats fine. Flights boarding finished just in 15 minutes. And We were in air in 5.30 pm. While talking about the legroom It was very good. A320 was new and cabin looked good. They served beer or cold drinks with the dinner. Food was good. Never expected that from Nepal airlines. It needs more improvement. There was no entertainment system just screen above our head that showed flight status. I took my own entertainment system. Otherwise flight was smooth.

Route: Kathmandu to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: flydubai

Title: "This is a terrible airline"

Review: This is a terrible airline and must be shut down! This flight from Dubai to Beirut was my worst nightmare. Although we paid for an Emirates Airlines ticket but we got on the way back this horrible company. The staff is so rude, food is horrible!, and entertainment is null. Imagine you are flying for over 4hr without knowing where you are or how many hours left of the flight! Seats are terribly uncomfortable and toilets were so dirty!

Route: Dubai to Beirut

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Adria Airways

Title: "I will never fly again with Adria"

Review: Please do a favor yourself and do not fly with Adria. On the route from Munich to Pristina in July 2019 they lost my luggage and for 10 days in a row, despite numerous phone calls they were not able to locate it. 11 days later the luggage arrived at the destination completely ruined. Applying for compensation, they ignored my request. Foolishly again, I booked another flight with them (345 euros) Frankfurt - Pristina in September 2019. They cancelled the flight with no reason 24 hours before the departure. Desperate phone calls to customer service to get anything (rerouting, compensation, etc) were not responded. I will never fly again with Adria. What a disgrace! Shame on you Adria for constantly deceiving your customers.

Route: Frankfurt to Pristina

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "very satisfied with ANA"

Review: Tokyo Haneda to Sydney. Very satisfied with ANA. Their attention to detail is first class. Their service is focused on customer's safety and comfort. Professional ground and air crew. Second time to fly with ANA to Japan from Sydney and they never disappoint. The first time I was impressed and that's why I preferred to fly with them again on our second trip. As expected the service is superb.

Route: Tokyo Haneda to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Sichuan Airlines

Title: "I cannot complain too much"

Review: Chongqing to Lanzhou. This was a typical standard of domestic flight in China. Flight was full as usual and the boarding process was not too bad. No IFE was available in Economy, no English literature or newspapers either but I was not expecting it. Meal service for the short flight was a simple fish or chicken option, with a few Chinese style snacks added in. I opted for Apple Juice but was a little disappointed on realising it was not 100% juice. Seat was okay with spacing a little tight. Overall, I got to where I needed to go for a decent price, so I cannot complain too much.

Route: Chongqing to Lanzhou

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SilkAir

Title: "pricey for a short haul flight"

Review: Singapore - Medan, MI234, 16 April 2016, 6C. Transit in Singapore. Checked-in from the previous destination. Ground service was a little bit disappointing, they had changed my seats without notifying me by email or phone and because I already had my boarding pass from the previous destination I did not go to the transfer counter. However, I did not have any passengers in the middle and window seat so I could see the view and easily get out for toilet without disturbing other passengers. The seat was good and new. The cabin crews were okay. I tried the IFE by WiFi as this is one of their facilities onboard, it was great but had less choice. Food was decent for a short haul flight. Overall, it was great but pricey for a short haul flight.

Route: SIN to KNO

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "Cabin staff are good"

Review: I cannot understand why this airline gets such negative reviews. I have used WizzAir on several occasions and the service has been good to excellent every time. Food on-board isn't that good, so take your own! Cabin staff are good, helpful and attentive on my flights Hungarian, British and Cypriot and no problems. The only thing I would say is the seats are rock hard so take a cheap thin cushion if this bothers you. At Euro 35, Larnaca to Luton on time, why complain.

Route: Larnaca to Luton

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "wonderful welcoming crew"

Review: I feel more like telling others of positive experience. And my Lufthansa's flight from Madrid to München/Munich 26. April was a very good experience. A brand new, very clean aircraft, a wonderful welcoming crew - and above all, a very good, hot meal (I chose chicken breast). I'm impressed - this was only a two hours flight. Good wines.

Route: Madrid to Munich

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Corsair

Title: "nicest transatlantic flight I've taken"

Review: This was the nicest transatlantic flight I've taken and I've been traveling to and from Paris a lot. It was a very large and comfortable plane. The flight attendant who took care of us was delightful. The seats were very comfortable and went almost completely flat for an actual sleep. The food was even decent. We flew back on Air Canada, which was fine but I was sad it was not the same as the way out. I will try to fly with Corsair on my next trip in October. Thank you!

Route: Montreal to Paris

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air France

Title: "impressed by the Air France flight crew"

Review: I must say that I am impressed by the Air France flight crew. I recently flew from NY to Bangalore with a connection in Paris with my wife and 12 month old son. It was exactly what you would expect it to be. A nightmare! We had everything planned (my wife did I just follow orders) from the flight time, connection, food, sleep etc so that our child could have as smooth as a trip as possible. From NY to Paris we were golden. Smooth as silk. We took off he ate and slept. We landed and had some trouble figuring things out but we managed. Once we got on the plane for our Paris to Bangalore slight the nightmare began. He started screaming at the top of his lungs before the flight took off. Our plan for entertainment was lost during transport (ipad with pre downloaded 5hrs Cocomelon). He was rejecting all toys and foods. The lady behind us asked my wife "Is he going to be like that the whole flight?" After some back and forth with the other passenger, ourselves and the flight crew we took off. It was a 10hr flight and he cried for 9 of them. It was an out of body experience. Our son has never been so miserable. I don't know if it was sleep deprivation or his ears were bothering him but he was inconsolable. Our friend behind us, to her credit, along with the other passengers did not add fuel to the fire. The only bright spot was the flight crew. Which is the reason for the review. I have to give credit where credit is due. They were simply amazing. Very empathetic and supportive. Asking us if we needed any support on multiple occasions and it wasn't just one of them it was all of them. Providing us with food and supplies that I didn't even know was available. BTW did you know that there are children's eye covers? I found that interesting and don't know why. Anyway if it wasn't for our air heroes my wife and I would be needing immediate psychiatric therapy. We all know how difficult that is to get now and days. My salute to the air crew that day. You saved us and we are truly grateful. We will remember this day for a long time not only because of the difficulties we had with our son but for the care and help we received from the crew

Route: New York to Bangalore via Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Evelop Airlines

Title: "the leg room is very limited"

Review: Evelop Airlines is a relatively new Spanish airline based out of Palma de Mallorca, flying to / from Southampton. Just a few points to be aware of. Evelop do have a website, whereby you can pre-book seats (you can't through Thomas Cook). I paid and received my confirmation. However when we got to the airport they would not honour the seat reservations and we had to be given different seats. This was very difficult for us because my son is Autistic and doesn't like change. The check in desk say they have never been able to reserve seats on Evelop flights so just be aware that this is a rip off! Also worth remembering the leg room is very limited. My son is just over 6' and couldn't get his legs behind the seat. I have travelled with better airlines in the past.

Route: SOU to PMI

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "had the worst customer experience"

Review: I have flown with SAA every year for the last 3 years between London and Johannesburg, and I am normally pretty relaxed with not having the best travel arrangement as I know things happen and go wrong, and you cant blame the airline. But 3 flights in a row I have had the worst customer experience, and what pushed it over the edge was my flight being cancelled 2 days before Christmas. They knew the flight would not take off from Heathrow when I checked in at 5pm but checked all their passengers in without telling them the flight had been cancelled, and only when they were at the gate ready to board did they inform everyone the flight was cancelled. They gave us an empty promise of EU compensation which they fully knew didnt apply to the situation we were in, which we all found out afterwards when we tried to receive compensation for the delay. If they had told me when I had checked in at 5pm I could have made alternative arrangement to fly back to SA without missing my connection flight, but they made sure we were all checked in and couldnt catch any other flights out and only told us the flight was cancelled at 8:30pm. Long story short it was shocking customer service, with very little help and assistance, and ended up costing me £300+ extra to pay for accommodation and changing flights to get home on Christmas day, more than a day later then I should have arrived home. SAA have taken no accountability for the lack of service and communication and refuse to reimburse me for part of my costs incurred. I have been a loyal SAA voyager member for over 20 years, as I want to support my home airline. But I can quite honestly say I will never fly SAA again. And for the amount of money paid for the tickets the quality of the aircraft, service and food is acceptable. I paid £1500 to fly economy, with a TV that didnt work, food that was disgusting, no charging dock for my phone, and a very disappointing before and after customer service.

Route: London to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "Complete mismanagement"

Review: Pathetic service. Changed direct flight to Connecting flight without any intimation. Cabin crew and Ground support team had no clue with what was happening. 5 hrs flight was delayed by 2 hours. Complete mismanagement.

Route: Kochi to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "lead to a 14 hour delay"

Review: Phuket to Amsterdam via Moscow. I had chosen a day flight with a 1H20 connection in Moscow. But after online check-in i noticed the scheduled departure time had changed which eventually lead to a 14 hour delay. Ticket was booked 5 months in advance. Even as member of their frequent flyer program, I wasn't notified and there was no way for me knowing of this change until it was to late.

Route: Phuket to Amsterdam via Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Garuda Indonesia

Title: "they offered me a voucher"

Review: Surabaya to Tokyo via Jakarta. I can understand why Garuda Indonesia received 5 stars for their cabin crew. On this occasion, I wanted to refund my tickets regarding the coronavirus pandemic. I called the Call Center regarding the refund policy and they said that it is possible to get a cash refund. So, I decided to ask for a refund the next day. I went to the Ticket Office to be told that my tickets cannot be refunded for cash, and the cancellation also incurs penalties. At first, they told me that cancellation will incur only 2 million IDR, but in fact, I still got charged with tax. In exchange, they offered me a voucher that is exclusive to this airline. The voucher requires me to travel back and forth only to redeem it before use, and the one-year expiry date is a let down.

Route: Surabaya to Tokyo via Jakarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "no apology or explanation upon finally landing"

Review: We flew this domestic airline as the internal flight to our international return flights. The flight was on time but that was only good thing about it. The check in crew had no idea how to check in a baby cot and stroller. They said to take them on as hand luggage, (these would never have fitted in the overhead). Once processed for checked luggage, we then had to ask for a tag to be printed to attach to the bags so they knew they were ours. Staff talking to each other in their own language when we asked a question. The return leg of our flight was so scary. We had come in to land and about to touchdown when the plane suddenly took off again. It climbed to quite a height at such a sharp angle, it made some people reach for the vomit bags. After approx 15 mins we were told they couldnt land due to winds. The plane had now flown past the airport and proceeded to circle with no update on when we were coming down. I felt such panic. Even more upsetting was having no updates from cabin crew and no apology or explanation upon finally landing. I dont think well be flying this airline again on our next SA visit.

Route: Durban to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Avianca

Title: "experience wasn't a pleasant one"

Review: Unfortunately my experience wasn't a pleasant one. I wish it was for the amount of hours I had to spend on the plane. Anything, from water to a blanket, has a cost. No snacks, no drinks are served for free. If you buy the cheapest fare, your seat won't even recline, it wasn't mentioned online. My trip was 6 hours to Bogotá from Santiago, and a last 5 hours flight to Mexico city. Very badly organised during the embark and disembark periods, both take long time. Not recommended unless it's a really urgent flight or no better alternative.

Route: Santiago de Chile to Mexico City via Bogotá

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: WOW air

Title: "I was blindsided"

Review: Amsterdam to San Francisco via Reykjavik. Never again!! I was blindsided by the seemingly cheap fares. Turns out, it wasn't cheap at all, because I needed to pay for luggage, seats and what not. What frustrated me the most was that my partner's luggage did not arrive in San Francisco. We were without his suitcase for 10 out of 13 days on our vacation. Back home, we filed a request and Wow aiR granted us a compensation (which they are bound to do by law!!) and said that processing the payment would take between 10-12 weeks. Very irritating, how can making a money transfer take up to 12 weeks? Now, after 4 months, the money has not been transferred. Wow air does not answer our mails and the hotline employees keep putting me off. What a scam! Do not book a flight with this airline, it is most likely going into insolvency, seeing as they're withholding money and cancelling destinations altogether.

Route: Amsterdam to San Francisco via Reykjavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Tahiti Nui

Title: "never fly Air Tahiti Nui"

Review: I booked this flight via Cheapoair it was supposed to leave April 14, 2020. Then the Coronavirus hit. The flight never left for Papeete it was cancelled by the airline. I requested a refund through Cheapoair because Air Tahiti Nui said it was bought through Cheapoair. I dealt with Cheapoair who checked with air Tahiti Nui about refunding me my money.

We paid almost $1500.00 for two tickets. I was offered a credit which has to be used by next year or I lose the credit of the two tickets to Papeete. I wanted my money back as I, like thousands, of others had nothing to do with the cancellation. It was a worldwide pandemic. I am told now that I can get my money back with a $500.00 penalty. The quoted amount to be returned is approximately $750.00 for a $1500.00 investment. Which is more than a $500.00 penalty. I have filed a complaint with the Dept of Transportation who frowns on this type of rip off. I will never fly Air Tahiti Nui or use Cheapoair for any reason. I am a senior citizen with a compromised immune system and am not sure when I will be able to travel due to the Coronavirus.

Route: Los Angeles to Papeete

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Allegiant Air

Title: "customer service is 100% awesome"

Review: I just want you to know I have flown with Allegiant for many years and in this December we had a ice storm I had to reschedule and cancel 3 times. This customer service is 100% awesome. I would recommend Allegiant Air to everyone. Customer service is number one and they have it. I'd like to thank everyone at Allegiant for being so accommodating to I will fly again.

Route: Sanford to Evansville

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia X

Title: "much cheaper than other airlines"

Review: Kuala Lumpur to Auckland via Gold Coast. This was my first time to Auckland, and I decided to take AirAsia X as the fares were much cheaper than other airlines servicing the route even though their flights were direct. It was a pleasant flight and the landing at both airports were good. One thing which bothered me, though, was the checking of bags and belongings at OOL. The food that I ordered was a bit overcooked. Other than that, it was perfect.

Route: KUL to AKL via OOL

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Druk Air

Title: "very happy to fly Druk Air again"

Review: My wife and I flew return trips on Druk Air from Kathmandu to Thimpu for a section of our honeymoon. There are very limited options to get in and out of Bhutan, so I was a bit concerned about the ability to choose exactly what airline and flights we were going to take. However, it all went really smoothly. We were warned beforehand that the flights are often several hours late, ours was close to on time. We were told that we'd see the Himalayas as we flew past, including Mt Everest, which we did. The crew were courteous and helpful, and the food surprisingly good for such a small airline. The plane was old, but appeared to be well looked after. There is no in-flight entertainment system, so bring a book/tablet to keep yourself entertained, or read the airline magazine, which will mainly feature articles about how much the Bhutanese love their King (they are crazy over their monarchy). If we are ever lucky enough to go back to Bhutan, I'd be very happy to fly Druk Air again.

Route: KTM to QJC

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Saudi Arabian Airlines

Title: "Customer Service is nearly not existing"

Review: Customer Service is nearly not existing. A WhatsApp number is provided, but the wait to be served can be hours. When you receive a reply, if you dont respond within the minute, your request is closed and you have to do all other again. So nearly impossible to get through the system. Similar experience on the phone. When you do get through, including by raising an official complaint on the system, you get told it is resolved, but when checking, it is not. And the loop starts again. This is the main issue I'm facing. But overall, food quality is below average, plans are not very clean and prices are therefore high for what you get. I'm now waiting for over an hour at the head office only customer service center, waiting to get served for over 1 hour.

Route: Wedj to Riyadh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Volotea

Title: "Good company, good prices"

Review: Valencia to Oviedo. Good company, good prices and everything correct. To travel from Valencia to Asturias the best. If you become megavolotea you have good offers and priority boarding.

Route: Valencia to Oviedo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia X

Title: "I would definitely fly again"

Review: I have always been a regular traveler for Air Asia since it started year during the late 90's. And thanks to Air Asia, I had been to many countries that I had never thought I would be going. This May 2018 I'm flying for the first time to Shanghai via Kuala Lumpur from Miri. My flight was suppose to be 5:30pm but it was delayed until 8pm, and my connection flight was 11:30pm from Kuala Lumpur to Shanghai. The time I arrived Kuala Lumpur it's already 10:45pm and I have to run like crazy person in order to get to my departure gate. The seat was not comfortable for the 5 hours flight, but I had flown before more than 5 hours, so, I have to accept the seat was meant to be like this, and I just need to find my own way to have a good rest. I would say the best part of the flight was the food actually, which I pre-ordered and I really enjoy the meal. I like also the interaction between the Cabin Crew with the passengers. I would definitely fly again and again. As long as the price is affordable, and the food is good!

Route: Miri to Shanghai via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: S7 Siberia Airlines

Title: "comfortable time of departure"

Review: Yekaterinburg to Moscow Domodedovo. The main advantages for me comfortable time of departure (at 6:10 from Yekaterinburg, 6:40 arrival in Domodedovo), punctuality and flexible prices. I dont need luggage, so I appreciate that I dont have to pay for it. However, I buy priority seats. Usually, they are free at that time, so I get the whole row for myself. The flight lasts less than 2 hours, but S7 provides food (sandwiches with chicken or vegetables) and new press. Unfortunately, they have the flight back too early in the evening, so I have to choose other airlines. What becomes a pity every time, because in the quality-price ratio of S7 seem to be one of the best in the market.

Route: Yekaterinburg to Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "Will avoid CSA in the future"

Review: Copenhagen-Prague return. It was a few years since I last flew Czech Airlines and I remembered them as an OK airline offering rather good quality and value for money. No such luck nowadays, since they were taken over by Smartwings company which seems to have destroyed the airline totally! Copenhagen-Prague in a Czech-Airlines-painted A319. Aircraft in rather good shape but the onboard service (BOB only) seems very strangely organised and takes forever to reach your seat - only to be told they were out of choices. Prague-Copenhagen in a Smartwings 737. One hour late, extremely cramped seating, aircraft looking worn and very dirty, cabin air quality bad and temperature too warm. Everything with this airline nowadays just looks so amateurish and cheap - from their print-at-home boarding passes to their badly cleaned cabins. Onboard announcements in english are barely understandable. And don't dream of buying some duty-free at the airport because then you'll have to pay extra to take it onboard the aircraft. This was a real disappointment. Will avoid CSA in the future! Only positive thing was that they still played Bedrich Smetana's Vltava in the loudspeakers after touchdown in Prague...

Route: Copenhagen to Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Nauru Airlines

Title: "staff friendly and hospitable"

Review: Nauru to Brisbane via Honiara. I have flown with Nauru Airlines numerous times. They are one of the best international airlines I have flown with Qantas, Emirates, Singapore Airlines, Cathay Pacific, Malaysian etc. The cabin staff were very friendly and hospitable. Ground staff are polite and efficient. Nauru Airlines. Cabin staff kept serving drinks time to time. My special meal requests had been fulfilled and the meals were delicious. Seats had decent leg room. Toilets were clean. Had a smooth take off and landing.

Route: Nauru to Brisbane via Honiara

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "you certainly have won our admiration as customers"

Review: Full marks and much appreciation for a prompt and full refund of our unused flights due to Covid 19 from Paris to Hong Kong and Hong Kong to Sydney. We had a refund in our account just 12 days after we applied which was truly exceptional. So disappointed in our own airline Qantas from whom we are still waiting for a refund on a cancelled flight since first applying in March six months ago! We will definitely use Cathay Pacific in the future because of this experience and you certainly have won our admiration as customers. Thank You.

Route: Paris to Sydney via Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Bahamasair

Title: "Absolutely ruined our vacation"

Review: Absolutely ruined our vacation. Spent entire day on both ends of vacation fighting with Bahamasair staff about our fully paid, prebooked flight from Orlando to Nassau. We spent 10+ hours sitting waiting on a flight that never left Nassau to arrive in Orlando. There were little to no updates on flight status. The staff at the gate were rude and very unhelpful. We asked to rebook our return flight for a day later due to the loss of our day because of the severely delayed departure. We were told it was no problem and given 4 new seats on a return for a day later to make up for the lost day at airport. After our wonderful vacation in Nassau, we arrived to airport 2.5 hours early for our ticketed flights only to find out we were booked on a full flight and had to be on standby, with no other departing flights for that day. We were stuck and had connections that would be impacted if we didn't get to Florida that day. So, after 1.5 hours of waiting for a customer service rep to try to bump other passengers, we were told we would not be departing that day. We were forced to purchase $1400 one way tickets on another carrier just to get to our other connections. The staff at Orlando who overbooked us on a full flight should be fired. It's unacceptable to be so careless with people's time, money and vacation/holiday time. Overall we spent 2 full days in airports unplanned which took valuable time off our vacation.

Route: Orlando to Nassau

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "zero customer service"

Review: Worst customer service ever. I had to cancel my flight as my father passed away suddenly. I was refunded around £500 for tickets I paid £1195 for. I eventually found an email address which is largely hidden on their websites and email confirmations to get a hold of customer services. I have tried to get in touch with customer services as I have not had a reply back over the last 2 weeks. There is zero customer service from this airline.

Route: Glasgow to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Canada

Title: "Flight Attendants were very helpful"

Review: YVR to YYJ is a very short sector of 12 minutes on average in the air. Boarding was efficient into a very clean regional type of aircraft. There was no service as this sector is short but the Flight Attendants were very helpful with "drag on" baggage. Deplanement in YYJ was very quick and easy as they used a aft door as well to speed the deplanement.

Route: Vancouver to Victoria

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Tahiti Nui

Title: "embarrassing that they don't know the difference"

Review: When I checked in they asked me if I had a ticket out of the US and I said yes and showed my ticket to Mexico. They said that is not valid as Mexico is part of the US. I said that no Mexico is not part of the US, they even called the supervisor who said the same thing. They made me buy a ticket back to my country which I didn't want at that time because I didn't know my return date yet. I bought this flight with Qantas but when I arrived it was Air Tahiti. I had to buy the ticket in 20 minutes otherwise they wouldn't let me board. It is embarrassing that they don't know the difference between the two countries and argue with customers like this. If this is their policy at least it should be on their website.

Route: Tahiti to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Level

Title: "Dont waste your money"

Review: I bought my ticket many months ago (summer) and decided to add some upgrades. Its my vacation after all, I thought. First I paid for a bag + meal combo. I needed the bag but it made sense to add a meal, after all its a 7 hour flight and the website makes it look like you wont get one otherwise. Then I add a comfort seat for another $45 and pick which seat I have. Well, fast forward to my travel date. I check in and first there is a long, slow moving line. Then when I check in, I show my passport and boarding pass I printed, the agent smiles and says, you wont need that. Then I get my ticket and later once Im thru TSA I realize what she meant, my seat was moved to economy class. I though, ok must be a mistake, right? I go to the counter and it seems that theres already a line of people with the same issue. All the agents can do its tell us its a full flight so they cant do anything. She advises everyone to take a picture of the boarding pass (which I later needed to get a refund) but sounds like this happens way too often. It turns out everyone gets a free meal anyways. Its deceptive practices. Dont waste your money.

Route: New York to Barcelona

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: easyJet

Title: "flying with easyJet for us is relatively relaxed"

Review: It's several years since we have flown with any other airline but easyJet, which I think speaks for itself. We have in the past used Ryanair occasionally but once they started seating couples separately if they did not pay for seats we ceased to do so. EasyJet suits us perfectly and flies to the places we want to visit. We were apprehensive when the rules / charges relating to baggage taken on board were changed, but we experimented flying with backpacks only which will fit under the seats in front and found that we could easily manage with those for a week's holiday. Since then we have happily travelled lightly and found it very easy indeed. We actually registered the fact on our most recent trip that is the "Speedy Boarding" passengers who now rush to queue when the boarding staff appear because they want to make sure of finding locker space as close to their seats as possible. The rest of us who have not paid extra for anything can just wait and board at our leisure. I can't recall more than one major delay in all the years we have used easyJet and just a few minor ones. On our last trip earlier this month both the outward and inward flights left and arrived slightly early. Flying out from Liverpool as we invariably do, we find it very rare that there is any nitpicking about bag sizes (despite some of the bags that we sometimes see!) and the whole process of flying with easyJet for us is relatively relaxed. It obviously helps that we know the ropes and that we keep abreast of any rule changes e.g. regarding baggage. It does seem to me that some of the critics fail to check on things like this and therefore are at least partly to blame when faced with charges they did not expect.

Route: Liverpool to Palma de Mallorca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Brussels Airlines

Title: "require some improvements"

Review: Berlin to Brussels. I bought 'Economy Check & Go' ticket for about 99 EUR (11/2019) and won't expect too much service for this fare. Efficiency during boarding was messy and not so efficient at all. This cause this flight with a EOBT delay of 20 min but arrived a little bit late in Berlin TXL. The staff friendliness was average. Food and beverage can only be bought during the flight (similar service as Ryanair), but there was a large variety of Belgian cold and hot dishes. My final verdict, this airline require some improvements especially during embarkment.

Route: Berlin to Brussels

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Turkish Airlines

Title: "rude and irresponsible"

Review: I regret that I chose this airlines. Their employees so rude and irresponsible. They have no respect for customers and treating customers very bad. I will never travel with them again.

Route: Amsterdam to Istanbul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Koryo

Title: "aircraft was clean"

Review: Beijing to Pyongyang with Air Koryo - kind staff. A passenger had some health issues and at Beijing airport a medical team waited and was informed about the problem. There was Korean cartoons and short movies. Food and drinks served was OK. Flight was were on time. Aircraft was clean.

Route: PEK to FNJ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "unethical, irresponsible"

Review: Toronto to Honolulu. I was threatened of cancellation 3 times and had to re-purchase my ticket each time thanks to some flawed algorithm the airline uses. I received emails stating that it was potentially a fraudulent purchase, and I needed to come to the airline in person to show ID, otherwise, I would be cancelled within 48 hours prior to travel. I was not refunded any money either, just informed of this. Because I was traveling with a young child and a party of 4 others, I had no choice (otherwise I'd have bought another ticket with a different airline). I drove 2 hours out of my way in order to do this, and when I got to the airport the Air Canada representative told me I had to repurchase the tickets. I told him I was not refunded, and he insisted that "the money was on its way." This was 3 weeks ago, so essentially I paid double for my tickets and had to drive way out of my way in inclement weather to do so. This is the worst airline ever - unethical, irresponsible, and fraudulent.

Route: Toronto to Honolulu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Astana

Title: "Very good experience"

Review: Almaty to Kiev. Very good experience on this flight. The crew was very attentive and helpful, and plenty of legroom considering we were on a 6 hour flight on A320. Amenities were great and they offer everything you need to enjoy the flight.

Route: Almaty to Kiev

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Alaska Airlines

Title: "Absolutely horrid experience"

Review: Absolutely horrid experience, terrible customer service. Lost Luggage for more than 3 Months. Don't ever waste your money with Alaska Airlines. Alaska Airlines lost our 3 bags on December 22, 2022. It's been 3 Months, and nothing has been done. We filed a claim in person and online, followed up in person, and have spent many hours on the phone every single week for the last 3 months only to be mistreated and to hear that Alaska Airlines don't take responsibility for their acts. My Family and I were left without clothes, lost many valuable Personal items and expensive gifts bought for Family members. We trusted our luggage to Alaska Airlines, paid for Trip Insurance, have the Baggage Claim tickets, and still are getting no help and being treated as we don't matter.

Route: San Francisco to New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "not a very good experience"

Review: This was not a very good experience. Starting with the Airport, I was forced to check one of my carry-ons due to no space on the plane although it was not a full flight and I was made to pay a huge amount of money just for that and whats worse is that the bag had a lot fragile souvenirs and I risked breaking all of them. Thank goodness it was loaded in Japan and no harm was done and the bag dodged a bullet. I dont remember Emirates being that needlessly strict. Im not sure if the airline changed the aircraft because the extra legroom seat that I paid for was different than the one I got as the exit door was in the way so I had to lean a little on the person next to me to get the full legroom feel. It was a long flight but it went smooth and the food was extremely delicious. The flight attendant that was assigned to our row, although efficient, made me feel like an inconvenience as she had very low energy and didnt seem very enthusiastic to the point that while was pouring me apple juice, the carton ran out of juice while the cup was half full and thats how she served it without bothering to open another carton. For the whole flight I was waiting for her to pass by us so I can ask the other, much nicer attendant for water and/or assistance whenever I needed something. For some weird reason, the much advertised On Air WiFi did not work which took another point out.

Route: Tokyo Narita to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Vueling Airlines

Title: Vueling Airlines customer review

Review: Had a Priority ticket from Ibiza to Lisbon via Barcelona. The process at the airport with check in, luggage drop off is good and efficient. Boarding is also acceptably organized. The airplane was very dirty, obviously it is not cleaned often. The seats are uncomfortable and the pitch is very short, so for a 1,8m tall person, it is not a very good experience. Flights on time.

Route: Ibiza to Lisbon via Barcelona

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Korean Air

Title: "experience is bad"

Review: Los Angeles to Bangkok via Seoul. Senior ground staff full of attitude. Traveling with pet did not get pre-boarding unlike other airlines have always given my special assistance. Cabin crew are ignorant. I asked for hot water and got refused by a crew member saying that no, we dont give hot water here. I asked for a special meal and only got a meal with no drink. The cart came after and the crew skipped serving a drink to me as I assumed they think that I have gotten everything. Overall experience is bad since on-ground to onboard the aircraft.

Route: Los Angeles to Bangkok via Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Loganair

Title: "avoid Loganair like the plague"

Review: A word of warning - avoid Loganair like the plague. More of a joke than an airline really. I lost a day of my trip when my outbound flight was cancelled. My inbound flight was delayed by 2.5 hours so I missed my onward flight last night. Next flight to Norwich is on Sunday so they wanted to put me in a hotel for two days. When I booked a flight for the next day on another airline and asked them to cancel my flight they then washed their hands of me and I had to sort my own hotel last night. This morning I arrived at the airport at 5.30am. Loganair have 5 flights on the departure board - 3 of those are already delayed by an hour or more. Their staff dont seem to give a stuff - I guess they deal with so many inconvenienced people that they are over it as well.

Route: Kirkwall to Aberdeen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SilkAir

Title: "customer service is the worst"

Review: Manado to Singapore with SilkAir in October 2018. Singapore Airlines may be the best airline in the world but its customer service is surely the worst! I called the customer service on 2 different occasions. In both occasions, it was not long until a representative picked up the call, but soon after I shared my enquiries, I was asked to wait for unreasonably long. And while waiting, I was put on hold. In the first occasion, I was put on hold for 46 minutes. Today, I was put on hold for 22 minutes when the whole call was 27 minutes! I wonder what took them so long to find my reservation. Lesson: Never ever call the SIA Customer Service. You may have saved some time by going to their office instead. I have done it a few times. The SIA office is far more efficient than the customer service line.

Route: Manado to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Porter Airlines

Title: "on hold for well over an hour"

Review: Booked to fly Calgary to Toronto on March 4th, flight 360. It was cancelled due to bad weather in Toronto. Email confirmation of the cancellation auto booked me to the flight the next morning. Noticing that there was a flight earlier in the day that had been rescheduled for mid afternoon I called them. I was on hold for well over an hour (their recorded message said it would be 15 minutes). Then when an agent answered I requested to be moved to the earlier flight and he took all my information and asked me to hold again. After 15 minutes again on hold they disconnected the call. They have both my email and phone number --do you think they bothered to call back. They have very recently started flying this route and from the looks of it they are not ready to fly with the Big Boys yet. I could have flown cheaper with Air Canada but thought I would try Porter - big mistake. My brother-in-law flew earlier in the week and also got cancelled. Not a good start to flying this new route!

Route: Calgary to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Kenya Airways

Title: "Kenya Airways reservations staff are very incompetent"

Review: Kenya Airways reservations staff are very incompetent. I booked a flight to Nairobi with departing time 15.20pm only to be rescheduled to a 4 hours later flight at 19.30 and that without notification. I booked the earlier flight because I was connecting later that evening to a Lufthansa flight to Frankfurt. Due to this reschedule, I almost missed my flight to Frankfurt. It only needed friendly Lufthansa staff to open up the gate for me. Kenya Airways staff simply assume that all passengers flying from Kisumu have Nairobi as their final destination. They don't even think that some might have connection to other countries. I will never fly them again and never recommend them to anyone. They caused me a lot of stress without compensation.

Route: Kisumu to Nairobi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Belavia

Title: "worst flying experiences ever"

Review: Astana to Amsterdam via Minsk. Flying Belavia was probably one of my worst flying experiences ever. Unfortunately I had no other choice as all flights out of Astana to Europe were fully booked. The two aircraft I travelled with were very old B737-500s. Especially the first one was outdated and probably over 30 years old and retrofitted somewhere in the 90s or so by adding an entertainment system for music only, which was broken. But nobody uses this type of IFE any more as everyone has either a phone or MP3 for personal entertainment and music. The aircraft still had ash-trays installed in the arm rests. Seats on my first flight from Astana to Minsk were terrible resulting in neck pain. Seats on the flight from Minsk to Amsterdam were soft and had good head rests, but the seat back was so thick and pitch so small that knee and leg space was very limited. Check-in staff was friendly and boarding was quick. Some of the crew members were very friendly, others were grumpy old Belarussian men. Crew assumes everyone is Belarussian, which is not very thoughtful. Drinks are fine, but the food was absolute horror. They said it was beef but I was unable to identify what kind of stuff I got. In general I would say to avoid this airline, unless Minsk is your final destination as I don't think that there are many alternatives from Western Europe except for (as far as I know) Lufthansa via Frankfurt and Austrian via Vienna.

Route: TSE to AMS via MSQ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: LIAT

Title: "disgusted with the service"

Review: I have never experienced such poor service, disdain and discourtesy from any industry. I travelled to St. Vincent in June 2016, My return flight which was booked for the 19th June 2016 was cancelled and I was only informed of that when I went to check in on that date. The discourteous and disrespectful staff member walked to the Lobby and simply said that the flight was cancelled and LIAT was not responsible for our accommodation and transportation. I managed to get a return flight the next morning. LIAT you have messed up my daughter's wedding plans as I cannot be there. After an hour and a half delay, my flight on the 11th November 2016, was cancelled at approximately 10.45 pm. I think because LIAT have the monopoly on this route, they are taking advantage of your passengers. They have no problems accepting my money, at least deliver a good service. My experience with the Trinidad staff has been very courtesy, but some of the St. Vincent staff, their attitude leaves much to be desired. I hope that when the new airport opens in St. Vincent, that the competition LIAT get is more than enough to give a good wake up call. I am disgusted with the service of LIAT.

Route: POS to SVD

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "This is a good flight with ANA"

Review: Flew ANA Tokyo Narita - Jakarta on 31st December 2020 as part of a SE Asia Trip with family. We arrived from SFO on UA and ANA checked all transit passenger documents at their transfer counter before we are given a clearance to proceed to our respective gates. We had time to spare so we stayed at ANA Lounge prior to our departure. Boarding was very orderly and they called passengers by row starting from the back. Most of us have been seated 30 minutes before departure time but had to wait for transfer or late passengers so we were leaving around 15 minutes behind schedule. The plane was an 8 year old 788 (JA805A) but still very clean and in good condition. The seats cushion is fine and here is this net type footrest under the seat in front of you. The load is quite full (perhaps 70-80%) but the flight attendants were able to give out good service. Rice crackers snack, drinks and hand wipes were given after takeoff, and there were two other drink runs afterwards, one with supper and another one with the snack. In between the FAs went around every couple hours to offer bottled water. We got a very good supper (White fish or seafood in red sauce - I chose the seafood and it was good!) and after that a cheese tomato roll snack an hour or so before we arrived. A FA remembers when I asked for sake for dinner but she didn't have it in her cart, and she promptly return with the sake afterwards. However the crew doesn't seem to be the cheerful type. They are courteous and helpful but they are not as friendly as most ANA FAs I met in the past. As usual in a long flight I took a walk to the back of the plane and stretch in front of the restroom near the back galley, and afterwards returning to my seat through the other aisle. When I was passing the galley a FA was asking if I need anything and that I shouldn't be in the back galley area. Well I told her I was on my way back to my seat but since I'm here I'll take a cup of sake and some crackers if she don't mind. It surprises me since in most other long haul flights they always set up a snack basket and beverages in the galleys for people to take themselves and we can always cross the galley when we're walking around. This doesn't seem to be the case - or is it because of this particular route or crew, I don't know. Entertainment works well, and we used our 3.5" jack wireless transmitter and bluetooth headphones to avoid the cable tangle. Movie selection is not too extensive but enough for this 7+ hours flight. We land in CGK at 11.26 pm or 29 minutes ahead of schedule, and deplaning was done quick and orderly. This is a good flight with ANA but I believe we may have a crew set who were not as enthusiastic or cheerful in providing service, or perhaps due to this flight being a night flight but not a redeye because they all looks kind of tired and reserved.

Route: Tokyo Narita to Jakarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thai Smile Airways

Title: "First and last time Thai Smile"

Review: Delayed, missed my connection. My 13:00 flight took off at 14:45. Told staff at the counter who assisted in only priority tagging my bags. Landed in Bangkok at a bus gate right next to my connecting flight aircraft closing the door. Ended up having to purchase new ticket to another city just to get home. First and last time Thai Smile.

Route: Phuket to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Xiamen Airlines

Title: "everything normal and fine"

Review: Dalian to Hong Kong via Fuzhou. The flights were both short, normal food, everything are normal and fine. The things I really appreciate are the transit service and cabin service for Skyteam ElitePlus members. From Dalian to Hong Kong there is no directly flight, but connecting with Xiamen airline with international flight, they offer free transit hotel if the flights are on a different day with 24 hours gap. The flight attendants come to say greetings to me, with a small water and newspaper.

Route: Dalian to Hong Kong via Fuzhou

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "disappointed with the treatment at the airport"

Review: Extremely disappointed with the treatment received at the airport, no one deserves to be treated like that. My son and I both had the COVID test, because we hit traffic we where literally 10 ridiculous minute late, we were refused to get in even though we had done all the info online and check in online. I asked to please let me do another test and she said no. I asked to please rebook me to a different flight, different day and NO CANT DO. I requested refund, they told. Me only 30% of what I had paid. Please do yourself a favor and stay away from this airline.

Route: New York to Sao Paulo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jet2.com

Title: "There are some good aspects"

Review: Birmingham to Palma. There are some good aspects to this airline. Their check in is well staffed and staff usually pleasant. The aircraft are standard 737s but have large overhead lockers. We normally select extra legroom seats, but on this occasion finished up in the centre of the aircraft as we booked a little late. The seats are hard and non reclining and how anyone finds them OK I don't know - they are typical low cost airline.. Our flight was marred by a male stag party who were obnoxious throughout. They were not well dealt with by the cabin staff, who are admittedly in a difficult situation. They were happily not present on the return leg. One issue bemuses me - I am aware of the red colour used in the airlines' corporate logo, but I can see no convincing reason why that should be echoed in the internal lighting - its an airliner not a sex shop.

Route: Birmingham to Palma

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Allegiant Air

Title: "Do not use this airline"

Review: Do not use this airline! Cancellation is frequent. Our flight was cancelled while we were at the airport, leaving us stranded for 2 days! My tickets were over $1000. They were gonna reimburse me $800.

Route: Myrtle Beach to Albany

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Cobalt

Title: "is no limit to carry ons"

Review: Larnaca to Athens. New aircraft, helpful cabin staff, captain informative, arrived ahead of schedule. No seat reservation through internet check in, only at the counters. No meals, menu only in English, and so were safety instructions, meaningless to local passengers who do not speak English. What they call inflight magazine, a small booklet dated September/October 2016 nothing of the kind we know, but a small family type booklet with practically nothing about Cyprus and only in English. There is no limit to carry ons so passengers carry heavy huge two or three carry ons and nobody checks the size of weight of these carry ons.

Route: Larnaca to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air China

Title: "missed the connecting flight"

Review: Los Angeles to Shanghai via Beijing. The flight arrived late into Beijing and I missed the connecting flight to Los Angeles. They made everyone wait in an area for forty minutes, then put everyone in a bus that got lost twice and took ninety minutes to get to a hotel. No food was provided, my bathroom had no shower door and had a clogged sink. I was the only Caucasian amongst all Chinese. Not a word of English was spoken. When flying from Los Angeles to Shanghai five days earlier the same thing occurred. My flight from Shanghai to Beijing was cancelled due to weather and I was forced to spend the night in Beijing. Rather than accept their accommodation I took the money they offered, forty six dollars and found a four star hotel that cost $250. Air Canada had its passengers stay at the same, pricey but reasonable, hotel. The following day, after spending three hours on the tarmac, without any communication from the pilots, the flight finally departed for Shanghai. Returning from Shanghai I was wiser but no less lucky. My flight from Shanghai to Beijing showed that it would be delayed and I knew I would miss my connecting flight to Los Angeles. An hour prior to the flight leaving I informed the airline staff that I would miss my connecting flight and requested they instead arrange another one. I even showed them flight options on my phone. The answer was no answer. I had to take the flight or be left on my own in Shanghai, not knowing what would happen. I took the flight to Beijing and was then taken to the hotel. I kept asking myself, why cant Air China run some very simple regression analysis to determine the chances of customers making flights given variables like seasonal weather patterns and historic flight delays. The only answer I could come up with was they either do not think it is important or do not know how to do it. Why do airports in China suffer some of the longest delays in the world? As mentioned in the Economist, The first reason is that its airports err on the side of extreme safety. This is consistent with state run ideology. Play it safe. No mistakes, and you wont get in trouble. According the South China Morning Post, Like the rest of the world, the biggest cause of delays according to CAAC is the weather, which accounted for 56 percent of flight delays No one thinks this excuse is legitimate.

Route: Los Angeles to Shanghai via Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "helpful, attentive, calm and polite"

Review: Yesterday we flew from Stansted to Budapest. The plane was supposed to take off at 17.45. (FR1331 Stansted Airport) We were informed that there was an issue that they had to check. As a result they didnt allow the plane to go. The main reason I am writing this review that I was extremely pleased with the staff's work quality. The stewards and stewardesses remained helpful, attentive, calm and polite. We were taken to another plane. This process was quick as everyone was sitting the plane took off. All the staff that took part in this process deserves a huge praise for their professionalism.

Route: Stansted to Budapest

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: ZIPAIR

Title: "business class seats were incredibly reasonable"

Review: We chose Zipair because the business class seats were incredibly reasonable. The check-in process was easy and quite professional. Boarding was easy. The flight was great with the seats that went flat and allowed us to sleep a bit on a 9 hour flight. The food we pre-ordered was pretty good for airline food. The only negative is that the cabin crew never came by to check on whether we needed anything. Not a big deal. We think that Zipair is a very decent airline and hope we have the chance to fly again soon. My wife loved the business class seats. We got to LAX feeling better after a long flight than we ever have. Thank you!

Route: Tokyo to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "Terrible check in service"

Review: I was departing from the Kansai Osaka terminal 2. Terrible check in service. The person was in a terrible mood and it showed. I checked in online and the website told me my check in was incomplete and I needed to check in at the counter. My turn in line came and the person took my passport. He asked for my seat number. I didnt have it since my online check in was incomplete. We had a little dispute where he mentioned I needed to provide him a seat number and I told him I dont have it and needed to complete my check in at the counter. I went to the colleague beside him since I just needed my tickets. He told his colleague to stop, asked me to stop wasting other peoples time, and told me to come back over. He eventually printed my tickets. Not to mention my checked in luggage was slightly off symmetrical from the luggage belt. He told me to adjust it.

Route: Kansai to Phuket

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "never fly with Scoot again"

Review: 1 hour 20 mins stood up in line to to check in, not enough check in staff. When you go the gate there is plenty of staff standing around doing nothing. Approximately 6 to 8 staff hanging around for no reason. Flight had too many Unnecessary radio announcements from Cabin crew and pilot even repeating the same things. Scoot do not give a small bottle of water on a 2.5hr flight, and it is difficult and slow to try and purchase a drink there is only a 20 minute window of opportunity to purchase then you will be told it is closed. All drinks apart from full sugar coke and water were out of stock. If you want to use power socket to charge phone at your seat you must log onto their system and pay $6 by credit card. I'll never fly with Scoot again.

Route: Bangkok to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Icelandair

Title: "if you have medical needs, Icelandair doesn't care"

Review: I need extra legroom due to a damaged knee. To my delight I was allocated to a normal seat next to a window. Staff were completely useless and did nothing to help the cause. Absolutely zero initiative to get the seat changed, didn't even provide instructions on how to reclaim the negligible extra price paid. Only option I was offered was to deboard the flight. 0/10. Be careful if you have medical needs, Icelandair doesn't care.

Route: Berlin to Toronto via Reykjavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Viva Air

Title: "Worst airline ever"

Review: Cartagena to Bogota. Worst airline ever, very bad customer service and they will charge extra money for absolutely everything. Printing the boarding pass (they do not provide copies on pdf or email), seats (there were no free seats anywhere in the cabin whole plane and all of them are cheap seats) even small luggage that fits on the overhead compartment and that is accepted on all airlines, they have smaller measures and will end up charging extra for luggage. This is not a cheap airline, they just deceive customers to rip them off at the airport.

Route: Cartagena to Bogota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SriLankan Airlines

Title: "they will play you like a piece of baggage"

Review: Terrible experience flying with Sri Lankan. They delayed my flight by 8 hours at Male, and then again by 7 hours in Colombo. All this time seats were available with other airlines but they refused to transfer us. My wife and I slept on the cold airport floor since none of the airport lounges had any vacancies and we were afraid to enter SriLanka (riots are going on). SriLankan Airlines staff were explicitly rude and hostile. They lacked basic communication skills and wouldn't even maintain eye contact. They were extremely unprofessional, not only with their work but their attitude as well. Several passengers, especially the elderly and families with young children struggled a lot, and they were given a meal coupon (as a pacifier). Cabin crew however were polite and warm during the flight, which is their only saving grace. The airline is very cheap, yes. But they will play you like a piece of baggage. Don't travel with them.

Route: Male to Chennai via Colombo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jet Airways

Title: "a horrible experience"

Review: Chennai to Amsterdam via Mumbai. I took Jet airways twice. When I went to India, they did everything possible for me to miss my flight. I was there, standing to check-in for my next flight (after almost 2 hours in immigration) but when arriving to the counter, the staff told me it was closed already. We had to make a scandal in order for them to provide another flight. It took 12 more hours to get to my destination. No food or a resting place was offered. No help either. On the way back, from Chennai to Mumbai, I was told that I'm not entitled for any meal at all since I didn't book it online, although I did. Again, no replacement was suggested, besides purchasing my own meal. What a horrible experience. Never again!

Route: Chennai to Amsterdam via Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "I don't recommend it at all"

Review: This is my first time travelling with RJ and for sure my last, i called the flight attendee to help me with the chair because the head moved out totally and i couldnt fix it. He said I'm coming and ignored me all the flight. And my booking was with a snack/ brunch and no one served any one anything. Royal Jordanian is the worst airline anyone can book. I don't recommend it at all.

Route: Amman to Istanbul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: LOT Polish Airlines

Title: "Worst experience ever"

Review: Worst experience ever, the flight from Munich to Warsaw was average, nothing special, but the 'fun' started with the flight from Warsaw to Lviv. The flight was delayed by 1 hour and during that delay the gates were changed 3 times. We were behind schedule by about 1h30m when we finally took off, but it seemed that the captain decided to catch up a schedule and the flight took about 45m instead of 1h10m. The crew almost ran and pelted the passengers with snacks because they couldn't keep up.

Route: Munich to Lviv via Warsaw

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "poor customer experience"

Review: Flying from Amsterdam to Prague on Oct 18th. The boarding has been delayed and real disorganized. The plane was fully booked. I was astonished to see that the cabin crew allowed couple of passengers to board the plane with an open can of beer in their hands. The plane was dirty and service was lousy. Perhaps this is why people are bringing aboard their drinks. Everything looked real cheap (ex. the airticket) and amateurish. A very poor customer experience.

Route: Amsterdam to Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: China Eastern Airlines

Title: "really not that bad"

Review: Taipei to Sydney via Shanghai. We flew return SYD-TPE with transit in Kunming on the way to Taipei and Shanghai Pudong on the way back to Sydney in December 2019. It was our very first time travelling with China Eastern and did not have high expectations, to begin with since reading many of those bad reviews. Here is how it goes for us: Upon receiving my e-ticket, I cannot use the ticket verification function on their website because the purchase was made through the third party. However, I was able to select seats on their website - so that was good. Check-in in Sydney was easy and quick. Only then we were made to realize that transit in Kunming requires us to get our luggage and go through check-in desk again, the staff, however, said that 3 hours layover should be more than enough for all that process. Flight from Sydney to Kunming: spacious seats compared to the newer plane from PVG - SYD, however lack of padding so it's a bit hard to sleep on. Entertainment was not too bad, not extensive but since my flight was overnight, I slept most of the time. FAs were all smiley but felt a bit robotic. Meals (both dinner and breakfast) was ok for us - my husband enjoyed his braised pork belly dinner. Didn't have the alcohol so can't comment on how good or if they had enough throughout the flight. Do not expect to see nice amenities kit here. Check-in in Kunming was a problem due to the language barrier. She kept insisting we don't have proof of residency but didn't relay the message to us. Wasted about 30 minutes on things that could have been cleared right away should the staff able to relay her concern to us than going around to her manager to finally realised she made a mistake. No apologies whatsoever. Lounge at Kunming was just sad and had so little to offer. Flight from Kunming to Taipei: good seat, really good FA service, she tried her best to communicate with us in broken English and we really appreciated her for this - redemption point after what happened in Kunming airport. Check-in in Taipei was easy and she informed us that no need to pick up the luggage in Shanghai, they will be transferred to our next flight to Sydney. Good lounge at Taoyuan Airport, was very quiet when we were there. Flight from TPE to PVG: same good seat as Kunming to Taipei, good light meal served, not so friendly FA, unfortunately. Flight from PVG to SYD: I had the best service on this leg. The seat was comfortable for sleeping with nice L'occitane amenities kit. I have to applaud the FA serving my row, he was thorough. sincere and speaks English well, personally explained the new procedure on landing at SYD even though there is an announcement later on. The FA on my husband's row, however, was not as attentive, she didn't even ask what breakfast he likes and suddenly a western set was served. Overall, I think it's really not that bad and I wouldn't mind flying with them again if there was a good deal. It probably not as nice service in Economy class as many bad reviews point at - but we didn't have those issues in Business class. All four flights left on time. Do notice that the FA will tell you to not use headphone anymore around 1 hour before landing.

Route: Taipei to Sydney via Shanghai

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "a pretty poor effort"

Review: Flew Hong Kong Airlines from Hong Kong to Bangkok. The exterior of the plane was very dirty. The interior was very red and upon embarkation and disembarkation there was cheesy Asian music playing out of the tannoy system.

The interior was rather old and there was no inflight entertainment on board this actual aircraft. The food was pretty poor with just a sausage roll being offered. Every time the captain put on the seat belt sign, the cabin crew would march down the aisle making sure that everyone was wearing their seatbelts. They refused to serve any joy drinks during this time. Compared to Cathay Pacific this was a pretty poor effort.

Route: HKG to BKK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Atlantic Airways

Title: Atlantic Airways customer review

Review: The short journey was very pleasant, the staff were very friendly and the food on-board was excellent. I would recommend them to anyone flying to the Faroe Islands.

Route: London to Vagar via Copenhagen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Azerbaijan Airlines

Title: "flight is consistently good"

Review: I have started to fly with Azerbaijan Airlines over the last 2 years from Heathrow direct to Baku. The flight is consistently good with its cabin service, food and flight entertainment and you can even upgrade to business as boarding. The plane (Dreamliner) is always in very clean condition including the toilets. The only minor drawback for me is the the flight times to Baku (night flight) and 20 hour online check in prior to flight, otherwise I can highly recommend.

Route: London Heathrow to Baku

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "overall a great flight"

Review: Flew Bali to Singapore. Jetstar Asia was an impressive and great airline to travel with. Boarding commenced on time which was great. The crew were also cheerful and friendly. When conducting onboard service, the crew were also careful and considerate. It was overall a great flight and I would definitely fly Jetstar Asia again.

Route: Denpasar Bali to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: LOT Polish Airlines

Title: "not very positive anymore on LOT"

Review: The flight from Amsterdam to Chisinau went very good no remarks. The return flight which was scheduled for 6th January 2022 gave lots of problems, When arriving (21 December 2021) at Chisinau airport I received an email from LOT that my return flight was cancelled and that I had to contact LOT. So I did and was invited to change the date of my return flight. I changed to 7th January 2022 same flight (LOT514) but I was unable to check-in online. I got the answer that LOT had no booking of me and my wife. So the flight to WAW is scheduled to leave at 2.35 PM today and I am still not sure that we have a seat on this flight. I tried for hours to contact LOT but to no avail. I really don't know wat to do. So we are stuck in Moldova for the moment and we are not very positive anymore on LOT Polish Airlines.

Route: Amsterdam to Chisinau via Warsaw

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "I have yet to receive my refund"

Review: I booked a flight with Thai Airways in Nov 2021. Shortly after I booked the flight was cancelled by the airlines. I contacted them to request a refund, which was "approved" and I was told it would take 45-90 working days for a refund. It is now April 2022 and I have yet to receive my refund, despite following up multiple times with the airline. I don't understand why it would take over 5 months to refund my credit card.

Route: Phuket to Chiang Mai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Bangkok Airways

Title: "Fully recommended!"

Review: Chiang Mai to Bangkok. Perfect flight. Boarding and take off on time. Comfortable seats. Very kind flight attendant service. Food & beverages were very good. Smooth landing on time. Fully recommended!

Route: Chiang Mai to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Swoop

Title: "massive delays and unknowns"

Review: NEVER AGAIN! Second time flying Swoop and second time with massive delays and unknowns. Were currently stuck in Puerto Vallarta, didnt have an update about any delays prior to getting through security and to the gate. Now been three hours and no communication whats going on. Were travelling with two kids under 6. We just want to get home. Well 100% never fly Swoop again. For the record, we didnt fly Swoop with intention to save money, it was just the provider that was included with the vacation package booked. We flew WestJet down.

Route: Puerto Vallarta to Edmonton

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: TAME

Title: "worst flight and customer service"

Review: San Cristobal to Quito via Guayaquil. The worst flight and customer service. Dont fly with Tame because the rates for the tickets are not what they say you could be charge more in the counter. We booked a promotional price to Galapagos from Quito, a complete scam. On the way there no one mentioned any extra fees, however when we were checking in to come back from San Cristobal, oh surprise there was an extra charge which was never discussed when we bought the tickets. The response we got from the person in the counter was well is only 150 dollars more you are American you have the money what type of reaponse is that. She just laughed at us and said that there was nothing she could do, she even said that when she goes to the US she pays more for a ticket, which is even more annoying since it has nothing to do with our issue. So at the end our options were or to pay or to miss our flight. When I asked for a customer service number she said is sunday no one works anyway. We were forced to pay the extra fee in cash since they dont accept credit cards either, at least we demanded to have a receipt otherwise who gets that money? Never again we will fly with this scamming airline.

Route: San Cristobal to Quito via Guayaquil

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "Never flying with them again"

Review: Flight crew prevented passengers from using the restroom 1 hr prior to landing. Very uncomfortable situation when there was no warning whatsoever. The seats are old and the monitors wobble when in flight. The food was bad and the other passengers didn't finish their meals. Never flying with them again

Route: Dubai to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Rwandair

Title: "rudest flight attendant"

Review: Travelled with Rwandair return from Kigali to Dubai. The outward flight was okay, food was good and the staff was warm but on coming back from Dubai to Kigali, I got the rudest flight attendant. the seats on the plane are very squeezed so I requested for a change of seat since I was carrying an infant, the lady just shrugged like I was disturbing her. I had to squeeze between two people on seat 5B with an infant, while more comfortable seats were vacant. Carry a book or magazine as there is no IFE. The airport staff are however very helpful.

Route: KGL to DXB

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "We were shocked and so stressed"

Review: We were returning from our trip to Western Canada via Calgary Airport on July 29, 2022. Out of approximately 200 people flying, the agent at the Boarding kiosk, we lined for my husband and me sitting and waiting for boarding call. Prior to that they kept announcing that the flight was full and there was no room for carry on luggage. Not too many people got up to give up their carry on because of what has been happening at the airports with lost luggage and chaos. Having flown to Europe with Air Transat June 23-July 6, 2022 for a Mediterranean cruise, they lost my husbands luggage and we never got it back while in Europe. So when the agent came and asked us to give up our carry on, which they allow to have, I spoke up loud and clear that sorry Madam but Im not going to do that because your airline lost my luggage on June 23 and have not found it plus I have my meds in and what am I to do if I dont get this luggage in Toronto My husband tried to explain as well, but she walked away. Shortly after this she brought her boss to us who without listening to my story, told me to shut up and asked my husband for our Boarding Passes. He confiscated them and told us that where we would be sitting Row 16 there was no room for any carry on luggage, period. He also told us that I was confrontational and aggressive towards the agent and it will not be tolerated. My husband decided to check our only 1 carry on. When he approached the kiosk, a new agent who was told to keep our Boarding Passes, started on my husband. Asked where I was to get me now. I approached with my small backpack and my husband had a backpack as well as personal items. The agent threatened that if I speak, because I asked if I could tell him my story, he will call security and remove us from our flight. He also demanded for us to check our personal items, that is our backpacks, no ifs or buts. We had no choice but to give up our personal items. I flew and was cold through my 3hrs 50 mins flight. We were shocked and so stressed. Never had I been treated like this in all the time I have been flying. Other people had duffle bags, that barely fitted under the seat, lots of room overhead because we saw when people were removing their belongings. We just prayed we would receive our bags, and yes we did. We also stayed and tried searching for our luggage from previous trip to no avail. Finally on Aug 3, 2022 we got our luggage delivered to our home after non-stop calls to Air Transat, we had the luggage dept on speed dial and once a week we could actually speak to an agent. Finally after 6 weeks we got our luggage from our first trip with Air Transat.

Route: Calgary to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "Crew was friendly"

Review: I did win upgrade challenge and I travelled Business Class though the airport does not offer Business Lounge. In the internet you will find information that Rhodes Diagoras Airport has two lounges but that is not right any more. With the new managment Lounges were closed. There was priority boarding, even though we were boarded on a bus. Crew was friendly and plane was in a good condition. We were boarded but we had a 20 minutes delay on departure due to Athens Traffic Controlers. In flight service was good and the copilot explained the route with details. We landed and parked in Athens on remote location but was a priority bus service for the Business passengers.

Route: Rhodes to Athens

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aerolineas Argentinas

Title: "no refund has been paid after 5 months"

Review: On 10 August 2022 we purchased refundable return airline tickets with Aerolineas Argentinas from Cordoba to Ushuaia the port of embarkation for a December Antarctic cruise, returning Ushuaia to El Calafate. Two weeks later the expedition company cancelled our cruise citing ship delays. We immediately cancelled our AA flight reservations. The airline confirmed a refund was due under the fare conditions and would be paid within 120 days in December 2022. After hours of follow-up effort and numerous late night communications via Messenger and Translation apps with service agents in South America and their service centre in Florida USA, no refund has been paid after 5 months. How can this airline sell, and charge extra for flexible/refundable tickets if they have no intention of honoring their fare conditions?

Route: Ushuaia to El Calafate

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aerolineas Argentinas

Title: "lousy food in bad condition"

Review: It was an international flight and I received lousy food in bad condition. It's unbelievable that they don't offer a minimum service when the tickets are so expensive. Never again!

Route: Miami to Buenos Aires

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Nordavia

Title: "never fly this airline again"

Review: Murmansk to Saint Petersburg. Scam of an airline, our online tickets showed that we have luggage allowance. When we arrive, their system says we don't. Spoken to our travel company who have again confirmed the luggage allowance and luckily refunded us the 5900 rubles fee. I would never fly with this airline again.

Route: Murmansk to Saint Petersburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "Would not recommend them"

Review: No one can spoil your day better than FlySafair. Landed in Johannesburg with missing baggage and I was told that they are a low budget airline and they don't compensate. Now I have to buy new clothes and toiletries for a morning meeting while waiting for them to deliver my bag. In addition, the staff on duty that I reported the incident to was very rude. Would not recommend them to anyone.

Route: Cape Town to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Malta

Title: "using Air Malta is asking for trouble"

Review: On our flight from Paris, they successfully lost our main suitcase. When we tried to talk to their office beside check-in desk 1a, their representative was incredibly rude and abusive, including turning her back and walking away.

Not what we were expecting. On the last day of our stay in Malta, they told us that they had located and received our luggage and would send it on to us. Five hours later, however, they admitted that they had lost it again. When they rediscovered it, we instructed them to keep it within sight whilst we travelled to the airport to collect it (an hour each way) as they were unconvincing about whether they would deliver it to the right hotel and were even uncertain about whether it would be before or after we left. In the end, we had the use of said suitcase for four hours either side of midnight, out of a four day stay. The airline also successfully destroyed our other suitcase by virtually breaking off one of the wheels. We received no apologies, no sympathy and not even regret from their people. Obviously, Malta itself is an attractive destination. But if you want to enjoy it, I strongly recommend that you fly via another airline, and watch out for any codeshares; using Air Malta is asking for trouble.

Route: Paris to Malta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: French Bee

Title: "not by flying with French Bee again"

Review: The flight to Paris was mostly ok, except it was delayed for about 45 minutes while police came to remove an unruly drunk passenger. However, the return flight was by far the worst experience we've ever had with an airline. We had purchased extra leg room on the bulk head, and upon getting to the seats there was a large service dog that took up the space in front of my wife's seat (and even part of the space in front of my seat). Not just the extended leg room portion which we purchased, but alk her leg room (see picture). French bee should have a policy that if a service animal is over a certain size, the passenger must purchase two seats. I essentially paid for this guy's extra space for his service dog! (Again, my wife had to move to a seat without extra leg room). When we pointed out the problem to the flight crew, although at least 3 different members came over to look at the situation and all did the "hmmm, I see the problem" thing, none of them did anything about it. My wife eventually just moved to an open seat on her own. When we asked for a refund on the difference in price between the extra leg room and economy seat (an extremely reasonable request), we received the following response: "First and foremost, we regret the inconveniences you had to face as regard your flight BF720 on 04/30/2023. Service animals are trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of a qualified individual with a disability, including a physical, sensory, psychiatric, intellectual, or other mental disability. Therefore, passenger seated next to you was allowed to have his dog outside a cage. In this instance, we must respectfully deny your request." Needless to say, we will not be flying with French Bee again. Buyer beware.

Route: Newark to Paris

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jet2.com

Title: Jet2.com customer review

Review: Antalya to Edinburgh. Flew on this route 10/03/20. Check in at AYT quick and efficient. This is where Jet2 excel themselves. The onboard crew operating this flight were outstanding. Polite friendly and very efficient. All worked very hard and were not intrusive with all the onboard sales. Credit to the airline.

Route: Antalya to Edinburgh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "they barely gave us any information"

Review: First off plane had no A/C so it was hot. They had to wait 2 hours to board while they tried and failed to fix it. We finally board and after sitting on the tarmac for 45 minutes and they decide to turn the plane around because some lady is hot and wants to get off. Sat back at the gate for another hour until finally taking off 4 hours past our initial take off time all because their planes dont have air conditioning and theyre unorganized. This whole process the entire plane was left in the dark about what was happening they barely gave us any information.

Route: Jacksonville to New Orleans

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: " Their customer service is awful"

Review: We are 30 minutes late for departure, but the gate staff refuses to admit we are delayed and will not provide any information. When I asked directly (3 times) the agents 2) both lied and said we were not delayed. I realized this is trivial, but honesty is such a simple thing to ask for, yet LATAM cant even seem to get that right. They should be ashamed of themselves. My recommendation to travelers is to avoid LATAM if at all possible. Their customer service is awful.

Route: Santiago to Lima

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "I was pleasantly surprised"

Review: We flew from Cagliari to Milan Linate on an A320. Check in lines were long but fortunately we arrived early. Fortunately we were not charged for excess baggage. Hand luggage allowance is I believe only about 8 kilos. We left on time and the crew were very friendly. We also were served a drink and a very nice packet of crisps. In general I was pleasantly surprised by the professional, friendly crew.

Route: Cagliari to Milan

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "gave me the last row seat in the middle"

Review: I paid seat selection but they did not allow me to select my seat. They gave me the last row seat in the middle, for me that is the worst seat ever and I did not have a say. Also the food is not good and the entertainment on board is very limited.

Route: Toronto to Lima via Panama

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: "paying for carry-ons is insane"

Review: Genuinely couldn't be more disappointed. This flight was almost the equivalent of Murphys Law in travel forms. What was supposed to be a 1 hour flight took twice as long because we were on the tarmac so long. Also, paying for carry-ons is insane.

Route: Denver to Salt Lake

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Regional Express

Title: "Consistently delayed"

Review: Townsville to Cairns. Unreliable. Consistently delayed and then cancelled at the last minute with no warning. Worst airline in Australia by a long way. If you're booking with REX to save $50 or get a flight a couple of hours earlier/later don't risk it, just book with the real airlines.

Route: Townsville to Cairns

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "didn't even offer me a drink"

Review: I bought a premium flex seat from Hong Kong to Bangkok. The crew handed out meals, but nothing for me. They didn't even offer me a drink. When I asked, I was told that I wasn't on the list. I showed the lady my "premium flex" ticket, still nothing. At the end of the flight they offered me a meal to go. When I complained to the company online, I received an email 10 minutes later stating that the matter was resolved. They did nothing.

Route: Hong Kong to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Tigerair Australia

Title: "Extremely rude staff"

Review: Brisbane to Melbourne. Extremely rude staff working very slow in order to delay customers boarding the flight. Then did not allow to board the flight saying I am 5 min late and tried to sell a new ticket for $220. It is a revenue-generating scam. I managed to change my flight to the next day for $80 without buying a new ticket. Next day when I arrived much earlier they weighed in the hand bag as well and because it was 1kg overweight charged me $40. I have never had a worse experience with an airline ever. I travel 6 to 8 times a year and will never travel Tigerair again. This is truly the worst. This strategy they use will be their demise. Disgusting staff and disgusting airline.

Route: Brisbane to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "very satisfied with their service"

Review: Manchester to Tianjin on 10 July. The stewardesses were very nice and they danced for the passengers in order to liven up the atmosphere. We were all very happy and touched. The stewardesses also warmly took photos with the passengers and were very friendly. I was very satisfied with their service.

Route: Manchester to Tianjin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Eastern Airlines

Title: "definitely recommend this airline"

Review: Return from Taipei to Frankfurt (via Shanghai) was nearly as good as the outward flights from Frankfurt to Taipei. Onboard I was very pleasantly surprised by the attractive and tidy cabin, the toilets were spacious and clean, the smiling welcome. The cabin crew spoke relatively good English and were very attentive. For economy class the food was good and plentiful (the breakfast on the outward flight from Frankfurt was the best economy class Breakfast I have had on any long-haul flight!). Only major downside is they don't serve any wine at all in economy and one has to almost insist on getting a beer - they need to address this for an international airline flying many routes to Europe! The choice of movies isn't the widest either but that's not a major issue for me. I recommend seating in seat 70L and further backwards as the row reduces from 3 seats to 2 making it easier to get up without having to disturb anyone although on my own flights I was fortunate to have the seat next to me free - which also made it easy for me to work. Legroom is pretty good too and much better compared to Lufthansa's A350 which is tight. I definitely recommend this airline and would opt to use them again from Europe in future.

Route: Taipei to Frankfurt via Shanghai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Regional Express

Title: "kindness has humbled me greatly"

Review: Just want to say a big thank you to Julie in customer service! We had an unexpected death in the family & I had to change my teenage sons flights to get him home early. Julie was so kind & made sure the flight crew were aware that he may be a little emotional. She even went as far as to ring me an hour before his flight to reassure me that they were going to keep an eye out for him. Thank you. Your kindness has humbled me greatly.

Route: Melbourne to Mildura

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Saudi Arabian Airlines

Title: "I had a horrible experience"

Review: I will never recommend this airline. I had a horrible experience in October 2022. We missed our flight due to the fact of not providing the wheelchair for my mum and they wanted us to buy another ticket. They don't want to admit their mistake.

Route: Jeddah to Alexandria

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "Extremely slow counter service"

Review: Extremely slow counter service, flight was supposed to take off at 2pm, but people still stuck at the check-in counter. For some reason people could bring in multiple carry-on luggages and were allowed to use other seats' overhead compartments, causing massive delays as flight crew had to re-stow luggage into cargo for other passengers who rightfully had the compartments for their own use. Did the counter crew not check boarding passengers and allowed one person to bring in not only 2 suitcases but also multiple bags? We had a Karen who not only used one full compartment for her 4 bags of souvenirs, but still had the gall to demand crew to leave her suitcases with her when they were trying to stow them into cargo. Cabin crew is trying their best, but people are extremely inconsiderate so maybe have more stringent checks. It has been almost 25 minutes delay now due to counter checking incompetence and flight has still not hit the runway. Do not recommend.

Route: Singapore to Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "hand luggage to be checked in"

Review: Just flew in from Istanbul to Athens on the way to London. The first leg was fine, however this review is about flight A3608 on July 8th 2022 from Athens to London. It seems to have become a habit by airlines to force hand luggage to be checked in which is an annoyance for anyone who is familiar with the wait this results in at Heathrow. The crew are nice and friendly and apart from a minor delay, the flight was on time. I specifically asked for a window seat and was placed in position 28A. Its only when I got on that I realized this seat is on the emergency door and this aircraft type does not support a window on this position.

Route: Athens to London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Airways

Title: "Horrible experience with Jetstar"

Review: Horrible experience with Jetstar airways. I was in a previous flight from Saporro to Narita which arrive at 19:10.

Had to run to pick up my luggage which was slow to come out and transfer on their airport shuttle to a different terminal. I arrived 10mins late despite rushing from my last flight and the check in counter people would not let me through. The flight was meant to depart at 20:50 and I had arrived at 20:00. I said I had 50mins left but that did not matter. This has affected my 2 flights from Narita to Gold Coast and Gold Coast to Sydney. The late fee was stated to be about $1200 plus. How ridiculous is that! And unreasonable. I refuse to take this airline again. I booked with another airline at $528 (which is half the processing fee of Jetstar!)

Route: Tokyo Narita to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: WOW air

Title: "I give them a poor rating"

Review: We were scheduled to fly from Newark to Reykjavik and then from there to Dublin on WOW Air. As many know this company is low budget and a cheap way to get to Iceland and some major cities in Europe. We paid for upgrades seats so we werent cramped and also got the fare that included a carry on and a checked bag. While we were in the front of the plane if you dont buy priority boarding passes its basically a free for all to board. At that point we sat on the plane and waited for two hours until they tried to figure out what was wrong with a sensor on the plane. They deplaned us after two hours. We sat in the terminal for another hour. After that. We waited and it was becoming clearer that we would not make our connecting flight to Dublin. No one on the ground knew the results and what would happen when we got to Iceland and with limited flights out of that airport the choice was do we wait out WOW or get on another flight in Newark on another airline at our cost. So ultimately WOW canceled our flight. As I was on the phone waiting on the phone I got a flight on Aer Lingus direct to Dublin and since WOW canceled our first flight they gave me the option. To cancel the whole round trip flight for my whole family. Which I did. They also said that they would credit me the money for our hotel to stay in Newark for a flight the next day. So I have to submit that claim later today. While I am paying more for my flight to Dublin now Im not out the money to WOW as I have an e-mail confirmation of the flight cancellation and refund amount. So if they try to not refund me I can dispute the charges to my card. Some other notes the customer service people on the 800 number knew the flight was canceled before the people at the checkin desk. They also sorted me on to another plane 2 days later which would have really screwed me up for the trip. The day delay was not a super big deal. Also with limited options to Iceland Id be careful booking tours in Iceland before you arrive. Folks were flying to Iceland and had these expensive tours booked and they were going to be out tons of money. While ultimately WOW made it right and Ill get my money back I would not recommend them at all. However, with limited choices to Iceland if you must fly them to get there wait or give yourself an extra 24 hours before booking those expensive tours that might not refund you the money if you dont get there. If you are just stopping over and connecting in Iceland to another destination with WOW Air pay more and get on one of the larger carriers. They have larger fleets to add flights and put you on other planes. The person at the WOW desk also was very clear that they have no relationships with other airlines. They wont be able to get you on another flight out of your airport unless its a WOW flight. Unlike say Aer Lingus who has a relationship with Air Canada, etc. For all this I give them a poor rating.

Route: Newark to Dublin via Reykjavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "overall I was very impressed"

Review: I flew Virgin America 3 times within three weeks from CHI to SFO and back. The first trip was on Virgin America because it was the cheapest. The second was because I was extremely impressed with the quality of the airline. I flew American on one of those legs due to a last minute obligation on my part and Virgin America is a league above. The leg room is plentiful and seats are comfortable; I'm 6'4" and didn't feel cramped at all. JetBlue, Virgin America and Turkish are the only 3 airlines where I fit comfortably in economy class. There are also power outlets at each seat. Every seat has its own TV screen with plenty of free and paid media options. You can order food and drinks through the TV, a very slick system and much preferable to the old call button approach. Soft drinks are free, but all food must be paid for. However it's reasonable. I paid $13 for a small bottle of champagne and a generous cheese, meat and veggie platter. The staff is very friendly and the cabin has trendy purple and blue mood lighting, modern music and an "interesting" safety music video en lieu of the typical demonstration. It's a fun approach to the staid airline protocol we're used to.

Overall I was very impressed and would pay a bit more to fly Virgin America when possible.

Route: SFO to CHI

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Avelo Airlines

Title: "really ridiculous"

Review: Avelo has many advantages but their "personal" item is so small that neither my purse on one flight, nor my briefcase on another, qualified because they did not fit in the EXACT dimensions (and the flight attendant took out a tape measure in Ft. Myers both times!!). Both were over by 1". In Wilmington, DE, they were not picky, but in Ft. Myers, they were AND if you did not purchase overhead storage--no matter how much extra there was, they would not let you put it there. They have the SMALLEST dimensions of of a personal item in the entire industry and it is really ridiculous.

Route: Wilmington to Ft. Myers

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "flights were comfortable"

Review: This was my third time to fly EVA Air with a long flight and 2 transfers. Having the first leg (DAL-SFO) with Alaska Airlines is great. It was comfortable and check in was smooth. The staff were very friendly. The actual EVA Air flights from SFO-TPE and TPE-CEB were also good. The staff were efficient and the flights were comfortable. I chose a low calorie meal which was great since you get veggies and fruits and protein! There was no selection which was fine but the first meal protein was dry. Most of the time it was chicken or egg whites. My last meal with chicken was delicious though! But this was my very first time that my bags did not arrive. My bags were yet to be located (as of this writing).

The transfer from TPE-CEB was a little bit chaotic knowing that my previous flight (SFO-TPE) was delayed which the airport crew handled well btw. The next leg was also moved. I was not worried since in my previous experiences they always make sure that you get to your flight.

Route: San Francisco to Cebu via Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air France

Title: "Would fly Air France again"

Review: Very Smooth flight. Seat space is very comfortable for economy, 81 cm much more than others offer. Good entertaining and nice crew. Free champagne and a nice dinner with several courses free wines and a pre landing snack. Only the snack was bad and only dry bread. Delay one hour but arrived on time. Would fly Air France again.

Route: New U=York to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "this airline is a good choice"

Review: Khon Kaen to Bangkok Don Muang. Thai AirAsia provides good quality for the money, though there are minor points of criticism. I bought their 'premium flex package', which gave me the option to choose my seat (1C), a meal - even though the flight took only 55 minutes - plus water, 20 kg luggage, and express luggage and boarding. The flight attendants were polite, but a bit too reserved to my taste. The seat was a bit too narrow, and the meal (lasagna) too bland. Boarding was fast, with a separate check in for those with a premium package, thus hardly any waiting time. My luggage came almost as first, so they were true to their promise. For short flights as mine, I think this airline is a good choice.

Route: KKC to DMK

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "They really need to update their interiors"

Review: The plane (737-800) was dirty and in bad condition on the inside, with bits of plastic insulation missing. There was a strong smell of toilet chemical and the seat tray and back of the seat in front was sticky. No PTV. The seats themselves were worn out and wonky. Casablanca airport was a hot disorganised mess, with confusing signs, long queues, nowhere to sit and buses that didn't seem to know where they were going. Food options there were overpriced and very poor quality. The domestic leg of my return flight was cancelled, adding an overnight stop in Casablanca. They ignored my emails and I had to call at 5am and hold for 30m to finally get through - the rest of the time they just hung up the phone and sent messages saying that they were busy. They agreed to change my ticket to a same-day connection on Turkish Airlines, which was 100 times better. The only thing I liked about RAM was the food, which was actually very tasty (delicious chicken or fish). They really need to update their interiors, employ more call centre staff and fix the horrible mess at Casablanca. Make it a place that is pleasant to transit, rather than a hassle. Also, it would be nice if they would stop cancelling flights.

Route: Agadir to Istanbul via Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Icelandair

Title: "felt totally ripped off"

Review: Booked R/T from Boston to Stockholm via Iceland, 6/2 flying Economy Flex. Offered bid to upgrade from economy to Saga/ Business prior to departure. We bid. 2 days before departure, was told our bid was accepted on the flight from Iceland to Stockholm and we would fly Saga/Business class. On day of departure we were told that the flight from Iceland to Stockholm would be on a "replacement" plane because they apparently ran out of their regular planes. Research indicated that the plane we were put on was run by a company in Sofia, Bulgaria. The plane was an AirbusA321. It was first put into service in 1994, almost 30 years ago. Were also told the replacement would have no WiFi, no USB ports, and no entertainment system for the 3+ hour flight. When we boarded it it appeared to be older and not very up to date. After taking our seats in the front row we were offered one cellophane wrapped croissant each which turned out to be stale and soggy. On it were a slice of ham, a slice of cheese, and a wilted piece of lettuce. I've had better food in economy. Then we were offered orange juice, apple juice or water, period. No refills were offered. During the entire 3+ hour flight no one attended to us or provided any food, drinks, not even coffee. I was livid. Icelandair wasted no time, of course, charging our credit card for the $560 we bid. When I eventually complained we were offered 10,000 Saga points (cash value $48USD). I refused, demanding a full refund. The final refund they agreed to give us was $74. Pathetic. We felt totally ripped off and we were.

Route: Boston to Stockholm via Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Turkish Airlines

Title: "Application not working"

Review: Flight from Beijing to Istanbul. Application not working, not allowing you to proceed with online check in, not allow you to proceed with seat selection and upgrading purchase. During check in into airport. The person in desk said that he only can transfer us to emergency seats instead of upgrade. We accepted and received the tickets. During boarding we understand that the seats were not emergency seats. We asked to transferred there. Cabin crew asked for us to pay. We accept to pay with credit card but they did not accept any kind of credit card except of Chinese. Unbelievable

Route: Beijing to Athens via Istanbul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: WOW air

Title: "cheapest airline I've ever seen"

Review: Frankfurt to Toronto via Keflavik. They are the cheapest airline I've ever seen. You are charged for everything, baggage, carry on luggage, all food and you even have to pay for water on the flight, nothing is offered for free. On my first leg of the flight it felt like I was riding on a bus. There was one bathroom at the back of the plane for 30 rows X 6 seats per row. There actually was another "hidden" washroom but you would never know it was there if I didn't see one of the crew using it. Also when I checked in I had a minor spelling mistake in my name, an L instead of an I, and they wouldn't let me on the plane unless I paid 72 Euros, for the check in woman to change one letter. This was outrageous but I had no choice but to pay it. Be very very careful when you book a flight with this company as all the extra charges can end up being more than with a decent airline. Buyer beware and let's hope the consumer speaks and stops flying with this outfit. WOW is all I can say. They won't be around much longer.

Route: Frankfurt to Toronto via Keflavik

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "Very poor service"

Review: At check-in, we were told that our checked baggage was too heavy (limit 8kg/17lbs even though the website said 23kg/50lb limit), and we needed to reduce the weight. We were put to the side so we could move our dirty laundry from the suitcases and put into tote bags (purchased from the nearby shop) that we could carry on. This was both embarrassing and frustrating. The plane was an hour late for our connecting flight. They didn't tell us, but fortunately (after running through the airport), our connection was also late, so we did make the plane. They stopped food service short, so the last 5 rows didn't get any food. This was not due to weather, but just bad timing of the stewards. We still had 30 minutes to land, so they could have quickly handed out the sandwiches, but they decided not to provide service to the last few rows. I don't know if it was due to poor planning of the start of food service, or of taking too much time in the middle rows. Instead of treating us like the rest of the passengers, we felt like 3rd class citizens. Very poor service.

Route: Heraklion to Istanbul via Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "incompetence and lack of professionalism"

Review: My horrible experience started upon arriving at the check in on Saturday morning at the Nassau, BH airport. We arrived at the check in counter and the representative said there was a terminal change last minute. We then walked all the way to the other terminal with our luggage only to be told that they had no idea what was going on and they weren't sure where we were supposed to go. We then waited 40 minutes to finally get an answer and had to sit there until they were finally able to figure out how to print our boarding passes. We finally get on the airplane and proceed to sit on the tarmac for almost an hour! The pilot came on the speaker and said they were waiting for paperwork. We didn't take off until 2:46pm even though we were scheduled to depart an hour earlier! This was totally preventable and not caused by weather or anything out of their control. As I mentioned, we specifically chose this flight because it was a non-stop direct flight from NAS to FLL. We had an important event to get to in FLL and planned on getting there by 3:05 pm as advertised. We were then told that we had to make a stop at ELH airport to pick up other passengers at a different island! This was also the complete opposite direction of our final destination. We did not pay for a flight with a layover, we paid for a direct flight and the attached boarding pass even shows that. After a very hard landing, we were told we had to then exit the aircraft at ELH airport so they could re-fuel. Once we got off the plane, we were told we had to go inside and get re-checked in since we got off. The man at the ticket counter had no idea what was going on and didn't have an answer for us. After waiting another full hour in the airport which had no running water for us to use the bathroom, we were finally able to get new boarding passes. We didn't depart ELH airport until 5:16pm! We finally landed at FLL airport at 6:28pm and then had to wait in a 2 hour customs line since we arrived at a much busier time of day.

The original flight was scheduled to last 1 hour and 10 minutes. It turned into a 4 and a half hour journey simply because of Silver Airway's incompetence and lack of professionalism. We missed the event we flew in for, which ruined our travel plans. I will NEVER step foot in one of their airplanes ever again! This was 100% preventable and not caused by any outside forces. If you choose to cancel another flight, it's your problem to fix it. Diverting a plane that is a non stop to go pick them up was not the answer, especially last minute with no notice! Avoid at all costs! They didn't even respond to my complaint email right after our trip.

Route: Nassau to Ft Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "cabin and toilets were clean"

Review: Priority lanes were respected but there was an hour delay to the flight. I was sitting in the emergency exit in seat 29F which was very comfortable but the cabin staff that was sitting opposite me was not very good - she charged me 7.50 Euros for a Starbucks capuccino and chocolate croissant when in fact this should cost 5.50 Euros as it qualifies as a special offer. Rest of the crew was very nice and the cabin and toilets were clean.

Route: Madrid to Budapest

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "never travel with GoAir"

Review: Mumbai to Muscat. Got two days delay in receiving luggage, no customer care, just list of phone numbers. No response on mails, took two power banks to add it to the luggage, not added and lost. Very very bad experience, never travel with GoAir.

Route: Mumbai to Muscat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Pegasus Airlines

Title: "refuses to refund the fee"

Review: Bought 2 tickets on Pegasus airlines to Istanbul with the special offer: Free changes! This meant that I could change my travels dates without paying the change fee, which was a great deal due to the current global pandemic. However, when I wanted to change my flight the mobile app and web app were both down. I called customer service and was told the system was being restarted and I could only make changes over the phone or wait. Since my flight was that day, and I needed to change it ASAP since Turkey had just announced they would be introducing restrictions and new measures that day. Obviously, I wasn't about to travel and needed to change my ticket. So I asked the customer service representative whether I could change my ticket free of charge over the phone since I had no other option (of no fault of my own). She said she would have to charge me the change fee and I could then ask for a refund which I would get since it wasn't my fault. After sending in 2 complaints and multiple emails, Pegasus airlines still refuses to refund the fee. Not to mention all the money I spent on the customer service call even though THEIR SYSTEM WAS DOWN.

Route: Sarajevo to Istanbul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Lion Air

Title: "A little bit delay"

Review: Makassar to Surabaya. Searching for the cheapest on this route, but finally get this airlines, but finally realize this is not cheap enough. A little bit delay, because high traffic before take off.

Route: Makassar to Surabaya

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Inter Caribbean Airways

Title: "dishonest and careless"

Review: These guys are dishonest and careless. In short, I was going to be the only person on the flight, they decided it wasn't financially profitable for them, so they didn't show up to the check-in desk. When they did, they told me I couldn't get on the flight because it was too late. Even though I had been waiting hours in advance. Instead of doing the right thing, which would be canceling the flight ahead of time and giving me my money back, they were rude and tried to play it off as if I did something wrong. They refused any explanation and walked away. I was stuck in Antigua for two more days because of this. I still haven't been able to get a hold of their customer service to get my money back. This is just wrong. The other airport staff felt bad for me and clue me in on the fact that they do this all the time. Terrible.

Route: Antigua to Tortola

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "gate information they gave to me was false"

Review: Please avoid this airline to book any flights, they give you false information about the gate just because you will miss your flight to reschedule next with double charges of your ticket. 4 hours waiting for my flight and last minute I found that gate information they gave to me was false. I go ask help desk to solve this issue but they just want to book another flight or pay 5 times more extra on your ticket to get evening flight. I spoke with one of the customer service manager but he said just a minute hold the call and after he disconnected my call.

Route: Edinburgh to Stansted

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "service was really great"

Review: What a contrast to American Airlines. I flew Virgin America on an early morning flight from Las Vegas to San Francisco. The aircraft was clean and well presented, the crew were happy to be there and the service was really great. I was dreading this flight as it was in economy, but the crew were so good and the whole experience so very much better than the American Airlines flights I took (in First Class). Clearly not all American carriers are the same. Well done Virgin America.

Route: LAS to SFO

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "shameful and disgraceful airline"

Review: Withholding my money over 4 months on a refund that THEY offered I was offered and accepted a full refund on 16 March. Initially told it would be two months then when two months had passed, suddenly it would be 3-4 months for the refund to be processed. It is now 23 July and my money is still being withheld despite being past the 4 month mark. Useless apologies asking for my understanding when I'm over 200 out of pocket mean nothing to me. Other airlines have managed to issue refunds despite the crisis, I cannot think of any excuse for me to have still not received my money back. I would give 0 stars if I could. Not a trustworthy airline. Absolutely shameful and disgraceful airline

Route: Manila to Ho Chi Minh City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "so nice to welcome back AirAsia"

Review: It's so nice to welcome back AirAsia after almost a 2 years absence since the start of the pandemic. After having had a few bad experience with Malaysia airlines quite recently. I chose Air Asia for the value of money. On Christmas day, flight was on time. Check in at the airport was orderly, premium flex customers perks and priority were observed. Boarding by the zone was very orderly also. Plane is clean and crew were lovely and welcoming. It really pays to get the exit row for the extra leg room and comfort. My pre-ordered meal of Bukhara chicken rice was delicious ad spicy, and it came with a small bottle of water. I was impressed at how efficient the crew worked, and they kept the 2 toilets clean at regular intervals as well. Landing was so smooth too. Luggage delivered in a timely manner and in good condition. For someone who is used to flying premium airlines in business class, I must say this was a very inoressive experience. I think in future for medium to short haul flights, I really don't mind to fly with them and save some money as well. Maybe party is also because, nowadays, many premium airlines cut costs so much that, more and more, they resemble budget airlines, except for the price tag.

Route: Hong Kong to Kuala lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Europa

Title: "Flight was professionally operated"

Review: Flight was professionally operated, it was an economy class European flight, nothing special, but plane was new, well presented and staff friendly. Pay only refreshments which is more and more frequent but still disappointing. All in all decent flight, recommend Air Europa for short hops.

Route: Malaga to Paris CDG

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Ethiopian Airlines

Title: "I am very impressed"

Review: From the start of my trip, till I arrived in the United Kingdom, I must say I am very impressed by Ethiopian Airlines. I had an over 12 hours layover and was checked into a very beautiful hotel (Skylight) with an airport shuttle and dinner and breakfast were provided. Their staff and air hostesses were very cordial. The flight was on time and the pilots were communicating with us during the flight duration. I must say the airline has improved a whole lot from the last time I flew with them in 2016! 5 Stars for Ethiopian Airlines!

Route: Abuja to London via Addis Ababa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air France

Title: "a classic legacy carrier"

Review: A good return trip to PUJ in the Caribbean with AF from CDG. They have a very solid product. Good quality food -two services - and even champagne in economy which is a great classy touch. Cabin crew were immaculately presented on both legs and friendly and highly professional. Additional drinks on demand. IFE is not to my taste but I am not a big user of IFE. If there was any fault it would be the numerous announcements in English, French and Spanish which was a bit much. Also lights a bit bright at other times. Baggage handling and check in fine on both legs. A good solid product from a classic legacy carrier.

Route: Punta Cana to Paris CDG

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: TUI Airways

Title: "2 hours to check in"

Review: Rhodes to Dublin. On way back we stood in line for 2 hours to check in. Then again for hour for security check. Then probably another hour for passport control before boarding. We were three hours early but flight ended up an hour late. Elderly and disabled stood for 3 hours.

Route: Rhodes to Dublin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Virgin Australia

Title: "won't fly them ever again"

Review: Flight from Perth to Gold Coast and return 3 days later. Before outbound, selected lowest bid for upgrade to business. Luckily didn't get it on the outbound as realised while boarding, business class looked terrible and definitely not worth paying anything extra money for. Not even sure if they serve food, likely also need to purchase? Anyways, trying to withdraw my bid for the return flight seemed impossible. Links to cancel resulted in error on multiple attempts. Tried logging in again and select lower bid. No contact numbers etc. On the morning of the return flight, I received a congratulations email on the offer accepted for upgrade. At the airport, I explained that I didn't want this. It was very close to impossible, but perseverance and 2 phone numbers later, I got downgraded (nobody can put you through to this department - it's 'separate from Virgin'). However, still had to complete an online refund request form. Did all that, flew normal economy and received an automatic email reply stating receipt of email and a ref no. 2 Weeks later, no refund. Phoned the number in that email. They couldn't understand that ref no. Gave my original flight details, but they couldn't give me the email or phone number of this 'bid-upgrade' department as 'it's separate from Virgin' (again). It's now 2 months later, heaps of emails back and forth and every single email comes back stating their terms and conditions state it's non-refundable. I've used all my points on Velocity accumulated through credit card purchases to clear all my ties with Virgin and out of principle, won't fly them ever again, if I can help it. Even if they are cheaper.

Route: Sydney to Perth

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: British Airways

Title: "Service was good"

Review: Busy day at LHR and flight full. Lounge crowded but B gates lounge quieter. Flight left on time, very professional crew, greeted by name and executive club status acknowledged and thanked for return custom. A nice touch. Service was good. Food average. Entertainment good. Early arrival, quick processing at JFK. All good.

Route: London to New York

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Nordavia

Title: " airline is very good"

Review: Saint Petersburg to Samara. The airline is very good. The cabin is clean and comfortable and with this always promised food and friendly staff. As for the baggage allowance, things are even better, the baggage allowance is 30 kilograms.

Route: Saint Petersburg to Samara

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "turned into seven hours of hell"

Review: That was supposed to be a short 30 minutes flight trip which turned into seven hours of hell. First of all, to check in our bag at Medellin airport we had to queue for 1.5 hours, as there is a lot of Latam staff at the airport but they are normally too busy to chat with each other. Secondly, after security check completed, just before boarding time, we found out that our flight had been cancelled. All the passengers approached the lady who was registering passengers at another gate for another flight. She helped a few who had connections and asked others to return back to check in area to reschedule the flight. The majority of passengers who did not have the luggage could just reschedule their flights online without leaving the gate area and queuing up again. Yes, this is where another minus one star from the rating is coming. Three ladies who for some reason were standing together at one counter to regulate the queue found a brilliant solution asking all the passengers of the cancelled flight queue to the check in counters again. At some point, I connected to the airport WiFi and helped some passengers to reschedule their flights online without queuing up, so they could go to do their security check again and return to the gates area. The fourth lady (as three others were again busy chatting and laughing in the middle of this chaos) who was walking in the queue was very surprised it was possible to reschedule the flight online. Passengers with the luggage were expected to pick up their bags and re-check in them again. Our problem was they could not find our bag. After a few attempts the check-in representative suggested that it might went to Bogota (how? on cancelled flight?) as they cannot allocate it in Medellin, and he suggested that the bag will fly on the same plane with us, as I re-scheduled the flight online. Another minus one star for professionalism. Full of doubts we boarded the re-scheduled flight. Of course, our bag was not in Bogota upon arrival. Six people working at Latam Luggage Tracking kiosk could not allocate it and after exchanging a few calls with Medellin staff suggested to fill the form and promising our luggage will be delivered to London. This is when my trust in Latam ground staff fell below zero. Again, with mixed feelings of hopeless and doubts we filled the form, staff returned us a copy asking to check the status online. We decided to check the online service immediately and found out there was not a tracking or reference number on the form! The answer was appalling: "Oh, we have not register your form online yet!". Really? And how we were supposed to check the status online without tracking number? Another star off. Meanwhile next two Latam flights from Medellin arrived and whilst we were patiently asking the Latam staff to do their job, I turned around and found our bag among others from the next flight. Guess what? Another passenger's luggage tag were attached to our bag! Latam, is it safe? Is it professional? Of course, nobody from Luggage Tracking kiosk could answer how come the other passenger's name tag was on our bag. They just pretended they did not hear that question. The passenger's problem is up to the passenger to solve it. And lack of investment in staff is shocking.

Route: Medellin to Bogota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Tahiti Nui

Title: "a sweaty 8 hours"

Review: We flew from Los Angeles to Papeete and back with Air Tahiti Nui. Both planes were very hot and the food was not good. You do not have your own air control like on most flights. It was a sweaty 8 hours.

Route: Papeete to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "cancelled the flight to Surat Thani again"

Review: We have booked flight to Chumphon for a big group of over 20 person since early last year but was cancelled due to Covid19 epidemic. Therefore we have to postpone flight to October 2021 but was cancelled by Air Asia only 2 weeks before flight. Then we move the flight to February 2022 but was informed again the the flight was cancelled without certain date. Desperately, we change the destination to fly to Surat Thani on February 10, 2022 and plan to drive back to Chumphon. Incredibly, Air Asia cancelled the flight to Surat Thani again without good reason.

Route: Bangkok to Chumphon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thomas Cook Airlines

Title: "they canceled a flight"

Review: Tenerife to Gatwick in February 2018, they canceled a flight, lying the all day not admitting that and keep saying the flight was just delayed. Online was clearly written cancelled, they were very saying was not true. They lied until 22.30, when the flight was cancelled! We asked if they can give us food voucher and drinks, they didn't. We asked if you could leave the airport and go to sleep paying ourselves our accommodation, they said that they were arranging accommodations for us. Of course at 1 in the morning, they said that unfortunately they couldn't find any accommodation. The day after, the flight was scheduled for 9 am, no one from Thomas Cook showed up until 12. We left again with 3 hours delay, but this time after 24 hours at the airport they gave us 10 euros vouchers for food! When we arrived in London they gave us a paper saying they apologies and they will give us a refund of £200 each, plus expenses. And we are July now, and it's since February that I am trying to speak with them, sent I don't even remember how many emails, called the customer service, wrote on Twitter - they never got back to me.

Route: Tenerife to Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "refusing to offer me a refund"

Review: I asked for a refund for unnecessary costs incurred on July 9, 2021. The original flight was scheduled for July 8, 2021 and I had obtained a COVID test on July 6th which was negative. The flight from West Palm Beach to Washington was delayed about one hour and a half due to bad weather and therefore the connection to Toronto was missed by a few minutes. The notation on the display boards indicated that it was still boarding but it had departed by the time I got to the gate. I feel that the airlines must know that there are people wanting to connect on any flight and know which flights are delayed and which flights are arriving, therefore could have waited about 15 minutes to half an hour longer. A United Airlines customer service representative confirmed me on the earliest flight possible to Toronto which was the next day at 4:30 p.m. Was that the first possible flight with any airline or any connection? SO I had to stay at a hotel in the Dulles area from July 8th to July 9th. When I got to the Air Canada check in the next day I was still within the 72 hour limit for the COVID test and the attendant told me that they went by the flight departure time - which I had no control over - which was 4:30 p.m. a time difference of only a few hours. SO I had to take a RAPID COVID TEST which cost $250 U.S. at the Dulles airport right then. Since the world has been battling this pandemic for over a year now, there has been a practice of quarantining for 14 days as the virus take 14 days to be established. Therefore why would another test on July 9th, show anything but a negative result? I now have paid close to $500 U.S. for the two tests with a last vaccination date of April 1, 2021. I do not want to pay this extra $250 simply because the person at the check-in was young and overly officious, and making a capricious and arbitrary decision. They are refusing to offer me a refund of $450 Canadian for the hotel stay on July 8th and a second Covid test on July 9th.

Route: West Palm Beach to Toronto via Washington

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Onur Air

Title: "do not book with this airline"

Review: Kayseri to Istanbul. I had flights booked with Onur Air both in April and May 2017. Both times my husband and I arrived at the airport to find out our flight had been cancelled several weeks before and we were not informed. The airlines claims that they sent an email or SMS, they even verified that they did have our correct contact information, but we searched through every single email and SMS we had and there was absolutely nothing letting us know our flight had been cancelled. The first time it happened we were luckily able to get on another flight 1 hour later. This time, all flights to our destination are booked for the entire day. Meaning, we will have to wait until the next day for a flight (spending money on another night at a hotel and each having to take an unpaid day off of work). This is unacceptable and I advise that you do not book with this airline. It's a disgrace.

Route: Kayseri to Istanbul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "Not helpful at all"

Review:

Vancouver to Cancun via Mexico City with Interjet. Not good. Cancelled the direct flight, offered to re-book us via Mexico City adding about four hours travel time. The flight to Mexico City was delayed an hour and no time was made up to catch our connection. Nor was any effort made to get us to our connection or rebook us on another flight which could have been done while we were in the air. The desk wasn't really interested and seemed indifferent and had a lot of people on the same flight to rebook to Cancun. Not helpful at all and only one person who kept getting called away could rebook the flight. They delayed us another six hours and offered nothing else to keep us occupied for these hours. In summary, if you want a flight somewhat resembling the flight you initially booked don't flight with Interjet haha. Enjoy another airline that will help keep your holiday on schedule.

Route: Vancouver to Cancun via Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Bangkok Airways

Title: "Id recommend them"

Review: Phnom Penh to Bangkok. Nice check in, dedicated counter. Lovely lounge with comfortable chairs and good food. Boarding was good. Then we sat. And sat. And sat. At least an hour, waiting for approval to take off took a long time. FA were fine, not overly pro-active but pleasant, there was only three of us in business. The food, choice of two, was awful, Awful, poor quality hot meal, what a shame. Three course yuk, even dessert was dreadful, We parked in an outer area and had a mini bus take the three of us to arrivals. We had been given an express pass so immigration was quick and our bags were off early. We were out of the airport in 20 minutes, Id recommend them but I think Id go economy next time.

Route: Phnom Penh to Bangkok

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: airBaltic

Title: "painfully slow customer service"

Review: Flew Riga to Kiev. Apart from painfully slow customer service on-board, another deceptive and annoying thing is requirement to pay for adjacent seat allocation within the same booking. I know this tactic has been previously employed by some low costers but it was then pulled due to negative publicity and complaints from customers. Hopefully the same will ultimately happen with airBaltic.

Route: Riga to Kiev

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vistara

Title: "appreciate these kind efforts"

Review: I recently took a trip to Srinagar and on my way back lost my phone at the airport just a while before the boarding. I panicked to find my phone everywhere which was noted by one of the Vistara airport staff named tabasshum who without any questions helped us look for our phone. Another of the airport staff member Suhaib also helped us a lot to find our phone. Both of these members helped us incredibly and sent us our phone back to Mumbai within 24hrs. They were constantly in touch with us till we got our phone and helped us with all the formalities procedures to get the phone. We are very grateful to both Vistara airlines and specially grateful to these to staff members Suhaib and Tabasshum from Srinagar airport. We really appreciate these kind efforts. And wish to fly again with vistara airlines.

Route: SXR to MUM via DEL

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: TAP Portugal

Title: "a very chaotic boarding"

Review: Plane left late, we had to take the bus to a very remote stand, we were closed in a bus filled with people before entering the plane for more than 10 minutes, boarding was very long and people were not well managed. In all a very chaotic boarding developed in a smooth flight experience.

Route: Lisbon to Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Tigerair

Title: "an okay experience"

Review: Ningbo to Singapore with Tigerair, and the flight was okay, staff was unfriendly and didn't smile but I didn't have to interact with them except hello and goodbye, both of which went unanswered. The departure was a bit delayed (30 minutes) but we arrived in Singapore almost on time. Seats were quite comfortable, nice magazine to read. I would fly with them again if the flight is cheap enough, as overall it was an okay experience.

Route: NGB to SIN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Dolomiti

Title: "Never again with this airline"

Review: The worst experience ever! Flight Florence-Frankfurt was canceled half an hour before departure! We were already on the gate. Had to go back and wait 5 hours at the airport until the airline rerouted the flight. They decided to fly us from Verona. We waited hours for the bus then they book us a cheap ugly dirty hotel where they put us in the rooms a bag with disgusting sandwiches. They didnt arrange for our transfer from hotel to airport next day. We had to pay for the taxi! Never again with this airline!

Route: Florence to Larnaca via Frankfurt

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Wingo

Title: "Worst airline you can pick"

Review: Worst airline you can pick, they will overcharge everything, bad service, very slow. Just one of those airlines to always avoid. Choose anything but this, do yourself this favor.

Route: Bogota to Cartagena

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Bangkok Airways

Title: "FAs were professional, pleasant"

Review: Yangon to Bangkok. Outbound flight was uneventful, boarding a bit organized via announced zones though a few managed to jump the queue. Inbound was better (although the boarding gate was noisy due to the squeaking sound coming from the escalator above Gate D5, I wish they could fix that very soon). In-flight service was OK although because of the air turbulence, outbound service for hot beverage was cancelled while inbound had to be rushed and was amazed how the FAs managed to balance pouring hot beverages between rows without spilling on customers. Were served hot meals even for a short flight. Plane was maintained well, although it would help if even TV programs are available as IFE. FAs were professional, pleasant and spoke good English. Will fly Bangkok Airways again. Lastly, their lounge access given to Economy passengers was indeed pleasantly welcomed. The area got crowded at some point but food and beverages were refilled quickly and some passengers who left their used utensils on the limited tables were swiftly cleared by the staff.

Route: Yangon to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "canceled and rescheduled up to 4 days after"

Review: Horrible experience, the flight was delayed 3 hours and they said it was a "slight" delay because the previous flight had landed late. Then the flight was delayed another 3 hours and they blamed it on the weather. Finally, the flight was canceled and rescheduled up to 4 days after the original flight. The company provided no accommodation and customer service never answered the phone.

Route: Montreal to Vancouver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Virgin Australia

Title: "a good experience"

Review: I enjoyed the trip. Check in was easy, as was the bag drop at Melbourne Airport. The flight was slightly delayed, but it was no big deal. The staff were friendly and helpful. The cost only included beverage or food and water, but for such a short flight that was no big deal. Overall a good experience.

Route: Melbourne to Hobart

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Canada

Title: "We had no seats assigned"

Review: My party of 5 booked with Air Canada to fly from Las Vegas to Vancouver and Vancouver to Sydney in October 2022. I was travelling with my elderly parents and paid more to get the premium seats with extra leg room for all persons in our party. I also chose the flights to ensure our transit and waiting times were not too long, as our party and especially my elderly parents would not cope well long transit times. In November 2022, I received notification due to change in flight schedules, our new flight and transit time in Vancouver would now be 12 hours. This would not work for us, and based on the Air Canada email I would log onto the Air Canada notification I would log onto the Air Canada website and make changes to the new flights or request a refund if the new schedule did I work. It seemed there were no other flights or information available for me to reschedule and so I wanted to cancel our flights to book with another airline, to get a refund the website said to contact Air Canada. This is when I found out there is NO WAY to communicate with Air Canada outside of Canada and the US. I searched all over the internet and only found numbers for people within Canada and US. At my wits end, I posted a message on the Air Canada Facebook. I got a response, and I explained the situation with my parents and that a 12 hours transit time was not workable for my situation, and if there were any other flights available with shorter transit times. I didn't get a response for 4 weeks, and had to continually send messages via Facebook. I informed them of the urgency and the need for a response, I requested that if flights with shorter time I wanted a refund, so I could purchase tickets with another airline. I got a response. I explained that the final leg of my flight from Vancouver to Sydney we had bought specific seats in row 18 with extra leg room, and wanted to confirm these seats were still ours. I was assured that seeing that flight and plane had not changed, so our booking and seats remained the same. I breathed a sigh of relief. All this took 2 months! Then at the end of Feb 2023, about 9 weeks before I was due to leave for my holiday, I received another notification that my flights had once again been rescheduled to the 12 hours transit schedule! I was furious and distressed and once again, had to message Air Canada to explain the situation again, and why a 12 hour transit time did not work and posed a risk to my parents health. I also requested a confirmation that our purchased seats had not changed. I got a response on Facebook and our flights were once again moved to the flights that I had been rescheduled to. They could not explain by my flights had been moved to the 12 hours transit time! Then in May 2023 24 hours before our flight was due to leave from Las Vegas

> Vancouver > to Sydney I got the standard check-in email for our flights. I logged in and to my surprise, the seats in row 18 we have purchase 8 months ago were no longer our seats. We had no seats assigned let alone seats with extra leg room. On the app I got a message that if I wanted extra leg room, I would need to pay $164 per seat. The seats in row 18 were no longer available. I spent 30 minutes on hold and another 30 minutes with the person on the phone, who confirmed I had purchased there seats 8 months ago, but couldn't explain these seats were no longer available.

Route: Vancouver to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: CityJet

Title: "attitude is appalling

Review: I turned up at the airport, CityJet ticket in hand, but was informed that my Nantes to London City flight was cancelled. As nobody else was there complaining, and I was at the desk for an hour, I can only assume that the flight didn't have enough passengers to make flying financially viable. The plane was due to leave London at 0905 to arrive at my departure airport, but never left. Ordering and paying for the ticket was done online and emails had been received from Cityjet prior to the departure date, however they did not email at any time telling me the flight was cancelled and by the time I found out, at the airport, it was too late to book another flight with Flybe and there were no other flights that day. I was going to London to a concert, tickets for which had cost over £100, there are also no tickets available for subsequent dates. Cityjet's attitude to their customers in this case is appalling, it has ruined a much anticipated event and day out all because of a failure to act in the customers interest. Customer service has taken a back seat due to laziness. Myself and my wife travel this route or Gatwick on a weekly basis using Cityjet or Easyjet, we both agree that Easyjet will be getting 100% of our custom from now on.

Route: NTE to LCY

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "very disappointed customer"

Review: San Francisco to Denver. Very disappointed customer. I've been a huge champion of the Virgin American brand up to this point. My entire experience checking into this flight was miserable. It started when I tried to check into my flight online but wasn't able to. After an hour long chat with customer service I was told that there was nothing they could do for me and that I could check in at the airport, no problem. So I get to the airport 2 hours early and proceed to self check in. I enter my confirmation code and the screen tells me that there is no matching customer reservation. So I call Virgin customer service and they are no help. They tell me to go to the Alaska terminal because that is where my flight was originally booked. So I start the process to head to the international terminal. I'm freaking out at this point that I may miss the flight. I decide to call Alaska customer service before making the trek to the other terminal. The customer service for Alaska was very helpful and the one saving grace of this experience. They told me to go back to the Virgin terminal and try the self check in again. Still no luck. Then they tell me to find a Rep. The Rep who was manning the lines was terrible and unfriendly. She told me I needed to wait in the full check-in line. The line took 40 minutes and it was only 15 people long. Finally I get to the counter and the rep prints my boarding pass no problem. 2 hours later and I'm just making it into the flight. What a terrible experience! Virgin and Alaska need to figure this merger out asap. This is terrible.

Route: SFO to DEN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Iberia

Title: "Seats were comfortable"

Review: Iberia is somewhere between average and budget airline. Seats were comfortable in economy. Entertainment was great with movies and games. There was plenty of overhead space for carry on luggage. I saw the crew come through the cabin twice, once for each meal. The airline cancelled seat assignments at some point, but did not refund my $120. I requested kid meals at check in but they did not provide them.

Route: Madrid to Chicago

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Japan

Title: "horrible experience"

Review: Osaka to Tokyo. It was a horrible experience. We had our flight at 6.35 PM and the journey was only for 1 hour 25 minutes from Osaka to Tokyo but the delay was around 3 hours and they dont even apologetic for this whole mess! Because of this we almost miss our Last connecting trains. They gave such a lame excuse for this problem and didnt offer any other options (except money return). At that time no seats are available on other flights so we had to wait for that flight only!

Route: Osaka to Tokyo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Estonian Air

Title: "crew friendly and smiling"

Review: Very nice and comfortable Estonian Air flight from Copenhagen to Vilnius via Tallinn, crew friendly and smiling. Even if Tallinn airport is very small, connection time was too tight. Smaller aircraft to Vilnius, but comfortable. For reasons unknown there were no sales on this 1h 20min flight. A good experience for the price, and safety was taken seriously.

Route: cph to vno via tll

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Flynas

Title: "I had a wonderful flight "

Review: Riyadh to Lahore. I had a wonderful flight with this airline. The flight was on-time and the crew were friendly. The WI-FI and connectivity were poor but the in-flight entertainment was good. The seats were very comfortable and new.

Route: Riyadh to Lahore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "Till date not got any refund"

Review: Very pathetic customer service My travel was unfortunately was in Lockdown period, so flights got cancelled. However GO Air has promised me in December 20 to refund the amount within 10 working days. Till date not got any refund neither they give proper answers regarding my refund status. I am still following up with customer service every time they are extending dates Very Unprofessional staff, lack of training and lack of Knowledge as well.

Route: Srinagar to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: "one of the worst airlines"

Review: Absolutely horrible! Never ever again. The flight was delayed going and coming back, the staff was rude. We had to pay an additional $100 on top of paying for bags. I paid for 20 tickets for me and my family flying in between two states to Orlando and they were extremely unaccommodating. They are literally one of the worst airlines you can do business with.

Route: Orlando to Midway

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "destroyed its customer service credibility"

Review: While staff are generally friendly on board Hawaiian Airlines flights, customer service for anything not in person is unforgivingly terrible. You will spend hours to get the most basic support like rescheduling a ticket. Their call center lines occasionally outsource to some foreign countries with people who barely speak English and it's very disappointing. Hawaiian for the last decade used to be my preferred airline, but with the death of Island Air and corporate greed caused by COVID you're better off flying Delta or Southwest. Very disappointed with how this company has destroyed its customer service credibility over a few thousand dollars? Corporate greed at its finest.

Route: Kona to Honolulu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Namibia

Title: "most luggage left behind"

Review: Cape Town to Walvis Bay a week ago. Most luggage left behind in CPT with excuse that more fuel was needed. Flew back from Walvis Bay to Cape Town and not one piece of luggage of all the passengers arrived. Same fuel story given. No one can once again advise on when our luggage will arrive. Air Namibia is taking us for fools. No compensation offered when we arrived in Walvis Bay and stayed without luggage till the following night.

Route: CPT to WVB

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Georgian Airways

Title: "unprofessional for an airline"

Review: Tel Aviv to Tbilisi. I had an issue that I have not experienced in the hundreds of times that I have flown, which Georgian has failed to resolve. I booked a ticket and when I arrived at the ticket counter, they were unable to find my reservation. I dug further and found they cancelled it and made me buy a new ticket at the desk at a higher price. I find this suspect as I bought a ticket on another airline that same day and had no such issue with payment or ticketing. As a result, I was overcharged $80 having to buy a new ticket at the gate because they failed to properly issue my original. To make matters worse, all documentation and forms I have submitted to the airline to receive a refund for the difference between my original reservation and my gate ticket price have gone unanswered. I think both to be very unprofessional for an airline with international presence.

Route: Tel Aviv to Tbilisi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "well-trained flight attendant"

Review: Seattle to Shanghai. Hainan Airline not only surprise me with how great their service was, but also let me felt how important a well-trained flight attendant was for a customer with acrophobia, for the first time. Flying in an iron box in the sky is one of the scarcest thing in the world, for someone who have acrophobia. The entire journey will be a torture. My hand sweat so easily when encountering turbulent, and the nervous was clearly showed on my face. I frequency asked for water in my previous trip in order to decrease my discomfort. Even though I told the flight attendants the reason, they still get annoyed sometime. I got used to it, and learn that It just how it is. No one likes a trouble maker.

However, this crew had bring me a totally different experience. one of the flight attendant quickly recognized my fear and asked me if I want anything in order for me to feel better. I told her that I might need a lot of waters to relief my fear. She ensure me the I can call for service whenever I needed. The attendant manager also came and checked on me. Later on, after the captain announced that we were going to encounter a turbulent, she brought me a warm hand towel! I was shocked by how attentive she was and truly felt much better with that warm hand towel. Detail is the king, I was truly amazed by her attitude on understanding my needs. If you do not have acrophobia, you will never understand how I felt in the sky. The flight attendents did an amazing job on comforting me.

Route: Seattle to Shanghai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Transavia

Title: "useless ordeal"

Review: Porto to Paris (Orly). Horrible flight, delayed, incompetent ground staff. First and last time flying with Transavia. Ground staff made several people send their hand luggage to the hold, claiming that the cabin would be full. In the end, over 30% of all cabin space was empty. In a flight that was already delayed by over an hour, this useless ordeal made us delayed a further 30 minutes.

Route: Porto to Paris (Orly)

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: SriLankan Airlines

Title: "service and quality of food was good"

Review:

Overall the aircraft was clean, except the toilets did not appear to have been cleaned during the flight as there were tissue paper etc on the floor, and some items from previous flight such as headphones, cups etc were still left in the pocket. The service and quality of food was good. Unfortunately it appears that passengers are allowed to bring on board multiple items as hand luggage which does not help the passenger say in seat 19 able to use the overhead luggage compartment due to it been used by other passengers who are not in the vicinity of the seat. The ticket says 1 piece of hand luggage with measurements not weighing more than 7 kgs, (exceptions been handbags, computers) however it did not seem to bother the staff at check in or the crew on board. Passengers should only be allowed to store their hand luggage where their seats are allocated.

Route: Colombo to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LIAT

Title: "4 flights, only 1 on time"

Review: Beef Island to San Juan via Antigua. My husband and I flew LIAT for the first and last time. We had 4 flights over 2 weeks and only 1 was on time. Unfortunately, the on time flight connected to a flight that was 4 hours late which meant we spent 6 rather than 2 hours in Antigua during which time we only had announcements that the flight was delayed and a further notice would be forthcoming in 45 minutes. There were no LIAT personnel in the gate area who could give any information. I was very grateful that we were not connecting to another flight in San Juan until the next day. Our other 2 flights were 2.5 and 1.5 hours late and again I was very grateful that we were not under any time constraints. Our first taxi driver told us that LIAT stands for Leave Island Any Time and they lived up to their reputation.

Route: EIS to SJU via ANU

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "lucky to see a difference with Y class"

Review: Business class on single aisle airplanes with this airline is a scam. Apart from the blocked middle seat, you will be lucky to see a difference with Y class seating arrangements either in width or in row spacing. See photos of Row 2 spacing on the UIO-LIM sector, or the distaffful shape of the useless armchair audio commands. Food serving consists of a sandwich wrapped in aluminum foil and a bag of potato chips (LIM-GRU, 4:30 flight), served at 3:00 am.

Route: Quito to Sau Paulo via Lima

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Rwandair

Title: "a very good experience"

Review: Gatwick to Dar es Salaam via Kigali. We had a very good experience with Rwandair - new plane, ample seats and leg room, all drinks were free including alcohol and staff were friendly and polite. On baggage checkin, a novice member of Gatwicks baggage handling staff, accidentally pressed the button to send one of our suitcases onto the conveyor belt without any tags or labels on it. Disaster we thought but were reassured that it would very quickly be found. After several enquiries as to its whereabouts, we found ourselves at the gate about to board, still without the missing case. We didnt want to board the plane knowing it was here at Gatwick, but were approached and reassured by staff that he would make it his personal mission to find the case. He gave us his card and we decided that email would be the best method of contact. We arrived in Dar es Salaam where we had an email from him saying he hadnt yet found the case - our hearts sank as we felt there was little chance of finding it. We had one night in Dar, then caught the ferry over to Zanzibar, where we spent another night in Stonetown. That morning he emailed us to say that the case had been found, sent on the first available flight to Dar to then be forwarded by air to Zanzibar airport where it would be arriving at 4pm that afternoon. We couldnt believe it! So, thank you Rwandair, we have sung your praises since coming back home because it was the personal touch that set you aside from other reputable airlines. We would very much enjoy flying with you again and would highly recommend this airline to anyone considering it. No need to worry, theyre brilliant - go ahead and book it.

Route: Dar es Salaam via Kigali

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "more than 3 hours delay"

Review: Hamburg to Prague. Horrible. For a 1 hour flight, there was at first 1.5 hour delay beginning at 8:00, followed by another last minute delay for a total of more than 3 hours delay. The same issue for the return flight resulting in a missed booked train and getting home close to 3:00 instead of 22:00. Little to no info was provided to the passengers. Found out later it had been going on for a few days. Will not fly again.

Route: Hamburg to Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "definitely worth the extra"

Review: Got upgraded via the online offer system - paid just under 1/2 of the fare to fly Business class so I understand that my review is not for the full fare on this route. This was my only experience flying anything besides economy class - so I don't really have much to compare it too. Upon boarding I got the rearmost row to myself, as there were only three other people in the cabin. The most noticeable thing was the lack of an IFE system in the seat, instead you get given an iPad (in a rather nice RB branded case) with a selection of films and TV shows. The quantity of content wasn't as comprehensive as Emirates or Qantas, however what was there was good - and easily enough for a ~2h flight. Might be worth mentioning that the particular episode of a TV show I ended up watching was censored pretty heavily - I've seen lines being cut before but it makes you wonder what the point of having a show like that is if most of the comedy has to be cut/blurred out. The main point I would like to really commend on is how welcome I felt, as a backpacker who just wanted to try Business for the experience on the cheap I really appreciate how despite obviously not belonging there (considering how well dressed the other passengers were) the cabin crew made it seem normal and relaxing. Even though I didn't get to use the lounge in Singapore it was definitely worth the extra for that flight - however the economy on their A320's isn't too much of a downgrade for me at least, especially considering it would have been nearly 3x cheaper than the full business fare.

Route: SIN to BWN

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "Staff very friendly and polite"

Review: Beijing to Prague. The best airline. Staff was very friendly and polite. Nice safety video. Beverages before takeoff. Food was very tasty. Legroom is big, you can transform your seat into bed. Plane wasnt very old (just 6 years old)

Route: Beijing to Prague

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "a short comfortable flight"

Review: Taipei to Hong Kong with Hong Kong Airlines was a short, comfortable flight. I checked in online and bag drop took about five minutes. There was a slight delay, of about 30 minutes, on the flight. Boarding was very quick as there weren't that many people, considering the size of the aircraft. There was a small meal and drinks service which was quite surprising for such a short flight. The seats were comfortable enough, for such a short flight, and the legroom was adequate enough.

Route: TPE to HKG

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Vistara

Title: "Service was good"

Review: Currently only Vistara offers premium economy in Indian domestic sector. Price is slightly above economy but worth for that. 1st 4 rows after business class is premium economy, seat pitch are good, comfortable than any airline except business class. Priority check in and boarding for premium economy passengers. First they served cold towels which was a pleasant starting. Though it doesn't Matter much but they shared a menu for the flight. Food was good for a domestic flight. Service was good. Flight departed and arrived on time.

Route: Delhi to Guwahati

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Meridiana

Title: "I was pleasantly surprised"

Review: Naples to New York JFK. I flew this airline with caution after the reviews but I was pleasantly surprised. One way with Meridiana for $340 was the cheapest flight offered by any airline. We got a free checked bag which was nice especially after my experiences with other cheap airlines. The flight itself was also nice. We flew economy and I felt like I had sufficient room and comfortable seats that retracted. It was a ten hour flight and they fed us twice, both appetizing meals. I would definitely recommend this flight especially for the price.

Route: Naples to New York JFK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Insel Air

Title: "incompetent as I have ever seen"

Review: Port of Spain to Curaçao. I unfortunately did not pay attention to the reviews of this airline, hoping it was a fluke. It really is that bad! They were unable to fulfil the original flight due to grounding its aircraft cause they couldn't afford the maintenance, they held us in the airport for 8 hours before finally releasing us to go to the hotel. Then the flight to take us to Curaçao was delayed which resulted in further delays and cancellations. As a result I lost a 2 night hotel stay as I was here. Then they held us here even after they knew we were not leaving and upon arrival they had no idea of any of the passengers situations. This company is a text book example of bad business. They are this incompetent as I have ever seen.

Route: POS to CUR

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ITA Airways

Title: "Food was just terrible"

Review: Booked via Delta. Throughout the flight from Milan - JFK. Approximately 25 students socialized in the plane aisles and passengers asked flight attendants to ask them to be seated as they were partying throughout the flight. No one could sleep. I had noise cancelling headphones and still could hear them throughout the nine hour flight. Food was just terrible. Inedible. Waiting to grab food at JFK but we have been now delayed on runway over an hour. What is wrong with this airline and the staff.

Route: Milan to New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "Disgraceful and shocking service"

Review: Our first was cancelled and rescheduled 5 hours later. It left Manila 2 hours late. We landed in Davao and waited for 40 minutes before we finally were able to get off plane. Yesterday our return flight to Manila was cancelled by Cebu Pacific. Disgraceful and shocking service. We along with so many others will never use Cebu Pacific again.

Route: Manila to Davao

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Philippine Airlines

Title: "experience was an absolute nightmare"

Review: Our plan was to embark on a family holiday, traveling from Melbourne to Tokyo. We had flights booked from Melbourne to Tokyo (Haneda) with a three- and half-hour layover in Manila, and our hotels were all set and paid for. 1- The airline made a change to our Manila to Haneda flight, which initially didn't seem like a big deal as we still had enough time to catch our connecting flight. 2- Then, to our dismay, the airline further altered our first flight from 8:00 am to 11:00 am, causing considerable stress. It only allowed us a mere hour for the layover, which seemed quite challenging but potentially doable. 3- To our dismay, 48 hours prior to departure, they rescheduled once again, pushing our first flight from 11:00 am to 6:30 pm. This change meant we would miss our second flight entirely. I had to spend a frustrating three hours on the phone with PAL (Philippine Airlines) to reroute our journey. 4- Eventually, we agreed to a new route: Melbourne to Denpasar (operated by Qantas), Denpasar to Manila, and Manila to Tokyo. However, this decision was made a mere 48 hours before our scheduled departure. Despite the frustration, we proceeded with the check-in process for the Melbourne to Denpasar leg and prepared to leave. 5- Merely 16 hours before our flight, they changed the Denpasar to Manila departure time from 1:00 am to 6:00 am. This alteration left us unable to catch our third flight. The constant changes were causing immense frustration, especially with such short notice. 6- I had to endure yet another four-hour call with PAL's customer service to sort out the situation. They rescheduled our flights once more: Melbourne to Sydney (operated by Qantas), Sydney to Manila, and Manila to Haneda. This final change occurred less than 10 hours before our scheduled departure. 7- To compound the issue, PAL failed to issue our tickets despite confirming the new arrangement. They also neglected to call back as promised. Upon arriving at the airport to catch our Qantas flight from Melbourne to Sydney, we discovered that the tickets couldn't be issued because we had already checked in for the Melbourne to Denpasar flight. It was nearly impossible to locate PAL personnel at the Sydney airport, even with the assistance of Qantas staff. Frustrated and exhausted, we had no choice but to return home from the airport. 8- Thankfully, I received a call from a helpful Qantas representative while I was struggling to reach PAL again from home. She informed me that she had followed up with PAL in Sydney and arranged for a direct Qantas flight from Melbourne to Haneda. Finally, after a day of turmoil, we were able to board the plane. This entire experience was an absolute nightmare! The lack of management and poor customer service were beyond appalling. I'm baffled as to how they maintain a four-star airline rating. I strongly advise against booking with this airline. I'm still anxious about my return journey from Osaka with them.

Route: Melbourne to Tokyo via Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Titan Airways

Title: "hats off to Titan Airways"

Review: Flew to Banjul with Titan Airways as part of the Gambia experience from Gatwick on the 8th of March. Had a lovely flight, all the staff were lovely. We returned on the 19th of March but unfortunately we had on board a drunken abusive passenger, the cabin crew handled the situation very professionally and even whilst handling a most difficult situation they still treated all the other passengers brilliantly. The service was brilliant and all in all a brilliant flight, hats off to Titan Airways.

Route: Gatwick to Banjul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lion Air

Title: "Very bad refund policy"

Review: Denpasar to Bangkok. Very bad refund policy due to Covid19, my flight has been canceled but Lion air refused to refund, only give a voucher valid 1 year. I do not plan to flight for 1 year so it is useless. Spent hours with customer service for nothing. Bad experience.

Route: Denpasar to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "Flight was delayed 4+ hours"

Review: Flight was delayed 4+ hours and no communication was given whatsoever to passengers. It took 2 hours for them to find a printer just to print a document that they legally require to fly. We showed up 3 hours prior to a domestic flight and they were still not able to take our bags on time and print our boarding passes due to system issues.

Route: Toronto to Winnipeg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LOT Polish Airlines

Title: "a delightful experience"

Review: We have had nothing but a delightful experience, despite a missed connection in Warsaw. In flight, staff were professional and friendly. Food was good to very good and excellent beverage selection. Terrific coffee. The cabin was very comfortable. Our flight attendants knew we missed our connection and went out of their way to make sure we knew where to go once we got off the plane. The transfer desk staff were overwhelmed when we arrived so we went to the business lounge. The attendant there confirmed that we had been rerouted to Istanbul then to Tbilisi. We asked if we could instead spend the night in Warsaw and fly direct to Tbilisi the next day. We were surprised to be accommodated especially as we were given a voucher for a great hotel and meal vouchers there. We would happily have paid our own way. We then asked if it was possible to retrieve our checked luggage and were directed to LOTs office in the baggage area. Staff there also proved to be helpful and pleasant. While I expected to wait an hour for our luggage to be retrieved, we were out in 10 minutes with our bags. I should add that you might not want to believe everything you read about Warsaw Chopin either. From security to passport control to random employees from whom we asked for directions, we were met with kindness and professionalism. I would definitely fly LOT again.

Route: Toronto to Tbilisi via Warsaw

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Peach Aviation

Title: "definitely not recommend them"

Review: We flew Peach Aviation from HKG-KIX in late September and would definitely not recommend them. Even for a low cost company, they are not worth the bother though they are quite cheap. I have and never had such a bad experience. There is no web check in, which is a nonsense. To make matters worse, check-in at HKG airport opened very late. (Check-in at KIX was a joke). Boarding was a nightmare. Peach staff didn't even try to organize the queue. Not even sure if there was any staff at all, in fact. Seats are cramped, even for a LCC. Seat pitch is 29" and my traveling partner's legs just did not fit (he's 6" tall). Bearable for 3 hours, but unpleasant. Terminal 2 in KIX is a glorified hangar. It's clean, though, and there is free WiFi, as well a 7-11 for food. Other LCCs use Terminal 1, which is much more convenient. Outbound flight (HKG-KIX) was delayed by 45-50 minutes. Not unexpected for an evening flight on a LCC, but there was no announcement, no information, nothing. Not even an apology. Peach staff was conspicuously absent. Inbound flight back to HKG was cancelled due to Mujigae typhoon. No other airline cancelled KIX-HKG flights, though most were understandably delayed. But Peach just didn't want to bother, so they cancelled the flight outright at the last minute (50 min before the flight!), after keeping passengers in the dark for 1.5 hours. Peach staff was polite but completely useless, and seemed as clueless as the passengers. Again, there was no apology. No explanation at all in English (thankfully I speak Japanese, and could translate for other passengers). We were told to either queue up for 1 or 2 hours until they could rebook us onto other flights (probably the next day, or the day after, with no accommodation or compensation, naturally) or to fend for ourselves and ask for a refund later. Considering Peach's incompetence and total disregard for their customers, we chose the latter option, and managed to book at seat last minute on the afternoon HK Express flight, which got us safely home (and which, while a LCC, had competent staff and kept us informed of delays). Overall, the lesson is, you get what you pay for? We paid peanuts and got monkeys. Buyer beware! Personally, I'll take my business elsewhere and pay a bit more for a better LCC (HK Express performed admirably) or bite the bullet and use a normal company.

Route: Osaka to Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LOT Polish Airlines

Title: "No proper customer care"

Review: Berlin to Warsaw via Delhi. Try to avoid this airline as much as possible. No proper customer care, rude staff at airport. Denied boarding at Berlin airport because of delayed check-in process (received boarding pass 40 mins before flying) and delayed security check even we arrived 3 hrs advance to the airport, due to this we missed our connecting flight to Delhi and whole booking was cancelled including return ticket. When I asked your customer support team (after 50 mins waiting time), they're simply saying just book another ticket as LOT Polish Airlines will take 7 to 30 days (sometimes much more time) to respond to customer complaints. No staff at airport to respond to customer complaints, you need to reach out to their customer service, which will take ages to connect. I never had such kind of experience with any other airlines. Sorry to say that LOT Polish Airlines is having the poor customer support/service. One of the worst airlines I ever travelled.

Route: Berlin to Warsaw via Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "Delayed baggage when I arrived"

Review: What a shame. Delayed baggage when I arrived at the Paris airport. The representative told me that it would be sent the next day. I arrived on Thursday evening and it is now Saturday evening and I have not seen my luggage. Neither received any calls from anyone. I don't know where is my luggage and I am left waiting for it at home. Even low cost airline provide a better customer service support. I have no idea why it is cited as among the best airlines. It is not even Top 20 in my book. Was my first time flying with this airline and it will be the last.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Paris via Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Saudi Arabian Airlines

Title: "I will fly with them again"

Review: I was really concerned about my experience with Saudi Arabian Airlines after reading online reviews. I am very satisfied with my flight. Ground crew was nice. Flight crew was caring and courteous. No missing bags also. I will fly with them again.

Route: Frankfurt to Lahore via Riyadh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Europa

Title: "didn't refund me for nothing"

Review:

The worst airline. We got stuck in the airplane for 3 hours for mechanical error. And we reached Madrid 5 hours and a half later than schedule. This resulted in me missing my flight with KLM to Amsterdam even though I had 4 and a half hour transit time. When I got to Madrid my flight was gone even though it was delayed another hour. When I went to Air Europa office they basically told me tough luck, and fill out a complaint form. I ended up spending money to book a flight (earliest was next morning), to book a hotel room to spend the night, and transportation back and forth. I also ended up missing a day from my Amsterdam trip, not to mention losing my hotel reservation there because of a no show status. It has been two weeks and they didn't refund me for nothing. They didn't even have the decency to respond to my complaint or say sorry!

Route: Malaga to Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cathay Dragon

Title: "has been downgraded"

Review: Cathay flight from Kuala Lumpur to Hong Kong, which used to operate by Cathay Pacific, has been downgraded after taken over by Cathay Dragon. The overall service was not the Cathay shall have, perhaps this is because it is still a Cathay Dragon flight, not Cathay Pacific in reality. (Is it means that we cannot anticipate the same quality of services even it was claimed under same group?) I do not sure how serious Cathay group is treating this route, maybe you have already downgrading as it is not important to you, but as a frequently flyer between these two cities and cities within China mainland, I shall not try again or recommend to my colleague or overseas partners. KA730 on 19 April, there was NO welcoming drink even a cup of water was requested twice before I was attended (water was asked 10 mins after seat belt sign was switched off which is reasonably fulfilled safety requirements). Wine is no more an option for meal, only on request and only served when asked twice for my second cup, was attended. I can strongly feel the flight attendant was not happy/willing to serve the passengers as they were leaving/walking so fast to avoid further requests. Meal was standard, but without hot tea! I felt uncomfortable as air-con was not strong enough. In my return flight on 26 April (KA727), it was another unpleasant experience with KA. Flight was delayed. I was informed at the HK airport, without knowing reason. I felt fine as I was too early (5pm) to be known, even when a friendly staff at the airport counter was politely asked me to check with the gate for details. I do understand there is always an unexpected or inevitable reason of flight delay, but nobody can tell us what was happened, including staff at the gate. They were not even looking at their customer who was asking for details and kept instructing me to be waited. No answer was given, including the captain and the flight attendant manager, no apology, no info about the delay, they just treated as delay was not happened! The worst part was, when I was trying to use the headset, I found out that the plastic package was opened, and a hair was attached on it! The flight attendant was not felt sorry, and just dragged the headset from me and looked at me, until I asked if I can have a replacement.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Brussels Airlines

Title: "Brussels Airline does not seem to care about passenger safety"

Review: During this Brussels Airlines flight, several passengers were not wearing their face mask. I looked at how a stewardess talked to a passenger who was not wearing his mouth mask for about 30 minutes. Not once did she tell him to put his mask back on. It was surreal. At the end of their discussion, I asked the stewardess if she could ask the passengers to wear their face mask. I complained to Brussels Airlines by email, got an impersonal copy/paste answer after 9 days, explaining how their filtering systems work, how flying is pretty safe, and I was also reminded with hygiene measures. Even during a pandemic, Brussels Airline does not seem to care about passenger safety. I strongly advise not to fly with Brussels Airlines.

Route: Tenerife South to Brussels

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Garuda Indonesia

Title: "served only a sandwich and mineral water"

Review: I paid MYR1100 for the flight from KUL to DPS via Jakarta, and the cabin crew made announcement onboard about they serve so called "meal presented according to Covid19 SOP". We served only a sandwich and mineral water, and from Jakarta to Bali the same. I was hungry onboard and it wasn't a pleasant flight experience.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Denpasar via Jakarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Brussels Airlines

Title: "Last time I fly with Brussels Airlines!"

Review: Worst flying experience ever with Brussels Airlines! I booked a second flight because my planning didn't allow me to take the first plane. So I booked a second plane and paid for it. Then I got an email from Brussels Airlines: "We have cancelled all your flights because you were not on board". I called the customer service, they asked me to pay an extra EUR 40 to get my flight booked again. Last time I fly with Brussels Airlines!

Route: Brussels to Florence

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "Overall, an okay experience"

Review: Flight quite uneventful, although the hard product on Boeing 777 needs to be refurbished: it is outdated and worn. Crew were okay, although they seemed very stressed and exhausted from servicing a booked-out 777, full of families and crying babies I (on a 3-hour flight), and service felt very rushed and inattentive at times. SVO Terminal C is beautiful, but crowded and full of bottlenecks, resulting in long queues at security and long walking distances. The Malevich lounge, though, is excellent. It is well-planned and has numerous comfortable seating with amazing tarmac views and, despite being severely overcrowded, it didn't feel like it. Overall, an okay experience, although much improvement is needed if Aeroflot wishes to achieve their ambitions of becoming a 5-star airline.

Route: Moscow to Larnaca

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ITA Airways

Title: "never experienced such humiliation"

Review: Flight out was without any problems, flight on time, staff very welcoming connection without any hassle London to Rome AZ207, then Rome to Algiers AZ802. Flight return one issue which I am quite concerned the lady from ITA Airways at boarding gate in Rome for the flight to London after desk check in our way to the plane asked for our passports my wife and mine and carried on with very embarrassing questions because we felt singled from other passengers. She was selecting by look and clothes yes so she asked us from which country we come from, my answer was from Algiers, then she asked my address in London then my Job, despite our Passports where both British citizen so I believe this is because we were not of European look. I have ever never experienced such humiliation.

Route: Algiers to London via Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "good if you stick to the rules"

Review: Surat Thani to Bangkok. Overall a good experience if you know how to stick to the rules. Print your boarding pass, no mobile boarding pass, pay beforehand for your check in luggage (20K max) and respect the size and weight of carry on luggage. If you stick to these rules, things will be fine, smooth check in, boarding. flight departed and arrived on time. the crew was OK. Not overly friendly, but who cares, it's a low cost carrier!

Route: Surat Thani to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thomson Airways

Title: "seat pitch is very good"

Review: We travelled on the Dreamliner to Cancun and Birmingham with Thomson Airways. The seat pitch is very good in economy with a 3-3-3 configuration and although the overhead luggage are very spacious and plentiful, you have to be careful that nobody is standing underneath them when you open them, or else you will hit them. There are not enough toilets in economy class with only 4 between over 200 passengers resulting in constant queues, a major headache for people sitting near them especially the extra leg room seats. When we took off, the air conditioning vents that run along the side of the cabins, started to drip. The cabin staff were handing out paper towels to stuff on the vents and on looking along the cabin there were a lot up there already, so obviously a major problem. Inflight entertainment was ok but not very new films offered.

Route: BHX to CUN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thomas Cook Airlines

Title: "worth the extra money"

Review: Manchester to Cayo Coco. The selection of movies, TV shows and music were fantastic, and free drinks. The crew were excellent on both flights extremely helpful. We both received an amenity kit both ways with blankets and pillows. The upgraded meals were delicious. The seat pitch and width were great and the legroom was the best I ever had. Premium is worth the extra money.

Route: Manchester to Cayo Coco

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Eastern Airways

Title: "mattered as a customer"

Review: First time I have used Eastern Airways so wasn't quite sure what to expect however I was very pleasantly surprised at the experience. The price was £98 return Leeds/Bradford to Southampton. This is about £40 more than the cost of driving. It would also take 10 hrs in total driving (especially through roadworks on the M1). The flights were both on time and took less than the scheduled 65 mins. Check in staff very efficient, including fast-track through security (nice touch). Price also included a 15kg suitcase. Complimentary mints handed out at take off and landing, also offered complimentary drinks and crisps during flight. When was that last offered on a domestic flight on budget airlines? The plane as an older turboprop plane but clean and comfortable with lots of legroom. I will certainly use again and thanks to all the staff for restoring my faith in air travel as we all know how tedious it can get. I actually felt I mattered as a customer for once. Well done guys.

Route: LBA to SOU

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Iraqi Airways

Title: "Never travel Iraqi Airways again"

Review: Manchester to Erbil. We checked in with our luggage and showed that two of the female passengers also held a small handbags with them, we showed this at the check in with no problem. When at the gate to board in, one of the female passengers went on board with another family to help them since the family was of one mother and 3 children. When my self and my wife went to the gate to board they stopped us, telling us we had to pay £50 extra for the handbag that was our daughters handbag we were holding for her. They told us we either had to pay £50 cash or they would throw out things away or they would not let us board the plane. They would not accept my card payment at all, even though that's what I wanted to pay with. They also refused to give us any receipt. Never travel Iraqi Airways again.

Route: Manchester to Erbil

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Japan

Title: "disappointed traveller"

Review: Manila to Nagoya. Jetstar Japan is one of the worst airlines I have been on. My niece, along with her children, all under 7 years old, traveling in our party of around twenty people, asked for a cup of water as soon as the seatbelt sign was turned off. Both she and I were refused water saying, "you may purchase water if you'd like", which we did. This at a cost of around $2.50/bottle. On the return flight I was once again refused water. Understanding it is a discount airline, it is unacceptable to be refused a cup of water. Very disappointed traveler.

Route: MNL to KIX

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Breeze Airways

Title: "smallest seats that I have ever flown in"

Review: No frills, no customer service, no wifi, no inflight entertainment no free beverage or free snack. This is a case of you get what you pay for. The basic rates are very attractive, but you need to pay extra to book the seat & check a bag. As far as the seats, the economy seats are the smallest seats that I have ever flown in. If you are tall, you will be uncomfortable, get the upgraded seats there is a big difference! Bring your own beverage and snack unless you want to pay for them on board. Our flight time got postponed 3x in one day until it got cancelled at 8:00 pm. (Related to thunderstorms along the route) It was rescheduled for the next morning for 7:15 then moved to 8:30 by the time we got off the ground it was 9:20 am. Airline offered a $125 hotel credit, which of course there is not a hotel near any airport that cost $125/nite! Our return flight was right on time as scheduled. On a positive note the staff was very friendly. -bring your own drink/snack, download your music, podcast or movie before you get on the plane. Otherwise, you will have to read an old fashioned book.

Route: Providence to Charleston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Insel Air

Title: "ok but not the best choice"

Review: We (2 adults / 2 kids) had 3 flights between Aruba and Curacao with Insel Air in October / November 2016. Fokker 50 Airplane was very old and the interior was in a poor shape. Armrests and seats were partially fixed by tape and some seat backrests could not be adjusted at all or were broken. Some investment in a new cabin would be highly appreciated. From Curacao to Aruba we had a MD83 which was also old but acceptable / good condition. No food and drinks were served but it's only a 20min trip so no problem. No entertainment, but only 20min. The flights itself were smooth and easy - no problems. The landings were perfect too. Cabin crew / ground staff was also friendly and ok. But what annoyed me was the behavior of the airline before the flight. The flight to Aruba was cancelled 2min before departure without any explanation or sorry. 8US$ compensation per person and a new "on time departure" 4h later are not acceptable. The first flight from Aruba to Curacao (connecting hub - organized by KLM) was also 3h too late - also without any explanation. Only the third and last flight back to Curacao was 100% on time. So 2 out of 3 flights delayed. So underlined - Insel Air is ok but not the best choice. Unfortunately there is no real possibility to choose any other airline if you would like to travel between the ABC islands.

Route: AUA to CUR

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Europa

Title: "The Ryanair of long haul"

Review: The Ryanair of long haul. That is to say, bad service, penny pinching and unpleasant flight attendants. I wasn't expecting much, but the meal was even worse than my low expectations. No choice of food so tough luck if you don't like meat and pasta. To drink, a choice of water or water. That was it. No breakfast, though you could pay 3 euros for coffee, not fresh of course. During the night, no water brought round and difficult to find. No attendants were to be found. I asked for a bottle of water before dinner. 3 euros to use earplugs to watch a film! More expensive than a lot of other proper airlines. The only positive - they left and arrived almost on time - I think both about 10 mins late so nothing major. All in all, a really unpleasant experience. I will not be using this company again.

Route: Madrid to Asuncion

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia X

Title: "pay for an aisle seat"

Review: Melbourne to Kuala Lumpur. I request for an aisle seat in the middle row. They say it is a full flight and I need to pay for an aisle seat in the quiet zone. I found out there were empty seats on this flight. I feel cheated.

Route: Melbourne to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Eastern Airlines

Title: "level of poor care"

Review: Krabi to Vancouver via Shanghai . While in Thailand, I was in a bad scooter accident which caused significant injuries to my lower left leg. My employment provides me with Great west life insurance. (GWL) GWL has arranged for my new flight itinerary which included a nurse for my care. The arrival at Shanghai airport. The plane landed and parked on the tarmac. All passengers were ferried from the tarmac to the airport building by bus. I was told there was no wheelchair for me. GWL had pre-arranged this detail with the purchase of the tickets. The flight crew had me walk with crutches to a ramp which lowered me to the tarmac. It was pouring rain and I was offered no cover while I was left there to wait for any assistance. I was very unstable due to having to stand for that period. Finally, a ground crew staff member (Porter) arrived with a child's wheelchair, I barely fit into it. I was wheeled to the airport building. The ground crew worker was yelling at me the whole way to the building saying this was not his job and that I would have to find someone else to help me when we got to the building. The porter took me without care, he was walking very fast, over bumps and narrowly missing other people. I was told to remove myself from the wheelchair and was placed in a office chair with wheels at the entrance doors. I was soaking wet and shivering at that point. I was left there, with no help. My husband began asking the cabin crew staff for assistance. Every single crew member from our flight just looked at me, some of them pointed and laughed at me, but everyone of them just walked away without care. My husband wheeled me on the office chair away from the entrance door, as I was soaking wet from being left on the tarmac in the rain. The temperature was roughly 7 degrees. My husband made several attempts to get help from any and all China Eastern staff members with no luck. Finally, after another 40 minutes, my frustrated husband went upstairs to find anyone to help me. My husband arrived 30 minutes later with a China Eastern staff member. This gentleman took me through customs, he took me to the front of the line bypassing roughly 450 people. The female customs agent started yelling at the porter who was helping me. They yelled at each other for about 15 minutes when the female agent got up and walked away and never returned, leaving only two customs agents to deal with the roughly 450 people. 20 minutes went by and a man came to take the female agents spot. Eventually we were passed through customs. We got to the security section. The same level of poor care occurred while attempting to board our connecting flight. Rude, verbally and physically abusive.

Route: Krabi to Vancouver via Shanghai

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Philippine Airlines

Title: "refunding the same ticket is 150 dollars"

Review: The flight from LA to the final destination Dumaguete via Manila was actually relatively pain free. Seats are uncomfortable after a few hours especially when you are 6 foot plus like myself. Food was borderline comparable to just about any experience you've had in your life when you wish you didn't eat something but I believe just about all airlines serve bad meals. My first major complaint with Philippine Airlines is the cost to check bags. The two bags I checked from LA to Manila were free. Checking the same two bags plus the two my wife had resulted in a 200 dollar fee for the relatively short flight from MNL to Dumaguete. That domestic flight wasn't even half full so not sure other than the obvious greediness explanation why Philippine Airlines charges this much to check bags. My other main complaint is I had also booked a one way ticket to Bangkok from Manila. As the date for that flight was getting close to arriving, my wife's mother became seriously ill and was hospitalized. This event made it impossible to make that flight to Bangkok. So I contacted Philippines Airline to request a refund since I don't know when my wife's mother will recover and we could visit Thailand as originally planned. A one way ticket from Manila was 130 dollars but Philippines Airline adds 50 dollars in fees just to book the ticket. The amount they charge for refunding the same ticket is 150 dollars. Not to mention the hoops you have to jump through with their request hub submission process and the ridiculous 25 to 30 minutes you have to spend on hold when they make you contact them by phone to explain the same exact details provided inside the written request. I'm not sure how these airlines are able to stay in business but one thing is very apparent, customer satisfaction isn't any type of priority or concern. It's a sad situation because the airlines in general and Philippines airline in particular seem to have way more interest in figuring out ways to gouge their customers every way possible than to follow practices that might make them happy.

Route: Los Angeles to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "has been absolutely terrible"

Review: LATAM has been absolutely terrible in every way, we flew from Vancouver BC Canada to Puerto Vallarta and missed our flight due to a cancellation in Mexico city, LATAM cancelled our flight to Santiago Chile on Dec 21 and not a soul in the airport working at LATAM, we had to stay in Mexico city at our own cost in a hotel until they got us a connecting flight on the 24 of Dec. Our return trip from Santiago Chile was no different. We arrived at Mexico city airport to find out our connecting flight to YVR Vancouver had been cancelled, and yet again not one person working for LATAM in the airport was available to help us. Aeromexico was able to book us a flight home to Vancouver BC. LATAM has done nothing to help us besides cost us money in hotel stays, food and phone calls to LATAM trying to get some help. Absolute nightmare. I strongly suggest not flying with LATAM as they have caused my wife and I nothing but problems.

Route: Santiago de Chile to Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "Jetblue is making my blood boil"

Review: I never even got to fly to my destination, Jetblue robbed me of over $1000 and are trying to shift the blame on me. I booked a honeymoon flight for my wife and I back in 2021, which we could not take because of covid restrictions. We were issued travel credits (that expire for no apparent reason) instead of a refund. Now we had to scramble to find the time and money to take a vacation within their expiry period during a global pandemic. We tried to book a flight for a shorter vacation, but the schedule would not work out for us so we would have to postpone by canceling that next flight. They gave us a hard time for even doing that like we were trying to find some loophole to buy more time (but why do these even expire?). Then we could finally cancel it and receive MOST of our credit back and they sent an email saying the credit will be valid until it expires (1 year per their policy), but they did not list the date on the email. I tried to go back and book a summer vacation using point I knew I had and saw those points expired THE DAY AFTER THE REFUND. I called to ask them to reinstall that credit since there was no warning and customer service hung up on me. I called back and someone at the escalation department was saying it was my fault for not being responsible with the credit! The gall on these people trying to gaslight and steal from me! Then when I asked how could this corporation have the heart to do this to someone who saved their hard earned money for their honeymoon that was shafted by the pandemic, they hung up on me again. Jetblue is making my blood boil! I tried citing them to the BBB but they sent some pre-generated response about the BBB not having jurisdiction over them because of the Airline Deregulation Act.

Route: Philadelphia to Turks and Caicos

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "basinet seat is overbooked"

Review: Booking basinet seat has been the terrible experience. We booked bassinet seat on February 2023 via their customer care and when we reached airport to board on April 2023, they told us that basinet seat is overbooked and we do not have the basinet seat. Same experience in the return flight too. We had to fight at the counter for almost half an hour at the time of boarding to get us basinet seat at the end. So it was never double booked but they lied to us. Also, very bad experience with their coordination with partner airline. Their partner airline got cancelled and rescheduled but Lufthansa did not update the itinerary. I had to call them to update it but guess what on the day before flying , they randomly cancelled our booking again with the partner airline. Overall, I spent about 10 hours in one week fixing the airline reservation issue as well as basinet issue. Will never book with airline ever again.

Route: Delhi to Denver via Munich

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Bahamasair

Title: "The worst airline ever!"

Review: Our Bahamasair from Nassau to Orlando was 12 hours late. we arrived at 23.00 pm at Orlando! Therefore we missed our connecting flight LH465 from Orlando to Frankfurt which departed at 8.15 pm. During our 12 hour stay in Nassau we did not receive any information about the delay and no help at all regarding connecting flights. The customer service did not react at all. Maximum confusion at the airport without any gate information. Arriving at Orlando the ground representative of Bahamas Air was unfriendly and unwilling to help. This was our worst experience ever when traveling around the world. The worst airline ever!

Route: Nassau to Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "Worst airline service possible"

Review: Pune to Delhi. My flight was cancelled by the airline. There is no option to rebook, reschedule or refund on my booking. Worst airline service possible. If you cannot operate, don't list your flight for booking. Pathetic.

Route: Pune to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: LAN Airlines

Title: "we wanted to buy better seats"

Review: We tried to select our seats many days in advance in all three LAN Airlines planes we had to take. It was impossible to select or buy our seats in flight 600 to LAX, because the website wasn't working to select seats for this flight. We called LAN and they said they said that the website was working. We also tried to buy better seats on the phone, but they also said that we had to buy them only (which it was impossible). After many communications with them, they checked in for us (without asking for that) with different seats (35B-35C) in the flight LA600 that were different from the ones they informed us on the phone (30B-20C). Finally, we could get better seats at the counter in Cordoba. But their customer service is completely evasive and sometimes rude. Also, we made our reservation some months ago with flight LA952 at 5:00 pm from Cordoba to Santiago, and then the company changed this flight leaving at 12:00pm which caused that we had to stay in a hotel in Cordoba and spend 8 hours in Santiago. We bought LA 952 at 5:00 pm because it was convenient for us, otherwise we would not buy that combination of flights! Also, the seats in Boeing 787 are very narrow and short, that is why we wanted to buy better seats!

Route: COR to LAX via LIM

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "Absolutely great"

Review: Melbourne to Heathrow via Brunei and Dubai. Absolutely great. I was a little apprehensive when booking with what I considered to be an unknown entity. Check in staff were excellent, and having to ask they changed my seat position for my comfort, seeing I'm 6'4". It was the most comfortable seating I have experienced, and service from cabin crew was excellent, they never seem to stop delivering food or drinks and were incredibly helpful and polite. I consider that both inflight entertainment and food were of a good standard, equal to that of more expensive carriers. Overall I found the level of service excellent and terrific value for money. I would have no hesitation in flying Royal Brunei in the future.

Route: MEL to LHR via BWN & DXB

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "exceeded all of my expectations"

Review: Cairo to New York. I had hesitated booking Egyptair because of many poor reviews of business class on routes. There were not any business class reviews for the non-stop Cairo to JFK. Much to my surprise the flight exceeded all of my expectations. The special ground check in took just a few minutes and the ground agent was courteous. Boarding was well organized and I was directed to my seat. There is no first class so this was a business class cabin. The plane felt new. The seat pods are spacious with plenty of storage space. There were blankets and pillows. There is a storage space with water as well as a storage space for headphone. They provide a nice amenity kit with a brush. The entertainment screen is large. There is an extensive selection of new releases as well as older movies. The entertainment system worked flawlessly. The flight attendants were very attentive. They check frequently to make sure my beverage was always full and asked if I have any special requests. The menu offered a nice selection of choices. The servings were plentiful although the quality was not up to the same level as my experience on other airlines in business class. And they brought all the servings on one tray although they did serve hot food separately. All in all, a very nice experience.

Route: Cairo to New York

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "horrendous when it comes to cancelling flights"

Review: Cathay is a great airline if you get on the plane. They are absolutely horrendous when it comes to cancelling flights and being inflexible and unable to accommodate you on partner airlines. My flight in November 2022 was cancelled and they would not let me fly on a oneworld partner. Instead they wanted me to do a 3 day layover and arrive 3.5 days late to my destination. Which is not ideal when you booked a 3 day trip. Only when I pointed out to them that I was arriving after my return flight left did they say "oh maybe we need to rebook the return too then". Ridiculous. There are tons of oneworld partner flights that would get me there on time but they refused to accommodate me on any of them.

Route: Los Angeles to Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Buddha Air

Title: "Flights are always delayed"

Review: Bharatpur to Kathmandu. Flights are always delayed and you often can't even find online updates. Basically, you arrive to the airport in the morning and the delay can be anything from 2 hours to 5.

Route: Bharatpur to Kathmandu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: US Airways

Title: "will fly Delta next time"

Review: US Airways from Phoenix to Boston in First class. My seat and the seat of the lady in back of me were clearly broken. Mine could not have the seatback brought fully up and clearly had a huge impression on the seat from a very heavy person. This made me "roll" into the center right of the seat the whole time. No IFE in first class. For the money you pay you would expect music at the very least. You have to log into GoGo and pay the extra. No access to the Admirals Club in the airport. This is just disgraceful. I was told (after having to wait 10 minutes for 2 customer service agents to finish a personal conversation) it would be $50 dollars a person extra. Outrageous. The food was marginal, not bad but not great either. On the flight to Phoenix it was slightly better. On the way back to Boston both meal selections were olive based dishes. Come on guys give someone a non-olive choice. The made to order ice Sundays were good. When we got in they had a problem hooking up the jetway so everyone was standing for about 10 minutes. In the middle of this, one of the ground crew mistakenly pulled the APU cord which cut all the lights - so we were in the dark. The pilot started yelling at the ground crew (not very professional). Clearly no team at work here. Check in staff in Phoenix were very nice and helpful. Less so in Boston but not bad. Will fly Delta next time.

Route: PHX to BOS

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Delta Air Lines

Title: "impolite flight attendants and staff"

Review: Horrible airline with very impolite flight attendants and staff. Flight delayed 3h with no apology - not recommending this airline at all.

Route: Las Vegas to Seattle

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "they rescheduled my flight"

Review: I booked Vietnam Airlines via Traveloka from Hanoi to HCMC, and it was operated by Pacific Airlines. My flight before at 6.20 am and 2 days before the flight or maybe 1 day since my flight was so early they rescheduled my flight to be at 5.40 am without asking me first if I was suitable for that time or not. 6.20 am for me it was been so early and they even changed my flight 40 mins earlier! it happened to me with another airlines but all of them gave the options to change the date for free even for the Air Asia. but not for Vietnam Airlines. I tried to call Vietnam Airlines but never worked. I tried to reschedule via traveloka but got rejected, called them and they said that I must contact to Vietnam airlines because they had right to reschedule my flight. I've tried to call Pacific Airlines which is the plane that i flew but the CS asked me to call Vietnam Airlines since I booked thru Vietnam Airlines but it never worked. I missed flight because I was late only 10 mins due to I saw wrong departure time, and I must pay full amount and the new flight which is I must wait for another 7 hrs. The seat of Pacific Airlines was even narrow legroom, I must bend my feet if I want to get into comfortable position.

Route: Hanoi to Ho Chi Minh City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: British Airways

Title: "cover 50% of my new luggage"

Review: After several delays and canceled flights, we finally made it to Copenhagen on American Airlines and British Airways flights. My luggage was destroyed, wheels torn off. I had to buy new luggage in Denmark. I made a claim with British Airways to reimburse me but because I didnt have the receipt for my old luggage, they would only cover 50% of my new luggage. Advice, have receipts for your old luggage prior to flying so you dont get ripped off like I did.

Route: London to Copenhagen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Etihad Airways

Title: "consoling messages but absolutely zero/no action"

Review: I received a sms from Etihad Airlines at 1am 1st July stating our 1st flight (EY463) was delayed so I stayed up and phoned Etihad to be told the sms was an error and received an email within 10 minutes from Etihad confirming the original flight time - but this was wrong as there was actually a delay. I phoned again during the day and waited on hold so long that our transport arrived to take us to the airport for the original timed flight so we then had to wait at the airport for 6 hours (not 3). Etihad staff at the airport told us that all connecting flights would be delayed for all passengers so we would not miss our connecting flights. However we received an updated itinerary stating our connecting flight would depart 9 minutes before we were due to arrive in Abu Dhabi (even I know no one can go backwards in time). We arrived in Abu Dhabi ahead of schedule and ran (we are 60 years old) to the connecting flight's gate showing Last Call (after pushing our way through security) to be told that our baggage had been offloaded which is impossible because our plane had only reached the arrival gate 12 minutes before and there were 400+ passengers with luggage so how could our luggage be singled out and transferred to the connecting flight's aircraft and then offloaded in 12 minutes? We stood in line at the Departure/Arrival Transfer desk for 2 hours (I had to ask Etihad staff to bring water for the 100+ passengers waiting as it was 30+ oC in the building) and we were given a voucher for a 5 star hotel for my 60th Birthday but Etihad had not checked vacancies so after reaching the downstairs Transfer desk, we were told the 5 star hotel had no spare rooms so we waited 1 more hour to be transferred to the Ibis hotel. As our final destination did not require PCR tests, we had not been PCR tested (we had used Rapid Antigen tests at home and were COVID negative) so we had to stay in our hotel room and not use any hotel facilities. We had slept through lunch (after arriving in Abu Dhabi at 2.20am but not reaching the hotel until 7am) and had to eat a salad and fruit instead of a proper meal. I even asked for ice-cream and was told I had to pay. (We spoke to other passengers after their stay in Abu Dhabi who were not restricted from using their Hotel's restaurants and facilities. So why were we restricted to our rooms?). Etihad (on Facebook Messenger) had told me that the hotel Concierge would have to contact Etihad to arrange transfer back to the airport 3 hours before the connecting flight but the hotel Concierge phoned many times and Etihad never answered the phone (the phone was busy or did not connect). After waiting and waiting until there was only 2.5 hours before departure I paid for 7 people to travel in taxis back to the airport. I had been in contact with Etihad Support using Facebook Messenger and received consoling messages but absolutely zero/no action. I was told to wait and there would be action but there was no action at all.

Route: Melbourne to Geneva via Abu Dhabi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Cathay Dragon

Title: "planes are really old"

Review: Kuala Lumpur to Hong Kong. These planes are really old. not the first time taking Cathay Dragon flight from KL to Cathay, but discovered that most of the A330 are more than 20 years old, most probably these planes are passing on from Cathay Pacific. Food was just so so, no wine or blanket was offered. The cabin service is fine, no complain. I just wish Cathay Dragon should consider getting new planes to operate.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Kenya Airways

Title: "really regret giving KA a 2nd chance"

Review: On 29.11.2022 I tried to make a booking online for a ticket costing 930 USD for a relative however the kenya airways website showed error after the payment and the ticket was not issued. I bought the same ticket the same day from another bank account. On 30.11.2022 I contacted the KA customer service to cancel the booking in process (for the 1st ticket), the agent promised to do that instead he issued the ticket. He apologized and promised I would receive refund within 5 days, instead the 5th day the money was taken from my account (it was in authorisation status until). I placed a refund claim online which was acknowledged by KA and I was promised to be paid within 15 working days which did not happen. I tried to communicate with KA, however I either received no response or very general responses. I don't see any good will from KA to reimburse the money which was taken from my account because of the fault of their agent. Their whatsapp customer service is a joke, if you manage to speak to actual person the minute you mention refund they cut you off. Don't fly with this airline. I really regret giving KA a 2nd chance.

Route: Kigali to Mauritius via Nairobi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thomson Airways

Title: "a satisfying journey with Thomson"

Review: Gatwick to Montego Bay return, and a satisfying journey with Thomson Airways. Aircraft on the way to MBJ was very clean and modern. Staff are very kind and helpful when you need them to be. Only negative aspect is the in-flight entertainment is very poor with only a handful of movies. Food is okay just like any airline meal. Handling in MBJ is very slow to get through immigration. On the return leg a different plane as it was less modern but still comfortable but hard to get to sleep. Plane was delayed due to tropical rainstorm at MBJ with nothing to do but it was not Thomson's fault you can't help the weather. On the way back there was in-flight entertainment but no headphones so had to ask for them! Ground handling in LGW was okay. Altogether not a bad experience with Thomson.

Route: LGW to MBJ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "wouldnt recommend it"

Review: Terrible accommodations. My seat cushion felt like it was loose. Every time I moved it would move. My tv never worked. There was left over trash in cup holder from prior flight. Very disappointed. I wouldnt recommend it.

Route: Newark to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SpiceJet

Title: "seats were not as expected"

Review: One of the worst experiences on a flight. I was heading out from New Delhi to Bangalore and it was not worth the effort. The seats were not as expected cleaned, the seat covers was teared from one side, likewise the seat which is allotted to me don't had the seat movable button since it was broken, so all through the entire excursion I needed to sit truly awkward.

Route: New Delhi to Bangalore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "will not hesitate to use RAM again"

Review: Paris to Casablanca. As usual excellent flight with Royal Air Maroc. Planes getting old are still very comfortable. Full meal offered on this 2h30mn flight with choice of main dish and beverages including wine. Friendly Attendants friendly and will not hesitate to use RAM again.

Route: Paris to Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Laudamotion

Title: "had to clean it ourselves"

Review: Vienna to Lisbon. Awful service, besides being delayed, when we found our seats, it had garbage from previous passengers. We ask the staff to clean it and they said that we had to clean it ourselves.

Route: Vienna to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Tunisair

Title: "offered no other options"

Review: I booked a Lyon to Tunis, Tunis to Madrid a week or so before travel and the trip was 5 days in length. About 5 day after booking, TU sent me an email about a 3 hour schedule change on the return. This was not acceptable to us and TU offered no other options. I tried cancelling the return but the LYS manager asked how could a 3 hr change effect it and that TU does not have to follow EU rules. Recommend you book on another airline.

Route: LYS to TUN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: SmartWings

Title: "Both ways the planes were late"

Review: Gatwick to Prague return. Both ways the planes were late. Currently sitting in Prague Airport for 2 hours, changes the gates and still no plane. Service is terrible, online checking didn't work so I had to queue with everyone, where only two people where serving. In the plane we didn't get chance to buy a coffee because cabin staff haven't managed to serve all passengers before the landing. It was first time and the last time I will choose Smartwings.

Route: Gatwick to Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "the flight service was outstanding"

Review: Since travel to Southeast Asia has resumed under normal conditions, I purchased a Business Class RT. All the ANA personnel were very helpful in every way. Business Class were boarded in group 2. It was a very structured and quickly accomplished. Flight service was outstanding and very efficiently done. Food was quite good and well presented. Connecting flight from NRT to BKK was a 789-9. Business Class was maybe half full. Once again the flight service was outstanding. I did think the food could have been a little better amount for a 6.50 flight. We arrived 20 minutes early and very smooth immigration and customs. I changed my flight from Business Class to First Class from BKK to ORD. There was no First Class on NH808 from BKK to NRT. So, I flew Business Class and there was no food until about 1.30 before landing in NRT. Once again the flight attendants were outstanding. After arriving in NRT, I was escorted to the ANA First Class Suite lounge for the 8 next hours. Not very many people in the lounge. I was escorted to NH012 and boarded. Only 3 of us in First Class. The most outstanding flight service began. All the Flight Attendants introduced themselves. After the take-off and the meal service started. It really looked as if was going to a feast. I became quite ill and very cold. They set up my bed and gave me many blankets and I slept for about 8 hours. They constantly checked on me, which I appreciated very much. I did feel better when I woke up. We had to land in Rockford due to weather and did not get to ORD until about 6pm. I would recommend ANA Business class an First Class at any time. US airlines could learn a lot from Asian airlines.

Route: Chicago to Bangkok via Tokyo Narita

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "Customer service is a joke"

Review: VOLARIS is a nightmare! Customer service is a joke! If you decide to fly with VOLARIS be prepared to be stranded and not be notified of any changes of any any kind . Volaris is the worst airline. To top it off when you manage to get a hold of a real person all they do is give you the run around and after they hang up on you !

Route: Los Mochis to Tijuana

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: TUI Airways

Title: "£84 just to choose a standard seat"

Review: When you book the flights on TUI website, it takes your seat upgrade money before it shows you what seats are available and what extra space you get for your money, which is wrong! After booking and paying, it said we only get extra 2 inches legroom for (£78 for 2 people). When I changed it, I was then charged a £40 amendment fee. I was basically charged £84 just to choose a standard seat, when Easyjet would be £16. The selfish TUI airline staff also shut the front aircraft toilets to public and kept it to themselves, and all people on aircraft had to use rear toilets. When I complained to TUI about people queueing in aisle and standing over me, I was lied to and told all airline companies have done the same during Covid 19 pandemic, which is a lie as Easyjet kept all toilets open to public on flight in same week. When I complained to TUI their response was the most unsympathetic, unapologetic customer service response I have every received. I will never book a holiday or fly with TUI again.

Route: Bristol to Kefalonia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: WOW air

Title: "a lack of care from WOW"

Review: Cincinnati to Edinburgh via Keflavik. Our baggage was missing when we arrived to Keflavik. We had plans to take a short walk to the bus stop, this was impossible due to the cold weather and our lack of appropriate clothes. We were not asked where our address will be and a multitude of appropriate questions that could have possibly helped with the recovery of our luggage. We were told to check in with the luggage office before our 6:50am flight. The office does not open until 8:30am, we left our hotel early and did not have time for breakfast. (Our flight was moved to an earlier time.. We were not informed about this at all, on any type of communication platform. This caused us to be denied check in. The lady at check-in was abrupt and unwilling to check my pregnant wife in while I was at the (CLOSED) luggage office. As I returned from the luggage office to the check-in desk we were told check in for our flight was closed so I asked to speak with a supervisor who then rectified the situation by checking us in. Me and my wife (34 weeks pregnant) were given the option to hurry up to terminal D (7 min jog). No care, help or advice was offered. It was clearly explained that we were not informed of the flight time change and that my wife is pregnant. We actually asked ourselves to get in-front of people at the security check and when we arrived at gate. We were a total of 13 days without luggage. This is our first child and we were getting married on July 15th. Our wedding clothes and child birthing equipment were in the suitcases. WOW air have stated that we should have packed all essential clothing in our carry-on. We were told to go to Edinburgh airport to collect our bags, at our expense. One bag was still missing when we went to the airport and upon arrival the second bag was damaged. Customer service was really bad throughout the whole process. Calls to wow air were not helpful, some were put on hold, in the worst case we were on hold for 25 minutes and the deliberately disconnected when I asked to speak with a supervisor. Emails did not answer very simple questions. On our flight was a couple from Cincinnati who were traveling to Scotland for their honeymoon, this was the second time WOW air tried to get them to Keflavik. As we were not informed of the flight change and the couple were not on the Edinburgh flight on the 21st of June, it stands to reason they missed their flight due to a lack of care from WOW.

Route: Cincinnati to Edinburgh via Keflavik

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "disgraceful and very disappointing"

Review: It is now over a month since Lufthansa confirmed refunds in relation to a cancelled flight. Despite both email and verbal confirmations of refunds, Lufthansa have yet to honour the refund payment. It is unacceptable that a refund would be confirmed and then not actually paid, particularly in the circumstance where I had booked another flight with Lufthansa in order to return from Munich following my original flight cancellation. I have now in effect paid twice for my family to fly home. What makes this all the more frustrating, is that despite completing numerous Customer Feedback forms on the Lufthansa website, no one is responding to my queries and if any response is received it is an automated one. I have attempted three times to speak with a customer services representative and on every occasion they state that the refunds department is dealing with the request. At no point have I been able to speak to the refunds department and at this stage I believe Lufthansa to not be honouring the refund and frustrating my ever attempt to receive clarity on the situation in an effort to deter me from pursuing further. It is easily the worst customer service experience I have had with an airline. Which is saying a lot given issues experienced during the pandemic. Truly disgraceful and very disappointing.

Route: Munich to Dublin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air India

Title: "One of the worst flight experiences"

Review: One of the worst flight experiences in my history. A 15 hour flight without In Flight entertainment. It is unimaginable in 2023. If the screen works the audio does not work and Vice versa. I pre booked my seats and they would sit us separately saying your flight is canceled and told us to sit where they allot us as if they are doing us a favor.

There was no WiFi in the flight.

Route: San Francisco to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Kenya Airways

Title: "I had a pleasant flight"

Review: After booking my ticket I was very much afraid of all the negative reviews I have read. But fortunately I had a pleasant flight. Both flights departure was on time. Luggage was received in good condition. Only thing that can be improved, may be the food. Some extra items can be added.

Route: Mauritius to Mumbai via Nairobi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Kuwait Airways

Title: "a shame I wasted my money on such a poor product"

Review: Kuwait to Bangkok. Airline is a joke! First class lounge in the exclusive Kuwait Airways terminal is about 60 sqm^2. Food is extremely limited and not much to do before the flight. I was waiting for priority boarding but economy and first class were boarding together in my experience. Wi-Fi did not work for me throughout the flight, in-flight map did not work, no amenity kit, no chauffeur service, and overall seat was uncomfortable. Even the pillow is a joke for first class cabin. Not really sure how people fly this airline but I definitely would be happy making a stop at a near-by country with 5* service as opposed to flying direct with Kuwait Airways. It's a shame I wasted my money on such a poor product.

Route: Kuwait to Bangkok

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "seats not the most comfortable"

Review: Prague to Kiev. Nothing much. The plane wasn't very clean. The seats are not the most comfortable. The water was carried out only once and only before landing. The plane was 1 hour and 30 minutes late. The service was ordinary. It could have been better.

Route: Prague to Kiev

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "Worst company I have ever used"

Review: Stockholm to Antalya via Prague. Worst company I have ever used. Two delayed flights and treated med really bad. I never use this awful company ever again. If you think about flying with this company, do not.

Route: Stockholm to Antalya via Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Nok Air

Title: "excellent service"

Review: Hanoi to Bangkok with Nok Air. Excellent service from start to finish. Clean, professional, even loaded the plane from the rear to the front, so you are not waiting for the people up front to get to your seat. Lots of leg room. No in flight entertainment, but it was less than 2 hours, and even arrived early.

Route: HAN to BKK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: flyadeal

Title: "they said the boarding was closed"

Review: The worst airline ever, I dont recommend. My flight was at 6:55am I was at the gate by 6:00am they were still close, so I decided to go toilet, pray and come back, so I get back to the boarding gate by 6:23am they said the boarding was closed and I lost my ticket! It wasnt only me but other 10 passengers. They havent even announced they gonna close the gate. They do that to rip people off, no refund or any kind of commendation was offered

Route: Riyadh to Madinah

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "many problems are showing up"

Review: Belgrade to Amsterdam. Serious bag and problems during online check in process. They need to fix this at once! Once you have selected and paid for seat in online check-in process you can't go back or deselect them and return to a free one. The only thing you can do and that I found out after calling customer support is to wait for a manual restart of check-in process and that needs approx. 2 hours. What will happen if your credit card is not accepted for seat payment, like in my case, and you are checking in just hours before the flight? Customer support was not surprised by my question like it's something normal. She even suggested to leave her with credit card information so that they can authorize by themselves. Air Serbia looks like a fresh and modern aviation company from the outside, but from the inside, many problems are showing up. Hopefully, management will change soon with addition to government of Serbia stepping out from owner structure.

Route: Belgrade to Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "airline did not apologise"

Review: Melbourne to London via Brunei in August 2019. The first flight was Melbourne to Bandar was meant to be a 787, and when we boarded it was an A320, claustrophobic and uncomfortable it was for a 7 hr flight. Trapped in narrow seats, with hardly any leg room. I upgraded at quite a cost to business class for this leg on my return flight as we did not want to undergo this again. Bandar to London was OK, very average and nothing much to comment, but the airline did not apologise for the inconvenience of the first leg, let alone making any amends. All in all not a good experience, and I would never fly this airline again .. just a 100-200 dollars cheaper than others. Not worth it.

Route: Melbourne to London via Brunei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Arik Air

Title: "couldn't be more helpful"

Review: Left on time for short flight of about 50 minutes from Lagos to Accra. Offered breakfast (egg, sausage and baked beans) with drinks. All nice. Had to shovel it down quickly due to the short flight time. Terminal staff let us down with my freight baggage. Couldn't be more helpful.

Route: LOS to ACC

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Transavia

Title: Transavia customer review

Review: Flight was average. Bumpy but nothing they can do about turbulence. Problem was luggage. They lost my sons luggage. After a day they claimed to have found it in Paris and sent it to Rome. But once It arrived Im Rome they lost us AGAIN! He was without his luggage the entire week. No one knew where it actually was or cared. There was no one at Transavia to help us. No one knew where his bag was. When we were at the airport to leave we went to talk to someone who told us his bag was still in PARIS! We went to talk to another person about who to contact in Paris and they actually had his bag, In a hallway, in Rome and no one knew it was there. So we finally got the bag due to our own persistence as we were returning home from our vacation. Think twice before checking a bag with Transavia. They are completely Incompetent

Route: Paris to Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Avelo Airlines

Title: "Avelo changed my flights"

Review: Avelo changed my flights to days that I can't even travel. I had specific days that I needed to arrive and depart. That was the first issue! Second, I went online (because it is impossible to speak to anyone at Avelo) and canceled the new flights expecting a refund. No! They issued a "travel credit". As if I want to fly this airline ever again. I have e-mailed customer support multiple times and have never had a response. I have called Avelo only to wait on hold for over an hour before giving up. I have never had such a poor experience with any company.

Route: Raleigh to Sarasota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "staff were unhappy and unhelpful"

Review: Hue to Saigon with Vietnam Airlines. The flight time was changed 3 times. However, by the end, it was still an hour late without any notification or explanation. When getting on the flight, it had an awful smell. The flight was clearly unclean beforehand. The staff were unhappy and unhelpful too.

Route: Hue to Saigon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Madagascar

Title: "operated by Air Tsaradia"

Review: Antsiranana to Sambava. Flight was booked in Air Madagascar website; flight was operated by Air Tsaradia, the new domestic carrier. Check-in quite fast; not too serious about little overweight luggage and cabin luggage; due to the short flight-time, no refreshments, fare a little bit expensive compared to flight-time; alternative would have been to travel 12h on very bad road.

Route: Antsiranana to Sambava

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Peach Aviation

Title: "chose to wait for 4 passengers running late"

Review: They chose to wait for 4 passengers who were running late for 40 mins and delayed everyone else who was on time for the flight. How ridiculous is that? If your passengers dont show up, you say no show and take their bags on and take off with the people who are on time! The people were clearly just caught up shopping. I put 1 star as at least plane was clean.

Route: Okinawa to Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jin Air

Title: "Just so grateful!"

Review: We had some troubles getting to the airport and were so worried we were going to be late. We arrived at the check in counter just a few minutes late, but the Jin Air employees were so kind and accommodating. They got us through security and to our gate and we made a flight we otherwise would have definitely missed. Just so grateful!

Thank you!

Route: Fukuoka to Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Dragonair

Title: "cabin crew are very nice"

Review: Dragonair is part of Cathay Pacific. From Hong Kong to Guangzhou is less than 100 miles, but they provide an excellent service . When on board, cabin crew deliver a bottle of water and a cookie. The cabin crew are very nice.

Route: HKG to CAN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Southern Airlines

Title: "thank the staff of China Southern Airlines"

Review: I would like to thank the staff of China Southern Airlines. I might have faced the problem of not being able to enter Thailand. When it was determined that there was a problem with my preparation materials, they actively communicated and tried to find a solution. Finally they contacted their colleagues in Thailand and with the help the Thai immigration office confirmed that I could leave for Thailand. The staff actively tried to find a solution, at the same time asking my colleagues in Thailand to communicate with the Thai immigration office, and through their efforts I successfully embarked on a flight to Thailand. I am very thankful for their help, patience and kindness.

Route: Guangzhou to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Ethiopian Airlines

Title: "seat I had reserved was no longer available"

Review: During my flight in July 2023, a delay occurred. The cabin crew assured us that the connecting flight would wait for Cape Town passengers and that ground staff had been informed. However, upon arriving at Addis airport, I found chaos with numerous delayed passengers and inadequate hotel accommodations arrangements. Furthermore, my in-transit luggage was missing for four hours, adding further inconvenience and the seat I had reserved was no longer available. I must highlight the unsatisfactory state of the toilets. One toilet was blocked, while another had accumulated years of sticky waste on the seat rim. Additionally, the cabin crew's uncooperative attitude in providing essential items for passengers, such as swallowing tablets or providing wipes for hand cleanliness, was concerning. Excessive noise from the kitchen area and lack of attention to passenger needs were also noticeable. I would acknowledge the contrasting experience provided in business class. I upgrade occasionally, or buy extra Shebamiles for upgrading or use Shebamiles. This is where passengers receive amenities like hot towels, menus, and recommendations regarding available choices. As a loyal customer who has flown with ET since 2011, I am disappointed to see the evident disparity in treatment between economy and business class passengers. It is disappointing when flights scheduled to arrive on a specific day are delayed, causing passengers to arrive a day later. This lack of consistency with the DBX-Addis-CT flights is worrying.

Route: Dubai to Cape Town via Addis Ababa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Edelweiss Air

Title: "Overall a great service"

Review: Zurich to Tenerife. Very pleasant experience with Edelweiss. Check in at Zurich is done by Swiss. It was efficient and staff was helpful. Boarding started 10minutes later than planned but once boarding was completed we were ready to go on time. I was travelling with two young children and the cabin crew were very attentive with us throughout the flight. They offered a kids pack with crayons and a a booklet with activities. The children breakfast was offered first and then to the rest of the passengers. Breakfast was very nice, with two types of cheese, and two types of ham, yogurt, fresh warm bread loafs were offered twice with a choice of white and brown bread. It felt like a business class service. During the 4 hour flight drinks were offered a number of times. The seating comfort was good (we were sitting in row 7). Seats had a decent recline whilst also leaving sufficient knee space. The seatbacks had a special small tray were passengers can install and attach their tablets. Flight crew communicated before departure to advise of a slight delay due to traffic at the airport and throughout the flight offering details of the routing and arrival times. Arrival at Tenerife was on time and the baggage was delivered with less than 10 minutes wait. Overall a great service and good value for money.

Route: Zurich to Tenerife

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "did not load the luggage"

Review: Casablanca to Washington. I had a plane change in Casablanca, Morocco. Our flight was delayed for 4 hours. The airlines said there was a baggage handler strike so it took awhile to take care of the luggage. We flew to our final destination which was Dulles International. After waiting over a half hour for luggage to come on to the carousel several other passengers including myself went to the luggage counter. We learned they did not load the luggage on the flight. They gave us a form to fill out and it had a claim number spot. I asked for a claim number and he said to just call the number on the form. The next morning I called several numbers and received no help. They said I should have a claim number. I have spent numerous hours trying to get this problem fixed. I am going to travel back to Dulles which will cost me time and money.

Route: Casablanca to Washington

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "flight got rescheduled 7 times in 2 days"

Review: My flight got rescheduled 7 times in 2 days! Multiple last minute delays and so unreliable. Never fly Go First.

Extremely unreliable and poor management.

Route: Bengaluru to Ahmedabad

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SA Express

Title: "upset and disappointed"

Review: Johannesburg to Bloemfontein. After a 22hr flight back to SA, just wanting to go home, I was told my flight has been cancelled - didn't even get any notification about this. I am deeply upset and disappointed.

Route: Johannesburg to Bloemfontein

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "group of friendly staff"

Review: Melbourne to Xian. A unforgettable journey with a group of friendly staff. Food on the plane are fresh and delicious. Eye mask and earplugs provided are really helpful for sleeping. All the staff provide professional service. The warm and friendly atmosphere made tourists feel at home. Next trip I shall choose this wonderful flight and I am looking forward to seeing them again.

Route: Melbourne to Xian

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Maldivian

Title: "flight attendants were helpful"

Review: Maldivian from Male to Kaadedhdhoo return. To reach my resort I needed to take domestic flight from main airport to local one. Before the flight I was escorted to the lounge to relax. The flight was delayed due to rain and traffic at airport. The domestic terminal was small and crowded. The aircraft parked at remote bay so we needed to walk for boarding. The aircraft was new and clean. The seat comfort was okay for small aircraft, I was put in the front row. The flight attendants were helpful. They served newspaper but only in Dhivehi. After take off, the flight attendants offered juices and water. The flight took 1 hour I really enjoyed the view of atoll through my window seat. The take off and landing were so smooth. The return flight was not much different, only huge delay.

Route: MLE to KDM

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "company is letting them down"

Review: London to Bangkok. I traveled with my wife who is Thai, I am British. Firstly I made a mistake with my booking and I understand that that was my fault but I was charged heavily. What was more frustrating was that I could not contact the airline personally by email as they did not respond. The telephone number supplied did not work either. To top that off my THAI wife got allocated 30kg of Luggage and me 20kg? We were sat together and checked in together and the check in staff just shrugged their shoulders and said "We have no control over that". I usually fly Korean Air (recommend) but this was my first of many trips to Thailand so I thought I would fly with the National carrier. Never again. No wonder they are going under when they need customers post covid I will say that the onboard staff were great though. The company is letting them down.

Route: London to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "there was smoking on the plane"

Review: Tel Aviv to Amman. We had a short flight to connect to Amman to connect to Heathrow to connect to LAX to Fly home. Food was not an issue, but there was smoking on the plane. Stewardess spent the entire time on her cell phone texting , even when announcement had been made to put electronics away. She never once looked up for her phone.

Route: Tel Aviv to Amman

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Sun Country Airlines

Title: "Customer Service was totally non-existent"

Review: Flight on 04 Feb 21, Departs 8:35 P. Flight SY376, Class S. Flight left one hour late getting us back to Minneapolis after midnight. Flight crew verbally abusive. Head Flight Attendant was always and only about control. Customer Service was totally non-existent. It was replaced by loud abrasive threatening intercom demands repeated throughout the whole flight about the masking policy. It made you feel like the gestapo was trying to control a prison camp. The Head Flight Attendant set the abusive tone and all but one of the other staff followed this approach. Just doing this review gives me painful memories. We will not be using Sun Country anytime soon.

Route: Fort Myers to Minneapolis

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "I was pleasantly surprised"

Review: My first time on a Singapore Airlines flight and I was pleasantly surprised by the quality of the gluten free meals offered, the variety of inflight entertainment, the excellence of service, the continuous cleanliness of the toilets and just the overall ease of boarding, flying and of course the airport!

Route: Auckland to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: French Bee

Title: "Terrible experience altogether"

Review: Terrible experience altogether. We have a small child who was sleeping in his stroller and the RUDE lady at the bag check had an extremely poor attitude. She said we had to check our stroller then and couldnt check at the gate. Never heard of such a thing and was certainly not the case flying to Paris. She became quite nasty and was screaming at my wife. In the end, we woke our child, checked stroller and carried him through the numerous check, long lined check points. I paid for priority boarding, but that doesnt matter because once they open the gate, everyone runs to board the plane. French Bee did not board first class, priority, etc., prior. Its a free for all. Youd think that on an 11 hour flight youd be offered some sort of beverage, ie., soda, juice, coffee NOPE, you have to pay for all drinks ALL. Same for anything to eat.. no snacks offered. It also seemed they needed to make an announcement regarding no smoking quite often very strange. Would I ever consider flying French bee again? Absolutely not.

Route: Paris to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Airlink

Title: "Worst service today"

Review: Worst service today, booked flight for a unaccompanied minor (10 years old), arrived at OR Tambo 2hours before checkin, had all the necessary documentation but was delayed by the airline staff to fill health questionnaires, my brother was then checked in but left by the flight and they did not bother to communicate as to what transpired instead they are saying we arrived late and should have been at the airport 3hours before.

Route: Johannesburg to Harare

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: TUI Airways

Title: "dull as dishwater B757"

Review: Larnaca to Manchester. I recently enjoyed a holiday with my family group of 7 consisting of 4 adults and 3 children. The first point is with regard to the online check-in service on the outward flight. My wife and I have always checked in via the normal procedure at the check in desk. My daughter preferred the online method. To my mind, our use of the unfamiliar touch screen procedure seemed no quicker than letting an experienced check-in desk assistant carry out the task. One of my daughter's cases was found to be 2.5kg over the modest 15kg allowance. There is every chance that a person may waive this minor indiscretion, but the online system is totally arbitrary culminating in a £45 surcharge, this was later waived by a TUI assistant to be fair. Moving onto the flight itself there were no issues of note other than being on a dull as dishwater Boeing 757. Very basic. The week long holiday at Tofinis Hotel near Ayia Napa was great, enjoyed the food etc. No probs. On the return flight we found it to be delayed just prior to the return transfer. 2 hours on a late night flight but no major issues, these things happen. However, it was common knowledge amongst the passengers due to internet checks but on arrival, the TUI rep chose not to mention it. I sort of understand that because why would anyone make themselves the focal point of peoples frustration if you dont have to. Onto the flight and again we found ourselves on the rather tired looking 757. I suspect TUI are suffering due to the grounding of the 737 max of which they were the biggest customers and I understand the company's predicament. The flight was adequate and on landing at Manchester we found the airport was disorganised due in part to procedural disruption arising from the ongoing terminal expansion. We were held on the plane and kept informed over the tannoy by a clearly irritated member of the cabin crew who informed us that we needed to be bused from the tarmac to terminal and the airport hadn't been expecting us! Half an hour later we were disembarking and the journey was complete. The following day I felt as rough as sandpaper, cold symptoms and a sore throat. I cannot conclusively put this down to the plane journey but it is known that changes in air pressure can cause physiological effects like toothache and joint pain. Having taken trips on the uber modern TUI Dreamliners with their humidified cabin air I had forgotten just how rough an old plane could leave you feeling. I hope for TUI's sake that their fleet problems can be resolved sooner rather than later.

Route: Larnaca to Manchester

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "refund in the form of credit points "

Review: AirAsia India is not customer-oriented air carrier. In Covid-19 spread issue, they are allowing to cancel tickets but refund will be in the form of credit points which can be used later. And allowing to reschedule the itinerary with payment of ticket difference amount.

Route: Hyderabad to Bhubaneswar

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Japan Airlines

Title: "terrible ground staff"

Review: At Haneda Airport, I encountered terrible ground staff. They seemed reluctant to have passengers check in at the counter insisting customers use the kiosk to print their boarding passes and baggage tags. There were staff members present, but they seemed to be in a bad mood or too tired and didn't want to help passengers with issues they were facing. I always thought that Japan Airlines' service was full of enthusiasm and proactive in assisting customers, but that was not the case.

Route: Tokyo Haneda to Taipei

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "experience was extremely disappointing"

Review: The booking process went smoothly. However, the cancellation experience was extremely disappointing as there were no alternative options provided. The customer support agent I spoke with was rude, lacked compassion, and proved to be unhelpful. I had no choice but to book another flight with a different airline, which came at a significant expense, just to reach my destination 12 hours later than planned, causing me to be late for a speaking engagement. Moreover, when I called to reschedule my return trip, I encountered a similar lack of empathy and was informed that one flight's cancellation had no impact on the booking of another. To make matters worse, there were no options provided to speak to a supervisor, despite being told that I was already speaking to one who displayed the same rudeness and lack of understanding. Overall, while I used to consider Jetblue a reliable airline, this experience has significantly diminished my confidence in them. From now on, they will not be my top choice for air travel.

Route: New York to Las Vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thai Lion Air

Title: "Crew was courteous"

Review: Bangkok to Jakarta. No online check in possible, but the airport check in was smooth. Staff extremely lenient about grossly oversized hand luggage carried by many. Flight departed on time and arrived 15 minutes early. I was given an emergency row seat but could also find several empty rows on board, making for a comfy journey. Crew was courteous, only customs forms were not provided.

Route: Bangkok to Jakarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "No refund option"

Review: My Flight cancelled by airlines and then after they are not even picking up the call. No refund option. Contact details given are of not use because the never reply and never pickup calls. Worst experience ever had. They just eat my money, from last four months I'm calling them for refund but they not picked even single call.

Route: Mumbai to Bangalore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Airways

Title: "Extremely poor accountability"

Review: Extremely poor accountability when it come to Flight Cancellation. Jetstar is becoming renowned for its last minute flight cancellations. This is made so much worse by their lack of accountability or responsibility to their impact on their customer base. Had my flight cancelled by JetStar and they could offer another flight for 36+hrs , on top of this they offer horrible compensation for expense incurred and only if you choose to rebook with Jetstar. ($150 for accommodation and $30 for all other expenses per day) If however you book another airline the next day (24hrs earlier than their offered flights) they will not cover any of the costs.

Route: Sydney to Adelaide

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Malindo Air

Title: "a waste of time and money"

Review: I paid a higher fare from Ho Chi Minh City to Bengaluru via Kuala Lumpur. OD 562 was delayed during departure and was further delayed en route due to traffic congestion over KL. Missed my connecting Malindo flight OD 241 to Bengaluru. The company asked me to stay at a hotel in the terminal for two days cause the next departure to Bengaluru was after two days. Ended up buying a full fare ticket to Bengaluru without any refund from Malindo. All in all what a waste of time and money.

Route: Ho Chi Minh City to Bengaluru via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: LIAT

Title: LIAT customer review

Review: My experience with this Airline in Puerto Rico was awful. I had a fly from Boston to San Kitts. When I got to San Juan, I found a note that said the the fly to Saint Kitts was cancelled due to the storm. I looked for LIAT staff and I was unable to find one. I tried calling all the numbers listed on the note. I showed up at the airport yesterday at 4:40 AM trying to get to the next available flight. When I got there they told me it was not guaranteed that I was going to fly to St. Kitts. I was left in San Juan for 3 days. There was a flight to leave after 7 hours they boarded everyone but me and my 10 year old daughter. They gave every passenger a voucher for breakfast but us, yelling at me saying that I did not qualify for the voucher. Staff told me that there was a flight to Antigua the next day but she could only accommodate one of us. My daughter is 10 years old. The next flight was on the first. Another passenger offer to give his sit and she refused. How do you recuperate from this?

Route: San Juan to St. Kitts

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Spirit Airlines

Title: "not offer any options after 24 hours"

Review: Spirit Airlines take your money and do not offer any options after 24 hours, which I found out after the fact. I attempted to change flights and it was higher than the original flight. I attempted to cancel and would have lost all of my money. Can you imagine how many people they have done this way and how many millions of dollars they have just taken from people? Life is hard. Circumstances change. I urge and strongly recommend that you do not fly with Spirit! Changes need to be made with this airline!

Route: Memphis to Las Vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Asiana Airlines

Title: "Seats were okay"

Review: Haneda-Gimpo-Haneda on Asiana's A330. The aircrafts were a little old but no problem for this 2-hour flight. Seats were okay. PTVs were also okay but a little difficult to navigate. Meals were good for this short flight. Flight attendants were friendly and professional.

Route: Tokyo Haneda to Gimpo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Oman Air

Title: "bags a week after my arrival"

Review: Melbourne to Tehran via Muscat/Abu Dhabi. I received my bags a week after my arrival in Tehran because they engaged another airline (Etihad) to do the first part of the journey, my bags were held in Abu Dhabi the staff in Tehran were rude and unhelpful trying to avoid accepting the responsibility. I think this company is far from being an international professional airline, they are known for missing bags. The second issue was the extremely expensive cost of rebooking a flight once you miss one flight it cost me $1300 Australian dollars to rebook my flight from Abu Dhabi to Melbourne

Route: Melbourne to Tehran via Muscat/Abu Dhabi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: PLAY

Title: "Worst customer service ever"

Review: Worst customer service ever. No phone number to call. My flight got cancelled, no help, no refund.

Unbelievable

Route: Boston to Berlin via Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeromexico

Title: "no compensation for food or accommodation"

Review: I do not recommend flying with Aeromexico at all. I had a few hour layover in Mexico City which they ended up turning into a 26 hour layover (meaning my vacation literally lost a day) with no compensation for food or accommodation. I also had premium seats on one of my flights which we paid a few extra hundred dollars for and they oversold the flight and put us in economy with no food that we ordered and no refund. Also the most turbulence and worst landing Ive ever experienced - they braked so hard when landing that everyone got shoved forward in their seats.

Dont fly with this airline.

Route: Peurto Escondido to Vancouver via Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: easyJet

Title: "trouble-free journey"

Review: No complaints. Smooth and attentive service . Comfortable seats and food good. The flight left 45 minutes late and arrived 7 minutes early. Luton Airport isn't the best airport but I guess they have to base themselves somewhere so if it keeps the prices down then I will cope. Thank you EasyJet for a really nice, trouble-free journey - I will be back!

Route: Luton to Larnaca

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Croatia Airlines

Title: Croatia Airlines customer review

Review: Booking was easy, free seat selection and 23kg luggage included. Needed to register sports equipment and it was done by phone. Mobile check-in done using Miles&More app as Croatia Airlines uses Lufthansa check-in BCN. Croatia Airlines flies from non-Schengen gates E so nothing to do there as only one cafeteria, a small Duty-Free stand with very limited choices. Boarding on time, FAs welcoming us on board. Seat pitch is around 32 inches. Inflight magazine has lots of photos and articles to help pass time onboard. Small complimentary snack and drinks service and then later offered items from BOB program. Prices for BOB were triple than in the supermarket. We landed on time, customs cleared in 2', luggage delivered in 7'.

Route: Barcelona to Zagreb

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Spirit Airlines

Title: "never book a flight with Spirit Airlines again"

Review: Sunday 18, I scheduled a 9:37 am flight to Las Vegas but we couldn't board because a flight attendant was coming from a different flight. This wait was 2 hours. Coming back, Friday 12am we leave on time at 6:45pm but couldn't get off the plane until there was an open gate. The pilot explained this would take 25 mins but it was an hour after we landed. Finally got off the plane at 1:30am. I will never book a flight with Spirit Airlines again.

Route: Chicago to Las Vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "it was a horrible experience"

Review: We got delayed in Accra for hours only to miss our connecting flight to London. Hence, I had to stay overnight in Casablanca. At Casablanca, the food was very poor, with no vegan options. The hostel room was dusty with dirty used bedsheets and dirty bathrooms as well. We could not find toothbrushes, toothpaste, or even towels at duty-free shops. Their staff were very extremely rude and were not remorseful. Some passengers amongst us had to stay for 2-3 nights because there were no vacancies on the next connecting flights to their respective destinations. And when we complained, instead of feeling remorseful and issuing apologies, theyd rather tell us to return to Ghana and join another airline. I missed a very important meeting, the very reason why I had to travel, hence my trip was in vain, thanks to the incompetence and inefficiency of the airline I chose! Its been more than a month now, and no one has reached out to apologise for all the opportunities we lost because of their failed operations. Theres no way Id advise anyone to choose Royal Air Maroc. In summary - it was a horrible experience.

Route: Accra to London via Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Qatar Airways

Title: "Width of seats unacceptable"

Review: Width of the seats is unacceptable. I can recommend business class, I advise against a longer economy class flight due to the seats.

Route: Munich to Phuket via Doha

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "seats offer a lot of privacy"

Review: ANA has one of the best business class seats that offer a lot of privacy and comfort. Even for a tall European of 1.85m the seat is long enough to find a comfortable sleeping position. Flight attendants are outstandingly friendly and attentive without being obtrusive or robotic, and from my experience they all speak very good English. Food quality was above average, but although the flight from Tokyo to Sydney is 9.5 hours, main meal service comes on one tray with appetizer and entree served at the same time, which I find not really reasonable. I found breakfast on this route rather bland and meagre, but flight attendants are happy to find some add-ons, e.g. a left-over cheese plate or so. Inflight entertainment is generally OK, but falls behind Singapore Airlines or Qatar in terms of choice of movies or music, at least the European/Western selection, they might have a better selection for Japanese, Korean, or Chinese taste.

Route: Tokyo-Haneda to Sydney

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Peach Aviation

Title: "Would not refund me"

Review: Would not refund me during COVID-19 epidemic. A few weeks ago, I was going to cancel my flight due to the COVID virus that's hitting NYC (Which is where I'm from,) obviously flights got cancelled, and just a few weeks ago, I was able to cancel my flight from the page but I only didn't just to wait it out to see if they would cancel it themselves. Now, the cancellation page isn't working, and they refused to refund me. Their policy says you can cancel for a refund with a fee. Now I can't even cancel at ALL, the page literally doesn't go to the cancellation page anymore.

Route: Tokyo to Nagasaki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Germanwings

Title: "vowing never to book Germanwings again"

Review: We were delayed 5 hours in Istanbul and received a sandwich on the plane as compensation. Told by the cabin crew that many planes were delayed due to technical problems that day so we would definitely catch our transit flight to London. Arrived Dusseldorf, no information given, transit closed. Eventually told to go to Lufthansa ticket desk where we joined a long queue for about 2 hours. Eventually told "no flights tonight, maybe one on Monday" (2days later). Lufthansa and Germanwings staff didn't seem to know who was doing what. Came back to ticket desk at 5am next morning and given overbooked standby ticket for 4 hours later. We made a fuss and insisted on getting a seat (otherwise we would have taken the train). We were given a seat but suspect that others were "bumped down" by Germanwings who were prioritising based on who made the biggest noise. Bad karma probably meant our flight took off but had to turn back to Dusseldorf due to more technical problems so we went round the same circle again - delay, no communication. This time we ran across the airport to the now familiar ticket desk where we were given tickets to London via Munich. Arrived home 39 hours after we left Istanbul, vowing never to book Germanwings again. Flight out with Turkish Airlines was a dream, should have booked return trip. Had to pay extra for Germanwings luggage which wasn't clear through Opodo the booking agent.

Route: Istanbul to London via DUS

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "seat pitch is something that needs to be kept in mind"

Review: After a long time, I had decided to fly back to Bangalore on Air Asia on this afternoon flight as the timing was convenient for the arrival. A point to note is that the check in for the flight has opened almost 2 weeks before the departure of the flight as opposed to the usual 48 hours which is present on the other flights. Also another point to note is that the default seat selection which is provided by Air Asia seems to be free of cost, however if we try to change our seating rows, then a charge of Rs 250 needs to be provided for the window / aisle seats. As me and my wife were travelling together, I had decided to go with the default seat selection so as to avoid the extra seat fares. During the check-in the staff was proactive enough to accommodate me and my wife in a separate line which was faster than the usual long queues present. Also the crew wanted us to provide a feedback on the check-in process and how it could be improved and this was a pretty fun thing that was done. Boarding started well on time and one thing to note is that, if you are a person on the taller side, the seats could be a bit cramped. I have flown on other low cost carriers and Air Asia seems by far the most cramped when it comes to seat pitch. On short haul flights they are fine however on flights of more than 2 hours it could get uncomfortable. Also during boarding, I did not see the crew welcoming everyone on board which is something that was surprising considering how well the staff at the check in counters were. Flight landed well ahead of schedule and baggage was also retrieved quickly. For the money that was paid, the service provided was nice. However seat pitch is something that needs to be kept in mind.

Route: Kolkata to Bengaluru

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: TUI Airways

Title: "a great experience today"

Review: Just come off a flight from Gatwick to Fuerteventura. Absolutely fantastic flight. Captain was very polite greeting all the passengers when we disembarked with a smile. In the cabin manager BJ was superb. He and the rest of the crew did a great job by making customers feel special which is unusual in today's climate. Plane was completely full but was clean on arrival. The only negative was we were 2hrs delayed from Gatwick. Well done TUI for a great experience today.

Route: Gatwick to Fuerteventura

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Spirit Airlines

Title: "Spirit could not get me home"

Review: Spirit Airlines canceled my flight home from Las Vegas to STL 20 minutes before we were supposed to depart. After paying $303 for my luggage ($89 for a carry on, $89 + $178 for a checked bag over 40lbs.), I waited hours for my flight only to be canceled just a few minutes before. At the ticket counter, after waiting an hour, they could not get me a flight to St. Louis for two days! Also, I would not be accommodated for these two days meaning no hotel, food, or car reimbursement. The only thing they did for me was switch my flight to Chicago (not even close to my destination) and that flight was still the next day and, again, was not my destination. Spirit could not get me home even though that's what I paid for. I spent almost 24 hours at the Vegas airport, had to go through security three times, and pay $550 total in baggage fees. I've never had such a horrible experience with any airline in my life. Please, do not fly with Spirit. It is simply not worth it. I am an inner city, tier-1, art teacher who works two jobs and barely makes enough to pay rent. These baggage costs and inconveniences are a huge expense for me. Not only was I disheartened, I felt like I was completely and utterly scammed. I also felt like there was absolutely no care taken in trying to get each passenger an alternative flight. I mean, I won't even be making it back home to STL. I'll be in Chicago. Then it's on me to find a way home.

Route: Las Vegas to St. Louis

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Saudi Arabian Airlines

Title: "amazing attention to the level of details"

Review: My experience in flight SV20 on Feb 21 2022 was great. The care and the level of service was awesome. The amazing attention to the level of details paid by the crew to each passenger was noteworthy. It felt like if you're flying a private jet. Having a Flight Chef on board makes a great deal of difference in the level of service.

Route: New York JFK to Jeddah

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sky Airline

Title: "Excellent experience throughout"

Review: Excellent experience throughout. We were meant to fly from SCL (Santiago, Chile) to ZCO (Osorno) on 8 Aug. Our first attempt was thwarted as we were unable to land at the destination airport due to heavy fog and had to head back to our origin (the crew would have fallen out of duty, which made a diversion impossible). Communication and management of the situation were flawless. We were kept up to date at all times, and we were given generous meal vouchers. To top things off, we were even provided with a compensatory voucher for our next journey with the airline. The latter came in totally unexpected, as the hiccup was of course not the airlines fault and beyond their control. After a two-hour wait at SCL and once the fog had cleared, SKY flew us to our destination. A big thank you and well done to the staff at SKY Airline, both visible and behind the scenes, for this seamless, passenger-friendly, and pleasant experience.

Route: Santiago de Chile to Osorno

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: AirAsia India customer review

Review: Guwahati to Delhi. We get it its a budget airline. But if the flight is getting delayed then you should let the passengers know about the delay beforehand and not 1 hour before the flight.

Route: Guwahati to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Eastern Airways

Title: "denied a place on the plane"

Review: Southampton to Leeds. Eastern Airways bumped me off my flight to Leeds and I missed my sons graduation as a result. For professional reasons, the only travel option available to me was an 08.35 flight from Southampton to Leeds which would just get me there in time, and a 14.00 return flight the same day. I booked the flight in good faith several weeks in advance to ensure I had a seat. At the Gate I was denied boarding as the plane was overweight and 2 passengers would have to be left behind. Despite remonstrating forcefully and explaining why it was so important to get to Leeds on that flight, Eastern Airways could not be moved. Eventually, the airport staff (whose behaviour was at all times sympathetic and polite) asked the other passengers who were waiting on the transit bus for a volunteer to give up their place, explaining the circumstances. Unfortunately, no one took pity on my plight and I was denied a place on the plane. I was left distraught and upset having missed an unrepeatable family event. No compensation was offered by the airline, and there has been no attempt to contact me to offer either an explanation or apology. Yet another instance of the airlines overbooking flights, but this time with a human cost.

Route: Southampton to Leeds

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Bamboo Airways

Title: "this flight was terrible"

Review: The review for this flight was terrible. 2 times I booked through the bamboo website using my credit card but it always failed, but the payment has been successfully taken. Call to CS they promised to call me back within 2 hours but after 3 hours I was not contacted. I was afraid the price would go up I asked for certainty because I didn't want to double book. My Vietnamese friend helped contact them and according to him I should ordered again, after I made a payment with a different credit card I still didn't receive the ticket. I complained to them via IG and they promised to forward my ticket and cancel another book in the morning. I explained that the price could go up in the future but they promised that I got the ticket according to what I bought. the next day I was contacted by them and they asked me to go to their office and kept on promising that I would get my ticket without having to buy a more expensive ticket, the ticket turned out to be 50% more expensive. after I got there. CS there was not at all helpful and they even admitted that the error was from their website, and what a brilliant service from them I was told by them to buy another ticket at a higher price - they admit it was their fault, and I am the loser because I was charged twice and as a recovery service I have to pay for the 3rd ticket at a price that is 50% more expensive and even their manager doesn't provide a solution, just ask for my number just to check who called me and yet again and also they asked the risk information too regarding my credit card. The food they provide is only 1 type, namely pork sandwiches. as a person who does not eat pork because of religion this is really very disappointing, there is no other food alternative so I don't get a meal. If possible to give 0 stars, i would be love to give it

Route: Hanoi to Ho Chi Minh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Avior Airlines

Title: "airplanes are very old"

Review: The airplanes are very old, and there's no IFE or WiFi connection. The crew was kind but there are some problems with the people at counter, they don't give the complete information of schedules. The ticket was expensive compared with other countries because they don't offer the prices in Bolivares, only in dollars. But actually it's the best option to travel in Venezuela. The biggest problems in Maiquetia airport are from the immigration and security personal, also the installations are deficient. There's no paper at bathrooms and blackouts are common.

Route: Caracas to Medellín

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: NIKI

Title: "should be ashamed of your policy"

Review: Flew Innsbruck to Palma. 101 to carry a suitcase is shameful. I thought Ryanair were deceptive in their hidden costs but this is completely unjustifiable. You are required to book cases 30 hours prior to flying, we tried 24 hours before as we hadn't fully packed and didn't know our requirements. NIKI you should be ashamed of your policy.

Route: Innsbruck to Palma

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Bhutan Airlines

Title: "good things to say"

Review: Kolkata to Bangkok. I have nothing but good things to say about Bhutan Airlines. They're a great ambassador for their country, even though I never set foot in Bhutan. I flew from Kolkata to Bangkok on an Airbus 319 in Economy bulkhead. Surprisingly, I had the row to myself. The plane was clean and colorful, decked out in Bhutanese red and gold in the interior, and the crew were in traditional Bhutanese outfits as well. Seats were comfortable, we were on time, and the flight was only about half full. There was a meal on this short hop featuring Bhutanese cuisine and it was truly outstanding--one of the best economy class meals I've had in years. Even the inflight magazine was superb, highlighting not just places to see and things to do in Bhutan, as well as spotlighting some of the more unusual aspects of their culture, such as women taking multiple husbands. Bottom line, it was not just a great transport experience (on time, hassle free) but an educational experience about their home country as well. I can't wait to take them all the way to Bhutan.

Route: Kolkata to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "deceiving experience for a big big price"

Review: Bad experience. Delayed luggage (4 days) on arrival to Florence. We had to buy clothes and toiletries in Florence. The standard store receipts were rejected for the refund because they didnt have enough details. On our way back the first flight was delayed so we missed the correspondence and had to wait 25 hours for the next flight. Overall extensively deceiving experience for a big big price. Never again KLM.

Route: Florence to Montreal via Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Avelo Airlines

Title: "Constant mechanical problems"

Review: Constant mechanical problems which is a huge concern. Both flights (to and from) flight were delayed several times due to mechanical problems. Initially supposed to take off at 9 AM and was delayed 3-4 times. We did not take off until 1 PM. The return flight boarded on time but we are stuck on the plane delayed, taxiing back to the gate for the second time due to a second engine problem.

Route: Fort Myers to Raleigh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Rex Airlines

Title: "old fashioned customer service"

Review: Upon checking in at the Rex Airlines counter at Sydney airport I received exceptional and thoughtful service from Jorja. I have a pacemaker and Jorja took the time to assist me by walking me to the appropriate security section and making sure I was taken care of by security staff. I found Jorjas assistance invaluable and nothing was a problem for her. Jorja showed not only professionalism but also a kind caring approach to my needs. I will not forget her kindness. What a wonderful approach to old fashioned customer service.

Route: Sydney to Coffs Harbour

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "very enjoyable flights"

Review: London to Cape Town via Johannesburg. I just wanted to say how impressed we were with South African Airways. The staff at the check in desk and the cabin crew were very helpful, professional and friendly. The plane and its seats were very comfortable and extremely clean. This is in comparison to British Airways. The food was also very tasty. Overall we had very enjoyable flights. Well done SAA and we look forward to fly with you again. Thank you!

Route: London to Cape Town via Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Korean Air

Title: "They insulted me in Korean"

Review: Travelled business in 2014 with Korean/KLM to Europe and good experience. This time we had 3 business class tickets from Sydney to Amsterdam partnering with KLM - who were wonderful - and return Sydney via Rome with Korean. The flight crews were attentive but cold, clinical and lacking the human touch. The lounges at Incheon are a nightmare akin to two MacDonalds in different parts of the airport but overcrowded, full of screaming badly behaved children, and with poor quality food and beverages and lack of seating. The attendants at the lounge desk were like cardboard cutouts unhelpful and arrogant when I asked for shower access. They then insulted me in Korean, not knowing I speak it! I persisted and let them know in Korean that I understood their insult. I was finally pointed to the shower section and had a hurried shower. Finally, during our holiday a family member in Sydney became gravely ill and we attempted to alter our return dates to an earlier date. This was possibly the worst aspect of having to deal with the "customer service" operatives of this airline. Night after night we rang them and were drip fed information about seats available on given dates waiting for a date where we could get home. At least two of the male operatives were unbelievably rude to my wife when she spoke with them, talking over the top of her and there was no audio delay to justify such rude treatment. They offered us economy seats which my wife could not take as she has a medical condition that requires a sleeper or flat bed for long haul. We didn't get anywhere with them. On 22nd October, there were 3 unallocated business tickets available back to Sydney which would have got us back 5 days earlier but when we asked about these we were told because we'd paid a different fare schedule, we could not have them unless we paid an extra 3000 per ticket in Australian dollars or Euros. We paid approximately AUD 16,500 for the original tickets. We simply couldn't afford this so we were forced to wait for the originally ticketed flight later while we dealt with our anxieties about our sick family member in Sydney. Meantime, these people flew an aircraft from Rome to Sydney with 3 empty business class seats. This may be the corporate world model for aviation now but business still depends on goodwill and Korean Air have lost our goodwill forever. We will never fly them again under any circumstance, whether for work or pleasure. They are disgraceful in their treatment of passengers in need and not worth our custom.

Route: Sydney to Seoul

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: easyJet

Title: "passengers were simply left stuck"

Review: Flights delayed by over 1 hour and the airline crew decided to leave all the passengers stranded on the aerobridge that connects to the plane. With no update and communication, all the passengers were simply left stuck with no access to water.

Route: Birmingham to Belfast

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: El Al Israel Airlines

Title: "This is a screwed up airline"

Review: Traying to check-in online for the flight from London to Tel Aviv is impossible since the website doesn't accept neither the booking code (used to check-in on line from Tel-Aviv) nor the ticket #. Contacting El-Al on Whatsapp is like talking to an idiot since they provide the link to the same check-in website and it doesn't work. This is not a surprise with Israeli websites which have a tendency to fair and not respond. Trying to get any help by calling in the phone number published for UK (London/Manchester) all you get is a holiday greeting (Halloween?) This is a screwed up airline - expensive with the worst customer service. Fly whatever other airline but not El-Al.

Route: Tel Aviv to London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Ravn Alaska

Title: "delayed with no explanation

Review: Anchorage to Homer. Last 4 times I have flown with Ravn Alaska my flights been delayed with no explanation given at any point. Starting to think maybe Ravn Alaska just doesn't know how fast their planes go? Other than that i have no issues but waiting an extra hour or more every time i fly is getting old.

Route: Anchorage to Homer

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Amaszonas

Title: Amaszonas customer review

Review: Flew La Paz to Uyuni and return. Check-in was easy and outbound flight was on time. No bag fees or seat selection fees. Limited snack service on the plane - choice of coffee, juice, water or soda but adequate for a 45 minute flight. No IFE but with the Andes on one side and lakes and salt flats on the other it wasn't really needed. Seat pitch was surprisingly good - not sure of the measurement but I had a few inches clearance for my knees (I am 6' tall) which is better than economy class on most of the legacy carriers. Return flight delayed by about 30 minutes but not a major problem. Had to change our return flight and the fee was about US$4.00 so I can't complain about that. The only odd thing was the baggage handling at Uyuni. The ground crew unloaded the bags onto a cart but kept it there while they then loaded the outbound flight. After the cart was brought to the bag claim, we were not allowed in until all the bags were place in the claim area. Sort of an odd arrangement and not sure if that is on the airline or the airport ground crew. All in all a reasonable flight experience. Recommended.

Route: LPB to UYU

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Pegasus Airlines

Title: "bags slightly over the weight limit"

Review: We checked in for a flight on 29th March to fly from Turkey to Georgia. There were zero issues and their staff didn't notify us that our bags were slightly over the limit. Our flight was cancelled. After 14 hours of waiting, we checked in for a second time (and their staff mentioned nothing about our bags being over the limit). Once we were through security, we were pulled aside and asked to pay 200 Lira for our bags being slightly over the weight limit. Naturally, I tried to refuse because we were not told about it. Had their staff told us we could have moved some items from our luggage to our hand luggage and avoided the mess. We were told that if we did not pay, we would not be allowed on the flight. It then turned out that the 200 Lira was actually 480 Lira (approx £40 pounds). Two of their employees checked our luggage in with a smile and then had the audacity to inform us that we were slightly over the weight limit. To add insult to injury, one of our suit cases is now broken and they are refusing to refund the money.

Route: Antalya to Tblisi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Cyprus Airways

Title: "there was no one there"

Review: Larnaca to Athens. I was about to board with a friend of mine in a flight scheduled at 10:40 local time. Due to the traffic we had approximately arrived at the airport at 10:05. We rushed into the check in stand but there was no one there, we were informed that the guy had just left so even if we had taken our tickets we wouldn't be able to board the flight since there was no one there to check our hand luggage. Customer service was not answering, we were panicked and when they finally decided to pick up the phone they informed us that we won't be able to board even if the boarding phase was not actually ongoing. Thus we lost our tickets, had to overpay a ticket for later that day and destroy our vacations for merely 5 mins, just because they wouldn't pick up the phone and rush to leave their posts.

Route: Larnaca to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: TAAG Angola Airlines

Title: "doesn't value your time or money"

Review: I recently had the "pleasure" of flying with TAAG, the Angolan airline that makes you wonder if time actually exists. Seriously, their flights are so delayed that you could have time to write a novel or learn a new language while waiting for your plane to finally take off. And don't even get me started on their customer service. When my return flight was delayed by more than 7 hours, I knew I would miss my connecting flight in Luanda. But did TAAG care? Not one bit. They wouldn't refund my ticket even though I didn't even take the flight to Luanda because I knew I would be stranded there without a visa to enter the country. But hey, at least their ticket prices are high enough to make you think you're flying with a premium airline, right? Wrong. In fact, after flying with TAAG even Ryanair would feel like a premium airline. In all seriousness, if you're looking for an airline that doesn't value your time or money, then go ahead and fly with TAAG. Otherwise, save yourself the hassle and choose a different airline for your next trip.

Route: Luanda to Sao Tome Island

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Vueling Airlines

Title: "two pieces of luggage left behind"

Review: My husband and I were traveling from JFK to Venice. We had a connecting flight from Barcelona to Venice with Vueling. The first problem we encountered at JFK we had to pay for our luggage from JFK to Barcelona and then to Venice even though we did not have to check in our luggage at Barcelona. They charged us 350 Euro for 3 pieces of luggage. They didn't charge us for the weight. They charged by the pieces. Our luggage went straight from JFK to Venice but we were told because it was a connecting flight we had to pay for them from Barcelona to Venice which did not make any sense at all. The flights were delayed going to and coming back. We didn't know that we had to order our meal and pay for it ahead of time. Can you imagine that after your flight was delayed sitting in the airport for several hours and finding out you don't have a meal? Coming back two pieces of our luggage were left behind. We were told that they only have one flight coming out of Venice so we have to wait at least 24 hrs. I will never travel with that airline again.

Route: Barcelona to Venice

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Berlin

Title: "worst experience with an airline"

Review: Bucharest to Miami vis Sibiu, Munich. My worst experience with an airline so far. 3 weeks before departure, they changed dates and hours - technically I could choose to get my money back, but buying from another company with such short notice would have been much more expensive - what I paid for was Bucharest to Miami with one stop, what I got was the same with 3 stops - what I paid for was Miami to Bucharest with one stop, what I got was the same with 2 stops. I had to book a hotel room for one night in Berlin because the flights were not in the same day after the change they made (still waiting for a refund), and they failed to deliver the luggage in Miami. It arrived after 2 days - out of 4 Air Berlin flights, 3 were delayed by approx 1 hour each. AirBerlin call-center is bad. They say on the web-site is 24h, but that's not true. If you call them when they don't work, they don't say come back at operating hours. They just let you listen to bad music indefinitely on your own expense. and when they do answer, they even give incorrect answers (like saying Bucharest to Munich is a direct flight, which was certainly not.

Route: Bucharest to Miami

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air China

Title: "Refund policy is ridiculous"

Review: Guangzhou to Vancouver via Beijing booked for mid-April. The worst airline I have ever seen. Air China doesnt care their customers and just want to get money from their customers. Refund policy is ridiculous and try to cheat customers. When you call customer service, the only thing they said is there is nothing I can do. Will 100% not to choose this airline ever again

Route: Guangzhou to Vancouver via Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "Overall a good experience"

Review: Manila to Busuanga. Self check-in and drop-off of the case was quick and effective. The aircraft made a well-maintained impression. The seat spacing was good, the on-board staff were friendly and the food could be expanded against payment. Overall a good experience.

Route: Manila to Busuanga

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "my luggage was lost"

Review: I flew from Denmark to Australia with a stop in Melbourne and Ho Chi Minh. I ordered vegetarian food for my flights which they didnt have any of when I flew. Then when I arrived in Melbourne my luggage was lost. I filed a report and waited and waited for days. I contacted the airport and Vietnam Airlines who said the same thing over and over again that they couldnt locate it. They dont work together with the other airports to find it. This thing has made my vacation so stressful and terrible!

Route: Paris to Melbourne via Ho Chi Minh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aerolineas Argentinas

Title: "Austral flights were better"

Review: Ushuaia to Puerto Iguazu via Cordoba. I booked three domestic flights with Aerolineas Argentinas and two were on the regional Austral. The flights were closer to being on time than I experienced with other airlines down here, and basically everything went off without problems. The Austral flights were actually better - the Embraer planes are more comfortable and roomy than Aerolineas Argentinas 737s (which looked new but were a bit cramped) and the Embraer seats even have small entertainment screens (can be hard to get earphones though). You get snacks on longer flights, just a drink on shorter flights, and it might be a regional norm that no alcohol is available.

Route: Ushuaia to Puerto Iguazu via Cordoba

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Amazonas

Title: "onboard service is good"

Review: La Paz to Sucre with Amazonas. Their tickets are expensive compared to other airlines in Bolivia, and don't be fooled by the "promos" on the website, the final price is always higher than BoA or ecojet. The ground service is good, they even offer a cheap shuttle to Sucre airport, they claim to have a perfect "on-time" record but they have the reputation to cancel trips when the plane is not full enough, onboard service is good with a drink good enough for all the short trips they do and seat room is ok taking count the CRJ 200 is a small plane! The planes are as basic as any regional jet is but are pretty much quiet. Never used it yet but I've been told their La Paz-Santa Cruz air shuttle service is terrific.

Route: LPB to SRE

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "missing my connection to Tampa with United"

Review: My initial Jazz flight July 23 left 2hours late from Vancouver, which lead to missing my connection to Tampa with United. After 2 hours in the United airlines customer service line up, I was informed that there was nothing that United could do because Air Canada was in control of the ticket and they were the only ones that could rebook me on the next flight. This has to be the WORST policy because there was not an air Canada agent anywhere in the Denver airport to be found. I had no idea how to get this problem solved. After and exhausting search, I was so distraught that I left the secured area and after more attempts to find an air Canada agent I went to the United Airlines check in counter. The United agent (Carol Ann) went above and beyond to help me and while she was on hold with Air Canada she was busy checking in customers for a departing flight. She finally was successful in being able to provide me with a boarding pass onto a flight leaving to Tampa the following morning. How is it possible that United Airlines can be an alliance (partner) when they do not have authority to get Air Canada passengers where they are booked to go when the passenger has an existing boarding pass. If passengers who find themselves in this situation are supposed to know to call air Canada, then that is also a poor policy. I do not roam with my phone and certainly not going to pay for cell minutes to hold for Who knows how long?

Route: Vancouver to Denver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "felt so helpless and disregarded"

Review: The flight was a connecting flight to Seattle, WA from Honolulu HNL connecting in Maui OGG. The Maui to Seattle flight was delayed by over 4 hours and we were not informed or notified in any manner. We had arrived from Honolulu and were waiting by the gate when we noticed the departure time change. I was traveling with my wife and 9 month old son and we did not expect this and didn't know what to do since this was our first time travelling with him. My wife went to inquire about the situation and was told by the manager/chief at the gate desk and they said "there is nothing we can do". She was worried because we did not have any baby food left or formula and it was frustrating. I went to speak to the same manager/chief and ask if we could get any assistance because we would have to sit in an airport with an infant for an additional 4 hours on top of the initial 2 hour of our flight. While I was talking to them they called security and threatened to get us thrown out of the airport because manager said she will not speak to us because "we could not understand even is she tried to explain it" I believe she was trying to imply we were incapable of understanding her and we need to move out of the way so she can help other customers. Shas just gotten another frustrated customer who was yelling and screaming at her and being hysterical but she gave her a completely different treatment and gave her another flight since she was from there and decided to flight out another time. We stood back and record while the security arrived and started questioning us. This was so frightening for us. We didnt know what was going to happen to us. Were we going to get arrested? were they going to take out infant son from us? what were we going to do in a place that is foreign to us and we did not know anyone there so thats where we were recording for our own safety. We decided to wait it out because it felt like the more inquiries or help we requested it was met with aggression and complete disregard of our infant child. We swore never to travel there ever again because we have never felt so helpless and disregarded and treated so poorly compared to others.

Route: Honolulu to Seattle via Maui

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: JetSmart

Title: "value for money was great"

Review: Puerto Montt to Santiago. The value for money was great. We got cheap tickets but the processes were all very efficient. No long queues, fast check-in and very friendly staff.

Route: Puerto Montt to Santiago

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "you get what you pay for"

Review: Durban to Johannesburg. As a low cost airline, in FlySafair you get what you pay for. No inflight entertainment, any beverage you want you have to pay, seats that don't recline. No USB plug to charge your phone. The really good thing is that the service was really fast. Fast boarding, fast disembarking and you got your checked baggage fast.

Route: Durban to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Fiji Airways

Title: "I was pleasantly surprised"

Review: Not perfect but better than expected. Having flown quite a bit around the Pacific, most of which does not warrant a good rating, I was pleasantly surprised by the latest offering from Fiji Airways. The plane was newish, the flight crew were friendly and the seat, for a relatively short haul international flight, was pretty much as good as you get (lay flat, power and widgets etc.). The IES was a tad lacking but this is only a one film flight so there was just about enough. And by the time you read this most of the renovations at Nadi airport should have been completed so you wont have to experience the rather dismal business class lounge. Going the right way.

Route: SYD to NAN

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Astana

Title: "Service was exceptional"

Review: Excellent service from Air Astana team. A very pleasant flight of just under 4 hours flying from Moscow to Almaty. Service was exceptional and the crew very attentive. A very smooth flight and pilot was very careful with manoeuvres. Overall I was very impressed with this airline and felt very safe.

Route: Moscow to Almaty

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Cayman Airways

Title: "worst airline I've ever flown"

Review: Leaving Grand Cayman the flight was delayed over 3 hours, I'm finding out now that delays are a normal part of doing business for Cayman Airways. I was forced to miss my connecting flight out of Tampa and was forced to pay an additional $1,700 to cover the cost. Cayman Airways would not reimburse the cost. The Gate Agents were confused and did a horrible job communicating anything. I will not fly Cayman Airways again, worst airline I've ever flown!

Route: TPA to GCM

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Ernest Airlines

Title: "flight has been cancelled"

Review: Milan to Kharkov. So my flight has been cancelled. I have receive email with this info at 19:48pm when departure time was 5.30am the next morning. When I arrived to Milan Malpensa airport at 1am I found Ernest info point which was closed and no person in the airport didnt know something about the reasons of cancelling my flight. And now i am waiting 5 am when info point is opened and i will be able to understand the reasons why my flight was cancelled and how can i return to my homeland.

Route: Milan to Kharkov

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "deserves it's 4 star rating"

Review: Gold Coast to Hong Kong via Cairns. Check in at Gold Coast was less than 5 minutes. No Lounge Service for Business Class. Left on time for 2.5 hr flight to Cairns. Only a muffin and drink served for breakfast but crew were very attentive. 1.5 hour stop in Cairns. Relatively full flight to HKG. 2 full meal services - 1 hour out of Cairns and 90 minutes before landing. Choice of 3 meals each service with 1 western and 2 chinese. Meals were good portions and very tasty. Plenty of drinks available with crew constantly checking for refills. Daytime flight so didn't take advantage of the fully flat seats, which are very comfortable. AVOD was limited with (understandably) mainly chinese TV shows. Crew were very professional and chatty making for a very pleasant flight. Hong Kong Airlines Business Class deserves it's 4 star rating.

Route: OOL to HKG via CNS

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Qantas Airways

Title: "Did Qantas forget how to run an airline?"

Review: Safety is great but timeliness is a close second on my book. On arrival at Honolulu it took over an hour for our bags to come out, causing us to miss a connecting flight. Departure is currently more than 3 hours late and counting. The latest excuse is the food is late being delivered. I don't know but there seems to be a real problem with the ground services in Honolulu. Did Qantas forget how to run an airline?

Route: Sydney to Honolulu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "it is now pathetically poor"

Review: Mumbai to Hong Kong. Cathay Pacific used to be my favorite airline, but it is now pathetically poor. Cabin service, especially in Business class used to be something to look forward to, but words such as bad, uncaring, aloof, absent come to mind - also, considering the current Coronavirus pandemic, my tray table and armrest were notably dirty and not cleaned properly. I was unimpressed that there was no soap in the soap dispenser in one of the Business class bathrooms. Shame. Cathay has lost its way and is now just a poor alternative.

Route: Mumbai to Hong Kong

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "rude staff and terrible customer service"

Review: We flew from Brindisi to Rome, service was trash everyone there is on a power trip, no customer service skills at all. Very rude. Then Rome to NY, the flight was fine, but they didn't pay Delta for our connecting flight to Atlanta. Delta found our name in the system but said the spots were only reserved and basically Alitalia owed them money, to actually book the flight. We didnt find this out till we got to NY because none of the service desks/ppl at the gate were able to print us our ticket in Rome or brindisi and didnt say why. So we get to NY Find this out and end up missing our flight. Were still on the phone with the airline on hold to get this sorted out. Im very disappointed with my overall experience with this airline. Unreliable airline and rude people working for them. These are only the issues we had on the way back home to ATL. We had issues otw to Rome too- again rude staff and terrible customer service.

Route: Rome to New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jet Airways

Title: "worst experience ever"

Review: London to Amritsar via Mumbai. The worst experience ever. One of my two checked in bags never arrived at Mumbai airport and while I asked the customer service people there, no one seemed to care that I had to catch the next flight to Amritsar in 1 hour. They asked me to file a claim for my bag and as I was in line, my next flight took off, so I had to wait 4 hours at Mumbai airport till they found another flight to Chandigarh after 5 more hours. However, its been 6 days now and I havent received my lost bag yet. I have been calling their office everyday and all they say is they need another 24 hours. This is horrible service and I had very important articles in that bag. I dont know how to get it back. Do not ever trust this company with your baggage or time.

Route: London to Amritsar via Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cathay Dragon

Title: "crew was exceptionally efficient"

Review: The flight from Hong Kong to Taipei was eventually operated by Cathay Pacific plane and staff, though it used to be a Cathay Dragon flight. They used long haul business cabin to operate the flight, with flat bed and fancy entertainment system. Hot dinner was served in the ultra short flight, with dessert and also appetiser. The crew was exceptionally efficient. However, the boarding was quite confusing.

Route: Hong Kong to Taipei

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Eurowings

Title: "canceled my flight at the last minute"

Review: They canceled my flight at the last minute, leaving me at 10 PM in the connecting city with no instruction or solution to go home. I managed to find (and pay) for a 9 hours train to Berlin. 6 months later, they did not reply to email, didn't receive a refund, and when you called them, the agent was completely useless, advising you to wait (6 months doesn't seem enough for her?) or send emails (10 already), because she has no direct connection or number for the refund department - if it exists. Unbearable customer service if we can call it that way, total scam.

Route: Mykonos to Berlin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Dolomiti

Title: "service indeed"

Review: After a fraught day missing a flight from Paris CDG and being rerouted to Genoa via Munich we boarded a well presented Air Dolomiti aircraft only to hear a message from the Captain that there would be a 20 minute delay waiting for passengers from Amsterdam. After they eventually arrived he again came on the intercom to say that he realized we had a cruise liner to meet and he would expedite the flight - and he did flying it like a light aircraft to reduce a 90 minute flight to a 48 minute flight - congratulations to him! The cabin crew were 3 smartly dressed young ladies and the purser was almost in tears when she was the one to tell us that our luggage was not onboard. The snack was, rather strangely, a cellophane wrapped apple but they insisted on us having a second Prosecco "to cheer us up". Then when we landed they came to assist us with our baggage claim - service indeed!

Route: MUC to GOA

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Malaysia Airlines

Title: "I would fly again"

Review: Good service kind staff. I would fly again. Very comfortable seats and nice food. Friendly cabin staff. Overall 10/10 experience I would fly Malaysian Airlines again.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Tokyo Narita

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "efficient and pleasant FAs"

Review: Itami to Haneda. Short domestic flight. Osaka Itami airport is under renovation, dusty and unpleasant. Check-in was smooth, domestic lounge was spartan (lunch time but no warm food), boarding was robotic, aircraft was extremely clean, with efficient and pleasant FAs serving drinks.

Route: Itami to Haneda

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "never fly Alitalia again"

Review: We booked two tickets from Munich to Rome via the Alitalia Homepage and got a direct confirmation. At the airport, we were informed by very unfriendly and slow staff that we would not be on the passenger list and Alitalia cannot transport us with the booked flight and we shall buy another ticket in an Alitalia flight 6 hrs later. The staff denied to provide contact to her boss and did not give her name. We had to book another one-way-flight on the same day with another company, spend 380 extra. When arriving in Rome, we again contacted a service staff. She was much more friendly and informed us that Alitalia had some software problems resulting in bookings via the internet not being correctly processed internally. She promised that our costs will be reimbursed. We then contacted Alitalia to get our reimbursement. Unfortunately, although we spent much time to precisely indicate all circumstances and additional costs, Alitalia only reimbursed the 254 for the original ticket but did not reimburse the additional costs of 380 for the extra flight to Rome (and we had to pay another 250 for the flight back from Rome). Furthermore, and most disappointing, Alitalia did neither give an explanation nor an excuse. We will never fly Alitalia again!

Route: Munich to Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Pacific

Title: "don't understand transit"

Review: Bangkok to Hanoi via Ho Chi Minh City. Received an email a few days before departure informing us our direct flight to HAN had no be routed through SGN (commercial reasons we are told). Got to BKK, check-in wonderful with bags processed to SGN and transit boarding cards given to us also. Arrived in SGN anticipating a smooth transition to our next flight, but this was anything but. Turns out this airline don't understand the IATA definition of a transit flight, at all. Complete mess where we had to go through immigration, queue several times and check our bags in once again. On the positive side, we did have 4 beers and a delicious airline sandwich for about 5 onboard. Crew were pleasant enough.

Route: BKK to HAN via SGN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Virgin Australia

Title: "blend of arrogance and incompetence"

Review: A perfect blend of arrogance and incompetence! I booked a trip from Syd to Perth. Barely an hour before boarding they sent me an email saying flight has been cancelled and they rerouted my itinerary through 3 extra stopovers and an extra 9 hours of flight time and transit! Absurd entitlement and narcissism. I was already at the airport and was told that if i wanted to talk or see any other options, by that time my rerouted flight (which would leave just 15 mins later than my original time) would leave and I maybe left without any options. Ruined my whole day, took me 14 hours instead of 5, made me miss an urgent meeting, made me run around the airport from desk to desk, and all that while not a single apology or sorry from any of their despicably behaving airport staff, instead acting as if I was lucky to get the flight. Never again with this fraudulent and ruthless company! Aussies deserve better.

Route: Melbourne to Adelaide

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Japan Airlines

Title: "I had a great flight back home"

Review: I would like to share my appreciation for your ticketing agent, Tomoko. I wish I had a better photo of her or it would have been better if I had a photo with her. Tomoko was the agent who attended to me in LAX, FRI 8/5 at around 1pm Pacific Time for the JL 061 flight to Manila, Philippines. She was most efficient and demonstrated outstanding customer service. She was very genuine in ensuring that I am able to get on that flight and get back home safely to my family. I hope this message reaches you Tomoko! You are so excellent in what you do, helping JAL customers. Thank you again for being so awesome! I would also like to commend JALs inflight WI-FI. I had some work to complete and was able to do so with onboard internet. Thanks again for the great end to end service! I had a great flight back home!

Route: Los Angeles to Manila via Tokyo Narita

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Adria Airways

Title: "never flying them again"

Review: Adria Airways flight from Pristina to Munich was smooth, return flight was terrible. Get notified flight is delayed (can see it on tarmac). Told there is a technical issue and we will fly to Ljubljana, Slovenia for a connecting flight. Reality, the flight was half full and we were forced onto another Adria flight so they could save a buck. Our recompense, a free meal at airport. Never flying with them again. When Lufthansa reps tell you this always happens it should be a sign.

Route: MUC to PRN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air India

Title: "Worst experience ever"

Review: Worst experience ever. Coordination between ground staff and cabin staff is zero. My flight was planned to departure at 2215hrs right now im sitting inside the flight for almost one hour and did not even got a cup of water. Keep Air India as your last option.

Route: Delhi to Colombo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Philippine Airlines

Title: "the worst flying experience"

Review: Worst airline ever. Flight cancelled on our way to Japan, alternative flights provided for 2 days later. Flight was the delayed making us miss our connecting flight. On return home, flight was delayed 4 hours making our luggage miss the connecting flight. Luggage still hasnt arrived 3 days later with absolutely no communication from the airline. Philippine airlines staff and not helpful in the slightest with any query. The staff at Manila airport are also horrendous. Each person you talk to tries to handball you off to another person. This is by far the worst flying experience. The fact that they were the cheapest airline doesnt make up for this horrible experience. Wouldnt recommend ever.

Route: Tokyo to Sydney via Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Pobeda Airlines

Title: "pay 25 euro to print the pass"

Review: On 22nd December 2018, I check-in online on their web site for the flight Pisa to Moscow. Immediately after having finished the check-in and being assigned the seat, I have been trying many times to print the boarding pass but the link to open the Pdf document was not operating. and there was no way to print it. at Pisa Airport I had to pay 25 euro extra penalty to print the pass. I am badly surprised about this company.

Route: Pisa to Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "did not wear a name tag"

Review: Check-in uneventful. Boarding a zoo with a rude employee denying me boarding, claiming some zone story. Upon boarding I found a number of passengers that were probably the right 'zone' since they were seated in the rear already. An old ATR POS that Aegean must likely keep to connect some small islands that cannot accommodate jets.

Why they would use these consistently for the third largest Greek island is unclear to me. Once seated in 15C and having put my backpack above, I see the flight attendant pushing it to make space for someone's big suitcase. When I objected, she pulled it down and told me in the rudest way to put it under the seat in front of me. Said attendant did not wear a name tag.

Route: Mytilini to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Jetstar Pacific

Title: Jetstar Pacific customer review

Review: There is no Web check in for the flight from HCMC to Singapore return. After getting the boarding-pass, passengers were checked again with their hand-luggage strictly for 7kg at the end of the check-in counter by another agent. The hand luggage weighing more than 7kg have to be sent as check-in luggage with an additional fee of 60SGD. After check-in, all passengers were forced to depart immediately even they check-in 3 hours before the departure time of the flight. In order to assure this, the agent keep the boarding-pass of the passengers and follow the passengers to the departure gate, only give to boarding pass to the passengers at the departure gate to be sure that they will never come back?

Route: Singapore to Ho chi minh city

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Asiana Airlines

Title: "friendly and very efficient"

Review: First time in Asiana Business Class on flight from Hong Kong to Seoul. Asiana's business class seats are in a staggered 1-2-1 configuration on the A380. The seats could be turned into a flat bed and were very comfortable, in particular considering that it was only a three-hour-flight. Service was friendly and very efficient, and the quality of the food was impressive for a rather short flight. I would take Asiana again without hesitation.

Route: Hong Kong to Seoul

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Malaysia Airlines

Title: "They lost my parents' bags"

Review: Awful airline. They lost my parents' bags, and they were flying business class. After numerous emails, Malaysia Airlines has still not compensated my parents. It is ridiculous that they flew business class and still received such poor service. Moreover, it was a direct flight, which makes the lost baggage an even more baffling incident. Nevertheless, no efforts to compensate our parents have been made. It has been almost 2 months since they returned home without their bags, and Malaysia Airlines is still dodging all compensation requests.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thai Smile Airways

Title: "Amazing service"

Review: Amazing service, from check in to boarding to landing. It was amazing. My daughter also forgot her tablet on the airplane and we received it back within two days! Which is amazing!

Route: Bangkok to Phuket

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SmartWings

Title: "recommend the airline"

Review: We booked a ticket with Czech Airlines from Dubai to Prague and we were told we will fly with SmartWings. The ticket price was too hard to refuse so we went for it, the website was a bit confusing on luggage and food/entertainment. Great check in service and aircraft, wonderful crew and service. There was warm food, drinks, some Czech movies on small drop down cabin screen and an on time experience. Highly recommend the airline.

Route: DXB to PRG

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "paying for mockery"

Review: I think this company exists only because it is abusing EU regulations by the letter. They even did not have a plane in site at time of go to gate. Did not bothered to announce the delay or to make sure the airport displays the delay. NO ANNOUNCEMENT in the airport. The data should have come from this company. Because of the 2 hours delay without any responsibility, they decided it is cheaper to allocate the aircraft after check in is closed. I am pretty sure the hygiene on board is missing in action. And we had a fly proudly flying around with us all the way home. Useless delays, total disrespect of the passengers, constant overbooking/oversold tickets, no time for actually hygiene in the aircraft. An air pirate of the same type as Ryan Air. It is no wonder they are the sole remaining low costs around with multiple routes. It is not complicated to be profitable if you abuse your clients with regulations on your side. Everybody dreams of selling something they don't actually have. It is sad when this is a trip to your holiday. Isn't it? Why do regulations help them? How is it possible to not announce the flight delay until the passengers passed the gate? Because of regulations. So let's change them for better. Do not protect such companies. Flight schedule is not to be taken as optional or a joke. I do not enjoy paying for mockery.

Route: Larnaca to Bucharest

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "None of our 4 suitcases arrived"

Review: We were traveling from Amsterdam to Phuket with stopover in Moscow Sheremetyevo which is a total mess. None of our 4 suitcases arrived at the final destination. We were crowding with a large group of travelers at the baggage claim desk at Phuket airport who had the same problem with Aeroflot. The staff was continuously smiling but that does not help. Aeroflot claims that they have a lost luggage tracking system but it doesn't work. Calling customer support is pointless. I called like 20 times and I was every time disconnected while waiting on the line. The staff in Phuket promised to deliver bags tomorrow to our hotel. If that happens I will amend this rating but that is how the situation looks for now. Having all 4 bags lost for every member of the family is the worst nightmare that can happen to you while on your holidays.

Route: Amsterdam to Phuket via Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air France

Title: "it took Air France 3 days to ship my bag to me"

Review: Delayed baggage, and even longer delays (3 days!) in shipping it to me. Air France has scheduled far too short a connection time in Paris for its flights from West Africa (Guinea and Central African Republic), and given the change in terminal and slow security at CDG, I always end up having to run in order to make the final call for my London flight - very stressful. Air France themselves have the same problem - the last time I flew, my bag also missed the connection, and arrived in London three hours after me. That's when things really went downhill. Despite the fact that I live only two hours drive from Heathrow, it took Air France 3 days to ship my bag to me. I can order something on Amazon by midday and have it delivered the same day, but Air France takes 3 days to ship to an address two hours drive away. The final cherry on the cake: arrogant, indifferent customer service. When I called to complain about all of this and asked for a manager, the operator initially refused to let me talk to a manager, saying this was just about a bag. When I insisted, he said all of the managers were in a meeting, but he refused to get a manager to call me back - he said I would have to ring again and try to catch them when they're available! I will instead now vote with my feet, and stop using Air France for my flights to West Africa. Terrible airline.

Route: Conakry to London Heathrow via Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: SpiceJet

Title: "I didn't even get to my flight"

Review: I didn't even get to my flight. It was a transfer flight and there was no information shared with me at all about online check in or that I had to check out and check back in again on my transfer flight. They only sent me a whole lot of promo mails which besides that it's annoying makes it hard to find the actual important mails in your inbox. Besides the all the promo mail, there wasn't any mail about online check in or that I had to check out from my transfer and check back in. Instead they let me all the way through to the gate and told me on the last moment that I was supposed to check out and back in. And the website was also not clear in that (I checked). I took a sprint to the check out and went back in, but check in was closed and they didn't do anything for me other than telling me that I should have known somehow. No (partly refund), no later flight instead, nothing. Only telling me that I should have known somehow what the procedure is and pointing to the terms and conditions part on my e-ticket, which by the way says nothing about checking out and back in in a transfer flight. Be aware of this. No spice jet for me anymore.

Route: Bangkok to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Mokulele Airlines

Title: "Horrible company"

Review: Horrible company. Changed outbound time with no notification. Sent us to a different aircraft, no security no one walked us to plane. We boarded wrong aircraft. Return flight they moved departure time then cancelled with no re-booking so we had to book on Hawaiian the next day and spend the night ourselves to get home as no one answered customer service at all. Dont book them !!

Route: Hilo to Kahului

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "Rude staff, long lines"

Review: Helsinki to Athens via Belgrade. Worst airline ever! Rude staff, long lines, no food, dirty airplanes that have a weird smell. They changed the airplane before the flight from an Airbus A320 jet to some old Boeing (probably 737) it took off shaking left and right and smelled like something was burning. The sound system gave me a headache and what they were saying was unintelligible even the safety instructions. I have seen third world countries airlines with better services and standards. Even budget airlines are way more comfortable. If you are thinking about flying with Air Serbia then think again. I am never afraid of flying but this time I did feel flying anxiety on board their flights.

Route: Helsinki to Athens via Belgrade

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Georgian Airways

Title: "strive mightily to avoid them"

Review: Gatwick to Tbilisi. I purchased tickets in August, for a November flight. We were arriving from the US to Gatwick, and were to connect same day from Gatwick to Tbilisi. Georgian Air decided sometime (September? October?) to change to a fall schedule, which did not include a Monday flight to Tbilisi. Georgian Air never emailed or called. We learned approximately 3 weeks prior to our late November flight, that we would be arriving in London on a Monday, but could not connect to Tbilisi until Wednesday. Georgian Air never 1) attempted to place us on another carrier for same Monday, 2) offered a partial or full reimbursement for the flight or expenses or inconvenience, nor 3) apologized at all. Georgian Air placed me on the Wed flight and said all is fine, your flight is good for Wed. This cost me 2 hotel nights in London (not cheap) plus train tickets to/from Gatwick to hotel, plus food for 2 days, AND we missed the business meeting that we were flying to, anyway. For a 5+ hr flight, they rattle around for the first 2 hrs, then wake you more than an hour prior to landing, for no apparent reason, so don't plan on getting to sleep any significant amount. The crew is friendly and seem very competent, but the airline is apparently disorganized and has no idea how to compensate clients when they cost them unbudgeted funds. I may have no options but this airline in the future, but I will strive mightily to avoid them.

Route: Gatwick to Tbilisi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Level

Title: "experience was a nightmare"

Review: Newark to Paris. My experience was a nightmare. This was primarily due to the very rude and rough behavior of the Level Airlines Team, on board, towards me and other passengers. They were extremely rude, would not stop to ask passengers such as me if I wanted to buy something to eat or drink, would not reply when talked to. One of the hostesses ran her trolley into my foot and did not apologise until I insisted ; another Airhostess was putting her elbow almost into my face while I was asleep in order to serve a passenger their pre-booked meal behind me, this woke me up and she refused to answer when I asked her politely if she could move the trolley up a little, finally after I asked 4 times in 2 different languages, she said no, she would not move the trolley and told me "there is no need to be unpleasant."

Seats are poor quality with thin cushioning, very little leg space, they provide no headphones, and bundles it into a 16 USD package, same with blankets etc. The airline accepts payment in EUR or Credit card, does not accept USD.

Route: Newark to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "The aircraft and comfort were impeccable"

Review: New Aircraft. Excellent Service. Comfortable Lie-Flat Seats. Spacious. Highly Recommended. Service was fine, nothing to write home about. Lounge was also fine, nothing exceptional. The aircraft and comfort were impeccable.

Route: Panama City to Montevideo

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Etihad Airways

Title: "Etihad showed complete disregard"

Review: Etihad managed to cancel my initial flight for unclear reasons. I was offered a refund or an alternate flight through my travel agent. Etihad showed complete disregard to the fact that due to their cancellation, I've had to incur changes in changing my hotel bookings and essentially extending my trip. My layover at AUH is now 5 hours 30 mins instead of 1 hour and 50 mins. I am travelling with a small child. All I had requested from Etihad for giving me all this trouble was to give my family access to the lounge at the airport as they have been directly responsible for the increase in our lay over time. I had not even asked for compensation for the charges I've had to incur to modify our holiday. Etihad showed complete disregard to this and demonstrated a clear lack of professionalism towards us in this case. Quite shocking, they are not the same airline as they used to be in the past and after the above incident, I will not be travelling with them again and would not recommend anyone to either.

Route: London to Mahe via Abu Dhabi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "cancelled while we were driving to the airport"

Review: The flight from Sarajevo to Zürich, over Belgrade (20.08.2022) was cancelled while we were in the taxi driving to the airport. There is no Air Serbia support on the airport. Airport Sarajevo staff sent us to the hotel and we got phone number of Air Serbia support for Bosnia to deal with the new tickets. But it is impossible to get anyone on that phone number. We spent all mobile phone credit by waiting on the line. An hour later we just got a new tickets for 2 days later, without a chance to comment. No other option is offered. Meanwhile hotel is booked by the airport for only one night. We wrote to all publicly given addresses trying to reach out to someone in Air Serbia. All without success. So, basically, they are canceling the flight without telling the reason, sending new ticket without asking whether those 2 days make a difference in your life, without ensuring accommodation over a whole forced stay. Also flight to Sarajevo didn't go without troubles. Connecting flight was 4 hours delayed. Nobody explained why or apologized. We went to the service desk at the airport where we got sandwiches and bottle of water as compensation. When we finally got to the plane, my seat as well as seats of several people around were broken. I had to hold recliner by hand.

Route: Zürich to Sarajevo via Belgrade

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Nature Air

Title: "Avoid this airline"

Review: We booked our flights for our family to fly from San Jose to Tambor in November and subsequently booked our hotel and car rental. Today, 3 days before we fly they have sent us an email cancelling the flight! No explanation or help to change it, just a request for details to arrange a refund - awful customer service! Avoid this airline, use Sansa instead.

Route: San Jose to Tambor

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "Till now i didn't get yet my baggage"

Review: I have connecting flight from DXB-MNL-RXS. The flight was delayed for more than 2 hours. When i reached to domestic flight transfer Helpdesk one of the staff took my bagage and I go directly to departure entrance to get in on the flight to Roxas. When i reached Roxas my baggage was left behind on the airport, and they are saying i will get my luggage by the next day but till now they said my luggage is missing in manila airport.. Till now i didn't get yet my baggage.

Route: Dubai to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "I was extremely disappointed"

Review: The quality and value for money of upgrades to business and premium economy are appalling. I paid significant amounts to upgrade my passenger class due to an accident that occurred on top of existing mobility limitations. I was desperately in need of a more comfortable return trip. I was extremely disappointed and after the trip, Lufthansa didnt even bother to respond to my emails. I had to chase them several times and their interest was nil.

Route: Bangkok to Birmingham via Munich

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "Everything is great"

Review: Bangkok to Phnom Penh. I use the Self-check-in Counter. Everything is great I was surprised by the legroom of Thai Air Asia. The legroom is so spacious, more spacious than other Air Asia aircraft. And Thai Air Asia is the most spacious Legroom on low-cost airlines I ever tried. The cabin crew is nice. Another on-time flight.

Route: Bangkok to Phnom Penh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: flydubai

Title: "anything that can go wrong will go wrong"

Review: While travelling with Flydubai anything that can go wrong will go wrong. I have booked with my family a tour from 15 to 23 June this year on Maldives, flight from Minsk to Male (connection in Dubai). The flight from Minsk to Dubai was delayed repeatedly, we stayed at the airport for a whole night, and then it was cancelled. We have spent a day in a hotel near airport. Next flight has been scheduled for the next night but it was delayed for an hour. Because of this, we did not get to the connection flight (when we passed the passport control it was already last call). Our flight was rebooked for the next night, we spent another day in a hotel in Dubai. My son felt bad after two sleepless night and me with my wife felt exhausted. The last flight (Dubai Male) was also delayed but it is not the worst. They lost our baggage. Btw, before that flight I have asked if the baggage is on the same plane and the staff representative confirmed. Therefore, we have lost almost 3 days of holidays and Flydubai refused to compensate neither lost days at the resort nor compensation of moral harm. I assume based on the feedback and the comments it is a common practice for Flydubai to act like that. Never recommend this company to anyone.

Route: Minsk to Male via Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Pacific Airlines

Title: "Worst airline in Vietnam"

Review: Worst airline in Vietnam. They delayed the flight without any notice for 2.5 hours, which one can find only in the airport after check-in. More of that, they knew that didn't will be delayed, because they delayed all their flight that day, but still didn't notify passengers. No water, no food, nothing to apologize. Moreover, they started boarding when it should be the departure time.

Route: Ho Chi Minh to Phu Quoc

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: PLAY

Title: "too little space between seats"

Review: Great service and overall experience good, but too little space between seats when the table is down. The flight was shorter then announced so that was a bonus.

Route: Tenerife to Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: TAP Portugal

Title: "last time ever flying with TAP "

Review: I have been unable to reach the airline over the phone and their voicemail is full. I'm getting, at best, 1 email back per day. During the email back and forth, I mentioned that it seemed like my bag was being routed back to Casablanca, which is my vacation destination. The agent proceeded to tell me that they had my Grenadian address on file, and even confirmed it. This morning, I received an email from a gentleman in Casablanca CMN informing me that my bag is ready for pick-up. Again, I'm 4000 miles across the Atlantic and it is physically impossible for me to do so. So far, not a single person in this airline has even offered an apology and everyone is acting like this is the most common situation. It goes without saying that this was my last time ever flying with TAP and I will spare no amount of money in the future to avoid your company.

Route: Casablanca to London via Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air New Zealand

Title: "friendliness of the crew"

Review: This was a code share with Singapore Airlines from Paris to Auckland and on the return Auckland to Singapore leg SIA booked me on Air NZ. After flying 2 legs in Singapore Airlines premium economy the Air NZ seating was vastly superior, both comfort and space. Same 2-4-2 seating but in each row of middle four there was one seat empty so the configuration in the middle was actually 1-2. After reading so much bad press about Air NZ it was a surprise that the cabin crew made a huge effort to walk around the premium economy cabin and introduce themselves to each passenger by name, there was also a hot towel. But what made the Air NZ premium product vastly superior was the friendliness of the crew, they made an effort to replenish drinks and chat to customers and provided excellent service! Now the management of Air NZ need to catch up with their crew and improve their EU website which is a disaster, I actually tried to book this trip on AIR NZ but the website was useless.

Route: Auckland to Singapore

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Garuda Indonesia

Title: "crew were very attentive"

Review: Denpasar to Amsterdam via Jakarta Have flown Garuda Indonesia domestic in economy several times. This time decided to fly their Business Class DPS-CGK-AMS in B777, it was worth it. Cabin crew were very attentive, friendly and service oriented. Food (Indonesian) that I chose tasted good. Lavatories are bigger than other airlines i have ever flown with. The service matched the price, from VIP check in desk to the smiles. Take a seat and they will do the check in for you. Of course the Sky Priority gate through security. Keep it high Garuda

Route: Denpasar to Amsterdam via Jakarta

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Seychelles

Title: "experienced such a bad service"

Review: Antananarivo to Abu Dhabi via Mahe. I have never experienced such a bad service! Lots of delays, mechanical problems with aircraft. No clear communication what was happening with the engine problems and updates so very stressy for all passengers to make connections. Very outdated aircraft. Problems with boarding pass issuing for many passengers while transiting in Seychelles! Frustrating with inadequate ground staff follow up! Halfway the food service some meals where already out of stock. Super rude check in at Antananarivo Airport. I have a silver frequent flyer card from Etihad which is their partner and normally my allowance was 40 kg. I arrived with a surfboard back and had to take out 8 kg as they said they only allow 32kg. My other bag was already checked in so i had to take it all as carry on. There where laughing and showed no mercy at check in-no humanity. I can't understand why a world class airline like Etihad teams up with them. This is island style aviation at its worst! Will take my business somewhere else.

Route: Antananarivo to Abu Dhabi via Mahe

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Seychelles

Title: "My luggage never arrived"

Review: Johannesburg to Mahe. I have never received such disgusting service as with Air Seychelles. My luggage never arrived from Johannesburg and I had to deal with a rude lady in Mahe who told me my bag would be on the flight the following evening and sent to La Digue. They gave me a number to follow up on that when finally someone did answer they just said they don't know where my luggage is and put the phone down on me. They put the phone down on my mother as well. Surprise my luggage never arrived.

Route: Johannesburg to Mahe

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "not be flying this airline again"

Review: Do not travel on this airline if you value your luggage -- they may return it damaged, and then wipe their hands of the situation by sending you an email saying what happens to the baggage is out of their control because it has to - and I quote directly the nonsense they sent me -- "pass through the hands of several service providers in the airport context." Unbelievable that they don't respect their customers enough to compensate for damaging their luggage. Particularly don't recommend them if you are travelling with children (in my case, two small children) - they damaged my child's car seat so as to make it completely unuseable then said I could no longer make a claim once I had stepped out of the airport. Apparently after a flight you are expected to then traipse around a large airport and track down their lost luggage office which is nowhere to be found, while dragging along two small, tired children, in order for them to believe you're not making this up (who has the time?) They claim reporting directly at their (invisible) lost luggage office is for "transparency" reasons, when actually transparency on their part would have been them telling you they can't be trusted to safely check in a car seat. Flying is expensive, as is a child car seat. The least you'd expect is to get the service you paid for. Will not be flying this airline again.

Route: Johannesburg to East London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vueling Airlines

Title: "Flight attendants were strange"

Review: Sat in front row, one and a half hour flight from Ibiza to FCO. Flight attendants were strange. They did one beverage cart run for full flight, when that emptied (1/8 of the passengers), they came back up to front galley, closed curtain so passengers got the message they were closed, bathrooms not available, etc. Then some lovely warm pasta smell began emanating from the front (likely a crew meal). They laughed and chatted with curtain blocking both passage and window barrier in front of 1A-C.

Route: Ibiza to Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cape Air

Title: "customer care was sub par"

Review: St. Croix to San Juan. The flight was fine - customer care before and after was sub par. At checkin I was refused checking my bags through to my final destination. My printed itinerary showed entire route attendant didn't care. Called United my connecting airline who acknowledged everything was in place and correct they called Cape Air. Response they still didn't care would not make the change. We had to get our bags in San Juan go back to United check them through go through TSA again and run to get on the plane. I am not a fan of Cape Air they had the power to fix it at check in and refused multiple times. Lazy, Uncaring and not my problem, was the attitude. never again.

Route: St. Croix to San Juan

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vistara

Title: "Awful service experience"

Review: Awful service experience. Staff were very rude, did not care about customers. The food selection was poor and had no fizzy drinks on the way back to UK. I had to wait 3 hours to check my baggage as the staff were extremely slow with with all customers complaining and had to run to get to the plane. In addition they charge for you to book an economy seat! At least 40% were chargeable seats! They do not value your money.

Route: New Delhi to London Heathrow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia Philippines

Title: "changes every minute"

Review: Our flight was smooth at first. We enjoyed our trip from Manila to Cebu. But during our return to Manila, our flight was delayed from 5pm to 5.50pm then to 7.20pm to 7.10 pm to 7.25 pm and lastly to 7.50pm. Due to these changes every minute, we have been confused and were not able to go to the gate 20mins before the final time of departure. We arrived 6 mins late and were not accepted on the gate. Our flight was forfeited and we need to book another flight to be able to return to Manila. It was so devastating and heartbreaking as we have to incur another expense to return to Manila that costs us same price of round trip from Manila to Cebu and vice versa.

Route: Cebu to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "stealing my cash"

Review: I had flights from Manila to Bangkok and when travel bans for COVID-19 were release. I decided to call them and get a refund as per their policy, I was informed that my flight was cancelled by someone without my knowledge and the remaining fund were put into a "Travel Fund" (which was less than half of what I paid them and I will never use). Worst of all they can't even guarantee that this person will not be able to make a flight booking with the remainder of the travel fund thereby stealing my cash, honestly don't think their call centre agents even understand what the issue was here, it's very said that their business is run in such an unethical way, I didn't even get a chance to fly with them. Safe travels.

Route: Manila to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Eurowings

Title: "Second flight this week the nightmare continues"

Review: It is me again. Second flight this week the nightmare continues. Nearly 2 Hours of delay flown by a partner airline Avion Express far from inspiring confidence. Eurowings is week by week achieving bigger negative surprises. The monopoly in GER for Lufthansa and Eurowings turns to be devastating for customers. Can only advise against the airline.

Route: Berlin to Düsseldorf

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "professional and attentive staff"

Review: Hong Kong Airlines trip from Hong Kong to Taipei. Seat 15A in business class on this A330. impeccable cabin cleanliness, professional and attentive staff, very comfortable seat with good entertainment. More than good food and impeccable service. Flight on time and very pleasant thanks to the staff.

Route: HKG to TPE

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ZIPAIR

Title: "strict carry on weight policy of 7KG"

Review: They have a very strict carry on weight policy of 7KG. I was forced to put £5000 worth of lenses into checked luggage. No option to pay extra, wouldn't allow me to book an extra seat to double my luggage rate. I'm praying to god they are ok when I land. Staff on the desk didn't seem to grasp why this was such a huge issue or why a photographer might easily carry more than 7KG in hand luggage.

Route: Narita to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: WOW air

Title: "I was pleasantly surprised"

Review: Pittsburgh to Berlin via Keflavik. I was hesitant to fly WOW because of all the bad reviews but I was pleasantly surprised. There is not one thing that was bad about our flights. Every plane was on time and our baggage was there when we landed. No waiting at all. Check in was very easy and the attendants were very helpful since this was my first time flying overseas. The flight attendants were extremely nice and very professional. The seats were comfortable with plenty of leg room. They are a no frill airline but they do have onboard food and drink service that you can pay by credit card.

Route: Pittsburgh to Berlin via Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "worst service in our lives"

Review: Wife and I flew here back in May and just the other day. Lost luggage 2 pieces x5 days. Thus time 2x pieces luggage now counting 3rd day. Cannot say the customer service is awful because when you are rarely able to reach anyone you get the run around no responsibility, no professionalism, no accountability. I could go on about the flights themselves yet would take far too long here. Been traveling globally for 40 years and we have never seen and had to experience worst service in our lives. Yet, they have the audacity to charge outrageous prices and their idea of excellence is simply getting you there in one piece alive. Pitiful, pathetic, incredulous to describe briefly! STAY AWAY, you will be denied access to water on the plane and the food is inedible to say the least. Didn't even have a boarding pass for our connection out of Paris.

Route: Atlanta to Paris via Amman

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "told a refund will be processed"

Review: In November, an air travel bubble was supposed to open between Hong Kong and Singapore. I booked a flight for the 24th, was so excited as I have not been flying since March! Unfortunately, just a day before its opening, due to the worsening 4th wave in Hong Kong, they had to postpone the travel bubble until further notice next year. CX acted in a very timely and professional manner, stating clearly all the options, such as flight credits or full refund. I rang their number, and a friendly attendant answered my call in no time. I was told a refund will be processed in a few weeks time. I look forward to flying with them again in the near future.

Route: Hong Kong to Singapore

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Monarch Airlines

Title: "went to Air France"

Review: Birmingham to Nice with Monarch Airlines. Arrived at the airport with a second luggage to put in hold. Learnt at the check-in desk that it was impossible to buy a second baggage allowance and therefore that every kg represented by this luggage will be charged 10£ as well as 36£ penalty fees. Finally for a ticket bought 40£+20£ (first baggage allowance) they were asking me 256£ supplement for one additional hold bag. Obviously refused to take the flight and went to Air France and got a much cheaper rate. To make the thing worse, the employees at the desk were unprofessional and not sure about the baggage allowance policy. After 10mn of debate, I was sent to the manager on duty. In addition to be patronizing towards me, she was arrogant, made my experience even worst.

Route: BHX to NCE

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Airlines

Title: "flight times changed at least 5 times"

Review: I booked round-trip flight from LAX to Bangkok via Taipei for January 2020. Since the time I booked the flight 5 months ago, the flight times were changed at least 5 times. The latest arrival time is much later than the original arrival time which created a problem for my plans. I cancelled the fight but was charged $200 cancellation fee ($100 for each person in the booking). Since my cancellation was due to China Airlines change of schedule, the $200 cancellation fee should be waived. But China Airline refused to refund.

Route: Bangkok to Los Angeles via Taipei

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Flair Airlines

Title: "Terrible customer service"

Review: Flair Airlines is dishonest. Reasons are generated by Flair Airlines for delays and cancellations. I received an initial reason "aircraft has been delayed in Ottawa (YOW) due to adverse weather conditions affecting flight schedule outside airlines control." My flight was delayed 7 hours and the weather was just fine in both locations I contacted the Flair compensation department following the delay. From my experience, Flair Airlines fails to respond to emails in a timely manner, Flair Airlines denies compensation and generates alternative reasons for delays after delays have occurred. Terrible customer service.

Route: Ottawa to Halifax

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Eastern Airways

Title: "airline is shockingly disappointing"

Review: Booked a return from Leeds to Aberdeen at considerable cost. The outward leg was delayed as flight crew could not be found and operational issues being quoted yet again by the helpful ground crew. On my return again advised that Leeds Flight is cancelled and now flying to Humberside due to operational reasons. Humberside flight delayed by 2 hours. Taxi offered from Humberside to Leeds as is the norm with Eastern. Once again flights cancelled to save fuel costs and everybody stuffed into one aircraft then bussed like cattle to Leeds. Never using this airline again and now decided to drive and use a hotel. This airline is shockingly disappointing in the manner it cancels it late night flight to double up and save cost. Why offer the route if you have no intention of honouring it.

Route: Aberdeen to Leeds

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: WOW air

Title: "license to be rude"

Review: Boston to Keflavik. Horrible airline! Really WOW - wow the worst ever! Their personal act like they've got license to be rude. First and last time I'm flying Wow Air. For the international flight they charged me $70 for a small carry-on!

Route: Boston to Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Vistara

Title: "extra for Premium is not really worth it"

Review: The seats in the premium economy are in 3-3-3 arrangements compared to the 3-2-3 in the older version of the aircraft. The seat space is similar to the economy with a little more leg space. Paying extra for the Premium is not really worth it. Sometimes the premium economy seats are cheaper only go for it, when this option is available. No wifi on-board on this aircraft, TV sets can't be tilted. If the person sitting in front of you reclines his/her seat you can switch off your screen and plan something else to do. It's the first time to see the newer version of the aircraft is worse than the older one they were using.

Route: Delhi to Frankfurt

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: SpiceJet

Title: "no courtesy shown to us by SpiceJet"

Review: We are a family of 3 and had booked a flight to Guwahati from Mumbai for 6.10am for Wednesday 17th May 2023. It was supposed to reach around 10. We had an onwards journey to Shillong. When we tried to check in, we realised that flight has changed to evening 19.00 hrs. To avoid losing a day in Shillong, we had to book a day prior and had to book a stay in Guwahati. Spent around 20k more. This flight was delayed by 30 min. On our return journey, we had a ticket from Guwahati for 17.10 hrs on 21st May 2023. Reaching Mumbai back at 20.30 hrs same day. While we tried checking in previous day, we learnt that flight time has changed to 23.30 hrs. And reaching back at 3.00am the next day. We had no choice as other airline flights were not available for 3 people or exorbitantly expensive. We had to continue and checked in. The flight was delayed from scheduled 23.30 hrs on 21st May to 00.45am on 22nd May. We have landed on T2 terminal at 4.20am. We have lost sleep, money and an entire of work day pre travel and post travel. We have barely slept. They have offered a sandwich and Rajma Chawl at the airport. It is a hardship which we will never forget and not recommend SpiceJet to anyone. The leg space between the chair is extremely low. An average height person like us was hitting knee to the seat ahead. Extremely bad experience both ways. There was no courtesy shown to us by SpiceJet ground staff and cabin crew. Just a customary apology was given. We will never recommend Spicejet airlines to anyone. If there was a zero star or negative star to rate, would have picked it to rate the service.

Route: Mumbai to Guwahati

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Qatar Airways

Title: "Flights always on time"

Review: Thank you Qatar Airways Due to the nature of employment, I fly on regularly with long distance flights since 2000. During 2020 with the COVID outbreak, my then carrier of choice stopped flights to and from Johannesburg, South Africa. Qatar Airways was the first airline that resumed flights from South Africa and by times the flights were less than 10% full, but Qatar kept on flying and that bought my loyalty. In addition to the above, why do I continue with Qatar Airways? Flights always on time (very important for me!) ground and flight personnel professional and friendly, Doha transit very quick and efficient even with numerous flights disembarking, providing socks, eye masks and toothpaste kits for even Economy class, food and drinks served of good quality, and lastly - flight schedules work out perfect for me.

Route: Johannesburg to Baghdad via Doha

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "Air Connect crew was pleasant"

Review: I can't give a full score because there was a 45 minute delay. The flight was operated by another company called Air Connect and its crew was pleasant and the plane clean and modern.

Route: Budapest to Belgrade

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "refusing to give me a refund"

Review: I booked a trip to Europe with Alitalia through my credit card for May 2020 before COVID-19 was an issue. I bought travel insurance in case I had to cancel the trip for any reason. Once COVID-19 started escalating, I had to cancel my trip. I am an essential worker and couldn't leave the US or else I wouldn't be allowed back on some job sites. The credit card company told me the only way to get a refund is by talking directly to the airline, but I haven't been able to get anywhere with Alitalia. What is the point of buying traveler's insurance if not for instances like this? They are not allowing me to rebook the trip and are also refusing to give me a refund, so they basically ate my money. I am very dissatisfied with the customer service at Alitalia and will never recommend them to anyone who is planning a trip to Europe. This is a helpless situation, and they are taking full advantage of it. Even one star is too much to give to them.

Route: Houston to Milan

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Airlink

Title: "great service and flight"

Review: Johannesburg to George. Thanks for great service and flight. Will definitely use AirLink again. Great lunch and drinks included and friendly staff.

Route: Johannesburg to George

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "should waive cancellation charges"

Review: Bangalore to Jammu via Delhi. I had booked GoAir flight to Jammu via Delhi for my family of 4 Pax, the booking was for 13 March 2020, and i had booked it on 19 Jan 20 under PNR -E735MM. Due to corona virus , we decided to cancel our trip. I called GoAir and they said that cancellation fee waiver is offered for only those bookings that were initiated between 8 March and 30 April, but not for those bookings initiated prior to it. Now tell me why would one book amid a full blown Corona virus threat and intend to cancel it later, If these airlines were genuinely sympathizing with buyers affected by Corona virus threat then they should waive cancellation charges for people travelling between 8 March and 30 April, and not for bookings made between 8 March and 30 April.

Route: Bangalore to Jammu via Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Luxair

Title: Luxair customer review

Review: Luxair tends to operate 2 types of planes mainly (767 are covering holiday destinations) - Bombardier Q400 (turboprop) and Embraer 145 (jet). I've flown with the latter one from Luxembourg to Paris CDG. Plane is tiny, so tiny that standard cabin luggage has to be put to cargo hold as delivery on aircraft - the lockers are big enough for a laptop bag and nothing more. Flight attendants very professional, polite and helpful - nothing to complain about, food was decent for such a short flight (60 min) which however forces you to eat quite quickly. I frequently fly with Luxair and I can recommend the airline, they are small, planes are tiny but service is good. Keep it up Luxair.

Route: Luxembourg to Paris

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Icelandair

Title: "Pretty poor service"

Review: IcelandAir sent out an email saying to check in three hours in advance of departure due to airport delays. Given the problems at Dublin Airport (security delays of 5+ hours on May 29), this seemed eminently sensible. Unfortunately, when I showed up 3 hours prior to departure, the check in counter was closed and at least 150 people were waiting to check in. 15 minutes later the line was even longer and still no check in agent. The time to go through security to the gate was about 1 hour, figure 1 to 1-1/2 hrs to go through check in and that the gate closes 15 min before departure. Anyone needing extra time would likely miss their flight. Pretty poor service.

Route: Dublin to Seattle via Reykjavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Lion Air

Title: "transfer you mid sentence"

Review: The airline cant even inform you anyway through texts or emails if a flight has been cancelled. Called customer service and when it was something they didn't understand, they automatically transfer you mid sentence while you are talking and then you have to wait 10 -20 minutes for a new operator.

Route: Labuan Bajo to Denpasar

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Wideroe

Title: "Avoid Wideroe"

Review: The flight was fine. I learned later that I could have booked it through SAS which is what everyone should do. I mistakenly paid for extra baggage i thought I was paying for but it turns out that this was included. I found the site confusing and so made a mistake. When I learned about this at the Oslo airport, no one at the the desk could correct the problem and they told me to contact customer service via chat or email. At Leknes I did contact, I was told it was company policy that you could not cancel an add on service. They would not evn let me cancel the unnecessary and what will be unused charge for the January 31 flight back to Oslo. Turns out the flight was joint with SAS and I used their app for boarding pass anyway. Book through SAS and get good service. Avoid Wideroe

Route: Oslo to Leknes via Bodoe

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Avianca

Title: "Terrible service"

Review: Terrible service. Overcharged for baggage despite published price. Horrible old plane with bad options to get drinks (water, soft drinks) without paying.

Route: IAH to SAL

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aircalin

Title: "Surprisingly very good"

Review: Melbourne to Nouméa. Surprisingly very good airline and good business seat for a three hours flight. Very good staff and very good product in business. Among them: Nikko Japanese whisky!

Route: Melbourne to Nouméa

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Ravn Alaska

Title: "give away your seat"

Review: Anchorage to Kenai. They will give away your seat even if you are in the airport. Not worth the risk to fly with them. I give them the lowest rating possible. Who gives away a paid for seat? These guys. Shouldn't I be able to use or not use my seat as I see fit?

Route: Anchorage to Kenai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: NAM Air

Title: "very happy with the service"

Review: Flew NAM Air from Sorong to Jakarta on Flight No IN587. The check in process was fast and efficient with very friendly staff. We took off on schedule and arrived in Jakarta ahead of schedule. My luggage came out within 10 minutes of landing and was handed to me by NAM Air ground staff. The cabin crew were very friendly and I was very happy with the overall service provided by NAM Air and would certainly fly them again.

Route: Sorong to Jakarta

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Regent Airways

Title: "Terrible experience"

Review: Terrible experience with Regent Air. I booked a round trip ticket from Singapore to Dhaka. The departing flight was delayed for 4 hours without any prior notice. The return flight was canceled without minimal effort to make an alternative arrangement. The staff are rude and abusive in attitude. No sign of apology in their faces despite creating so much inconvenience.

Route: Singapore to Dhaka

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "next time will pay extra"

Review: We flew with Scoot on our Singapore-Sydney route on the way back from the UK, which we booked through Singapore Airlines. However, we were disappointed. We paid a little bit extra for a "Scoot in Silence" seat, which was like a small economy area where children weren't allowed. Food was pretty terrible (but included) however drinks were not included, except for water. We had brought our own water on board but had to pay for any extra drinks, which I wasn't happy about. No entertainment system, so come prepared with your own devices. I wouldn't fly Scoot again, and next time will pay extra to fly with Singapore Airlines the whole way.

Route: Singapore to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "cabin crew were very friendly"

Review: London (LHR) to Milan (LIN). Boarding was quick and efficient, flight departed on time and cabin crew were very friendly. The aircraft was clean, seats were comfortable and the price was excellent. I strongly recommend Alitalia.

Route: London (LHR) to Milan (LIN)

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "staff are inefficient"

Review: Bengaluru to Chennai. We were made to wait for half an hour in the baggage drop line. Line was short, staff were inefficient. Our e-boarding pass expired before our flight and we had to get a new one with different seats. We had to wait for the bus again for 10 minutes in the hot sun before we could board the flight. We took AirAsia from Chennai to Bangalore as well. Similar experience. Staff are inefficient (ground crew) and processes terrible. Not recommended at all.

Route: Bengaluru to Chennai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Berlin

Title: "Worst airline ever"

Review: Berlin to Copenhagen. Worst airline ever. They just lost me and my friend as customers! We booked (two fairly expensive tickets, 390) 3 months ago and when we came to the check in we are told we are on stand by due to overbooking. We didn't get any information before hand. Not any texts or emails. We were randomly picked and we were not the last ones to check in, we were actually early. I don't know why they chose us because the man behind the desk didn't answer any of our questions and he was rude and just wanted to get rid of us. So now we're sittning here at Tegel Airport and we have to wait 5 hours until the next flight leaves. Great times.

Route: Berlin to Copenhagen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Transavia

Title: "overall opinion is horrible"

Review: I had to fly from Berlin to Paris on 6th of July. First time booking a flight with Transavia. 6 hours before the flight I receive a message saying that my flight is cancelled due to a technical problem. Ok, happens. I had an important, urgent medical appointments on July 7th and 8th morning (thanks to those appointments a surgery was planned). The problem had to be solved immediately, so I contacted them via What'sApp, replies took time, I decided to call them. The call lasted 38 minutes. They offered me 3 solutions : Another flight on for 13th of July. Doesn't work for me. Reimburse my ticket, but doesn't solve my problem. Get another flight from another company. Yes, but the condition was to "find a new ticket with a reasonable price close to the initial one". To be more precise, I paid 98, they told me I should find something under 150. If you book a flight the same day, of course all the prices are going to be high! So taking into account the high prices of flights for that day, the service agent made me understand that I won't be fully reimbursed, therefore I'll have to pay extra money. I could finally find a flight for 198, sent a mail and I'll see if they pay it. An overall opinion is horrible. I had feeling they were mocking me offering a solution which wasn't a solution at all even though I explained the importance of being in Paris for me. I'll try to avoid this company in the future as much as I can. The only positive point is the service agent who was adorable, really understood my problem and tried to help me, but couldn't do it due to her limits.

Route: Berlin to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "changing a flight costs more than paying for a new one?"

Review: I had a trip Porto - Milan - Bristol, after Ryanair cancels my flight a few hours before the flight with no alternative options for me to fly to Bergamo, I asked for a refund for the second flight leaving Bergamo. Everyone can tell that the second flight was also affected but Ryanair doesn't allow me to cancel, refund or pay 45 to change the flight, the flight cost 27 - why does changing a flight costs more than paying for a new one?

Route: Porto to Bergamo via Bristol

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hi Fly

Title: "a very good experience"

Review: Salvador to Lisbon. Everything great. The flight was on time and the flight attendants were super nice. Good food and served in nice quantities. The entertainment was very personalized. It was a very good experience.

Route: Salvador to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Aeromar

Title: "Incompetent and unfriendly"

Review: Ixtapa-Zihuatanejo to Mexico City. Once more a delayed flight, just three hours but without any guarantee. Just "we hope that more or less at 4pm we will have a plane". Incompetent and unfriendly staff, truly the bad side of Mexico, just the image the country does not want to give. Everybody here gives you the impression that they want you out of their face and expect you to be thankful that there might be a flight after all. Which is not yet secured.

Route: Ixtapa-Zihuatanejo to Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: El Al Israel Airlines

Title: "Seats were not comfortable"

Review: Tel Aviv to Vienna. Both flights were delayed, only on our return flight an excuse and explanation was given. Both flights were oversold and especially in TLV they even tried to separate groups which is in my opinion an absolute no-go. The planes did not look very inviting (cleaning was certainly reduced to a minimum). Crew was quite nice on the flight to TLV (experienced and mature crew members) but on the flight back there was not even a hint of a smile (young ones but certainly with no motivation). Service was quite surprising - somehow I thought on a 3,5 hours flight there would be offered a bar service (or at least a possibility to purchase drinks) but they only distributed medium-size water bottles and an overheated sandwich which had no taste at all. Seats were not comfortable at all. I assume for the chaos at the airport in TLV EL AL is not really responsible but the check-in area looked and felt extremely disorganized. Really feel sorry for those people who have to use it frequently.

Route: Tel Aviv to Vienna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "The worst airline experience"

Review: The worst airline experience. After destroying my bag, the claims office at the Boston airport made all these promises and for a brief moment, I felt assured I'd be taken care of. Not only are they negligent but they're trying to get away with not paying me. Airport staff took photos of every item damaged, and I provided receipts for 10 out of 13 items (who even keeps receipts from years ago!?), still no payment is being made as they're trying to get away with not paying me.

Route: Las Vegas to Boston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Tigerair Australia

Title: "Worst customer experience"

Review: Gold Coast to Sydney. Worst customer experience ever. The flight was cancelled, promised refund on 28th September 2019 and no refund amount given yet plus got an email today that you can go seek legal advise if needed. Just there to get money providing pathetic customer support. Will never recommend this airline.

Route: Gold Coast to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Blue Panorama Airlines

Title: "a pure scam"

Review: Santorini to Milan. There was no place to enter our middle names when we booked on line yet we were not allowed to board our flight because our boarding pass did not have our middle name as per our passports. To board, we were forced to pay an extra $50 euro/pp but our boarding passes were never updated with our middle names - a pure scam. We were told that this is the only airline with this charge. They now ask for your middle name. Customer service is non-existent as they really do not want to hear from you. Do not support this airline if you have choices. It's the only way to put a stop to such unethical businesses and practices.

Route: Santorini to Milan

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "Very disappointed with Lufthansa"

Review: On April 11th, I checked in for the April 12 flight Cluj-Napoca to Toronto via Munich. At the check in Lufthansa offered an upgrade for premium economy. I paid for the upgrade and next day to the airport I was told that I am on stand by at Munich. When I arrived at Munich, I was told that I don't have the upgrade because Lufthansa sold more upgrades than the available seats they have. Arriving home I waited for Lufthansa to return the money, which didn't happen. I had to fill up some forms twice and almost a month to get the money back. Very disappointed with Lufthansa.

Route: Cluj to Toronto via Munich

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "had worst experience ever"

Review: I booked my Air Asia tickets for 2 Nov around 2 PM flight which got cancelled and rescheduled to different flight at 4.25 PM same day. At morning I received a call that new rescheduled flight delayed by 1 hour. After reaching to airport I again received a message that flight is delayed for 1 hour more and then it got delayed for more finally taking off at 9 PM and landing at 11.15 PM. So my 2.30 hour flight was actually 9 hours long. In airport AirAsia provided lunch which was only 5 spoons of biryani and there was no food provided in flight. Due to this I had to pay for lunch and for dinner and finally taking cab instead of metro. All of this increased my budget. So disappointed with Air Asia, No value of our time, had to pay more and my whole day and plans was compromised. Please avoid taking AirAsia, I with my family had worst experience ever.

Route: Goa to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: airBaltic

Title: "do not offer free glass of water"

Review: Everything was nice and fast until we got into the airplane. On speaker they said we will leave in 10min, but instead we waited for an hour to depart (without any one saying why). So toilet for an hour was unavailable. Flight cost 300$ from Paris to Rga and airBaltic do not offer free glass of water. It just felt cheap for what I paid.

Route: Paris to Riga

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Luxair

Title: "Very nice staff"

Review: Luxembourg to Copenhagen. Very nice staff, they were helpful and smiling. We received a sandwich, which is rare nowadays. It was a pleasure! I will for sure fly again with them.

Route: Luxembourg to Copenhagen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "I would 100% use them again"

Review: Wanted to start off this review by saying: Remember most people only leave reviews when they have a bad experience. So having said that, our experience was great with Copa Airlines! We booked in August $500 to Costa Rica and back. Which was a great deal and when I later checked the prices in October it was up to $1500! Obviously reading the reviews I got so scared our tickets would be cancelled or something so I legit didnt start booking things for our trip until a week or two before. The day of our flight came and everything checked out, we checked in online easily, I love that we got to pick our seats without paying (not many airlines do that nowadays), and when we got to the airport - because we only had carry-ons and already checked in - we were able to go right through security. The two flights we took there left on time, we were served a sandwich on the 5 hour one, and were perfectly good flights! Crew was nice, COVID protocols were followed and we got to our destination on time! I was also shocked we got our own entertainment service in economy class (private TV with movies and games and a USB charger). They also handed out headphones for free (even thou I had some they are the iPhone ones and dont fit for the TV so they gave me a pair - Ive been on other airlines where they wanted to charge me $16). We fly back in a few days and I have no worries at all. I would 100% use them again and probably will if I can get good priced flights!

Route: Toronto to Costa Rica via Panama

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "system separated us"

Review: Trang to Bangkok. Booked 3 people on the same reservation including a child. Their system separated us even though 3 seats were available together. System said I had to pay I get seats together but wouldn't let me change. Agent at the airport was worthless. Only thing he offered was upgrading to premium and paying 400 baht each. Don't fly thus airline. NOK AIR let's you select seats for free.

Route: Trang to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Volotea

Title: "They are refusing to reimburse us"

Review: Volotea was delayed leaving our departure island and we almost missed our international connection. During the transfer they also lost our luggage. They are refusing to reimburse us due to not talking to someone at the airport. The airport at which we had 20 minutes to make it to our international flight home. To recap: Volotea was delayed, almost making us miss our connection. Next, Volotea loses our bags. Then, Volotea refuses to reimburse us anything for our lost bags because we didn't have the time to file a claim at the airport.

Route: Santorini to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Eurowings

Title: "nearly missed the plane"

Review: Again 1.5 hours on a normal inner German flight. Delay was brought to attention 15 min prior to expected departure. Lounge and screens did not notify about boarding ca. 10 passengers including me nearly missed the plane. When you think it cant get worse you can rely EW finds a way!

Route: Duesseldorf to Berlin

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Peruvian Airlines

Title: "avoid this airline if you can"

Review: La Paz to Cuzco with Peruvian Airlines. The aircraft is 22 years old, everything worn and aged, from chairs to carpet, to window blind, to toilets. The seat was most cramped. One welcoming think is that they still serve drink and snacks even for an one hour flight. My flight was on time but I observed flights were cancelled frequently. For the daily LPB-CUZ route, I found 3 out of 7 flights were cancelled. Avoid this airline if you can!

Route: LPB to CUZ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Blue Panorama Airlines

Title: "worst experience flight"

Review: Tirana to Bologna. The worst experience flight I ever had. First they charged 60x2 = 120 missing middle name and the box for it wasn't available when booking. Customer service to Albania very poor, didn't have any info, and the most ridiculous thing they lost my luggage never came to Bologna (not found yet today September 2017). Called for a long time not customer service answered beside once a call center representative who didn't even know what to say. E-mailed three weeks in the row and couple answers "we are trying to track it. To all passengers who still fly with Blue Panorama, be careful and carry your luggage in the plane with you. Be careful when you book too otherwise the tickets will cost double with scam fees or if you don't have any money to pay it you will loose the flight.

Route: Tirana to Bologna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Rex Airlines

Title: "compliment the cabin crew"

Review: I would like to compliment the cabin crew on this flight. Their attitude and attention to detail reminded me of the good old Ansett Airline days where the staff took great pride in looking after their passengers. You could see that they just enjoyed what they we doing, especially Sergio's contagious smile beaming the full length of the aircraft that topped off an overall excellent experience. I was fortunate to get the same on my return flight ZL152 on 14 Dec 2022. Please thank this team for a job well done. Rex Airlines has definitely become my number one choice when flying domestically.

Route: Sydney to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air China

Title: "find this airline within average"

Review: Tokyo Haneda to Rome via Beijing. I find this airline within average, with no substantial difference with more expensive carriers. The ticket price is the lowest overall, but service isn't as bad nonetheless. Sometimes on-board personnel have an overworked outlook. Food maybe not top of the class, but not bad either. Economy seats are economy seats, no much to be done about it. If I had to find a couple of minuses, one is the animosity of some passengers, and a second would be the rather limited choice of the IFE movies and TV shows (most are Chinese-only Chinese productions)

Route: Tokyo Haneda to Rome via Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aerolineas Argentinas

Title: "the good service"

Review: Trelew to Buenos Aires. I was surprised by the good service. I wanted to pay for extra kilo's of luggage since the maximum is 15kgs for an inbound flight and I will fly intercontinental later on. My suitcase was 18kgs but the ground stewardess told me that I don't have to pay for it, 18kgs is no problem at all. I reserved a window seat (5F) and when I came to that place, only 5D was available. My neighbor was a crying baby. In that moment I thought that this was going to be a worse flight. Then a man came to me if I wanted to change seats because he was the father of the crying baby. So: yes please. Still no window seat and I tried to explain that it was rude to take my windowseat, but I don't think he understood. I didn't expect food and drink service for a 1:50hr flight, but they offered us lovely cookies and a drink. Good job for this airline!

Route: REL to EZE

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air France

Title: "did absolutely not get what we paid for"

Review: We booked business class with 1x2x1 seat configuration with flatbed in a B777 from Paris to Johannesburg and back. On the outbound flight, AF changed the plane (B777 with other cabin configuration) 10 hours before departure and we were downgraded to premium Economy, because there were not enough seats in the business. On the return flight the plane also was changed (B777 with other cabin configuration) and we flew in a very old and narrow business class with 2x3x2 configuration and no flatbed. This is not fair business. We did absolutely not get what we paid for.

Route: Paris to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "refused to do refund"

Review: Rj cancelled my flight and refused to do refund and provided only one option to use a voucher which I accepted (there were no mention that vouchers are non refundable) few months later I wanted to use the voucher but there were no RJ trips from Sydney to Cairo (which is the original trip) then I asked for refund and here comes the problem, they started sending me to different departments and ignoring my refund request then I waited for sometime and tried to book again but still no flights. I when I complained again that all other airlines now have flights on those routes I got a response to call customer service and when calling customer service they tells no flights and you can email customer care, email customer care and they point you to customer service really bad experience. One positive note that all customer service employees were personable but not helpful.

Route: Sydney to Cairo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Caribbean Airlines

Title: "Crew excellent on one hour flight"

Review: Flew Georgetown to Port of Spain. First leg of Georgetown to Toronto was excellent. I found out someone had bumped me out of my aisle seat and I was now in a window seat but check-in staff were excellent in trying to find a solution. Boarding was early and smooth - funny how efficient things are when no rush! Crew excellent on one hour flight. Great cockpit announcements. Bar service fast and efficient. Only drawback was ancient cabin but hey, it was a short flight.

Route: Georgetown to Port of Spain

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Korean Air

Title: "the most excellent crew "

Review: Honolulu to Incheon. I recently had the most excellent crew on a flight KEO54 on February 10, they were proactive and attentive throughout the flight, showing me to my seat, assisting with storing bags, bringing me drinks.

Route: Honolulu to Incheon

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "customer service was horrible"

Review: American Airlines canceled the flight my wife and I were scheduled on, we sat at the ORF airport for five plus hours waiting for it, delay after delay. We were informed it was canceled due to the incoming flight crew from New York being unable to continue on with our fight due to the delays it incurred. While there getting the bad news with everyone else, we overheard a lady mention that this was the third day in a row the same American Airlines flight had been canceled on her. Due to American Airlines inability to plan ahead and swap flight crews to enable us to fly later that evening when the plane did arrive, it caused us to have to cancel our vacation entirely. When we called American Airlines directly after we were told the flight was canceled, a representative told us they could not get us on another flight to our destination within the next few days. The customer service rep did slip up and say there was another flight with seats on it the next day but the seats were marked up to $4K each and he told us he could not put us on that fight! Due to American Airlines inability to plan ahead or get us on the next flight I was not able to see my Daughter who flew out of Houston to see us, my brother and his children or my Mom and Step-Dad all of whom I have not seen for over a year. I am in the Military and nothing is more disappointing than not getting to see my family the few times a year I can, especially when it's due to an airline company failing to uphold their end of a ticket purchase! Also, due to the last-minute flight cancelation, the non-refundable costs we incurred include; TWA hotel @JFK, our portion of the destination accommodations, and Airport parking for the day we waisted sitting there. My brother also flew American weeks before and had his flight canceled on him two times before he finally made it to his destination. The customer service was horrible when we were on the phone, they did nothing to assist us and were not able to answer most of the questions we had pertaining to our cancelled flight! My advice is don't fly American unless you are prepared to have a week of delays in getting to your destination, it appears this is quickly becoming their standard operating procedure.

Route: Norfolk VA to Antigua via New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "the inflight service was horrible"

Review: Took Royal Jordanian to Amman Jordan. The flight itself was ok but the inflight service was horrible. There were so many ethnicity on both legs of my flight but that wasnt taken into consideration when it comes to the meals that were served. They catered only to the Arabic passengers. Just my opinion. I went to and returned from Amman without eating anything but rolls. Very first flight Ive been on and you cant get cranberry juice. All the money paid for a flight and you get a half of a small cup of something to drink. Ground crew was ok both in Chicago and Amman. Ill be returning to Amman pretty soon and obviously the price of the ticket will dictate which airline Ill be flying on. If I have a choice it wont be Riyal Jordanian.

Route: Chicago to Amman

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: TAME

Title: "they deduct cancellation fee"

Review: I booked a flight with Tame from Quito to Bogota, it was 07.00 in the morning, a month later my agency told me that flight time has changed, they changed from 07.00 to 21.00. new time was not acceptable for me. Just because it was early flight I chose it and paid more than other airlines. So i asked my agency to cancel the flight and get a refund. 2 Months later they made refund and i got half price of what I paid. The reason was I cancelled the flight and they deduct cancellation fee. Thats a real scam. You cannot change time more than 12 hours and ask me accept it.

Route: Quito to Bogota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Allegiant Air

Title: "flight was delayed 2 times"

Review: My flight was due to take off at 6.10, 05/05! The flight was delayed 2 times before they rescheduled while we are in the airport with 2 kids after 7pm due to maintenance which is understandable! Now when you reach out to get help rescheduled through customer service due to their inconvenience the representatives are so rude like you inconvenienced them or something! This was my sons 16th birthday trip and it has been nothing but a hassle! The didnt want to help with the rental car I also booked through them to pick up on the 5th I asked for a supervisor wasnt given one the smart mouth lady came back and said she issued a credit for my first day of the rental car which I havent seen!

Route: Columbus to Myrtle Beach

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Iberia Express

Title: "airline is the least comfortable"

Review: This airline is the least comfortable I have ever flown on. Seat pitch is so low I could not comfortably for my legs in any way.

Route: Madrid to Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Korean Air

Title: "staff are friendly"

Review: Flew on a domestic flight from Busan to Jeju. Check in agents at Busan were amazing and their bosses allow them to have bubble tea at the counters. The lounge is rather small at Busan with only light snacks and soft drinks on offer, it is located before security. The staff are friendly, Qantas offer much better in their domestic lounges but one must realise Qantas charge much more for their J class product in comparison to Korean Air. The aircraft is an A330-300. The business class product is amazing, lots of extra leg room, if you want the most leg room, choose row 7. The flight attendants were exceptional in their customer service.

Route: Busan to Jeju

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "customer service was excellent"

Review: First time flying with Airasia. Hospitality and customer service was excellent. I arrived late in airport due to my car got an accident and check in gate was closed. However upon requesting airline staff that I have international connection, they allowed and assisted me in getting to the aircraft. A very big thank you to AirAsia India for making my travel successful.

Route: Ranchi to New Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "Ground staff are very unfriendly"

Review: Ground staff are very unfriendly and not helpful, making my trip unpleasant to start up with. The waiting line is also quite unorganized with no supporting staffs maintaining order. Nonetheless, I was able to check in my luggages and headed to the boarding gate with no big problems. Seating comfort on the economy class in B777 and food quality are above average. The entertainment screen works fine. No delays on departure. I may not want to fly Emirates in the future.

Route: Dubai to Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "How long is long enough?"

Review: As a frequent traveler, it should be disappointing to any travel related business to hear they are by far a customers worst experience. It's been nearly 1 year while I wait for ticket to be refunded, 1 year. Just a moment ago, I got off the phone during my once a week call to the Royal Air Maroc customer service, asking if perhaps this is the week they will do the right thing and give me my money back. Sadly, no this isn't the week. The nice lady on the phone informed me it's only been 3 months since receiving my refund claim and that due to covid, things can take a bit longer. Well, let's start with the fact that the airline never notified me of the flight cancellation, and made zero effort to communicate with me regarding the cancellation, or credit or a refund for 6 months after they cancelled the flight. Once I finally reached out via phone call and email, I waited another several months with no reply. At this point, obviously frustrated, I began calling back more frequently and was finally notified that my refund claim was filed incorrectly and I had to file it again. So now nearly 1 year later, while chatting with this nice lady on the phone, she tells me that since I've only waited 3 months since my claim was re-filed, I simply haven't waited long enough. How long is long enough? At this point, it's pretty clear that I was essentially robbed by this airline, and the most frustrating part is that every time I call asking when they will do the right thing, they just smile and keep lying more. Beyond awful service, companies like this should be pursued criminally. While I don't wish anyone to go through such experiences, one look at Royal Air Maroc online reviews and the story becomes clear. I'm not the first and won't be the last. But hopefully, through reviews such as this and those of others who've been cheated, people will eventually avoid, avoid, avoid, until Royal Air Maroc does right by its customers, or goes out of business. While I'm sure there are great staff working for this company and certain aspects of this review should probably be rated higher than a 0, I refuse to be treated this way any longer.

Route: New York to Geneva

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "denied to provide lounge access"

Review: Very poor service. I had to leave to Bahrain from London on 9th September. The daily flight was delayed from 2 hours to more than 5 hours after checking the status for more than a month. Airline denied to provide lounge access after we waited a long time in the Airport.

Route: London to Bahrain

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Dragonair

Title: "remains good today"

Review: Flew from Hong Kong to Shanghai, the first time I have flown with Dragonair in over 13 years. It was a good airline then and it remains good today. The outbound portion of the flight was delayed by over an hour, which was beyond the control of the airline. Service and the inflight meal were good. The IFE on board didn't have the latest equipment, but still had a good selection that was more than enough for a two-hour, 20-minute flight (which had to be expedited because of the delay). The return portion was delayed by half an hour, which is practically on time for Shanghai standards. This flight was no more than half-full and I got two seats all to myself. Again, service and amenities were good.

Route: HKG to PVG

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Malaysia Airlines

Title: "definitely don't recommend them"

Review: Would never fly with Malaysia Airlines again and definitely don't recommend them. I flew between London Heathrow to Auckland via Kuala Lumpur mid-December 2022, returning to Heathrow the first week of January 2023. Every single flight was delayed, luggage was lost on return to London (the delay was ample time to allow the ground crew to transfer the bags), and cabin crew were rude. On one leg the steward was so fed up telling every passenger the meal choices (first airline ever that didn't hand out meal choice cards) that all we got was 'spicy or non-spicy' before the tray & croissant were literally thrown at us. This is also the first time my luggage has never made it back at the same time as I did. The airline made no announcements regarding delayed flights, and no apology either. The outbound flight arrived over 3 hours late in Auckland meaning my sister had to order & pay for a taxi to pick me up. Should have arrived on Thursday evening at 2355 - instead we arrived after 3am on Friday morning! A complete farce from beginning to end.

Route: Auckland to London via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "very nice and friendly"

Review:

Boston to Beijing. The cabin staff of Hainan Airlines is very nice and friendly. During the long journey, they offered me delicious food, friendly service, and an interesting chat. It is my first time to have a chat with the cabin staff in the airline and the journey is no longer boring but relaxing because of them.

Route: Boston to Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "can't be this incompetent"

Review: After I got badly hurt during an attempted robbery in Quito, Ecuador, I could no longer proceed to travel to Peru and Bolivia. So I provided LATAM Airlines with the information and evidence they needed and asked for a refund of both tickets. It was incredibly frustrating to communicate with their customer service. It was like 6 different people were handling my case, without communicating with each other. Several times I got sent the same emails by different people, asking for information I already gave them. Either they did not understand or did not want to understand me. To be honest, at a certain point, I got the feeling that all this confusion was on purpose, just to discourage me from getting my refunds back (also based on reading reviews from other passengers). You're supposed to be a professional airline. You can't be this incompetent, can you? Eventually, I got a full refund for one ticket, which is good, but I still lost 545.97. At this point, I'm just too tired to pursue it anymore, so all I can do is warn my fellow traveler. If the flight goes well, be happy. But if problems arise, you have been warned.

Route: Quito to Cusco via Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "AirAsia is weighing cabin baggage"

Review: AirAsia is weighing cabin baggage along with laptop bags and ladies hand bags. Any additional baggage beyond 7 kg (combined weight of cabin bag+ laptop+ ladies hand bag) is charged INR 1900 per kg. I faced this at Delhi Airport today.

Route: Delhi to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SATA Air Azores

Title: "disappointed with the service"

Review: Fake advertisement of the ability to purchase additional baggage. 15 euros per kg. When I had originally purchased the ticket, it was made clear on the website that I would be able to purchase additional baggage. Today I was trying to complete my check-in and purchase the extra luggage however the website did not allow this option, I therefore rung the contact number available on the website to make the purchase and to my surprise was told that I could purchase the extra baggage only once I arrive at the airport, only after questioning the lady on the phone, I was told that in fact I could not take an extra suitcase but only pay for extra kilos in the luggage which I already have (£15 per kilo from the suitcase I already have). Unfortunately, I have already brought and paid for an extra suitcase from London to Lisbon with the expectation that I would be able to take it to Cape Verde. Im highly disappointed with the service I have received thus far, I usually take this trip with TAP however decided to try something new and now I am being charged an additional £450 for a suitcase. This was extremely unclear across the website and now I have no choice but to throw away my suitcase with all my belongings as the price of this was not advertised.

Route: Lisbon to Cape Verde

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Rwandair

Title: "recommend this airline"

Review: Entebbe to London via Kigali. I can thoroughly recommend this airline. The service is as good as (or in many cases better than) any major airline, with cabin crew who are courteous, helpful and attentive with good quality food and beverages. The aircraft are new and the cabins are spotless. The seating in business class offers lay flat beds and they offer Premium Economy cabin. I travel a lot in Africa and even if there are quicker options I prefer to take this airline. Punctuality is good and in flight service even on short flights is excellent. The let downs are the appallingly slow security check at Kigali which can take an hour which causes delays to flights at busy times. This is a problem required to be addressed. Also they could do with a wider choice of films on the entertainment system.

Route: Entebbe to London via Kigali

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: China Southern Airlines

Title: "crew were friendly and patient"

Review: My flight from Shanghai to Guangzhou was delayed 3 hours due to the bad weather. Thanks to the staff, passengers were well-ordered during the delay. The cabin crew were friendly and patient answered my questions about the regulations of nucleic acid testing in Guangzhou. All cabin crew wore protective clothing throughout the whole journey from Guangzhou to Vancouver, so appreciated they were trying their best to keep us safe. We didnt have WiFi service during the flight, I hope they can improve this next time.

Route: Shanghai to Vancouver via Guangzhou

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Volotea

Title: "never fly with them again"

Review: The company forces people to pay extra money to acquire their boarding passes during Check In. They claim if do online check in 48 hrs hours its free, the app and website were malfunctioning and I wasn't able. 2 hours before flight the check in Gate was full of people complaining for the same issue. When I complained to the personel of the airline they told me they haven't been paid and work overtime too. The flight was horrible. I will never fly with them again.

Route: Athens to Heraklion

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "Recommend for short inter island flights"

Review: Flow inter island from Honolulu to Hilo and back for a quick weekend trip. We came from the mainland and visited Oahu so we thought of visiting Hilo island. Flight from Honolulu to Hilo was good - at check-in, the name on the boarding pass didn't match as ID and TSA requested me to go visit Guest Services; they rectified the issue quickly. Boarding was quick and efficient. For a 35 minute flight passionfruit juice was served which was adequate. Flight took off on time, crew was very efficient in the service. Likewise for Hilo to Honolulu sector. Recommend Hawaiian for short inter island flights!!

Route: Honolulu to Hilo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Ethiopian Airlines

Title: "my suitcase was broken"

Review: Customers care is horrible! I flew with Ethiopian to Paris. At arrival my suitcase was broken. I filed a complaint at the airport and the crew promised to send me a replacement suitcase. After 5 weeks waiting and trying to contact the customer service still nothing I will have to fly back without a suitcase and my one year old baby. Very bad service.

Route: Mombasa to Addis via Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Iberia

Title: "Very nice staff"

Review: Porto to Turin via Madrid. Nice airplane, flights on Time. Very nice staff people, was a good flight and was very well impressed with the timing and the amount of effort to make customer feel ok.

Route: Porto to Turin via Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thai Lion Air

Title: "Terrible airlines and terrible service"

Review: I have been waiting 6+ months for a refund, and they never reply to any emails or enquires. Terrible airlines and terrible service. They have basically taken free money for a service that was never provided. This airline is nothing short of a giant scam. Never will I ever book with Thai Lion Air again, and I will warn every single traveller to avoid this airline at all costs.

Route: Bali to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: China Eastern Airlines

Title: "never choose this airline again"

Review: Kunming to Shenzhen. My wife and I went up to Check-in Counter E36 at about 7:15 am on 2 April, about 3 hours before the time of our flight --- fortunately. After checking our China permits and HKSAR passports, the lady told us that the reservation list did contain our names. But the corresponding numbers for our names are totally different from our permit/passport numbers. So she couldn't give us the plane tickets, even though we had paid for them on-line at Expedia website. At first, she did not want to help us at all. Then we insisted to see her supervisor. Shortly afterwards, a man came and simply told us the problem was with Expedia and not with the airline, that we should call Expedia and asked them to change the numbers for our names accordingly. After more arguments, he asked the lady at Counter E36 to help us. She took us to another counter where many more phone calls were made. Finally, they fixed the problem and gave us the tickets. The whole fuss went on for about 45 minutes and at the end we were not given any explanation for the problem. Nor was any apology given. They kept insisting that the problem was ours and the airline was not responsible for the mistake. During all my trips, I never experienced anything like that. I will never choose this airline again.

Route: Kunming to Shenzhen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "Nothing on time. Nothing organized"

Review: ZERO OUT OF 100. Worst airline I have ever flown. Nothing on time. Nothing organized. Was selectively pulled out to have bags weighed and charged more. Extra 900 pesos for a carry on that weighed 8kg. Flight was delayed at every stop. Didn't arrive to catch our transport in Puerto Princesa on time. Then again leaving the flight was delayed an hour. Still sitting here as a matter of fact. Philippines Airlines and Cebu Pacific both moving smooth on either side of us.

Route: Manila to Puerto Princesa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air India

Title: "I asked if he could upgrade me"

Review: I boarded a flight from JFK to BOM on Monday, May 1st. The flight was scheduled to take off at 10:45 AM but was delayed until 5:20 PM (nearly 7 hours). Everyone had to deplane. Air India only provided each of us a $15 meal voucher for the long delay. On my way back to JFK from New Delhi on Thursday, May 18th at 2:20 AM, I asked an Air India check-in rep if he could upgrade me to business class. He said no because all the seats have already been taken. When I boarded and got off that flight, I saw that wasn't the case. I decided to submit a case on the Air India website and then was prompted to email . I sent them an explanation on Friday, May 19th detailing all the inconvenience that was caused. Surprisingly, they replied to my email on the same day saying that they have "shared details with the concerned airport" and once they receive a response, they will get back to me. I never received a response from them ever again. I requested a follow-up on May 29th, May 30th, and finally June 6th via email. I also called Air India on June 6th, but the rep kept asking me for my ticket number. I informed him that I've already flown and do not remember my ticket number. I asked him how I can find out this number. He didn't provide any assistance.

Instead, he only repeated himself and decided to hang up. Very frustrating. I am appalled by the customer support team's lack of urgency and horrible service.

Route: New York to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "we will avoid flying AirAsia again"

Review: Check in was easy, both flights were on time and luggage arrived without incident. That was the best of it. Every announcement was screamed at us in multiple languages. They woke the whole plane up with 2.5hrs to go (scheduled landing at 0330hrs) so they could serve breakfast to about three passengers. You can't bring water on board, and you pay for it on the plane. The passengers were generally pushy and rude. KLIA is a filthy dump and we will avoid flying Air Asia again to ensure we don't have to transit there in future.

Route: Sydney to Phuket via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Iberia Express

Title: "quality of the food was horrible"

Review: Madrid to Dublin with Iberia Express. The trip was terrible, I travelled alongside my boyfriend. The plane departed 30 minutes late which honestly could of been more toleratable if we hadn't been put onto the plane like a herd of sheep. After take off we realised that all around us there were babies, not just one but 4. Every single child was screaming at the same time and they were uncontrollable. I am just wondering, how is a person supposed to "relax and enjoy their journey" when nobody seems to give a damn about the other passengers. The staff were just as frustrated as the other passengers who had to sit through a 2.5 hour flight but did not assist. Also I would like to mention that I ordered a Carbonara pasta and what I was given was a pot full of water and powder. The quality of the food was horrible, and was definitely not worth the price. Definetly not choosing this airline ever again.

Route: Madrid to Dublin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Tigerair

Title: "offered assistance"

Review: Have always flown with Tiger as my choice of budget airlines, and so far only Tiger have not given me flight delay problems. Recently I just booked another flight to travel in November. Due to unforeseen circumstances, I was forced to cancel the trip. Although Tiger have stated their policy as no refund and no cancellation, the staff at Tiger truly went the extra mile for me and my family. They offered direct and correct channels of assistance and help, were cheerful throughout. Alternatives were given for me to choose, and they resolved all issues. Thank you Tiger, the human touch is really felt.

Route: Singapore to Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Aer Lingus

Title: "I'm not using this airline again"

Review: Never again. I fly every week & I'm not using this airline again. My 3.20pm flight has still not left & it is now 5.36pm. The engines have not started up yet & the communications have been appalling on the continued delays all afternoon! I had booked assistance, and stupidly thought, it would not be required as its such a short flight. Im now in agony, very stressed & not so much as an apology from the Airline. Ill be taking my regular business travel elsewhere.

Route: Dublin to Birmingham

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Kenya Airways

Title: "it needs to stop penny-pinching"

Review: This was not my first time flying business with Kenya Airways but it was definitely not the best. The Plaza lounge at LHR was not serving alcohol on the basis that the food was not substantial. Boarding was chaotic although there was a business line everyone was using it. After eventually getting on the aircraft, and after a long wait, I was offered a small glass of champagne. Seating was old-style parallel pair, business was about half full and there were signs of ageing. It then took an inordinate amount of time for the meal to be served choice was meat or chicken. It was probably the first time ever that the starter and main course were both rice. The flight was uneventful and although not fully flat-bed I did manage to sleep. No bottle of water was provided. Breakfast was a small dry croissant, yogurt and a small bowl of fruit. I know airlines are struggling but given how much I paid for the ticket to have a service which was not as good as premium economy on some other airlines was frustrating. If Kenya Airways wants to compete with its rivals it needs to stop penny-pinching and offer its business customers a level of service which justifies what they have paid.

Route: London to Nairobi

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Sky Express Airlines

Title: "totally unacceptable in 2019"

Review: Naxos to Athens with Sky Express Airlines. The worst airline I have ever flown! We have just arrived in Athens to be told the captain chose to not take any checked baggage at all on the flight! Yes - not one suitcase was carried apparently due to the aircraft being over weight. They off loaded 2 passengers (voluntarily) and then don't tell you your bags are not going to make it on the flight - you find that out when you arrive in Athens! So we have a connecting flight to Austria - but they will only send the bags to Vienna - not Salzburg which is our final destination. We think they will arrive - by ferry around 8pm tonight! So, we have to stay in Athens - at our cost - change flights for tomorrow. Apparently - this happens daily, totally unacceptable in 2019. Get bigger aircraft's that can handle passengers luggage requirements.

Route: Naxos to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "let registration for flight"

Review: On 8th August, 2020 we sent 8 seafarers via Aeroflot by flight SU2578 to London Heathrow where crew should had been departed the same day to the USA. All seafarers hold guarantee letters from agent in the USA, from Company, issued tickets to the USA and valid c1d USA visas. But check-in and registration was refused by Aeroflot at check-in desk and their representative at Sheremetevo Airport showed low competency while refusing registration. Aeroflot representative denied accept immigration exemption of UK government for transit of seafarers with valid C1D visas, refused talking to Company representative and was rude. On hot line of Aeroflot we were told that it is unacceptable that their representative behaved like this. Because of incompetence of Aeroflot employee we lost lot of time and nerves. All was solved once this employee finished his working day and more informed and professional representative let registration for flight for our seafarers.

Route: Moscow to London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: LAN Airlines

Title: LAN Airlines customer review

Review: The plane was late both ways from Cusco to Lima and return also. We were at the airport for over 5 hours and we missed connecting with our party to take the tour which cost us additional money. They had a flight to Cusco, which was scheduled to leave after our flight, but they did not put us on it. No reason given. You are never told when you will be able to leave, they leave you waiting without any communication.

Route: Cusco to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Regent Airways

Title: "should improve their service attitude"

Review: Singapore to Dhaka. Flew with Regent Airways for the first time today. Is it the airline policy not to provide blankets to passengers? I thought it was a given in any airline. The staff mentioned to a male passenger it will be hot later on the plane so no need for blanket. What kind of explanation is that? Paying for ticket is also paying for the service and goods within the airline for that period of travel for usage. Also, the staff serving are not happy and don't smile. They should improve their service attitude.

Route: Singapore to Dhaka

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: PLAY

Title: "customer service was very poor"

Review: Overall PLAY assistance and customer service was very poor. In Boston the assistance at the Boarding Gate was unprofessional. PLAY needed to arrive earlier. They needed to announce what the expectations more clearly, before all the confusion began. Passengers who did not have a red tag on their personal item and carryon needed to bring them up to the desk. Then people were charged $90 for bags that they normally can bring on other airlines as a carryon. The PLAY personnel kept leaving the desk. Passenger became anxious and kept cutting in line to be the next person served. No orderly process. Getting a boarding pass on MyPlay was extremely difficult. Several people asked us if we had as much trouble as they did. The site would need to be accessed several times. It finally worked for the trip from Boston to Keflavik, but not visa versa. I was confused when it asked if I had a check in bag, etc. I paid for it already. Fortunately, I was able to go back on the site and confirm my bag status. The boarding pass final step didn't provide a pass. A popup was shown, but I didn't get to read it. One person should have been available at the PLAY desk in Keflavik. We were not even sure it was the service desk, until security helped us. People want to move on and get through security. Also, at Keflavik we took a bus to the airplane. The priority people didn't get bused separately, so they were just mixed in with the crowd entering the plane. Again, unorganized. In general, the other parts of the trip were good. We left on time and arrived early. The plane staffs was good and Icelandic staff. The checked bags arrived quickly.

Route: Keflavik to Boston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "Horrible communication"

Review: Both flights from Jakarta to Penang back to Jakarta had three delays, and they canceled two of our flights, then delayed the final return flight to a 1:40 am departure. It caused us three extra hotel night expenses for a 2.5 hour flight. Horrible communication. We were not even informed of the delay.

Route: Penang to Jakarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Seychelles

Title: "avoid Air Seychelles!"

Review: I purchased a ticket directly from Air Seychelles for Mauritius to Mahe In the end, I was not able to travel, and so I did not make the flight. I have been trying to get in touch with them about a refund (not a full refund but a refund of all fees and fares less some penalty), but all they did was send me an automated reply saying that they were working on it. I even tried to get in touch with customer service, whom I previously had some contact with about another ticketing issue. And all she said this time around was that she would refer my case to the "appropriate department", which never happened, as this happened in March and we are into July now. So in one word, avoid Air Seychelles!

Route: Mauritius to Mahe

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ViaAir

Title: "flight was cancelled"

Review: Not heeding the advice of all the bad reviews for this airline, we purchased tickets given the good price. We were notified the day prior to the departure that the flight was cancelled. No explanation and just told a refund would be issued.

Route: Austin to Birmingham

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Saudi Arabian Airlines

Title: "flight was cancelled"

Review: Amsterdam to Dubai via Jeddah. Never again. Flight delayed at first (original departure time 15.55h), finally boarding at 19.30h. At 20.00h (still waiting to enter the plane) the ground staff came to tell us that the flight was cancelled. Only because the pilot had issues with his crew and their flying hours. After the cancellation, no service was provided. All passengers had to find their own way to a certain service desk where (as we were told) they would take care of the situation and try to book all of us on another flight. This service desk was nowhere to be found, nobody was willing to help us. When we finally found the service desk, they told us that maybe the flight might leave after all. (Our luggage was still on the plane). At 21.30h they confirmed that there was no flight and there were no other possibilities to fly to Jeddah or Dubai. The bags should come any minute, they said. At 23.30 h we were still waiting for our baggage. All that time there was no possibility to get something to eat or to drink; not even water was provided. Short summary: the issues of one pilot of this airline did cost us our complete holiday trip to Dubai, to which we were looking forward to for months - no other possibility was offered. Thanks a lot, Saudi Arabian Airlines!

Route: Amsterdam to Dubai via Jeddah

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "Ruined my experience"

Review: New York to Tel Aviv via Belgrade. Worst airline I have ever flown with. 2 big delays. No solutions for the people. The only solution is to stay 2 nights in Serbia. Shame. Ruined my experience in New York. Will not book this airline ever again

Route: New York to Tel Aviv via Belgrade

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Norse Atlantic Airways

Title: "won't be rushing back to fly with Norse"

Review: I won't be rushing back to fly with Norse air again. The meals are very small. The meals are tasty but quite pricey. I had chicken & mash. The snack before we landed was Sorrentina tomato and mozzarella, tasty, hot, but tiny!

They give you wooden knife, fork, spoon, very hard to cut with their flimsy wooden knife. If you don't order a meal you have to pay for tea and coffee. Normal coffee is $3.50 usd on the plane. They only served drinks twice in 11 hours on the flight from London to Los Angeles. First cup of tea was barely lukewarm. Coffee was hotter but not hot. Exit row was empty, many passengers asked could they move to the exit row after we got into the flight but they were told only if you pay usd 50 for an upgrade. So three seats in the exit row stayed empty the whole 11 hours. I thought it was a bit mean. Movie selection was the best thing about Norse. I paid extra for an aisle seat in economy - not much room, got up on my feet every hour to stretch. Will definitely chose the competition, instead of going with Norse again, they had a big launch for their July London to USA flights, but the passengers don't get treated to any luxury. Also checkin at Gatwick was very strange, you had to wait to get into the queue for the checkin ... I overheard passengers being told by checkin staff, monitoring the queue.... to get off their mobile phones when they are in the Norse queue - very strange indeed. You have to pre-order & pay for the hot food online before you fly. You have to pay for a blanket and you have to pay for earphones.

Route: Gatwick to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: airBaltic

Title: "15 hours late arriving in Finland"

Review: The flight from Larnaca to Riga was about 2 hours late and there was no time for a connecting flight from Riga to Helsinki. The plane was told a completely wrong gate where we have to go and there was no connecting flight. In the middle of the night at Riga Airport without any information on how to proceed how to get home. No notifications were received by phone or email. Three hours of searching for information and bags at the hotel to sleep and finally 15 hours late arriving in Finland. I asked Airbaltic how they like to fix this. No answer

Route: Larnaca to Helsinki via Riga

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "3 hours delay"

Review: We took off with 2 hours delay for our destination which was Paris. On the way the pilot said that due to weather conditions (mid summer) we will land to another airport. At 10 pm we landed in Brussels. Even though the crew member said they will arrange for us transportation to Paris and they will compensate us, they never did. We manage to go to our destination at 10 am with our expenses. On the way back we had 3 hours delay plus 26 people had to stay back because they said one crew member was sick.

Route: Larnaca to Beauvais Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Coastal Aviation

Title: "experienced excellent customer service"

Review: We had great experiences with Coastal on 3 separate flights within Tanzania. Our planes generally had 10 passengers on board, plus pilot and co-pilot. For peace of mind, we were permitted to check that our bags were in the cargo hold of the plane before boarding. I was nervous about flying on such a small aircraft, but all flights were smoother than expected and relatively short in duration. We experienced excellent customer service via e-mails when arranging for our XL bags (due to equipment for photography and diving), and the staff member was able to answer our questions about transfer from the Dar Es Salaam domestic to international terminal. Note: It's a 5-7 minute drive, and there is a Coastal shuttle that runs between them. Only a couple of minor flaws: The air conditioning did not appear to be working on one of the planes while we were on the ground, so it was very hot. One of our flights inexplicably was delayed about 30 minutes, but fortunately it did not affect our itinerary in the least. Overall, I was very happy we chose Coastal Aviation for our inter-Tanzanian flights and would not hesitate to fly with them again.

Route: Arusha to Dar Es Salaam via Mafia Island

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "refund should be made for overpayment"

Review: I have been flying Scoot air to Penang and Bangkok since Covid subsided. Overall, the travel experiences have not been satisfactory. Recently, we paid for extra leg room seats 4D and 4C when the tickets were purchased online. When we checked in physically at the counter, the boarding pass were issued accordingly. However, after boarding the flight to Bangkok minutes just before the plane took off, the airline staff requested us to vacate the seats and move to the back row seats as though they did not know we had paid for front extra leg room seats (I shown them the receipts and boarding pass). Despite having secured 2 extra leg room seats as indicated in the boarding pass. Different staff appeared and indicated that the plane has been changed last minute and the current seats belonged to Scootplus and we must move to row 31 and 32. She took our boarding pass and use pen to amend the boarding pass seat number. We paid additional additional fare of SGD 190 for 2 to remain in Scootplus and requested for the refund of SGD 54 for extra leg rooms seats (2). After 2 weeks, still no news although the hotline said they would investigate and revert. The experience was certainly not something we cherished. It was ok to change plane due to unforeseen circumstances but refund should be made for overpayment. For any underpayment, we were happy to top up as well. Earlier experience to Penang also did not end well as date change of ticket online in the portal were not very smooth, very hard to make date change during May - June 2022 (the price differentials for flight/date change were much higher than buying a new ticket). Eventually, I just bought another tickets for the whole family instead of making travelling date changes.

Route: Singapore to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Cubana Airlines

Title: "service even more basic"

Review: Departure from Toronto March 31st started off with the check in desks not being ready when I arrived, but they set up a little later. Didn't appear to be any issues with the departure time of 12.50. Flight ok, service ok, basic, notice no movie screens, no ear phones issued, no pillows or blankets provided. Flight went smoothly and arrived at SCU on time. Return was another story entirely. I've noted from other reviews that Cubana appears to have developed a steady pattern, which may now be a practice, of not being on time, major delays, and very poor to no information being communicated to passengers. Yes, airlines experience delays and equipment problems. But in this day and age what continues to happen with both of these companies is not acceptable. So, for the return. The 6.05 departure on April 7th from SCU was originally on time, but then it was delayed. No explanation as to why. At approx. 7.30 or 8 an official came into the departure lounge and passengers went to speak with him to find out what was going on. We were told the flight wouldn't be leaving until 3 am. We asked about being taken out of the airport and accommodated for more comfort etc. due to the length of the wait and were told no. We asked about food and refreshments and were told that was being organized. The timing of the departure changed 3 more times after that, moving to 10pm and 11pm that night, and then finally an empty jet arrived at 12.20. Rumour had it that there was a problem with the flight coming down from Toronto and it had to turn back. Same thing with a flight that was allegedly coming from Havana. We were also told that they had to get permissions in place for our plane to land at Toronto in the wee hours of the morning (eg: 2.30am). Once the empty jet landed and we loaded, we took off at 1.30 am. Service even more basic than the flight coming down - drinks and a snack were served but nothing else. No duty free offered. And, again, no earphones, no movie screens, no pillows or blankets. We flew without any incident, landing in Toronto at 5.30 am. A lot of passengers had to miss work / school that day because of the toll all of that drama took. Again, by this point in time Cubana and Hola Sun seriously need to pull up their socks and change their ideas and approach towards their schedules and their approach, especially with regard to providing better communications and information, to the travelling public. There are limited airlines that fly into Santiago. But that doesn't mean Cubana has any sort of monopoly and can treat passengers like that.

Route: YYZ to SCU

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "no smile or interaction"

Review: I flew Alitalia return Rome to Delhi return in business class and the on-time performance was perfect. On the DEL-FCO flight we landed 15 minute ahead of schedule after leaving DEL airport on the exact scheduled time. When entering the aircraft the steward did not greet us, did not smile, did not look at the boarding pass to show me my seat. Bins were occupied by blankets and needed to ask a stewardess to remove them, which she did with an accusing expression as if it was my fault that the blankets were there. The food was heralded as inspired by a famous restaurant, but in reality was not. When serving the meal, crew was polite, but no smile or interaction to me. During the night nobody came through the cabin to offer a glass of water or a snack. The galley had a bottle of water and Coca Cola, but no snacks. The water was served in a plastic beaker. Before landing, none of the crew asked if we had had a pleasant flight. When leaving the aircraft, no pleasantries, no smile to me.

Route: Delhi to Rome

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Sun Country Airlines

Title: "never fly this airline again"

Review: If you have a physical disability, do not expect any help from these people. I am a wheelchair user and this was my first time flying since becoming disabled so I was already nervous. We received 2/10 assistance getting to my seat. When we landed, a flight attendant clapped her hands and said chop chop, time to get to work. To my mother to assemble my chair and received no assistance obtaining parts from the overhead compartment. Coming back to Florida, we relied on other very nice passengers to hold the flow of people moving so we could get off. My mother had to carry 2 large carry-on bags, a purse, and wheelchair seats and handles all the way to the gate entrance with no help. The attendants coming home were very nice, but should have at the very least held the flow of passengers getting off. We will never fly this airline again.

Route: Minneapolis to Destin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vistara

Title: "the experience was amazing"

Review: This is not the first time I have flown Vistara, and the experience was amazing. The Check-In was pretty quick. On board service was excellent and the staff was polite. The flight was on time. In spite of a short flight, they still served good snacks. The seat was also better than most airlines I have flown, and the plane was clean and hygienic. I will fly with them again.

Route: Delhi to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Malindo Air

Title: "will fly 11 hrs late"

Review: Mumbai to Perth via Kuala Lumpur. Staff is rude, they are not allowing to bring our water for baby in the flight. In the Mumbai to Malaysia flight they did not offer any meal or water (if you want you have to buy at very high cost and very less quantity. I brought a cup of water 50ml at 300 INR). In the ticket had mentioned only 1.5 hrs halt at Malaysia, when we reached at Kuala Lumpur we informed that next connecting flight will fly 11 hrs late. I shocked, I asked staff to arrange any other option or give us complementary, I was asking them again and again this but they did not respond. Even Malindo staff are not helping me to tell how to reach to next connecting flight terminal. Flight is very dirty and congested. In paper (ticket) whole journey was 13 hrs, but got 23 hrs to reach to Perth with pathetic experience.

Route: Mumbai to Perth via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "Absolutely horrendous"

Review: Vancouver to Lima via Mexico City. Absolutely horrendous. Cannot physically fly to Lima due to the lockdown from Covid-19, and I was given expirable credits that I cannot physically use to book flights due to the lockdown. Customer Service department told me that this was best option they could give us, when it is just a rip off. Since we can't even use it if we wanted to. So my flight is nonexistent, and so is my money.

Route: Vancouver to Lima via Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: flydubai

Title: "a disappointing experience"

Review: Very poor customer service and a disappointing experience. Avoid if you can. This company offers a budget service far worse than other competitors and when flights get cancelled only offers a voucher instead of a refund.

Route: Dubai to Doha

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Jetstar Airways

Title: "Just not worth it"

Review: Warning to tall Passengers, do not fly with Jetstar. If you are tall like me and need to pay for an exit row seat so you can actually fit, do not fly with this airline! Your booking is not secure and you may find yourself in a row behind the exit row with no apologies or option to move. This is what happened to me and I will not take the risk of flying with Jetstar again. Just not worth it. Zero stars.

Route: Sydney to Perth

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "The worst experience ever"

Review: Many flights were cancelled and delayed for hours without the clear communication. Info on airline website and Kona airport website was wrong. No updated info was provided. People has been waiting at gates for 5-10 hours. The worst experience ever. The board of airline should resign. I give 1 score because of employees at airline who have worked hard to solve the problems. Otherwise zero to the board of airline

Route: Kona to Honolulu

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Laudamotion

Title: "no customer service"

Review: Vienna to Dublin. Where shall I start! Sat in seat 30D, waited over 1.5 hours to get inflight food, was last to be served because of the seat. Ordered a meal deal and waited and waited at least 20 minutes no sign of it. We were descending at this point asked the very rude hostess where my meal was and she said she would check. Once again 10 minutes went by no dinner 10.00 paid at this stage had a packet of crisps and a 7 up unopened. Requested a refund as we were about to land told could not be done and she said to bring it with you! Requested supervisor told too busy to speak with me and given a 6.00 refund after paying 10.00 ! The cabin crew have to be among the rudest, unprofessional people I have ever dealt with on a flight and certainly no customer service lot of work to be done to retrain. I do expect a reply to this as to the reasons for such incompetence.

Route: Vienna to Dublin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Transavia

Title: "Left my jacket in overhead locker"

Review: Innsbruck to Amsterdam. Travelling back from holiday, very early start. Left my jacket in overhead locker. Unfortunately I could not get all my hand luggage etc into one locker and forget I left the jacket in another locker. We were one of the last people to leave the aircraft. I contacted airline help desk 30 minutes after arrival. They said the cleaners must have taken it. They didnt care, took no details told me to contact loss and found in the airport. Which required me going out of the departure area finding the lost and found desk. They said I should really go via the airline. I said I did and they then directed me to the online form. Had to go through security again etc. Basically a complete waste of time. Lost a lovely light weight winter jacket £225 plus sunglasses £100.

Route: Innsbruck to Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "I didn't have Canadian visa"

Review: I booked a flight from Hong Kong to Seattle through Hong Kong Airlines website. However, when I visited the counter to check-in, I was rejected and missed the flight because I didn't have Canadian visa as there was an internal transit at Vancouver. After asking what Hong Kong Airlines can do to fix my problem, they told me to call to contact center by myself, and it took me 7 hours (9am to 4pm) to get an answer that they could do nothing, not even a refund, and it was my mistake not checking with Canadian immigration rules before booking the flight. As a result, i needed to book from the another airline which is very expensive and I get nothing, not even sympathy.

Route: Hong Kong to Seattle via Vancouver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sky Airline

Title: "The worse airline I ever met"

Review: The worse airline I ever met. I change the date of my flight they charge me 15 dollars and they say everything is fine I do no have another payment and at the airport they can't find my flight reservation I gave them all my information my tickets and they just say they can't find me after send me from a place to another and when I call sky airlines suddenly I have 195 dollars to pay for change the date of my flight. Finally I pay and then they said you are already late for your flight. I ask them if I can go in another flight they say you have to pay 195 dollars. I explained them I just paid 8 minutes ago they say you missed that flight. They make me lose my time at the airport if they just could and tell me you need to paid instead of make wait until last minute so I can pay for nothing and miss my flight and make me pay again.

Route: Cuzco to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "We had a good experience"

Review: Chiang Rai to Trang via Bangkok. We had a good experience with Air Asia as we were worried about the bad reviews here. Check-in went great, pre-booked luggage was also no problem. Both planes were a little late (about 30 minutes), but that was no problem. The staff seemed good English speaking as they also answered questions.

Route: Chiang Rai to Trang via Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "hours of extreme trouble"

Review: I booked a flight from Bahrain to Faisalabad about a month ago. I reached the airport on the day of flight. To my shock, they informed me and about 50 other passengers that the aircraft was already full. They made us wait for hours without any explanation. If someone shouted at their unprofessional behaviour, they shouted back. Later, the staff offered two difficult options; either to go to Islamabad instead of Faisalabad with the next flight or to wait for another few hours to get a new ticket for a flight to Faisalabad two days later. I had already spent hours at the airport in this frustration, I chose to go to Islamabad. It took me hours of extreme trouble to reach from Islamabad to Faisalabad all because of this nonsense done by Gulf Air. They are extremely arrogant people, very unprofessional, rude to the passengers, and untrustworthy. They offer no explanation, no compensation for changing the tickets and no sympathy to the poor passengers who made the mistake of booking with them.

Route: Bahrain to Faisalabad

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Salam Air

Title: "customer service is poor"

Review: The worst flight I have ever been, the customer service is poor. Cabin crews were rude and they even don't know how to talk to the passengers. The flight is too noisy and not comfortable. They even don't know to speak English.

Route: Dubai to Trivandrum via Muscat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "flight is about 80% full"

Review: Beijing to Hong Kong. The flight is about 80% full. My seat is in the middle next to wings. I was served a meal without any choice. As I really didn't want to eat spicy noodles the cabin attendant gave me breads instead, but no butter. Since no entertainment on this old airplane, a passenger use speaker loudly of his mobile phone to watch something in flight.

Route: Beijing to Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air China

Title: "informed we missed the flight"

Review: Vancouver to Beijing. When we arrived in Beijing we had a 8 hour stopover. We toured the Airport and arrived back at our gate about 1 hour before departure. We heard a Chinese Announcement about flight to Manila and repeated by a very bad English. When we approached our gate about 3 mins later than boarding, we were informed we missed the flight. The plane had not left terminal.

Route: Vancouver to Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Amaszonas

Title: "Ground and onboard service was fine"

Review: First time flying with this airline. All in all I've heard positive remarks about them so I've been wanting to take a flight with them. Not much I can say as they did their job properly. Ground and onboard service was fine. As it's a regional airline, I think all of their planes are small sized (i.e. Embraer). The only comment I have about their company site. It wasn't easy to buy a ticket there, so I ended up buying it from an agent.

Route: Santa Cruz to La Paz

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Golden Myanmar Airlines

Title: "pleasant and positive"

Review: Yangon to Mandalay with Golden Myanmar Airlines was very pleasant and positive. The airline online booking system was good, check-in counter staff very friendly and the check-in was easy. The flight left the gate as per schedule and the flight was comfortable. Cabin crew were friendly and efficient. Passengers were served with light snacks during the approx. 1.5 hrs flight.

Route: Yangon to Mandalay

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "Excellent service on board"

Review: London to Casablanca. It was a pleasant flight. Very quick check-in. The embarkement was in time. Excellent service on board. Enjoyed the meal and beverage. Globally very satisfied.

Route: London to Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Lucky Air

Title: "almost 160 dollars excess baggage fee"

Review: Bangkok to Chengdu. I am furious with this airline. I tried to contact them about adding more luggage and just kept being put in circles with no answers. Then once Ive arrived to check in they charge me almost 160 dollars excess baggage fee instead of letting me increase the amount. I was super embarrassed. All I was trying to do was go back home. I will never recommend this airline for anyone.

Route: Bangkok to Chengdu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Virgin Australia

Title: "Staff were very friendly and helpful"

Review: I had the option of boarding a plane set to depart 1 hour prior to my intended flight which was great. Unfortunately it was delayed by over 40 minutes. Staff were very friendly and helpful. Food was minimal but that's ok given it was a short flight.

Route: Melbourne to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Delta Air Lines

Title: "antiquated check-in, flight issue system"

Review: CANCELLATION!! Was booked on 6/25 DL 380 8am flight (nonstop) LAX to DC. At 5:03 Delta sent text: We look forward to welcoming you on board soon. Your flight to Washington, DC (DCA - DL380) is departing on time from Gate 20 in Terminal 3 at 8:00 AM. On my way to LAX, 5:27 DELTA Cancelled flight and rescheduled me on a red eye leaving at 5:25am on 6/26 arriving in DC at 2pm (stopover in Minneapolis. Arrived at LAX to try and change red eye to different flight. After waiting in Checkin line then had to endure Over an hour wait in Assistance line. Antiquated check-in, flight issue system. *TIP: DO NOT FLY DELTA!!

Route: Los Angeles to Washington

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: AirAsia X

Title: "they served free meals"

Review: Kuala Lumpur to Tehran. It was my first time taking Airasia X and I didn't expect too much from it, since it is a low-cost airline. I almost missed my flight (because of the traffic in the airport), but the plane has not departed, even though it had passed the boarding time. Inflight, the seat is small but everything looked okay-ish, nothing special. During the flight, they served free meals. The meals were decent. Surprisingly, they gave you free mineral water (served in bottle) which was unexpected, since they usually charge you for that (at least a short-haul flight). I ordered a food online, but they did not serve me, which was disappointing. Overall, it was okay.

Route: KUL to IKA

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Vueling Airlines

Title: "definitely use Vueling in future"

Review: Best check in in many year, efficient staff and took me 10 min. For the price 84 the seat can be uncomfortable but service is excellent. Will definitely use Vueling in future!

Route: Belgrade to Barcelona

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aerolineas Argentinas

Title: "Flight attendants were friendly"

Review: Flew Aerolineas from Aeroparque to Puerto Iguazu. A rather good experience. Aeroparque airport is becoming to small for the amount of traffic and hence was rather cramped. The plane looked brand-new and was very clean. Liked the pilots' announcements. In-flight the entire plane sang a cumpleaños feliz. Flight attendants were friendly with one exception. Flight was uneventful. They serve only drinks for free which was no problem given the low fare. I would recommend them.

Route: Aeroparque to Puerto Iguazu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LAN Airlines

Title: "overall pleasant experience"

Review: Sydney to Auckland with LAN. Able to check-in and choose seats online, but you would still need to go to the desk for boarding pass even with carry on only. Service was efficient, and frequent flyer privileges (such as express lane) was honoured despite being in economy class (Often no longer the case in some other One World airlines at SYD). The cabin was lovely and fresh, but the seats were uncomfortably narrow. Seat pitch is tight but adequate for my (below-average) height. Service was friendly. AVOD screens are large and responsive, and there was a good choice of entertainment. The only disappointment was the food - the flight goes right through lunch time (4 hour flight taking off around 11am), yet we were served a small, stale sandwich and a small piece of cake - well below par of most full-service airlines. Nevertheless, an overall pleasant experience. The flight arrived 30 minutes early.

Route: SYD to AKL

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Transavia

Title: "most uncomfortable flight"

Review: The worst airline ever. I traveled with this company back and forth from Tel Aviv to Paris. Both flights had delays of over two hours, the staff behaved appallingly, bad service, poor speech. The seat is the smallest and most uncomfortable flight I have ever been on, not recommended at all.

Route: Paris to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Bahamasair

Title: "really took care of us"

Review: When I tell you the reviews was so discouraging and negative but go against all odds. The flight from Freeport to Fort Lauderdale was peaceful and safe. It was 3 members in my party. We were scheduled to return to the US on Sunday but do to hurricane Dorian on the way we had to leave the resort in a hurry. All the airlines we're booked! The only thing available was Bahamasair and I'm so grateful and took a huge leap of faith and booked. The aircraft took off on time with no delays, no turbulence and the pilot and team we're all will dress and pleasant. The Bahamians really took care of us. The flight was maybe 25 minutes with safe landing. When I read many of the reviews people were complaining about delays. Remember delays not denied. Thank you Bahamasair.

Route: Freeport to Fort Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "never pay for business on Copa again"

Review: Business class in a recently refitted plane provides no inflight entertainment system, no plugs to recharge phone or tablet. We were not provided with a blanket or even a small pillow (contrary to what I had read before booking) and the plane was cool enough that I had to use my down jacket as a wrap. Water was provided once in a small paper cup with no offers of a refresh. Copa entertainment app which I had downloaded not available on my screenless flight. The meal was yuck and only choice left for me by the time the flight attendant worked her way back to row 4 was beef. No veg or kosher options. My meal was identical to the one my friends had in economy. Seat 4E barely reclined So I am not sure what my business bump up actually accomplished. Would never pay for business on Copa again; what they say you will be treated to and what you actually get bear scant resemblance to each other. Icing on the cake when we arrived in Montreal near midnight we were told we would need to wait 45 minutes for our luggage. No explanation provided.

Route: Panama City to Montreal

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeromar

Title: "service was excellent"

Review: Puerto Escondido to Mexico City on Aeromar. Small plane and we left about 30 minutes late. Plane was not full and just one stewardess working the flight. The plane appeared to be new. It was in excellent condition in the cabin. Service was excellent but it was very expensive for a flight of less the two hours.

Route: PXM to MEX

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Porter Airlines

Title: "charged us a cancellation fee"

Review: Ottawa to Saint John. We purchased tickets, costing over $1300 and due to a medical emergency we had to cancel our vacation. Porter Airlines did not refund our money, charged us a cancellation fee and gave us a credit that is basically unusable. Do not fly Porter Airlines

Route: Ottawa to Saint John

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "lacking in cabin crew services"

Review: Bandar Seri Begawan to Kuala Lumpur. I must admit that Royal Brunei's service is excellent. Good on time performance, aircraft using a new fleet, exciting in-flight entertainment options, efficient check-in process. But to be honest I am a little lacking in cabin crew services, several times I had to call the cabin crew to ask for additional drinking water but it takes a long time for them to respond.

Route: Bandar Seri Begawan to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "refund amount wasn't returned"

Review: I flew with Gulf Air from Bahrain to London on September 2019, it wasn't a pleasant flight due to long queues, slow service, clear lack of manpower in the airport, and abysmal treatment in the plane (had to wait 1/2 hour to get a pillow for my child). I wasn't planning to utilize that airlines again, but unfortunately, due to lack of other options, I had to book my flight back on March 30th, 2020 through Gulf Air to Dammam, Saudi Arabia. But then travel restrictions to Saudi from Bahrain were imposed, and I had to cancel my flight. Even though their official website refund policy states that the refund cost is 10BD (30 USD), and it would take no more than 1 month to be completed. I was informed that it would cost a 100BD (350USD) penalty, and would take 2-3 months to be processed. So far, it's been a month and a half, and still the refund amount wasn't returned to my account. By the way, when I called to cancel the flight, it was an international call, and I had to wait on-hold for approximately 25 minutes until someone responded. Overall, I wouldn't recommend this airlines to anyone, and I will still pursue my refund amount, as I heard from a friend that he never got his refund even after 3 months for his flight.

Route: London to Bahrain

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "terrible customer service"

Review: Chicago to Mexico City. My wife booked a flight to leave at 3 pm with our 1 year old - about 25 hours before, they emailed us that they switched the flight to a different one at 1 am in the morning for no reason. We called customer service, waited on hold for around 3 hours to be told that they were not going to do anything about it. She basically has to accept the new flight or not go. Could not believe it. Absolutely terrible customer service. How can you do that to a person? Terrible company - you can't treat people like that!

Route: Chicago to Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "first and last time"

Review: We arrived at Hong Kong Airport at 0550 for a 0750 flight to Bangkok. Upon checking in at the check in counter was told our flights had been changed to 2205 due to overbooking. We had got up at 4am to arrive at the airport on time. I asked why our flights had been changed when I was holding in my hand a printed copy of my flight reservations. Was told by check in counter and supervisors that flights are overbooked and nothing we can do. They put us on standby for the next two flights, also overbooked, to no avail. We were at Hong Kong Airport for 16 hours waiting for our flight, they gave us each 60 Hong Kong Dollar meal vouchers but would do nothing else for us. I asked to be put on another airline and was told I would have to pay for that if I wanted to. This is the first and last time I will fly Hong Kong Airlines.

Route: HKG to BKK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "suitcase was tampered with"

Review: Dusseldorf to Delhi via Rome. Upon arrival to Delhi, I was told my baggage was not boarded on the plane. They said it will be delivered by next flight. Next day, they said the baggage is misplaced or lost. Asked for me to fill long forms and give proofs of my residence, work etc. In the mean time I had to buy basic clothes and toiletries (as nothing was offered by the airline). However 8 days later, I finally received my baggage but the locks were broken, the suitcase was tampered with and some items missing. It was a gross case of negligence and mishandling. In order to compensate the airline offered a meager sum of 100 euros. Would never fly again and would not recommend it.

Route: Dusseldorf to Delhi via Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Norse Atlantic Airways

Title: "lost everything we paid"

Review: Do not fly with this airline. If something comes up you will lose all of your money. We were supposed to fly to London and our little ones passport never arrived. And yes, we didnt start renewal process in the last minute and we paid for expedited shipping. We have been waiting for it since February. No matter how many calls we made to congressmen and passport agency we werent able to get in person appointment for same day passport but we were assured that paying $80 for 1-2 days shipping will get us passport on time. Anyway, who ever from passport agency was working on passport have decided to slap us in the face and charge us days before trip but creates shipping label on the day of our flight. We wanted to call this airline but there is no number. We emailed them and explained what happened and asked them just to help us switch our departure flight from Thursday to 2 days later (Saturday) with of course paying some fee. We were offered $940 credit and to book departure and return flight again. Few minutes after that we got new email saying that offering $940 credit was mistake and that they are willing to offer just $240 credit and that we have to book all flights again which in this moment costs over $4000. We lost everything we paid for this trip.

Route: Orlando to London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Blue Air

Title: "delayed 1.5 hours due to technicality"

Review: Flew Rome to Liverpool with Blue Air. Overall a good experience but outbound flight delayed 1.5 hours due to technicality which could have happened to any airline, but it would be good to give the captain some lessons in honesty and clarity, eg: don't say we're on our way in a couple of minutes, when it's 20+ don't say very soon when it's not.

Route: Rome to Liverpool

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Andes Líneas Aéreas

Title: "have not reimbursed my money"

Review: Buenos Aires to Bariloche. The airline canceled my flight without letting me know. I had paid for 4 passengers. At the check in they informed me the flight was canceled and they offered no help. I had to book last minute with another airline for over twice the cost and Andes Líneas Aéreas still have not reimbursed my money.

Route: Buenos Aires to Bariloche

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Edelweiss Air

Title: "a pleasant surprise"

Review: Dubrovnik to Zurich. Flying business with Edelweiss was a pleasant surprise, this low cost branch of Swiss offered excellent service, great food and excellent comfort. The only downside was that there was no access to Airport lounge at departure, which was very dissatisfying as it is one of the main reasons I chose to fly business.

Route: Dubrovnik to Zurich

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "missing my second flight"

Review: My flight from Amritsar to Singapore was late around 7 hours. None of passengers were informed. End up missing my second flight Singapore to Sydney, at airport I was told that my next flight is after two days. End up buying another ticket with Malaysia Airlines via Kuala Lumpur. Cost me another $1200. Made a complaint, no return my call.

Route: Amritsar to Sydney via Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "never book with AirAsia again"

Review: Flight was cancelled more than 2 weeks prior to departure for "Operational reasons". Attempted to secure a refund but it took over 2 weeks just to get a response. AirAsia, decided that, rather than a 5 hour transit, an alternative flight a day later with around 15 hours of travel was a sufficient substitute. Over 3 weeks later and I am still waiting to understand if I will receive a refund. Will never book with AirAsia again.

Route: Phuket to Siem Reap via Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "you pay for what you get"

Review: Bangkok to London. Original flight cancelled and got moved to a new flight on 18th March. I was told at Bangkok airport to speak with London on recompense for the extra night, and they used the corona virus excuse for not paying yet, 24 hours later. I guess the saying is true, you pay for what you get.

Route: Bangkok to London

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Rossiya Airlines

Title: "strongly not recommended"

Review: I flew Rossiya on a business trip Moscow to St.Petersburg return. First leg of the trip was OK, but the second one was terrible. First, they changed the seat, from 6D to 22D, unannounced. I first found out about it at boarding there a girl clerk (not smiling) bluntly crossed with a pen seat number printed out on a boarding pass and wrote down a new one at the rear of the plane. To my complaint she barked out; plane change, when I insisted, big aviation safety guy, who was loitering at the boarding desk apparently doing nothing but entertaining the girl, started to threaten me that he would put me off the the flight if I don't accept the seat change. Great experience for those who long for good old USSR style service! Otherwise strongly not recommended!

Route: St.Petersburg to Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Loganair

Title: "The service was reasonably good"

Review: Before booking my return flight from Edinburgh to Southampton, I was horrified after reading the unfavourable comments given to this airline that I nearly wanted not to book with it. In the end, I decided to fly with them. I felt I need to counter balance those unfavourable comments as they did not reflect the experience I had flying with this airline. The service was reasonably good. The flights (Edinburgh to Southampton, and Southampton to Edinburgh) both took off on time. The inflight staff were friendly, and they even served coffee and a small snack. The luggage arrived on time as well. Only thing I could say is some seats on the aircraft looked a bit worn out, but for a flight of just over an hour, it was not too bad. I would fly with the airline again if the domestic airfare is not so high. Next time, if I were to travel to Edinburgh to Southampton, I would probably drive as this would save me money. That doesn't mean I would not recommend flying this airline, because I would.

Route: Southampton to Edinburgh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Xiamen Airlines

Title: "friendly flight attendants"

Review: Amsterdam to Seoul via Xiamen. I booked a flight from Amsterdam to Incheon and had never heard of Xiamen Air before. Great service, friendly flight attendants, tasty food (chose the Asian options), and modern, spacious aircraft. I had 1 very tight layover in Xiamen due to construction work at the airport. The ground staff at Incheon provided us with all necessary information and the staff at Xiamen helped us through all the security steps and got us in the airplane on time. The other layover was long (10 hrs), but they provided a free transfer lounge and free hotel stay. FYI: foreign credit cards don't work in Xiamen restaurants, so bring/exchange RMB.

Route: Amsterdam to Seoul via Xiamen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "pay a huge mark up"

Review: Tokyo to Bangkok. Everything is good except when I went to check my luggage, it cost $200 usd, on the internet check in was priced $75 but they shut down the option to check in within 24 hr. It forced me to go to the check in counter and pay a huge mark up to check one luggage, and the line to check in was so long only 3 girls working and 3 just to collect.

Route: Tokyo to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: Air Serbia customer review

Review: This company need serious customer service education. Lack of information, shady answers and waiting time longer then 20 days to answer is something that you need to calculate if you are willing to purchase tickets with this company! They took all my personal documents for ticket refund and they told me they are able to refund 60 bucks for ticket value of 1300$. Air Serbia put me on hold for 20 days for decision. They asked me for additional documents 3 times and got everything they asked for. Unfortunately they decided to offer $60. Airplane was 20 years old, they are using aircrafts which Etihad got rid of. Air crew were nice and food was solid. Conclusion: dont expect any money back from this airline!

Route: New York to Belgrade

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai Smile Airways

Title: "The cabin service was good as always"

Review: We flew this airline again. This time from Bangkok to Phuket. The check-in was smooth and takes less than 10 minutes. The flight was on time. The cabin service was good as always. We were served with Orange Pie and a bottle of Mineral water. However, the arrival was delayed due to airport congestion. Otherwise excellent.

Route: Bangkok to Phuket

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Wingo

Title: "cancel my flight with no reason"

Review: The worst experience you can have if you are traveling, please don't do it. Its not worth it. They cancel my flight with no reason and they even charge you for printing your boarding pass at the airport.

Route: Quito to Bogota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "Terrible customer service"

Review: Hawaiian Airlines is great for flying, but terrible customer service. My wife has been on the phone with them about once every 2 months for the past year trying to get her name changed on her Hawaiian Airlines account. The customer service tells her to do the same thing every time and that she will be contacted within 24 hours. She never gets a return email, call, nothing. She just got off of the phone with them and the representative told her to literally just hope that it gets done this time. She asked to speak with someone else and was denied. This is literally never going to get resolved. Terrible customer service.

Route: Honolulu to Maui

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Swoop

Title: "would never fly with them again"

Review: Honestly I would never fly with them again. They changed my flight twice by a day each time, as well as my return flight by 2 days. When I contacted them about this they were extremely unreasonable and gave boilerplate responses. Forget trying to get them on the phone, they charge for that.

Route: St. John's to Hamilton

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: British Airways

Title: "what an earth is going on at BA"

Review: I wasn't going to bother reviewing this flight as I seem to be on a perpetual downer with BA but the airport experience convinced me otherwise. After having our flight class reduced from First to Business, then offered an alternative route on the outward leg in First to make up for the disappointment, they then reneged on this. As it was a special anniversary it sucked. Flying back we checked in online to our chosen window seats, at the gate we had to show our passports as we passport before boarding as we were hand luggage only. Trying to board we had our passports checked twice more and were issued new boarding cards for centre seats. Unbelievable! The flight itself was very quiet and only half the normal crew for this aircraft was unavailable. This meant no pre-departure drinks and a limited selection of food. The crew was great but what an earth is going on at BA, they have this unique knack to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory every time. I say this as the new club suites are great.

Route: Atlanta to London

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "Worst airline ever"

Review: Cape Town to Sao Paulo via Johannesburg with South African Airways. Worst airline ever. Disorganized, not very clean. Very old in every way. Very noisy, seats uncomfortable, little service. Food more like coach. Cant believe I used lots of points for this experience. Worst business trip ever. Love Africa but need a better way to get there.

Route: Cape Town to Sao Paulo via Johannesburg

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "the aircraft was not well cleaned"

Review: After boarding the aircraft and finding my way to my seat I noticed that it was very dirty and there was trash in my seat. The flight attendant was kind enough to clean my seat for me but I was disappointed to find that the aircraft was not well cleaned.

Route: Detroit to Beirut via Amman

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Comair

Title: "flight itself was unremarkable"

Review: Cape Town to Johannesburg. Club check-in for our Comair flight to JNB couldnt have been more unfriendly and the agent failed to mention the SLOW lounge. We let her ticket our luggage through to LHR, without collecting it at JNB, as she said it would work. Well, well see. The lounge was frenetic, although food and drink were plentiful. The 737-800 was a new model, although Club seating was the usual Club Europe arrangement. Departure was delayed by 60 minutes, but that still left two hours for transfer on to the BA LHR flight. The flight itself was unremarkable and we made up some time. Cabin crew seemed efficient and had a sense of humour. Not at all bad, really - assuming our luggage catches up with us.

Route: Cape Town to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Japan Airlines

Title: "excellent service and comfort"

Review: JL68 on Dec 14, 2022 - Best flight of my 4 (SEA-HAN & SGN-SEA) to Vietnam. I agree with another review that JAL serves good food ex-Tokyo, but mediocre on other routes. Very satisfied with the excellent service and comfort on this trip, and I rate this carrier just as good as other 5* carrier that I have flown recently (Asiana, EVA & Singapore).

Route: Tokyo Narita to Seattle

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Condor Airlines

Title: "The flight is delayed"

Review: Frankfurt to Las Vegas. I am sitting in the dreadfully uncomfortable "waiting area" after "upgrading" for only $230! The flight is delayed again. No weather problems, etc. From Frankfurt airport, you are parked in the bowels of the airport just to find the gate. The staff is surly at best and the common response is: "What do you want me to do about it?" There is no place to get food or even water.

Route: Frankfurt to Las Vegas

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Tame Línea Aérea Del Ecuador

Title: "no contact and no money"

Review: In January 2018 Tame canceled our flight from Quito to Lago Agrio with short notice. They offered us a flight 24 hours later which did not suit our itinerary into the rain forest. Tame was notified about this. In order to repay we had to send copies of payment with credit card, copy of credit card, copy of passport, copies of tickets, etc! We did this twice electronically and once with surface post. Since this was done, no contact with the airline and no money. Be careful!

Route: Quito to Lago Agrio

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "o not respond to customer complaints"

Review: They do not respond to customer complaints and requests. I went through a number of issues on my flights back from Bangkok, for which I sought compensation from Gulf Air and been ignored. It is impossible to get a response from them and the phone numbers on their website do not work. My initial itinerary was supposed to take 10.5 hours, which was changed to a new itinerary which would've taken over 14. On the day, the first flight was delayed, causing me to miss my connecting flight to Riyadh (also with Gulf Air), meaning i had to spend the night in a hotel and fly the next day. Overall, my final journey took over 21 hours, and I arrived at my final destination more than 26 hours later than i had originally planned, given the initial flight change.

Route: Bangkok to Riyadh via Bahrain

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jet Airways

Title: "I didnt receive baggage"

Review: Jeddah to Kozhikode via Mumbai. Lost baggage - pathetic response from their team. If you care your belongings,never ever travel with jet airways. Since 3 days I didnt receive baggage.

Route: Jeddah to Kozhikode via Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SilkAir

Title: "friendly and efficient"

Review: Singapore to Kota Kinabalu, my first experience of the SilkAir B737-800 product. Boarding was by zone number, and uncomplicated. I had the luxury of an empty seat next to me, so that made a difference when I took my seat. First impression was of fairly simple but clean-looking cabin environment. Seat backs were sculpted plastic and very basic, with only the tray table and a deep plastic pocket to lose your belongings in. The B737 always strikes me as a rather more cramped cabin than the A320; and so it turned out when checking Seatguru, with 1 inch less pitch and seat width than the A320. We were given cool towelettes and offered newspapers before takeoff, and a hot meal appeared (chicken spaghetti, which proved a bit difficult to eat for obvious reasons). Entertainment is available by the SilkAir Studio, and the choice of music proved disappointingly poor, although more movies appeared available. Service was generally friendly and efficient, and we landed feeling at least half human.

Route: Singapore to Kota Kinabalu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Spirit Airlines

Title: "Nasty customer service"

Review: This is by far the worst flight experience ever! Starting with delays and bad customer service to over pricing for luggage. $180 for a suitcase and a bag of golf clubs. They really trying to squeeze every penny out of customers. Never flying here again. Nasty customer service from all angles. No one knows how to speak to people.

Route: Orlando to Phoenix

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Europa

Title: "Would not recommend the airline"

Review: The flight itself was okay regarding plane and onboard entertainment, as well as punctuality. However, leg room is very little and the on board service is an very disappointing for an 11hr flight. Everything extra except for one meal (no choice) and water. Flight attendants also are not necessarily very nice. Ground service is the worst I have seen. You are randomly assigned a seat even if you fly as a couple that booked together. There is no way to change this. Online check-in in advance was not possible. Would not recommend the airline again. Their advantage however is clearly the price.

Route: Madrid to Cancun

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: United Airlines

Title: "hunt in order to get my luggage"

Review: They don't hire enough customer service and staff. It has taken me over 3 days so far in the process of trying to retrieve my luggage. They canceled a flight so I could not get to my connecting flight. However they sent my luggage to the country where I was to get the connection to my final destination. Customer service gave me wrong information twice regarding my luggage. It takes hours to get in touch with customer service. In one attempt it was literally seven hours. When you finally do they give you the wrong information. This happened multiple times. They sent me on a full on scavenger hunt in order to get my luggage. And I still haven't gotten it. United must be held accountable for their negligence. I have spent hours of time energy on trying to locate my luggage. When I went back to the airport as I was incorrectly instructed the air port was operating like a third world countries. Very few staff member and not well trained. There has literally been financial loss.

Route: Newark to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "Extremely dissatisfied and disappointed"

Review: This is by far one of the worst experiences ever. Flight from Maui to LAX was scheduled at 12:40pm. When we arrived at the gate, we were told it was delayed. Then, we were moved to another gate. No one ever provided updates. We sat for hours to later find out the flight was canceled. No one from the airline came out to direct the passengers to next steps. Line for ticketing did not move. Luggage did not come out until 5 hours after the flight had been scheduled to take off. I had to book my own flight out for the next day and book a hotel, totalling $1,000+ for 3 people. This is an additional significant expense and hardship for my family. Who knows if and when I will ever be reimbursed. This airline needs to get it together and have a process for communicating to passengers what the process is in these situations. Extremely dissatisfied and disappointed. This was my first flight ever to Maui and first flight with Hawaiian and I'm not sure I'll use this airline ever again.

Route: Kahului to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "had my worst experience ever flying"

Review: I just had my worst experience ever flying courtesy of American Airlines. I booked a round-trip and I lost a day stranded in the airport to go to my destination because American Airlines delayed my flight and now I'm stranded in Miami until Wednesday because American Airlines just canceled my Monday flight at the last minute and they just left me to my luck.

Route: San Juan to Austin via Miami

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Spirit Airlines

Title: "random and inconsistent baggage fees"

Review: Save your money. Even if you think youre saving money with the initial flight prices, theyll get you with the random and inconsistent baggage fees. Also, expect your flight to be delayed from a few hours to an entire day.

Route: Vegas to Orange County

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sun Country Airlines

Title: "What a blessing"

Review: Montego Bay to Fargo via Minneapolis. What would we have done without the kindness, professionalism and graciousness of the staff at Montego Bay, Jamaica? After Delta stranded us, we ran to Sun Country and were able to get on their flight toward home. We had to leave Jamaica that day, no exceptions, to comply with Covid tests-negative that America requires to get back into America (which is fine until an airline tells you your flight is cancelled.) I don't have their names but all the Sun Country staff on December 29th, 2021 reassured us "Yes, we can accommodate you and your family". What a blessing they were to us. So, thank you, Sun Country staff in Jamaica. We are home now, safe and sound. We did use Delta for the last leg of our journey and all went fine.

Route: Montego Bay to Fargo via Minneapolis

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Astana

Title: "All flights on time"

Review: Saint-Petersburg to Astana, Astana to Almaty and from Almaty to Tbilisi. Food just perfect, chicken with baked potatoes, next flight potato dumplings with bacon, and the last one beef with pasta. Good amenity kit on international flights in economy class - useful brush, tooth paste, socks. First flight was on A320 with no personal screens, but I used KC TV app. Next flight about 1 hour and it was B757 with personal entertainment, and the last one was Embraer 190 also I was using KC TV. Cabin crew on the flight from Almaty to Tbilisi was unbelievable attentive. All flights on time, clean cabins.

Route: St Petersburg to Tbilisi via Astana / Almaty

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "incorrect or misinformation"

Review: For two days Saturday 24 and Sunday 25 August we were at the airport to board our direct flight from Sydney to Hanoi. On both days the flight was cancelled. Like all passengers we were subjected to incorrect or misinformation or just lies about when this flight VN 786 was going to leave. Now we are told that we have been booked on a flight to HO Chi Minh tomorrow with no confirmation of our on flight to Hanoi. This has been a public relations debacle for Vietnam Airlines their lack of honesty or even communication with passengers as to the likely outcome of the issue has been nothing short of horrible. No ground crew to properly explain and assist passengers you cant just leave to Qantas staff to take all the heat. The final insult was the presence of 6 uniformed police offices at the loading bay to assist with possible crowd control. So disappointing given very good flights last year.

Route: Sydney to Hanoi

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: CityJet

Title: "the Avro is an absolute joy"

Review: I was on an Aer Lingus flight operated by Cityjet. My flight was late due to weather in London, and my original flight got cancelled, but I got put onto a flight 55 minutes later. The flight itself was OK. The seats on this little Avro are very cramped. Cityjet uses a 3-3 configuration instead of the standard 3-2. This makes the seats very thin, and leaves you with not much room. The inflight catering was provided by Aer Lingus, and featured a buy on board service. As this was a morning flight, I opted for a Hot chocolate and some shortbread, and for £4.50, this was decently priced. But the highlight of this flight was well and truly the Avro RJ85, which I wanted to fly on before they all get retired, and I am very pleased I did. It is a unique experience, and I would recommend for any aviation fans to try this flight, as it is relatively cheap, and the Avro is an absolute joy.

Route: London City to Dublin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: El Al Israel Airlines

Title: "Worst flight ever"

Review: Prague to Tel Aviv. Horrible service. Provided them with all the security details needed including: place of work, cards, IDs, certifications and they still had us investigated as if we were terrorists. They came back with new questions all the time and still after all questioning was done we had to wait and wait for too long. Our bags were opened and our dirty clothes and shoes were put taken out of their bags and put on the clean ones. Worst flight ever. A nightmare!

Route: Prague to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "got charged for a small bag"

Review: I got charged for a small bag as a carry on luggage. On their website it says it is only 35 dollars but they charge me $65, also my luggage came completely destroyed.

Route: Los Angeles to Seattle

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LOT Polish Airlines

Title: "rude ground handling"

Review: Warsaw to Zurich. Incompetent and rude ground handling in Warsaw (LS AIRPORT SERVICES) crew lost our bags on a direct flight and found it and sent in to Zurich when we were on our way back so our bags stayed in Zurich. Ground Handling in Zurich (AAS airline assistance Switzerland) a bit overworked but still doing their best for passengers even in critical situations (lost luggage in WAW) On board, no complains everybody professional, polite and smiling great experience during the flight even in very stormy conditions.

Route: Warsaw to Zurich

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vistara

Title: "These little gestures make the world just a bit more livable"

Review: It takes a lot for me to find a website to put my experience with a particular airline into a paragraph or two. However, when I had a distasteful experience with Indigo Airlines on my way to a Bagdogra and when the reason of my disappointment was absolutely reversed by Vistara Airlines, I had to take out time to write this review. My luggage bag's wheel went missing due to mishandling by the Indigo airline staff. I normally don't have the patience to drain my energy in fighting, Therefore, I received my luggage and left the airport. What came as a pleasant surprise was that I when I boarded my Vistara flight on my way back, carrying the same luggage bag with missing wheel, Vistara, despite taking a written note from me during checking in, of the damaged luggage bag, assumed that the luggage bag could have been damaged by them, fixed it with a new wheel. When I got my bag with the fixed wheel I knew I had to put this review to thank them. These little gestures make the world just a bit more livable.

Route: New Delhi to Bagdogra

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "will never fly with them again"

Review: New York to Tel Aviv via Moscow. I paid $150 for upgrading from the Economy to premium economy. The flight was full and there was no place in premium economy so they gave me a regular seat in Economy. I contacted the flight attendant to refund the money I paid for the upgrade and she referred me to a customer service I called customer service twice and mail them about what happened and they obviously ignored and said they dont know what I am talking about. I have been waiting a year for a refund! I will never fly with them again!

Route: New York to Tel Aviv via Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Luxair

Title: "Nice and smooth flight"

Review: Luxembourg to Faro. Nice and smooth flight, In contrast to LG flights from Faro, online check-in is available on flight to Faro. Crew was friendly and catering was good. However, again, the lack of English and Portuguese announcements is really unpleasant for passengers who dont speak the 3 national languages of Luxembourg. To improve immediately.

Route: Luxembourg to Faro

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "lousy customer service"

Review: Toronto to Fort Lauderdale. This is the worst customer service ever. I bought some tickets from Toronto to Fort

Lauderdale for September 9, 2022. Since Immigration Canada has not sent me my new permanent residence card, I cannot travel. I have been trying to communicate with Air Transat for days and finally, after an hour and fifty minutes of waiting, they answered me in customer service. After explaining the situation to the woman who answered, she promised me that everything was resolved and that I only had to call my agent (Flighthub), and that they could give me the credit to travel on another date or when I received the new permanent resident card. So I called my agent but they checked and there was no note on the reservation. And they told me that I should call Air Transat again. I have been trying for the last two days with no success. I have called several times and after more than an hour of waiting per call, this is disconnected by Air Transat. My trip is scheduled for tomorrow morning so I will lose almost CA$1000 due to Air Transat's lousy customer service. I don't understand why the woman told me this and she didn't do anything. It's totally unfair

Route: Toronto to Fort Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "This is basically cheating by Finnair"

Review: I generally don't write reviews but after what I experienced with Finnair I decided that I am going to share my experience with everyone. I flew with Finnair from Berlin to Delhi as a round trip. The ticket I purchased did not have baggage included in it and hence had to purchase it as an add-on and the price was 70 Euros, and while going to Delhi I tried to purchase it from the Finnair website but was unable to as the site did not accept any cards, the site says that it accepts visa and master card but the transaction always fails. Luckily as I purchased the ticket from another provider called Ease my trip I contacted them and was able to add the baggage from Berlin to Delhi and was informed that during the return trip I can add it at the counter. However after approaching the counter I was informed that I will need to pay an extra 20 Euros for adding the baggage at the counter, which is absurd as I tried to use the Finnair site and also the third party service. This is basically cheating by Finnair by purposely not allowing payments on their site so that the customer will need to pay extra at the counter. As per me this is the worst airlines ever and would not suggest it to anyone.

Route: Delhi to Berlin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "a gruelling experience"

Review: San Francisco to Orlando. I could not believe an aircraft of this size that offers movie, music, games and TV entertainment did not have earbuds available for purchase. I sat in flight for 5.5 hours with basically nothing to do. What a gruelling experience. Although this is my first time flying with Virgin America, next time I hope my employer will make a better choice.

Route: San Francisco to Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Avianca

Title: "absolute worst airline"

Review: This is the absolute worst airline I've ever flown.. Each of the 4 legs of our trip had tremendous issues, inconvenience, and staff who are rude and don't seem to care. The ultra-short layover seems to be intentional to cause people to miss their flights. We watched another flight leave half a plane of people behind in their rush to close the doors, knowing there was another connecting flight. When I say zero amenities, I mean absolutely nothing.

Route: Miami to Rio via Bogota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "Thank you for such a great service"

Review:

I flew with them on the 24th March 2023. What a great service and the Airline rep Debbie was so helpful and friendly and she helped us to do a very smooth check-in. I have to say it was 5 star service all the way from London to Bangkok and back and I cannot wait to fly with them again. Thank you for such a great service and looking forward to fly with you again.

Route: London to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Boutique Air

Title: "left stranded in Baltimore"

Review: Because my flight was cancelled with this airline, I was left stranded in Baltimore. The flight for the next evening was also cancelled. My whole weekend was ruined because of this. I got a hotel room for the night. The next day my husband drove three hours to pick me up, and three hours back. When I received a text that my hotel reimbursement was declined, I was not a happy camper. I will never, ever fly this airline.

Route: Baltimore to Altoona

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Malindo Air

Title: "our baggage were missing"

Review: Jakarta to Penang via Kuala Lumpur. A very bad experience flying with malindo, firstly during my connection flight we having delays more then 1 hours. It become worst when we arrived at Penang we found our baggage were missing. Until now from Malindo only email us that they cannot found our baggage.

Route: Jakarta to Penang via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Avelo Airlines

Title: "lack of communication - horrific"

Review: Boarded flight from PBI to HVN on 12/31/22. During boarding, there was an issue as two teens weren't allowed to board due to the plane being overweight. Pilot said that we had to carry extra fuel due to weather in New Haven. After 45 minutes of a standoff the girls boarded the plane. No clue what changed to allow that. The first attempt to take off was aborted due to a light going off. We pulled off the runway and waited until that cleared. So an hour after our scheduled departure we took off. We didn't land at our estimated time and it was clear we were circling. When we finally landed 20 minutes after the pilot said we would, he then announced that we were in Hartford. Once in Hartford, we were stuck on the tarmac for 90 minutes until a gate opened up. When it did, we were allowed to deplane with zero communication from flight crew about next steps. In fact, it was only a BDL employee at the gate that mentioned that our bags weren't being unloaded. Hopefully they will show up in New Haven today but we've heard nothing from Avelo and it's impossible to get through to them. I understand that weather happens. I've been delayed and diverted before but the lack of communication and safety concerns were horrific.

Route: West Palm Beach to New Haven

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: Frontier Airlines customer review

Review: I booked this flight a month ago to see my brother on military leave. They delayed 4 times. Then canceled the flight. They provided no other options and gave us a 100 dollar voucher. Flights to Buffalo are $1000 at this time. It's meaningless and I'll never fly with Frontier again.

Route: Houston to Buffalo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: fastjet

Title: fastjet customer review

Review: Clean cabin, helpful and friendly service. Most of my fastjet flights left on time. I used Fastjet between Dar Es Salaam and Uganda, South Africa and Malawi. Flights were over 75 per cent full, especially Uganda and Malawi. This is a budget, no Frills carriers. Flights were smooth, great service and clean cabin.

Route: Dar es Salaam to Entebbe

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sunwing Airlines

Title: "there were issues with Sunwing flights"

Review: We went on vacation in an all inclusive trip to Jamaica from April 11 - April 18 2022, well with the flight delays it was more like no sleep and April 19 2022. The resort was the worst one I have ever been at, the people were rude, the Sunwing rep onsite was never available to talk to. When flights were delayed, no one informed us, it was only after missing the pickup time and panicking with a family of 5 that we found out there were issues with Sunwing flights. This costed us meals, stress and a day of work. I am so upset. There is so much more but this is the surface issues.

Route: Montego Bay to Calgary

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Ethiopian Airlines

Title: "The staff were mostly distant during the flight"

Review: This review only covers BKK to ADD Business Class was less than half full, not a high work load for the staff.

Flight went sour for me 20 minutes into the flight, the Purser yelled at me for no reason, I was stunned. Claiming I jumped the queue to the bathroom (there was no queue). This has never happened to me, beats me what she was thinking, poor behaviour from a Purser! The staff were mostly "distant" during the flight (not just to me!), but some were very friendly and nice. Food was nothing fantastic (beef was tough). During the entire flight, the Purser looked sour, luckily she was mostly working in eco. At arrival in Addis, chaos as eco passengers stormed forward and I missed the business class bus and my wheelchair assistance.

Route: Bangkok to Johannesburg via Addis Ababa

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Volotea

Title: "turns into a 4.5 hour flight"

Review: They made us wait 30 minutes without informing why there is a delay. Ac wasn't on and the attendants told us nothing. Not even water was provided. Later, they announced there is a problem with the light of the plane and will need to change aircrafts at Venice. Now a 2.5hour flight turns into a 4.5 hour flight.

Route: Lyon to Santorini

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: BA CityFlyer

Title: "still give drinks and a snack"

Review: Amsterdam to London City. I was not originally on this flight, I was due to go to Southampton with KLM but the flight along with many others was cancelled because of the weather. The wait at the KLM transfer desk was running at over an hour so I gave up and went to BA. Very good price for a flight to LCY three hours later. Unlike their big brother (British Airways), BA CityFlyer still give drinks including alcohol and a snack on this short trip. Left an hour late due to weather. Crew fine.

Route: AMS to LCY

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "The worst part was the food"

Review: I flew home from Rome to Toronto an almost 10hr flight. First we were given separated seats (traveling as a couple) the check in attendant was rude and kept us waiting for 20 minutes didn't even mention that the seats weren't together. The flight was delayed for 18 minutes, no communication. The worst part was the food, it looked like left over boiled chicken with some nasty sauce and soggy tasteless veggies. Best part was the friendly air hostess and the smoothest landing.

Route: Rome to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air India Express

Title: "the worst experience"

Review: This was the worst experience from Calicut to Cochin with Air India Express. However, our flight of 45 min from Calicut to Cochin had a delay of 3 hours for no explicit reason except technical aspects, and we missed our 2 next flights with different airlines. Despite explaining the situation to 5 different people, nothing was done to help us, no refund or help to find new flights. Never fly with Air India Express, you're never sure to arrive on time. This is completely unrespectful and not honest at all.

Route: CCJ to COK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Loganair

Title: "heard nothing from Loganair"

Review: I booked & paid fully for a return flight from Glasgow to Donegal for 22 May 20 returning on 25th May'20 On 16th March I received an email from Loganair informing me that my flight was being rerouted to Derry instead of Donegal. As this was unsuitable I requested a refund & on 18th March they agreed to & said it would take 28 days to process. However when I contacted them again in May as I still hadn't received the refund I was told it would take 60-90 days to process. It still hasn't been processed & I've heard nothing from Loganair.

Route: Glasgow to Donegal

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Norwegian

Title: "my seat too tight"

Review: Ft Lauderdale to Copenhagen. I'm a 1,83m, 85kg, average body, not fat. In a new Boeing 787 with 9 seat per row, my seat was too tight for a 10-hour trip. Obviously my shoulders were out of the seat, consequently, every time the hostesses passed, they woke me up. My food was scarce, and even the snack, having to order using the seat screen, charging sodas ($3.50 a can of soda).

Route: Ft Lauderdale to Copenhagen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Garuda Indonesia

Title: "outstanding on our flight"

Review: My family and I flew on Garuda Indonesia on GA088 from Jakarta to Amsterdam in June 2023. On arrival at Jakarta Terminal-3 the Garuda ground support team were waiting to help and assist us with our luggage and check-in. After checking in we were escorted through immigration and into the lounge. Drinks, snacks, and full pre-boarding menu was available . When it time came for boarding, we were escorted to the aircraft. After takeoff, the chef provided us with a very good selection of meals, when the food arrived as each meal was prepared by the Chef onboard it was very well presented and tasted even better. We had two full meals onboard additionally the cabin crew were available throughout the flight offering snacks and hot and cold drinks. The First-Class cabin is very comfortable and when it came time to sleep my family and I had a good rest. The cabin crew were very attentive to me, my wife and two children. Nothing was any bother for them, and they always greeted us with a re-assuring heartwarming Garuda-Indonesia smile. I recently read that Garuda-Indonesia on June 20th, 2023, was awarded the Best Cabin Crew 2023 and I would fully endorse this as they were outstanding on our flight. Therefore, I would like to thank the Garuda-Indonesia Cabin crew Margaretha Bernadette, Mardiana, Ade Kurniawan, Nesyanti for their help and assistance to me and my family, they certainly made us feel at home. Upon arrival in Amsterdam, we were met at the plane door by the Schiphol VIP Center team which is part of Garuda Indonesia service. We transferred to the VIP lounge to await our connecting flight. Wi-Fi is available onboard, however it is expensive for 250Mb limit.

Route: Jakarta to Amsterdam

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Shaheen Air

Title: "cabin crew friendly"

Review: I flew with Shaheen Air on 18 Jan 2016 from Dubai to Karachi. Check-in was good. Cabin crew friendly and smiling and before take off a drink was served and a newspaper. After take off nice dinner was served, with chicken Korma, Zeera Rice, Riata and Hot Tea.

Route: DXB to KHI

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Bangkok Airways

Title: "efficient inflight service"

Review: Bangkok to Chiang Mai. Excellent flight. Super fast and efficient inflight service with good food. All budget airlines (including BA) who charge for in flight food/beverages and consequently take ages to get through the cabin should take note. This is the way to treat your customers and provide excellent service.

Route: Bangkok to Chiang Mai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "My flight was changed 4 times!"

Review: My flight was changed 4 times! American Airlines delayed my outgoing flight 3 times without considering the time it takes to get to the gate of the connecting flight. The 1st 2 times it was cancelled I did not get an email from customer service with the new flights.

Route: Jackson MS to Phoenix via Dallas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "not even an apology since"

Review: On Flight SA203 to JFK New York 21 June 2018 the entertainment etc was not working. Not only our family of five but all the passengers on the flight. The staff did not know how to resolve the problem, served dinner and vanished leaving one staff member in the galley who I did not see once came round to offer water. The staff emerged again for breakfast service and advised us to take the matter further with customer services from SAA. We reported the incident, got a reference number and not even an apology since.

Route: Johannesburg to New York JFK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "they reschedule the flights"

Review: Danang to Ho Chi Minh City. This is the second time we travel during this trip with Vietnam Airlines. Both times they reschedule the flights, letting us know one day before and then they delayed the flights again in the airport. On board it's okay, but it's annoying arriving later than you planned and staying more time waiting in the airport.

Route: Danang to Ho Chi Minh City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Swoop

Title: "never fly with Swoop again"

Review: I am type 1 diabetic. An hour into my flight I had a very bad low that was crashing. I had eaten my own snack but that did not suffice. I asked an attendant if she could get me a glass of apple or orange juice and she proceeds to tell me most people carry their own snacks, I explained to her I did and it's still crashing, I just need sugar. She said she could get me water. I had to tell her again I need sugar not water. Eventually another attendant comes and gives me 4 squares of chocolate. I was never checked on or asked if I needed anything else. I will never fly with Swoop again.

Route: Halifax to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "would definitely recommend"

Review: People rarely give good reviews more often opting to write something when things go wrong, but it's been such a long time that I've had a good experience with an airline carrier, that I had to leave a review! I had a great experience with EVA Air flying from Vietnam to the United States. The trips consisted of 2 flights, one for 3h and one for almost 12h, both trips were great. The staff was very friendly and professional. The food was also great. I didn't feel like I was being scammed out of my money at every step of the trip like I do a lot of the time nowadays with US airlines. I would definitely recommend this airline.

Route: Saigon to Los Angeles via Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Koryo

Title: "hot/cold drinks and a hamburger"

Review: Pyongyang to Beijing with hot/cold drinks and a hamburger which was adequate for length of flight. Very polite and welcoming service. Efficient check in and boarding. In flight entertainment limited to a video of recent North Korean hits. Pyongyang Times and Korea Today available to take on board.

Route: Pyongyang to Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Monarch Airlines

Title: Monarch Airlines customer review

Review: On time, lovely flight and crew very friendly on flight to Alicante on 20th June. Well done Monarch on your excellent service which started at check in through to our arrival in Spain. We were part of a group of 17 and they made the whole journey a breeze.

Route: Manchester to Alicante

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Tahiti Nui

Title: "never been treated so badly"

Review: Papeete to Auckland. Customer portal down September 8th and 9th, so cannot even put a complaint through, no email back from their customer service yet. I went to the Papeete airport at 6am for my 9am flight. Checked in, baggage, everything. As the departure time drew near, we were none the wiser on the delay. Finally 9am rolled around, and they told us it would be another hour delay. More and more time was added, and none of the announcements were legible. Finally they tell us the flight is cancelled. They make us walk out of the airport in the heat, and go through customs which took a very long time. Then, we were forced to cue in a line to find out when the next flight was available. Everyone waited in line for an hour. When I got to the front of the line, they told me it was up to me to find my own accommodation and that the next flight was 1am the next day - and to provide them with my email and phone (which I did, I also provided them with the Air BNB host where I was staying cell number). Luckily, they had a spare room at the Air BNB. I racked up a huge cellphone bill trying to get the car company to not cancel my rental, which, they did anyway.

My host drove me to the airport the next day at 10pm. We get there to find the place empty, and security telling us that the flight was cancelled. I go to the Air Tahiti Nui office that is at the airport, and I ask why I was not emailed or phoned about this. She Shrugged her shoulders and said it was not her fault. I asked her what I am supposed to do, and luckily, the Air BNB had a couch I could stay on as every hotel was booked. I went back to the place, and awoke at 6am again. Finally on the 3rd day I boarded my flight to Australia. I have traveled to a number of tropical island places, and I know, things work a bit slower on island time. But honestly, the customer service was rude, and horrible. I have never been treated so badly - and had such a horrible experience.

Route: Papeete to Auckland

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Philippine Airlines

Title: "decline on the quality of service"

Review: Flight left Manila on-time. Some interruptions in serving meal due to turbulence but captain kept the seatbelt sign for too long though fine already, but I understand. Food portion got smaller & smaller and slight decline on the quality of service. Still a better choice for a direct flight.

Route: Manila to Riyadh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Airlines

Title: "Never, ever fly China Airlines"

Review: Because we missed our JFK connection our incoming flight was late, so China Airlines suspended our tickets. What is "suspension?" a normal person might ask. Suspension is a special thing China Airlines does. It freezes your ticket so that not even the airline that delayed you can rebook you. Then, China Airlines' office doesn't open till 12 noon.

This was sad news at 2am at JFK. When they did open, they did not answer the phone -- we were on hold for 2 hours 13 minutes before some Tool picked up to inform me that, because we failed to present ourselves, China Air was imposing a $150 per ticket fee to release the tickets. After over an hour and the usual escalation, the Tool gave me a phone number and email address to which JetBlue must present evidence that their flight was late so they'd release the tickets graciously without the fee, like any normal airline would any day. So, after 15 hours on nearly continuous phone calls in the airport, we got clearance to rebook, and Jet Blue put us on Cathay Pacific. Returning home, we checked our bags through to Orlando, knowing we'd have to clear customs & recheck them in NY. Now China Airlines explained that they don't think they can get our bags from one terminal to the next within the next 9 hours for our next flight. And the food was ghastly to boot. Never, ever fly China Airlines.

Route: New York to Cebu via Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: French Bee

Title: "Its impressively awful"

Review: Never understood how bad low cost airlines can be until I flew with French bee. Its impressively awful. None of my other experiences have nearly been as bad. The staff were pretty bad. Like I wave my arms and scream to get their attention and they somehow miss me from 2 feet away. I asked for water when they were walking around with the beverages but they walked right by me all 3 times out of 3. They push the cart right through at least 10 rows of seats. Once they were walking by with the beverage cart and went through 20 rows of seats until they decided to randomly stop. I assumed theyd return but they did not. The luggage was delayed by 2 hours. The check in process was a nightmare. Especially when Im on vacation, I try to be understanding but some aspects were just avoidable. Delays happen, thats ok, but some issues were just, unnecessary, unprofessional and below the lowest standards.

Route: Paris to Newark

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Binter Canarias

Title: "Excellent airline"

Review: Tenerife Norte to Gran Canaria. Excellent airline, clean and new plane. They offer a chocolate snack and a glass of water, and a candy just before landing, all this in a 25 minute flight! There is even a wifi entertainment system on board! The best airline I have used.

Route: Tenerife Norte to Gran Canaria

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Philippine Airlines

Title: "The seats are premium"

Review: Got Premium economy since they were the only available seats going to Manila. The seats are premium and comfortable for the less than 2 hour flight. Food service was so so.

Route: General Santos to Manila

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hi Fly

Title: "This company is a disgrace"

Review: Due to a technical problem on our Thomas Cook flight we were delayed 24 hours and had to fly with HiFly. We paid for premium economy but were placed in economy next to the only toilet working on the flight. This was a bone of contention because other people were allocated our P.E seats. There were no alcoholic drinks available and by the time they got to us the food had run out so we went hungry. No entertainment available, it was pathetic. My wifes headrest fell off and when I reported this the crew member shrugged his shoulders and done nothing about it. The crew who were from Portugal were ignorant and rude. The aircraft was filthy and as described before only one working toilet. This company is a disgrace and the aircraft should not have been allowed off the ground.

Route: Orlando to Manchester

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "The seats are okay"

Review: The flight took off on time. Food was okay. Water and other cold beverages were offered several times during the flight. They also collected the trash couple of times after each service. Ice cream cup was served in the middle of the flight. Snack before arrival was so so. The seats are okay. On board entertainment - I had trouble finding something interesting to watch. This was return flight. To point out the food on outbound flight was horrible - especially the dinner-inedible mess.

Route: Zurich to Philadelphia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "the worst airline"

Review: Writing this review after almost 10 attempts to fly with GoFirst and the flight has been cancelled at every single instance. This is the worst airline. They have an extremely unethical business practice of showing flights on online portals that you book and then cancelling them. Apparently, they do not deem it fit to inform you in advance that the flight is cancelled and you have to continuously check it on their portal to learn for yourself that the flight is cancelled.

Route: Ahmedabad to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Eastern Airways

Title: "found the flight comfortable"

Review: Flew Newcastle to Birmingham with Eastern Airways for the first time today, and found the flight comfortable and flight attendant polite, courteous and professional. The plane was loud but that's to be expected for a small plane. I would definitely recommend and fly again with them.

Route: Newcastle to Birmingham

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "Transferring my baggage was miserable"

Review: Transferring my baggage was miserable, everything got broken, my baggage and my sweets boxes got damaged. I did not think that Royal Jordanian airlines would accept such a practice

Route: Beirut to Dubai via Amman

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Kulula

Title: "no communication at all"

Review: I booked an early flight to Durban 3 March to have a full day of work in Durban. I arrive at the OR Tambo airport only to find out that my flight has been cancelled and no communication at all. They put me on another flight 3 hours later, this is ridiculous. Not sure how any business can operate like this in this difficult economical time.

Route: Pretoria to Durban

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Tigerair Australia

Title: "never fly with this company again"

Review: Melbourne to Brisbane. Stay away from this company. They may sell flights 20-40 dollars cheaper in comparison to Virgin but their service are way worse. I book flight with checked Sport baggage, called them 2 days before to called the sport baggage and was told they don't refund for it, and if I decide to change it to normal luggage allowance I would've pay over $20 for that. So inconsiderate service, total rip off. I will never fly with this company again.

Route: Melbourne to Brisbane

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ZIPAIR

Title: "has the worst customer service"

Review: Zipair has the worst customer service. The check in employees at Narita airport are rude and unprofessional. When you try to contact them via phone, they tell you that communication is via email only. When you email customer service and you question them or disagree with anything, they will ghost you. I do not recommend this company.

Route: Narita to Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Kuwait Airways

Title: "Unprofessional cabin crew"

Review: Flew Kuwait Airways from Frankfurt to Manila via Kuwait. Unprofessional cabin crew. One crew member even told me that he could not give me water a second time around, yes I asked for a second time as I was thirsty. Unprofessional and untrained staff. I will not be flying with them again. I am a frequent flyer and this was my second worst experience after Air India.

Route: Frankfurt to Manila via Kuwait

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: euroAtlantic Airways

Title: "I would have rather walked back"

Review: Flew back with euroAtlantic Airways due to Thomas Cook going bust and to be honest I would have rather walked back! Even though this was a repatriation flight it was well over priced! Flight cancelled twice without any reason. Then delayed once boarded for over an hour. I had paid and booked for premium class with Thomas Cook, this aircraft had premium seating. On boarding the aircraft I explained to an air hostess that due to a surgery I had I needed better seating than economy. I was told she would look into it, this was never done. I later found out that a minimum of 2 premium seats were left empty for the staff to use. I asked for a pillow to use to sit on, again they didn't have this. Even though this was an overnight flight the food was terrible and looked as though it has been packed from Manchester and left on board until we finally had it. The drink service again was terrible. Warm drinks, no ice and 2 small drinks on an 8 hour flight. No tea or coffee facilities unless you went to them. There was no entertainment on board the flight. Even though TVs were fitted to each seat these were not active. This made for an extremely painful and boring 8 hour flight! In the toilet there were panels missing and what looked like dead bugs in the cavities where the panel was missing. Upon landing back at Manchester the plane was pretty much dropped on the ground and the brakes were slammed on! Overall you might as well cancel your holiday if you have to fly with this company.

Route: Punta Cana to Manchester

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "Very poor service"

Review: Århus to Moscow via Prague. I travelled together with my 6 years old son by this airline the 22 june. We supposed to arrive to Moscow at 16 oclock, but the plane was 1,5 hours late. As a result We missed the next flight and had to find a place to stay overnight, that was not easy. I wrote a complain to the official site, but didnt get any answer still. I dont recommend this airline to anybody. Very poor service and indifference to customers.

Route: Århus to Moscow via Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Level

Title: "most horrible experience"

Review: The most horrible experience Ive ever have for 40 years flying. Its not cheap, when you add all necessities, and its more expensive than any others. Never again! No leg room, horrible service. Dont buy it!

Route: San Francisco to Barcelona

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Winair

Title: "found them to be very reliable"

Review: I had 4 flights with this airline and found them to be very reliable, st Maarten to Statia and St Maarten to Saba and back, planes are very small but perfect for these 15 minutes hop. ground crew were friendly and even tagged my bags to Antigua on a codeshare with LIAT, I was surprised, they all arrived without major problems, they are quick and professional, sometimes slow sometimes not. The prices are very high though. The only worriesome moment I had with them was when one of the pilots shouted aggressively at the other just before engine started.

Route: St Maarten to Saba

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "Worst flying experience"

Review: Montreal to Brussels. Worst flying experience so far in my life. Upgraded to economy plus, to make sure of priority luggage handling. Its been a week since I landed now and no new of my lost luggage yet, which I need to properly execute my job. No way to get proper response and help the claim of being available 24/7 is a blatant lie. Next to this in flight there was no option for my dietary restriction to which the staff promptly gave me chicken and pasta, where I just made clear I don't eat meat. Truly terrible and costing me money at this moment every day I can't do my job properly

Route: Montreal to Brussels

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "Very disappointed with this airline"

Review: Very disappointed with this airline. We had our flight booked for Cancun to Portland from 2pm - 9pm on the 28th with a short layover in Guadalajara. To start, our first flight from Cancun was delayed 40 minutes, making us late to Guadalajara and our flight to Portland had already left before we arrived. The flight attendants did not know how to help us in the slightest, we were re-directed to several different employees all over the airport before finally being directed back to the main lobby and had to wait in line just to speak with the check in staff. When we were finally seen, the employee accused us of missing our flight and when we explained that it is was not our fault he told us the only available flight was the following day at 9:30am and that we would have to pay for an additional Covid-19 test before he could provide us with the boarding passes. I won't even get into how terrible the process was to get the test done. After, we returned to the check in desk for our boarding passes and had to wait 40 minutes before being seen again. A different employee helped us this second time and again insisted it was our fault that our flight was missed, this person barely spoke English and had to translate through text (which was fine, as long as we got through) however, he kept walking away from the desk to ask a coworker questions and obviously was having trouble getting our flight figured out. Once he was finally able to do so we were told that we would not be able to check our luggage in until the following morning, mind you this at 7pm. So in addition to having to wait 14 hours for our flight home we were not permitted into the departure area we had to wait in the airport entrance in a Burger King lobby until the following morning. We got up early to make sure we were ahead of the line and even the at 3am the Volaris check in was packed of people and it still took us an hour to get checked in. Overall very disappointed in the service of this airline and will not be recommending or using it in the future. In fact we will very likely be discouraging others from booking with this airline.

Route: Cancun to Portland via Guadalajara

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "Crew were in a good mood"

Review: LAX-RNO. Only carry-on bags so no airport check-in needed. Thru TSA and right to the gate. Flight was about 30 minutes late but we were informed. 2230 hrs departure so airport fairly quiet. Plane arrived and departed super fast and was only half full of passengers which was nice. Standard beverage and snack offered. Crew were in a good mood as it was their last flight of the day. Smooth quick flight to Reno. Landed, exited and in our car all within 15 minutes. Southwest is always our first go to when flying in and out of Reno.

Route: Los Angeles to Reno

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Peruvian Airlines

Title: "Worst experience ever"

Review: La Paz to Lima. Worst experience ever. They were late by 3 hours due to 'weather issues', which, we learned later, were just light rain and to really poor organisation. They said we would be fine for our connexion and that they would do the necessary arrangements for us at Lima. But they didn't. First lie. Then they said we would be reimbursed our missed flight. Second lie, we never were! They let us down at Lima with no flight options, no help whatsoever, they just didn't care at all. We had to buy new ticket to get out of there for a high price. I can't believe this happened but we weren't alone, many people were in the same situation as us. This seems like a very well organised fraud. Never ever fly with them if you have other options.

Route: La Paz to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "Thank you for a wonderful flight"

Review: You already feel that you are in Thailand with the warm welcome of the cabin crew. Also the way they help parents with kids, Thai crew did it with their hearts. I always fly with Thai airways whenever I have a chance to. Thank you for a wonderful flight.

Route: Bangkok to Munich

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: US Airways

Title: "window seats on exit row should be removed"

Review: US Airways from OGG (Kahului, Maui) to Phoenix Sky Harbor. There were no pair of economy seats available together online. Traded 2 Seat "E"s 4 rows apart for row 27, seats E/F. Was told only it was an exit row. Flight was a redeye, hoped to sleep, as it lasted 6 hours. Spouse, (about 5 feet tall, less than 90 lbs) sat in seat F. We could not get comfortable - armrests would not raise, seats were very narrow - for me, For my wife, window area was cold, no pillows were available, and she had no legroom due to protruding window slide cover. She had to turn towards me and put her legs on top of mine. I could not get something to drink, as I then could not use the tray table. US Airways would rather couples pay for preferred, choice, or 1st class seating, than provide enough regular priced coach seats. The window seats on the exit row should be removed.

Route: OGG to PHX

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "Do not fly JetBlue"

Review: Do not fly JetBlue. They will absolutely screw you over and you will spend 10 hours of your time trying to talk to someone while stranded without any helpful information. We lost a lot of money. Will likely not fly again.

Route: New York to Detroit

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "person at checking counter was rude"

Review: Booked extra bag, but upon checking they did not find it. The person at checking counter was rude, she was literally saying "I see no added bag, now pay or leave yours behind". Even though my mother had been showing her the booking confirmation with clear text extra baggage with it. My senior mother, that time frustrated and tired, lacking the language capacity to explain herself, decided to just leave the luggage behind. Contacted customer service afterward, they wrote "As it was not associated with the flights, it seems it has caused the airport to not be able to see it upon checking the reservation." How could a bag even be "not associated with the flight"? I even booked it together with the flight. They offered a refund for the purchase fee of the extra bag, but just tell us to "contact the airport" for the 20kg bag that we were forced to leave behind.

Route: Frankfurt to Helsinki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "changed our flights soon after booking"

Review: LATAM changed our flights soon after booking, changing our 2 hour layover in Lima Airport to a 24 hour layover, also making us miss our first night of our booking in our resort. We attempted to resolve the issue with our booking agent, and with LATAM staff at the airport, in their call centre but they were unwilling to help us or reimburse us for anything at all. Since when is it acceptable to leave 2 senior citizens in an airport for 24 hours during a covid pandemic without offering any help. To top it off staff at the airport were rude, I could resume their message to "it's not our fault". I would like to know who's fault they think it is. I filed a complaint with LATAM, but their response can be resumed "I am very sorry you had a bad experience, there will be no reimbursement". Fly with this airline at your own risk, and allow plenty of time for itinerary changes as they appear to be very unreliable and unwilling to help.

Route: La Paz to Punta Cana via Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Jazeera Airways

Title: "This is the worst airline"

Review: This is the worst airline I have ever encountered in my life. We went to go check-in the bags onto the aircraft. When we were asked by the check-in attendant if we had any liquids in our bags that we are checking into the aircraft (NOT carry-on bags). We told him we have a bottle of zam zam water (less than 5L). He told us to take it out and its not allowed to take it into the aircraft, so we explained to him that we have travelled onto many flights around the world and that its allowed to take liquids into your check-in bags and not the carry-on. In which he rudely replied and said zam zam water isnt allowed to leave the country. In which I replied to him and told him to look directly behind him because the rule board is literally hanged right behind him, and it states that over 10L isnt allowed, but up to 5L is allowed to take in check in bags. He said he wont give us our passports back and said that he will cancel our boarding passes to deny us from flying. Arguments started to happen and many of the other workers started to get involved and at this point we were being deliberately delayed from our air flight and a lot of yelling was directed towards us. I asked the check-in attendant to talk to his manager in which he replied that he doesnt have a boss, and I will only speak to him. He did in fact cancel our boarding passes even though he isnt allowed to, and we had to involve airport security to re-activate our boarding passes just 5 minutes before the flight took off (we almost missed it). I will only give 1 stars because I cant give 0. I truly do not recommend this horrible airline.

Route: Jeddah to Dubai via Kuwait

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Blue Air

Title: "check in in the airport cost extra money"

Review: I understand most of the people do the check in online in order not to stay in lines in the airport, however now there is another reason. The check in in the airport cost extra money. In my case it cost the same amount as the flight ticket. It's not the fact that I paid the money which annoys me the most, it's the fact I was not informed, let me decide if I want to pay that or not. When I asked at their office why there is no notice, they replied that we should be the ones who research online about this, I feel like I was scammed.

Route: Cluj Napoca to Bucharest

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Tigerair

Title: "recommend for its low price"

Review: Flew on Tigerair TR2455 from Kuala Lumpur back to Singapore. I got my one way ticket for SGD27, which is cheap. However, I was disappointed that a paper boarding pass, which looks like a receipt, is issued even at the check in counter. And the counter was quite chaotic. Apart from that, the cabin is quite comfortable, refreshments available for sale. I will recommend this airline for its low price.

Route: KUL to SIN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Airlines

Title: "It was extremely uncomfortable"

Review: I flew the business class with China Airlines from Sydney to Taipei on 3 April 2023. When I purchased the ticket in mid February, the seating plan for the business class indicated 4 seats in each row (I believe it was Airbus 350-900). I selected 14D as my seat. A few days before departure, I received a notification from China Airlines that my seat was reassigned to 3D (no other messages than that). When I logged into the airlines' web, the new seating plan now showed each row had 6 seats. Without suspicion, I selected 4A as my new seat. When I boarded the aircraft on the day of departure, I realised that China Airlines had substituted this long haul flight with an aircraft suitable only for short haul flights. The seat space for the business class is very limited. The seat can only be laid down to about 45 degrees and there was no room for me to put my legs straight. It was extremely uncomfortable and almost impossible for sleeping (and it was an overnight flight). The supposedly complimentary wifi for the business class did not work for me (I suspect the aircraft was not equipped). The whole experience became a nightmare. I believe it is unethical and dishonest for an airline company to charge the full fares of a long haul flight and then substitute the aircraft with a short haul one, without seeking an agreement from the customers or any compensation. I would have been better off to take the economy class, at least saving myself an extra A$3500 (I paid over A$4800 for round trip).

Route: Sydney to Taipei

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sichuan Airlines

Title: "good value and great service"

Review: Flew Sichuan Airlines from Melbourne to Chengdu. Clean plane, friendly staff and great service. Food was great, 2 options for Chinese or Western style catering. Comfortable seats, and clean bathrooms. Flights were on time for both flights. From Australia the Qantas Business Class Lounge was available to use and from Chengdu there was a lounge available. All aspects of the flight were great and I was really surprised at how good value and great service I received in this airline.

Route: Melbourne to Chengdu

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Brussels Airlines

Title: "Worst customer service"

Review: Worst customer service we've ever experienced. An agent made an error on a booking amendment resulting in us having to book an expensive last minute flight. We called immediately to dispute the matter and were assured we'd receive a call back shortly. That was almost 2 months ago. We have called a further 5 times to no avail. The matter is still not resolved. We will never be using this airline again. 1 out of 10 in generous. Would give it 0 if I could.

Route: London to Brussels

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cathay Dragon

Title: "still room for improvement"

Review: This is the 2nd leg of my journey in November 2017 having arrived from Seoul. I had to re check in again despite that previous flight was on Cathay Pacific CX415. Hong Kong to Kota Kinabalu on A320-200 vin a 2 class layout cabin, the seat has been refurbished with the thinner seat. The new seat are not equipped with personal IFE- IFE is only possible by downloading KA studio into mobile device. Hot meal and beverages were provided. The standard of the in flight catering is fine though there are still room for improvement. Based on my flying experience with Cathay Dragon, the portion of the meal tray has been reduced.

Route: Hong Kong to Kota Kinabalu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Qantas Airways

Title: "we had such a great steward"

Review: We went to Canberra for a funeral and on the flight back we had such a great steward Johnno such a happy person with a great personality, making everyone feel so welcome. Nothing was a problem, even though it was a short flight he was the best, see you again Qantas

Route: Melbourne to Canberra

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "Awful customer service"

Review: The morning flight I was supposed to take was delayed 10 hours because of "bad weather" at Aurora airport (curiously other airlines departed at that time without any delays). The real problem was that Copa overbooked the mid day flight and delayed the morning flight to transfer those overbooked tickets to the the flight I was taking. Very dishonest. The delayed flight made me lose my connection to JFK and forced me to sleep at Tocumen airport to take the next flight. Staff was clueless, unhelpful and rude. Awful customer service

Route: Guatemala to New York via Panama

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ZIPAIR

Title: "It was immaculately clean"

Review: Zipair is JALs budget airline. They dont have classes of travel, you just pick your seat (flat bed, emergency exit etc) and pay accordingly. We usually travel BA or JAL business class. This trip was last minute and JAL business was going to cost $8k. Instead we paid just over $2.5k to fly with Zipair in their fully flat seats. Your ticket includes nothing but 7kg of cabin baggage (and they do weigh rucksacks/handbags etc), a bottle of water and the seat you booked. Check in process was not good. Of course we arent used to queuing for check in, but here everyone queues. There is no Advanced Passenger Information loaded, so with covid added the check in process was long. Also both our cabin bags were over 7kg so we had to put a bag in the hold. (You can pay to add a bag to the hold, but you cant pay for additional cabin baggage. They are strict on weight to the gram). We were also asked if we had a return ticket, which as it was booked at the same time as the outward trip was a bit worrying. Finally because the seat map is misleading we had not booked seats together (eg row 2 does not align across the cabin so although we had seats that were both in row 2, in fact I was sat behind and to the right of my husband. This was pointed out to us at check-in but we werent allowed to change our seats despite the fact that there were only 2 other seats taken in the fully flat cabin. Seats must be booked at least 24 hours before check-in and again this is enforced strictly. (We couldnt even change seats on board although the seat on my husbands left was free). The fully flat bed was nearly as good as JAL/BA business class (not quite so much storage). Includes reading light, table and some storage space. You can stow your hand baggage under the foot stool for take-off and landing (an improvement on the new BA business class seats). Its quite hard, but otherwise good. It was immaculately clean (again better than BA), cabin crew were excellent and it felt safe. There is no entertainment screen. WiFi is included free of charge, and a (very) small selection of films is available. The fully flat seat has a USB charging point. Fairly basic food and drinks can be bought on board by ordering via your mobile device and QI code. The onboard shop opens about an hour after take-off and closes about an hour before landing. Otherwise meals must be booked in advance. Pre-booked meals are served before the onboard shop is open, so you cant buy a drink until after your meal. Cushions and blankets are not included, but can be bought from the online shop. In deciding whether to use Zipair you need to compare cost to convenience. If you have time to download movies, book seats in advance (there is no app to make this easy), pre-order meals, and to bring your own pre- and with-meal drinks that will help. Also to bring your own cushion/blanket if you like to sleep as soon as you get on board. For me, some of the joy was missing. There wasnt enough meal/entertainment/shopping to pass much time for those who are not good at sleeping. Is that worth $5.5k - only you can answer that.

Route: Tokyo to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Rhein-Neckar Air

Title: "Great experience"

Review: Mannheim to Berlin. Great experience, flying like in the past: good service, no queues, customers first. I can recommend.

Route: Mannheim to Berlin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Volotea

Title: "flight was on time"

Review: The flight was on time, and the aircraft clean. The flight crew was very friendly. The Megavolotea program is useful to save money.

Route: Rome to Olbia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Allegiant Air

Title: "no confirmation for my stay"

Review: When I booked my flight I was given the option to add a hotel which I did however when I went to check in at the hotel there was no confirmation for my stay. Allegiant charged me, sent me confirmation but the hotel did not have the confirmation and basically I was left no hotel and had to rebook directly from the hotel. I called Allegiant the day of and was on hold 3.5 hours since this was the day I flying I could not stay on hold. I have emailed them but have not heard back. Their chat is unavailable. My flight was fine and I was able to confirm but if you want a package do not book it with them

Route: Fresno to las Vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "endless frustration"

Review: If you want endless frustration dealing with an AI instead of real customer service, then this might be the place for you. It is almost as if this company intentionally tries to make it difficult so they don't have to help you.

Route: Hanoi to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: China United Airlines

Title: "worst airline I ever been on "

Review: Beijing to Guangzhou . I was looking for the reviews about this airline, so far the worst airline I ever been on in my entire life, they don't even give a drop of water. They have their own trolley with merchandise for selling (nothing for the passenger) plus I needed to pay for my hand luggage (the only one I bring here) with less than 8 kg, and they didn't accept me take it to the cabin.

Route: Beijing to Guangzhou

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ViaAir

Title: "never be booking Via again"

Review: I would give them a zero, but that's not possible. My one complaint about the booking process was that there was no definition online about the size of a personal item. However, I didn't even get the opportunity to have a flight experience. My Thurs/Sun flights were cancelled the Tuesday before my departure. The only explanation was "schedule change." Their phone number sometimes puts you through to a human, sometimes you're only allowed to leave a message. I was issued a full refund, but was not compensated for the price difference in the Frontier flight I booked ($68 more, departing a day later on both ends of the trip at less convenient times) or for the rental car I had to reserve due to flying into a further away airport ($100, MSY instead of BTR). They offered a travel voucher for $100, but I will never be booking Via again, so I didn't bother accepting it.

Route: SFB to BTR

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Philippine Airlines

Title: "check in counter staff wont help you"

Review: Based on my experience and that of my colleagues, I strongly advise everyone to avoid Philippine Airlines when flying from Singapore to Manila, especially during the evening. Aside from delays due to Manila airport congestion, the check in counter staff in Singapore Changi Airport wont help you if you wish to take an earlier flight. They would outright tell you to go to the ticket office in downtown Singapore. Its such a hassle, if youre already at the airport and the check in for the earlier flight is almost closing. They didnt even bother to take a look at my ticket. I was so frustrated that no policy for go-shows was put in place, but still in the end, I thank Amanda, one of the handling agents, for her candour because according to her, without assurances from the ticket office or anyone from Philippine Airlines, she might be liable for penalties in case they bumped me to an earlier flight for free. Sadly, my PR512 flight which was scheduled at 19.05, was delayed for almost 3 hours, without any compensation. Im never flying Philippine Airlines from Singapore to Manila ever again.

Route: Singapore to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: SATA Air Azores

Title: "I am beyond angry!"

Review: Toronto to Funchal via Ponta Delgada. I am beyond angry! First time customer to SATA, and will be the last time ever. we booked Sao Miguel + Madeira 11 day vacation through Azores Getaway for Christmas and New Year holidays. The flight from Toronto to Sao Miguel on Dec 21st. Was delayed for 7 hours. Of course we didnt find out until after arrived to Toronto airport at 5:30 PM. Too late to drive back to Ottawa. Stayed at the airport for 10 hours and we really tired and cold overnight. This was only the beginning of the nightmare. On Dec. 24th, Christmas eve, our flight from Ponta Delgada to Funchal was delayed again by 10 hours. We missed our paid rental car because the rental car office closed at 9 PM at Funchal. The SATA airline staff told us to take a taxi and get reimburse later. We did exactly that, and emailed the receipts to the provided email address. Guess what? The taxi fare was 23.5 Euro but SATA can only pay 10 Euro based on their rules. We never wanted a free taxi from SATA. We paid for our rental car already but we couldnt get the car because of the delay. We missed our Christmas eve dinner. We had to take taxi again on Chrismas day to the airport again to get the rental car. What we have done to deserve that? we didnt even choose SATA on our own as we didnt know which airline Azores Getaway would use for the vacation package. I am too angry to write more for now. But I will later. It is not about the money anymore.

Route: Toronto to Funchal via Ponta Delgada

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Turkish Airlines

Title: "I missed my onward connection"

Review: My flight from Birmingham/ Istanbul 14 July was over 3 hours late departing due according to Turkish Airlines to Airport Baggage Handling problems. As a result I missed my onward connection to HCMC without any proactive action by TK. It took considerable time to locate the TK Office in the vast Istanbul Airport, and the TK Representatives were disinterested, lethargic, evasive and rude before I persuaded them to provide a solution, which was one involving a flight to Dubai and thence to HCMC. Not my choice. Accommodation was not offered, and this involved finding another Office and a long wait. As a result I did not reach my destination until early on 17th July instead of the intended 15th. Sometimes things go wrong, but the denial of responsibility, failure to resolve the problem in a timely and effective manner and failure to have its Staff act in a reasonable manner is unforgivable. I will be travelling this route again, but never with this Airline, and never via Istanbul Airport.

Route: Birmingham to Ho Chi Minh City via Istanbul

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air India

Title: "AI has given nothing but lousy service"

Review: Can an airline be this inefficient! From beginning to end! AI has given nothing but lousy service and that is being generous. I landed in Delhi at 11pm and my plane to Toronto was supposed to leave at 3.35am. They said that it was delayed and will start at 5am. The staff made a big show of checking documents which started at 3.30am. Our documents were checked three times at least. Just to kill time and to make a show that something was being done! There was no order to the boarding! We boarded around 4 am and now its 7am and we are still sitting on the plane- a closed space, with people coughing. In 3 hours no water was even served and besides the initial announcement no updates to the passengers. We are being treated as cattle and not human beings. Theres no courtesy of keeping us in the loop. This is a broken down plane. Nothing works. For a 14 1/2 hour non-stop flight, theres no entertainment. Honestly, at this point I wonder if I will get where I need to get, alive and in one piece. AI is playing with our lives and is being extremely disrespectful of our time. We have lives and jobs to get to and theres a reason we plan a trip. This is the second time I have flown AI in 6 months, for lack of finding any other airline and this is the second time Ive sat in the plane for 4 hours while technical issues are being dealt with! I would give this negative stars if the option were available!

Route: Hyderabad to Toronto via Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Europa

Title: "Avoid this airline"

Review: Avoid this airline. Do not fly with Air Europa if you have a connecting flight. They give you one hour to board the next flight but in reality, once you get off your first flight, you only have 35 minutes remaining. Then you have to run as fast as you could to the next terminal and pass through passport control which has massive queue. My husband who is EU national (he used the privileged gate for EU national), arrived quicker at the boarding gate and asked the 3 staffs in the gate to wait for me, (if ever I will be running late) due to the long queue in the passport control. They all refused as if it was our choice to come from the other end of the airport. Good thing we are young, with minimal luggages so we were able to arrive on time but I was really exhausted from running. If you're old, or have a family, children or not used to running, consider your plane ticket obsolete. The staff at the gate have zero empathy and they seem to have no idea that some of their passengers are coming from an Air Europa connecting flight because they just don't care about you at all. If they cannot accommodate their own passengers coming from a connecting flight, why would they sell this flight in the first place? Some of you might say that I could've joined my husband in the EU national passport control queue to arrive faster, my husband asked the staff in Madrid airport if I can join him, they refused and said that if he wants to join me, he should queue at the "all passport"

Route: Valencia to Gatwick via Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Nok Air

Title: "got us seats on the next flight"

Review: Bangkok to Phuket. I paid for tickets for me and my family 4 months in advance. We get to check in and were told our flight was cancelled and that they sent me an e-mail three days prior. I asked to be put on another flight there were no seats for the whole day. They offered me a refund but i wasnt willing to just walk away. They offered me and my family to fly stand by but knowing that everything was booked i declined and asked them to put us on another airline which they refused. The desk people although polite were not helpful and did nothing to get us a seat. After finding a manager on my own I insisted that what Nok Air did was wrong and I wasnt going to leave the airport, she then got us seats on the next flight.

Route: Bangkok to Phuket

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Azerbaijan Airlines

Title: "good service onboard"

Review: I was travelling from Heydar Aliyev Airport to Antalya. Was a able to book very cheap ticket in March for flight in July. Allowed cabin baggage was 10 kg - great for solo travelers. Comfortable flight, good service on-board, no delays and friendly staff. Recommend and will choose next time.

Route: GYD to AYT

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Qantas Airways

Title: "The worst customer service I've ever encountered"

Review: Qantas cancelled our flight two years ago and still has not refunded us the hundreds of dollars in excess baggage we paid for. I've spoken to them about this many times, and they don't deny they owe us the money, they just say someone will get back to us about it, and no one ever does. Any time I phone they say they have no record of any of the hours and hours I've spent on the phone with them before, and say they need all the information again. If I have a reference number from the last call, when I call again they say the number doesn't refer to anything and they have no record of the case. The worst customer service I've ever encountered, and it's cost us money we couldn't spare - but they really don't care. Avoid at all costs.

Route: Auckland to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "single worst experience"

Review: This is the single worst experience with an airline I have ever had. Everything about this was just insane. Promises of 'budget Friendly' were just the start. Me and my partner flew from Athens to Gatwick, £300 with cabin overhead baggage not included? (We are from Australia where this is standard for all airlines) If the tickets were actually budget I would understand. We arrived at Athens airport to find our flight delayed 2 hours. Ok, it's bad having your flight delayed but I gave them the benefit of the doubt since this happens to a lot of airlines. We looked up the aircraft info to find that there was no previous flight. As we waited at the airport we had 5 or 6 different times given to us by Wizz. Once the gate finally opened we made our way. We sat on the ground since seating was not available. Once we were ok to board we were put onto a bus to go to the plane. Once we arrived the driver opened the doors, told us "don't exit yet" and so we were left on the bus (packed in very tightly, there are no seats) for 15-20 minutes as we watched the cabin crew cleaning the plane through the windows. Why drive us out if the aircraft is not ready? And the plane has not had a previous flight AND was delayed 2 hours, the plane should have been prepared already? Once we finally got off the bus we were met by what I would find out to be some of the rudest hosts on a plane I have ever met. Every 5 seconds over the PA "please do not block the aisles to avoid further delays" to me seemed a bit rich after our experience so far. Also people are boarding, we aren't going to be seated in 3 seconds? When we sat, the aircraft was in a disgustingly awful state. Crumbs are everywhere, rubbish was left in the seat pockets. This aircraft was sitting here at the airport for a long time and the crew had done an abysmal job at preparing for passengers. The flight itself, once we got into the air was ok. Nothing special (they like to push their 'duty free' items on you for purchase, however I found that I could buy most of this stuff at Tesco for half the price). We landed at Gatwick and this is where the true torture began. Passengers stood to collect their luggage. As we were departing, the host grabbed the PA, stared directly into passengers eyes with the most disgusting look I have ever seen from flight crew "DO NOT BLOCK THE AISLE WHILE WE ALIGHT FROM THE AIRCRAFT" this was met with passengers fuming, how are we meant to get our luggage down then? He repeated it as I walked towards the front door of the aircraft "DO NOT BLOCK THE AISLE WHILE WE ALIGHT FROM THE AIRCRAFT" he proceeded to put down the microphone then step in front of me, put his finger to my face and said "WAIT" passengers piled behind me after this man had just told us not to block the aisles. He put his finger down "ok go". Me and my partner were livid. The consistent snarky rude comments from this crew was the worst customer service experience I had ever read not just from an airline but from any company I have ever dealt with. Please if there is one thing you take from this, DO NOT BOOK A FLIGHT WITH WIZZ AIR.

Route: Athens to London Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Pacific

Title: "Worst company I ever flew with"

Review: Phu Quoc to Ho Chi Minh. Worst company I ever flew with. I booked 3 flights and all 3 flights were rescheduled more than 3 times. When we were in the airport the plane had a delay of 1 and 1/2 hours. They are not reliable at all considering that we booked 3 flights and none of them were on time! (One flight was rescheduled with 4 hours)

Route: Phu Quoc to Ho Chi Minh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "worst flight experiences"

Review: Plane arrived in Ft Lauderdale and I proceeded to the carousel to retrieve my bag. I waited nearly three hours for the bags to be delivered. Apparently it was raining and lightning and the airline would not send crews out in the weather. Three hours seems like a long wait, but if it was for security reasons, I would have understood. However, Jet Blue never sent a rep to inform people of the issue, how it was being resolved or how long it would take. There were a multitude of carousels with people waiting for bags and JB was NO help. They were making announcements over a PA system that most of us could not hear or understand. There were a few JB employees - waiting with passengers. I approached one and asked if he knew what the problem was. He suggested I go to the Baggage Service Office. There were three women sitting there. Not one of them wandered out of their office to explain to everyone at the airport waiting for luggage what the problem was. When I asked she said "I just spoke with them. They're working on it." The lack of concern and professionalism was very disappointing. One passenger said her husband got an $80 ticket waiting for her. My friends waited over 2 hours in the cell phone lot - one of them is in a wheelchair. No offer of some kind of compensation or an apology. I also had spotty wi-fi. Not the first time this has happened to me on a JB flight. It used to be my preferred airline. Next flight I will shop around. This was one of the worst flight experiences I've ever had. No wonder they're #7. I remember when they used to be #1 customer rated.

Route: Boston to Ft Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thomson Airways

Title: "staff polite and professional"

Review: Birmingham to Dalaman return with Thomson Airways. The staff were polite and professional. There wasn't a good amount of legroom for a 4 hour flight, and the Boeing 757-200 aircraft seemed dated. However, overall it was a great flight.

Route: BHX to DLM

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: QantasLink

Title: "In flight service was excellent"

Review: Hamilton Island to Sydney. Check In was quick and easy. There is no business class lounge at Hamilton island but this is not an issue as the check in time before departure is quite short. Flight was a little late boarding whilst the plane was cleaned. Flying a B717 was a first for me but was comfortable and smooth. Qantas had supplied Ipads for the inflight entertainment, although the battery was flat on mine, so I used another. In flight service was excellent. Good view of Sydney on final approach to airport. Flight arrived on schedule and bags were on the belt by the time we had walked to it.

Route: Hamilton Island to Sydney

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Bahamasair

Title: "surprisingly had plenty of legroom"

Review: Flew Bahamasair round trip from Fort Lauderdale to Freeport on 03/22/2016 and 03/28/2016. Both inbound and outbound flights were on new ATR72-600. Slight delays (no more than 45 minutes) on each leg. This aircraft was very clean and surprisingly had plenty of legroom for a turboprop plane that seats 60 passengers. Other than on takeoff and landing, the cabin is very quiet once in the air. There was no need to use the Bose QC20 noise cancelling headphones. This is a rather short flight less than 1/2 hour.

Route: FLL to FPO

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: British Airways

Title: "Luggage are still in Glasgow"

Review: Came from Glasgow to London and took connecting flight American Airlines from London to North Carolina. It's my third day here in North Carolina and still waiting for my luggage. They didn't even bother to transfer the luggage to connecting flight. Luggage are still in Glasgow.

Route: Glasgow to London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SATA Air Azores

Title: "worst travel experience in 25 years"

Review: Worst travel experience in 25 years of travel. Tried to fly Boston-Ponta Delgada-Lisbon on June 25th at 10:40pm with SATA. Check-in: three hour chaos, hundreds of people lining up to the other side of the airport. No explanation as to why it was taking so long. Flight delayed: 3 hours with no explanation. We waiting at the gate until 1am, no announcements about delay or apologies. Lots of families with young kids and elderly people who didn't speak English who were at a complete loss. Flight cancelled: they cancelled the flight at 1am and sent us to the check in counter. Chaos. No representative was there from the airline, only an airport employee who didn't have any information about rebooking. They sent us home (or to hotels) to wait for more information. Flight reschedule: eventually booked on TAP airline a day later. Zero communication - no email, no text notifying us of rebooking. I only found out I was rebooked because I was trying to get on a TAP flight. Missed all my reservations in Ponta Delgada. With additional taxi fees to and from the airport I lost over $200.

Route: Boston to Ponta Delgada

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "very polite and helpful"

Review: Warsaw to Moscow return. Standard in economy class is better than in LH, or LOT. We got a tasty sandwich, apple, and choco wafel. For drink, selection of juices, tea & coffee were served, in Moscow free newspapers and magazines. The aircraft was extremely clean. Flight attendants were very polite and helpful and very well organized however, the aircraft was near full. Ground service in Moscow is organized better than in e.g. CDG, or Lyon. In all airports you have to wait in the lines for passport control, it usually takes about 20 - 30 minutes, but in WAW was 20 also. From the airport is a very comfortable train to the center.

Route: Warsaw to Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Nostrum

Title: "expect better from Air Nostrum"

Review: Alicante to Madrid. Uncoordinated ground staff who left 2 wheelchair users waiting without communication for over 30 minutes in a communal area. Check-in was laborious with one staff member conducting personal conversation rather than processing her passengers. Boarding was slow, very slow indeed! Two wheelchair users were left in a hot area without communication and were then boarded first. This was no problem other than other passengers being required to descend narrow stairs and wait for a bus. The bus was very full and needed to make 2 journeys. Passengers were allowed to carry with them far too much luggage and this proved to be problematic in the extreme. Following departure the staff were poorly coordinated and communication was poor. Arrival was prompt but a bus was needed to negotiate a very large Madrid airport! Clearly, much needs to be done to improve matters. One would expect better from Air Nostrum.

Route: Alicante to Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Mauritius

Title: "would fly with Air Mauritius again"

Review: I was pleasantly surprised with Air Mauritius. The aircraft was clean and the flight attendants very helpful. The entertainment system is a little dated, and the seats are a little narrow. The meals going out were okay, but on the return journey not so good. Plenty to drink through the flight. Take off and landing excellent. I usually suffer with my ears but had no problem on this trip. I would fly with Air Mauritius again.

Route: Heathrow to Mauritius

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "Strongly advice avoiding this airline"

Review: The worst airline I have flown with. Finnair charges huge premiums with no additional care from service staff. We were messed around multiple times by Finnair staff - where we originally paid for special seats, these were automatically changed so myself and my elderly Grandfather were sat away from each other. I spent over an hour in Finnair's extremely slow customer service - to which I was assured the seats had been moved back to their original spots that we had paid for. Then when checking the day before the flights - we saw our seats had been changed again. I spent another 1.5 hours in Finnair's customer service to which we were informed that our seats were changed due to my elderly companion not meeting requirements for the seat - which we were not informed in any way! Then that assistant assured us we had now been booked in for extra-legroom seats, and to our pleasant surprise - were not extra legroom when arriving at the plane, not even next to each other. Finnair charges such a higher premium over other airlines doing the same route such as Ryanair - which I have never had a problem with despite being 3 times cheaper. Blatantly scamming their customers in broad daylight with extremely high prices for food items in the cabin too - the highest I have ever seen on a plane. 8 euros for a 250ml beer, seriously? Furthermore - I paid extra for their wifi service, which only actually worked for the 20 out of 60 minutes that I paid for. Strongly advice avoiding this airline and their disorganisation.

Route: London Heathrow to Helsinki Vantaa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jet2.com

Title: "Disgraceful customer service"

Review: Our flight was delayed over 4 hours due to a fault on the aircraft. We were offered no refreshments or help and missed an important meeting. Made a claim which they acknowledged over 3 months ago. Since then nothing - they ignore emails and have no number you can call. Disgraceful customer service. They claim you cant phone them as they want all written details, This is an excuse it is so they can ignore you. I have flown with them three times this year but will not anymore

Route: Edinburgh to Alicante

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Turkmenistan Airlines

Title: "crew disinterested and surly"

Review: Ashgabat to Birmingham. Absolutely awful! Cabin crew disinterested and surly, I would hate to see them have to perform in an emergency situation. Aircraft grubby with the crew unable to work the inflight entertainment. No real attention to the safety briefing. Crew smoking in the toilets and cockpit door wedged open for a while. Cabin crew did not use shoulder straps on take off and landing. No alcohol served and food terrible. An airline that should not be allowed to fly in the 21st Century. Avoid

Route: Ashgabat to Birmingham

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Canada

Title: "been changed to basic economy"

Review: I booked a return ticket and today received this email for my return flight. I have always supported them and used for my business for years; however, today I received notice that my Premium Economy flight (I had already applied upgrade to business) from Montreal to Malaga via Zurich has been changed to basic economy. How can an airline treat clients like this, they stated; "We're sorry your itinerary has changed due to unexpected business or operational constraints on our planned flight schedule and we have automatically rebooked you on another flight."

Route: Malaga to Montreal via Lisbon

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "hours waiting for a crew member"

Review: Pathetic service. This airline does not understand basic concept of time is money. First they delay the flight and then they spend hours waiting for a crew member who was late for already delayed flight. Whats wrong with them? They dont serve food and drinks so what do they need additional crew member for?

Route: Edmonton to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Caraibes

Title: "rude customer service"

Review: St Martin to Paris Orly via Pointe-à-Pitre with Air Caraibes. Seats are very narrow and legroom very limited. On the outbound flight to Paris my individual screen along with numerous others in the Economy cabin were not functioning and despite advising the crew nothing was done. Both out and inbound flights to and from Paris were delayed and very disorganized boarding process didn't help. Poor seat cleanliness and rude customer service.

Route: SFG to ORY via PTP

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Bangkok Airways

Title: "web site is misleading"

Review: Vientiane to Mumbai via Bangkok. We (2 travellers) only chose this airline for the baggage allowance, in spite of its long layover time. Their web site says 10 kgs extra as flyer bonus, but the ground staff insisted it was 5 kgs only - the information on their web site is misleading.

Route: Vientiane to Mumbai via Bangkok

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: VivaAerobús

Title: "they leave when they decide to leave"

Review: The flight was scheduled for 8:05pm and about 30 minutes before that time a gate assigned. Not long after I got to the gate a garbled verbal announcement was made. I went to the Viva office who confirmed it had been delayed until 10:30pm. At 9:45 the notice board said the flight time was 11:30pm. I arrived at the gate just before 11pm just as the gate notice board changed to indicate the plane had lifted off- 30 minutes before the time indicated. By the time I found my way to their customer service desk there were still about a dozen very angry customers still in line, having missed connections, forfeited hotels and car rentals. When I got to the desk they put me on a flight the next morning. No apology, no explanation of what happened. All I can say is wow - they leave when they decide to leave. And here I am spending the night in the airport.

Route: Mexico City to Merida

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Xiamen Airlines

Title: "Avoid this airline"

Review: Manila to Los Angeles via Jingdiang / Qingdao. I have never taken the time to write a negative review in my life. Call me old fashioned, but I just do not care enough to complain online for other people to read. I booked a one way return flight on Xiamen a week or so ago from Manila to LAX with two layovers in China. I have flown with China Eastern, China Southern, Air China and China Airlines, so I thought nothing of it. Another pass through China and I would be in Los Angeles for my mothers birthday on the 16th. Upon arriving to the airport 2 hours early and checking in I was notified I could not board my flight because I didn't have proper clearance. I explained to the rep that I had no plans of entering CHINA and would only be passing through. Still not allowed. I explained I had been through China 4 times on layovers and never had an issue. Still not allowed. Long story short it took two hours arguing for the airlines to agree to a 30-60 day refund. It turns out Americans cant connect through their layover city so they are selling tickets that are unusable. No compensation. Just blank faced souless stares. Avoid this airline at all costs.

Route: Manila to Los Angeles via Jingdiang / Qingdao

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Fly540.com

Title: "Avoid them at any cost"

Review: I have never used an airline with a worse customer service, or on schedule departure than fly540, especially the managers and customer service in Juba and in Nairobi. Just today, December 25th 2017, I was scheduled to travel to Nairobi from Juba, South Sudan and got to the airport 1 hour and 45 before departure time, to be told the flight is full and the manager and check-in agent told me that my seat has been sold to another customer who was at the check-in desk before me. This is the airline that never departs on time and passengers have sit for hours (min 1.5 hours) in waiting area for the airline to arrive. I bought my ticket (round trip) 3 months in advance. fly540 is the absolute worst airline that you wished you had used their flights, airlines, come into contact with their rude and unprofessional staff. I will never use them again. Avoid them at any cost.

Route: Nairobi to Juba

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "comfortable and clean enough"

Review: Surabaya to Bangkok return via Bandar Seri Begawan. The planes are comfortable and clean enough while cabin crew are polite and friendly. I was disappointed by the fact that on three of the four flights they ran out of one of the meal choices before they even served half the passengers. (quality of the meal was good for short-haul). Another negative with Royal Brunei is the fact it is a dry airline so no alcohol can be served. If it changed this policy, it could be far more competitive. My fare was over US$200 cheaper than Garuda and Singapore Airlines, so I got very good value for what I paid.

Route: SUB to BKK via BWN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: PLAY

Title: "supposed to be a cheap airline"

Review: It's supposed to be a cheap airline but with everything they charge it really isn't. Not only do they not have TV on long flights, but also outlets to charge phones. They also charge for both check in and carry on bags that are ridiculous high. 250 for a check in bag and my carry ok another 70. Oh also 26 for every extra pound/kilo. So the 700 plus I paid for the ticket was for the oxygen I was gracefully allowed to breath while on their aircraft. Hope you don't need to use the bathroom I'm sure there will be fee for that as well.

Route: Athens to Boston via Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: " Trip Verified | "

Review: Their online system appears to have a massive defect which would cause a tremendous issue. After issuing the reservation that I have provided documentation of, I received a note that appeared to be a scam, claiming my credit card had not approved the charge for the flights I had received confirmation of. Checking my credit card statement, I was charged for the tickets. When contacting Austrian, they stated that having not been paid their system canceled my flights without notifying me. However, their agent then confirmed they had indeed billed my card and their charge was in fact being held against my card. Their agent admitted that they were utterly befuddled by the numerous errors within their system, the error in cancelling my flights, the error in stating they had not been paid, the error in not notifying me of a cancellation, etc. Essentially, she was polite, but could not sort out any reason for the numerous mistakes Austrian had made. I have blocked payment to Austrian and booked another airline as I cannot risk failing to reach Vienna for a business meeting. This should serve as a cautionary tale to check, verify, investigate, and take any other action possible to ensure Austrian has not failed spectacularly in what should be a trivial business transaction.

Route: New York JFK to Vienna

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "staff went on to say that the card was fake"

Review: Today my wife and two sons 10 and 13 who are US citizens had the worst experience with Royal Jordanian Airlines. My wife and two boys were flying out of AMM to Sharm. As my family arrived to the ticket counter my wife presented the boys PCR tests and the CDC vaccine card showing that my wife had been vaccinated. The staff went on to say that the card was fake and that she cant take it. My wife called me immediately and I called customer service and was told that their staff is wrong and the CDC card is good enough. Here are the rules from the RJ site going into Sharm . PCR test before travelling: - Either a negative PCR test result 72 hours prior arrival, except children less than 06 years- Or a certificate of vaccination provided to conduct a PCR test upon arrival at Sharm El.Sheikh with a cost of 30 USD Fully Vaccinated Passengers: Vaccinations certificates proving that full course of vaccination has been completed issued from the following countries are approved: (Australia, Bahrain, Canada, China, EU Countries, Japan, Jordan, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Liechtenstein, Malaysia, Morocco, New Zealand, Oman, Qatar, Russia, South Korea, Switzerland, Taiwan, Tunis, Turkey, United Arab Emirates, United Kingdom and USA). The vaccination certificate shall be in the Arabic or English language only and presented to airline personnel prior to boarding. My wife tried everything and was forced to stay behind and our boys went on with their Aunt leaving their mother behind. My wife then left the airport went and got her PCR test and was forced to purchase a one way ticket from a different airline to be able to go on her trip and meet with our boys and her sister. Once back At the counter it was different people helping her. My wife presented her passport and CDC card again just to see what they say and they looked at the card and issued her boarding pass. To my wifes shock she said I was told I needed a PCR test and here it is and to her shock she was told we dont need a PCR test from you or even need to see it because you already showed us your CDC card. It was obvious that the staff intended to prevent my wife from not leaving at the time and forced the separation of a mother and her 10 year old and 13 year old sons. My wife asked for a supervisor many times and kept getting the run around which is always thicker with the employees of RJ at Amman Airport. I tried calling the RJ offices and was on the phone for 45 min with a rep continued to give me the run around who refused to give me her last name or even transfer me to a supervisor!

Route: Amman to Sharm El Sheikh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Nostrum

Title: "price to not show up for a flight"

Review: I booked a return ticket with Air Nostrum and found out that I could travel a day earlier. When I tried to change the ticket the price quoted was twice the price of the ticket I had paid before. I decided to book one sector with another airline and wanted to cancel that sector. The price to not show up for a flight that i paid for was over 100 euro. I could not cancel otherwise and if I would be no show the return ticket will be cancelled. I learned my lesson and will not book tickets with this airline again.

Route: Madrid to Melilla

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Southern Airlines

Title: "seat, plane and amenities are super clean"

Review: Despite 11 hr GZ-AKL flight time, the whole experience felt only 4 or 5 hours thanks to excellent sleep made possible by 180 degrees lie-flat seat. The seat strangely enough isn't comfy when it's in recliner mode, much better in normal seating mode with leg rest/lumbar support adjustments. The message function is awesome. However, the seat design isn't really for storage of bags/shoes. The spaciousness of the seat is more for writing and putting many dishes/items etc. Nevertheless space is plenty in overhead locker. The CZ business class experience isn't designed for people who want luxurious/special flight experiences. It's more for passengers who want good products, great (Chinese) food and things that just work. The seat, plane and amenities are super clean. The punctuality is outstanding. The service is more on the practical and task-completing sides than those of Emirates/Singapore/Qatar airlines. Great attendance, efforts and politeness. Despite not being fluent in English the crew are very hard-working and proactive in helping people. It's remarkable that it wasn't too long ago since China Southern resumed it's "normal" ways of operation. To have abundant numbers of staff (seven, even for not-big business cabin) is quite impressive.

Route: Guangzhou to Auckland

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Avelo Airlines

Title: "horrible customer service"

Review: This airline has horrible customer service. They made me pay for a carry on with a backpack that was not even questioned on the way down to Fort Myers. Do not fly this airline. They do not care about their customers and charge unnecessary fees. Not worth saving money on a ticket...because you dont. Terrible experience.

Route: Fort Myers to Raleigh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Sky Express Airlines

Title: "would recommend this airline"

Review: My friend and I flew round trip from Athens to Zakynthos, Greece with Sky Express Airlines. I was a bit apprehensive because I get nervous when taking smaller planes (also a propeller plane). Needless to say I had nothing to worry about. These two flights ended up being the most smooth of all our 6 flights in 12 days. There is only one flight attendant on board but both ways they were very friendly! They even give you candy, cookies and beverages, despite the fact that the flights were in total 40 mins take off to landing. I would recommend this airline for any travel within Greece itself. Our first flight was delayed about 30 minutes, but considering the flight time was estimated at 1 hour and ended up only being 40 mins, it didn't make much difference in the end. They also included a free 15kg checked bag at no extra charge, which is more than any other budget airline. Gooder value for you money.

Route: ATH to ZTH

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "I doubt I will fly American again"

Review: This is the worst experience. I paid good money to have aisle seats and because our flight was canceled for no known reason, we were bumped to middle seats. I did not pick middle seats for a reason. I paid to have aisle seats and should have had seats changed to the exact same choice. I doubt I will fly American again. This is the third time we have been screwed by American.

Route: Salt Lake City to Myrtle Beach via Charlotte

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: British Airways

Title: "WiFi didn't work"

Review: You can buy sandwiches and crisps but don't expect a hot meal. Because the plane is a narrow body, there are no screens. Not helping matters is the fact that the BA prebooking shop for food didn't recognise the flight number, and the onboard WiFi didn't work.

Route: Amman to London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Astana

Title: "tv screen did not work"

Review: Almaty to Dubai. Business class with 28 seats and 15 degree seat recline for more than 4 hours flight? First and second rows are for extra charge, that gave you no choice for meal. As they start asking meal preferences from back rows, by the first row it happens nothing to choose from. Only one restroom in business class. Broken multimedia system, tv screen did not work. Still there is least and not last - very nice crew members.

Route: Almaty to Dubai

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Emirates

Title: "never did the refund"

Review: I purchased 3 round trip tickets for my family members back in November 2022 to fly in March 2023 for approximately $2300, while I was booking I didnt notice that tickets are non-refundable. With in a first hour after booking I decided to cancel tickets, I called the Emirates customer service and explained the situation I asked if its possible to cancel, they said sure you can , will refund you the money with in 21 business days. They canceled my tickets and never did the refund. I called they many times after asked for the money they said my tickets not refundable. They should not have cancel them then, they gave me wrong information. Would not recommend to deal with company like that.

Route: St Petersburg to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "Bahrain to Chennai was terrible."

Review: I have traveled to London to Chennai and the first leg of the travel was bit okay but the second leg from Bahrain to Chennai was terrible. I asked for a non veg meal and they said we dont have and not offered any kind of alternatives. Next time my friend asked for a cup of water where the cabin crew said "Cant you see we were busy?"

Route: London to Chennai via Bahrain

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "the flight is preponed"

Review: Actual time was 6.45 pm. It was informed yesterday that the flight is preponed to 5.15 pm and I had to rush leaving half work to reach airport. After 4.30 it's displayed as delayed for 25 minutes. Finally flight took off after 6pm.

Route: Banglore to Ahmedabad

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Qatar Airways

Title: "Service on point as always"

Review: Always good to travel business in a Boeing 787. Prefer this over the Q-suites they have on some flight. Yes the privacy door is nice, but the seats in a Boeing 787 is more comfortable. Service on point as always. Lunch was quite poor in selection and quality.

Route: Stockholm to Doha

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Pegasus Airlines

Title: "surprised about the performance of Pegasus"

Review: After reading all these reviews here I have been a little suspicious to book Pegasus to Istanbul. Anyhow all my business contacts are on the Asian side and to get from the new IST airport to the Asian side can take longer than the flight to there. I have been surprised about the performance of Pegasus. Flights are dammed on time. The first low-cost-airline for quite a while which is scheduling their flights that the last round-trip of the day is still on time. I booked me seats in exit rows which are offering a little more space so I was fine. The processes are quite well organized and in SAW my bag was on the belt before I could even arrive there. The bar service is ok. You can buy warm meals and beverages. Price are a little on the high side an the need to improve the payment system. The fact that 3 credit cards issued by German and Irish banks have been rejected which have been used in Turkey and Germany before and after with no problem needs to be changed.

Route: Hamburg to Istanbul SAW

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Alaska Airlines

Title: "She is truly an asset"

Review: My 87 year-old mother and myself have done this same trip 3x, And each time we have been serviced by Patricia (from Mahlon Sweet Airport in Eugene). She is the best agent you have. She made sure we had everything we needed -- my mom requires wheelchair assistance, so flying is especially stressful!! She helped us through every check point and even took some pictures as we boarded the plane. She is truly an asset to Horizon Air and Alaska Airlines.

Route: Eugene to San Diego

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Niugini

Title: "I was overweight on luggage"

Review: Port Moresby to Hong Kong in December 2019. I was overweight on luggage. But the airport treatment I got, was traumatic. The power was off. The internet was off. I either had to pay $800 or leave my bag behind. I wanted to pay the fine, but the power was off for hours. I could not change currency. I could not pay the customs, because they could not give me a receipt. I almost missed my flight.

Route: Port Moresby to Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Mahan Air

Title: "overall a good flight"

Review: Mahan Air from Kuala Lumpur to Tehran. Check in was fast and friendly. The signage to find the premier lounge in Kuala Lumpur airport was almost non-existent and took me a while to locate the lounge which offered minimum amenities. Boarding was efficient and the A340-600 was packed for this flight. The aircraft interior was new and clean with smiling crew. The flat bed was great and plenty of food was offered for this 8 hour flight. Perhaps the refreshment (pizza and a burrito) at the end of the flight was a bit too much. Only negative thing I can think of was not much entertainment and it was limited to public LCDs . Considering the business class fare was almost 40% cheaper than other airlines which operated indirect service, it was a good buy. I was especially impressed by the very attentive flight attendants. Overall a good flight.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Tehran

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Fly540.com

Title: "oblivious to their clientele"

Review: Nairobi Wilson to Lamu, and on the day of my flight a VIP was to arrive at Nairobi Wilson Airport which translated to airport and fly540 staff scattered all over the place and oblivious to their clientele sitting at departures : no one to advise on time of departure, or worse in this case how to check in for your flight. Waiting patiently you soon learn that when flying from Wilson Airport that you must go to the fly540 offices 2 kilometres away at Langata house - a critical piece of information inconveniently left out when booking at their town offices. The rush to make a sale on account of my money and time At their officees in Langata house, they advised that it was too late to board and that for a fee I could have my ticket changed. This is where good faith in business starts to wear thin, going back and forth on why I should have read the small print that says where we should obtain our boarding passes (that's like telling someone to check the ingredients when you go to the restaurant), obtaining a ticket has still been problematic.

Route: WIL to LAU

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Bulgaria Air

Title: Bulgaria Air customer review

Review: I fly Bulgaria Air frequently due to the fact that they are without competition on many routes from Sofia. I do not agree with many of the utterly negative opinions about Bulgaria Air. For the 50 something flights I have had with them in the last year, there were no major delays. I last flew on the internal flight VAR-SOF-VAR. The aircraft was one of their new Embraers. However, it did surprisingly look worn out. Boarding started with a delay of twenty minutes, yet we landed on time in Varna. The crew was, as per the general rule in Bulgaria Air, surly. It seemed that the best I could get from them was ignorance. Service was adequate - a chocolate bar and a soft drink. The flight was completely booked so it was amazing how three flight attendants distributed drinks and snacks to 100 people within twenty minutes. The seat comfort was quite ok and I am really not a small man. The best part of the flight was the captain who gave a very entertaining announcement during the flight. All in all, a very decent airline - not the best but not the worst. I would recommend them again.

Route: SOF to VAR

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "airline was closed over the weekend"

Review: London to Melbourne via Brunei. Flight was good and crew were great. But upon trying to check in online I had noticed that my 4 year old daughter and 15 year old son were allocated seats away from me. When I tried to change seats nothing happened. Tried to contact my travel agent and she said that the airline was closed over the weekend. What sort of supposed international airline isnt contactable 24/7? So now I had to wait till the last minute to sort this out. I thought that it was a duty of care that minors were seated with their parents? If you want customer service dont fly Royal Brunei.

Route: London to Melbourne via Brunei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Sky Express Airlines

Title: "no one had even bothered to contact me"

Review: Though I had been allowed 23 kgs in my suitcase to arrive into Greece via Emirates, Sky Express only allowed 17 kgs to fly from Crete to Athens. We discovered later that the ticket counter rep had forgotten to put a tag on my suitcase, but she was alert enough to give us a 78 Euro bill to pay for the extra weight and a couple of fake passes to a "VIP lounge" that took us asking four different airport staff the location of, because no one seemed to know it existed, and which actually turned out to be nothing more than a hallway with a few chairs lined against the wall. Totally not worth the back and forth walk around the airport or the set of stairs we had to climb with our carry on bags. Supposedly the VIP pass allows people to board ahead of the line, but no one called out any different categories and everyone was allowed to rush out of the door at the same time and onto a bus that would drive us to the plane, where we would have to climb a set of stairs to board. Upon arriving in Athens, we discovered one of our suitcases didn't make it. Actually, we didn't even know if it made it or not. Maybe it was still in Crete, or maybe it made it to Athens and was forgotten outside behind the luggage carousel. No one could tell us anything, nor did they even try. The Sky Express counter rep was less than helpful and made it clear to us that she did not want to deal with the issue of lost luggage, despite that being her actual job behind that counter. Instead, she sent me all the way back to the carousel to wait for my suitcase even though I had told her the conveyor belt had stopped running, all the other passengers were gone and the sign above the carousel indicated that there were no more bags. She refused to fill out a lost claim for me and kept insisting that there were delays and that the luggage might "show up at some point" and sent me back to wait at the empty carousel four times. After three hours with no results and her refusing to help me, the rep finally filed a claim report for me and gave me a number to call. She promised someone would call me in a couple of days with news about my luggage, but I never received a call, email, text message or anything. In fact, the number on the report she told me to call turned out to be an inactive number. So, I had nothing but an empty promise and a fake phone number at my disposal to try to find my luggage. Nine days later, when I was leaving Greece, I arrived at Athens airport early to see if anyone had bothered to look for my suitcase. There were at least ten other people crowding around the same claim counter who also lost their luggage with Sky Express, and no one was getting anywhere with the counter rep. After a while, we were told to walk around the airport and look for our bags in the corners of the building. When that didn't yield results, we were finally escorted to the basement of the airport where hundreds of pieces of unclaimed luggage lay unclaimed and many untagged. It was there where I finally found my suitcase. Since my arrival to Athens from Crete nine days earlier, my suitcase had just been left there unclaimed and no one had even bothered to contact me to let me know that it was there. I suppose people who don't like to help customers should not have jobs in customer service.

Route: Crete to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SilkAir

Title: "was really impressed"

Review: Based in Germany. I flew with Silkair in economy from Phuket to Singapore on September 22th, 2018. For only one hour and a half flight (short haul flight), I must admit that I was really impressed about the very good service on board. We had two complete menus to choose and many kind of drinks for free. Enough space between the seats and the stewardesses was really friendly. Unlike for flights within Europe, I am no more used to that. We usually get at least a small sandwich or snack. By low cost airline, we need to pay extra if we want to get something to drink or eat. It was great pleasure for me to take this airline.

Route: Phuket to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "bad attitude by gate agent"

Review: Los Angeles to Seattle. Really poor service and bad attitude by gate agent. Unnecessarily gave me a hard time despite being first class. Unfriendly staff attendants that kept complaining about becoming part of Alaska and how different the culture between the two airlines is. Lounge was cramped and hardly had any good food.

Route: Los Angeles to Seattle

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "$85.00 per carryon luggage"

Review: We left Calgary on June 1/23 to attend our son's wedding, at the check in counter there were at time only 1 person checking people in at a very slow pace and then we were told upon check in the there was a cost of $85.00 per carryon luggage. Our flight was changed from one side of the airport to the total opposite side my husband was in a wheel chair due to mobility issues. Lack of communication all the way around leaving. On June 5th we arrived at the airport and stood in line to be checked in to catch our return flight home, my son went up to the counter to ask if we would be able to catch our flight on time as again only 2 people checking in large groups of people and the lady reassured him that we would catch the flight. when it was our turn to checkin the same CRS looked at us and said Sorry plane is full and that bag is to big for carryon. She said that there were several attempts to board people going to Winnipeg (which our direct flight was changed to) so we asked for a manager and had to wait a very long period of time hoping to get on the next flight out. I have never ever been treated with such disrespect in my life.

Route: Calgary to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "it was a very stressful voyage"

Review: Sydney to London via Hanoi. I had many issues with all the flights. First of all they were nearly all delayed. One was delayed for about 4-5 hours and we were left in Hanoi without any information. They said the plane had a technical fault and wouldn't even give us a time of takeoff. It was actually a bit scary as the flight information was removed from all the flight screens. Warm beer was served to us! Once we arrived in London, when I got home I found my luggage completely soaked and everything needed to be rewashed and a few items damaged. On my return leg I had a long layover in Hanoi so requested to have my luggage delivered there as I was concerned it would get soaked again. They ended up not being able to find our luggage in Hanoi. After a very nervous and long layover and many many calls throughout the long layover, they found our baggage at the airport. The only reason I am giving them a 2nd point is the service on the plane was acceptable. Apart from that, it was a very stressful voyage. My complaints to their complaints department fell on deaf ears and nothing was done about it. I would never fly with them again and advise to avoid.

Route: Sydney to London via Hanoi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: British Airways

Title: "BA refuses to make it right"

Review: Beware of British Airways and their marketing to make you believe that they are full of class and level above the rest. They won't treat you that way when you get bumped from a flight and it is their responsibility to compensate you for their mistakes. We recently had a trip home planned from MRS to SEA. A mechanical issue meant that we departed late from MRS to LHR where we needed to make a connecting flight. We landed with plenty of time to make it to our next gate, but a series of issues and choices by British Airways kept us from boarding our next plane. The crew did not let off passengers with connecting flights first nor did they hold the next flight for a mere 5-10 minutes for passengers to make connections on their airlines. Plus, we discovered that we had actually been bumped off our next flight before we even landed. We were pushed to Virgin Atlantic to figure out how to get us home. It extended our travel day by 8 hours! We were traveling with children as well. No offers of compensation or upgrades were made. And now BA is refusing to provide us any financial compensation. We paid for a trip home with only one connection and instead had two connections, multiple airlines to deal with, security through an extra airport with kids for a midnight flight we were never planning on. That is not what we paid for but BA refuses to make it right. So beware potential travelers!

Route: Marseille to Seattle via London Heathrow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Rex Airlines

Title: "a wonderful flight experience"

Review: I didn't know of Rex Airlines before I booked. I needed to visit family & Jetstar & Virgin prices were over my budget, especially for such a short trip. My sister suggested I check out REX prices. They were half the cost of the 2 major airlines and with no added cost surprises like luggage & seating. My expectations weren't high, but I was pleasantly surprised. The on board staff were exceptionally pleasant, helpful and obliging. The space when seated was larger than Jetstar offers, and the leg room accordingly. And what a surprise to be offered a snack with Tea or Coffee, AND at no extra cost. My only disappointment is, that they don't fly to Darwin. I hope that happens in the near future because if they do, they will have a new permanently loyal customer. Thankyou REX for a wonderful flight experience.

Route: Adelaide to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "staff could not be faulted"

Review: I travelled from London to Melbourne via Dubai and Brunei in 26 hours and returned Melbourne to London via Brunei in 23 hours. I thought the return flight was scheduled to stop at Dubai (3 flights of approx 7 hours each on way out was a very easy way to travel) so my concerns of travelling on a 14 hour flight was turned on its head. As we flew out of Melbourne in the evening we chased the night. The whole journey back was in darkness so it was ideal to sleep whenever you wanted. Last time I travelled with Royal Brunei (6 years ago) was not a great experience. This time it was so much improved. The comfort of the reclining seat and back rest was good for economy. The food was better than most plane food although not excellent. My last trip to Melbourne on Cathay Pacific three years ago was an awful experience in food and staff. The staff on Royal Brunei could not be faulted. They were attentive and helpful always with a smile. The journey was not interrupted by constant messages from the captain so it was relaxed and peaceful. The toilets were always clean. Downside was that there was not a great choice in new films. I had seen most films on offer as they were older films. The strict rules of Brunei airlines means that films are adapted to remove sex, bad language and too much violence. This obviously restricts choices. Secondly, the plane running from Brunei to Melbourne and back is not a Royal Brunei but a partner airline. All was much the same but the plane was older and Seats did not recline as well as the Royal Brunei plane and it only had a few film choices (less than 10) which were the same on both outward and return flights. On my outward journey, fatigued, I managed to leave my Kindle Fire on the plane. After landing at Melbourne I contacted Royal Brunei thinking that I would never see it again. Within a week they contacted me and told me it was at Brunei and I could collect it on my return. When I arrived at Brunei on the way back I was helped by a wonderful lady who personally took me to Lost and Found and sorted out the return of my Kindle. As there was a fast turnaround time of about 40 minutes between flights. She deserves a special mention as I dont think anybody in any other airport would be as kind and helpful as she was. I paid £660 for the return flight which I felt was best available. For the money I cant fault it. I have travelled back and forwards to Australia 9 times in the last 18 years and this 23 hour return is the fastest yet.

Route: London to Melbourne via Brunei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Ellinair

Title: "Staff is very good"

Review: Moscow to Thessaloniki. I usually use this company in my trips to Moscow. Even if i was wondering about this new company that they use leasing airplanes, i tried it and i want to say just one thing. these are our lovely Greeks. Every trip is small party, specially when the destination is a Greek airport. People are drinking free alcohol (Greek wine), they are eating, and are enjoying their trip. Staff is very good.They use more than 3 languages.

Route: Moscow to Thessaloniki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Pacific

Title: "work on better communication"

Review: Hanoi to Hong Kong. An email was sent to us stating that check-in time closed 30 minutes prior to boarding time. We arrived 40 minutes before boarding. An airline representative already placed a tag on the check-in luggage then proceeded to tell us to we were too late for check-in and that we would have to book another flight for the next day. We showed them the email and they said their company policy for check-in was actually 45 minutes and the email was a mistake on their part. This took around 15 minutes. After complaining they finally allowed us on the flight. We rushed through security and to the gate only to realize that the flight was delayed for 30 minutes. Without the complaints we probably would not have been able to board this flight. Jetstar should work on better communication with passengers and providing better customer service.

Route: Hanoi to Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: LAN Airlines

Title: LAN Airlines customer review

Review: I was travelling with LAN Argentina from Bahia Blanca to Buenos Aires. After the start of the boarding flight was canceled due to bad weather. I had a flight from Buenos Aires to Madrid on the next day and tried to get some assistance from LAN Argentina due to that fact. Hopeless, no assistance. I had to look for alternative flights, taxi, food, hotel, etc on my own. Tried to get the refund from LAN but their site does not allow to ask for it (displays error message. Contacted airline via mail several times but never got even an answer not to mention the refund that in spite of insisting was never done.

Route: BHI to EZE

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "It was the worst experience"

Review: It was the worst experience of my life. We were boarded and held in the scorching hot corridor for hours, after which they used us out without a word of explanation . Flight never took off. they never provided 1 percent of regulations 261/2004, nothing at all. In any communications they only lied to me and said something else in every letter. Refused to pay compensation.

Route: Cagliari to Milan

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air France

Title: "messenger system which is a joke"

Review: This review pertains to their customer service when something goes wrong. They cancelled one of my flights. I had to scramble and take a train because I had all my vacation plans settled. I immediately filled out their forms while still in France. I spent two weeks of long hold times trying to get them on the phone. When I did, they made me fill out another form. I followed up using their messenger system which is a joke. It takes them 2 or 3 days to respond so the back and forth of explanations takes forever. Messenger said it was refunded but couldn't tell a date or amount. I called again and they said it would take at least until July. This is absolutely ridiculous!

Route: Strasbourg to Lyon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: El Al Israel Airlines

Title: "caused stressful environment"

Review: 12 hour flight delay due to cabin crew strike. Had we been informed early enough we would have stayed in Barcelona. We were not allowed out of the airport. Limited food, blankets, pillows were available. Angry emotions caused stressful environment. We lost a big chunk of time on our 1st visit to Israel. We have made numerous attempts to connect with customer support to obtain recompense for the loss. We were hoping to get this taken care of while still in the country. We have received no word in regard to this matter. We were approached by several disgruntled passengers who were filing a lawsuit with EL Al as they said this happens all of the time Hopefully, we are contacted soon in regard to restitution.

Route: Barcelona to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: "$35 each for seat assignments"

Review: A basic but fundamental complaint. After purchasing two United Airline code-share tickets on Austrian Airlines, I learn that I now have to pay Austrian an additional $35 each for seat assignments, unless I want to see what's left 47 hrs before departure. Doesn't "Star Alliance Partner" mean anything? Doesn't status as a million-mile flyer (on UA) mean anything? This charge is insulting.

Route: Washington to Vienna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: LC Perú

Title: "without any complications"

Review: I flew with LC Perú from Lima to Cuzco and back, service onboard was perfect, legroom okay, crew very friendly and professional and both flights on time. I also booked a flight to the north coast of Peru with LC Perú, unfortunately they canceled this route giving me an alternative flight with another airline (LAN), also giving me the possibility to notice that LC is by far better than LAN (now LATAM). But the service of rebooking (paying far more for the new ticket than I paid for the LC flight) was quite good and surprisingly without any complications.

Route: LIM to CUZ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "No contact possible"

Review: Direct flight was cancelled within 24 hours before departure. Alternative flight via Frankfurt was offered but almost 3 hours earlier than original and had to be at airport at 5 am. After complaining return flight was also cancelled. I do not know why. Got a refund that I did not ask for. Chat with KLM to reset return flight was refused. Had to book my own return tickets with extra costs. Pure misery, spend many hours due to faults of KLM. No contact possible.

Route: Amsterdam to Miami

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "really cheap and not that bad"

Review: Melbourne to Kota Kinabalu via Bander seri Begawan on Royal Brunei. The Boeing 787 Business Class was superior than I thought it was going to be. Yes they don't serve any kind of alcohol, however it's possible to buy a small bottle in Duty Free after security and bring it on the plane with you. The crew will not serve it to you, however ask for a mixer and ice and do it yourself! The seats laid down to a flat bed, and at 6ft 4inches roughly, it was just a little short to lie on my back (I'm 6ft 7). However with a bit of adjustment I was able to get comfortable and sleep. The only negative thing about the seat was the headrest - it's not moveable in any direction. This makes relaxing in a z shape almost impossible. Food was good, on the flight from Australia, they served a variety of Australian inspired dishes, and on the return more arabic influenced fare. Crew were quick to respond to drink requests etc. Decent sized portions as well! You don't get a decent amenity kit, and it resembles something from economy class, with an eye mask, ear plugs and that's about it. No PJ's either. However it is really cheap and not that bad for the money spent.

Route: MEL to BKL via BWN

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sky Airline

Title: Sky Airline customer review

Review: Normally it is really hard for people over 6'8 ft tall to fit into economy seats. Therefore, we ask the airlines for emergency seats. However, Sky Airline is one of those airlines that gives these type of seats to anyone, but not to those who actually need them. This is how my short, really uncomfortable trip started. No entertainment aboard provided at all, even the airline doesn't allow the passenger to use any electronic device in the entire flight. My food was a small sandwich and a soda, normal plane food. Once we arrived at the airport, we had to wait over an hour to receive our bags. According to the airline, "They didn't have much workers to give us our bags earlier". The worst part of it, is that they have this huge logo in every plane saying that they were granted the Skytrax Award as a best airline.

Route: La Serena to Santiago

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "Seating was comfortable"

Review: Return flight with Gulf Air, Bus boarding from terminal, entering aircraft was so hot aircon not on. Offered a welcome drink lemon and mint of course was needed in the warmth. Was asked to move seat so husband and wife could sit together, no problems. Wasn't offered pyjamas, skipped over by cabin crew and wasn't asked for my dinner options till just before take-off, again missed by cabin crew. Inflight entertainment wasn't working, had to ask 3 times for it to be fixed. Food onboard was amazing, plentiful, hot, fresh. Seating was comfortable with its massage function.

Route: Bahrain to Bangkok

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Eurowings

Title: "Cannot recommend the at all"

Review: The worst of the worst airlines: the flight had a delay of 2 hours and 50 minutes. No help from the ground staff was given in terms of telling the passengers what to do or offering some water or a meal. No reaction at all. During the flight the crew stayed at the galley because of the turbulence we offer no meal service. There were no turbulence. The crew must have been tired so they didnt want to do any unnecessary additional work. Please try to avoid the when you can. Cannot recommend the at all.

Route: Nuremburg toHamburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "definitely not worth it"

Review: Upgraded to business class through last minute bid. Paid amount was acceptable but definitely not worth it, except for the priority boarding and free middle seat next to you. Very tasteful but extremely tiny portion food offered on this 1,5 hr flight during dinner time. The portion wasnt even enough as an appetiser. Drink selection was perfectly adequate though. Wonder who pays full fare for such product.

Route: London Heathrow to Munich

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Canada

Title: "treated so badly as a customer"

Review: I have never been treated so badly as a customer. Although some of the attendants were friendly and kind, there was a very rude, unhelpful, entitled attendant who just seems to treat everyone is such a foul way. Our flight time also had changed and never received an email with the update. We had issues checking into our flight 24 hours before. They seem to split up people travelling together and were spread throughout the plane with no sense of organization. All in all, during our trip we flew 5 different airlines and Air Canada was the worst experience. I will never fly Air Canada again!

Route: London to Calgary

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Condor Airlines

Title: "such a disrespect"

Review: Toronto to Bucharest via Frankfurt. The worst traveling experience in my 40 years on this earth. This company should be put out of business together with Lufthansa. After delaying my flight by 2 hours and missing my connection flight, Condor made me wait in the airport for 9 hours, during that time begging to talk to your representative to book me a room in a cheap hotel making me pay for my cab and many many more outrageous mistakes when all of this was Condor's doing. Traveling for 3 days because of Condor! Shameful and disgusting! They had the nerve to send me an email after this nightmare urging me to give you my money again for future vacations - such a disrespect!

Route: Toronto to Bucharest via Frankfurt

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "I will never fly Finnair again"

Review: I will never fly Finnair again. After a three hour delay made me miss my connecting flight, they rebooked me on a flight without giving me a boarding pass and which I could not print from a kiosk, forcing me to wait in a long line which caused me to miss the final flight of the day. While many others on my flight got hotel vouchers, I slept (or didnt sleep, rather) overnight in the airport, as there was no desk or representative to offer me any options, and no support lines open. Now they are refusing to offer me any compensation because the combination of factors that led to the three hour delay frees them of responsibility. So infuriating how heartless they are.

Route: Stockholm to New York JFK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Arabia

Title: "I was pleasantly surprised"

Review: Marrakesh to London. I had read some pretty bad reviews about Air Arabia however, I was pleasantly surprised. There was an issue regarding checking in - we were unable to check in online but had no problem checking in at the airport. The flight was on time, the staff pleasant and we arrived 20 min ahead of schedule. There was plenty of leg room and I would fly again with Air Arabia.

Route: Marrakesh to London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lao Airlines

Title: "try not to take this airline"

Review: Traveled Lao Airlines from Bangkok to Vientiane on Oct 18, 2015. Disappointed that the aircraft was ATR instead of Boeing. The seat belt lights came on and we were about to land, the cabin crew were seated as announced by the Captain but they did not stop two passengers from using the toilets. I will probably try not to take this airline if I have another choice.

Route: Bangkok to Vientiane

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ITA Airways

Title: "Old and bulky seats"

Review: What's the point of rebranding a decayed company if all old issues remain the same? Old and bulky seats I used to see on a 727. Charging premium fares and delivering low cost/poor quality services. Definitely going bankrupt again.

Route: Rome to Catania

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "The staff was very pleasant"

Review: I have been very satisfied with them. At first I was disappointed because originally the A380-800 was supposed to be used, which is my favorite. The staff was very pleasant and accommodating. The food was excellent and beautifully served on high-quality porcelain. Entertainment is very good and extensive. I rate free Internet access with limited speed very positively. The flight was smooth and we landed on time.

Route: Auckland to Singapore

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: World2Fly

Title: "don't want to refund me the full amount"

Review: I wanted to cancel my booking due to a national security alert for the destination country. The alert is on the Ministry of Foreign Affairs webpage of my country. I've paid for a plus package and I've selected the seats and also paid for them. I've chosen this Plus package for a full refund max. 16 days before the flight. Nowhere in the payment process, it says that the seats are non-refundable. It says vaguely if you search on the website. Now, almost 2 months before the flight, I want to cancel my booking and they don't want to refund me the full amount. They want to keep 200 euros for the seats (2 people round-trip).

Route: Madrid to Cancun

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "Customer service is horrible!"

Review: Worst experience ever! Sat night flight was canceled after being delayed for over an hour, did not get another flight back home til the Sunday 9pm! Customer service is horrible! They did not provide a hotel and only some passengers were given food vouchers. $9 p/per. worst customer service! Airline doesnt care for their passengers! Having to wait for the 24 hrs for the next available flight is insane. Many of families with kids including myself so it was such a horrible experience.

Route: Mexico City to Tijuana

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Bamboo Airways

Title: "Do not try it"

Review: Disaster, 2 tries, 1 canceled flight and 1 postponed 9 hours. Even Vietjet has more options. They destroyed our holidays twice in 2 months time. Its isn't worth the hassle, and its more costly in the end. Do not try it, you will regret it.

Route: Ho Chi Minh to Cam Ranh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "The flight crew was nice"

Review: Beijing to Seattle. The flight crew was nice, friendly and very helpful. Especially the cabin manager, her service and smile impressed me. Hainan Airlines are my first choice for trips. Definitely give them 5 stars and will recommend to my family and friends.

Route: Beijing to Seattle

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Shanghai Airlines

Title: "a worn-out B737 plane"

Review: Shanghai Airlines flight from Guangzhou to Shanghai. The flight was more than two and a half hours late. We had to get on a follow-up flight and then we went on the connecting flight. Waiting for more than 4 hours - no basic refreshments were offered to the waiting party. We asked the desk clerk to call or send a message to the company with whom we had to continue the flight, but it was refused. The counter clerk also did not give any details while waiting when the flight would leave. The flight itself on a worn-out B737 plane, broken chairs. A flight meal under any inspection. Since the flight was delayed and because we had missed the connecting flight, we turned to the company for an alternate flight. The company disclaims any liability and sends us to the company of the connecting flight. Perfect contempt. We got stuck all night at the airport, no hotel or refreshments were provided. A blatant disregard for their commitment to the passenger.

Route: Guangzhou to Shanghai Pudong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Eurowings

Title: "I still don't have a refund"

Review: Paris to New York. Flight was cancelled and no refund, this before Covid-19. The customer service doesn't answer their phone or hung up when they don't want to speak with you. My flight date was changed two times which wasn't possible for me. I called Eurowings to say I needed a cancellation and refund because I could not make the new date. The guy I spoke to cancelled the flight and said I would receive a full refund within 10 days. 1 month later, I still don't have a refund. I have tried calling several times and either people say they can't help or they hang up (very professional) or they put me through to another number that doesn't pick up.

Route: Paris to New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "in the end its fine"

Review: Bangkok to Surat Thani. The airline is fine, but they have an issue with customer service. They changed our flight schedule, and we tried to contact them to cancel our flight many times and could never reach anyone. They don't answer phone calls, it's all thru their chat robot, which never connects you to a real person. Since they changed the hour of our flight, they should give us the option to cancel, they didn't. We ended up having to do a much longer trip changing our other transportation to fit this flight. I won't say I don't recommend this airline due to one incident, because it's cheap, so in the end it's fine. but I wanted to let people know their customer service is atrocious.

Route: Bangkok to Surat Thani

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "had to cancel one at a time"

Review: We were unable to travel due to Ecuador going into a country wide lockdown due to COVID beginning 4/23/2021 and supposed to end 5/20/2021. We were to travel 5/1/2021 to 5/23/2021 but because of the lockdown were unable to do so. The hoops you have to jump through to get a refund are arduous as well. I had to cancel one at a time, not the entire reservation. They will not refund to your credit card, only to your bank account. I filed for a refund yesterday and filled out their repetitious forms one-by-one and then they issue a travel voucher and then you have to go through the process again and give them your bank account information.

Route: Cuenca to Quito

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Olympic Air

Title: "the staff were quite unfriendly and rude"

Review: Most unpleasant flight ever. Their method of boarding the plane wasnt very Covid-19 friendly so if you are someone who is concerned I wouldnt recommend you travel on this airline. Most airlines board back to front to keep crossing paths with others to a minimum. Where as this airline boarding all window seats, then all middle, the all aisle seats together in bit seat order meaning that there were about 40+ people all trying to get ton in each bath and crossing paths. They also wouldnt let you use the overhead lockers above you which causes you having to walk up and down the aisles to find space and then squeezing past people to get back to your seat. The worst thing about the journey was the staff were quite unfriendly and rude. If you want to ruin a relaxing holiday and come back stressed - 10/10 would recommend,

Route: Santorini to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "sticks to what it is"

Review: Another chaotic day of travel, with overcrowded airports, waiting, delays etc. Definitely no fun, but surely not the airline to blame for the frustration. Ryanair is cheap and is used by many people, and when you travel with it, you are one of them. No luxury to be expected, but this airline also doesn't pretend anything, which in these days I highly regard (compared with many so-called "Premium Airlines"). It is an airline, which doesn't make vague promises and sticks to what it is: a low cost airline, which will take you safely from A to B. Bring your headphones though, as constantly they are communicating about onboard sales, lottery tickets, phone cards etc.

Route: Bologna to Cologne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Pegasus Airlines

Title: "They claimed we used violence"

Review: Tel Aviv to Stansted via Istanbul. The flight from TLV-SAW-STN was good. As one would expect from low cost company. The service on the airplane was except from the fact you will not receive a cup of water for free and bring water on board is not allowed. We got our pre-ordered food and it was very good. On our way back to TLV, in SAW, in the gate after the boarding tickets scanned and right before we stepped in the sleeve to the airplane, we were stopped. Our bags were re-weighted and we were asked to pay $160 for over weight. We refused to pay saying all our bags were weighed in London. The team on the gate was very aggressive. They took our bags by force demanded our passports and boarding tickets and told us they will call the police (which they didn't). We still insisted not to pay they told us we are too dangerous to go on the airplane and that they cancel the flight for us. We told them we have a check-in bag on the airplane, they told us it will be removed (and it was not removed). After we went to seek for help in Pegasus offices in the airport, in the tickets office and in the check-in desks supervisor, a lady appeared from the crew in the gate and talked with officer in front of us. After that they told us sorry we can't help you. They claimed we used violence that we didn't and that we are too dangerous. I was traveling with my family, 2 adults and 3 kids ages 11, 9 and 5. Eventually we purchased new tickets and arrived TLV 14 hours later than we should have. We spent the night in the airport with our kids. I will never fly again with Pegasus Airlines. It looks like the team in the gate was not part of the regular gate team but an ad-hoc team that after finishing with us went on to other gate doing the same thing. Stopping passengers in the gate after scanning their boarding tickets, on their way to the airplane and weighting their bags with biased scale in order to take more money from them.

Route: Tel Aviv to Stansted via Istanbul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: La Compagnie

Title: "they really only have 2 planes"

Review: Newark to Paris Orly. We all know what they say "you get what you pay for". However, there is a minimum standard of respect for your customers and I believe the La Compagnie staff just does not get that. My flight last night was supposed to leave EWR at 7PM. After 3 hours of wait in this dirty lounge (with cheap wine, like dirt cheap stuff) they ended up cancelling the flight for a "mechanical" failure. The trouble here is that you kind of expect to be treated like a business class customer (your ticket says business class) but in fact you are not at all. We were offered to go to an airport hotel until they could figure something out, what we didn't know. I politely refused the offer and went home instead. "We will call you at 6am tomorrow and please be ready to go again". All right, not that bad, it's 11PM I am on my way home in a Uber, I'll leave tomorrow. Guess what, none of this happened. No email, no phone call on the B plan, silence. I ended up calling them, or being on hold for hours should I say. See the trouble with these little guys is that they really only have 2 planes, that's it. If one fails, you are done. This is the second time this is happening to me in a year. I am a regular on AF. Let's just be real, they are no comparison, Air France is by far better. The seats (specially the flat beds), the services, the lounges etc etc. It turned out I was offered to fly to Paris on XL (the airline) - I politely declined, changed my entire trip..

Route: Newark to Paris Orly

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "unhelpful customer service"

Review: I wanted to book a ticket from London to Belgrade, but the web site displayed an error during the payment step (I am using a MasterCard issued by a big UK bank and haven't had many issues with online payments). I tried to pay again, and got the same message. Then I went through all the steps again, but the web page again displayed the same error message. After failing to purchase the ticket three times, I decided to use a different airline for the flight. I bought a ticket there with no problems. Half an hour later I received an email confirming my AirSerbia reservation. I immediately called their customer service to ask for a refund. I was told that I need to send an email with all the details. I did that. The next day I received a response stating that they cannot refund the full price of the ticket. I tried again explaining everything, but no luck again. I can only get about half of the ticket price refunded according to the ticket conditions, even though the whole problem was because of a bug in their system. So my interaction with AirSerbia resulted in my being out of a few hundred pounds because of a bug in their system and unhelpful customer service. I am not going to use their services in the future.

Route: London to Belgrade

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Allegiant Air

Title: "first and last trip with them"

Review: On my return flight from Puerto Gorda to Nashville, their baggage handling destroyed my Samsonite, indestructible up to their handling, Hardcastle golf case on the return trip to Nashville. Instead of having a complaint Baggage claim desk near Baggage claim, I was forced to drag my damaged golf case as well as my other luggage back upstairs to the ticketing, Check-In desk to file a claim. The attendant, while being one of the most pleasant people was unable to file a claim. They took my information and was told, we will contact you. For those who purchase Samsonite products, you have to believe they purposely destroyed my property. That case, over the last two years has been in 3 different continents. Only Allegiant managed to damage my property. I have no doubt that they will not contact me nor provide, at the very least, repair my golf case. This was my first and last trip with them. They are cheap in every meaning of the word. Next time I will pay more to land farther away from my destination, rent a vehicle and arrive happier.

Route: Puerta Gorda to Nashville

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "said business class was full"

Review: Moscow to Los Angeles. The ticket staff in Moscow were rude. We upgraded our ticket from economy to business class the day before our flight. We were told to come back the next day to have our boarding passes printed out. This was after waiting in line for an hour - with 30 minutes of that being with the ticket counter representative ignoring us. Our flight was scheduled to board at 11:20 am the next day, so at 8am we went to customer service and asked about getting our boarding passes printed. Again, we were met with staff who cared more about ignoring is then helping us. They told us to go to the gate at 11am, which we did, and it was chaos. When staff finally helped us they said business class was full. When we upgraded we were told there were 6 seats, so we would have had seats if they just printed our boarding passes when we asked the first time.

Route: Moscow to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Europa

Title: "I still haven't seen my refund"

Review: My flight got cancelled due to Covid-19 and dealing with this company has been absolutely shocking and almost non existent. It has been almost a year now and I still haven't seen my refund. Avoid at all costs.

Route: London to Colombia via Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Nepal Airlines

Title: "cabin crew were professional"

Review: Nepal Airlines is a cheap option for direct flights from Nepal with good service. Nepal Airlines improved its service over time. The cabin crew were professional and meal served was good.

Route: Bangkok to Kathmandu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: PLAY

Title: "reduced our chances of boarding the flight"

Review: I am writing this review to express my deep dissatisfaction and disappointment with the travel experience we encountered with Fly Play on flight OG102. I must acknowledge our own contribution to the problem as we were running just a little bit late for the flight and we fully understand and accept that responsibility. However, what followed left us perplexed and disheartened. Upon realizing that the flight was delayed by approximately 50 minutes, my husband and I, experienced travelers, considered this a fortunate turn of events. We proceeded to the check baggage counter, which was unmanned understandable given our tardiness. We decided to get through TSA and inquire about gate checking our baggage at the gate. To our surprise, we encountered an extremely rude and unreasonable gate attendant. We politely requested if we could gate check our bag. Unfortunately, her response was an immediate refusal without providing any explanation. This was particularly disheartening as gate check had been a feasible option in the past, including with Play in September. Our attempts to seek clarification or speak to someone else were met with further hostility. The gate attendant claimed to be the sole authority and refused any further assistance, which left us feeling unheard and disrespected. The situation escalated when the gate attendant intentionally covered her name tag and displayed an offensive gesture towards us. We were unable to board the flight and learned from the chat bot that we were labeled as "did not fly due to inappropriate behavior." This statement is categorically false, and we were relieved when Play ultimately offered discounted tickets as compensation after hours of pleading via chat and trying to come to some resolution. Nonetheless, we firmly believe that the entire situation could and should have been handled more professionally and with greater courtesy by your employee, who represents your company's values and image. While we understand that being late reduced our chances of boarding the flight, we firmly believe that every passenger deserves to be treated with respect and kindness. We would have gladly accepted any reasonable explanation for not being able to gate check our bag. Instead, the encounter left us with a sense of shock and disappointment that overshadowed the entire travel experience. We sincerely hope that this matter will be taken seriously and addressed appropriately to prevent similar incidents in the future. As loyal customers, we believe in the value of constructive feedback, and we trust that Fly Play will endeavor to ensure a more positive and respectful experience for all passengers.

Route: Baltimore to Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Bulgaria Air

Title: "not book a flight with them"

Review: I have travelled multiple times with them alone, with the kids and bought tickets for my dad and I had everytime struggle. One flight they told me at the check in that the strollers they do not put in bags and I was suppose to know that which I didnt so my stroller came broken in the us. Very unprofessional and the team is the same. They have wonderful flights with great connections and prices but because I had so many times struggle with them I will not book a flight with them. And I am Bulgarian!

Route: Sofia to Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air France

Title: "Service was exceptional"

Review: Full flight, delayed departure due to strike, arrived almost on time though. Seat was a bit small due to 2-2-2 arrangement which is a little bit inappropriate for this type of aircraft. Service was exceptional, the attitude of the cabin crew seems to be the strength of Air France. Food was excellent, signature of known chefs.

Route: Paris to St Martin

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Iberia

Title: "so much time and trouble"

Review: Miami to Madrid. If your company wants COVID tests, check them! I went through so much time and trouble and no one even checked them! What a joke. Just remove this requirement.

Route: Miami to Madrid

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Brussels Airlines

Title: "staff was kind, attentive"

Review: Copenhagen to Entebbe via Brussels, our trip with them was amazing. At the check-in counter the staff was so incredibly kind to put priority labels on all our of bags, even though only one in our group of four was entitled to it. A member in our group was in the need of wheel chair service and the staff was kind, attentive and service minded. Our group was transported from gate to gate with a smile. On the flight a member of our group could not eat the food they served, because it contained tomatoes and shes allergic. We did not inform Brussels Airlines about this prior to our trip, so they had no way of being prepared for this. However, alternative food was presented by friendly and service minded staff. All in all we are super happy that we chose Brussels Airlines and will definitely do it again!

Route: Copenhagen to Entebbe via Brussels

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Transavia

Title: "they didn't have the time to let her in"

Review: My mother went to the airport 3 hours before the departure of her flight, and she did her check-in on time. She waited in the lounge for the departure, she showed up at the gate at 15min before the departure. The flight crew forbids her to enter the flight stating that the gate was closed, they also told her she can take the next flight without having to pay. They had time to go take the luggage out of the plane, but they didn't have the time to let her in! There weren't any LAST CALL for the flight at the airport. On the gate, they said they asked for her at the lounge. I tried to call the customer service, the woman said that is written on the boarding pass that passengers should show up at the gate at least 30min before the flight, when it actually says that the boarding starts 30min before the flight.

Route: Beirut to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Turkish Airlines

Title: "No second service for drinks"

Review: Boarding started with a delay of 50 minutes because the plane did arrive late however this was less as the delay for boarding. Rather old plane, 2 2 2 configuration in business class, after a welcome drink a not so great breakfast was served in 2 services. FAS were friendly after the meal the cabin was darkened despite this was a flight that - with the delay left at 9.30 am - nearly the entire flight with dimmed lights. No second service for drinks, several connecting flights were announced, others not. I will not chose that company again.

Route: Dubai to Istanbul

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: S7 Siberia Airlines

Title: "seats were comfortable"

Review: AER-DME with S7 Siberia Airlines. Mobile check-in was quick and efficient. The aircraft was quite old but the seats were comfortable and had decent legroom. The chicken sandwich was tasty and sufficient for a 2 hour flight. Cabin crew were efficient, though not very friendly. Overall, a decent flight for a good price.

Route: Sochi to Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: flydubai

Title: "low cost quality service"

Review: I traveled for the second time with flydubai and for the second time the plane took off an hour and a quarter late. Due to delay I almost missed my connecting fly for Bangkok in Dubai. My luggage was sent to me the next day late at night. Onboard it was unbearably hot probably due to the air conditioning not being pushed to the maximum to save money. The seats were small, that is ok for a two hour trip but not for a 6 hour trip. I strongly advise to chose this low cost company which only has a low cost quality service but not the price. I find it shameful that all the negative comments are useless to improve The quality of this airline .Apparently flydubai management do not care about customers satisfaction because nothing is done to improve service. Flydubai is absolutely to avoid if you have the choice to travel with another company.

Route: Naples to Bangkok via Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "staff was so nice and friendly"

Review: Hong Kong to Seoul Incheon. The staff was so nice and friendly I had to write this review. They brought me every little extra stuff like more orange juice and bread and butter and stayed super friendly. They literally wanted to help me which was a nice feeling. Everything else was good too, food as well.

Route: Hong Kong to Seoul Incheon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Turkish Airlines

Title: "Service and decency not present"

Review: So far, I have never had such a bad experience as with Turkish Airlines. Generally speaking, the flight staff on the plane are friendly, but that is the only positive thing about this airline. In my example, the flight was already rebooked on the outward flight because of Turkish Airlines. The situation continued on the return flight, when they once again rebooked the return flight two weeks in advance at inhuman times with eternal delays. As if that wasn't enough, they cancelled this already rebooked inhumane flight 10 hours before departure. Turkish Airlines only needed a short email to cancel without any possible contacts or other options. At the airport, the fun really started. Seeing that the flight was still available and that more and more people with the same problem were piling up, Turkish Airlines still didn't have enough reason to act. 10 minutes before the end of check-in, they were content to calmly do something. However, without success and above all without compensation or even an "apology". Service and decency are probably not even present at this airline.

Route: Delhi to Stuttgart via Istanbul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "No decent inflight entertainment"

Review: Charge for Comfort seats is US$83 for each leg, be it a 3 or 7 hours long flight. No decent inflight entertainment. Shared screens that air whatever they please. Very low quality audio and earphones. They change your family reserved seats to separate middle seats. Food is scarce. Gluten-free meals just for Business class.

Route: Miami to Porto Alegre

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Europa

Title: "just a 33cl water bottle"

Review: An 11 hour flight with just a 33cl water bottle, just pasta a la bolognese. Worse long flight ever for some that doesnt eat meat and is used to drink at least 2l of water per day.

Route: Lisbon to Cancun via Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "service could show some improvement"

Review: A great airline with nice equipment and infrastructure, but its service (especially the ethnic flight attendants assigned to the airline's Korea service) could show some improvement. Slow service with some of the requests not honored as submitted (e.g., red wine given although white was requested), and felt like the flight attendants were not showing high levels of hospitality, on par with Emirates' reputation. Apart from this, great food and beverages selection and nice IFE system. Maybe the in-flight Internet could be revamped (price would be $19.99 for an 8-hour flight but would still block most high-bandwidth uses including streaming).

Route: Dubai to Seoul

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Virgin Australia

Title: "Service was friendly and very helpful"

Review: An enjoyable flight. Easy and friendly check in. The plane left on time. Service was friendly and very helpful. The food was limited. Just tea, coffee and water with snacks to purchase but that is no problem given that it was a short flight.

Route: Sydney to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aer Lingus

Title: "our luggage has not been located"

Review: There are lots of choices when booking a flight. We happened to be celebrating a milestone wedding anniversary and booked a trip to Italy. The flight itself was fine. We arrived at the airport in Naples and were the only passengers on a flight of 300+ people to be standing at the baggage carousel when it shut down because all the bags had been picked up by the passengers except for us. Our bags were missing. So now we head over to the missing baggage window and fill out a missing baggage claim form. This is Sunday morning. We make our way to the hotel with the clothes on our back for a week long stay to celebrate our anniversary not sure where our luggage is. We are tired. We have been on two flights for 10 hours. We wake up the next morning and put on the same clothes we arrived in to get breakfast. Never mind that there are new outfits in our luggage that we purchased for this trip that are floating around somewhere. After calling Aer Lingus multiple times and being told our luggage is out for delivery, we logged on to their missing baggage website only to learn our luggage has not been located yet in spite of Aer Lingus agents lying and telling us on the phone our bags were on the way. Was this so we wouldnt go out and purchase necessary items to change into to keep Aer Lingus lost baggage costs lower. We are now in our 3rd full day in Italy and Aer Lingus still stands by their claim that one bag is out for delivery, when the truth of the matter is they cant specify where it is en route. This saga will probably continue for us long after we depart Italy in two days. To add insult to injury, Aer Lingus cannot tell us what is acceptable and necessary that we can purchase while we wait hopelessly for our luggage. Talk about being given the run around, reading from a computer screen that the bags are in route, escalating our calls to supervisors who only read the same script on a screen. My Advice to Everyone out there - DO NOT BOOK YOUR FLIGHT through Aer Lingus if you value the peace of mind that you are entrusting a company that values its customers and will make a sincere effort to correct an error in a timely and honest manner. Lets face it, a lot of people are like us, we dont travel all the time, we spent thousands of hard earned dollars, and to be in Europe for going on four days in the same skivvies we arrived in should not be tolerated by customers - so book with another airlines if you value peace of mind.

Route: Boston to Naples via Dublin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Korean Air

Title: "flight was one of the best"

Review: Honolulu to Seoul-Incheon (proceeding to Hong Kong) in June 2019 - but I'm going to focus on the Honolulu - Seoul leg only for this review. This was my 7th flight on Korean Air - and all of this started on a very speedy, no-nonsense check-in process at Honolulu International Airport. The immigration checks were quick, and after a short bite, I went to the gate 2.5 hours before departure time. The boarding gate staffs were overall great - so does the cabin crews. I was welcomed in a friendly way. Upon reaching my seat, I figured out that my seat was comfortable in terms of legroom, with tons of features, but the seats were quite firm and hard, and there were several kid stickers that the cleaning crew had missed. Not a big deal for me. Throughout the entire flight, the crew kept on being friendly to me - they asked everything, even asking me if I have ever tried Bibimbap before - my 1st meal for the flight, which tasted very good. The 2nd meal of mine served before landing was beef with rice, which tasted good, but the meal presentation made me deny the 5-star rating. By this point, the crews were still very friendly but they couldn't hide the tiredness they had after the 9-hour journey (which is normal). The biggest blow of the flight was the IFE - hence why I didn't give this flight a 10/10. The IFE, for me, won in terms of responsiveness and layout, but the contents were very lacking, especially the movie section and music, with most of them being 13+ or 16+ contents, with only a few contents that were appropriate to be accessed by everyone. The saving grace of the IFE was the game sections and the onboard camera facility. Actual departure and landing time were pretty on time. In conclusion - apart from the IFE (which, according to their social media sites, has been renovated), this flight was one of the best (well, in fact, the best!) flights I've ever taken in 2019, with the crew becoming the shining stars of this flight.

Route: Honolulu to Seoul-Incheon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "pleased with the outgoing flight"

Review: The flight was fine and I was very pleased with the outgoing flight cause we were served such delicious meals on board. Another passenger and I had discussed this on the waiting lounge for our connecting flight to Tokyo and how happy we were of the delicious meals we got served from Vancouver to Taipei. On the second leg of our flight to Tokyo, again we were served such delicious food. The other female passenger and I agreed again. Unfortunately, on my return to Canada on June 3, 2019, I was quite disappointed with the food. I left the rest untouched and the appetizer was awful plus the cake tasted like it's from a cheap bakery. Taipei to Vancouver, I picked the pork cutlet. It was terrible and I couldn't eat it. I asked the stewardess if Eva Air had changed catering service and she said she doesn't know. She told me she'll tell the supervisor but the supervisor never came to see me. It was so disappointing after I had been raving about how delicious the food was from Vancouver to Japan.

Route: Taipei to Vancouver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "not fly again with this airline"

Review: Missed international connection because 3.5 hours late. Was supposed to fly at 10.00 am, delayed till 12.00 but actually took off at 13.30 hrs from Langkawi. Arrived Singapore 15.00 instead of 11-30 thats 3.5 hrs late, my connection was 15.10 to Dubai. I left a gap of 3 plus hours for delays but obviously not enough. So cost me a fortune for onwards flight to Dubai and UK. So unreliable only realised when talking to other passengers its a common theme. lengthy delays and no show aircraft. Big mistake, will certainly not fly again with this airline.

Route: Langkawi to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: VivaColombia

Title: "canceled the flight"

Review: Miami to Medellin. I purchased a ticket from Viva Colombia while waiting to board they canceled the flight after having everyone waiting more then 2 hours without any explanation. I tried to get a refund at desk but was told they will automatically refund it to Credit card . Ive written them countless times and if/when they respond they keep asking for the same info giving the run around. Its frustrating since Ive been waiting since 1/18 and still nothing .

Route: Miami to Medellín

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "Horrible experience"

Review: Osaka to Taipei. Horrible experience flying with Jetstar! The staff is super unprofessional, rude, and most of them can't speak English. Tons of rules to follow that other airline don't have, such as no use of earphones during take off and landing and that you can't store your luggage under the seat in front of you. Also the only airline I've flown with who demands to see return tickets for the destination! Avoid this company and save yourself from a load of trouble!

Route: Osaka to Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "service I received was atrocious"

Review: I had a horrible experience flying KLM from Houston to Amsterdam and back again. When I arrived to the check in gate in Houston I was told that I had been downgraded from Premium Comfort to Economy because of a change in aircraft and that my baggage allowance had changed. I had packed my bags the night before and then woken up early to drive 3 hours to Houston to catch the flight. Needless to say, I wasn't willing to throw any of my luggage in the trash. I told them there wasn't any way that I would have had time to re-pack my bags (now noticing that I had received an email at 3 am notifying me of the downgrade.) After much discussion I was finally permitted to take all my luggage with me. The rudeness and lack of understanding at the counter was disgusting. On the plane the staff were perfectly friendly. However, somehow in the downgrade process my meal plan had been erased. I have a severe allergy but thankfully the attendant was very kind and helpful in finding me something I could eat. On the return flight I had the opposite problem - my meal plan had resurfaced but the food I'm allergic to was very present in the dish. I notified the staff that I had an allergy and was there anything else I could possibly eat? I'm not picky, I just don't particularly want to break out in hives. She very begrudgingly searched around until she found something but she wasn't happy, saying that I had requested a specific meal. I acknowledged her, and said yes I had, but the ingredients aren't listed when I select it and - I have an allergy. For the next meal she brought me the dish again, with the food I'm allergic to, and smiled when she handed it to me. Oh joy. The smile on her face made me stare at the food in disbelief in front of me. I accepted it and just didn't eat. How could she smile like that? I had submitted a request for the refund fare difference for the first flight and it was accepted but I was told that I needed to resubmit it again after all flights are finished. I guess because they can't keep track of it for a week? The service I received was atrocious. The red tape ridiculous. But they certainly know how to train their employees on board to be friendly, serving you your food allergy and all. I guess they do not know how to problem solve, think on their feet or be courteous. They are only paid to smile.

Route: Houston to Amsterdam

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: French Bee

Title: "Very pleasantly surprised"

Review: I wasn't quite sure what to expect, having read mixed reviews, but I needed a cost-effective way to move myself, my daughter, and our two small dogs from the US to the UK via France (it's much easier to get a dog into the EU than it is to the UK, and then cross the border from there) and French Bee seemed to fit the bill. Very pleasantly surprised! All the staff we encountered, both at the airport and on board, were extremely pleasant and helpful. The gentleman at Newark who checked us in- two stressed people, two stressed dogs, and a metric ton of luggage. The flight was packed to the gills with rude people and slightly delayed, but it was the holidays. For the extremely reasonable price (I was able to get two people, two dogs, and six checked bags to Paris from New York for less than $1500, the week before Christmas), the plane was comfortable. This is one of the few flights I have been able to sleep on, so I did not make much use of the entertainment system, but it seemed robust. I did pay for breakfast in the morning, which was nothing over the top special, but not bad and much cheaper than buying something in the airport. The overhead bins were huge and seemed to accommodate a lot more luggage than normal. And for a budget airline, the experience wasn't much different than what you would get from a large legacy carrier, Most importantly, my dogs arrived safe and relatively unbothered by their adventure, though I had serious concerns about them flying in their crates (they are too large to fit in carriers under the seat). Thank you to the staff who handled them so well and kept them safe!

Route: Newark to Paris Orly

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air India Express

Title: "Worst airline in my life"

Review: Delhi to Dubai. Dont ever book with Air India Express. Worst airline with worst attention and customer service by crew to ground staff and even customer care. Finally they took my whole money to re schedule or cancellation. Worst airline in my life.

Route: Delhi to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: SmartWings

Title: SmartWings customer review

Review: SmartWings operate some CSA routes. The aircraft look a little tatty but clean enough. The flight crew talk to you and explained the delay. Baggage check in included. The trolley service needs to be paid for although the prices were reasonable compared to the low cost operators. 2 euros/50 crowns for half litre bottle of water for instance. Little monitors drop down from the ceiling with route progress but no entertainment. A pleasant alternative to the likes of Wizz Air, Ryanair or easyJet. Similar prices. Gatwick means not having to put up with the trauma of Stansted or Luton. Prague airport is quiet enough, albeit an odd security set up.

Route: London Gatwick to Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "the worst way to travel by air"

Review: I had booked a flight which was supposed to leave by 7:30 pm from Kochi. This was changed into another flight leaving Kochi at 8:00 pm. The second flight was then rescheduled to 9:15 pm which then left Kochi sometime around 9:45 pm. The journey start time was 10 min after the original journey end time. Now in flight I was having corporate booking and corporate meal was available in the same, the attendant gave us 2 makhana snacks and a winking cow and a Coca-Cola can. We actually do not drink soft drinks, also we were pretty hungry. When asked about the options available, the crew told us that we can't change anything, not even the drink. Once the flight finally arrived at 11:34 it took me 44 minutes to receive the bag. I am someone who adjusts a lot and rarely complains but this is too much. GoFirst is the worst way to travel by air in India currently.

Route: Kochi to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: China Eastern Airlines

Title: "Total chaos at check-in"

Review: Shanghai to Melbourne. MU737 on 19th April 2019. Total chaos at check-in. Ground staff was not able to manage the queues. Arrived at check-in gate 2.5 hours prior to departure, almost missed the flight

Route: Shanghai to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Flair Airlines

Title: "Absolutely Terrible"

Review: Absolutely Terrible. On my way to Montreal I was not charged a carry on fee, but on the way back at the gate they charged me $85. When I said I wasn't charged on the way there the attendant rudely replied "Well if you don't pay you're not getting on". This is after I paid to upgrade. They seated me in-between two toddlers which the flight attendants allowed to run around the aircraft, knock on the pilots cabin door several times, also allowed them to climb all over me even though I asked both the parents and the flight attendants to please stop allowed them to run wild like this. It is an aircraft, not a daycare. I fly several times a year and usually go with United or Air Canada. This time I thought I'd try to "save" a couple dollars by flying this airline but when all was said and done with these stupid carry on bag fees, which I have never been charged for a backpack before for ANY other airline, it worked out to be the same as any other airline. Save the headache and go for a different airline. Also the app never works. Take some of the money from those bogus and predatory bag fees and use it to hire a competent app development company.

Route: Montreal to Halifax

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Germanwings

Title: "the service crew were friendly but nothing more"

Review: Flew from Palma de Mallorca to Cologne with Germanwings. Check-in was done in less than 15 minutes, we got seats in row 6 which were fine. Planes were late as always due to incoming plane being late, that is a general problem with Germanwings when you fly later in the day. There was no entertainment whatsoever and the service crew were friendly but nothing more. They charge you EUR 2,50 for 250ml a soft drink like Coke or Sprite, so we paid EUR 5 for two cans, that make EUR 10 for a litre. Nothing else was offered, so nothing special. No miles were credited, even as a miles and more member.

Route: PMI to CGN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "prices arent worth the inconvenience"

Review: Super late - due to mechanical issues, sat on tarmac for three hours before finally deplaning at 1:30 am and told that we need to wait until at least 3:30 am for our flight. Given crackers and water on the plane. My flight to Manila from Dubai was also late, causing me to miss my next flight. The cheap prices arent worth the inconvenience and waste of my time.

Route: Manila to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: WOW air

Title: "a competitive price"

Review: Keflavik to Baltimore. Long flight with comfortable seats and basic services. No entertainment system! Easy short transit in KEF. Wish it were longer since there were lots of food and shopping outlets that looked good. I did manage to have a quick meal because I didn't pre-order an in-flight meal and purchased local chocolate (highly recommend). Flight attendants should make more effort to smile. I thought this was a competitive price for a last minute purchase.

Route: Keflavik to Baltimore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: FlyArystan

Title: "I will use it again"

Review: Almaty to Taraz with FlyArystan. Super cheap ticket, nice and fast service. No delays no problems. Only one thing to be improved, check in at Taraz airport. Staff were very slow. For sure I will use it again. Please open Almaty Dzhezkazgan, as there are no direct flights.

Route: Almaty to Taraz

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: American Eagle

Title: American Eagle customer review

Review: Unbelievably high quality experience from this carrier. Boarded promptly, crew very helpful in terms of getting carry on bags stowed into very small overhead bins. Can't remember the last time a flight attendant actually helped get a bag stowed instead of being critical of my efforts. Five stars to the flight attendant in first class. Flight left a few minutes early, arrived fifteen minutes early. Had a truly excellent lunch, would have been pleased to pay for it. Couldn't remember the last time that happened on a US carrier. Hope that this signals a new era at American Eagle.

Route: ORD to EWR

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air China

Title: "no Premium Economy on this flight"

Review: Beijing to San Francisco. I buy a Premium Economy ticket. On the return flight from Beijing to SFO they print my boarding pass and arriving on board I realize this is coach. I inquire and they say "no Premium Economy on this flight", I presume they changed the equipment. I call Air China to obtain a refund of the price difference. Now they say "You have to call Beijing". They have my flight coupons and itinerary. What else do they need? This is an example in "how to make it difficult for a customer to obtain a legitimate refund" It's a shame as the flight itself was not disastrous. The LA based call center agent finally sorted my case and I received a refund. She called me back several times to keep me informed. I felt this was a good recovery from a rather negatively engaged case.

Route: Beijing to San Francisco

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cayman Airways

Title: "Staff were very unprofessional"

Review: We were on a 7:50 am flight to go to Miami with quick stop in Grand Cayman. We had a day of lies (need a part, sending extra planes, youre on the next flight, etc). It took 14 hours to board our flight then another 30+ minute wait because of incorrect paperwork. 30 minute flight then another 90+ minute wait at other end for information and vouchers. Staff were very unprofessional. One check in person even came outside to argue with the lady Running the taxi stand. Everyone missed connecting flights, incurring hundreds of dollars in extra fees or booking last minute. No apologies from anyone with the airline. What a bad way to end a fabulous diving vacation. Took almost another whole day to get home.

Route: Grand Cayman to Miami

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "Awful customer service"

Review: Awful customer service, impossible to contact and their website just kept coming up with an error message when I tried to change my flight. They had no representative at the airport despite co-operating a flight from there and I ended up having to buy a new ticket. Vietnam Airlines still refuse to refund the ticket I no longer needed. Never use this airline unless its a last resort they are totally useless. Also trying to talk to customer service in Ho Chi Minh airport is impossible as they just ignore foreigners and serve Vietnamese people first. Incredibly rude.

Route: Manila to Ho Chi Minh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Delta Air Lines

Title: "flight attendants were absolutely amazing"

Review: The flight attendants on this flight were absolutely amazing. I came on the flight in full anxiety, worry that I would be missing my next flight. However, they did what they could at least what is in their control to prevent it. Thank you so much for putting a little bit of ease to my mind.

Route: Des Moines to Minneapolis

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Turkmenistan Airlines

Title: "how not to do long haul"

Review: Ashgabad to Birmingham. I read some reviews before I flew on this airline so my expectations were pretty low. People were smoking in the toilet throughout the flight, pumped into the circulating air conditioning, it stunk. The stewards did two meals and two coffees in the entire flight. Was a drunk passenger staggering up and down the aisles ranting. I would have expected a steward to tell him to sit down, didn't happen. He must have brought his own alcohol. No TV, no alcohol, no duty free, no WiFi and rubbish food. This was a long haul and expensive flight, if you can avoid Turkmenistan Airlines avoid it. Was a true experience on how not to do long haul. So far out of all the long haul flights I have been on this was by far the worst. This airline makes EasyJet and Ryanair look good.

Route: Ashgabad to Birmingham

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Xiamen Airlines

Title: "won't be flying Xiamen again"

Review: Vancouver to Sydney via Xiamen. I traveled with Xiamen Airlines for the first and last time over December/January. Originally flying from Sydney to Vancouver via Xiamen in December and back to Sydney Via Xiamen in January. All flights were on new Boeing 787's. The flights were extremely full, probably due to the fact it was just under $650 one way on Christmas Eve. That was probably the only appealing thing from the trip. The aircraft inside were rather dirty, finger prints and grease all over the windows, the cabin had an awful smell as well. The seat space was okay. The inflight entertainment was updated and had a good selection. The food was nothing to get excited about, and the crew only came twice during the whole flight which is below the amount of times they come on other services I've flown between Sydney and Vancouver. The crew overall were okay, spoke hardly any English and weren't apologetic if they hit you with the trolley. The layover in Xiamen both ways was a complete nightmare - no one at the airport speaks English, and even if you are transiting immigration seem to have no idea what the process is and take a long time to process you as you have no visa. I won't be flying Xiamen again.

Route: YVR to SYD via XMN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Qatar Airways

Title: "service on board was okay"

Review: 3 Legs with Qatar and 1 with codeshare Malaysian on tired B777. The service on board was okay, there were not many drink runs and the food was typical economy food, the seats on B777 are very uncomfortable, leg room was ok. Main issue was the aircrafts are looking tired and the sooner they get their A350 fleet in the air the better. The entertainment system was so so, not really impressed but flights on time and not an empty seat on any legs.

Route: Manchester to Kuala Lumpur via Doha

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: "rudest employees ever!"

Review: I cannot express my frustration enough with this airline, they have to have some of the absolute and utter inconsiderate and rudest employees ever! They are definitely not a discount airline. They charge you for everything and these charges are exorbitant! Making everyone measure bags and then pay an additional $100 for simple things like backpacks because they don't fit into a slot. I wish the government would just shut this airline down, they don't deserve our business! What are the executives doing? I'm sure they know about the dissatisfaction. Never have I seen a good review or heard anything good about this airline. I've definitely flown with them for the last time. They didn't leave on time, they overbooked, and even when they're in a rush you have rude employees at the gates rushing passengers. If you express any type of discomfort or let them know that something is wrong they will pull you off your flight! I've seen it happen! Definitely negative zero stars on everything.

Route: Atlanta to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SATA Air Azores

Title: "undue stress and frustration"

Review: We travelled on Flight S4301 from Lisbon to Toronto on Feb 10th. Firstly, the entertainment system did not work on our flight to Lisbon on Jan 7th and still was not working on Feb 10th flight. Most importantly: We never check baggage when flying: however SAT Azores limits cabin baggage to 8 kg so we reluctantly checked two small bags weighing approx 10 kg each. Arriving in Toronto the whole flight's luggage did not arrive on carousel 9 for 1.5 hrs. Other flights landed after us and had baggage on carousels before they got thru customs e.g. Georgetown/Port of Spain, Miami and Reykjavik. 1.5 hrs to get luggage is totally unacceptable - no one can leave for a connecting flight without taking luggage thru customs. This caused undue stress and frustration for the whole flight.

Route: Lisbon to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "avoid flying this airline"

Review: Do not fly KLM Cityhoppers, between London City Airport and Amsterdam! Both of my flights were either cancelled and delayed! What followed next showed an airline that was not only trying to nickel and dime its passengers at every opportunity, but also had no clue what the rest of the industry was doing! On the day of my departure, I received an email informing me that my flight was cancelled and that I would be rebooked on a different flight soon. When I saw the message displayed an option to change flight or request refund, I followed the link. Then I realized KLM would charge me extra to change my flight. How ridiculous! You cancelled my flight and asked me to pay more to make a change! When I called the service center, I was told that the flight was not canceled and everything was on schedule. So I went ahead and checked in online. But when I arrived at the airport (LCY) the next day, the billboard showed my flight was indeed cancelled! And I had been rebooked to a later flight. On the day of my return, my flight was delayed. So I wanted to catch an earlier flight at the airport. And I had to do this at a service center where there was a long line.

My Sky priority status made no difference, although KLM displayed two queues--Sky priority and General Boarding. I took my number and waited, and waited. 30 minutes later the line hardly moved. So I decided to give it a try at the gate. When I reached a KLM gate, I was told I would have to pay a fee to change to another flight. How ridiculous! You delayed my flight and forced me to stick to the same flight, unless I am offering some extra money. And the gate agent could not change my reservation and I would have to go to a transfer center somewhere far in the terminal. And there was not other flight available. In sum, I don't remember I ever ran into problems on both flights of a round trip and also was told to pay a fee to change a flight even if it was not my fault. KLM takes no responsibility for its own poor performance. I will do everything possible in the future to avoid flying this airline!

Route: London to Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Iberia Express

Title: "crew appeared disinterested"

Review: Santiago to Madrid. Cabin crew appeared disinterested and would not make eye contact with me when pushing the trolley. The first time was when I wanted to purchase drinking water. After the trolley was pushed two seats behind me I had to turn round & get the attention of passengers. The second time was when Cabin Crew were doing a rubbish run, this time the flight attendant was looking the other way as I tried to get her attention. I was in the middle seat & found it difficult to move in the cramped seating because of the sleeping passenger in the aisle seat. It appeared to me that the quicker the trolley was pushed down the aisle the less work the hostess had to do.

Route: Santiago to Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: El Al Israel Airlines

Title: "Did not like the entertainment"

Review: Amsterdam to Tel Aviv. We were at the airport 3 hours early but security took only a few minutes maybe because we are 71 year old Americans. Very polite and friendly hosts. Did not like the entertainment which was stripped down for a brand new plane. Overhead movie or use your device. Decent legroom. Food was the pits. Seats comfortable. Took 2 flights both of which left late but arrived early. Did not like how little luggage we could bring!

Route: Amsterdam to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Japan

Title: "bad customer experience"

Review: Tokyo to Osaka. Very bad customer experience at check in. Expect everything to be weighted including all carry-on items. We are traveling with a toddler (who has here own ticket and seat, so carry-on item) couldnt take our stroller to the gate but had to check it in. And they wanted us to sign a waiver for the stroller being unsuitably packed. We wont be flying with jetstar japan again. Matt

Route: Tokyo to Osaka

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Tigerair

Title: "not very efficient"

Review: Flew Tigerair from Cairns to Sydney only because it was $10 cheaper per person than another Australian airline, shouldnt have bothered and should have taken the other one! Had to pay for baggage for my husband and I, only 15 kg authorized. We realized the day before flying that it wouldnt be enough and wanted to add another bag: not possible! They just dont do it. Instead you can add extra kilos, so we tried to do it online about 10 times which didnt work! We then called the help service the next day: fare prices had increased. I was also supposed to pay $5 fees for this change over the phone (that I got free when I said the website didnt work the previous day). Overall: not very efficient, very slow, couldnt send me the proof of my new registration, 34 min over the phone. I didnt know it wasnt a free number, had to pay over 80 ($120) for this one call. On the plane: average minus rating. Would not recommend this airline at all. Pay a little bit more and get better service quality and less troubles.

Route: Cairns to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Swoop

Title: "so disheartened by this experience"

Review: I flew in on Christmas day and paid extra for my bags and an additional fee for overweight luggage. First we were delayed over 4 hours! When I got to Kingston only 2 of my 5 bags arrived with no apology or explanation. 7 days later and still no luggage or response from Swoop. As I write this, my luggage is still lost (presumably in Toronto). The multiple numbers that I have called have been unresponsive as they are automated numbers. The customer service representative in Kingston is very nonchalant about the hundreds of bags left in Toronto (her words, not mine). Her attitude is disrespectful and she has no true understanding of customer service. I am so disheartened by this experience.

Route: Toronto to Kingston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "Terrible business practices"

Review: My flight was supposed to be June 1st. Due to COVID-19, Lima has closed their borders as well as the airport we were supposed to land in. Interjet refused to refund money or cancel the non-existent flight, so that they will be off the hook for any financial compensation. Their actions are illegal and repeated attempts to speak with their agents have been completely useless. They insisted that flights will be running as usual. Terrible business practices, completely criminal the way they are hoarding money in a global pandemic.

Route: Chicago to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jet2.com

Title: "Terrible service Jet2"

Review: We checked on flight radar before leaving the hotel to find our flight delayed but according to the rep it was on time. Getting to the gates was straight forward but we soon realised there was a problem when we found out 4 flights from the UK were all delayed by around an hour. The staff fed us some cock and bull story about why the delays had happened. The gate was rammed with travellers, not enough seats for everyone a lot had to sit on the floor. Terrible service Jet2.

Route: Heraklion to Manchester

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "even water is not free"

Review: Copenhagen to Prague. After observing the abuse by the gate staff, I did a little research and Czech airlines was sold to a private company Travel Service based in Prague and is now privately owned. Their obvious philosophy is to get as many 50 euro checked bags as possible. Seats are crammed and even water is not free! Check in procedure is terrible, gate staff rude (contracted out to Menzies) and confirmed by many reviews. I am a dual Czech / Canadian citizen and do not understand why the Czech government does not put a stop to this company. For many tourists an airline is the first point contact. Do not get discouraged by the airline, book with someone else and enjoy one of the most amazing cities in the world!

Route: Copenhagen to Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "won't be choosing them again"

Review: Pretty disappointed with Cebu Pacific's customer service. I had to cut my holiday short due to the Taal volcano eruption just over 3 weeks ago. We had safety concerns around this high rating and did not feel comfortable with the ash in the air and the flights being cancelled. When I explained that the natural disaster had cut our trip short, Cebu Pacific refused my request for refund with a short and blunt email, a week after I emailed them for assistance. They were very misleading in not sending any information on getting the government tax back which I am 100% entitled to, luckily I had done my own research. It has been three weeks and I am still waiting for my government tax refund request to be reviewed .. a tiny $50AUD return on a $500 flight that I couldn't take because of serious safety concerns. Very disappointed in Cebu Pacific and won't be choosing them again.

Route: Manila to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "could not believe the unprofessionalism"

Review: I could not believe the unprofessionalism of the cabin crew on this flight. I am frequent flyer and often do 1 or 2 round trips between North and South America per year, usually through Air Canada. This was my first Air Canada rouge experience and I hope to never have another like this again. I found it a little strange that the flight attendants stood at the door as passengers were boarding but they were not greeting anyone, just standing and watching people board. The flight was 4.5 hours from Kelowna to Toronto and it left at midnight so passengers wanted to sleep. I was shocked when I woke up partway through to the sound of loud laughing and womens voices talking and swearing. I thought it must be passengers in a nearby row. However, I glanced toward the back of the plane and saw all of the flight attendants standing together chatting with no regard for the passengers trying to sleep. Im sure the whole back half of the aircraft could hear them. Again, as passengers exited the aircraft, the attendants stood at the door but their attention was on each other as they continued chatting to one another and ignoring the departing guests. Ive never seen a cabin crew act this unprofessional before. I would recommend avoid booking with Air Canada rouge.

Route: Kelowna to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "delayed 1.5 hours"

Review: Durban to Johannesburg. Airplane delayed 1.5 hours. I waited longer than the flight takes and they will only give a coffee voucher after 2 hours. No wonder they aren't a profitable company. Late for a meeting. I would never again trust this airline.

Route: Durban to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "most ridiculous service"

Review: Most ridiculous service, cant even check in online because of their tie up with air new Zealand doesn't allow to do so. Will never book with them again

Route: Auckland to Delhi via Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Ethiopian Airlines

Title: "One of her bags never arrived"

Review: I needed to book for my mother-in-law urgently to travel with someone from Dubai to Johannesburg. One of her bags never arrived and we lodged a complaint, they promised to come back to us within 7 days and we waited, and until today (July 14, 2022) no response. I tried calling all the phone numbers they provided together with the ones I got from their website, but no answer or the phone number doesn't work. I sent them an email, but no response. If you lose your bag, there is no communication with them after the flight.

Route: Dubai to Johannesburg via Addis Adaba

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "worst experience I have had"

Review: Toronto to Mexico City. After I bought my original ticket with no issues, I tried to change it via online with no success. The system gave error after error. I gave up since I didnt want to call their telephone service which takes 40+ min. When I arrived to the counter to check-in, the person told me that in the interjet system I did actually change my flight. This was not notified to me in any form. I had to pay the change fee or I would lose my flight all together. Conveniently, the change that I never did, was to first class. When I finally got to my flight, it gets cancelled due to technical failures. I hurried to book a hotel for the night but I know that some people didnt get a place, the hotels where full booked at 1 am. This is the worst experience I have had with any airline, I will never use them again and I definitely not recommend them.

Route: Toronto to Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thomson Airways

Title: "treated with disdain and ignored"

Review: Thomson Airways from Birmingham to Sal Cape Verde, and absolutely awful, flight arrived over 7 hours late due to a power fault at airport (3 hours), and then having to return after 1 hour of flight due to one of three radios having a fault. Then kept waiting on plane and standing on a bus while they decided what to do. Through the entire delay no offer of a drink or food. Total lack of care or interest in passengers comfort and well being, felt really sorry for the families and children. On return complaint is treated with disdain and ignored. If you have a choice of another airline go with them.

Route: BHX to SID

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "the staff seemed agitated"

Review: Johannesburg to Dar es Salaam with South African Airways. The cabin crew on this flight seemed like they did not want to be there serving the passengers. There were instances where the staff seemed agitated by some of the requests of the passengers in front of us, and were very unprofessional and borderline rude.

Route: Johannesburg to Dar es Salaam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "You get what you pay for"

Review: You get what you pay for with Ryanair. Uneventful flight left on time, friendly and efficient crew. Their website for booking and check in has become a bit of nightmare and can be very confusing, used to be lot better in the past.

Route: Brussels to Belfast

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "he went above and beyond"

Review: Eric Michaelson was a one of the best air flight attendants I have the experience. I was feeling ill and he went above and beyond to make the flight enjoyable. He went out of his way to offer me a beverage to settle my stomach due to the turbulence. His customer service and professionalism was outstanding. I wanted to thank you as my airline of choice.

Route: Los Angeles to Chicago

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thomas Cook Airlines

Title: "journey was a little uncomfortable"

Review: Tenerife to Manchester. Due to a medical circumstance missed my original flight home and could only secure Premium Economy with Thomas Cook the following day. Expensive for 2 one way tickets but no choice really. You get a generous baggage allowance 25kg, selected seating, free drinks on board and a meal. The flight boarded on time, I was a little taken aback how minimal the legroom was, there was no additional space for premium economy, whilst I wasn't expecting a suite or a flat bed, I was expecting at least an inch extra, but no. The 4 hour journey was a little uncomfortable, thankfully the lady in front didn't recline her seat, I would have been in big trouble if she had. I don't understand why airlines on short haul Europe still have reclining seats with such small leg room provided. Meal was very tasty and the cabin crew were excellent, very friendly and provided a real service, not a scratch card sale insight.

Route: Tenerife to Manchester

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Korean Air

Title: "nickel and dime culture"

Review: Los Angeles to Chiang Mai via Seoul. We decided to spend a little bit more for our flight to Thailand in exchange for a better service and were disappointed: We could have saved several hundreds of dollars if we had used a Chinese budget airline. What was good about Korean Air were the flight attendants who were super friendly and helpful, on our return flight to LAX they even carried my carry on bag for me, when they saw that I was holding our baby. The reason why we won't fly with Korean Air anymore: I had ordered a "vegetarian oriental meal" (not vegan, but vegetarian which isn't as restrictive) What I received was a joke: it looked like someone had emptied half a can of peas into the aluminum container and thrown some bok choy leaves on top. No sauce, tofu, rice or potatoes. Horrible. My wife was still hungry after her meal and asked for a snack. The answer was: "we don't carry any snacks" (contrary to what their website says: "Snack Service A wide variety of snacks, such as samgak kimbop, cup ramen, pizza, and makkoli rice cakes, are served on long flights." The flight attendant explained: "we stopped offering cup ramen because of the smell" when my wife told him that she used to get ramen on previous flights. I had one can of beer at the beginning of the flight and ordered a gin tonic several hours later. This drink spilled because my table was defective (the kind which you pull out from the armrest). When I asked for another drink they watered it down and advised me "this is your last drink, each passenger is allowed to have only 3 drinks". I was not the slightest little bit drunken and very surprised because even on low budget airlines like Air India nobody told me how many drinks I could have. This is obviously a policy which is supposed to save the airline money. We both started to get a headache because of dehydration. When I asked for water, the flight attendant poured approximately 4 table spoons into a cup, I went back and forth several times between our seats and the pantry and each time they filled the cup only 50%. We were both thirsty during the entire flight. Before departure there was a bottle of water on each seat and as soon as the boarding was completed, they hurried to collect the water bottles from the vacant seats. (Probably in order to lock them up in the safe...) 5.) We had purchased an inflatable pillow which was specifically designed for air travel. As soon as my wife started to inflate the pillow, several flight attendants approached us saying that we were not allowed to use it. Obviously Korean Air's management made decisions in order to save money and we felt this nickel and dime culture during the entire trip. If we had chosen a low cost Chinese airline, we may have received some kind of rude treatment but enough to eat and drink for several hundred Dollars less.

Route: Los Angeles to Chiang Mai via Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: "cascading effect of ruined vacation"

Review: This airline first would not honor our request to refund a ticket for 5 traveler that could not make it, then when we arrived they offered vouchers to volunteers to take a later flight, but would not take ours, then simply took our spare seat away. I had purchased premium seating for my family to sit together with a small child, but they did not have our seats assigned. We boarded last. Then 2 out of our 5 bags did not make it on a short, direct 1.5hr flight. It was impossible to contact the airline, they kept giving us different numbers to call, one of which was Lufthansa. Finally two days later we received an email that our delayed luggage arrived at the destination and I took a ferry boat and taxi to the airport only to find out one bag showed up. We had to repurchase clothing for the family member, then received a note that our lost luggage was sent back to our home airport in U.S. Simply no sense of customer service. Ticketing agent interrogated us inquiring about our travel plans, flipping thru our passports, questioning authenticity. Gate agents were no help, general sense of confusion and chaos. Gate agent ran after us and plucked the spare ticket out of my hand to seat someone else. Very odd experience, resulting in cascading effect of ruined vacation.

Route: Vienna to Split

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Europa

Title: "customer service is by far the worst"

Review: Second time I flew with Air Europa, second time they lost my luggage. Getting in contact with the customer service is a pain in the a. Calling from Cuba on a regular phone costs 4 dollar per minute, The quality with VOIP is very limited and the English skills of their staff very limited. The online tracking of my luggage didnt work before they opened their office. Then it was impossible to save the changes I had to make. Calling them seriously tests your patience. I waited on waiting lines for more than 2 hours.I asked the account several times to talk slow and louder because the connection was so bad. She hang up! This customer service is by far the worst Ive ever experienced.

Route: Frankfurt to Havanna via Madrid

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: SriLankan Airlines

Title: "No email, no explanation!"

Review: Booked flights last year for a family of 4 - flights got cancelled due to coronavirus and refund was requested. This was accepted and stated refund by end of August. I have received a payment today after chasing them but the full payment was just over £2400 and I have received £1771? No email, no explanation!

Route: Gatwick to Colombo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "the worst airport customer service"

Review: Volaris has the worst airport customer service I have ever experienced. Our family had to wait one hour and a half in line just to check our bags (we were in the customer with special needs because we had a baby and we were unable to print our boarding passes at the kiosk). I understand the special needs line can take longer for obvious reasons; however, they only had two counters helping customers and at some points they only had one (because the personnel was in and out). It seems like Volaris staff don't care about the time people stand in line; they seem apathetic, and also understaffed. Once we got to the counter, the lady was helpful, but at first I thought she might send us back to the end of the line because we didn't have our boarding passes. Luckily that didn't happen because I told her we already had been in line for an hour and a half and we were going to miss our flight if we did that. Once we got passed the check-in counter and onto security, that was another ordeal. The person checking the boarding passes said the stroller had to go through a different line. It was so confusing and frustrating because then another lady told us only one person can go through the stroller line and that the rest of the family had to go through the regular line. I didn't know what to do, and then the lady said "or you can all try going through the same line but you will be sent back". She was completely rude when she said that. We decided to take the risk of being sent back, and then we saw an entire family walk past us with a stroller and a baby and they were not sent back! Once we go passed security everything was fine. Additionally, I don't like how Volaris charges for everything, even for carry-on bags when other airlines don't do that. The checked-in bags were $80/each which is way too high compared to other airlines that charge $45-65.

Route: Guadalajara to San Jose

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "decision had been made that I could not fly"

Review: Great cabin crew, awful Heathrow ground staff. On the outward journey from Bangkok to London, the cabin crew were wonderful: totally professional and really helpful, but the ground staff at London Heathrow were shockingly bad on my return. The check-in staff were impatient and rude from the outset, telling me "Move along the queue and stop wasting your time" when I began to enter my details in the Eva Air online check-in machines provided for that purpose. My passport was scrutinised and refused because of a small tear on a blank page at the back of my passport. The check-in manager ripped off the luggage tag from my bag when the decision had been made that I could not fly. This was unsmilingly delivered with no explanation, unnecessary and humiliating. This failure of Eva Air Heathrow ground staff will cost me approximately $1,200 to book a new flight. In spite of my very pleasant outward journey with Eva Air, I won't be travelling with this airline via London again. The London Heathrow staff made this a miserable experience for me.

Route: Bangkok to London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "Poor service and overall experience"

Review: Poor and unreasonable baggage rules. I chose their Premium Economy service this time and I got 2 x23 kg baggage quota. I got three bags need to check in and the overall weight is within the limit but CX was rejected and said only 2 bags are allowed. I don't understand why there is no flexibility to their customer. Finally, I paid extra USD 60 for the extra check-in baggage and I haven't experienced the same handling in other airlines. Other traditional airlines always accept extra baggage as long as the overall weight is within limit. Ground service is not helpful. It is my first time taking premium economy class and I don't see any premium service except extra legroom. Food choice is limited and no food or drink menu is provided. Poor service and overall experience.

Route: Kansai to Hong Kong

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Joon

Title: "poor catering and service"

Review: Business Class on Joon makes no sense, with very poor catering and service. It is there only as Joon replaced AF on the route and they try to keep the Business traffic. Minuscule dinner but inedible. No drinks seconds or renewal offered, 2 uncomfortable rows. The pay catering in Economy is bad, the free one in Business is worse. Why not just offering the Economy choices for free?. Neither the concept nor the execution, as far as Business Class goes, is right. The only competition on the route is Alitalia, so there is no pressure.

Route: Rome to Paris

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "we were left high and dry after purchasing confirmed seats"

Review: Scoot changed the aircraft at the last minute to a smaller one and offloaded a bunch of passengers including my family from a 9.30 am flight. So we were left high and dry after purchasing confirmed seats. We had to beg for seats on a later flight. They give us boarding passes for a 4pm flight, which was delayed by 2 hours, so we finally take off at 6pm! Also our baggage is handled so badly that my brand new suitcase came out on the luggage belt with black marks on it, looking like an old bag. Never want to use Scoot again! Horrible experience.

Route: Singapore to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Wingo

Title: "Wingo is a good option"

Review: Caracas to Bogota. A simple flight without surprises, comfortable seats, although they are not reclining, good attention, on the flight the only complementary beverage is water, cheap tickets prices, the plane clean and simple.

Wingo is a good option for a short trip. The Boeing 737-700 makes the flight pleasant

Route: Caracas to Bogota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "I wont recommend this airline"

Review: Cape Town to Johannesburg. This is honestly the worst service that I've received from all airlines. The staff at the Cape town airport is rude and incompetent. The only person willing to help was the manager at the safair counter. Your check in department don't have any people skills. I refuse to pay for a service that treats us this way. They are totally unprofessional. I wont recommend this airline to anyone

Route: Cape Town to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Condor Airlines

Title: "most unfriendly business class"

Review: Unfriendly and indifferent attitude of the flight crew from Frankfurt to San Francisco in August 2022. The service provided is the worst. I was 5 months pregnant on the flight with my 2 children and husband. The flight attendants serving business class were not happy, it was obvious that they were very annoyed by passengers with children, although children behaved quietly and did not disturb anyone. But the worst thing was that we were last served and there was no food (main courses) that children can eat (which is not spicy) there were 3 main courses, of which 2 ended before us and we had no choice what to eat. This is the worst and most unfriendly business class I have ever encountered

Route: Frankfurt to San Francisco

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vueling Airlines

Title: "Have not heard anything from them"

Review: Lost luggage on 7/21/23. Immediately filed a report. Have not heard anything from them other than their automatic emails telling me they are sorry and to be patient. I can see my luggage is still at FCO airport from my AirTag. Cannot get through to lost and found customer service line to speak to someone. Left voicemails and emails, but still have not been contacted back.

Route: Rome to Dubrovnik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sky Express Airlines

Title: "kept telling me they reimbursed me"

Review: We arrived late to Athens because of a delay in Toronto, and rushed to get to the Sky Express gate for our next flight to Santorini. We arrived with 30 mins to spare and after consulting with her colleague, the attendant determined it was too late for us to board and we would need to buy new tickets for the next available flight. Later we were told via email that we needed to be there 20 mins early but we were 30 mins early! Either way, we purchased new tickets and were given contact info for Sky Express to receive a refund of our taxes due to the missed flight. After our trip ended, I contacted the airline and provided all of our info and was told I would be reimbursed within 30 days. Well 30 days passed, then 60, then 90, and I was following up regularly via email but NO responses from anyone. Finally I called the airline and was told they reimbursed me in August to a card ending in 6237 but my card ends in 7237 so there is a mistake and I did not receive my reimbursement. They kept telling me they processed it and there was nothing further they could do. I provided proof of my purchase using MY credit card, and screenshots of my credit card statement, and they still kept telling me they reimbursed me (but to a card that I don't own). Finally they sent me "proof" of reimbursement, which is totally laughable, because the "proof" showed that they reimbursed a MASTERCARD in my husband's name ending in 6237 (which is not his card, and he only has a Visa), meanwhile it was MY VISA that was used to purchase the tickets - so how can you reimburse someone else who did not make the original purchase? What sense does that make? and to a card that doesn't exist! This has fraud written all over it and I will not rest until they are caught. It isn't even about the money at this point.

Route: Athens to Santorini

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "canceled due to operational reasons"

Review: I bought a ticket through AirAsia website for a flight on the 21st of August (Sunday), from Chiang Mai to Kuala Lumpur. I received an email last Saturday, notifying me that the flight had been canceled due to "operational reasons". I tried to understand what these reasons were but I could only contact an automated bot. I eventually got to talk with a so-called live agent (had to wait in queue for 3 hours) that pretended he was typing (the 3 dots pre-message symbol showed up for like 5 minutes) and eventually the conversation "expired". I came to understand that the flight they sold me (AK 857) doesn't operate on Sundays. I have another ticket bought from them, for the 25th August (Thursday), from KL to Krabi (AK 868) and I already checked Flightaware and found out that the flight only operates on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. I asked for a refund for the flight that got cancelled by AirAsia, but so far I haven't got my money back and from the looks of it, I'm understanding that the same situation will arise with the KL to Krabi flight. Don't trust AirAsia flights and always check on several sites if the flights actually exist and operate on the days they are selling them.

Route: Chiang Mai to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Transavia

Title: "never landed on time"

Review: Amsterdam to Malaga. Flying at least every 2 weeks for the past 1 years and never landed on time. The usual amount of delay is at least half an hour every flights and today we are already delayed in Amsterdam for at least half an hour again due to the incompetence for not finishing the boarding in time.

Route: Amsterdam to Malaga

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: "one-hour delay to Vienna"

Review: Austrian Airlines made the return trip from Mallorca unpleasant for us with its one-hour delay to Vienna. In the plane, except for a glass of water, everything is paid for by card, including coffee, which the airline should offer free of charge for an hour's flight delay. As a result, we missed the reserved seats on the bus to Bratislava. We had to urgently look for an alternative connection at the airport in Schwechat. If we didn't find anything, we would be forced to take a taxi all the way to Bratislava, and Austrian Airlines would definitely not reimburse us for that. We will never travel with Austrian Airlines again, we would rather not go on vacation. They should improve to a great extent. Spiatonú cestu z Malorky nám znepríjemnila letecká spolonos Austrian Airlines svojím neuvedeným hodinovým mekaním do Viedne. V lietadle okrem pohár vody sa za vetko platí kartou, aj za kávu, ktorú by mala letecká spolonos ponúknu bezplatne za hodinové mekanie letu. Tým pádom sme zmekali rezervovane miesta v autobuse do Bratislavy. Museli sme narýchlo hada náhradný spoj na letisku na Schwechate. Keby sme ni nenali, boli by sme nútené ís taxíkom a do Bratislavy a to by nám Austrian Airlines urite nerefundoval. U nikdy viac s Austrian Airlines nebudeme cestova, radej nepôjdeme na dovolenku. Mali by sa zlepi a to vo vekej miere.

Route: Palma de Mallorca to Vienna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: TUI Airways

Title: "delivering a way below par service"

Review: Delayed take off - no issue with this. Flying from a skiing trip you do expect the weather to possibly delay things. On arrival at Manchester it took 1 hour 25 minutes for the cases to filter through from the aircraft to the luggage belt. No explanation! No staff around to ask. Incredibly frustrating. A 98 minute flight took over 10 hours including the time from resort; 3 pick ups, delays in take off and delays with luggage handlers. Very poor TUI. Manchester is an international airport but sadly your ground crew delivering a way below par service.

Route: Geneva to Manchester

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jazeera Airways

Title: "smallest and worst terminal"

Review: The Jazeera terminal is the smallest and worst terminal. I had a 7 hour stay to catch my flight to Jeddah from Kuwait. There are not enough chairs to sit. I had 2 children with me who couldn't sleep anywhere. The business lounge has no facility to take rest/sleep like Flat Chairs.

Route: Jeddah to Kuwait

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Condor Airlines

Title: "Just don't fly Condor"

Review: First, my ticket was booked by the company I work for through a corporate booking company. As it was booked through my company, you can't use the Condor App, web page, or Condor phone customer service to help you in anyway if you have an issue. Even when the booking company called Condor directly, which Condor said was the only way changes or seat selection could be made, Condor still said no. I booked Premium Economy and then paid $50 on my personal credit card for my seat. The ticket itself was paid for by my company, I had to pay for the seat with my personal credit card. Then, 3 days before the flight, Condor changed planes and the new plane didn't have Premium Economy. Not sold out, but the new plane didn't have those seats at all and no refund for the $50 for my seat selection. My wife was traveling with me, she purchased her ticket directly from Condor, and no seat even though she paid $50 as well. My wife is vegan and selected a vegan meal. But we are now on the plane in economy, and no vegan meal for her. She is allergic to dairy so her Vegan meal is not a choice, but a medical condition. Her ticket says Vegan meal, when she signs on to the app it says Vegan Meal, but when the Attendant looks at her list, there is no Vegan Meal. The attendant says "it must have been lost because your seat was changed from Premium to Economy". She brings my wife a banana for a 10 hour flight. Economy is the absolute smallest seat I have even flown. We flew on KLM's Cityhopper later on our trip which is an Embraer 190. Tiny plane with only 2 rows on each side. We had more legroom on a commuter plane than on Condor Economy. Inches more. I am 5 ft 11 inches and I have shared a photo of the legroom on Condor. My knees touched the back of the seat in front of me. Condor refunds us the difference between Premium Economy and Economy. But not for the seat selection. So, we are out $100. About the only positive thing I can say is they didn't lose our checked bags. Really low bar. Just don't. Just don't fly Condor.

Route: Los Angeles to Frankfurt

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Norse Atlantic Airways

Title: "be flying with Norse again"

Review: The staff on this aircraft were polite, kind, and very attentive to people around me, and myself who was not feeling very well. They helped me move to a more spacious seating area as soon as boarding was complete. They were understanding and very quick with service. I will definitely be flying with Norse again. Thank you

Route: New York to London Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Turkish Airlines

Title: "well trained and service oriented"

Review: Took TK from Manila to Ankara via Istanbul in Business Class with A350. I used to fly the same route with Boing 777. Both are good planes but A350 has a better concept for Privacy I guess the families with children may prefer Boing 777. Departed on time received good service and good food. Wi fi was excellent. It seems like There is some additional investment on cabin crew. This time I found them much better, well trained and service oriented. Istanbul to Ankara it was Boeing 777 which was unusual and Business class had 60 to 65% occupancy. This flight was probably the worst domestic flight experience I have ever had. Crew was so noisy talking to each other and using the trolleys to serve the meals. On the way back from Istanbul we had approximately 40 min late departure due to connecting flights and it was also a nice flight

Route: Manila to Ankara via Istanbul

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: "The fees are unbelievable"

Review: Horrible experience! The fees are unbelievable. DO NOT FLY WITH FRONTIER AIRLINES! We have never paid so much for checked bags as well as for carry-on bags (and of course seats were extra as well). We paid $140 per bag because they weighed 49#. We had to pay $65 per carry-on (which by the way were backpacks). Please do not Frontier Airlines. There are too many other options. Even if you save a few dollars on the ticket price you will almost certainly pay more once you add the fees for a seat on the plane and luggage.

Route: Phoenix to Cleveland

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: China Airlines

Title: "Unbelievably horrible"

Review: Los Angeles to Manila via Taipei. Unbelievably horrible! Flight for my brother was May 1st. It's now the 7th and my brother still doesn't have his luggage! He can't buy clothes his size in the Philippines. I spent 7 hours and $200 in international calls trying to track down his lost luggage. His luggage "may" show up in Manila tomorrow - seriously? Worst customer service.

Route: Los Angeles to Manila via Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Croatia Airlines

Title: "on time and quite comfortable"

Review:

It was my first time with Croatia Airlines and I was completely satisfied. For a little company everything was proper on time and quite comfortable. I do not expect miracles on a short budget line, but there are unpleasant surprises - this time they were gone.

Route: Copenhagen to Split via Zagreb

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "provided hospitable service"

Review: I had a pleasant trip from Beijing to Boston. Check-in at Beijing was smooth and quick. Flight attendants professional and provided hospitable service. They helped me put my luggage to overhead bin. Food is eatable but recommend to add more options.

Route: Beijing to Boston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Garuda Indonesia

Title: "success to Garuda Indonesia and their team"

Review: Flew on GA89 Amsterdam-Jakarta. For First Class passengers check in is at the VIP Lounge where all facilities such as check in, immigration is carried out. This is a great service as there is no need for queuing to check in. When time for boarding the VIP Team escort you to the plane. As it was an overnight flight and going through many time zones the captain gave announcement over India welcoming in the new year and wishing all passengers a Happy New Year the cabin crew and passengers happily welcomed in the New Year. The First-Class cabin crew, which was made up of Vivi, Sentry, Cherlida, and the Chef Deni provided excellent service throughout the flight. Additionally, I was provided with two main meals and there was a very good menu selection. There was also a good selection of snacks and drinks available throughout the flight. On arrival in Jakarta, I was met by Eca from First Class Team who escorted me through immigration, customs and out the car provided by Garuda to take me home. I also met Pak Akbar manager from the Ground support Team. Thank you, Pak Akbar. Another great flight on Garuda Indonesia and Happy New Year and success to Garuda Indonesia and their team both in the air and on the ground for 2023.

Route: Amsterdam to Jakarta

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "staff went out of their way"

Review: Sat 25 Aug 2019 my dad had to take a flight from George to Johannesburg via Safair, but forgot his ID book at home and could not board the flight. He had to get his ID book and come back for the later flight, but was without transport to get back home. The staff went out of their way and beyond to assist him and made sure he got onto the next available flight even assisting him to sort out his ID to be able to board. We just want to thank these two people and give them our sincerest appreciation - we have never had customer service like this - Thank you so much - you guys are amazing.

Route: George to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Privilege Style

Title: "flight was comfortable"

Review: Manchester to Tenerife. On the morning of our flight, TUI informed us that due to scheduling issues, they have enlisted Privilege style as a charter airline. The seat was comfortable, only issues were my tray table was loose, the window was in a position that caused pain on my neck to look out of it. The interior felt somewhat tired. Apart from this, the flight was comfortable and landed safely.

Route: Manchester to Tenerife

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Evelop Airlines

Title: "I would recommend Evelop"

Review: Madrid to Punta Cana. Long queues to check in. Only 3 counters for 380 people. Aircraft clean and well maintained. Standard seats with no PTV, only overhead screens with English / Spanish movies. They offer a free hot meal with two options of main course and a snack / breakfast before landing. Flight on time and friendly crew. Considering they have packages with child for free and good prices, and airplanes are newer than other Spanish charter airlines, I would recommend Evelop.

Route: MAD to PUJ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "Highly disappointed"

Review: GoAirs website being horribly designed got me to book a connecting flight with long haul when there was direct flight available. I cancelled my flight with 60 seconds of booking because they said I would get a 100% refund. Of course this wasnt the case. They still havent provided me a full refund 2 weeks later. Highly disappointed.

Route: Mumbai to Maldives

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Pacific

Title: "weight above the allowed limit"

Review: Hanoi to Danang. Terrible airline and not necessarily cheap. I assumed luggage size and weight would be acceptable since me and my wife just had a backpack and 1 suitcase combined (carry on size) at the last moment before getting aboard one of the staff pulled my back to tell me to check my weight. The weight was above the allowed limit I felt like this was a last minute cash grab. We were given the option to pay extra to have the baggage taken into checked baggage if we paid about $22 USD. Beyond this there is nothing good on the plane and no free food to eat.

Route: Hanoi to Danang

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Adria Airways

Title: "worse than the budget airlines"

Review: Ljubljana to Zürich. Firstly, Ljubljana airport is terrible. Badly trained staff, unfriendly. Toilets are very dirty. Flight 2 hours delayed without any information. There is no Information desk so questions arent possible. Never again will use this airline. Its even worse than the budget airlines and thats difficult.

Route: Ljubljana to Zürich

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "Seats very uncomfortable"

Review: Mexico City to Rome. Seats were very uncomfortable. The screens didn't work during the flight. The crew didn't answer when the button was pushed to call them. I asked for gluten and lactose free meal, and my meal had lactose products which i didn't noticed and made me feel awful during the flight.

Route: Mexico City to Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "provides excellent service"

Review: Singapore Airlines ranged from excellent to good. Syd-Sin-Cph (Oct 6, 2022) was excellent. Of course in Economy we were packed like sardines, but the tin was large enough (and neighbours small enough) that we weren't particularly uncomfortable. This is the third time we've flown post-Covid. The first time on Thai it seemed that Covid was the excuse to give no service at all but Singapore Airlines both at Xmas 2021 and last month provides excellent service. Food was very good and alcohol plentiful. The entertainment system provided enough to occupy us for this long haul. Flight attendants were very attentive. We stopped over in Singapore on our way home. Unfortunately Sin-Syd leaves shortly after midnight. The flight was delayed and it was after 1am before we left. This is a long time between meals and we were uncertain whether we'd be given a snack and night cap before going to sleep but no announcement was made and we stayed in limbo between sleeping and waking for most of this leg. Of the four legs of our journey this is our only complaint.

Route: Sydney to Copenhagen via Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Qantas Airways

Title: "please look after your passengers"

Review: Requested three halal meals but when it came to flight attendant service, they say there is no halal meal on the list. Next time please look after your passengers. Dont want deal with Qantas anymore.

Route: Auckland to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Icelandair

Title: "I need my money back"

Review: I bought a ticket on business class through Edreams company, with Icelandair to travel to Geneva, through Iceland capital on 31 May 2020. But some days before the flight I received a cancellation notice of the flight from Icelandair, while I cancelled my accommodation lease for that date in New York, trusting the company Icelandair and thinking that I will be travelling on that date, which caused me a lot of trouble after, because I couldn't travel on the 31st of May. And I am blocked now in New York, because of Icelandair and Edreams. Icelandair with the help of some companies like Edreams are selling tickets of flights that they know will not be fulfilled in order to keep the money of the travelers, this is a scam and theft, and not a legit business. Then after many unanswered calls, I submitted a request for a refund, but didn't even receive a reply from them till now, I wonder now, are they a valid company or a scam company taking the money of naïve people like me. I don't want a voucher I need my money back to buy a new ticket to travel to Geneva.

Route: New York to Geneva via Reykjavik

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Flynas

Title: "best described as sad"

Review: I booked FlyNas since it is the only airline offering a direct flight between Vienna and Riyadh. 5 hours is all it takes and I booked their premium class. What FlyNas delivered is best described as sad: Time of our flight moved forward by 40 minutes without notice. Check in in T3, but boarding in T1. Flight went first to Salzburg for a 50 min stop and to offload and load passengers while arguing with ground staff on missed safety issues. Seats in premium cabin are very uncomfortable and identical to Economy. Waste of money. Cabin was freezing, no blankets available. Seats recline enough for a 1 hour flight but not a 7 hour plus journey. No power sockets. First 2 sets of overhead bins on either side of the cabin are reserved and used for crew luggage. Crew could not care less where passengers, paying premium prices, store their Hand luggage. Food in its presentation, selection and quality was dismal. 1 bottle of water offered during 8 hours in the aircraft. Crew did not ask once if they could possibly be of help. No hand towels in the toilet. Of course neither screens nor wifi. The 5 hour journey started at 1000 at Vienna Airport and ended at 2000 in Riyadh.

Route: Vienna to Riyadh

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "felt very rushed and unpolished"

Review: Aeroflot has set high standards of achieving a 5-star airline status and my expectations significantly increased as a result. Positives included a seamless upgrade from Comfort to Business at LHR, good Plaza Premium lounge, very good miles earning vs redeeming ratio. The A350 hard product is phenomenal, especially on a short London route, and the catering on this flight exceeded the expectations (usually poor hot meal, however, the 4 cheese pappardelle was very good). However, there are two drawbacks on Aeroflot. Firstly, I dislike Aeroflots or SVOs standard practice of parking planes at the literally remotest ramps possible in -6C and with ice covering the stairs. I understand there maybe logistics issues, but doing so to a premium-heavy flight like London and for their most luxurious widebody is just beyond logic. I am observing that the crew service on the A350 / B777 is poorer than on their other planes. It gave me a feeling that the crew were very much undertrained; as a result the service, although efficient, felt very rushed and unpolished. I still believe that the Aeroflot Business Class is above any of its European counterparts from the overall package size view, and if one manages to upgrade for miles (amazing redemption value) like I often do, then this product is possibly the best business class. However, full-fare paying passengers might be disappointed, because, in addition to a cutting-edge hard product, for such money, you expect a hospitable and personalised staff service beyond the just tick attitude. Overall, is Aeroflot a good airline, yes. Is Aeroflot a 5-star level airline and is its business class worth paying a full fare, no.

Route: London to Moscow

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Openskies

Title: "flight yesterday was cancelled again"

Review: Flew Openskies from Paris Orly to Newark. I have flown this airline and route maybe twice a year or so for the past ten years, and in recent years the frequency of cancellations of my flight out of Orly for supposedly "mechanical failures" has risen to unbelievable proportions. My flight yesterday was cancelled again. I do travel regularly, often with BA, and I have never experienced such a high rate of flight cancellations on any other route.

Route: ORY to EWR

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Eurowings

Title: "isnt really a business class"

Review: Checked in on Eurowings App but had to go at check in desk as I had some questions regarding lounge, priority lane etc. The person at the business class counter was not aware of anything, basically denied me lounge access (eventually indicating me the wrong lounge) and priority lane. At the end I could enjoy the priority lane and had no problems getting into the -right- lounge, by simply asking people working at the airport. Onboard incredibly nice flight attendant in the front of the cabin. She really made a difference. Business class with Eurowings isnt really a business class, except lounge access and priority lanes/boarding (depending on the airport of departure): while flying, the perk is basically the seat next to yours is not occupied and you can choose from the onboard sales menu and get the items for free. Still, all is in a paper cup and packed, so dont expect a nice presentation on china of what you eat, you just havent to pay for it (as long you paid your business class fare).

Route: Birmingham to Düsseldorf

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "Horrible experience"

Review: Horrible experience. Delay after extended delay and the crew is acting like its just another day with little regard for how much our days have been turned inside out. Their only recourse is to offer points for the next trip with JetBlue. Why on earth would anyone travel with them again.? Do not travel with JetBlue. The few dollars saved is not worth spending an entire day in an airport n missing functions because of delayed flights.

Route: Kingston to New York JFK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "a very bad experience"

Review: Johannesburg to George. I had a very bad experience with flysafair both times Ive make use of them and this is my first bad review of any service or place. After booking online for a extra check in suitcase they denied it and make me pay again further the staff at boarding in Johannesburg shouts at us. In George on 3 seats with a window seat only to be called back to exchange tickets for seats across the passag,e now I sit with a crying daughter who made herself ready for a window seat so I would rather next time use a more organized airline.

Route: Johannesburg to George

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "arrive in Ghana to no luggage"

Review: Booked a flight from London to Ghana with the stop over in Egypt. Only to arrive in Ghana to no luggage and no one had any information as to where the luggage could be. This made us extremely unhappy.

Route: London to Accra via Cairo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Malaysia Airlines

Title: "not good flight; not recommended"

Review: Flight delayed by 1.5h, Passengers were informed 2h before departure, which was useless as anyone was on their way to airport already. Service was ok, but food and beverages were very poor. No alcohol, and food was bad quality economy class served on China. No menus. The purser told me "You want chicken or pasta, we also have beef, but it looks just so so" . At lease he was honest. Overall, not good flight; not recommended

Route: Bangkok to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Qantas Airways

Title: "£rang for service three times with no response"

Review: Service was okay on the first plane, but on the A380 it was nonexistent. I rang for service three times with no response after an hour I got up and went to the stewards section where two stewards were sitting and ask for a drink. The response was a hand appeared from behind the curtain with a drink in the hand and no sorry. The food trolley had one steward handing out meals and drinks, it took her ages to get to the rear section. Is this the standard for economy, now I am a pensioner and cannot afford premium if I ever fly again I will think twice about Qantas or the A380.

Route: Brisbane to London via Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "I've asked for a partial refund"

Review: I actually made four long-haul flights on Cathay this trip. Overall, the standard was solid four-star, rather than five. The food and drink were acceptable, if unexciting, and the seats were comfortable. But the absence of any sort of privacy screens was surprising and felt dated. All the flight attendants were extraordinarily prompt at responding to requests for service and appeared willing. I had two main issues. On the flight from Auckland to Hong Kong (11-1/2 hours, 38 seats in business, I think) there was no Champagne available after takeoff. A flight attendant told me they had only loaded three bottles, which ran out on the ground. The flight was late into Hong Kong, so I was transferred to a later flight on which I was assigned (without warning or apology) a middle seat, instead of the window I'd reserved. The absence of any privacy screen meant I spent a rather intimate 13+ hours with a stranger. He was a nice chap, but if I want a blind date, I'll go online rather than on an aircraft. I paid £5,000+ for business because I wanted Champagne and privacy, so I am not too happy. Anyways, I've asked for a partial refund and was going to await a response from Cathay before posting. But Cathay has just responded: "A member of our Customer Care team will review your case and respond in approximately six weeks time." Oh well.

Route: Auckland to Hong Kong via London

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Vueling Airlines

Title: "On time. Lovely staff"

Review: On time. Lovely staff. Luggage arrived on time there and back. Really happy as I am a very anxious flyer. We had bike boxes and another hold bag and the service was speedy and stress free.

Route: Gatwick to Malaga

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "Crews were good"

Review: I purchased the ticket online and they were offering a discounted rate for a round trip last year. The ground service was good but check-in process was slow. Good food and entertainment inflight. Crews were good as well.

Route: Bangkok to Dhaka, Bangladesh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Allegiant Air

Title: "having computer issues"

Review: Been on vacation to Punta Cana. Get to the airport and check in at 10:30 am for a 1:00 pm flight home. Sat on the plane for 2 hours while they explain to us that they're having computer issues. After 2 hours they make us all disembark from the plane and haven't given us a status, just keep pushing the time out. First time ever flying with this airline, will be the last. I'd be willing to fly the Three Stooges airline if there was such a thing, before ever flying Allegiant again.

Route: Punta Cana to Cincinnati

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "The customer service is horrible"

Review: Air Canada is the worst airline I have ever flown with. My family of four flew to Athens, Greece from New York and Chicago with a connection at Toronto. In addition to long delays, Air Canada forced us to check in our carry-ons. One of my son's suitcase never made it to Greece. Ten days later and we have no word about where the suitcase is. At the beginning we were told that the suitcase went to Paris but its traces got lost after that. The customer service is horrible. We spent many hours trying to call an Air Canada number we were given but nobody answered the phone after waiting on the line for over one hour at a time. Air Canada ruined our vacation. We will never use this airline in the future. Stay away.

Route: Newark to Toronto via Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "Overall a lousy service"

Review: Prague to Moscow on Dec 30th. My Sky Priority status and Fast Track label should allow for priority boarding. Providing, CSA would manage this process. Boarding has been a complete mess and with just a single single queue based on first come - first served. No priority for parents with the kids, business class, Sky priority or any other things you are normally used to see. The flight was fully booked but boarding has been channeled through a single person, checking all the boarding cards, passports and visa. Consequently, boarding has been an agonizing process and atmosphere was very tense. Unfortunately, my observation suggests that in Prague such a chaos is more the rule rather than exception. There has been no supervisor present at the boarding and it did not look professionally. We have arrived in Moscow with 1 hr 25 min delay. The purser apologized in Czech and English, but not in Russian. However, most of the passengers were Russians. Overall a lousy service.

Route: Prague to Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "Worst experience ever"

Review: Dubai to Casablanca. I booked a one way ticket with this horrible company for 5th of July for 2259.00 AED, but due to an emergency i had to book another one on 21st of June with almost the same amount 2235.00AED. So when I reached Morocco, I called to asked for refund of the first ticket, I got an answer after 3 days of continuously calling, the lady who answered me was super rude and impolite, I explained to her the situation however, nothing happened its been more than 2 months now still waiting for a refund which basically wont ever happen, cause my big mistake is to travel with a low performance airline company, full of thieves and uneducated customer service agents whom me and another traveler paying their salaries. Worst experience ever

Route: Dubai to Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Kulula

Title: "changed the check-in times"

Review: Durban to Lanseria. My wife was at check-in 40 mins before flight and only found out then that Kulula changed the check-in times from 30 mins to 45 mins before departure. No Kulula employee was willing to help even though she had a small bag which could be taken in as hand luggage. This happened on the 13th Nov 2017 and I emailed Kulula on that day and to date I have not received any response. Pathetic customer service from Kulula.

Route: Durban to Lanseria

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "In-flight service was excellent"

Review: We did not receive much assistance on the Noi Bai side, but it was good on the Changi side on arrival. The Song Hong Lounge was decent, with good food and nice view of the apron. Singapore Airlines used an A350-900 for a 3-hour flight, which was amazing. Our book-the-cook meals were decent, though not as good as I would like. In-flight service was excellent.

Route: Hanoi to Singapore

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Privilege Style

Title: "staff on board were amazing"

Review: Manchester to Lanzarote. We booked our flight with TUI but they changed to Privilege because of an issue. I had a 1 year old and 6 year old with me. The staff on board were amazing! They were friendly, great with my children and when my 1 year old was crying before take off they came to play with her distracting her. My 1 year old went to the front to play with the staff at one point of the flight. I found the seat comfort fine, it was clean and just what I expected. If I knew the names of these staff I would have contacted the airline direct and thanked them personally.

Route: Manchester to Lanzarote

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "very attentive and informative"

Review: We queued for checkin for 30 minutes, staff were very good. A chaotic and slow boarding process at the gate but when we entered the jet bridge it was very calm and welcoming with staff being very attentive and informative. We had a problem with our star alliance flight the night before as it was cancelled so we were reallocated this flight. Singapore Airlines gave us the front economy seat which had more leg room than any other flight. It was on time and meals were served soon after take off meals were good as well as the rest of the flight

Route: Manchester to Houston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Breeze Airways

Title: "they started bumping people"

Review: First, the positive. The flight crew is extremely nice and apologetic about the situation. I booked a 1st class ticket at a great price round trip from John Wayne to Orlando. Both ways, they "downgraded" the aircraft and delayed the flight over 3 hours on the outbound and 6 hours on the inbound. The flight went from a non-stop to a refueling stop in Tulsa. Because of the downgrade the flight was then overbooked and they started bumping people. Sparing you the gory details, Do not fly this airline if you want to get to your destination.

Route: Orlando to Orange County,

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "amazing customer service"

Review: Manila to Singapore. Amazing staff on flight 3K764 Monday 20th August. Late leaving Manila and I was concerned about making my connection in Singapore. Staff contacted Singapore ground staff to find out the gate we would arrive at and where my connection would depart. They also sat me at the front of the plane before landing so I could make leave the aircraft quickly. Thank you for all your help on Monday 20th August, amazing customer service.

Route: Manila to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "The worst experience"

Review: The worst company that I ever used. Food is not that you expect. Rude staff. You can't take your hand luggage to board and have to check in your luggage, after that you have to spend time to receive it and hope that you receive it back. The worst experience that I ever had.

Route: Amsterdam to Warsaw

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: QantasLink

Title: "it's just not worth it"

Review: Sunshine Coast to Sydney. Whilst the flight was nice, I would only choose it if I was flying on a connecting Qantas flight afterwards as for a 1 hour 15-minute flight Jetstar still has better value for money. Great experience, but for double the price to Jetstar it's just not worth it if you value your money over a small increase in comfort. Seat: Comfortable with plenty of padding and support, but a bit narrow. However, its better than no padding at all (Jetstar). Legroom: Decent, but I wouldn't want to spend long in it, for someone who is 6' 1", about an inch to spare. Cabin Crew: Helpful and polite, very professional and well kept. Kudos to QantasLink there. Food & Drink Served: As a morning flight (6:30 takeoff) a tasty scroll, juicy apple, some berries and a cup of tea were welcome and completely complementary. Aircraft Overall: The Boeing 717 is surprisingly quiet and is overall very nice to be on. As an aviation fan it has some very cool wing views from row 13,14 and 15, but for me I'd say the best are 16 and 17, as they have an awesome engine view. However, if you are not a plane nerd like myself, I would not recommend them as they are louder than the rest of the cabin. Quieter Seats are found forward of row 9. In Flight Entertainment: Whilst on-board WIFI and IFE is free for business travelers, economy passengers must rent IFE at an extra cost. For this flight it was no problem, and the in-seat literature were enough for the short hop.

Route: Sunshine Coast to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "They cancelled my booking"

Review: They cancelled my booking from Nairobi to Cairo. Hours before my scheduled flight, I received an e-mail stating that my booking was confirmed but needed to check-in in the airport, once I tried to check-in the airport I was informed that my booking was cancelled and cannot board the plane. All Information they gave me, is to go to Egyptairs website and contact them, the website has 100s of numbers that do not answer. After 5 hour of trying different phone numbers, the number that worked was the UAE number. Important to say, that in the 10 hours that I was in the Nairobi airport trying to sort out my flight, the Egyptair office in the airport never opened and the Nairobi office in the city is closed on weekends. Worst customer service if something goes wrong with your flight.

Route: Nairobi to Cairo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Georgian Airways

Title: "They have the worst support ever!"

Review: They have the worst support ever! No online option for cancelling a ticket. When I wrote to them to cancel the ticket, they answered me once with the options. When I have told them what to do, they have not replied again. I tried to call them various times, but each time after 5 minutes the call is being ended because nobody picked up.

Route: Berlin to Tblisi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Philippine Airlines

Title: "Zero professionalism"

Review: Terrible experience. The flight was rescheduled 4 times before it's cancelled last minute. Not only once, the return flight was also rescheduled 3 times and delayed for 7 hours. Think twice when you book with this airline. Zero professionalism in handling flight disruptions, they don't care at all. It was a traumatic experience for us. This is the worst airline nightmare you could imagine.

Route: Manila to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai Smile Airways

Title: "Great service all around"

Review: Pleasantly surprised to be given a bottle of water and a Danish pastry just after take off. Especially considering it was a very short flight. Just over an hour. After enjoying the snack the stewardess quickly came back with fresh hot tea and coffee. Great service all around.

Route: Chiang Rai to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: LOT Polish Airlines

Title: "refuse to pay compensation for the delay"

Review: Due to delay at the departure airport I missed my connecting flight. After 3 hours in line to speak to the customer service, I was told that there were no flights within next two days that they could offer me. They advised that my best option was to make alternative travel arrangements by myself. I decided to take the train to reach my destination. The airline refuse to pay compensation for the delay or take any liability for the cost of alternative form of transport.

Route: Amsterdam to Wroclaw via Warsaw

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cubana Airlines

Title: "Staff was very rude"

Review: Toronto to Cayo Coco return. We returned from Cuba to Toronto on February 19 leaving 11:35 from Cuba. Staff was very rude, it seems like they didn't care. We asked for tea and they brought the tea - we then asked for milk and sugar and she even didn't acknowledge this, not even the second time.

Route: Toronto to Cayo Coco

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Canaryfly

Title: "could not rebook my tickets"

Review: Gran Canaria to Fuerteventura. I bought the tickets 4 months before the flight. But in the meantime I got sick and recovery lasted long. Thats why I wanted to replace the tickets for another date. For a few days I called this phone number but no one answered. For serious companies it is unacceptable. After a few days someone finally answered and told me I could not rebook my tickets.

Route: Gran Canaria to Fuerteventura

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Koryo

Title: "the aircraft was clean"

Review: Pyongyang to Beijing with Air Koryo. The departure and arrival were punctual, staff smiling and friendly, the aircraft, including toilets, was clean and there were magazines and newspapers at the entrance. The food was a chicken burger but the drink selection was rather limited, either water or one type of soft drink. It is maybe not the most luxurious airline but the service for a short-haul flight is better than European or American airlines I have used for the same distance.

Route: Pyongyang to Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jin Air

Title: "experience was generally positive"

Review: Overall, Jin Air is a solid low cost carrier. I flew a roughly 5 hour route between Incheon and Vientiane, and the experience was generally positive. My only complaint is regarding seat comfort. The seats seem to be narrower than those on other airlines I have flown, and the pitch is nothing to brag about. One tip is that on the B737, do not take an aisle seat. There is some sort of metal box bolted underneath the seat in front of you, taking up a significant fraction of the space where your feet might go (if you stretch your legs out so that your feet go underneath the seat in front of you). This seems to be the case for all the aisle seats, and believe me, my feet were in a very uncomfortable position. Otherwise, I have only good things to say. The flight crew were friendly and helpful (although I didn't need anything unusual that would require great service anyway). Operations were smooth, and the staff at the gate did a good job. I was running late because of a delay in my connecting flight, and they checked me in right away with no worries. The food they served was solid. It was less than one would receive on a 5 hour flight from a flagship Asian carrier, but better than what you would hope for in North America and acceptable given the low cost. On the ICN-VTE leg, it was dinner time and they served a simple starchy rice with mixed vegetables-very tasty. On the way back it was breakfast hours and they served a basic combo of yogurt, fruit, and a roll. The meals come in a charming cardboard box designed with the Jin Air logo and colors. One remarkable thing about Jin Air is its concept-while an airline's brand won't affect your flight experience in the same way as seat size or staff friendliness, it plays a fundamental role in the mental experience you have while travelling. Many kudos to the flight attendant uniforms, with their minimalist style: jeans, a green top, and a hairpin in the shape of the Jin Air logo (a butterfly designed so that there is an image of a plane formed in the blank space between the wings).

Route: ICN to VTE

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "it was very disappointing"

Review: First time flying business class with Emirates and it was very disappointing. A very early pre-boarding process in Amsterdam, while the crew was waiting in the tiny area as well for the airplane to be cleaned. So 500 People squeezed into a waiting area for an hour. Boarding is messy. Boarding music is terrible and, if delayed, played on repeat for hours. The seat is quite nice. The crew works very hard, but the service is just chaotic and messy with their trays, stuff stacked on top of each other. Meal service starts 2 hours after take off. On the way back used the business lounge in Dubai. It is far from the quality of lounges other airlines have, including most European airlines. Again delayed. Gipsy King music again for the 2 hours on ground during boarding. Poorly informed by the captain and mixed/contradicting info from the cabin crew. All the purser could say that it wasn't their fault. Overall, all facilities and procedures are quite average, food and drinks are ok. (Drinks actually very nice), crew was a mix of friendly, hard-working people and some who couldn't care less.

Route: Dubai to Amsterdam

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: WOW air

Title: "our bad experience"

Review: Baltimore to Milan via Keflavik. To all travel friends, this is our bad experience flying with WOW air. First about carry on personal bag carries need pay 65 Euro. No water given free in 8-9 hours international fly. Everything you need pay for that. And always sales on the air plane was distributed. No flying with WOW air more for me and family. The first and the last.

Route: Baltimore to Milan via Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "they do not respect their customers"

Review: In June 2022, we were going back to Montreal from Toulouse (with a layover in Munich). The plane left Toulouse over an hour late, which made us miss the flight from Munich to Montreal. We had to wait 4h in line to get the tickets for the hotel/cab + plane tickets for the next available flight (24h later) to Montreal. The next day we got into the plane, the plane was nasty. I tried putting my bottle of water in the compartment in front of my seat and as I reached to put it I touched used, humid Kleenex from the previous passengers. I was about to take a picture of it when the stewardess saw me and changed our seats. The new seats were as nasty as the previous one, coffee stains on the table, visible old journals in the compartment, hairs on the other table, etc. That was at the time when Airlines companies were supposed to clean the planes very well in between flights (for obvious COVID reasons), we were also still required to wear a mask at all times. Two days after my arrival, I wrote a complaint and asked for the legal compensation for the missed flight (over 24h forced stay in Munich) and I also complained about the dirty plane, asking for a supervisor to call me. I did not receive and calls, only a weird email asking me for my banking information, which I replied to saying I wasnt comfortable giving this information that way. It took 5 months (November 2022) before I received another email stating that it was a safe way to give my information through the website. I did send my banking information through the website shortly after that, reiterating that I also wanted to receive a call from a supervisor. I didnt receive any calls nor any compensation whatsoever. I tried contacting the customer service department a couple of times, they would either hang up on me or make me wait for hours until the line would magically cut. At one point I was able to speak to someone, who confirmed to me it could take a couple months for me to receive something. Its been over a year now, I still havent received the call, I warned them that I would file a complaint to the OTC, asked them to settle this with me before, they didnt reach out to me. I filled the complaint, still wrote to them that I was willing to settle it in a friendly way but they still refuse to call me. So for all the reasons above, I give the lowest rate I could give to this airplane company. The planes are not clean, they do not respect their customers, they do not respect the laws. Do not encourage that type of behavior, book with another company.

Route: Toulouse to Montreal via Munich

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: airBaltic

Title: " Absolute nightmare"

Review: Riga to Gatwick. Never flying with Air Baltic again. Made a whole load of people check and weigh their luggage. I knew I was slightly over the weight (400g) so removed something from my bag and then put on my pocket. Partner had to remove things and add to my bag to make his fit though it was fine on the way out. Then they reweighed mine. Luckily ok. Absolute nightmare and they were charging people 60 a pop!

Route: Riga to Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "such unhelpful staff"

Review: Marrakesh to London via Casablanca. When we arrived at the airport in Marrakesh our flight had been cancelled and we had a connecting flight in Casablanca. After waiting for several hours we were bussed to Casablanca leaving us no time to catch our flight. After going through security we were told at baggage drop it was too late. We pleaded with them as it wasn't our fault and were told to leave the line and find a manager which we refused to do as we had no time. We explained the situation to them and no one wanted to help. Eventually we got the go ahead and were told to run to the gate. There were several more checkpoints to go through with long cues and no help. We had to run from point to point and when asking for help were just ignored. The gate was at the far side of the airport so eventually arrived with a pocket full of cash that we couldn't spend in the duty free, dying of thirst as we couldn't stop to buy water and dripping wet through after all the running. All we needed was for one member of staff to be helpful and get us to the departure gate quickly through security and it wouldn't have been an issue. I have never come across such unhelpful staff.

Route: Marrakesh to London via Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "boxes fixed under the seats"

Review: Terrible seats. We had no space for our legs due to boxes fixed under the seats in front of us. My girlfriend had these boxes fixed in front of her, leaving her only 60% of space for her feet. Myself had only 70% of normal feet space for economy class.

Route: Singapore to London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SCAT Airlines

Title: "not sure it is worth it"

Review: Almaty to Oskemen. I flew this airline before and it was ok, but this time my bad experience started with the check-in, where I was offered to either pay 5000 tenge to the check-in attendant or 7000 to the cashier. It could lead to a situation when I could be missing a bag, but on paper everything would be just fine. I was also told that supposedly my hand luggage wouldnt fit, so I would have to check it in, while according to their website my bag is exactly what it should be. I had my laptop in it, and there was no way I was going to check it in. I called their Almaty office to complain, but they hung up on me in the middle of conversation. The aircraft that they gave us was sitting in the cold overnight and the ice that accumulated inside started thawing as it got warmer and a number of passengers had water dripping all over them. The flight attendants acted as if it were a normal occurrence. They are cheap, but I am not sure it is worth it.

Route: Almaty to Oskemen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "quality of food is not bad"

Review: I booked this Hong Kong Airlines flight to Vancouver from Hong Kong because of its unbelievable low price (USD380 return, tax included) it was due to the launch of this long haul service. This is the first long-haul route for HX. I took HX flight many times already but never on a long haul one. Honestly, I did worry a lot before the fight. Once I board the plane, I realised there was no TV on the seat. I was totally freak out as I thought I had to spend 14 hours on the plane without any entertainment. There was also no chargers as well. But after the plane took off, flight attendants hand out iPad with pre-loaded movies and videos to passengers. They are not wonderful but better than nothing. The seats are quite standard economy seats like other airlines. Surprisingly the quality of their food is not bad at all. One thing which makes the airline look very cheap is, they blocked out the whole front row and asked people to pay extra to sit. Even there was no one paid the seats, they left them all empty and put a plate on those seats saying you have to pay to sit there.

Route: Hong Kong to Vancouver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Sriwijaya Air

Title: "havent answered our request"

Review: We cant believe that they have canceled the 2 trips we had with them. First to go to Borneo to Sorong and then to go from Sorong a Denpasar. They owe us more than 800. They say they can pay up to 3 months later. But as today (2 weeks after the cancelation) they havent answered our request for a refund. They only want to refund one flight without the connecting ones.

Route: Sorong to Denpasar

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thomson Airways

Title: "you get what you pay for"

Review: Outbound Thomson Airways flight to Punta Cana good with cabin crew very friendly and efficient. Drinks trolley shortly after take off, then meal service. Standard aircraft food, nothing to write home about but filling. Good entertainment on built in seat back screens. Seats had good legroom but are rather narrow. Just pray you are not sitting beside a larger person. Seat configuration not very good at 3-3-3. This only suits family's of three. Much better to have 2-5-2 or 2-4-3 this gives more flexibility and enables more people to be closer to an aisle. Return flight left a lot to be desired due to the non interested crew who were more interested in talking to each other than serving passengers.

Three times I was asked what I would like to drink and each time I responded, but due to inattention and conversation with cabin crew I was literally ignored to death. Drink measures extremely small, I was given a small splash of brandy with loads of ice. Impossible to taste the brandy. They had miniatures of spirits on the trolley but would not serve them. Seats are incredibly thin and uncomfortable. They would make a fortune selling blow up pressure cushions on the flight. Breakfast served shortly before landing was sausage and omelette, which was surprisingly tasty. The Boeing 787 is a fairly comfortable aircraft but is much over hyped. Claimed to be a lot quieter than comparable aircraft. I would dispute this as I have found Airbus A330 to be quieter than this. There may be something in the claimed air quality as I have not suffered from jet lag as much as before. Overall a fairly good flight which could be greatly improved by reminding cabin crew who pays their wages. Flew as part of a package holiday with First Choice. I suppose you get what you pay for.

Route: LGW to PUJ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "trips are almost always smooth"

Review:

Gulf Air is really not a bad airline when traveling regionally (within GCC) for me. They are always on time, the trips are almost always smooth from take off to landing. Service is great and I would definitely fly with them again. The only drawback is the price of the ticket tends to be steep compared to other airlines like Emirates.

Route: Bahrain to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: American Eagle

Title: "the worse flight experience"

Review: Monterey to Providence via Phoenix / Washington. This was the worse flight experience in my life. Hours of delays, the aircraft was old and seats falling apart. I traveled from Monterey. The plane sat for over 30 mins after boarding. No weather problems. Then there was almost four hours delay in DC. Returning home there was a three hour delay in Phoenix. The toilet lights were not working. The WiFi was working. Everything that could go wrong happened. I will never fly American airlines after my next trip. It's been booked and I can't afford to cancel. I would rate this a zero if I could.

Route: Monterey to Providence via Phoenix / Washington

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Antilles

Title: "This airline is disgusting"

Review: Point-à-pitre to Saint Martin. This airline is disgusting. They have no respect for people or their time. They are the most unhelpful and rudest people we have ever encountered on an airline. They were unwilling to help us try to book an earlier flight, after discovering the plane was delayed two hours which would have made us late for an unexpected funeral we were to attend. Then, even though it was two hours late, they still made us go into the boarding zone, where there was no food and only warm bottles of water in an expensive vending machine. Once, the plane was finally nearing boarding time, they announced another hour of delay. Delays are common and sometimes unavoidable, However, the rudeness and complete lack of help is unacceptable. We not only felt like we were receiving attitude because we were white, we also just felt that they didnt feel like dealing with us because they were too busy eating lunch. Unacceptable. Do not fly with them. We should not be giving them our hard earned money.

Route: Point-à-pitre to Saint Martin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "very pleased with my experience"

Review: Madrid to Casablanca. Excellent experience; this was my first time flying Royal Air Maroc, and I am very pleased with them. The aircraft arrived to the gate on time, and we boarded and departed on time. The seats were clean and comfortable. One of the things that very pleasantly surprised me is that, despite the fact that this flight is barely 1.5 hours, the flight attendants served a delicious, hot meal, complete with beverages. You'll never get anything more than peanuts or pretzels on a domestic flight in America, so imagine my surprise! The flight attendants were polite, friendly, and courteous. The in-flight entertainment was displayed on drop-down screens (old school Charlie Chaplin, so it was family friendly), but I wasn't going to complain about the lack of entertainment options on this short of a flight. You can also access WiFi on your phone, so there are definitely some options. The plane ride was smooth, and there were no issues with debarking and picking up my luggage. Overall, I am very pleased with my experience, and highly recommend my family, friends, and others to fly with Royal Air Maroc. I will definitely be flying with them in the near future.

Route: Madrid to Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "their horrible service"

Review: Bangalore to Kochi. I did not fly at all because of their horrible service. First, they cancel the flight and notify with just an SMS and email. No calls. Second, they give you 2 phone numbers and ask you to call. No matter how long you hold the call, they won't receive it. I even tried their airport numbers. They just ignored the calls. Third, they mention in the email that they can rebook the ticket for us but the reality is different. They just refund you the amount and we have to start looking for another flight. And because the flight was cancelled just 36 hrs before travel, I had to cough up 5 times the money I paid originally for this budget airline. There goes my budget.

Route: Bangalore to Kochi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air France

Title: "Wonderful flight"

Review: Wonderful flight. Extremely professional crew and delicious food. I didn't love the seat and found it a bit narrow compared to others, but didn't detract from the experience. Would recommend.

Route: Mexico City to Paris

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lao Airlines

Title: "had to cancel my entire trip"

Review: Bangkok to Siem Reap via Pakse. Cancelled a regular service flight with less than a week to go, and left me scrambling to find an alternative. Orbitz was no help, and Lao wouldn't even to respond to their requests. Had to cancel my entire trip, thanks to Lao Airlines.

Route: Bangkok to Siem Reap via Pakse

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: LIAT

Title: LIAT customer review

Review: Always late is how it is referred to. 7 hrs to do a 30 min quick hop from Anguilla to Antigua as rescheduled to go via St Maarten. Plane leaving St Maarten was then late, and then having boarded sat on the runway for 1 hr whilst it waited for another late LIAT airline to arrive from another island!

Route: Anguilla to Antigua via St Maarten

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "very happy with the service"

Review: Melbourne to Bangkok via Brunei. I have flown twice now with Brunei business class and must say great airline and was very happy with the service and staff friendliness, terrific food as well. I also find the people of Brunei very friendly and welcoming. I am now a member of there frequent flyer program.

Route: Melbourne to Bangkok via Brunei

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "I cant fault the airline this time"

Review: I stopped flying Thai last year because the product had become so poor and stale. However, I genuinely cant fault the airline this time. I was much more impressed with them. The food was a lot better the crew was less sharp and more friendly. The flight went by without a glitch. Bit bumpy but that was thats the weather not the airline. Back to being my number one carrier to Thailand.

Route: London to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Pegasus

Title: "amazing customer service"

Review: Amazing team at Hubli airport. We had to change the plane in Bangalore to get to Kochi and we might be late, however the team assured us that our baggage will go first from plane, when we have landed. Us and few other people in similar situation were brought by small bus faster than other customer to the airport and one guy from airport in Bangalore from Air Pegasus made sure and check our flights details that we will be on time. Thank you one more time especially for team in Hubli! Amazing customer service.

Route: HBX to BLR

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Shenzhen Airlines

Title: "the worst experience"

Review: London to Bangkok via Shenzhen. Pretty much the worst experience I had on a plane. Staff where highly incompetent, flight attendants where unprepared, the seats were extra small, on-board entertainment was a joke, I mean, there where only 4 movies and all Chinese. Try to avoid.

Route: London to Bangkok via Shenzhen

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "had to pay for that 60 euros"

Review: My wife had a very small hand bag, we had to pay for that 60 euros, so I gave the lady cash, and she answered that they don t accept cash, so i told her what if i dont have a credit card! She answered me, Sir you can complain at Aegean airline or airport in a rude way. When we arrived to our destination, they broke our luggage.

Route: Rhodes to Geneva via Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Laudamotion

Title: "always a hidden fee"

Review: Vienna to Oslo. There is always a hidden fee with this company. Stay away at all costs! 55 Euro for them to print your boarding card. The card did not work at the gate, and they were unwilling to help me get through as the barcode did not work.

Route: Vienna to Oslo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: easyJet

Title: "mislead paying customers"

Review: A professional disgrace. Blatantly mislead paying customers. Ground staff are oblivious to the term customer service. Delay after delay. No explanation, no apology, just live with.

Route: Paris to Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Corendon Airlines

Title: "urge everyone to avoid Corendon"

Review: Terrible airline for blanket cancellations across all UK airports for months of Sept and Oct. No apology and no offer of automatic and speedy refund. An open ticket is offered to be used within 7 days of original flight - which is impossible when all flights have been cancelled by this airline. I urge everyone to avoid Corendon and book with a better airline who have an app that works, respond to messages and actually answer their phones.

Route: Gatwick to Dalaman

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "not recommend this to anyone"

Review: I had a flight from SAV airport to FLL airport the day of May 21st, 2023 at 9pm. I arrived at the airport at 6:40pm at the silver airways counter. I was in line for almost an hour. When I got to the desk they told me that were no more seats available on the plane and that it was overbooked. They then said that the plane was too small. And then they finally said they were gonna change my flight for the the next day. This also happened to the other 23 people that were going on the plane behind me but I was the first one to arrive at the counter. They moved me aside and told me they were gonna put us all on the plane. They started to put everyone on the plane besides me and then they told me I wouldnt be able to get on the plane. I was the only one that wasnt able to fly that night on the plane. This is the worst airline in the US I have tried and would not recommend this to anyone. A review doesnt describe how terrible my experience was or how bad this airline is. To be clear the manager was very disrespectful of my time considering I was the first one that arrived.

Route: Savannah to Fort Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: "cancel a flight 4 hours before departure"

Review: I can believe this company has taken over the market with their false advertising, they just cancel a flight 4 hours before departure, with no option of flying today. We have plans and now we need to move over things because this people dont know how to do their work, they own plenty of planes, so if one broke, get another one ready. A cancellation like this should be penalized

Route: Cleveland to Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Iberia Express

Title: "staff were very nice and helpful"

Review: Flew Iberia Express from Madrid to Rennes. Very good punctuality, we arrived 20 minutes before the scheduled time. The Immfly WiFi connection works very well. Great variety of content like films, series, TV programs for flights of less than three hours. The staff were very nice and helpful.

Route: Madrid to Rennes

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Mauritius

Title: "very good cabin service"

Review: Cape Town to Mauritius return. Both flights very good in terms of cabin service, friendly engaging and polite crews, food OK (ex CPT) to good (ex MRU), plentiful drinks rounds, seat space, VOD quality (although very small screens). Both flights on time, quick baggage retrieval on arrival and a breeze through immigration + customs in both CPT and MRU. Would definitely fly Air Mauritius again and glad to have paid a little additional fare for non-stop flights rather than transferring via JNB.

Route: Cape Town to Mauritius

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "on board they offer nothing"

Review: Prague to Helsinki, flights on time, cabin was clean and staff are polite and decent. The main problem is that on board they offer nothing, you have to pay for everything - even water is not free, this is a low cost airline concept.

Route: Prague to Helsinki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Regional Express

Title: "will not travel again with Rex"

Review: I booked the wrong way instead of MEL-SYD-MEL booked SYD-MEL-SYD same dates. Once I found the error, called 131713 and informed the same within 48 hours of purchasing the 6 tickets under single booking. This is 3 weeks before the flight. This girl charged $66 for each passenger although all six under single booking. Return flight cost $77 but 2 minutes route change cost additional $66 per passenger. Very unhappy and will not travel again with Rex.

Route: Melbourne to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "Worst airline I have ever traveled on"

Review: Worst airline I have ever traveled on. I have never seem such unprofessional staff in an airport in Canada, I won't even get in to it about the cabin crew. They make the flights look cheap but then you have to pay for everything so you might as well just stick with your normal carrier, it might save you money. Travel with more established flights the level of service is better even if you are paying a bit more. I have never seen people at a check in counter just sitting there eating away when they should be helping clients.

Route: Calgary to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Etihad Airways

Title: "experience before boarding is simply horrible"

Review: I have a reservation from Detroit (US) to Hyderabad (IND) via JFK and AUH. I have checked in all my luggage at DTW for Jet Blue from DTW to JFK and I wasn't told there would be a charge or I will not be allowed to carry both carry on and back pack with Laptop. At JFK I had to wait for the Etihad counters to open for more than an hour, once the counter is open they asked us to move to a line and had us wait for 40 mins to start/open the counters. I had to wait just to collect the boarding pass because I couldn't get them from online. When I reached the counter they charged me 60$ as I am carrying a backpack for my laptops. They just said they changed the policy from July which is ridiculous. The overall experience before boarding the flight is simply horrible. Never book through Etihad especially when having a internal transfer with in USA.

Route: New York to Hyderabad via Abu Dhabi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "there was no more beer onboard"

Review: Frankfurt to Singapore on Singapore Airlines SQ325, 23 February 2023. 1st drink service served on trays with cups of water or juice & pack of mixed nuts instead of the drink trolley. 1hr+ into a 12hr flight, dinner was served. When it was my turn, I asked for a beer with my dinner but was told there was no more beer onboard explained staff. This flight felt a lot like Scoot.

Route: Frankfurt to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Regional Express

Title: "Value for money this airline is terrific"

Review: My return trip from Melbourne to Sydney was outstanding. Rex ground and flight crew were efficient, helpful and friendly. Value for money this airline is terrific. There are no hidden extras when you book and you actually pay the price that was advertised. Rex have a full COVID 19 Refund Policy which is easy to access. Within days of requesting a refund after Melbourne's last lockdown the money was back in my account. I can't rate Rex highly enough, this airline is the real deal.

Route: Melbourne to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Ethiopian Airlines

Title: "my experience with Ethiopian Airlines was excellent"

Review: Overall my experience with Ethiopian Airlines was excellent. The planes were modern and comfortable, the flight attendants were courteous and the food was pretty good. Great in-flight entertainment too. Price was a big factor in choosing them for my trip to London and back and as the cheapest option the value I received was exceptional. I would 100% fly them again and intend to next time I make a trip with them as one of the available carriers.

Route: London to Addis Ababa via Cape Town

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Flynas

Title: "never recommend this airline"

Review: Dubai to Jeddah with Flynas. Seats are okay, and the staff is okay. We had a stroller / baby cart. When we got out of the plane, they didn't take out the stroller. It also did not come out with the rest of our luggage. We had to wait good 45 minutes for Flynas representative to get to his desk as he was on a "10 minute break"? Finally, he informed us that the stroller is in the other terminal. There is no way for them to bring the stroller to us, so we had to go to the other terminal by a taxi and get the stroller ourselves. This cost us 2 hours and; 100 Riyal extra as the taxi driver had to wait for an hour for us to finally find our stroller. Why couldn't they bring the stroller out when we were getting out of the plane or even send it through the luggage area. Would never recommend this airline.

Route: DXB to JED

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Peruvian Airlines

Title: "do not waste your money"

Review: La Paz to Cusco and I am so angry after my experience with Peruvian Air. They will delay your flight if they did not sell enough tickets to combine it with a later flight. This made me miss my connecting flight where I allowed Peruvian Air to have 6 hours to make a mistake. Afterwards they did not help us with flights for the next day or even a hotel for that night. Due to the fact the "weather" was bad, they said it was not their fault the flight was delayed. For 8 hours!! They would not take any responsibility at all. Do not waste your money and buy tickets from another company!

Route: LPB to CUZ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: TAAG Angola Airlines

Title: "service was mixed - some friendly, others less so"

Review: Cape Town to Luanda (and back) on slightly older 777-300, but still in good condition. Luanda - Lisbon (and back) on 6 month old 777-300 - very good condition. It had larger screens than the older one - but less movie options, which did not quite match those listed in the in-flight magazine - either way selection is limited. Flight map system much improved in the newer plane. Seats the same slimline style on all planes, comfortable enough, with good recline and leg space. Pillows are provided, but no blankets by default. Catering is decidedly low cost - flimsy plastic tray and so on, and cheap plastic cutlery, however the food was not bad at all. Service was mixed - some friendly, others less so, English definitely not spoken well. Luanda stopover thankfully short, as airport is primitive, with multiple flights leaving from the same gate at the same time, which causes a bit of chaos - nothing too serious though - you will be checked to make sure you won't get on the wrong plane. Airport has no air bridges, so you get a good impression of the sheer size of the 777-300's as you walk up the stairs. This is the most direct route from Cape Town to Portugal, hence the quickest way to get there, as the feeder flights from/to Cape Town/Johannesburg are well-timed. Arrival time in Lisbon (early morning) and departure time (late at night), also very convenient. All in all the combination of new planes (nice), good price, with acceptable levels of service and catering, make this a really good option for getting to Europe from South Africa.

Route: CPT to LIS via LAD

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "experience is very disappointing"

Review: KLM has a 2x2x2 configuration in business class. This means you have to wake your neighbor up in order to use the bathroom. That doesn't really work in business class. Moreover, the power outlets and the headphones ports are located behind your seat which makes it basically impossible to reach. As a matter of fact every time you move, your headphones are disconnected as they're not really plugged in merely laying on a magnetic surface. The planes are ancient and the experience is honestly very disappointing. Lots of screaming kids onboard. This didn't feel like a business class flight at all.

Route: Bogota to Amsterdam=

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "no communication, rude staff"

Review: This used to be my go to airline but the past 3 or 4 times have been horrendous. Delays, no communication, rude staff, and staff not knowing the answers to any questions. I won't be using them anymore.

Route: Cape Town to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Mauritius

Title: "the cabin became very stuffy"

Review: The flight was fine and on time. I had only one concern shared by many co travellers: the air conditioning is not working or set properly. The inside of the cabin became very stuffy. We did ask during the first flight to have the temperature set lower but it was still far too hot and uncomfortable. The seats are also very close, making it extremely uncomfortable to eat.

Route: Johannesburg to Mauritius

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "selling food and lotto tickets rather than concentrating on safety"

Review: Boarding was the normal scramble with people rushing to get into line at the Gate and wanting to be first on. Total waste of time and money paying for Priority Boarding when you have allocated seats Quick turn around meant aircraft hadnt been cleaned. Crisps and biscuits all over the floor around the seat. Normal crew members more interested in selling food and lotto tickets rather than concentrating on safety. Real concern was the fact those sat in the over-wing exit row, two rows in front of us had plastic pint glasses full of beer they were drinking from during approach landing and taxi at Gatwick. So much for the so called final cabin checks.

Route: Shannon to London Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Airways

Title: "cancellations and flight delays"

Review: Sydney to Phuket. Please avoid this airline at all cost. The cancellations and flight delays will end up costing you much much more as we had to rebook flights with other airlines to get home.

Route: Sydney to Phuket

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Kuwait Airways

Title: "worst airline one could ever choose"

Review: This is the worst airline one could ever choose to fly with. Going and coming back they lost our luggage and no one can help in finding them. Completely ruined our vacation we worked so hard towards. Never again

Route: New York to Dubai via Kuwait

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "tickets are not changed even with a fee"

Review: You have to wait at least 40 to 50mins to communicate with Air Serbia. And when you are lucky and that happens you can't communicate unless you speak Serbian. They don't speak English at all. Their tickets are not changed even with a fee.

Route: Athens to Berlin via Belgrade

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: El Al Israel Airlines

Title: "No lounge for business class"

Review: Munich to Tel Aviv. We can even start before explaining the check in and security process for El AL in Munich, which is the most complicated and unfriendly. Its start in Terminal 1 (the old one in the Airport), then goes to check in K. this check is located after the parking area. At the beginning you think you are lost. But thats the direction. Then you arrive to the separated terminal dedicated to ElAl. No lounge for business class, slow check in and security, no shops or proper drinks (small kiosk with basic things). Flight with a friendly and professional air crew but who will remember that after the long long way to this terrible terminal.

Route: Munich to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Sun Country Airlines

Title: "The staff on the way back were rude"

Review: Usually I can take a carry on and did on my way to Florida but on the way back they charged me for my carry-on and told me only backpacks were allowed. Then when I went to pay they said they couldnt take cash it had to be a card. Ive never been treated so badly at the stand. They didnt help guide anyone and when booking the flight months earlier they didnt prewarn anyone this would happen. The staff on the way back were rude. Totally different then my flight there they helped when not sure where to go and did not charge me for my carry on which was 45 dollars I think they were just being greedy on the way back.

Route: Tampa, Florida to Minneapolis, Minnesota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Airlines

Title: "bad experience in my baggage"

Review: Manila to Vancouver via Taipei. My overall experience is okay. Needs further improvement on the audio. Also, the food should be improved, aesthetically and by flavor. Our taste buds arent much functional when in high altitude, so it is a must that aroma and flavor of the food compliments each other, or else, all of the food will just taste all pretty much the same. I had a bad experience in my baggage when the ground steward in Manila told me that my baggage will go straight to Saskatoon (my final destination), and not to be picked up in Vancouver. Since I was a new flyer, I didnt know much of this. I even clarified (twice) with the steward if I will be picking it up in Saskatoon or Vancouver, and he kept on saying that its gonna be in Saskatoon. But when I arrived in Saskatoon, my baggage wasnt there. So much inconvenience on my part. They need to have well-trained and knowledgeable staff when it comes to these types of situation, or a mentor should be around in this case. With this, I dont know if I will fly with China Airlines anymore.

Route: Manila to Vancouver via Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sichuan Airlines

Title: "lunch was delicious and generous"

Review: I was very pleased with the overall experience on my Nanjing to Chengdu flight with Sichuan Airlines. The staff went out of their way to speak to me in English. All announcements during the flight were in Chinese and English. Although a small tablet was provided in every seat pocket as the inflight entertainment, none of the content was in English. I did watch a movie (in Chinese) about a dog called "Snowee" and enjoyed it without fully understanding what was happening. The lunch served was delicious and generous.

Route: Nanjing to Chengdu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: US Airways

Title: US Airways customer review

Review: Very frustrating experience with gate attendant mandating the checking of bags at the gate when overhead space still available. Caused the inability to take original delayed flight through DC and delaying arrival by hours. Delays happen just wish guest service from this airline could provide recovery.

Route: Manchester, NH to Indianapolis, IN via D.C.

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Vistara

Title: "the finest premium experience"

Review: Bombay to Goa in Business Class in an A320. Vistara currently provides the finest premium experience in India. The entire experience was flawless. Comfortable seats, warm service. There is no WiFi on this route but given the short flight time it is not an issue.

Route: Mumbai to Goa

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "flight is going to be cancelled"

Review: After sitting at the gate, they finally tell us as we're boarding that our flight is going to be cancelled. They automatically put us on a flight without asking over 3hrs later with no food or drink vouchers and no explanation.

Route: Lima to Cusco

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: TAP Portugal

Title: "it is all low cost but the price"

Review: The standards in TAP have been going down in the past couple of years but it got to a point where it is all low cost but the price. For starters, I have been flying with them for 12 years and not once has been baggage been weighed. Apparently this has started now. I flew with them in March 2023 and, as always, nobody cared about my hand luggage (I frequently take a trolley and a backpack and a lot of times I've also taken a small ecobag with fragile items I don't want to put in my backpack). My last flight on 24th June 2023 from London Gatwick was different though. The lady who checked my luggage wanted to weigh it so she asked me to put my trolley in the scales and shouted I was over the limit. Highly unprofessional and rude, but then she proceeded to make me even more uncomfortable when she said loudly not one but three times that I was taking 3 items instead of 2 (referring to my ecobag). I was never given an opportunity to take anything out of my suitcase or rearrange my things, instead she took the trolley and asked me to pay £68 straight away. I also noticed there appears to be double standards as the lady on the other counter who was also boarding passengers didn't check any luggage. In addition, the economic crisis seem to be have hit hard as before we used to have a snack on board and now not even a glass of water. I would find this acceptable if I had paid a fair amount for this poor service, but TAP seems to forget that they are overpriced for the quality they are presenting customers with nowadays. Very disappointed and dissatisfied. Will go out of my way to avoid flying with them for the near future.

Route: London to Porto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "I would love to fly again"

Review: Beijing to San Jose. This was my first trip with Hainan Airlines and I can give it 5 stars for its in flight service. The preflight issues were awful and online check in was impossible. The airport check in left a lot to be desired. We boarded to a remote stand by separate bus for business class but boarded together with the crowd. Onboard it was a different experience. The seats were herringbone type which were spacious. The crew were very nice and the menu was excellent. For me it was a treat actually to see no pork items in it. It was like dining in a high class Chinese restaurant at 35000 feet. They offered pyjamas even for us. There was no WiFi but the IE was very good. The toilets were spotless and we landed in San Jose which is a wonderful small airport to arrive into USA from an international flight and avoid the horrors of JFK or LAX. Overall I would love to fly again with it mainly for its inflight service.

Route: Beijing to San Jose

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Namibia

Title: "attendants were friendly "

Review: Windhoek to Cape Town. The food was plenty, attendants were friendly and firm in their instruction. A delay in boarding at Windhoek and no announcement that that was what was happening. Jerking and shaking as the aircraft took off, when I asked one of the staff he said "it was the wind, strong wind."

Route: Windhoek to Cape Town

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Japan

Title: "Every flight was perfect"

Review: Tokyo to Fukuoka via Osaka. Four domestic flights on Jetstar Japan. NRT-KIX, KIX-FUK, FUK-KIX and KIX-NRT. Every flight was perfect from check in to boarding to inflight experience and baggage claim. One flight was better than the next. All crews professional on every level. Everything was organised, civilised, and punctual. I suspect this is more reflective of Japanese culture than Jetstar's competence, but give Jetstar credit when due. In Japan, poor customer service, disorganization, lack of punctuality are all non-existent and not acceptable. Jetstar Japan embodies this. Far and away the single best discount airline experience in memory. Significantly better than most 'full service' carriers. The rest of the industry could learn a few lessons from Jetstar Japan, as they are the gold standard in my opinion.

Route: Tokyo to Fukuoka via Osaka

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Loganair

Title: Loganair customer review

Review: Great service from a great little airline operating on behalf of Flybe. The Dornier 328 is a comfortable aircraft, albeit a little small. The sole cabin crew member was polite, professional, very friendly and chatty. Complimentary snacks and drinks were served and the flights were on time departing and arrived early. In fact, the outbound flight only took 31 minutes, a record according to the crew.

Route: NWI to MAN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "a disappointing experience"

Review: Travelling with KLM again was a disappointing experience from the ground to the gate. Our luggage was missing from their codeshare airline from Sevilla to Amsterdam. We are currently back home with no news on our luggage. Secondly on our departure, we wanted to clarify on our seats but was shut off on our request at the gate. Upon reaching the gate, the staff simply waved off with a full flight without listening to us and constantly cutting us in our sentence. We were even told that there is no need to listen to our long story. The boarding was also messy with no clear instructions on luggage to be put on hold. On board, I was questioned why did I not prepare food for my baby when I had ordered for infant food during booking of the flight. It was an awful start to end and start our year with KLM.

Route: Amsterdam to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "services getting worse"

Review: For the last couple months, I have been dissatisfied with the service. There has been delays upon my trip back home. I can understand an hour but to have to sit in the airport for 7 hours is ridiculous. When you are not being told substantial reason is even more unacceptable. This is an inconvenience to me as I have other important things to take care of. In addition, having to come at the initial time frame of the original flight is even more ridiculous. Having to come to the airport at 2:00pm and not leaving until after 9:30pm does not make any sense to me. I have been flying with JetBlue for years and it seems like the services is getting worse. There is more fees added and decrease in adequate services. I am going to have to take my service elsewhere.

Route: Kingston to New York

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Avianca

Title: "This was my worst experience"

Review: This was my worst experience with this airline, 6 hours international flight, no light meal or even a cup of water. Even you want purchase of food, not everyone has credit card, Chair uncomfortable. No toilet paper on WC, the flight attendant are lazy to clean up or put some toilet paper, when I asked for toilet paper one of the flight attendant she just passed me a toilet paper with wrap around of plastic so I had to do her job and put toilet paper in bathroom. If that airline was cheap like many other airlines in world they are cheap and dont provided food and that is okay, but they price is same as Canadian or US airlines.

Route: Bogotá to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Boutique Air

Title: "nice having a reliable company"

Review: Massena to Boston. I flew once on the charter service on Boutique Air and multiple times on the commercial side of things. I am amazed on how professional and fun everyone is. We know about Boutique Air from living in upstate NY and so me and my 6 friends of mine chartered Boutique Air to New York City for my bachelorette party and then I often take them to Boston. I am hoping for more routes out of Massena since right now they only do Baltimore and Boston. Either way, its nice having a reliable company in my area that I can count on to get me where I need to be!

Route: Massena to Boston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Avianca

Title: "This is a terrible airline"

Review: Use Avianca fly from Quito to Buenos Aires and then return. The quality of seats are extremely poor for a 5-6 hours flights, in both flights our seats could not push back for sleeping and they said it is because it is in front of emergency exit row (not sure why but at least this should be mentioned when they are selling the seat), we paid for a seat which could not be pushed back down. The flight was 5-6 hours and they didn't offer anything to drink/eat, instead they were selling low quality food/drinks in the plane. That was a shame for a $900+ and 6 hours long ticket they don't offer absolutely nothing to eat/drink. This is a terrible airline, while few years before I had good experience travelling with Avianca. Will not use this airline anymore.

Route: Quito to Buenos Aires

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Kulula

Title: "delayed, no apology offered"

Review: East London to Johannesburg. After being warned of recurrent Kulula delays, i decided to take a chance then boom. Flight is delayed, no apology offered by airline, no food offered since its only a 2 hour delay. Who pays for this one. I do not recommend such an airline that cannot manage time.

Route: East London to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air China

Title: "catered for Chinese passengers"

Review: Copenhagen to Beijing via Stockholm. Premium economy ticket purchased through agent which means that you cannot use Air China website to check in, manage booking etc beforehand so we were assigned seats at check in. Air China website has very limited info on what you get for Premium economy - more legroom but nothing else. The first leg was with SAS plus which provided all the details so we were able to take advantage of priority queues and lounge access at Copenhagen which was excellent. When we transferred at Stockholm we were not permitted access to Air China lounge or any extra services. Food on plane was standard and not very appetizing. We had an additional Air China flight Beijing - Hong Kong which was delayed due to weather with no information from AC on reasons why. Return flight HGH-PEK-CPH was ok but nothing to get excited about. Cabin crew did a professional job. In flight media was hopeless. It is controlled from remote fixed into arm rest and is very small in size and buttons are difficult to access. It was very difficult to select items and i often hit call attendant by mistake. Most programmes catered for Chinese passengers with limited up to date western movies or music Overall, despite cheaper prices than competitors I don't think Premium economy is worth the extra. By contrast i wish we had flown SAS Premium economy the whole way.

Route: Copenhagen to Beijing via Stockholm

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Saudi Arabian Airlines

Title: Saudi Arabian Airlines customer review

Review: I am writing to you to express my great dissatisfaction with my recent experience with Saudi Airlines. January 3rd flew Saudia from Washington DC to Lahore via Jeddah and encountered terrible service. I lost my Hand-carry which they took away at time of getting into the plane. The service I received from the airline staff was unprofessional, rude, and slow. My flight was delayed for 19 hours at Jeddah airport, and when I asked the staff for an explanation, they were unable to provide one. I found the staff attitude towards customers to be unhelpful and dismissive. Worse yet, when my flight finally arrived, my hand-carry was nowhere to be found. I had to purchase new clothes, toiletries, and other items in order to make it through the rest of my trip. I had to pay for these items out of my own pocket. I was also disappointed in the customer service I received when I reported the lost baggage. The staff was unhelpful and unsympathetic, and it was clear that they did not take my complaint seriously. They refused to give me a claim number by saying that it was not needed. I have tried to contact the airline both by phone and email, but I have not yet been able to speak to any customer service representatives who can provide me with information regarding my hand-carry. They hung-up the phone on me when I asked for some help. I have now been without my luggage for over three weeks and have yet to receive any response from the airline.

Route: Washington to Lahore via Jeddah

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Oman Air

Title: "complete and utter disgrace"

Review: Oman Air is, quite simply, a complete and utter disgrace. The airline treats its guests with complete contempt. Flights from Amman to Muscat and back were cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic and they are refusing to refund, instead keeping my money (and that of countless other customers) when planes did not even take off. The airline has adopted a policy of hoping customers will stop pestering them so they can keep their money without providing a service. They refuse to help on the phone (or hang up on you) and direct you to an e-mail address. An automatic reply to all e-mails says you may have to wait 15 days for a reply. If you get a reply, they do not help or address any questions you have asked. It is just a copy and paste response. When you reply again, you get the same automatic message saying to wait 15 days. It is a system which seems like it has been purposely designed to annoy and frustrate. I specifically put several times I did not want a voucher or to keep the ticket open, and requested a full refund as is my legal right. This was repeatedly ignored as they kept offering to keep the ticket open. On one occasion I was told to fill out an online form to process my refund. I did this, and eventually got a reply again offering me to keep the ticket open. They eventually said that as per their terms and conditions, I would be paid 12 months after the tickets were booked. So they want to use people's money as an interest free loan. I asked several times where in the terms and conditions it says this and was repeatedly ignored. The reason for this is it is not in the terms and conditions. I also have no faith they will repay the money after this time. I was really looking forward to visiting Oman but my impression of the country is now permanently damaged because of the airline which represents them.

Route: Amman to Muscat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Garuda Indonesia

Title: "another good flight on Garuda-Indonesia"

Review: Flew on GA-682 Jakarta to Sorong. I was able to check in at the SKY Priority desk and I was quickly escorted by the Garuda PSA Team member Yudi through security and into the Lounge. Soft drinks and snacks were provided in the lounge and staff were very helpful. When it came time for boarding Yudi also escorted me to the aircraft. Thank you Yudi, much appreciated. The flight itself was an overnight flight and was quite full, however the cabin crew managed to serve a meal and soft drinks and overall, they were very helpful and engaging in the typical warm and friendly Garuda-Indonesia way. We arrived in Sorong on time, and it took approx. 15 minutes for my baggage to come out, considering that early morning in Sorong is very busy as many airlines arrive with 30 minutes of each other I found this a very acceptable time to wait. Overall, another good flight on Garuda-Indonesia.

Route: Jakarta to Sorong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Blue Panorama Airlines

Title: "worst airline experience"

Review: Santorini to Bergamo. The worst airline experience I've ever. With tickets booked from our travel company they were not accepted and sent us to another desk in another part of the airport to pay 600 Euros to put middle names onto my girlfriend and get our boarding passes - total scam. In the end, after paying the 600eur for the "name changes" I got the boarding passes with first and last name as I had previously! Nobody could explain why we paid that value, nobody even cared if we miss or not the flight, the counter girl was almost making fun of us. Never ever again I will fly with this company.

Route: Santorini to Bergamo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "would absolutely recommend"

Review: I was flying with Virgin America today and I was impressed. The seat comfort was amazing. Being 6/7, flying is not always easy. However, VA had lots of space for my legs and seats felt like being made for my size. It felt very comfortable. Even the headrest was high enough (which did not happen to me yet and I am a frequent flyer). Neither Lufthansa, Singapore Airlines and others had this comfort. The entertainment system offered everything you wanted. Movies, music, games, food and drink orders. In general, the plane seemed very modern. When ordering a gin tonic (the 50ml gin bottle was told to cost 8$, which is a regular price for short haul flights) they offered me 2 for 1 bottles. Soda was free. As I bought my ticket via Skypicker and had a connection flight, I cannot tell how much the single flight was which makes it difficult to state anything about value for money. Ground service was very solid and friendly, no complaints. Cabin staff could have been a little bit more friendly. When I was asking for an emergency exit seat (one emergency exit row was kept empty as any passenger could upgrade their seat for $150, which I think is a lot, especially having that great seat comfort, which I did not know at that time), the cabin staff was not overly friendly, however, they have not been rude at any time. Altogether, I would absolutely recommend Virgin America, at least when they are using the plane I was flying in. Thank you Virgin America for this experience!

Route: Dallas Love Field to Las Vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Astana

Title: "a high level of service"

Review: Almaty to Kuala Lumpur. My family and I travel with Air Astana and are accustomed to a high level of service provided by the airline. During a flight last week from Almaty to Kuala Lumpur I witnessed a crew have to respond to an emergency medical situation about an hour into the flight. The professionalism of the Captain and Crew in handling the situation resulted in saving the life of a passenger. Medical emergencies can happen to anyone and at any time. Having experienced the crew's actions first hand I am confident that my family and I are in safe hands with Air Astana.

Route: Almaty to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Tigerair Australia

Title: "the ticket is not refundable"

Review: Sydney to Gold Coast. I received an email saying that my flight was delayed and when I got to the gate they said it wasnt and that I missed my flight although the door to the plane was still open and the rail was still attached. While I was talking to staff at the gate she starts arguing that Im not checked in which I was and after checking and she finding out that I was she tells me they offloaded me and while I was talking to her she tells them to close the gate. After sending me to 3 different people and talking to the customer service over the phone they tell me theres nothing they can do and the ticket is not refundable and if I want I can purchase a new ticket.

Route: Sydney to Gold Coast

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: US-Bangla Airlines

Title: "unprofessionalism is really disgraceful"

Review: Dhaka to Jessore. It was really a bad experience when the plane started to take off and after a while there was problem with the flights fan or whatever there were some technical issues and then they stopped on emergency basis and later on after a while they started with the same plane though they told us to shift in a new one. After going a little further the plane again stopped at their runway due to the same problem. Then they shifted us to a new plane. The matter here is their unprofessionalism which is really disgraceful. I really would never like to fly with them again.

Route: Dhaka to Jessore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Aerolineas Argentinas

Title: "still no reimbursement or even reply"

Review: By far the worst customer service I have ever experienced (basically there is none). One of these airlines where things are ok as long as there is no issue, otherwise you are in for a treat. Flight cancelled in April (no reason provided but covid would be the logical guess) and still no reimbursement or even reply to my many requests over the last 8 months. There is no number to contact the company, they only give you a WhatsApp number to call (no one answers) or ask you to do so on Facebook (and again they do not reply).

Route: Iguazu to Bariloche via Buenos Aires

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "The worst customer service"

Review: Tried to book a flight through their website. They process my credit card then the next day sent an email stating unsuccessful in the process. But credit card transaction went through. Now to get funds back, it will take 14 to 30 days. The worst customer service I have ever deal with. No support, no phone number or live person to talk with.

Route: Bangkok to Phuket

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Peach Aviation

Title: "definitely fly with Peach again"

Review: Taipei to Kansai return. I was a bit worried about flying with this airline after reading some bad reviews, but everything went very smoothly. The staff were professional and friendly, the airplane seats surprisingly comfortable (but very tight on legroom), and the tickets were good value for money. I would definitely fly with Peach again.

Route: Taipei to Kansai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Alliance Air

Title: "there is a problem with the website"

Review: I purchased a round-trip ticket on the 28th going up and the 29th coming back from Chennai to Hyderabad. I did my web checkin while on the alliance website. I couldn't download the web checkin receipt or get an email. I called customer service, and the woman on the phone told me right away that there is a problem with the website and I can't get the receipt via email or on my phone. I called her and voiced my displeasure, but she could not give a proper answer. Is this how the clients are handled?

Route: Hyderabad to Chennai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Avianca

Title: "refused to provide a refund"

Review: While we were at the check-in counter, the customer service agent questioned whether I had a "medical permit" to fly because of the bandages around my head. Unfortunately, she assumed that I had undergone a surgical procedure when it was actually a minor medical treatment involving stitches. The stitches had been removed by the doctor three days ago, and I had been cleared to travel. Despite explaining the situation to the agent, she insisted on the necessity of a "medical permit" and refused to allow me to board without one. Notably, Avianca's website does not mention this minor medical procedure as a requirement for a medical permit. This mishandling of the situation by Avianca resulted in us missing our flight. They made no attempt to rebook us on the next available flight and instead provided us with a piece of paper instructing us to contact their corporate office. Additionally, they have refused to provide a refund, even though we had paid to upgrade to Business Class the previous night, and they have not offered any flight credit to compensate for their error. As a result, we had to spend $2700 to book a flight with Delta Airlines, which had no issue with allowing us to board. During our 15-hour wait at Terminal 3 in GRU, we decided to inquire with ticket agents from other airlines if they required a "medical permit." Out of the four airlines, we asked, none of them required such documentation and we boarded our Delta Airlines flight with no problem. Avianca's customer service sucks.

Route: Sao Paulo to Los Angeles via Bogota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "no one at the check in"

Review: All flights were cancelled at Terminal 1, NAIA due to technical problems. All passengers of Eva Air BR278 were waiting in line For about an hour and there was no one at the check in counter to explain what we do next, and only a piece of paper showing contact numbers were given to us to rebook. My first time to fly Eva Air because my husband had very good things to say about the airline. The flight was to depart to Taipei at 1850 and I have a connecting flight to LAX at 2355. There was no one at the Check in counter and the Office was closed at 5pm. Text Message to my Phone about flight cancellation was received at 4:31pm and paper with contact information was passed around at around 4:45pm.

Route: Manila to Los Angeles via Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: PLAY

Title: "crew was professional"

Review: The convenience of using New York Stewart was greatly appreciated. Both outbound and inbound flights were on time. The crew was professional and the cabin service was good. Getting an exit row seat on the return was an additional bonus for my 64 frame.

Route: Keflavik to New York Stewart

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Level

Title: "so helpful to me"

Review: Vienna to Gatwick. When I flew to Austria from Gatwick there were some issues with my luggage, which was my fault, and the staff at the check in counter were so helpful to me. When I flew back on Friday 21st there was chaos at Gatwick because of the drones and the airport in Vienna messed the data up of the flight (they said it was cancelled when it wasn't) and still we were able to fly off and get to Gatwick. I am so grateful for this airline. So thank you!

Route: Vienna to Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SATA Air Azores

Title: "nice and helpful"

Review: Ponta Delgada to Terceira. We were told to board and, while in the queue, were advised that there was an issue with the plane. Everyone was sent back to sit, but were kept informed. The plane was some 20 minutes late. Staff were very nice and helpful.

Route: Ponta Delgada to Terceira

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai Lion Air

Title: "a pleasant flight"

Review:

Short-haul international leg from Bangkok DMK to Singapore on the single-class B737-800. Even though it's the first time writing a review for this airline, I have flown with them no less than 10 times in the past, pre-pandemic. Everything went along smoothly, from the check-in counters (<10 min wait), to the boarding process and the entire flight itself. Everyone boarded on time, took off on time and landed on time. Even though it is a budget airline, it is a nice touch when they offer 20kg of check-in luggage at no additional cost, as well as a small snack and bottle of water onboard.

Legroom was above-average for a budget carrier and good enough for most passengers under 6 feet. The crew were approachable and professional, and made for a pleasant flight.

Route: Bangkok DMK to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: TAME

Title: "no online support"

Review: Galapagos Islands to Quito. Worst airline ever. No online support to view reservations or manage booking. There is absolutely no way to choose seats or check-in early. If you arrive at the airport early, they will give you the worst seat. The furthest back row with no recline. If the passenger in front reclines, then you are in the worst possible situation of the entirety of the flight. No room at all. Do not recommend. Dont take this flight. Go with Avianca or Latam.

Route: Galapagos Islands to Quito

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: United Airlines

Title: "worst costumer service Ive ever experienced"

Review: This was the worst experience I have ever had. My family and I purchased tickets for first class meaning we paid an extra $800 just for the airline to refuse our seats and sit us in economy because they dont have availability. If they didnt have any available seats then why was I charged and the worst part of all of it was they gave a free upgrade to a couple to sit in first class the day of the flight! Its free for them because I paid for it! The customer service phone line was a complete waste of time seeing as they did nothing for us. On our return flight home it took us almost two hours trying to get our bags checked because of the ticket situation even after calling the help line. Every single person we have talked to has been nothing but rude. Please save your money and sanity by never flying with United! The absolute worst costumer service Ive ever experienced anywhere!

Route: Tucson to Texas

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Corendon Airlines

Title: "I had a bad experience"

Review: Hurghada to Hamburg. I had a bad experience with Corendon Airlines. They changed the time of the return flight 2 hours earlier, and they actually sent an email, but it went to the spam inbox! so I missed the flight and I booked with them aslo the other day.. The problem is that the flight cordinator in the airport wasn't helpful and simply said it's my fault and left. The flight itself was ok in comparison with the price.

Route: Hurghada to Hamburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "I will never fly Volaris again"

Review: After standing in line to check a bag for 1 and a half hours Francisco asked to weigh my carry on it was 8kgs then he said I need to weigh my small pack pack with it total was 12kgs. he said the limit is 10kgs and I have to pay 500 pesos (25.00) for the 2 extra Kgs. I fly once a month to Cabo but I will never fly Volaris again, worse than Spirit!

Route: San Jose del Cabo to TJ via San Diego

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air India Express

Title: "Very good healthy food"

Review: Excellent Service. Always on time. Good seat quality and leg space. Best cabin crew in response, service. Very good healthy food. Good luggage handling. Excellent take off and landing. Very good check-in assistance and best service.

Route: Hyderabad to Doha via Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Boutique Air

Title: "definitely fly with them again2"

Review: It was clean the staff were so nice and courteous. I am not a frequent flyer and they made it so comfortable for me and I really appreciate that. I will definitely fly with them again.

Route: Chicago to Minneapolis

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air China

Title: "onboard experience lacking"

Review: Sydney to Madrid via Beijing. OK for the price. Their website is very difficult to use, their cabin staff only perfunctory, and the onboard experience lacking. The aircraft were reasonable with seatback screens but the movie choice was very limited and the system slow and hard to navigate, especially with the oddly placed armrest controls. My 777 screen stopped working entirely after 7 hours. The flight attendants did not appear to be happy, warm or welcoming. Their English was passable but their pronunciation poor so cabin announcements are difficult to understand. Beer is available on the drinks round but wine is only available with meals and they like to give you 1/3 of a cup. Asking for a second glass was not received well. The meals were tiny. Taste was good but they sometimes served the same dishes twice per flight. I booked a transit hotel in Beijing both ways, but the process was cumbersome even after I spoke to their call centre. Both ways it took 3 hours to get the transit visa and go through immigration and customs, so be prepared. The Air China service desk is through customs at the door to the terminal. The hotels were quite good but there was nothing nearby either of them. If you have a very cheap fare and do not mind a long break mid trip in PEK then Air China are an option, but other airlines will probably do the job better for not much more money.

Route: Sydney to Madrid via Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Qatar Airways

Title: "Boeing 787-8 the legroom was awful"

Review: I was flying from Düsseldorf to Malé via Doha on Qatar Airways. The service was very professional and at times excellent. The food was mostly decent, definitely above average for Economy. Finally, operations were very reliable. All flights were on time, and the boarding and deplaning processes were well-organized. On the Boeing 787-8 the legroom was awful and restrained by a large inflight entertainment box under the seat in front, the seat was quite hard, and the headrest could not be adjusted on the sides. This seat was probably among the most uncomfortable that I have experienced on a wide-body plane. Overall, I would fly Qatar Airways again if the price is right. But I would not pay a premium for this experience.

Route: Dusseldorf to Doha

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: United Airlines

Title: "trip was an unmitigated disaster"

Review: I have flown United Airlines and its Star Alliance partners many times. However, this trip was an unmitigated disaster. Our departure to SFO was delayed by 3 hours because the flight crew was delayed getting in to DFW and needed their 8 hour rest. This meant we would miss our connection. As it turned out, the connecting flight was cancelled. The agent at check in would not rebook us on another airline nor put us on standby. Our bags were checked through to YVR. The agent in the United Club put us on standby for the next flight from SFO. Unfortunately, we could not get on this flight nor 2 other flights that we were on standby status. As a result, I ended up booking one way flights on another carrier to Seattle, stayed overnight and then took the bus to YVR so we could attend the first of 4 wedding events. The flight itself was fine; however, the baggage is another story. Our bags never made it to YVR. I spent countless hours texting with United Baggage over 5 days. We received conflicting messages about our bags being in YVR. We missed a pre-wedding soiree because we spent 4 1/2 hours at YVR airport looking for a bag that wasn't there and had to buy every day clothes plus clothes for the wedding. On Monday July 3, I received a phone call saying one bag as in YVR. I requested the bag to be delivered to our hotel. On the day of departure from YVR, the bag still hadn't arrived. I received a call while going through security that 2 bags would be sent to DFW and delivered to our home address. The bags were delivered to our home on Friday July 7. The garment bag that was supposed to be delivered to our hotel before departure on 7/6 is still in United's baggage system. 24-48 hr delay is excusable; however an entire 8 day vacation without baggage is totally inexcusable. This is the first time in all my years of travel I have encountered such poor baggage service. I'm inclined to not use United again, but then I would lose my Premier access status with its Star Alliance partners. I would reluctantly recommend United as I have never had this issue before.

Route: Dallas to Vancouver via San Francisco

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LOT Polish Airlines

Title: "The worst flight of my life"

Review: The worst flight of my life. I had my daughter and cat with me. I tried to book him a seat on the plane three times: by phone a week before the flight, on Saturday before departure in person at the airport in Wroclaw (all the time they said that there was some kind of error in the system and they could not tell me the ticket number for the flight from Istanbul - Dalaman), and on Monday at the airport in Warsaw. In Warsaw, they assured me that everything was fine and I could fly. Arriving in Istanbul, it turned out that the cats place was not booked, and my ticket (and my baby too) was generally with error and I couldn't fly further. It was noted in the system that my ticket was used and I was flying, although the flight had not even started yet. Me, the cat and my little daughter were not allowed on the plane. I went to your help center, but it was closed. I was in despair, my daughter was very tired. My suitcases were sent to lost, because in the system they were listed as abandoned/lost. I spent 6 or 7 hours at the airport with a hungry child and a cat, booked a hotel (asked a friend to do it for me) and went there. The next day I bought another ticket and flew away. I want a refund of all my money but the form they sent me to fill out doesn't work (constant error) and now they don't even answer me.

Route: Warsaw to Dalaman

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Bulgaria Air

Title: "I feel tricked and insulted"

Review: Sofia to Varna. This is the worst airplane company ever. I am using this company for many times unfortunately since there is no other option for internal flights, and I have had many bad experiences. First of all, this summer there was a delay w/ 7 hours. I came 40min prior the flight when I was told that the flight will have a delay w/ 2 hours. After 2 hours when the time came for boarding, ppl started to go on line, one person came and told us that the flight will have another 5 hours delay ... it will actually depart at around 21:30, not even for sure. Today, I am standing here at the airport and waiting again because I was late. I came 40 min prior my flight departure, and the worker told me I was late. The gate is already closed. Supervisor at this time of shift was rude, screaming, and gave me really hard time. I had to buy another ticket for later flight, because I did not have a choice. We live in 21 century, and I still cannot believe that this can happen. I feel tricked and insulted.

Route: Sofia to Varna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: TAAG Angola Airlines

Title: "pleasantly surprised with TAAG"

Review: I was pleasantly surprised with TAAG flying return from Cape Town to Lisbon via Luanda, the aircraft was clean, the meals very good though the presentation and accompaniments were on the cheap side. Seats were comfortable and the 3x3x3 seating feeling much more spacious than the 3x4x3 found many airlines 777's. Ground staff in Cape Town were pleasant and the crew pleasant throughout. Luanda airport could be vastly improved by offering clean toilets, otherwise it is OK. Luanda airport also has a boneyard of abandoned aircraft, some interesting specimens. While only using the flight tracking on the in flight entertainment it seemed to have a selection of films and shows. Considering the price, speed and great route from South Africa to Portugal there is no competition and I am already booked for my next flight with them.

Route: CPT to LIS via LAD

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Aeromexico

Title: "all was as expected"

Review: In spite on all the negative reviews I have to be quite different. All worked well, in time and with professional attitude. Some might dispute food, seat comfort etc. But for the 3h+hrs flight I think that all was as expected.

Route: Mexico City to San Jose

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Allegiant Air

Title: "Next time, Ill walk"

Review: I would rather walk than take another Allegiant flight. My flight out was delayed 4 hours. We ended up spending more time sitting on the runway than actually traveling. I was running late for my returning flight (my fault) and I spoke to every employee I could find to help me make my flight. They said youre going to have to run and maybe youll make it. So I was one of those people sprinting through the airport up and down stairs through crowds and I make it to the gate and they said we have a delay. Something they could have told me before I pushed my cardiovascular health to its limits. At this point we have a 2 hour delay because of mechanical issues with no end in sight. You always hear the cheap airlines are bad: Allegiant might be the worst of them all. If I could, I would rate them -10/10. I booked this flight in the first place in an act of desperation: it was the only option. Next time, Ill walk.

Route: Las Vegas to Cincinnati

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: BA CityFlyer

Title: "not value for money"

Review: Remote stand at Edinburgh with overloaded long bus ride to get there. Aeroplane nice but floor dirty, and crumbs in harder to reach to clean places. Clearly given no more than a cursory wipe. Cabin crew didn't smile and weren't chatty, but were efficient. Cheese and tomato toastie was tasty, coffee acceptable and good to get free service. Legroom good. Seat comfort good. Landed 5 mins late in London City and had gate furthest away from the domestic arrivals hall so long walk through corridor and up some stairs, down again. City airport conveniently located to get to London though. Basically all was fine but not amazing, and not particularly premium, and not worth the price. A good, but not value for money option.

Route: Edinburgh to London city

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "delayed for over an hour on multiple flights"

Review: This airline delayed for over an hour on multiple flights. This last one was apparently due to paperwork that needed to be done before we took off? I'm not sure what kind of nonsense that is but it's sounds like a complete waste of everyone's time. Instead of getting the entire plane where we needed to go we sat at the gate for hours due to this "paperwork". I used to love flying Southwest and now I will choose a different airline that actually cares about their passengers.

Route: Los Angeles to Chicago Midway via Philadelphia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Garuda Indonesia

Title: "very attentive and friendly"

Review: Flew on Garuda Indonesia on GA 89 from Amsterdam to Jakarta. I was picked up at my hotel in Amsterdam by a car provided by Garuda Indonesia. I was taken directly to the VIP center, and they assisted me with check-in and provided me with my boarding pass. The service in the VIP lounge was very good with breakfast and other snacks being served. When the time came to board, we were taken by bus to the plane that was parked in a remote location. The hotel pick up, and lounge service was excellent. When boarding the plane, the Garuda Cabin crew were on hand to welcome us with a warm welcoming Indonesian smile After takeoff we were provided with an extensive menu of multi course meals. The overall choice of meals was excellent, and I chose the salmon which was very well presented and tasted even better. I would like to thank the cabin staff Zelvanya, Pungkisari, Anisa, and Chef Angga for their inflight service throughout the flight. They were amazing and very attentive and friendly and were on hand throughout the flight.

Upon arrival in Jakarta, I was meet at the gate by the VIP Service team member Viana and escorted via immigration and customs and on to a car provided by Garuda to take me home from the airport. From arrival and getting into the car it took no more that 20 minutes, therefore thank you very much Garuda Indonesia.

Route: Amsterdam to Jakarta

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jet2.com

Title: "On board service was good"

Review: Manchester to Funchal return on rather elderly B752 aircraft. The one coming back was over 31 years old. However, from the interior you would not know. Jet2 have plenty of ground staff to assist with the check in process. This is far better than other European budget airlines that I know of. They work hard to get things moving smoothly. Another difference is that most of the airlines ground handling is done by themselves and not contracted out to third parties. This makes a huge difference, especially at Manchester baggage claim. MANs handling companies are terrible, sometimes waiting over an hour for bags, but on a Jet 2 flight they got our bags very quickly. On board service was good and friendly and the pilots gave regular in flight update. The seat tray tables are too small though, the seats I find a bit thin, OK for short flights. It's a shame that Manchester Airports poor infrastructure does affect the service you get if using that airport.

Route: Funchal to Manchester

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air India

Title: "delayed for more than 5 hours"

Review: No proper response from any of the staff. Hiding all the information about flight timings. Flight got delayed for more than 5 hours. After entering into flight again a delay of one more hour for the staff to come. And the passengers with connecting international flight from Mumbai suffered a lot because of these delays. One sincere and humble request from passengers please change your staff or train your staff but please don't trouble the passengers

Route: Bengaluru to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Xiamen Airlines

Title: "meals were exactly the same"

Review: Flew from Amsterdam to Tokyo via Xiamen on Xiamen Airlines. No seat reservation or online check-in is possible with this airline. The KLM ground staff were unaware of the transit procedure in XMN. They told us to tag our bags to NRT but apparently it had to be picked up in XMN to be checked-in again. The flight on the Dreamliner to XMN was good. Loadfactor about 40% so a whole row of seats for myself. Food was served 1 hour after takeoff and 5 hours after takeoff. On both services meals were exactly the same. Didn't see the crew for the last 5 hours of the flight. Entertainment system had hiccups all the time and wifi was not available on frame B-2769. Flight was on time. Transfer procedure at XMN is troublesome. Crew on the plane told us not to fill out the immigration form since we were only transiting. At the immigration we were send back to the end of the queue to fill out the immigration form. We also had to deliver a paper version of the ticket with our names to the immigration which we did not have. They didn't thrust the itinerary in the CheckMyTrip app. After a lot of discussion they provided us the 24-hours visa for China. Don't follow the signs to the departure hall immediately if you have a long layover. The check-in desks are located in a secure area without any restaurants or shops. Check-in was opened 2 hours before departure and we couldn't get back to other parts of the airport from security. So waiting on some steel couches for a few hours without anything to do. The flight to NRT on an old and worn B738 was delayed for 90 minutes. Sitting on the tarmac without air-conditioning for 60 minutes. No reason for the delay was given. Food was good on this flight however. I had a bad experience on the flight from NRT to XMN. It was said to be a non smoking flight, but not for the crew. All of a sudden the seatbelt signs went on without any obvious reason and the smell of cigarette smoke appeared from the air-conditioning system. After 5 minutes the smell of smoke disappeared and the fast seatbelt sign was switched off again. This happened 3 times on the 4 hour flight. Having learned from my previous transfer at XMN, it went smoother this time. Although not possible to buy food at XMN since creditcards were not accepted and the ATM's were out of order. The flight to AMS on the 787 was packed this time. Chinese people carry lots of hand luggage so overhead bins filled up quickly. I skipped the first meal because I wanted to sleep. The flight did arrive on time in Amsterdam.

Route: AMS to NRT via XMN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thomas Cook Airlines

Title: "Most stressful experience"

Review: So I try to check in- not working online despite multiple times. States to arrive 1 hour before as check in closed then. Arrive 1.5 hours before and there is a queue of at least 50 people and two people at the desks when they wrote on website they were having issues with online check in! At least get more staff in to check in. I would have missed flight if they didnt push me to front (which others did not appreciate). Then I am waiting for announcements - states boarding then boarding closing at x time. I arrive 5 minutes before and see the departure lounge full of people sitting. No one boarding! Then 10 minutes later just before flight is meant to leave they decide to make announcement that there is an issue and we will have to wait an hour for next plane to arrive. No one boarded so it was a lie: do not make there rush to gate when you are giving false information. Most stressful experience I have had.

Route: Gatwick to Malta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Uzbekistan Airways

Title: "not been worth the flight"

Review: Paris to Delhi via Tashkent. Ground staff at Paris didnt know well to operate the systems to generate boarding pass resulting into start of boarding procedures late by an hour, no response or information to passengers resulting into chaos. Inflight staff - rude behaviour, gave water after 20 mins of asking and later denied for water when asked for 3rd time. Veg food not available and food available only as per counting, if extra food asked for, denied. Even fruits were denied stating that only the packet of nonveg available if required could be given and separately fruits cant be given. Pillow and blanket was denied stating that you have neck rest which works as pillow so not needed and you have jacket which could be warm enough so blanket is not required. Alcohol (only red / white wine available) which was denied when asked for 2nd time stating that the flight had only 1 bottle (of white wine) which is finished so cant be served repeated later on however 1 glass of red wine was offered stating that only 1 extra glass can be given. Peanuts denied 2nd time stating that per passenger gets only 1 packed and that's finished. I was first time international traveller I was not aware how to order veg food for flight online due to which I asked for Support for getting veg food for connecting flight which was replied that it's not their job to guide how to order veg food, their job is just to serve what ever is ordered. The staff was talking to passengers with rude tone with the ones who tried changing seat as the flight was empty. At Tashkent Airport, the transfers staff in charge of issuing boarding pass didnt know how to process the boarding pass taking about an hour for completing the process resulting into delay in flight. The inflight staff in connecting flight from Tashkent to Delhi was decent, they even offered alternative as fruits as veg food was not ordered. Overall the behaviour and experience has not been worth the flight.

Route: Paris to Delhi via Tashkent

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Brussels Airlines

Title: "reluctant to give money back"

Review: Gran Canaria to Catania via Brussels. They post on Internet flight that do not exist In fact After you Pay they send a mail, in my case to the agency, informing that the flight is canceled, but the flight stay on internet to make more victims when you ask a refund they are very reluctant to give money back. My flight should depart 6th of June, They say maybe give refund in November.

Route: Gran Canaria to Catania via Brussels

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: BA CityFlyer

Title: BA CityFlyer customer review

Review: This was one of my best flights, crew well dressed, engaging and went that extra mile for customer service. The aircraft is small, but you pay for the conscience of less than an hour from home to departure out of LCY. The food was tasty.

Route: LCY to GVA

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SriLankan Airlines

Title: "an unadulterated disaster"

Review: A very old and odd layout in business class and the food was terrible. About 2 hours into our flight, almost halfway through to Singapore, the flight had to turn around due to some technical issues. Worse, upon landing back in Colombo, the transfer desk was completely unprepared. You would imagine that as soon as the plane turned around the staff at the transfer desk would have been informed and prepared themselves. Not so at Sri Lankan. They had no idea and for the next 45 minutes nothing happened. There was no announcement or guidance provided to all passengers. The transfer desk staff hand wrote files for each passenger, again the thought of preparing a form even if done in Word and printing it 200 times didnt occur to them. So about 2 hours later we were given a voucher and directed towards the arrival lobby. Unfortunately, the next snag awaited: immigration whose software did not permit anyone whether foreigner or local to re-enter the country within a certain time period presented the next challenge. After another 40 minutes trying to reset the system, we finally made it past immigration. The next stop was the arrival hall where we waited another 30 minutes for a transfer to the hotel. This transfer only actually took place after some fellow passengers started to lose their patience, as opposed to the Sri Lankan staff who were quite comfortable letting everyone wait for some unknown future trigger event to actually organise the transfer. The hotel was 4 star which I don't think is commensurate with a business class ticket but I'm inclined to forgive that. We were told the transfer bus back to the airport would leave at 5am. Guess what, all passengers stood in attention at 5am but no bus showed up. Only after several calls by the hotel staff did a bus finally turn up at 5.40am. You would expect a Sri Lankan staff to welcome us and guide us, particularly since the promised e-ticket supposedly to be sent by email at night never reached, none of my fellow passengers I asked received their e-ticket. Well, no staff to guide us at the airport either and no instruction what's to be done without a valid ticket. Onto the check in counter whose staff had no clue about our replacement flight at an unscheduled time and it took some time to explain the situation. At the time of writing this review I am still at Colombo airport and hopeful I will sometime today 24 hours later reach my destination, fingers crossed. So in short, Sri Lankan airlines is an unadulterated disaster. If you value your sanity, avoid it at all costs.

Route: Colombo to Singapore

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "got rejected from boarding"

Review: Ground staff in BKK said go away and buy a ticket from another airline. Don't discuss with me, we send away 10+ people every day because of this. We (4 people) got rejected from boarding our Vietnam Airlines flight VN6800 because of operational problems. That's not an issue as long as you get offered another solution. We were sent away impolitely with the words above. We had to buy 4 new (expensive) tickets from other airlines.

Route: Bangkok to Hong Kong via Ho Chi Minh City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Nepal Airlines

Title: "friendly welcome from flight attendants"

Review: Flew Nepal Airlines from Delhi to Kathmandu on 16 May - 10.30am departure to allow for a full afternoon in Kathmandu. Friendly check-in agent gave my friend and I a full row to ourselves. Typical long lines at Delhi immigration but was able to use the lounge as my friend is an Amex Centurion member. Food and drink were available but nothing special. Flight boarded on-time to one of their newer A320's, friendly welcome from flight attendants and I liked the aircraft interior - the bulkhead had pictures of Mt Everest on it. Business class seats looked nice but that section was empty. Coach was pretty full but a few open rows in the front. Coach flight attendants were friendly and served drinks and a good meal once in flight for the 1 hour 15 minutes in the air. The toilets were busy so some people went to business class toilet and were literally chased out by the business class flight attendant. She was horrible - she was just sitting up there doing nothing - not even helping the coach attendants do their drink runs. It was nothing to let people use that front toilet. Landed on time with some nice views of the area as the cloud layer broke as we descended. Bags came off quickly and thru immigration. Overall a good flight.

Route: Delhi to Kathmandu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: XL Airways France

Title: "pleasantly surprised"

Review: I was pleasantly surprised by XL Airways after all the critical reviews. The aircraft from Los Angeles to Paris was clean, the attendants were very involved throughout the 10 hour flight (and were pleasant as well), and the flight itself was smooth. Yes the seats are crammed in there and the entertainment is not great. There is wifi and you can watch movies on your iPad. (They also rent ipad minis for $20 so bring your own!). I read a little and tried to sleep so this wasn't a deal breaker for me given the reasonable fare. If want more leg room, you pay dearly ($70 extra) but this is worth it for me. We left and arrived on time which adds a star. I actually found it a much more pleasant experience than my super expensive Air France flight last year. I would fly them again for sure.

Route: Los Angeles to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "they were not eager to assist at all"

Review: I am a senior and kindly asked the flight attendants to help me lift my bag to place overhead, they were not eager to assist at all, one of them said he had shoulder surgery and the other one did not lift it for me he just helped me to place it overhead. If they are so sickly and unable to lift a small suitcase maybe that is not the right job for them. It is the one and only complaint that I have.

Route: Fort Lauderdale, to Bogota

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Asiana Airlines

Title: "The service was great"

Review: The service was great, especially the flight crews. However, I cannot say anything nice about the service for the check in. Was super rude and condescending. At both incidents. At the SFO Airport Check in I was told to get out of the Business Line and queue up in the Economy line. And when in Korean Airport, I Asked the Asiana Crew at gate 12. Where is the East Lounge was. I was told to go sit down, there is no Lounge for Economy Flyers.

Route: San Francisco to Ho Chi Minh City via Seoul

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "Good food and great cabin crew"

Review: Good food and great cabin crew. We asked to see the suites, and they let us, after people have left the airplane. Our platypus got some champagne!

Route: Sydney to Copenhagen via Singapore

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Sky Express Airlines

Title: "Id use this airline again"

Review: We got this flight for a good price because we wanted to land in London in the day and most direct flights landed late at night. Our departing schedule time was changed, but the flight was booked eight months earlier so changes werent altogether surprising and we were emailed about them in advance. The flight to Athens was on time and the flight to Heathrow was also on time and landed early. Athens airport was fine for passing the time. The baggage arrangements for this airline are a little unusual with maximum weight of 15kg for checked bag, but with the Sky Joy fare various bits broken down by other airlines are included like carry on bags. No fussiness encountered about dimensions or weight on our journey. We made seat reservations at the time of booking and all were honoured, with option to change at check in online. Check in online was time consuming but got there in the end. All bags made the journey via Athens as did the baby buggy which we were able to use for the transfer at Athens. On board service included free coffee/juice and tiny biscuits with other fairly predictable stuff to buy. The seating featured headrests and decent legroom, making the experience more pleasant than Easyjet. All the staff we met were courteous. I have no complaints and am quite satisfied. Id use this airline again without hesitation.

Route: Kos to Heathrow via Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "I never received the refund"

Review: I paid full price for a ticket to travel from Campo Grande to Sao Paulo ($151.10). I needed to change the flight's date so I paid an additional $40 for that change. LATAM took the $40, but would not confirm a new seat which means I could get stuck in Campo Grande. This lack of confirmation went on for over a month. After phoning them more times than I can say, they said they'd give me a refund for the $40 change request if I withdrew the request, so I did. I never received the refund. Moreover, when I complained that my original ticket is now worthless because I needed a flight date change, they refunded me $5 for the original ticket. The original ticket was $151.10. Compare with American Airlines where I had to make similar changes -- they refunded me within minutes. I have lodged a dispute with Citibank because I used their credit card to pay for the original ticket as well as the change request. BTW, calling LATAM for help is worthless, and if they file a "case" on your behalf, nothing happens.

Route: Campo Grande to Sao Paulo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Iberia

Title: "finally agreed to put us in a taxi"

Review: Extremely disappointed with Iberias customer service. Our flight from Valencia to Malaga was cancelled after we had already boarded, Im assuming for mechanical issues. We were making a connection in Malaga to go on to Casablanca. They offered limited options to us, none of which would have happened until the next day! They finally agreed to put us in a taxi for 3.5 hours to Madrid, arriving about 4:30 am, and then departing about 11:30 am. We asked for a place to rest for a few hours. The customer service personnel instead thought they were being generous by giving us vouchers to use for breakfast at any of the food places in the airport which proved to be untrue as most places wouldnt accept them. I understand the mechanical problem was not their fault but they could have accommodated us with access to the VIP lounge at no cost to them.

Route: Valencia to Casablanca via Malaga

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Uzbekistan Airways

Title: "crew were not friendly"

Review: Tashkent to Kuala Lumpur. The worst airline taken in all of my holidays. A week before we departed Singapore they sent an email to inform that flights home to Singapore are cancelled. We wrote in 3 times with no reply, called the Singapore office and the guy was impossibly unhelpful. We had no choice but to make our trip blindly and hope for it to get settled over in Tashkent. Our flight departing Singapore was delayed by an hour plus, and transit in KL, it was again delayed another hour. It happened the same for our flights home whereby new transit was in Jakarta, it got delayed an hour an half. We barely made it to catch our flight home with MH that the airline booked us home on. My luggage was left behind because of this. Flight crew were not friendly, barely smiled no matter how polite we tried to be. And they never once served water after the meal service. We had to keep going to ask for it and they always gave an unhappy look. Seriously, I don't know what kind of service industry this airline is in, because there wasn't any at all. The food from Singapore was okay, but the food from Tashkent was awful. Tasteless and dry. Our flight home was a night flight, yet the lights were not switched off for sleeping. It was a really suffering 18 hours journey home, with no food and no sleep and with uncomfortable seats. Such a pity because the country is so beautiful and the Uzbeks are really nice people. The airline crew need to undergo intensive service training for sure.

Route: Tashkent to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: American Eagle

Title: "service was good and I'll fly again"

Review: Flight left Albuquerque on time, early morning departure. Crew was super, provided good but limited service. Arrived Dallas/Ft Worth on time. Flight was on a CRJ-900 and I was disappointed the overhead bins were so small and could not accept my downsized briefcase. It had to be checked to DFW. I was concerned the whole trip since the bag was checked and it contained all the things we want to carry with us and not check. However, the bag was delivered planeside. The service was good and I'll fly American Eagle again but will make every effort to avoid their CRJ-900 with the small overhead bins.

Route: ABQ to DFW

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "things seem to have disappeared from Thai service"

Review: I chose Thai Airways because i had really positive experiences in the past. I even paid a bit extra to fly with them over Lufthansa. First time where i was disappointed with Thai Compared to some years ago, below are a list of things that seem to have disappeared from Thai service. Hot towel, pre meal snack has gone. No newspaper. Individual air vents, the new planes don't have any. No snacks / drinks on all night flight, no drink refill / second round, no bottle of water in the back of the seat. IFE seemed disappointing. Especially the selection of music. Selection of movies was ok. IFE on the Boeing 777 did not work well, on the A350 it worked ok. Inflight magazine has gone The flight was delayed by over an hour. I made my connection in Munich, but i was the last passenger to board. At the gate in BKK there is no water fountain / drinks for sale. The recline on the seat was poor and the seat felt narrow. The toilets on the flight were good. A blanket and small pillow where provided.

Route: Bangkok to Munich

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: TAME

Title: "highly recommend against flying with TAME"

Review: Flew New York JFK to Quito. This airline was so bad I felt it a moral obligation to find a site such as this to post a review. Their planes are straight from the 70's. Let's start with checking in. I was travelling with my wife and two small children (4 & 6). After I was told we would be seated together I realized once we got on the plane we were all separated. We were not the only family this was done to. And the irony was we were one of the first online to get seats! Speaking of seats, the seat I was sitting in was so butt-worn, that no matter how I tried to get comfortable, I slid back into the mold that was the culmination of all previous guests rear quarters. Towards the end of the flight, my little one needed to use the bathroom. As we were walking, I see the attendant close the stall since we were beginning our descent. Just as we got to the stall, the attendant said we had to sit down. My son is 4. The guy didn't care. Needless to say, we highly recommend against flying with TAME. I know we never will again.

Route: New York JFK to Quito

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Madagascar

Title: Air Madagascar customer review

Review: Air Madagascar cancelled the initial flight from Bangkok and moved it to the following day without warning or explanation. They did provide accommodation and the flight was ok. Our next flight with Air Madagascar was then a domestic one, a week later, Antananarivo to Sante Marie. This was overpriced at 500 euro pp for a one hour flight. Without any warning the flight was moved to 4 hours earlier. Air Madagascar acknowledged that we confirmed our flight 24 hours prior and that they provided no warning of the change and no replacement flight. Due to the cancellation of this flight our return flight booking to Bangkok was wiped from their system without warning. We had to frantically arrange a ticket with minutes to spare. 3 flights with Air Madagascar and 3 stressful and very poor experiences

Route: Bangkok to Antananarivo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thomson Airways

Title: "only use as a last resort"

Review: Manchester to Alicante with Thomson Airways. Extra leg room seat bought. Seat 35G which has the toilet bulkhead in front of you. Probably less actual stretching space than a normal seat. Sat on aircraft not moving for 40 minutes before crew explained the delay. Cabin crew ignored my seat for all 4 types of sales services. Clumsy crew in my area, knocking seats and dropping things. Only use if you get a really cheap deal or as a last resort. I got a cheap last minute seat, so it got me to destination without any frills whatsoever.

Route: MAN to ALC

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Icelandair

Title: "one of my worst airline experiences"

Review: This was one of my worst airline experiences. After delaying my flight out of LGW by 4 hours and being promised by customer service agents that it would not be a problem and they would figure out an easy solution for me when I arrived in KEF, they delayed my connection, but not enough for me to make my flight. There were only a couple other flights going to the US the rest of the night that were already overbooked because they had done the same thing to another flight that day. My only option was to be put in a hotel and take a flight 24 hours later. After finally arriving to the hotel I was supposed to stay in, the hotel informed us that they had run out of rooms and would transport us to a separate hotel. Not one Icelandair employee apologized or admitted that maybe they should not have reassured me many times that everything would be fine and I would be able to continue on to my final destination.

Route: London to Denver via Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sunwing Airlines

Title: "great attitude"

Review: Puerto Vallarta to Regina. My wife and I had a vacation booked in Mexico, having left Canada March 3, returning April 4, 2020, but with the COVID crisis, we did as prescribed by our government and health officials and tried to move our return flight ahead. We were successful in doing that with another airline, only to arrive at the Puerto Vallarta airport and find that a portion of our flight home had been cancelled with no communication. Needless to say, we did not get home March 21. Without any options left, a representative from another airline at the PVR airport suggested that we look at the Sunwing website; we saw that you could try standby with March 22 being their last flights out of PVR. We lined up early for a Calgary flight. The Sunwing reps were awesome in coming around frequently in a chaotic airport scene and updating information regarding remaining seats on various flights to Canadian destinations. We eventually took a Regina flight that had space and got us out of PVR 4 hours earlier. My wife and I travel regularly and we laud the entire travel industry for their efforts, their help and assistance, and their empathy in a very difficult time. We want to thank the airport representatives in PVR, all Sunwing staff, at check-in counters, and the entire flight crew for their care and attention, their professionalism and great attitude in this stressful time, not only for us as travellers, but also for them and their families. You have our gratitude as well as the gratitude of our families for getting us home!

Thank you!

Route: Puerto Vallarta to Regina

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Condor Airlines

Title: "It is a disgrace"

Review: The day before my scheduled flight from Halifax to Frankfurt I was notified by Lufthansa there would be a change to the second leg of the trip, which I confirmed on line and everything seemed to be fine. I arrived at the airport check in desk 4 ½ hours earlier than my scheduled flight. Because of an irregularity to the change of the second leg of the trip initiated by Lufthansa I was denied boarding on the Condor flight from Halifax to Frankfurt. While on site at the airport I made several calls to all airlines involved, as well as Flight Hub. Lufthansa blamed Air Dolomiti, Air Dolomiti was not reachable, Condor was blaming both other airlines and I was caught in the middle of the 3 of them pointing fingers at one another. Bottom line is the representative of Condor, whose name I have documented, told me flat out they would deny boarding as the company wouldn't take responsibility for the whole trip although they GOT PAID for the whole trip. I was told the only way I would be allowed on the plane was for me to pay for a brand new ticket for my mom and I. As I was going to lose the connecting flight I made another attempt at calling Condor Head office, I dealt with nasty customer service person in Germany who accused me of "not making an effort" to solve the situation. I provided a screenshot of the calls to the various airline companies involved - no use. I was forced to purchase an alternate trip at my own expense. The final response Condor gave Flight Hub's for denying a refund was that I was not entitled to reimbursement due to "no show". I provided copy of the airport parking receipt to expose their lie - no use. It went from the 3 airlines fighting and deflecting responsibility and my elderly mom and I being caught in the middle at the airport, to being accused of not doing enough to solve the issue, to actually being told it was my own fault for not showing up, despite having provided evidence of their lies. In what other industry do you get to keep the customer's money and demand to be paid again for the same trip or you would deny them service and suggest its the customers fault, ignoring solid proof of the contrary? It is a disgrace and an insult to the intelligence of any rational person.

Route: Halifax to Trieste via Frankfurt

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air New Zealand

Title: "below standard of an international flight"

Review: The meals were well below standard of an international flight. Menu had two options for hot cakes and scrambled egg but by the time they reached the middle of the aircraft they only had the one option. They don't provide you drinking water with the meal. The stewardesses are rude and unwelcoming. The inflight entertainment is limited. The seat is uncomfortable and doesn't recline. There are no foot rests.

Route: Sydney to Wellington

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sky Express Airlines

Title: "not refunding the money"

Review: Athens to Kefalonia. This airline was contacted when it was explained to them that a mistake had been made on the ticket. It was not a change of mind situation. They charged 35 for a change of mind fee. An email was sent 3 times explaining that it was not a change of mind and the money should be refunded. There was no reply from any of the 3 emails. This is so wrong and a disgrace of the behaviour by avoiding the true issue of not refunding the money.

Route: Athens to Kefalonia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Batik Air

Title: "flight attendant are nice"

Review: Makassar to Jakarta in 2018. Great airline, clean cabin. The flight attendants are nice. But the check-in queue is very long, took a lot of time. The food taste good. Long wait for baggage.

Route: Makassar to Jakarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "Worst ever flight experience"

Review: Flight from Frankfurt Hahn to Tirana. Two months out from the flight it got rescheduled from midday to 9:30pm. Inconvenient. On the day of the flight it was then delayed by one hour. The boarding was an utter farce. We'd paid for priority boarding but it was an uncontrolled rush for the seats. Do not bother with priority boarding. Worst ever flight experience

Route: Frankfurt Hahn to Tirana

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: QantasLink

Title: "the toilet ran out of soap"

Review: Check in was smooth and friendly. Staff were most friendly and helpful and departure was on time. It was nice that they included free beer and wine too. The plane was a little worn, but OK. My big complaint was that the toilet ran out of soap! This should always be checked!

Route: Launceston to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Tigerair

Title: "I had a very pleasant experience"

Review: I had a very pleasant experience with Tigerair. It was only a short flight from Singapore to Hanoi, but I was looked after and would be very happy to travel with them again. What I was most impressed with was their incredibly fast reply to my recent request for them to resend my e-ticket from almost 2 months ago. It was literally 15 minutes, if that. I am extremely impressed with their post flight customer service.

Route: Singapore to Hanoi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Rex Airlines

Title: "First time flight with Rex and it wont be the last"

Review: First time flight with Rex and it wont be the last. The flight was on time, no extra charge for luggage, free refreshments and much cheaper than the opposition. The staff were extremely helpful and friendly and the airplane was clean so I cant see any reason not to return.

Route: Brisbane to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Condor Airlines

Title: "Beware - bait and switch and false advertising"

Review: Beware - bait and switch and false advertising. Horrible experience before the flight. I booked a flight from Los Angeles to Florence Italy business class. Online it clearly stated - LAX to JFK, JetBlue, Business Class, Airbus A320. Then JFK business class Condor. I booked it through Condor. After paying for the ticket my confirmation comes back as economy from LAX to JFK. I called "customer service" and was told that I would receive all the same benefits but would not have business class from LAX to JFK (even though I paid for it!). The excuse was they do not control the other carrier! They will (1) advertise the business class flight (2) they will take your money (3) they will try to convince you that you are receiving all the benefits (except your actual business class seat) (4) and when you ask for a refund it takes 7-14 days! False advertising, just a blatant lie. Pay the extra money and fly with a reputable airline!

Route: Los Angeles to Florence, Italy via New York

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cubana Airlines

Title: "they just cancel willy-nilly"

Review: Basically, don't fly within Cuba with Cubana Airlines. You may never get there. I don't think Cubana Airlines has enough planes to fulfill their daily scheduled flights, so they just cancel willy-nilly. It took 25 hours to get from Baracoa to Havana. The airport staff gave little or no information, and eventually just lied about the flight. After waiting seven hours, we learned the flight had been cancelled, and we would be transferred by bus to Santiago de Cuba. We waited another three hours, took a five hour non-stop bus ride, and waited an additional five hours for a flight. We were put at the tail end of a flight from Madrid, which was continuing to Havana. Once at Havana, we waited over an hour to de-plane. There was one bus, which had to shuttle back and forth from plane to terminal. Waited another hour for the luggage.

Route: UPB to HAV

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Tigerair

Title: "relatively terrible experience"

Review: Hong Kong to Bali Denpasar via Singapore return with Tigerair. Relatively terrible experience across the four individual flights. First, HKG-SIN boarded after an hour delay (no reason/apology given). Pulled back from gate, then swiftly returned. Was told there was an engine fault. Sat onboard for another half an hour. Then told we needed to disembark, which meant going all the way back through transfer security (painful process considering there was only 1 lane open in the midfield concourse at this time of night). Finally boarded again. Eventual takeoff just under 3 hours late, but very little sincere apology given by staff. Was still charged for a glass of water despite the delay. Second flight from SIN-DPS also delayed once onboard due to technical glitch, although thankfully did not have to disembark this time. Return flights, DPS-SIN fine and almost on time, but SIN-HKG yet again delayed once onboard for another technical issue. 3 flights out of 4 having technical issues is quite alarming and does not fill one with confidence. Legroom is standard for a cheap airline but the seats themselves are extremely uncomfortable. Aircraft looking quite dated. Departure gates regularly changed at the last minute. Prices of food onboard expensive and quality below average. Perhaps the worst offence of all - amidst the chaos of the disembarkation on the first flight, I note that there was no safety demonstration given by the crew at all before take off.

Route: HKG to DPS via SIN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Akasa Air

Title: "Lovely in-flight experience!"

Review: The flight was completely comfortable and the food served from Café Akasa was very appetizing. Lovely in-flight experience! The cabin crew was absolutely humble and polite and addressed to every passenger with utmost patience. Very happy with my experience!

Route: Ahmedabad to Goa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "Finnair Customer Support is non-existent"

Review: Finnair Customer Support is non-existent. Tried to book an additional piece of luggage way before the flight. The website said my booking could not be found (while still being able to check in much later), the chat was constantly congested and after being on the phone for two full hours I did not feel like waiting any longer. I will not fly with this piece of what-goes-in-the-bin airline ever again.

Route: Los Angeles to Berlin via Helsinki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Vistara

Title: "I am dreading my flight back to London"

Review: I flew Vistara for the first time internationally. My experience right from conversations with customer service in London until my arrival in Poona suggests that there is a serious culture problem with the airline. I tried to check in online 5 times and called customer service for assistance. It was clear that the online check in needs more sophistication so I politely asked if they would take feedback to help improve it. The response was no one has ever had such a problem. The tone and response smacked of apathy and lack of professionalism. I have wide ranging experience with many airlines and customer service but havent experienced this as far as I can remember. On the plane, the stewardesses were robotic and cold, not to mention uninformed. The flight was late taking off from London. Thinking ahead about my connecting flight I asked if we could have the customs forms. These girls did not understand what I was asking and when I explained again they said there was no such form required. Arriving in Delhi, there was no ground staff to assist many of us who had connecting flights. To top it, many us who had priority and transfer tags in our bags waited 55 minutes for our bags. There was no ground staff to help. All of us missed our connecting flight due to the bags being egregiously delayed. I arrived in Pune in 24 hours. Vistara how can you compete in todays customer centric world with such an apathetic attitude and deplorable service. I am dreading my flight back to London. Never again will I fly Vistara.

Route: London, UK to Pune, India via Delhi, India

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Dragonair

Title: "staff efficient and friendly"

Review: Easy check in at the airport with Dragonair for flight from Hong Kong to Phuket, staff efficient and friendly. Aircraft was on stand well before boarding time but boarding was delayed for unexplained reason and subsequently plane pushed back over 30 minutes late. We were then in a queue of several aircraft waiting to depart and we took off almost one hour late. Cabin service was good, considering the short flight time, and the meal on offer was acceptable. Seat was shell type recliner which had little or no lumbar support but OK for short flight. Although bags had priority stickers attached they still took a long time to arrive on the carousel. Would use Dragonair again despite the minor problems.

Route: HKG to HKT

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "had to pay another 40$/luggage"

Review: Since I was a kid I traveled with this airline, we always had the same carry-ons, but this time we had to register two of them as normal baggage, because the wheels couldn't fit in the small box sizing them, which meant we had to pay another 40$/luggage. After explaining ourselves, we said we would like to pay for one of them only, because if we knew, we would've brought one bigger luggage that fits the containing of both carry-ons. Not wanting to understand, the only thing the supervisor could say was: "These are the policies, we understand but we can't do anything" he talked to us as if we had no understanding of anything that was going on, he would repeat the same exact thing in the same condescending monotone way for about 5 times. After understanding he would not want to do anything to accommodate, I told him "Ok, you can leave then". His reaction was : going behind the counter and asking the person working under him "what is their security number" as if we did something that requires security. I literally just said, "Ok, you can leave then". I am still amazed that a supervisor would have this reaction, I think he was trying to find a way to intimidate us. Also, just so you know, don't register or verify your carry-ons, just take them with you, pass the customs, and they will take them for free at the boarding area.

Route: Montreal to Vancouver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: China Southern Airlines

Title: "Thank you, ground crew"

Review: I arrived at the airport pretty late with some extra procedures to go through because of my carelessness. The ground staff were patient and with their help, I finished the boarding procedures swiftly. Thank you, ground crew!

Route: Guangzhou to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "could not get over the filthiness"

Review: Nice to Montreal with Air Canada rouge. Flew both with this airline for my recent honeymoon in August 2019. Both flights were delayed for technical issues. I could not get over the filthiness of the plane. See picture attached. I wish I had also taken a picture of the tray which was covered in crumbs and smears from previous passengers.

Route: Nice to Montreal

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jet Airways

Title: "refused to issue boarding pass"

Review: Mumbai to London. I booked a return ticket for my sister by my debit card. While getting the boarding pass, They asked to show authorization letter she did not have in hard copy, she showed my authorization in whatsapp at the counter but they refused to issue boarding pass. And she had to return back home. When i contacted their customer care and asked they refund the return ticket they told "you been penalized for no show".

Route: Mumbai to London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "still the same old awful service"

Review: Nothing changes Thai airways are still awful! We arrive at the airport check in, through fast track as we are flying business, all pretty uneventful as you would expect on a premium ticket. We are flying from gate C8 and follow the signs to the Thai lounge at C Gates, a 600m walk, to find they are closed, so we walk the return journey 600m back to the lounge we passed 10 - 15 mins before, that is open at D gates. We ask why we werent told by the check in staff that only the lounge at D gates is open; apparently it has been shut for ages and they keep asking the check in staff to tell passengers but they dont! Anyone at Thai airways heard of a sign? Simple 5 minute job! By the way lovely lounge, but the same awful TG service. Nothing changes. We then get to the gate to see a queue 50m long to board, no priority line for Business class passengers. Apparently they call them on first and then it is a free for all So the business class passengers lucky enough to have made it to the lounge, who dont arrive to be at the head of the queue wait in line, or have to push themselves to the front - embarrassing and awkward for them/us nothing changes! Beautiful lounge TG but nothing changes, still the same old awful service, lack of thought and care for your passengers! How can you still get it so wrong?

Route: Bangkok to Singapore

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "cabin crew truly went above and beyond"

Review: Despite some allegations of cost-cutting measures surfacing across the internet and social media, Singapore Airlines is still unequivocally and undeniably the best in its class. In an era of self-check in kiosks and self-serve apps, the human touch it provides to all its passengers is remarkably special and the warmth and comfort of the human element is something that is irreplaceable by technology. The cabin crew truly went above and beyond to ensure that the passengers were well looked after. In addition to that, every other aspect of the flight from the checking-in process, lounge, boarding arrangements, punctuality, cabin announcements, seat comfort and functionality, meal service, inflight WiFi and timing and baggage delivery was also seamless and flawless. Flying in Singapore Airlines on a premium cabin is truly and quite literally a heavenly experience at 40,000ft in the sky.

Route: Istanbul to Singapore

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "Worst airline I have ever used"

Review: Would give the airline zero if it was possible. I flew with them from Helsinki to Ljubljana via Belgrade. First problem was that about a week after booking the flight they have moved the second flight for almost 2 hours (longer layover in Belgrade). The same thing happened again three days before departure, they moved the second flight again for another hour and a half. At the end we were delayed for 2 hours without any explanation. When I finally reached my destination in the plane probably 30 years older than me with no space for legs or carry-on luggage, I learned that my luggage was destroyed. The handle used for rolling the suitcase was broken, there were big tears in the material and also a big dent. All together the baggage is now not usable and I cannot get it repaired. Following the instructions and filling out the damage claim at the destination airport I submitted a claim to Air Serbia. They replied that they are not liable and that their decision regarding my claim was final. Worst airline I have ever used and will never fly with them again.

Route: Helsinki to Ljubljana via Belgrade

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Arabia

Title: "Pathetic service"

Review: Pathetic service. I was travelling from Riyadh to Sialkot via Sharjah. The first flight was good but the flight from Sharjah to Sialkot was changed at the time of issuing boarding pass and without any prior notification. Total 13 hours extra was spend to at Sharjah airport.

Route: Riyadh to Sialkot via Sharjah

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Pacific

Title: Jetstar Pacific customer review

Review: I didn't know what to expect from this airline due to some mixed reviews, but the plane was clean and staff were friendly. We departed on time. The items I bought on board were relatively cheap. Can't complain really.

Route: SGN to HAN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "the flight was quite nice"

Review: Bengaluru to Mumbai on Air Asia India was taken this early morning and the check in process was smooth enough at Bangalore where after getting the boarding passes printed out at the kiosks. As my check in baggage weight exceeded the 15kg free allowance as I had extra luggage packed, I was made to pay around 375 Rs for every extra kg and the staff there were generous enough to waive off 1 kg extra in exchange for a South Indian breakfast on the flight which was reasonable enough. The boarding started on time and there was some nice funky boarding music being played and the seats were comfortable enough although on longer duration trips, it could be uncomfortable. The flight departed on time and even though the flight was full, the crew were very nice and after takeoff I even got the South Indian breakfast which consisted of an idli, medu vada with sambhaar and upma. The meal was decent enough although if one has to purchase this directly in-flight, it was quite pricey at around 350 INR and maybe the quantity does not justify the price. But then again, low cost carriers aren't exactly known for being generous when it comes to inflight food and beverages. Landing was on time and retrieval of the baggage was also swift. I would say that the flight was quite nice and even though low cost carriers try to maximize revenue through ancillary services (meals / excess baggage) they provide the best functional experience when it comes to taking you from point A to point B. And Air Asia does that pretty well. I cannot think of any area which was lacking on this flight. Keep it up.

Route: Bengaluru to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Malindo Air

Title: "the worst airline ever"

Review: The travel voucher refund is very long to receive. Only received a year after I requested it. If not because of the travel voucher, I won't use this airline anymore. Not worth your money at all. Customer service also very bad. Didn't reply to customer's email, if you didn't call to ask about the email, they won't reply to it and respond to it. Too many times the flight was cancelled but they didn't help at all to assist to get the new flight date. Customer call centre also very hard to reach. I called hundred times but too hard to answer. You cannot call using your mobile phone because cannot press "1" or "2" to choose English or Bahasa. Email didn't respond, call cannot be reached - the worst airline ever!

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Kathmandu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Germania Airline

Title: "completely positively surprised"

Review: Palma de Mallorca to Zurich. For the first time we used today Germania and I have to say I didnt have much expectations. So we were completely positively surprised: very friendly and warm service, good and professional atmosphere and even the captain was outstanding nice and informed the guest several times about the route etc. Will definitely book Germania again!

Route: Palma de Mallorca to Zurich

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "worst experience I have had"

Review: In 40 years of air travel, the worst experience I have had! They lost our luggage and we had to track the luggage (have apple tags!). They would not get our luggage to us days later so we had to take a 2 hour train to get it. The baggage line on the return flight at London City airport was so long. The staff are rude and yelling at passengers. Never again. The Spirit airlines of the Europe.

Route: London City to Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air India

Title: "Worst flight"

Review: Worst flight. First time I travel on Air India and this will be the last time. Food quality is the worst, no entertainment, screens are not working for almost 50 percent of flight and the the response from air hostess is they will provide magazines to read. They dont keep the washrooms clean for a 15 hour flight. I would say never travel Air India.

Route: Delhi to Chicago

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "Very cheap service"

Review: Flight 1852, August 22, Las Vegas to Toronto. Very cheap service. No coffee or tea. With the Air Canada stocks doing so well, the company should invest more in customer satisfaction. No space for luggage on plane even though it meets the requirements.

Route: Las Vegas to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "crews were somewhat attentive"

Review: Pros: Food is OK and most crews were somewhat attentive. Cons: less selection of movies and music Issue: I usually made multiple trips (every two hours) to restroom, unfortunately EVA air assigned me the window seat and I couldn't change it during check-in. After took off, I realized that there were some aisle seats not been taken, so I requested a flight attendant whether I could change my window to aisle. She told me that there was no aisle seat available. I ended up begging my neighbor passengers for five times to go to restroom. Most of the times they were sleeping and I really hated doing that. It would be better if the flight attendant provided me the reason why she could not assign me an aisle seat when some are available instead of rudely denying and walking away.

Route: Houston to Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: French Bee

Title: "French Bee is not family friendly"

Review: Terrible check-in process. Staff in Paris are not motivated and each employee makes their own rules. Security agents also make their own rules and you end up with chaos and staff yelling at passengers in every direction. French Bee is not family friendly. They do not allow strollers at the gate. You have to check in and will not have your stroller with you. We had 2 very young kids and a pregnant wife. The staff did not care and refused a wheelchair. With an infant on our lap and a pregnant woman we were almost last in the plane and asked to put our bags under our seats. This is when we raised our voices and told the airline to have some common sense. Once in the plane we asked for water as my wife felt unwell after all this chaos. We were told to wait for take off. Ended up waiting for 2h for a cup of water. Once in Newark our wheelchair took 45 min to reach the plane. The staff was begging us to move so passengers on the next flight could board. We did not move otherwise we would never get the wheelchair.

Route: Paris to Newark

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: "airline has no customer service"

Review: Absolutely horrible. This airline has no customer service. They got rid of their phone number. Everything is automatic thru a website. So the flight was several hours late. I missed my connection. No refund was issued. Then the return had to be changed. I was charged both a change fee for 99 dollars and a cancellation fee for 99 dollars. They double dipped and would not refund even one of the fees. I would have been ok with either a change fee or a cancellation fee but not both. So then I bought a whole new ticket so I actually paid them 3 times for the flight. In summary, an original 112 dollar ticket became over a 400 dollar ticket. It would have been cheaper to just use a reputable airline like American. On top of all that they stuck me in the middle seat. Now once again I tried booking a new flight with them and they cancelled the 9 pm flight and offered me a 6 am flight. That did not work with my schedule. They also cancelled the return. So this airline advertises routes and schedules but when they do not meet their passenger quota, they just cancel the flights to stay profitable. The hell with the actual people who fly them. Never ever again. Spirit has better customer service than Frontier and that is really saying something.

Route: Philadelphia to Fort Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ITA Airways

Title: "worst airline I have ever used"

Review: I additionally booked seat at emergency exit and lounge entry when i booked this flight. I paid eur378,67 for the flight plus extra seats and eur35 for lounge entry. I received a receipt for only the flight 326,67. I did not get my seats and i did not receive any voucher for lounge entry. I called the service desk many times (during 3 days aproximately 15 times) they promised me every time to take care of it and to search for the money. The only thing i could do is to book again and pay again and hope it works out. Nobody called me back and i did not receive the seats in the end and of course i could not enter the lounge. Ita airways does not send me any answers by email. This is definitely the worst airline I have ever used. I will not use them again ever.

Route: Amsterdam to Milan

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "felt like sitting on a stool"

Review: Flew Jetstar Asia from Singapore to Osaka via Taipei. The ground staff and flight crews are excellent. But the seats are really economy sized. They are 2/3 length of the seats of other airlines. I had to sit up right to keep from sliding off, which made it difficult to rest for an overnight flight. I am under 5ft tall, so I can't imagine a taller person sitting on it with any comforts. It felt like sitting on a stool.

Route: SIN to ITM via TPE

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Malaysia Airlines

Title: "staff asked for my One Health Pass"

Review: I was issue my boarding pass at the airport. Just as I was boarding the plane I was stopped. The staff asked for my One Health Pass issued by the Philippines. I was shocked to find out at such last minute. The staff said the front office should not had issued me the boarding pass if I do not process this health certificate. They refused to let me board the plane. They said my check in will be returned and I will have to buy a new ticket for the next available flight. I confronted the issuing officer and he just washed his hands by saying I should have done my own research before flying. To add salt to my wound he wants me to get a new ticket at 2800rm. 6 times the original price. I bought another ticket from Philippines Airlines and because MAS failed to return my checked in I missed this Philippines Airlines ticket too. Can you believe they cannot find my check in luggage. Now I have to buy my 3rd ticket. Malaysia Airline agree to fly my bag to Manila if found.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: QantasLink

Title: "crew friendly and helpful"

Review: QF1788 Brisbane to Townsville with QantasLink 21 December. Check in on line, mobile phone boarding pass.

Early flight 6.55am. Seating on flight 2x3 seating. Aisle seat 20C as selected in 2 seater aisle. Took off on time.

Breakfast served Gluten Free large toasted sandwich very tasty. Cabin Crew friendly and helpful. Good flight. Usually verify review but misplaced boarding pass.

Route: BNE to TSV

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: "Absolutely the worst airline"

Review: Absolutely the worst airline. First overbooked the flight, then cancelled the flight when boarding was to begin.

Customer service is a joke, refused to reimburse for hotel or vehicle rental, refused to compensate for lost wages as we lost a day of work due to their cancellation. Basically said too bad heres your refund plus a $50 voucher to fly on our airline again. Ill walk before I fly Frontier again

Route: Orlando to Philadelphia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: WOW air

Title: "this is cheap and terrible"

Review: Edinburgh to St. Louis via Keflavik. Awful in every respect. Staff were rude. Seat pitch is totally unacceptable for transatlantic. Dont take cash on board then give awful exchange rate. Flight late with no explanation. No facilities on board. Cheep and cheerful I hear, but this is cheap and terrible. Avoid at all costs.

Route: Edinburgh to St. Louis via Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "Copa Airlines will not refund"

Review:

I had to cancel my flight due to Covid positive results 24hr before the flight. Everything was going well at the beginning when we cancelled the flight/ticket, because we have been informed that they will refund. However, after almost 40 days I have been informed that Copa Airlines will not refund. This action is not fair at all.

Route: Panama City to Bridgetown

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Aer Lingus

Title: "announcement spoken too rapidly"

Review: Very efficient, friendly. Only comment I would like to make is that the announcements by Cabin Crew were not clear. Each announcement was spoken too rapidly. As if there was a race on.! No sense of style. Just rush, rush, rush. Diction was very difficult to understand, particularly with male cabin crew on London /Shannon. Each word rushed into next. Just could not decipher what was being said. The spoken word can be beautiful, even if it is an instruction. A few seconds to pronounce what one is saying can make a difference I believe.

Route: London Heathrow to Shannon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sky Express Airlines

Title: "worst company I have ever traveled"

Review: It's the worst company I have ever traveled my family and our dog. When we were flying to Chania it was an hour late and on the way back to Athens we were told not to take our little daughter's hood from the plane. When we picked it up with the suitcases it was broken. Consider afterwards that it became intentional.

Route: Athens to Chania

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: "such kind of trouble in our backpack"

Review: First things the onboarding person was very Rude. I cannot imagine how one can be resist when they are already facing that. We never face such kind of trouble in our backpack when we took this personal bag everywhere even with frontier before. I understand there are certain rules and we respect that but there is a way to handle the situation. My wife and I were trying to pack things properly so we can fit the bag in given space but the lady was so rude that did not even give chance to wait for my partner when my checking was over. She also threatened my wife to unboard her from flight when she was just trying to ask her something. I am very disappointed with this kind of behavior and threatening behavior.

Route: Atlanta to San Francisco

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "one of the finest business class"

Review: Tokyo to Toronto via Taipei. I must say this is one of the finest business class I had the pleasure to fly in.

Flight attendants on both flights were excellent. Service quick and accommodating. Food was great. The flight attendants all had been extremely polite and always inquiring if they can be of assistance. The In Charge came around and introduces herself to all the business passengers. Plane was extremely clean on both flights. Washroom was obviously was continually cleaned during the flight. I would fly this airline again and would highly recommend EVA air.

Route: Tokyo to Toronto via Taipei

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "terrible service"

Review: My flight was redirected to Washington and then Egyptair sent me on a bus to New York airport, I was supposed to arrive in New York at 3.20, instead I arrived on a bus after 9 hours at 11.30 in JFK airport, which is ridiculous you made me late to my appointments and made me super exhausted, I am very dissatisfied and disappointed in Egyptair and I would not recommend anybody to fly with them, everybody on that flight deserves a refund for the trouble they were put through, the least you could do is reach out and apologize about the terrible service.

Route: Beirut to New York JFK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "Cabin crew were happy and friendly as usual"

Review: Another good flight by Scoot. This was the second leg of my flight getting me back home to Perth. I paid a little extra for the "Scoot in Silence" area, but I should not have bothered, because I think at the most there were fifty passengers on this flight. Cabin crew were happy and friendly as usual, but I think also a little bit bored because the aircraft was so lightly loaded. A smooth flight, but we hit the usual turbulence when we got to the top end of Western Australia. Despite this, the aircraft landed right on time at Perth airport. I did not purchase any extra for this flight, so I can't really comment any further. Price of the flight was good, in my opinion, definitely value for money. One has to also keep in mind that Scoot is a budget airline, so remember not to set your expectations too high.

Route: Singapore to Perth

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "worst airline we have ever flown"

Review: We booked non-stop roundtrip flights from San Francisco to Cancun for December 21, 2019 to January 4, 2020 way back in February 2019. When we went online December 20 to see about check-in we saw that they had put us on an overnight flight December 24 with 2 stops and a huge layover and changed our return to the same thing a day later than we needed to return. They had us missing 3 days of vacation & Christmas & also missing work on our return. We were never informed of these changes. We spent hours on the phone, getting passed around, cut off & getting no help that night & the next day. We had to book very expensive flights on another airline to get there in time for our hotel reservations, etc. We had to keep the flights coming back & it was a total nightmare. An 8 hour overnight layover in Mexico City just to get as far as Guadalajara. It took 18 hours altogether to get back & we both had to miss work. I believe they are running a scam advertising very good flights at a reasonable cost & then "canceling" the flights and putting customers on these terrible ones that no one would purchase on purpose. Also nonexistent customer service at the airport as well as by telephone and online. Definitely the worst airline we have ever flown.

Route: San Francisco to Cancun

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Regent Airways

Title: "It got hotter, and hotter"

Review: As soon as I boarded the plane, it was hot. Air conditioner was not on. It got hotter, and hotter, and hotter inside the plane while all others after me boarded. That process took roughly about 40 minutes for everybody to board. Despite many people trying to cool themselves by fanning newspapers or whatever that were in their hands and requests to the crew to switch on the air conditioner, it was still not switched on. When, finally, the plane started moving, I thought the ac would now be switched on - but no - they still would not switch it on. The plane spent 20 minutes taxiing on the tarmac before taking off. The air conditioners finally came on about 7 minutes into the flight, for a flight that only lasts 30 minutes. The same thing happened on the return, with no air conditioner on until well into the flight. This is utterly disgusting on the part of Regent Airways. I have flown on this airline before as well, and the same thing happened on those occasions as well. If Regent Airways are reading this, please increase your fares to cover the cost of fuel for keeping the ac on right from the time of boarding to keep passengers comfortable. This is obviously a cost cutting exercise in fuel costs - but this is really disgusting. I am pretty sure all those waving their newspapers and anything else to keep themselves cool would much prefer to pay a few more Taka extra for the ac to be kept on than the terrible experience they get whilst on board your flights.

Route: Dhaka to Kolkata

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thomas Cook Airlines

Title: "did an excellent job"

Review: Tenerife to Bristol. Despite the weather we returned to our home airport just three hours late, one of about two planes to land in Bristol yesterday, and we were kept informed by staff from the moment we arrived at Tenerife South Airport. Credit where it is due, the pilot and cabin crew did an excellent job.

Route: Tenerife to Bristol

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: JetSmart

Title: "Very poor service"

Review: Very poor service. 3.5 hours of delay, no compensation. Will never fly again with them. There was no reason given for the delay, nor were they open for any kind of compensation.

Route: Santiago to Buenos Aires

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "no frills as expected"

Review: Be very careful when flying with this airline Even when their own app isn't working, preventing you from checking in online, they will still charge you for checking in at the airport. They charged me an extra 165 to get me and my family home, even though it was their app that was at fault. 165 to print off 3 pieces of card. When I complained to the airline I received an email explaining to me how to use the online check in, the same online check in I used for my outbound flight, the same online check in I tried to use for my return flight, the same online check in that wasn't working for my return flight. Presumably a stock response to fob off their most valuable asset, their customers. The flight itself was fine, no frills as expected, minimal legroom, as expected. The food and drink was actually quite good but expensive for what you got. Flight attendants were professional, friendly and attentive. Boarding wasn't ideal, crammed on to 3 buses to be taken to the plane, then only boarding at the front of the plane despite stairs also being at the back. I didn't check in any luggage, so I can't comment on this.

Route: Ciampino Rome to Manchester

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SATA Air Azores

Title: "not ignore the mistreatment"

Review: On 26th December I took a flight from Toronto with connecting flights in Ponta Del Gado and Lisbon and a final destination of Seville, Spain. Unfortunately the Azores flight from Ponta Del Gado to Lisbon was delayed due to operational technicalities within the Lisbon airport, backing up the airport for most of the day. As a result I arrived in Lisbon minutes before the initial scheduled boarding for my next TAP flight was set to take place, fearful that I would miss it. I received a text message to my phone from Azores Airlines stating that my next flight had been delayed itself over one hour, however, given the timing, I was still cutting it close. Upon arriving at my TAP boarding gate I was made aware that the flight I was set to take next was indeed delayed two hours itself, meaning that I had made it in time and would be able to fly out shortly. After getting to the front of the line awaiting to board, the TAP attendant told me, quite matter of factly, that my ticket had been sold due to my past flights delay, and that my next flight would not be for another 10 hours. Naturally I was shocked, and disappointed not only to spend 10 additional hours in the airport, but for the fact that my plans made in Spain would not take place, losing an entire day of travel. Upon pleading with the attendee she told me that it wasn't her dilemma, offering no consolation and asking me to take it up with the Azores officials, as it was not a TAP issue that my ticket was given away. I then tracked down the Azores customer service department. They told me they were sorry for what had happened, however there was nothing they could do, seemingly confused with the events that had taken place. The representative told me all they could offer me at that moment was two 10 Euro vouchers for lunch and dinner at the airport. I found this an incredible lack of compensation given the loss of a day of travel, 10 hours spent in an airport, as well as no prior communication as to my ticket being sold. After inquiring about my luggage, it was only after my question that she explained to me they had no track on its whereabouts. I was then forced with the task of lining up for nearly an hour to find my luggage from the lost and found, and lining up again to check my bags for my next flight. The next several hours were as one could expect. Not the ideal setting for the first day of one's holiday. The lack of adequate customer service, the lack of communication, as well as the lack of compensation is astounding in my eyes. The fact that I wasn't made aware of this decision the airline had made for me, especially after receiving a text message previously with an update, is astounding. I cannot believe how I was treated between the two airlines on this day. Compensation in the form of two meal vouchers for a loss of a day of travel, poor service and 10 additional hours in an airport is comical. I have never voiced a formal complaint in this manner, however, given these circumstances I simply could not ignore the mistreatment. I am a frequent flyer and often travel to Europe. This is a very deterring event when considering Azores Airlines in the future. Any sort of response given the situation would be appreciated.

Route: Toronto to Lisbon via Ponta Delgada

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: QantasLink

Title: "Very relaxed flight"

Review: Townsville to Brisbane. Checked in on mobile phone and mobile phone boarding pass. Townsville airport very quiet so very quick bag drop off and quick security clearance friendly staff. Boarded quickly and took off on time Chosen seat 20C, an aisle. This plane was a 2x3 seating configuration so good for 2 passengers travelling together. Gluten Free Toasted sandwich served very soon into flight and cold drinks .Was asked if I would like another snack later when trolley passed again. Very relaxed flight.

Route: TVS to BNE

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "wont travel with this airline again"

Review: Im having this flight for the second time and it was late both of the times. This time we had to wait for 5 hour and we were not even informed earlier. We got to know about the delay when we checked in. I wont travel with this airline again.

Route: Vancouver to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "promptness and attention of crew"

Review: Only words of gratitude for the promptness and attention of the crew to the passengers. Departed on time, back from Bangkok late for 1.5 hours. Good quality food, drinks to choose from including alcohol. Against this background, the work of the customer support service stands out sharply: within 2 weeks they could not deal with booking tickets based on a voucher. Ultimately, we ourselves solved all the problems without their participation.

Disgraceful work!

Route: Stockholm to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Peach Aviation

Title: "cancelled because of a typhoon"

Review: One of the worst airlines. The flight from Ishigaki to Tokyo on 11th August was cancelled because of a typhoon, we tried to contact the company but nobody answered the calls and there is noway to have any news. We kept trying for the next day but nothing, ghost company with no customer service. After many tries my friend arrived to be in contact with someone and he has been told that there is no refund, not even in miles.

Route: Ishigaki to Tokyo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Batik Air

Title: "Late flight, late baggage"

Review: The worst airline. Late flight, late baggage. Disgusting food onboard. Simply worst experience. In flight entertainment was not working.

Route: Singapore to Jakarta

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "a lot of gate changes"

Review: Not recommended if its a transit flight. There is a lot of gate changes, you could miss your flight and they will make you pay for another ticket. Bahrain airport is a small and bad one.

Route: Dubai to Bahrain

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "our only airline"

Review: A great experience, amazing flight attendants on both flights. Flights on time a lot of positive energy.. As a 10 year plus loyal customer that's our only airline.

Route: West Palm to Rochester

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: flydubai

Title: "this is an airline to be avoided"

Review: The level of service due to the attitude of the crew is appalling! Not a single staff had a smile and were sulking all through the flight. I was fortunate that this particular flight departed from terminal 3 or else I would have had to face the mess of terminal 2 in addition. The seats are new but the pitch is unacceptably tight. The worst part is the toilet which can barely squeeze an adult and I am not talking about any obese adult but a normal weighted guy! No wifi in a so-called latest being plane. My fare had a meal included and the choice was an omelet with potatoes or only potatoes!! The meal was served in a paper packet. The only plus point for me was the schedule but this is an airline to be avoided.

Route: Dubai to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Bassaka Air

Title: "brilliant in all aspects"

Review: Phnom Penh to Siem Reap with Bassaka Air and I found this airline to be brilliant in all aspects. Their prices are phenomenal and I couldn't complain about anything. Check in was super fast and done with a smile. The plane is a little outdated but its still new and growing. The flight itself was 30 mins, and for such a short flight you even got a complimentary drink.

Route: PNH to REP

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lao Airlines

Title: "plane was quite new, comfortable seat"

Review: First time flying with Lao Airlines, and very impressed. Staff was friendly both at check-in as the cabin crew. The plane was just half full. Very smooth boarding. The flight departed before schedule time and arrived 25 min in advance. The plane was quite new, comfortable seat with a lot of space for the legs. We got served a little box with a sandwich, a piece of cake and an orange juice. Apart of that we got offered complimentary drinks. It's true that the flight was pricy, but it's normal considering that is the only airline covering the route, and only 4 times a week. I definitely recommend this airline.

Route: Bangkok to Savannakhet

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Fiji Airways

Title: "service was friendly and efficient"

Review: Sydney to Los Angeles with a stopover in Nadi. Check in was easy with no waiting, aircraft left a few minutes late due to normal Sydney delays. Nadi is nearing a make over and no doubt the new lounge will be superior to the old one which is still usable. Flight from Nadi left on time, I slept most of the way to LAX and the plane landed ahead of time. Food offered was of a good standard and the service was friendly and efficient. The stop in Nadi does break up the flight and the new look airport will be a big boost. A good flight all over, the IFE is limited however there where decent choices.

Route: SYD to LAX via NAN

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Transavia

Title: "Luggage arrived three days late"

Review: Luggage arrived three days late due to chaotic check-in at Amsterdam. My pregnant wife had to stand for 2.5 hours to check-in. In Porto we waited another two hours before a ground agent condescended to accept the report. We incurred costs replacing clothes and toiletries. I am insured to cover this but I have to claim on Transavia first which is impossible.

Route: Amsterdam to Oporto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "Sad experience"

Review: Boarding was a mess, there was no room for those of us who had the correct luggage, and we put small things in the front seat, the compartments were full of other passengers' small things. Why make rules if then they don't enforce them? The food was completely cold, impossible to eat. The flight was delayed by more than 1:30 pm, for a "medical" reason. That was the only comment after keeping us on the plane for that time without any explanation. Then in Lima, with a 5:00 p.m. wait for the next flight, they could not explain to us whether or not we should pay the airport tax of more than 30USD per person if we wanted to re-enter the airport after going out to the city to a nearby hotel. The best response we got from the airline was that it was "random." Sad experience, unfortunately not the first with this airline, I will do my best to avoid it in the future.

Route: Madrid to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: TAP Portugal

Title: "A nice upgrade"

Review: A nice upgrade with the help of the app so flown again business class and it was the same team of flight attendants. What a surprise we got as we were last seats in business class me and my wife were presented with a treat from all the crew that got my wife emotional.

Route: Chicago to Lisbon

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Sriwijaya Air

Title: "precisely on time"

Review: First time flying on Sriwijaya Air from Surabaya to Jakarta. The flight was precisely on time. Surprisingly inflight the cabin crew distribute some snacks for us. Previously we never thought that Sriwijaya Air give snacks on their flights. Their inflight shop items also reasonably priced.

Route: SUB to CGK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: American Eagle

Title: "worst experience ever"

Review: Ft Walton to Albany via Washington. The attitude of the person at the desk was inappropriate. The airline overbooked the flight and was asking for a person to come forward and take a later flight. Why airlines overbook I'll never know but his attitude was really nasty. He said in an annoyed voice that if no one came forward it will delay the flight and everyone would miss there connecting flight. Sounded like a threat to me and many other people. Secondly to make your connecting flight you have to be bused from the plane to a waiting area and then bused back. People wind up standing - on the bus both ways, in the waiting area etc. I fortunately had check my bag at Ft. Walton but those that did not have to get their luggage and bring it on the bus both ways. What a mess. Will never fly American again. Worst experience ever and I fly quite often!

Route: VPS to ALB via IAD

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Kulula

Title: "in queue for hours"

Review: Johannesburg to Durban. No communication, standing in queue for hours. How can we be on time for our commitment. Unfriendly staff. Rather drive next time

Route: Johannesburg to Durban

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: US Airways

Title: "displeasure of flying US Airways"

Review: I had the displeasure of flying US Airways on Monday October 12th. My flight was suppose to leave Sacramento and connect in Phoenix with my final destination of Austin. After boarding the flight in Sacramento at 5:35 am for a 6:05 departure we were told there was a maintenance issue that would take a few minutes. The few minutes became an hour resulting in a delay in takeoff and a late arrival to Phoenix and me missing my connection to Austin by mere minutes (I arrived at the gate at 8:37am and the flight left at 8:46am). As a result I had to be rebooked and was told I was rebooked on a flight at 6:45pm resulting in spending the entire day in the airport and missing work and several appointments. This may have been easier to take if customer service had been good but it was not and their employees were rude, brisk and unapologetic. I will absolutely never fly US Airways or American Airlines again. Customer service goes a long way when situations occur and this airlines is lacking it in spades!

Route: Sacramento to Austin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "I have not yet received my luggage"

Review: Not just that the professional service was close to the worst. I chose This airline because of the service of the cheaper airlines, but was serviced in the worst way possible. It's also been two days and I have not yet received my luggage which is two days late. Think about this before booking your next flight with American Airlines, I know I won't.

Route: Atlanta to Philadelphia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Breeze Airways

Title: "9.5 hours of delays"

Review: Constant delays. No one has any idea when flight will actually depart. 9.5 hours of delays at the moment, promising it will not be cancelled. Staff has no idea of actual procedures. "Rescue flight is on the way, will be here in 50 minutes." Hours later we're still here with a $20 voucher for food.

Route: Orlando to Akron Canton

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "irritated with your careless attitude"

Review: Very bad service to deliver baggage. Its been 5 days after arrival, and still not yet received baggage from airport. As per the airport staff, baggage was supposed to be delivered on third day of travel. From Go Air, its a big shame and careless for customers and I don't want to travel with you anymore. At least you need to answer the phone or contact me for the update. Very poor, bad service and irritated with your careless attitude. No one responsible for customer queries and baggage, and I don't know how you can run the airline in this way.

Route: Dubai to Cochin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "Frequent delays with no communications"

Review: Frequent delays with no communications or notifications. Their horrible IT system is not updated with latest flight information. Flight was delayed but their app showed on-time and even that the flight already departed when people were still waiting at boarding gate.

Route: Los Angeles to New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: airBaltic

Title: "never fly airBaltic again"

Review: Helsinki to Hamburg via Riga. Small propeller aircraft, not much space inside. Very impolite staff at Helsinki, checked the hand luggage at the gate very exactly - 60 if its even one more kg than allowed. Fee for choosing a seat even at online checkin. Bought a croissant at 5 - very very small and dry. It seems that they just want to sell as much extras as they can, got several emails with advertisings for that before my flight. And the the ticket wasnt even cheap. Will definitely never fly airBaltic again.

Route: Helsinki to Hamburg via Riga

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Vueling Airlines

Title: "my luggage did not come off the carousel"

Review: When we arrived at Gatwick late Saturday evening, my luggage (and that of other passengers) did not come off the carousel. There was no sign of any Vueling agent, but the LGW baggage handler who was clearing the carousel said we should go through to 'landside' and report the missing bags to an office 'next to M&S'. With no Vueling agent available, we didn't really have much choice. Unfortunately, the office mentioned was closed. The next morning, I managed to speak to Vueling by phone (something I have since been unable to repeat). The customer services person clearly didn't believe me when I said there had been no Vueling agent available, and said she would need to email her supervisor. Two days later, i am still waiting to hear what they are doing to find my bag. I have been unable to speak to a person because I don't have the 'PIR' code they should have given me. They don't appear to care about me and my lost bag ! I accept Vueling is 'cheap' but to charge people extra for checked baggage, lose it, and then not help to find it is appalling.

Route: Granada to Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "think I would try another airline"

Review: A very cramped journey from Bali to Dubai in economy with barely any space to put my feet and I am only 5 ft 2. The pilot was very communicative about passing tropical weather and the air hostess were lovely. With just a 1 hour transit in Dubai I hopped onto the A380 which is much bigger but the walkways are still soo mall. The air hostess on this flight were not as friendly. A particular air hostess kept telling me off because I crossed my legs and my foot slightly went onto the aisle, I mean we were so squished. I fell asleep and they didnt serve me the first meal, or even offer a drink when I woke up, they just past me as if I didnt exist. The second meal was an excellent portion size, the food could barely fit on the tray. I particularly liked the greek yoghurt and granola, and cheese and biscuits - for the hot food it wasnt impressive. I had better food on cheaper airlines. The air hostess were OK about re filling my water bottle. All in all I think I would try another airline for this long journey next time, just a few bad vibes from the staff with regards to meals and sleeping as mentioned above.

Route: Bali to London via Dubia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Bamboo Airways

Title: "between a low cost and full service"

Review: Ho Chi Minh City to Hanoi. Long queue at check-in. Bamboo really need more check-in desks. Asked to pay additional charge for hold baggage - it wasn't clear on their on-line reservation system that my fare didn't include baggage. Bamboo need to make their reservation system clearer what is and what is not included on each fare basis. Boarding straightforward. Flight departed on schedule (something quite rare in Vietnam!) and, smooth on an almost new 787. Water and small pastry served as during flight. Cabin crew were friendly and efficient. Airline tries to be mid way between a low cost carrier and full service airline - and is successful in this aim but More check-in desks please.

Route: Ho Chi Minh City to Hanoi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeromexico

Title: "It is the worst airline"

Review: Lines of an hour and a half to be able to check the luggage, more than 35 minutes of waiting to be able to get off the plane and take my connection to my country, delayed flights and consequently loss of connections with themselves. Staff unable to provide support and solutions. They play with people's time because of their lack of competence. The supervisors will try not to compensate you and after receiving 20 people with the same case they redirect you to schedule your new flight. They send you to the furthest hotel (50 min) and are inflexible in giving you an alternative. An incredible lack of empathy, attention and service! It is the worst airline. Filas de una hora y media para poder chequear el equipaje, más de 35 minutos de espera para poder bajar del avión y tomar mi conexión hacia mi país, retrasó de vuelos y en consecuencia pérdida de las conexiones con ellos mismos. Personal incapacitado para brindar soporte y soluciones. Juegan con el tiempo de las personas por su falta de competencia. Los supervisores intentarán no compensarte y luego de recibir a 20 personas con el mismo caso te redireccionan para programar tu nuevo vuelo. Te envían al hotel más lejano (50 min) y son inflexibles en darte una alternativa. Una falta de empatía increíble, de atención y servicio! Es la peor aerolínea

Route: Monterrey to Quito via México

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Comair

Title: "Really bad airline"

Review: Cape Town to Johannesburg. Comair cancelled my flight because of the coronavirus outbreak in South Africa. They did not want to refund the amount or give me the option of a voucher or another flight in the future. Totally unfair. Really bad airline.

Route: Cape Town to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Shandong Airlines

Title: "ticket was booked wrong"

Review: Refund not given against cancelled flight by Airline. I have booked roundtrip ticket from Kunming to Delhi and Delhi to kunming but Shandong Airline not allowed to travel my daughter due to surname printed on booked ticket. This ticket was booked wrong by Travel agency. Shandong Airline didn't any help me.Travel agency refuse to refund against cancelled flight, this is totally unacceptable.

Route: Delhi to Kunming

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Koryo

Title: "good old-style music"

Review: If you compare Air China with Air Koryo, there is a lot to be said for Air Koryo. New uniforms for the stewardesses, friendly faces, good beer, lousy food, clean plane, reasonable seats and good old-style music.

Route: PEK to FNJ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: VivaAerobús

Title: "oversold, no seats available"

Review: Worst experience ever, don't waste your money, Worst customer service, professionalism, no ethics at all / no respect after checking in couldn't board my flight, airline tickets were oversold, no seats available. Had to get other flights for next day and flights in between because was the only flights available.

Route: Guadalajara to Tijuana

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SATA Air Azores

Title: "Zero help from SATA"

Review: Do not recommend this airline as their service is terrible. We flew Ponta Delgada to Lisbon and had connection in Lisbon with KLM. Ticket was sold with connection. When we tried to check in luggage all the way to Amsterdam it was refused even though SATA does have interline agreement with KLM. As result of it we had to recheck luggage in Lisbon. Flight was delayed, took 25 min. for luggage to arrive in Lisbin, check in desk was closed by the time we arrived to recheck luggage. Missed connecting flight just because luggage was not checked all the way. Zero help from SATA, sent complain letter to them , after more than a month none reaction. Use TAP as they more flexible than SATA.

Route: Ponta Delgada to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Meridiana

Title: Meridiana customer review

Review: Flew to Sardinia island and back with my girlfriend for my summer holidays. One hour delay on the outbound flight and confused boarding (we had to stand in the finger for 15 minutes as they started to board but plane was not ready yet), flight operated by old MD-80, I guess one of the last flying in the European skies nowadays but well maintained and with comfortable seats. Return flight was better with newer Boeing 737 and arrival ahead of schedule. Check-in was a breeze both in Bergamo and Olbia. Service onboard is extremely basic but cannot complain about the crew members who were polite and professional. Pilots were not very talkative though. Would consider to fly them only for short domestic flights as they have a good network in Italy.

Route: BGY to OLB

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: V Air

Title: "FAs efficient and cheerful"

Review: Bangkok to Taipei. Having now taken four flights on V Air, my comments remain virtually the same as my earlier review. I arrived at the newly opened international terminal at Bangkok's Don Mueang airport about 90 minutes prior to the scheduled departure. Check-in took less than 5 minutes even though the plane was around 85% full. The aircraft pushed back 35 minutes late but arrived precisely on time. The seat is comfortable with more leg space than is usual on budget carriers, my pre-ordered meal of chicken teriyaki was excellent and the FAs are efficient and cheerful. One even came to my seat to welcome me back having seen me on my last flight almost 5 months earlier! I wish all budget carriers were of a similar standard!

Route: BKK to TPE

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "This is simply a money grab"

Review: 1) We flew MIA to Newark and they didn't put our 2 children's car seats on the flight. Both tagged and handed over with the luggage. They were not able to get them to us. Our children are 3 and 4 and the customer service response is "your problem" 2) Flight from NYC to MIA on Friday is canceled. Jetblue provided no information and I mean none at all. Unaware if they are rebooking or refunding. Call wait times are long. 3) They can't rebook from New York Airport. They can get us on a flight from DC to Fort Lauderdale, so we get to DC. They cancel that flight and rebook us from DC going to West Palm. Even though they are still selling flights from DC to FLL and had enough space to book all 4 of us for any of the FLL flights. We find this out as we arrive to the airport. We were notified via voice message 4hrs later. After 2hrs wait to speak to an agent we were told they "can send us to any South Florida airport they want" and other passengers (even those without tickets previously) have priority. This is simply a money grab so they can continue selling flights and fill up the low demand flights to other locations. Arriving into West Palm, 70+ miles from our airport, at 9pm, with 2 small children after 72hrs of traveling is acceptable to Jetblue and a true representation of how little they value their customers. We have submitted a refund and rebooked with American, and will never make the mistake of booking Jetblue again their processes are not customer centric.

Route: New York JFK to Miami

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "dimmed out the windows"

Review: Sydney to Ho Chi Minh City on Boeing 787. They dimmed out the windows after 15 mins of flying and opened them with 10 mins to landing. And this was a daytime flight dep at 10.15am. Why do that? Or why not advise of the airlines policy when I pay for a window seat? Hence the lower score from me. The rest was quite good and plenty of leg room was good for long haul. Though cabin crew was young and inexperienced. VN has some ground to cover to catch up with leading Asian airlines.

Route: Sydney to Ho Chi Minh City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: British Airways

Title: "pilot apologise at every step of the way"

Review: Flight was delayed due to the inbound flight arriving late. There was no announcement to inform of the delay nor were the sceens updated. When ready to board we were requested to take our seats quickly to help reduce the delay, which people did. The pilot then announced he had received the documents for the wrong flight from ground staff, so we had to wait while they returned to get the right paperwork. After this was resolved, the pilot announced there would be a delay as there was only two push back tractors and we had to wait again. So after rushing to sit quickly, we sat the the aircraft at the gate for nearly one hour, which is longer than the flight takes ! Of course AMS is not BAs home base and it uses contracted staff here, but it should require a better level of service, It was embarrassing hearing the pilot apologise at every step of the way. Itll be Eurostar for me next time.

Route: Amsterdam to London City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: SpiceJet

Title: "Flight time was changed 3 times"

Review: Flight time was changed 3 times and the last change was announced the night before our early morning flight from Jaipur to Dharamshala via Delhi. Originally leaving Jaipur at 6:25am, changed to 9:30am, then at the airport was delayed 2 hours. Because of this change, we missed our connecting flight from Delhi to Dharamshala. The staff at the airport just shrug, zero sympathy. They told us the next flight we can get on from Delhi to Dharamshala is 2 days later and we have to book our own airport hotel to stay 2 nights in Delhi while waiting for the next flight. No refund if we decided not to take the Delhi to Dharamshala flight. Nightmare!

Route: Jaipur to Dharamshala via Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Iberia Express

Title: "completely disappointing experience with this airline!"

Review: My first time flying Iberia Express and it was terrible. Check in complete chaos, unorganized and I waited nearly an hour and only had hand luggage. Seats very small and no leg room. My flight took off 1 hour late which caused me to miss my connection in Madrid. Customer service at airport rude and didnt explain anything, just handed me a ticket for the next day! When I said I can see online that business seats are open on a later flight (same day) I was told it isn't possible to put me in business class. Overall completely disappointing experience with this airline!

Route: Las Palmas to Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Eastern Airlines

Title: "uncomfortable and unpleasant"

Review: Yangon to New Zealand via Kunming. Do not fly to NZ on this airline. You have to get de-embark and re-embark in China and Sydney, luggage and all. China is a terrible place to fly through, rude, officious, uncomfortable and unpleasant.

Route: Yangon to New Zealand via Kunming

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Philippine Airlines

Title: "you may miss your connection"

Review: If you have a connecting flight then for goodness sake don't fly this airline. You will have to suffer a lot at Terminal for transfer, for boarding a bus to change terminal and for everything. Chances are you may miss your connection.

Route: Singapore to Dammam via Manila

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Blue Air

Title: "never again with Blue Air"

Review: LCA-ATH, OB 5361. By luck I was 3h before my flight at LCA and tried to check in. No check in machine was working/operating and instead I had to wait in a huge queue to check in by a teller on the airline operator/representative! Amazingly after standing - lined up with many others for 2 hours we made complaints. The teller ignored us when we asked to have someone else to assist with check in so queue was split equally. Flight delayed at LCA. On the airplane: No space at all for my luggage - a simple notebook to put it over my seat - because there was no check at all from the crew before on boarding. As a result, overweight and oversize luggage occupied all the space above the seats. The air hostess tried to rearrange luggage and almost squeezed a huge bag on my notebook. When I complained she asked me to put the notebook under my seat. I said I paid also for a hand carried luggage which is normal size / weight and asked her to put the heavy bag somewhere else. Instead she put my bag somewhere else and I had to find it when we arrived. ATH-LCA, OB5162. Check in is available up to 12h before flight. This information is not stated on the ticket! No other main air carrier or point to point destinator has such a hilarious policy! Normally you can checkin 2-3h before take off, in some cases like Aegean even 45' before flight and this info is provided clearly on the ticket! I was flying 10.00 from ATH, on 19 June. Tried to check-in using their website on the 18th of June around 22.30 but their system stated that online check in is closed. Came to ATH on the Blue Air operator around 9.15 on the 19 June with printed the ticket and asked to check in. The operator/representative of the Blue Air company rudely informed me that I should be 2 hours before and there was nothing to be done - that was it I lost the flight while being 45 mins before. I searched using Expedia and Petas.gr on 13.30 in the same day - 19 June - and I bet that Blue Air recycles seats on their flights probably from those that already bought a ticket but not have already checked in 12h before flight. For example I found that in the same day 19 June 19/2019 20.45 ATH - 22.30 LCA they sell seats for 170$. I am wondering how this guy who buys the ticket from Expedia now say in 12.21 for a flight on 20.45 will manage to check in since e-check in is closed, never again with Blue Air.

Route: Athens to Larnaca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Nepal Airlines

Title: "usually never on time"

Review: Bangalore to Kathmandu. One of the worst airlines if you consider on time performance. They are usually never on time. On time is word which is not in their dictionary. They do not provide information about the delay on their website and surprisingly other flight tracking websites also do not reflect the actual time of this airline. Prepare to get delayed by 2-3 hours under normal circumstances. I have traveled Nepal Airlines more than 30 times and maybe once it was on time (yes I was surprised).

Route: Bangalore to Kathmandu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Namibia

Title: "First leg was cancelled"

Review: I have 3 flights with Air Namibia in December. First Johannesburg to Walvis Bay, via Windhoek : First leg was cancelled. A few days later I get noticed that my sons ticket from Walvis Bay to Cape Town also was cancelled. Now I worry for my last Air Namibia ticket from Walvis Bay to Windhoek. Is something up or are they just cancelling 2 of 3 flights to and From Walvis Bay?

Route: Windhoek to Walvis Bay

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Nok Air

Title: "departed and landed on time"

Review: Chiang Mai to Bangkok. Nok Air is a Low cost carrier so I was surprised they served a small bottle of water. It's not much but still a nice gesture. Flight departed and landed on time, but landing was really rough and bumpy.

Route: Chiang Mai to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeromexico

Title: "Aeromexico canceled the flight"

Review: This airline refuse to refund my ticket that I purchased through Priceline the traveling day was Nov 19 because I had a family event in Nicaragua. Aeromexico canceled the flight and changed to Nov 18 with a layover in Mexico for 10 hours I call the same day I got an email from Priceline saying the change of traveling plans. Their response was contact Priceline because the ticket were booked through them but Aeromexico charged my credit card Priceline said they cant refund ticket because they only can make changes back and forth.

Route: Houston to Nicaragua

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: XL Airways France

Title: "really a great experience"

Review: San Francisco to Paris. I was a bit nervous using this airline. I did a ton of research and looked for reviews and couldn't really find reviews base off the experience of their airline. Some of these reviews for XL I feel are from people that expected too much for a budget airline. I read the instructions and recommendations from their website, which I would read entirely to help you have a better experience. When I arrived at the airport I had my boarding pass printed before hand and was quickly greeted by an XL employee. They checked my passport and they checked the weight and size of my luggage. I had to check my luggage in the system, because the weight was too high. Upon boarding I was greeted by a very professional and flight attendants who spoke English and French. They realized I didn't speak French and directed me to my seat. Upon departing they did the standard procedures in French and English for departure. During the flight they provided a blanket, earplugs, water and a free meal! This is a very French airline and the food was very French and flavorful. They were very accommodating for refills of water, tea, and coffee that were free. The airplane itself is older so there is no WIFI onboard for internet. I was not disappointed, because they did provide a free movie and I also had my iPad. I would recommend you take a portable charger for your phone, tablet, or laptop. There are not electrical plugs on the seats for your electronic devices. Throughout the trip the flight attendants were on point and made sure the restrooms were cleaned and that passengers were comfortable. Considering the price I paid for the ticket this is a great value! This is a budget airline and for the overall package this was really a great experience.

Route: San Francisco to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Bangkok Airways

Title: "cant see how economy class can get any better"

Review: Travelled BKK to DAD 15th June 2019 on an A320. On time as usual. Changed initial ticket and preponed departure due to earlier international arrival. This proved to be easy without any hassle apart from some emails and a modest addition of 50 USD. If I change online the cost is horrendous. However, their helpdesk is fairly smooth and I could leave on an earlier flight for 49 USD which was OK. Got my BP in transit in BKK without any hassle. Free access to their (dry) lounge. Service on board is top notch for economy. Special meal provided, it was very delicious. Steel cutlery and wet towel. 2 drink rounds. Neat plane, fresh FA staff. I cant see how economy class can get any better apart from tedious bus-gating in Bangkok

Route: Bangkok to Da Nang

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: TAP Portugal

Title: "never encountered such incompetency"

Review: I have never encountered such incompetency. While the agents were polite the system was hell. I spent over 9 hours on the phone, where my calls were constantly dropped over and over. Frustration is a useless word to describe this experience. I was told by the supervisor that my return flight ticket was canceled, but it was not and I appeared as a No Show, so I had to purchase another ticket to get home. Upon trying to book the ticket at 609 USD online, the system one again keep screwing up and wouldn't take my payment. Upon calling TAP I was given a new rate of $949 despite the fact that their website was faulty. No consideration. Now I'll be forced to contest this over weeks and weeks as they say they will call or email but dont . On board experience is fine, it's the administration, communication and website usage that are a horror story.

Route: Miami to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "anything to avoid this plane next time"

Review: Air Canada rouge told me that I cant carry my instrument like that for security purposes and refused to hear anything I had to say. The staff told me that I didnt register my instrument and refused to listen to me when I tried to tell him that I did (my instrument even had an Air Canada tag on it). I specially checked on each airport to be sure that I will have no issue. He threatened to take me out of the plane and acted with authority if I refused to cooperate with his plan of inserting my acoustic musical instrument between hard cases in the compartment above the seats. There were 4 empty seats in front of me under which I could have inserted my instrument securely. Staff simply cut all communication canals, inserted my instrument in the worst possible place, and told me Air Canada is not responsible for any damage. I will do anything to avoid this plane next time I will travel from Quebec.

Route: Montreal to Quebec

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "Very basic service"

Review: Certainly not the best airline I have flown on. Very basic service and in flight catering consisted of a meat roll, and a cheese role, followed by a piece of chocolate cake. 3 flight attendants for a full 737, tells you level of service to be expected. For the price paid, I would have expected better, and as a Star Alliance carrier, even better.

Route: Frankfurt to Cairo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "Overall a good flight"

Review: We did the flight on domestic from Tokyo to Okinawa, about 3h with my wife and our daughter of 1.5 years old. At platinum desk they offer to take in check in baggage, baby car and ask the team to prepare a baby cart in arrival. The lounge did have a baby play room star wars. It was great check-in is as well, well organize for family. Overall a good flight with family.

Route: Tokyo to Naha

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "sue for compensation"

Review: On March 5, we were scheduled to depart at 1 p.m. from Livingston to Johannesburg on Flight SA49. But, without warning, the airline cancelled the flight, and all passengers were transferred to the swing flight SA9040/SA41, which we had to fly from Livingston to Victoria Fall, and only then to Johannesburg. Since we had to catch a flight from Johannesburg to Istanbul at 7:15 p.m., we requested confirmation of the cancellation of the flight in order to return the money, buy other tickets and fly off a normal flight of another airline, British Airways. A Nsw representative from SA refused to do so, assuring us that we would arrive in Johannesburg just 1.5 hours later than the originally set arrival time (15:15 instead of 14:45). That was still enough to catch our plane from Johannesburg at 7:15 p.m. We were denied the return of tickets and sent to board the plane, where we and other passengers were simply blocked for several hours. The plane did not take off at 2 p.m. or 3 p.m. First they sorted the luggage, then it turned out that they did not have a flight permit to fly to Victoria Fall. At the same time, we were not allowed back from the plane and were physically deprived of the opportunity to fly on a flight of another airline, British Airways, which took off from Livingston on schedule at 13:30 and arrived in time for Johannesburg. As a result, we flew to Johannesburg at 6:25 p.m., 3 hours 40 minutes late than the scheduled arrival time. Despite the assurances of the crew that we would be helped to board our flight at 19:15 through the transfer corridor, this was not done. We were just escorted out of the plane and dumped at the airport. When we independently found the South african Airways office at Johannesburg airport and asked us to issue a certificate about the late arrival of the flight due to the fault of the airline, we were rude, our passport was taken away and did not want to give it away. To get the document back, we had to call the police. After that, immediately returned the passport and issued the required certificate. As a result, we lost our flight to Istanbul at 19:15, were forced to purchase tickets for alternative flights at our own expense. One of the passengers became ill at the SA (South African Airways) office, but the spokeswoman refused to call a doctor. The reason for the situation was the greed of South African Airways, which instead of two planes (the airline sold two flights to Johannesburg - from Livingston and from Victoria Fall) sent one plane, which was supposed to gallop around Victoria Falls, picking up and unloading passengers of two flights. At the same time, the airline did not even have permission to fly under such a scheme, but knowing that the flight in time is impossible, denied passengers their law the right to return tickets and tricked them to the plane, which was doomed to fly with great delay. The fact that the airline has problems is already written in the media. But perhaps it's time to stop selling tickets for flights that no airline is going to perform? We are preparing to sue for compensation for late services, denial of the right by law to a forced return of an cancelled/altered flight, and for leaving a passenger in danger in a state threatening his health, an official of South African Airways and refusal to call for medical assistance. We hope that Star Alliance, of which South African Airways is a member, and IATA will also pay attention to the situation.

Route: Livingstone to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "Premium Economy seat was great"

Review: Houston to Singapore via Narita, Premium Economy seat was great. Large and very comfortable. Slept all the way back on the journey. Food was good as well, could have had fewer carbs options, more veg and protein. There was bread, rice, soba - too much carbs, in my opinion. One stewardess kept forgetting my stuff and I had to remind them or bring it to me after a couple of hours. However, I had a really good time chatting with one of the stewardess and she allowed me to stand and stretch my legs whilst waiting for my cup noodle. Inflight entertainment for English movies is limited - if you are flying short return flights, it would be ok but I was on a longer flight so I didn't have sufficient movies to keep me occupied.

Route: Houston to Singapore via Narita

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Saudi Arabian Airlines

Title: "Very disappointing"

Review: Flight was on the runway for almost an hour before pilot apologised and stated that there was a technical problem that needed to be solved at the gate. Stranded in the aircraft ever since. I had to ask for water and then a further round was given to us. We are supposed to be 2 hours into the flight already. On the way here the food offered was worthy of a budget airline - waffles and a hard croissant for breakfast. Very disappointing for a Skyteam Alliance member.

Route: London Heathrow to Jeddah

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Tahiti Nui

Title: "staff very nice and helpful"

Review: Papeete to Los Angeles. We really enjoyed flying with Air Tahiti Nui. The staff is very nice and helpful. The seats are colorfull, the screens are good quality with recent movies. Everything is free onboard. We really recommend this airline.

Route: PPT to LAX

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Pobeda Airlines

Title: "very good low-cost airline"

Review: Moscow to Cheboksary with Pobeda Airlines. The price was around £50 return ticket + £25 for an extra hand luggage. Pobeda's website was excellent for booking tickets, and what I liked was that all fees and charges were communicated in a very clear and user-friendly way. Check-in at Moscow VKO was done effectively, in a friendly manner. At Cheboksary the check-in was a bit messy, as airport was very small, though still fast and friendly. The planes on both legs were new Boeing 737-800's. Although seats did not recline, legroom was fine. No food was served during flights, but FA offered water at any call. Staff was all about speed and efficiency and were very good at it. All in all, a very good low-cost airline.

Route: Moscow to Cheboksary

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Vueling Airlines

Title: "the worst I have experienced"

Review: Vueling customer service is the worst I have experienced. They simply do not care about their customers and only want to make a quick buck. I was supposed to fly with my pregnant wife, two-year-old son, and mom. We got to the airport nearly 2 hours early, went through security, found our gate, and waited for the majority of the people to board. Then went into line once it was shorter, and when we reached the boarding gate they told us there is no space and that they sold our tickets to the people in front of us. This was the end of our trip. They then lost our bag and offered us and their customer service offered us a slight two days later which was expensive and we had to pay for. I still do not understand how this could happen - how can a business like this exist when they screw over families during their travels. We travel several times a year. I have never experienced such poor service. The staff was simply instructed to cut us off at any point and tell us to leave the airport.

Route: Barcelona to Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air New Zealand

Title: "customer service team is terrible"

Review: Their customer service team is terrible. They canceled my flight due to covid and credited my account. I went to rebook today and they said the credit expired (even though their website says I have the rest of the year until my credit expires). The lady I was talking to put me on hold for an hour and then hung up! Still trying to get it sorted but would not recommend this airline. Potentially thousands of dollars down the drain. I have spoken to several of their customer service team in the past and most of them don't know what they are doing.

Route: Auckland to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: airBaltic

Title: "seats are very comfortable"

Review: The staff is great, very kind and helpful, they give out free tea and sandwiches. The seats are very comfortable, The entertainment is decent, if you are going to fly this airline then I recommend taking a laptop or a tablet with you. The plane is quite quiet and fast. Overall 8/10 airline.

Route: Tallinn to Malaga

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "treated the cabin crew like dirt"

Review: What a horrible experience. The flight was delayed with 3 hours. Then drunken disorderly passengers swearing shouting and passing comments and treated the cabin crew like dirt.

Route: Lanseria to Durban

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Spirit Airlines

Title: "stranded for almost 8 hours"

Review: Worst airline ever! Dont be fooled by their prices you get what you pay for, which is poor service! My flight got delayed over 3 hours gave me a connecting flight I wasnt going to make & they refused to take care of it! They were going to leave me stranded in an airport for almost 8 hours but I decided to cancel instead! They gave me half my $ back. Now Im waiting on my bag, for over 30 minutes and nothing. A nightmare!

Route: Los Angeles to Tampa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: "Not flying with them again"

Review: Rip-off company. Nowhere when you book it says to check in online or there will be a service fees. We had to pay 100.00 just because we had to go up to the agent to check in on our way back. Kiosk did not work and I couldnt actually did not know I was supposed to check in online. Agent was rude did not even explain what the fee was for. Plus we had to pay 159.00 for our bag. Ridiculous. Not flying with them again.

Route: Cancun to St Louis

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Croatia Airlines

Title: "Staff smart and friendly"

Review: Gatwick to Split. Check in was one of the fastest we have encountered, desk opened early. Our flight to Split was comfortable. Enough leg room. Plane clean, one of the cleanest we have been on in economy. 18 year old A320. Staff smart and friendly. Small enjoyable snack given plus drinks, all included in price. Plus benefit of reduction for being a senior/pensioner, though downside you cannot book emergency exit seats for extra leg room. However flight only couple of hours long so not necessary. Return flight, again check in process prompt. Staff friendly enough but once snack served they stayed chatting at back of plane. This was our first time flying with Croatian but it will not be the last.

Route: Gatwick to Split

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: SpiceJet

Title: "a very satisfying experience"

Review: Very smooth flying experience. Both on ground staff and inflight crew seemed capable, efficient, friendly and pleasantly helpful. The quality of service was excellent. The toilet was clean. The meal provided was fresh. No hassle and no delays at any point before, during or after the flight. I did not have to wait more than a couple minutes for my luggage after landing. Overall, I had a very satisfying experience.

Route: Bengaluru to Gwalior

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Europa

Title: "the service was very poor"

Review: I flew in December to London to Bogota in business class. The staff was amazing and food and all the others service was excellent but I return on Friday arriving yesterday afternoon to London in economy class and the service was very poor. We were offered just one meal in the night of the departure and for the rest of the trip we had to paid the other meal. As I know the other airlines are offering two meals when the journey is long, making us to pay the other meal and we have to pay for the headphones while other airlines offer this service free.

Route: Bogota to London via Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Astana

Title: "they were extremely unprofessional"

Review: Almaty to Dushanbe with Air Astana. Forced me off my flight during check in (plane was not cancelled, it was overbooked) even though I booked 3 months in advance. Staff said this happens everyday and could provide no help. They suggested I contact their office who has not responded to my questions. Staff even asked me to please complain because this happens so often and they are clearly sick of it. To avoid this problem for others, I would recommend not using this airline as they were extremely unprofessional and no one could answer my questions. I travel every month to many countries across Asia and have never been treated so poorly. Later, Air Astana replied to my complaint with A) Wrong flight/date, and B) blamed it on a travel agent (I didn't use a travel agent) and C) stated an email notification was sent when it was not. The fact that they will lie to invalidate my legitimate complaints shows the type of business they do.

Route: Almaty to Dushanbe

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "only refunded me for airport taxes"

Review: I bought a ticket for 18.06. however as I was prevented from traveling (corona virus) I had to postpone the flight for 02.07. I called the call center and they said I had to pay 90e because of the price difference. In the meantime, I had to reschedule the flight for 09.07. and again to pay another 50EUR. Due to the impossibility of traveling, I wanted to postpone the flight again, but since I no longer knew for which date I wanted to leave the ticket open and use it until the end of this year, which they did not allow, and I had to choose another date and pay 50EUR again. In the end, I did not want to pay for the postponement of the ticket again, and I asked for a refund. I paid 300EUR for the ticket and they only refunded me 55EUR for airport taxes. I couldn't get the rest of the money because the flight was operational. Btw they don't reply to e-mails and the call center can hardly be reached.

Route: Belgrade to Dusseldorf

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Qatar Airways

Title: "staff were helpful"

Review: The best airline in the world, I appreciate the services, good food and the staff were helpful. I now suggest everyone to travel through Qatar Airways.

Route: Cochin to Warsaw via Doha

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "They canceled my flight"

Review: They canceled my flight and did not notify me. I had to look the flight up myself to find out. Then they would only refund with a voucher that they won't send for 2 weeks and that expires in 12 months. So I will have already left Europe by the time I get it and will probably never be able to use it. I couldn't find a new flight within the same day because it was such short notice which screwed up plans for accommodation that I can't get refunded and so on. The stress and money they have cost me is crazy.

Route: Naples to Santorini

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Pobeda Airlines

Title: "They didn't let me board"

Review: I had valid Russian Visa, plus invitation letter. I come to the airport Bergamo and the they didn't accept me on fly. Because cannot fly for tourism. I try to explain that I have not a "Tourism Visa" but "Guest visa" They didn't let me board. My girlfriend coming from Kursk to Moscow by train to meet me in airport. She had to go back again.

Route: Milan to Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Allegiant Air

Title: "staff was exceptional"

Review: Allegiant staff was exceptional. They were kind, efficient, and very friendly. Hadn't flown for 25 years and they made it enjoyable. Would fly Allegiant again.

Route: Pittsburgh to St. Petersburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: AirAsia X

Title: "disappointing experience"

Review: My mother and I were really excited to be flying with AirAsia X as it was considered the best low cost airline. However, our flight from the beginning until the end was a disappointing experience. To begin with, the ground staff didn't even greet us with a smile as if she was mad whilst doing her job. Then we realised our seats weren't together so we asked, and she rudely told us that we had to pay extra to be seated next to each other (we don't mind paying the extra fee, by the way. But we would've appreciated it more if we were told about it nicely). Then the whole entire flight, not a single smile on the faces of the crews. One crew member, whilst doing the safety procedures sighed and made an eye roll. Thankfully, the person sitting beside my mother was really nice and was helping her out throughout the flight but overall, we were really disappointed with their service and we have experienced better service at other low cost airlines.

Route: Tokyo to Bali via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "we were not impressed"

Review: Hanoi to Osaka Kansai. First time to fly Vietnam airlines and we were not impressed. The food in economy was terrible, crew did their bare minimum and we could see them sleeping in their crew seats during take off and landing. Also the plane wasnt cleaned properly - crumbs and wrappers on the floor. The good thing was the IFE which was very user friendly and quite a few selections.

Route: Hanoi to Osaka Kansai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Vistara

Title: "asked me to book a new ticket"

Review: Flights are new, clean & crew members are wearing Covid-19 PPE kit. I & my wife had Vistara tickets in the same flight segments. I booked my India portion of the ticket online through Vistara website. But my wifes ticket was booked through a different agent. On Oct 3rd, we arrived at Baggage drop-off ticketing counter at 6:05AM. Our flight departure was scheduled for 7:00AM. At the Baggage drop counter, they didnt accept my baggage & but took my wifes luggage & placed in the weighing machine. The agent in the counter informed me that the Baggage drop-off counter just got closed & I am late. I asked how you are taking her luggage, the agent told because she is having international ticket. My wife didnt want to take the 7:00AM flight alone. So she took her luggage off from weighing belt. The check-in counter manager then advised us that, they would be able to do a complementary accommodation in next immediate flight & advised us to go to sales counter there & inform about this. We both went to Vistara customer service sales counter in Terminal-3. However the service representative there said that next flight I can take is at 5:50pm not 11:10 am. But she didn't confirm my ticket & instead asked to wait. In the meantime my wife's ticket was confirmed to 5:50pm flight by the booking agent. My ticket was still not confirmed until 12 noon. At this time the sales representative asked me to book a new ticket instead & pay the full price. I informed the representative that I was advised by check-in area manager that I would get a complementary adjustment in next flight. She asked me to bring the check-in area manager to sales counter which I couldn't do. By 1 pm, I went back to sales counter & wanted to pay the full price to book the ticket. At this time, the sales representative said there is NO ticket available to BBSR on 5:50pm and advised me to take next day flight. I informed the counter that there is available ticket showing online. I went ahead and booked it using Vistara.com website by paying full for 5:50pm. But accidentally the first name in the new ticket was my wife's first name instead of my first name.

Route: Delhi to Bhubaneswar

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "shocking customer service"

Review: My review is not specifically about the flight but the shocking customer service. We bought a ticket with LATAM for a return flight. They lost our bags and took zero ownership of both finding the bags and compensating us for the delay of over 48 hours for us having to replace what we did not have. The bags were eventually found by us and were flown the following day by LATAM, but no one from LATAM or their ground agents did anything to contact passengers to advise. If it weren't for one of the other passengers having an Apple Airtag, we would have never known where our bags had gone. LATAM's so-called customer support tried to hide behind an IATA rule to say it was another carrier's problem as we had been put on another flight when ours was cancelled. This is despite the other airline never getting our bags and LATAM flying our bags to their destination. Do not trust this airline with your bags or stick with any conditions of the ticket agreement or international flying agreements for passengers.

Route: Auckland to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Korean Air

Title: "travel with Korean Air again"

Review: Taipei to San Francisco via Seoul Incheon. Very friendly crew, enjoyed my flight even with some delay at Incheon airport due to bad weather. The crew asked the passenger in the front to keep the chair straight during meals, which was very nice because when passengers ask each other, it doesn't always work well. Will definitely travel with Korean Air again!

Route: Taipei to San Francisco via Incheon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Avianca

Title: "only $92.15 was refunded"

Review: I tried to change my flight from Guatemala to Sacramento and they canceled my flight, when the total cost of the flight was $461.00 in total. I tried to make the change and waited for some sort of email confirmation and even called them and spoke to customer support and they said the request was still under review and there was nothing I could do or from them, after I talked to them on the phone I waited a couple of days and decided to call back to find out the status of my request, and they told me that my flight was canceled and the refund had already been provided. I told them that I had already tried to find out about the application and if they had told me that the flight was going to be canceled and that it was going to lose almost all the value, I would have left the flight as it is. But they didn't care about my explanation and hung up. My credit card was charged $461 and only $92.15 was refunded. $368.85 that was what they stole from me, I'm going to contact my credit card to see if they can get my money back but I don't think they can. The online service is operating solely and exclusively for them with all the advantages and coldness of the case.

Route: Guatemala to San Francisco

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "I went home bagless & exhausted"

Review: On Saturday 12/24 I was at the airport by 10:15 for my 12:15 boarding of Flt 2909 to Manchester. I'm always early. It was delayed to 1:45 then cancelled by 11:30. Got on line, no flights to Manchester so I booked one to Boston that stopped in Tennessee first, I think that was Flt 3223 scheduled for 5:45 PM & landing after midnight. I took it. I will pay the $200 + for car service to get to New Hampshire. I went downstairs got my bags from the Manchester flt & checked them for the Boston Flight. Went through security again. At 3:30 that flight cancelled. They told me I could rebook for Monday morning flt 3159 several stops but you stay on the plane to Boston get in 6 hours later. I booked it. I was told my bags would be downstairs again. I went downstairs was told over & over again by the staff downstairs my bags would be down as soon as they could. 8 hours later when the baggage doors closed I was told no more bags coming down I could speak to a manager but there were no managers downstairs, I could go upstairs. I did & guess what, no manager there either. I went home bagless & exhausted. I asked at least ten time & was told the bags will be here. There was no real security watching these bags I had the Christmas gifts for my family in one bag & all my winter clothes in the other. I would have left, if I felt they would be secure. I wish I had. I stayed home Christmas my 3rd flt was cancelled. I tried calling Southwest on hold the first time 3 hours had to hang up & then 4 hours on hold & then disconnected. I went back to the airport on 12/26. Got on line 7:15AM to try again, to get a flt. to Manchester. I was on that line for 4.5 hours. The reason it was so long is that we were not important to Southwest They had 3- sometimes 4 employees at the counter & 3 & sometime all 4 of the Southwest employees would take the A list people that just walked into there lane, that haven't waited more then 5 minutes. So basically the group of over 150 to over 200 people were left with sometimes, one person, who was at the end of the counter, to assist them in finding a new flight. How disgusting! How belittling to treat your customers with such disrespect. I finally rebooked & now for the last time I'm going to try to get to Manchester on 12/28. Now, I go downstairs to get my luggage, you know it, not happening. Its no where to be found, so what are my options a line, 2 hours later, I get into the luggage counter and ask, where is my luggage? My last flight was flight cancelled yesterday? Well the young man says, one bag in is Boston & one is still in Tampa. I didn't go to Boston but my bag got a spot? I told him the other bag is not here I looked for it several times. He said well it could be on a cart somewhere & we don't have the staff to look for it. You had the staff to send one of them to Boston? Was it an A list bag? I asked how do I get my bags? He said once you land in Manchester you can request your bags. What? Now you want me to get in line in another state? I know that Boston doesn't fly to Manchester? So what you're telling me, is they will fly my bags somewhere else & then to Manchester? Do I get the mileage points or do my bags get them? Also by the time my bags get to Manchester, if, in fact, they do find them, I will either be in NY or back in Tampa. The only warm clothes I own are in one of those bags. He said there was nothing he could do to help.

Route: Tampa to Manchester

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Avianca

Title: "I was happy to use Avianca"

Review: Flew San Jose-Bogota-Medellin-Cartagena on economy flights - apart from one issue with trying to pay for a seating upgrade (service centre did not respond so did it at airport) all flights were very punctual, boarding process worked so the airline delivered what was promised. Seating and service was basic economy standard with service offered even on very short Bog-Med flight. I was happy to use Avianca and would do so again.

Route: San Jose to Bogota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Asiana Airlines

Title: "checked my baggage through"

Review: Okinawa to Seoul. I will never choose Asiana again. They checked my baggage through without asking and didn't apologize. Ground service rude and not able to speak English to me.

Route: Okinawa to Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Bahamasair

Title: "Terrible customer service"

Review: Nassau to Ft Lauderdale. Awful airline. Avoid at all costs. Terrible customer service. 90% of the time, your flight will be delayed. Planes are old. The cheap ticket is not worth it!

Route: Nassau to Ft Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Firefly

Title: "airline does not even have the courtesy"

Review: The original flight was supposed to depart from Johor at 9am and was initially delayed to 11.45am. Then delayed to 1.15pm and again to 3.15pm. THE airline does not even have the courtesy to inform via email or sms of the delay. By right that many hours of delay should come with at least a meal voucher. No explanation given.

Route: Johor Bahru to Penang

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Norwegian

Title: "return flight was cancelled"

Review: Chicago to Barcelona. While on our flight to Chicago, I was informed via text that our flight has been cancelled and they will be re-booking us for the next flight on the following morning. That was not going to work for so we decided to call up Norwegian customer service and communicate with the terminal representatives at O'hare that we are requesting a refund on the Chicago to Barcelona flight as we will be booking with another airline. Instead of getting our refund for the outbound reservation (I am still awaiting refunding for that reservation) we got refunded for our return booking from Gatwick to Chicago. We were not aware that our return flight was cancelled and refunded. I had no access my bank account to verify which flight was refunded as I was traveling overseas. Due to this, we were stranded at Gatwick Airport for our returning flight on 20th October and had to pay for a separate last minute ticket the following day through another airline. This caused a huge strain on us as we had to incur a very heavy cost on this error.

Route: Gatwick to Chicago

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: SATA Air Azores

Title: "friendly service"

Review: My first experience with SATA from Ponta Delgada to Madeira was a pleasant one. Check in effective. Flight on time, friendly service, clean aircraft, good coffee. Baggage delivered quickly on the belt.

Route: Ponta Delgada to Madeira

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Wingo

Title: "lied so many times"

Review: They failed to pay me back or give a credit for the flight they cancelled. They lied so many times and I had to write to them 100 times and they took my bank details and failed to make payment. Lies and Lies. Recently they refused me to get a flight for the ticket they did not give me with the money they own. Guys if you get paid and do not provide service this is fraud.

Route: Panama to Cali

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: British Airways

Title: "never fly British Airways again"

Review: I will never fly British Airways again. To start, the plane was over 2 hours late, with no weather and no reason given. The boarding process was chaotic, both in the airport and onto the plane. But more importantly, although we were in business class, it wasn't really business class. There were a few aisles not separated in any way in which they simply put a tray on the middle seat so that no one sits there. And those seats, like the rest, were extremely cramped and uncomfortable. I could not believe they called this business class.

Route: London to Venice

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: SriLankan Airlines

Title: "staff are so polite and attentive"

Review: I am a frequent traveler with SriLankan Airlines and I travel almost 5 to 6 times every year. New and very clean. Seating was good with loads of legroom. Their staff are so polite and attentive. The way they deliver food and drinks is not rushed, they are calm and patient. As an economy traveller I didn't expect the first class service. With their Frequent Flyer Programme you can earn and redeem FlySmiLes miles whenever you travel, whether with SriLankan Airlines or one world member airlines, The more you fly, the more benefits and rewards you'll enjoy. Can't wait to travel again with this Airline.

Route: Colombo to Muscat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Laudamotion

Title: "fair for the price"

Review: Vienna to Palma. Laudamotion is vary fair for the price. Each time I flew I had no issues. Flew on time - plane fleet despite the age looks fresh - crew was friendly - check in and boarding smooth. No issues at all. I have no negative experience at all, so I definitely recommend!

Route: Vienna to Palma

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "informed me I would receive a refund"

Review: Has Anyone actually received a refund from Air Transat ? We were due to fly from London Gatwick to Vancouver on 1st October 2020, but they cancelled the flight. On 2nd September 2020 they informed me I would receive a refund. I am still waiting. It is now the beginning of February,. This is very bad customer service.

Route: London Gatwick to Vancouver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aeromexico

Title: "I will never fly with them again"

Review: On February 28th, 2022 I purchased three airline tickets from a third party to fly on Aeromexico. One for me, one for my husband and one for my daughter. On April 10, Aero Mexico changed our flights. The change of the flight did not work for my daughter. So I had to cancel her flight and re book by calling Aeromexico. Which they charge me extra for her new flight. They did not let me daughter on the plane with this ticket. They said it was fraud since I was not at the airport with her to show my ID since I purchased it with my credit card. They told her the flight is full and she can not buy a ticket. Twos hours back and forth with them they told her they have a seat for her which she has to pay for. So they cancel her first flight without telling us and the same thing happen for her flight coming back. I will never fly with them again!! If anyone ask me about AeroMexico Ill will definitely tell them not to fly with them! I'm still waiting for my money back!

Route: San Francisco to Guadalajara

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Blue Air

Title: "Worst experience ever"

Review: Bucharest to Birmingham. I purchased Premium service which entailed to an Extra Leg room seat and complimentary meal for 2 passengers. The aircraft was changed in the last moment and we the seats which originally were Extra Leg room and no longer. Although the Extra Legroom seats were still available those were given to other passenger who did not had a Premium service, nor we have received a complimentary meal. Worst experience ever.

Route: Bucharest to Birmingham

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Canada

Title: "no updates on flight status"

Review: Flight got cancelled and rescheduled after having spent 4 hours in the airplane, parked with no updates on flight status and if or when we'd take off. More than 28 hours of so called 'delay'. Very little communication or ways for them to compensate and make your journey less painful. Air Canada pay their staff poorly and treat them also poorly hence why to call this company pathetic is a compliment. Next time I might as well walk.

Route: Montreal to Pointe-à-Pitre

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia X

Title: "Super clean aircraft"

Review: Love the 2-3-2 seat configuration. Super clean aircraft and friendly efficient service you come to expect from AirAsia. Great prices, even with two checked bags to avoid excess baggage fees - it is worth it.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Incheon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Garuda Indonesia

Title: "will take my business elsewhere"

Review: Flew economy from Perth to Denpasar return and paid $430 extra for 2 adults to have exit row on this Boeing 737-800 which has a 3x3 seat allocation and a tiny aisle. On both journeys I was so upset because we had paid $430 extra for the exit row seats the cabin crew allowed other passengers to move to exit row seats for free once the aircraft had taken off. I complained to Garuda Perth Office and the reply from the State Manager was more or less bad luck and refused a refund for the extra we paid. Garuda Perth to Bali is 100% a budget airline, the food was poor and on the return flight we brought our own food and ate at the departure gate so we did not need to eat on the flight. The flight entertainment was a joke. No spirits served on board and lucky if you can get a beer or water. Garuda have lost me completely now, will take my business elsewhere.

Route: Bali to Perth

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Spirit Airlines

Title: "Worst airline company ever"

Review: Worst airline company ever. I've been flying for years and never experienced the incompetence of customer service. They didn't do a proper announcement letting everyone know about gate change. Then they had a time at 6.52pm for departure. I went to check in at 7:30 am day before check in They had everyone boarded and doors closed. More then 10 people werent able to get on. I'll never use spirit again. I had to buy an expensive ticket to Southwest. Worst service.

Route: Albuquerque to Las Vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Condor Airlines

Title: "frustrating and horrible"

Review: Seattle to Frankfurt. No customer service help whatsoever. I paid for round trip tickets that were canceled after getting to the destination. 3 hours on hold total. Not helpful with rebooking flight. Was charged $500 more to get home. The Alaska flight that took us from Seattle to Portland was connected to the Condor flight was canceled and never reimbursed. Attempted to resolve and not able to over the phone. Attempted to by online site but they want bank information that I am not willing to give them. They should be able to credit the credit card that they billed. Most frustrating and horrible customer service ever. Plus didnt get our bags for 4 days so had to buy toiletries and some clothes.

Route: Seattle to Frankfurt

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: El Al Israel Airlines

Title: "Terrible customer service"

Review: Terrible customer service. They lost my baggage and it was returned to me 6 days after arrival. There was no one to talk to through those days to find out the status of my claim and when I will receive my baggage. After I received it I tried to file a claim for the money I spent on clothes during those days and their online portal kept logging me out. I tries a couple dozen times to contqct them and file a claim to no avail.

Route: Los Angeles to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "rub salt into the wounds"

Review:

This is an update on my previous review regarding the Perth - Singapore - Ho Chi Minh Sector Scoot TR9. I neglected to mention that as this flight was delayed by three hours, Scoot gave us two meal vouchers valued at $15.00 each which could only be redeemed at a certain airport store. For the Total of AUD $30 we received two stale egg and lettuce sandwiches and two cheese and crackers, there were no hot options.. Mid flight they gave us some type of childs snack/toy pack. Hardly a decent evening meal and the onboard gift I think was to rub salt into the wounds.

Route: Perth to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Sunwing Airlines

Title: "extremely intoxicated behaviour"

Review: We arrived to the airport the date of Feb 6 2020 to board our Sunwing flight leaving from Montego Bay to Toronto. Our initial flight was scheduled to leave at 3:50pm and arrive in Toronto at 8:00pm. As we got there around 2:00pm, we were not notified of any delays as we entered through security/customs. (I had "text and email alerts from Sunwing" that NEVER once notified me of any updates and changes.) Upon arrival into the terminal we were told our flight was delayed. But no one had a reasoning as to why it was. It was about a 3 hour delay. We waited for the time frame that they posted would be our boarding time, to only find out that it was delayed AGAIN! Every time we spoke to people, they had different answers on the reasoning of this. (either the flight we were supposed to be on had to be used for another flight, the flight is delayed flying in, or the flight was experiencing "mechanical issues". Time kept ticking by, and as it went over the 3 hour mark where we are supposed to be compensated for this extensive delay with a food voucher, the Sunwing staff was incapable of giving us real answers and helping us understand the issues that were occurring. We had to legit BEG for these food vouchers of $15. What's great about Montego Bay airport is that the airport officially closes at 5:00pm. This means no one can leave to reenter security, all the restaurants close as all the flights are typically done and out by that timeframe. It was well over 5:00pm and we were still waiting for food vouchers to be released. We did receive the vouchers until 7:30-8:00pm! By that time nothing was open. We were the only people in the airport. We sat there. Waiting for updates. Absolutely nothing. At 8:45pm was the first real update on what was going on. The flaps on the plane were defective. They all refused to let us leave the airport, to stay a night somewhere and get the next flight in the morning. Their grand idea was to make us wait to arrange an empty plane from Cuba, gather last minute staff for that flight and fly to Montego Bay to get us and take us home. Of course, you can only imagine how long that would take. Our flight continued to get pushed back more and more "11:45pm" they promised we would be boarding. That's over 8 hours waiting in an empty airport with no food, they did not provide any water. You can only imagine the amount of families and older aged people on the plane who had to sit around for this time frame with little to no updates and zero care.. During this long and dreadful wait, there were patrons on our plane who got into their duty free purchases. One gentleman was extremely intoxicated by 11:45pm. Dancing around, singing to the top of his lungs, causing nonsense, disturbing people's space. Of course no one was around to monitor his behaviour except the other drunk friends he was with. As we were boarding the plane after midnight, I had let the flight attendants of the his extremely intoxicated behaviour. Which mind you, is extremely illegal to board a plane when you are this drunk. They thanked me for letting them know of this occurrence, and proceeded to let him on the flight? I wish they would have even taken initiative to at least talk to him about his behaviour as it was extremely disrespectful to the other patrons on the flight that had to deal with him the rest of the way home. We were supposed to be home at 8:00pm on Feb 6, and did not get into Toronto until Feb 7 at 5:30am

Route: Montego Bay to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: TAP Portugal

Title: "forced to check in my carry in baggage"

Review: Was forced to check in my carry in baggage even though it fit the requirements and was included in my ticket.

Staff is being forced to be this rude to customers.

Route: London to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "entertainment systems being faulty"

Review: Johannesburg to New York. We followed the normal reporting process and e-mailed SAA two weeks ago with no response. We reserved 3 seats for the trip going to New York and our return flight back to JHB. Before boarding this flight I phoned SAA and raised my concerns about on board entertainment systems being faulty which were laid to rest by your call centre lady saying I must request the ground staff to check entertainment systems before we take off to see if our systems are working so if there are technical problems they can be sorted before the plane hits the runway then it would be too late. This however did not prove to be factual at all. Once at the terminal the staff on the plane were rude and told us the systems could not be checked until the plane was in the air. So we sat back and waited hoping all would be okay until the emergency demonstration had been done and the entertainment systems started getting switched on then we started to see the overhead lights coming on one after the other. At this time we were still trying to figure out how to pull our entertainment systems from under our seats. With our luck Seat 45D had a picture but no sound. Seat 45E and 45F no picture or sound. So we complained with the other 20 or odd passengers at the time so they announced they were going to reboot the system. This happened twice. No change. The plane was not full so they started to move passengers around to seats to where there were screens to see if they could find available entertainment. My friend was moved twice and then gave up due to not being successful and came back to her seat next to me. The air was so hot where we were sitting we could not take it another minute so we called the air hostess who said she could not understand why it would only be our row. She came back later and said afterwards that there was a distinct temperature difference between the rest of the plane and our section and she would try and resolve it for us. She was very apologetic and accommodating. We were hoping that our return flight would be on a different plane as we checked and saw SAA has a few of these planes on their fleet and thought the likelihood of getting such bad luck a second time running in one trip would be unheard of. So we still went for the extra legroom and kept our reserved seats that we paid the additional R750.00 per person for, and lo and behold on flight SA204 departing from New York the seats I reserved again this time no sound no picture And a sweat box for the full flight.

Route: Johannesburg to New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Virgin Australia

Title: "I enjoyed my flight"

Review: I enjoyed my flight. Check in was fast and friendly. The flight left on time and the staff were very courteous and courteous, The only free offerings were tea, coffee and water, which is no big deal as it was a very short flight. A good flight.

Route: Sydney to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Blue Islands

Title: "company in grave and terminal distress"

Review: My Blue Islands Southampton to Guernsey flight was cancelled due to fog last Sunday which was bad weather luck. I emailed Blue Island that evening to cancel my Monday return flight and to ask for a refund. I also tried phoning but gave up after 20 minutes in the queue. Today is Wednesday and I am in Guernsey Airport. They have not yet replied to my email. When I go to their website they state that I am unable to 'manage my booking' for that cancelled flight, and there is no refund option on the page. I have tried phoning Blue Island again today several times, and after a 10 minute wait I left my phone number for a call back. None so far. It makes no difference which dialling menu option I choose, I get the same braying idiot recorded message telling me I'm in a queue. Actually I think the recorded message would be more truthful if it told me that there's no one there to answer my call. Now, I would have thought I could find a Blue Islands employee at Guernsey airport but there isn't one. Their customer service desk is manned by Aurigny who are able only to give me the same phone number and email address for Blue Islands. There is a courtesy phone, but this only reaches the same braying idiot. My experience has many of the characteristics of finding a company in grave and terminal distress.

Route: Southampton to Guernsey

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Mandarin Airlines

Title: "seat is comfortable and wide"

Review: Hong Kong to Kahsioung. A quite nice flight It was my first time flying an Embraer jet. I know it is small, but the seat is comfortable and wide. A delicious hot meal was served in a 60 mins flight. The crew is friendly and fluent in English. The only bad thing is that the flight was delayed for 2 hours.

Route: Hong Kong to Kahsioung

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "the worst airline food"

Review: Before COVID, Cathay Pacific used to be my favourite airline so I was so looking forward to flying with them again as they are known to now be trying to get back to normal. However, while the cabin crews and flight crews did a fabulous job, the food was simply awful. In fact, I would go so far as to say its the worst airline food I have ever had in my 40 years of flying, both short and long haul. Otherwise, to be fair, flights were punctual and in-flight entertainment very good. However, sorry Cathay, but I could not face such awful food again and am forced to switch to Japan Airlines, Singapore Airlines, or Emirates from Australia to Europe.

Route: Melbourne to Frankfurt via Hong Kong

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Hi Fly

Title: "inside of plane was grubby"

Review: Cartagena, Colombia to London Gatwick on Hi Fly. We took off late because the airport did not have a fuel bowser sufficiently large to refill the plane in one go. Hence dinner was not served until three hours into the flight (after 10 pm). My pre-ordered veggie meal was not available so they reheated an already cooked but left over meal from the outbound flight (it was awful). Then lights out and off to sleep but just over one hour later we were woken up (lights on) for an inflight snack of crisps and a ham/cheese hot melt sandwich (no veggie option available so I went hungry). Lights off and then about 90 minutes later we were woken up for breakfast. It would have been better to have given us the melt asap after takeoff and let us sleep after the late dinner. The inside of the plane was grubby and the seats had not been cleaned for a long time - the seat pitch was reasonable for economy. The inflight entertainment was a multichannel loop affair but no one knew what was playing because there was no inflight guide and the crew did not know either. The cabin crew were vaguely interested in their job (one at the back was very good) but there was no real customer care. Upon landing there was a technical problem with the airbridge but the captain did explain what was happening and how they were planning on fixing it (well done him).

Route: CTG to LGW

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "inconsiderate and extremely incompetent"

Review: This is one of the worst experiences Ive ever dealt with through the use of an airline. It was the most frustrating, time-consuming and displeasing experience imaginable when attempting to travel via plane. No matter what, never use Aegean Airlines under any circumstances. The staff were inconsiderate and extremely incompetent, showing no regard for the passengers well being and failing to explain any of the trouble we were put through. The staff and airline in general had no interest in doing their job properly and ultimately put me through the worst airline experience possible.

Route: Barcelona to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Wings Air

Title: "Worst airline Ive experienced"

Review: Bima to Bali. This is also Lion Air. Worst airline Ive ever experienced. Delayed 4 hours then told cancelled, nowhere to stay for the night. Then charged me more for my surfboards than the cost of my ticket. The day before they cancelled all 3 flights without telling anybody, leaving them all stranded for the night.

Route: Bima to Bali

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Regional Express

Title: "how impressed I was with Rex"

Review: Just a quick message to say how impressed I was with Rex for my return flight from Brisbane to Melbourne recently. The staff were extremely professional and courteous. Bag drop off was seamless, flights on time and generous leg room. On my return flight I was upgraded which only added to the good experience had. Phillomena and her staff were welcoming and attentive, we couldnt have asked for more. We have definitely recommended Rex to friends and family and will be using again next time we fly. Thank your staff for making what could be a stressful situation to a pleasure!

Route: Melbourne to Brisbane

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: ITA Airways

Title: "Stay away from this airline"

Review: We flew from JFK to Rome. I have NEVER had a worse flight in my 60 years of life, including those with babies and toddlers. When we got to JFK, we were told that our flight had been cancelled (and changed for 10 minutes) without ANY communication whatsoever. We were informed that we no longer had seats. We finally got on a flight. After having previously paid for seat selection, we were seated in the last seats of the aircraft. There was ZIP ZERO legroom and seats did not recline. My husband's ears were ringing after 8 plus hours of sitting near the engine and I had sciatica for days afterwards which is typically not a problem. Staff was rude. Water was provided in dixie cup sizes and attendants appeared irritated when customers requested drinks. We had to file a complaint after arriving home to receive the money back that we had spent for seat selection. No ITA EVER again. Stay away from this airline.

Route: New York to Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "very professional ground staff"

Review: I flew with Royal Air Maroc on a domestic flight from Tangiers to Casablanca on 28th October 2022. The thing I liked about this airline was the superb communication via email. The airline made sure I was made aware of a slight change to the check-in time and to a change of aircraft. This was a very early departure to connect with an international flight in Casablanca. The interior of the aircraft was tasteful and the crew were very well presented. Safety was taken seriously and the crew were pleasant and very professional. I was impressed with the service and the comfortable Boeing 737 used on this occasion. As this was a very short and incredibly early morning departure there was no food or drinks served alas. I should like to commend the very professional ground staff who were friendly and proactive.

Route: Tangiers to Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "service as always was excellent"

Review: This trip to Jakarta makes my 26th trip on EVA Air between Houston and Jakarta. I have looked at other airlines and even at slightly cheaper prices, is just not worth it for me to try someone new. This flight is a late night departure from Houston and to my surprise while waiting to board, I was called to the desk and given an upgrade to Premium Economy on the Houston to Taipei leg of the trip. Boarding as usual done very efficiently following the group numbers. This time I had a window seat, which usually I would never select for this 15.30 hour flight, however, my seatmate was a very nice young man who did not mind having to get up when I needed to move out of my seat. The service as always was excellent, I mean I have yet once to have a bad experience with service with this airline. The flight attendants were just wonderful and so pleasant. I obviously try not to become a pest but those times that I needed to interact with any of them in flight it was just very pleasant. The Premium Economy product is excellent, nice comfortable seat and all the amenities - blanket, pillow, head phone, sandals and toiletries. The IFE product, for me far more than I needed, ample movies and music, games and tv shows. On the music area it has a great feature that you can save lots of music to a play list and then you can listen to it. I listen to classical music while I sleep so I save tons of songs to the play list and listen for hours while sleeping. Food, always excellent, hot and tasty and always more than enough. The bathrooms are always clean and certainly you can see the flight attendants take care of the bathrooms numerous times during flight. All in all a great trip with a great airline.

Route: Houston to Jakarta via Taipei

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "a flawless 4.5 hour flight"

Review: The flight overall was good, ground staff were no fuss at Newcastle, the flight was delayed by about 30 minutes but the time got made up during the flight, landing at Fuerteventura after a flawless 4.5 hour flight, food was good, not too overpriced, once the plane landed they got straight to offloading the bags, passport control only took 5 minutes, and when we got to the baggage hall the bags were there. Flawless!

Route: Newcastle to Fuertaventura

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "there was a very kind crew"

Review: I have travelled a lot with Emirates but this time there was a very kind crew Gabriel Italian - Ukrainian with a very natural smiling radiating light. His attitude and love for his work was manifested in his kindness.

Route: Dubai to Perth

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Brussels Airlines

Title: "falling below low-cost standards"

Review: Brussels to Warsaw. Even the expensive Flex and Fast is now falling below low-cost standards Ive been flying Brussels Airlines frequently flying their Flex and Fast fares that always included a newspaper, a sandwich and a drink. Today, when I flew to Warsaw staff, told me despite the high-cost food and drinks are no longer for free in Flex and Fast and all is for purchase now. The ticket price was still as expensive as it used to be. Brussels Airlines are becoming a real disgrace with extremely expensive Flex and Fast fares and no service at all anymore. Next time Ill consider flying another airline. Likely low cost may be better as this is even above the current Brussels Airlines standards. This used to be a good airline but they have fallen completely to the bottom and are really the worst I know

Route: Brussels to Warsaw

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "flight attendants were very friendly"

Review: Johannesburg to Perth with South African Airways. The flight attendants were very friendly. They have a good sense of humor and are fun to talk to. The only thing was that they were barely seen after dinner and we had no snack service. The food was on point. The IFE had a surprisingly good selection of movies. The seats have really been worn down and look very tired. Besides those few problems, the flight was perfect.

Route: Johannesburg to Perth

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Fiji Airways

Title: "an exceptional flight"

Review: Checked in at Nadi Airport, waited for flight, through boarding gate and heard a beep sound. Offered an Upgrade into Business Class, so why not accept it. Pleasant surprise. Very comfortable seating, very friendly and outgoing cabin crew. Preflight drinks, and more than one were offered, personal introduction by cabin attendant and set for takeoff. Superb inflight service, breakfast was great, not like some airlines where breakfast is inedible. In flight entertainment system had plenty of choices. Seat turned into angled flat bed, very comfortable, even with my height. Overall, an exceptional flight, service and offerings on Fiji Airways and very very happy with the product.

Route: NAN to AKL

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Bamboo Airways

Title: "the insensitive response"

Review: Hanoi to Phu Quoc. Requested a review due to visa suspension and holiday cancelled due to covid-19. Here's the insensitive response: "Dear Sir/Madam, Thank you for sending email to Bamboo Airways Customer Care System, After checking your booking code on system, your fare class is Bamboo Plus for domestic route. We regret that we would not apply refund policy for this fare class according to Bamboo Airways Commercial Policy. Yours faithfully."

Route: Hanoi to Phu Quoc

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lion Air

Title: "worst airline I have flown with"

Review: Jakarta to Denpasar. This would have to be the worst airline that I have ever flown with. Our first check in online at Jakarta, had the flight on time, but alas we arrived to the airport the flight was delayed 3 hours, due to what they said was technical fault. No service from the air hostesses on the flight, I was glad to get off. Then on our return trip from Denpasar back to Jakarta, another 4 hour delay and more technical difficulties.

Route: Jakarta to Denpasar

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Malindo Air

Title: "refused to give me a refund"

Review: I was originally scheduled to fly from Singapore to Kuala Lumpur. Due to operational constraints Malindo cancelled the flight and put me on flight the next day, which would be useless for me as I was attending a family wedding and would be reaching after the wedding is over. They refused to give me a refund but instead gave me a credit which is really unbelievable. when I called customer service they refused to give me a refund for an issue that was entirely Malindo's.

Route: Penang to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "For what I paid for the flight, I was quite pleased by the value"

Review: Decent flight like most recently on LATAM. Note that no food or soft drinks were served on this or any inter Brazil flight I think still because of covid. Water is available if you ring your call button. I had a budget ticket and middle seats were assigned at check in, which is relatively easy to accomplish online. Plane was full, but flight staff was professional and they worked hard to keep the flight on time. For what I paid for the flight, I was quite pleased by the value. The airline didn't knock my socks off, but would I use them again? Definitely.

Route: São Paulo to Foz do Iguaçu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Nostrum

Title: "Disappointed with Air Nostrum"

Review: Disappointed with Air Nostrum. Air Nostrum said that due to a change of aircraft, the CRJ 1000 instead of the ATR 72 was not fit to land at San Sebastian airport for technical reasons. How come a bigger aircraft like the A319 of Vueling can land in such airport? They diverted us to Pamplona. The flight was delayed more than 2 hours. Finally in Pamplona they took us in a bus to San Sebastian but instead of using the shortest route by motorway, the bus driver told us he was taking the longer route. I reached my destination almost 3 hours later than I was supposed to.

Route: Madrid to San Sebastian

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thomas Cook Airlines

Title: "impressed with food selection"

Review: Gatwick to Banjul. We have just returned from the Gambia and enjoyed a very good flight. I wanted to really say how impressed I was with James Martin's food selection, delicious, very hot and the right amount. Thank .

Route: Gatwick to Banjul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "dont care for the passengers time"

Review: Worst airline ever. They delayed the flight first by 3 hrs and then by 1 more hour. Front desk wasnt helpful. No compensation is provided. They dont care for the passengers time.

Route: Goa to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ViaAir

Title: "worst airline I have dealt with"

Review: Bogota to Lima. After almost an hour of waiting for a check in gate to be posted in Bogota. I went to domestic check in and asked if I can check in, They said yes. I wait in huge line. I asked why they never posted check in gates for Lima only for domestic. Said nothing. After about an hour in the huge slow moving line I was asked for my onward ticket. I was told I had 1 minute to produce it or I would not be allowed to board. I could not connect to airport wifi within the minute to show my email onward flight confirmation. I was told I could not board and to move along. I asked for just a couple minutes to get on wifi? NO. I asked if I could be put on next flight? NO. I asked to talk to a supervisor. He looked at me, knew I was waiting to talk to him and pretended to be busy and ignored me for about half an hour. I went on live chat. Nothing. They gave me an email. I emailed Via Air. Nothing after more than 2 weeks. I was at airport at 3am for a 6am flight. They did not offer me any explanation, assistance or put me on the next flight. THey have not responded to me after taking the appropriate channels to contact them and are the worst airline I have dealt with. Save a little only to get gouged on hidden charges and experience staff that are well below even the most basic standards. Spend a little extra and go with a reputable airline not the mickey mouse club airline.

Route: Bogota to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "flights are either delayed or cancelled"

Review: This airline is absolutely horrible! Pay the extra money for anything else! Our flight was at 7:30 they delayed it 1 hour before we are supposed to take off. The delayed it to 12:45 didnt get on the plane till 1 and its an extremely small plane! They over book the plane and end up telling people then cant get on. They do this on purpose! 90% of the flights are either delayed or cancelled. Im not sure how this airline is still in business!!

Route: Ft Lauderdale to Georgetown

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "They leave exit rows empty"

Review: They leave exit rows empty rather than let anyone sit there. Horrible customer service policy. Garbage profiteering waste of legroom. The attendants would rather leave exit rows unoccupied, which seems unsafe, than let anyone get something they didn't pay for.

Route: Salt Lake City to Ft Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "refused to offer me any compensation"

Review: My flight on 14 March 2023 was scheduled to depart SFO at 9:30am, but was delayed due to heavy winds. Understandable. Less understandable was the disorganized response, which included vague instructions on updates, a lack of transparency on continued delays after weather cleared. The flight departed late and I was told that my luggage would be on my connecting flight, but when I landed in HKG it was not. When I contacted SIA they refused to offer me any compensation for my delayed flight, and asked for an e-ticket number for my original Scoot ticket (e-ticket numbers are nowhere to be found on Scoot ticket receipts or in the booking on the app, which disappears after your flight date). Everything they did to help was simply a deflection of responsibility.

Route: San Francisco to Hong Kong via Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "received my refund after 6 weeks"

Review: Made an online booking since the fares were cheaper than others. To be fair to them the flight crew were helpful and attentive on the outward journey. The return flight was cancelled. We were promised a refund. After a month of waiting, started communicating via e mails. Absolutely no response. Calls and mails received but no refund. After much follow up and constantly asking received my refund after 6 weeks.

Route: Bangalore to Jaipur via Hyderabad

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: China Southern Airlines

Title: "handled the upgrade at the counter"

Review: This is my first trip since covid-19. In order to make the trip more comfortable, I handled the upgrade at the counter. The price is very favorable. The staff are also very professional and they also provide a lounge. There are hot food and drinks in the lounge. The service, food and drink on board were also excellent. After arriving at Incheon Airport, the helpful staff came to talk with us and told me the entry precautions. There was no problem with customs and immigration.

Route: Guangzhou to Seoul

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Korean Air

Title: "Five stars service and friendliness"

Review: Five stars for service and friendliness. The check-in area and aircraft were spotless but could have used some Asian flair and colour. The best part about the airline is its inexpensive and easy-to-pay excess baggage rates.

Route: Seoul GMP to Jeju

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Breeze Airways

Title: "You have a loyal customer in me"

Review: Im a Platinum Exec with AA and Silver Medallion with Delta and while they both do a fair job, they could learn a thing or two from Breeze! The first class experience is equally good if not better than AA or Delta for half the price.

Sure they dont have all the routes as the majors but if you find yourself lucky enough to in Breeze territory, do it! Ive had 2 small delays so far and, get this, without even asking, both times, by the time I landed they had added money to my breeze points. And not an insignificant amount either. I sat on a tarmac for 6 hours and didnt even get an apology from AA! FAs are all young kids learning the business but eager to help and bright eyed and bushy tailed. They have all are so polite and charismatic . Ive loved several of their pre flight speeches. Very funny. Keep it up Breeze! You have a loyal customer in me.

Route: Orange County to Cincinatti

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "Inflight the service is good"

Review: Mexico City to Beijing via Tijuana. Booking the ticket was not easy with unfriendly website and selecting a seat was not possible until check in. The flight was delayed for 8hrs due weather and Mexico City ground staff did not help, with the fact that it was a weather delay and this was not their fault. Inflight the service is good, the flight attendants are attentive. The inflight entertainment is outdated, lacks variety and does not compare to other 5 star airlines. The food was the worst food I have had. The seats are okay.

Route: Mexico City to Beijing via Tijuana

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Luxair

Title: "poor customer service"

Review: Flew Paris CDG to Luxembourg. Bad service, unfriendly staff, poor baggage claim service (closes at 7pm) and poor customer service. This company benefit from the fact that if people have to travel long distance they will end up on a Luxair flight code sharing with the company they chose. This is really irritating since Luxair is a terrible company with poor services.

Route: Paris CDG to Luxembourg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "Seriously poor airline"

Review: They reschedule the flights constantly. My flight is unrecognisable from the one I booked. I book flights based on timings and convenience of taking 2 young kids with me. Then Go First reschedule them, 3 times so far, to flights that will be utterly miserable, dragging 2 kids through various busy airports, getting bags, changing terminals, waiting for 5 hours, all in the middle of the night instead. And cancel any alternatives which might make the journey any more bearable. Seriously poor airline. Never again.

Route: Pune to Phuket via Bangalore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Berlin

Title: "good experience for exchanging miles"

Review: Dusseldorf to Los Angeles. We are talking here about the too much advertised (on all their Europe flights on their entertainment screens) new Air Berlin business class seats which indeed are new, the technology is great, but they are too narrow. I tried to sleep, I couldn't. It was indeed a day flight, so I wasn't probably that tired. I was expecting more from their "Sansibar" exclusive menu and the portions could have been more generous and served more often for an almost 12h flight. I got the opportunity to fly business as an upgrade to economy offered by the airline to its frequent flyers' program and I must say it was a good experience after all. Not the best business class I have flown, but a good experience for exchanging miles.

Route: DUS to LAX

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Belavia

Title: "this flight was rather nice"

Review: Moscow Domodedovo to Minsk. My previous experience with this airline was quite negative, but this time, there were almost nothing critical to complain on. The procedure of online booking and check in was smooth and quick, recently Belavia introduced low-cost tariffs (without checked baggage, etc) which allowed to make prices more reasonable. Ground procedures in Domodedovo were rather slow but this is not an airline's fail. On-board experience was great - I was lucky to get modern aircraft because Belavia still operates some ancient Boeing 737 Classic but this time it was a new B738 instead. Cabin crew were awesome. There was even a meal service (ham/cheese sandwiches) despite the flight is just 1h long. What was rather disappointing - bussing to terminal instead of jet bridge both in DME and MSQ. Maybe they have a reason for this, but in both airports I saw a lot of vacant jet bridges. Also - cabin was very cramped like in low-cost carriers. Possibly they are managing to cut costs in such a way. I criticize Belavia often for 'cosmic' prices on European destinations, for old aircraft, for monopoly on flying to MSQ from several destinations (especially European), for 'Soviet-style' of management that one can face sometimes - but this particular flight was rather nice.

Route: Moscow to Minsk

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Privilege Style

Title: "Comfortable great service"

Review: CAA replacement for Thomas Cook flight, repatriation back to the UK after firms collapse. Staff were excellent, plane a little dated but clean and spacious, also under subscribed. Comfortable great service thank you all

Route: Mahon to Manchester

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Volotea

Title: "very valuable airline"

Review: Asturias to Fuerteventura. Very pleasant flight from Asturias to Fuerteventura. Departure and arrival at scheduled time. I have flew this airline several times during the last year. They have very clean aircrafts and very good inflight service. I recommend Volotea as a very valuable airline at affordable prices.

Route: Asturias to Fuerteventura

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "do not want a credit note"

Review: My flight G8-2519 from New Delhi (DEL) to Nagpur (NAG) on 30-06-2020 was cancelled by GoAir. I asked for a refund. But they haven't replied yet. I even forwarded the email to the GoAir Nodal Officer but haven't heard from them. They forwarded me a tax invoice and a credit note, I do not know what to do with it. They do not have even the basic courtesy of at least responding. I have been waiting for the last 10 days. I do not want a credit note/voucher, I just want my refund amount because the flight was cancelled at their end, they failed to provide me a service which they charged me for.

Route: Delhi to Nagpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Avelo Airlines

Title: "uncomfortable overcrowded gate area"

Review: Dont do it. The airport is not adequate for the volume of passengers trying to board. The communication and signage is terrible from the moment entering the terminal. Very uncomfortable overcrowded gate area. Definitely not worth the discount price.

Route: New Haven to Sarasota

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jet Airways

Title: "Customer service is so poor

Review: Singapore to Delhi. I would not recommend this flight to anyone. Customer service is so poor, they give you cheap juice and drinks. The aircraft we traveled was having just 1 washroom, passengers has to wait for 30-40 minutes to use washroom due to long queue always.

Route: Singapore to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: United Airlines

Title: "delayed over an hour"

Review: Only flown with United twice, first time they lost my luggage and the second time my first flight was delayed over an hour causing me to miss my second flight and leaving me in Houston.

Route: San Antonio to Nashville

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "only middle seats were available for free"

Review: I booked a ComfortFlex ticket for a midday flight from Athens to Thessaloniki on April 3rd. We had a change in our plans and I had to change my ticket to an evening flight. This particular fare allows changes for the same day with no fee and seats were available on the new flight so I logged into my reservation and changed the flight successfully. I then tried to reserve a window seat on the new flight but noticed that only middle seats were available for free. This seemed strange since the flight was not sold out and ComfortFlex tickets allow free seating in the entire aircraft except for the exit row seats, where a charge applies. I then noticed that the only window or aisle seats available on my new flight were those at the exit row and those would involve an extra 9 Euro charge. As I'm about to proceed with the payment of this 9 Euro charge, my boyfriend informs me he will be joining me on the same flight. We book a new ticket for him and when we reach the seat map on his reservation, we can see plenty window and aisle seats available for free. We decide to call the Aegean call center to inquire why our reservations show different seats maps even though we've both purchased ComfortFlex tickets and we're traveling on the same flight. Their response was that it must be a systemic error and if we wanted, we could wait until going to the airport and request a window or an aisle seat there. If anyone of you has ever called Aegean for similar matters, you'll know that 9 out of 10 times, it's always the "system". It's evident that they're manipulating the availability of their seat maps to force you to pay extra fees even when you've purchased their highest economy class fare. We paid the 9 Euro fee this time but from our main choice, they will become our last choice until they get their act together. And of course it came as no surprise to read so many other reviews here from other passengers complaining about similar situations. I'm attaching a picture of the two seat maps and I leave you to draw your own conclusions. The bookable seats are those in blue and in my seatmap, window and aisle seats are not available.

Route: Athens to Thessaloniki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: SriLankan Airlines

Title: "Appalling customer service"

Review: Appalling customer service - My flight was cancelled 19 weeks ago and I have still not received a refund. I received mixed messages from each representative I spoke with - at first being told the refund would take a couple of weeks, then 9 weeks and then by the start of August. It has now surpassed all of these dates and I still have not had concrete information on when the refund will be. The official Sri Lankan Airlines Twitter account blocked my friend for asking simple questions about the refund. You call up and they ask for one bit of information, keep you hanging on, then ask for a little bit more to keep you hanging on. This makes you think they are helping but it is all delaying tactics - they don't actually intend to help. It has taken them 30 minutes just to take my flight number. Totally inexcusable

Route: London to Colombo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Sky Express Airlines

Title: "they lost both of our bags"

Review: They loaded all the baggage and then decided they were overweight. They offloaded randomly 30 bags without ever saying a word to the passengers. Those bags never made it on the plane. No concern for the fact that these people had connecting flights or we're on their way home and had two or three additional days that they would have no luggage because of their stupidity. Didn't even have the decency to announce that they were going to do it and give people a chance to fly a later flight with their luggage. We always carry our bags on because of stupidity like this but that's not possible on the ATR because the overheads are so small. First time I checked the bag in 10 years and they lost both of our bags.

Route: Naxos to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: airBaltic

Title: "flights were very good"

Review: Berlin to Tallinn. I found the service professional. The cabin crew and the airport staff were friendly. The flights were very good. One thing needs to be improved. I prefer that there is no change of gate at the airport which happened in both of my trips.

Route: Berlin to Tallinn

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Iberia

Title: "beyond terrible"

Review: Madrid to Palma. This comes as an "I really had enough" review. After other many experiences with lost bags, damaged bags without repair, terrible customer service, Avios points not automatically loaded 50% of the time and it goes on. On the last occasion, I bought a business ticket in order to have free changes. I needed to change the date, I have spent 45 minutes over 3 call centres that asked me to call one another. No one was able to change it. Until the last operator, that wanted to charge me as I was not doing the change online, even if I repeatedly let all know then system on line was telling me online was not possible! The operator told me that I needed to go to the airport. Zero empathy along the 45 minutes and the 4 different operators. They just didn't care and this is always true every time I had to call them. I had to go to the airport and got it changed at the ticket desk! All this with a business ticket. Now imagine the other times when I flew economy. How the company keeps on doing this, I don't know.

Route: Madrid to Palma

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: AirAsia Philippines

Title: "hidden fees and information"

Review: Kalibo to Manila. We purchased our tickets online prior to arriving to the country. We were surprised by the online booking fee that appears right before paying. It was in the amount of half the actual fare per person. Once we arrived in the Philippines we received an email to inform us that our flight from Manila to Kalibo was going to be delayed.

Once we arrived to the check in counter to see if we can get on an earlier flight they were able to accommodate this. Our original flight was for 530pm. We were able to get on a 330 pm flight. We had to check in 1 baggage with a weight limit of 21kg that costed again half the cost of the flight? Sitting around the airport we were informed that this flight will be delayed, not once, not twice, not three times. Our rescheduled flight was now 530pm. On the way back, they decided a checked in baggage weight maximum of 10kg, so going there you are expected to drop half of what you brought? If we arrived 4 hours earlier (who does this for a domestic flight?) the fee would be cheaper. So another surprising fee. So now we are here and our flight is delayed for an hour and a half and this is the first flight of the day from Kalibo to Manila. I wonder if we are delayed 4 hours if I would get the difference back for the fee I paid to check in my 10kg luggage. I am so happy we did not bring our children on this flight, it would have been a nightmare. Lovely staff, but why all the hidden fees and information?

Route: Kalibo to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "Do not ever use this airline"

Review: Do not ever use this airline. I am speaking from experience as someone who has traveled to over 60 countries and used at least 80 airlines. Their flights are either delayed or canceled 75% of the time and they won't hesitate to change your flight from early am to late pm for no reason other than they want to resell your ticket. If you want to introduce havoc and headache and heartburn to your travels by all means, go ahead and book with the airline.

Route: Cali, Colombia to Cartagena, Colombia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "not informing the customers"

Review: Hyderabad to Delhi. This is my second trip on AirAsia India and I came to know only after reaching the airport. No call, SMS etc. During my last travel also, there was no prior intimation and the flight kept getting delayed after I reached the airport. I had to take an off from office the next day due to AirAsia. I understand that airlines have operational issues causing delays but not informing the customers is unacceptable.

Route: Hyderabad to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Golden Myanmar Airlines

Title: "very friendly flight attendant"

Review: Short domestic flight from Heho to Nyaung-U (Bagan) for about 62 USD per person with luggage included. Check-in was done in a very small departure hall, which was more like a bus terminal rather than an airport terminal with wooden kiosks. Received boarding cards without seat and name attached to it as it was choose your seat in this flight. After security and getting our boarding card stamped by passport control, we were now waiting for our flight, which turned out to be delayed by about an hour without any announcement. The moment we were ready for boarding, a wooden stick with our flight was shown and upon exiting the terminal, we crossed passengers from another arriving flight to board our aircraft. Greeted by a very friendly flight attendant who handed us some refreshing towels. Not later than twenty minutes from boarding call, we were already rolling for take off. Service started quickly with a small snack box which included some water and a snack. Landing was good in night and luggage was collected via open door in which luggage was dropped as no luggage belt was present.

Route: Heho to Nyaung-U

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: TAAG Angola Airlines

Title: "Our worst flight experience"

Review: Our worst flight experience in 40 years. Maintenance on the cabin area are completely neglected. We were sitting in row 15 and when you switch the reading lights on for row 15 then the lights in row 16 came on. The entertainment systems on all our legs were not working. The seats are dirty and damaged. To top all of this is that the airport building in Luanda is in a terrible state and a true reflection of the rest of the African continent. The ground staff cannot communicate in English and a simple boarding procedure is apart from always late absolutely chaos. I would never fly TAAG again.

Route: Rio de Janeiro to Luanda

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Flair Airlines

Title: "Choose a different airline"

Review: Luckily WestJet had a flight the same night so I could get to my destination. The online system was unavailable, the agent could not speak English very well at the airport and no one would answer a phone call for help. Choose a different airline if your time is valuable and you don't want to miss a day catching another flight.

Route: Calgary to Abbotsford

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: LAN Airlines

Title: "attentive and friendly staff"

Review: Mexico City to Lima with LAN Airlines, and a good experience with this airline. Two checked bags for free.

Good food and wine. I got three glasses and a scotch for free. Very nice! Great entertainment options. Tons of movies available. Good attentive and friendly staff. Flight was on time.

Route: MEX to LIM

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Insel Air

Title: "avoid a travel nightmare"

Review: I was due to fly from Bonaire to Miami on 1/28 connecting in Curacao at 10:20am with Insel Air. I had purchased Tickets with a different airlines to take me much later from Miami to Denver. Late on the night of 1/27 the airline emailed me to say that my morning flight was cancelled for mechanical reasons and since they don't answer their phones nor does their website work, I had to report to the airport early on the morning of 1/28 to find out what their plan was for re-routing me. After numerous lines bouncing back and forth, since neither knew what was happening, they said to go ahead and take the flight to Curacao but then they would not be responsible for me getting to Miami from there. My other option was to spend the night in Bonaire and we would try again same schedule the next morning. After much negotiation between the airline and all my fellow passengers who were trying to get to Miami, they agreed to put us up in hotel that night, pay for our meals and we would try same thing in morning of 1/29. I re-booked my American connection with at $209 change fee and trusted all would be well in morning. Around 6pm on 1/28 I learned by email that the flight from Curacao to Miami time had changed to much later in the day, once again rendering my American connection on 1/29 useless and leaving me having to look for lodging in Miami once I arrived and another flight from Miami to Denver on my own. On the morning of 1/29 I reported to the airport early again to board my first leg. I had nearly checked in when once again they cancelled the 2nd leg from Curacao to Miami for mechanical reasons. At that point I had to get home. I booked a horrendously expensive ticket to get home with another airline and watched all the others who were trying to figure out what to do after this connection cancelled again scurrying around looking for help. My return trip from Bonaire tripled in cost due to this airline leaving me stranded for 2 days. To avoid a travel nightmare, don't book with this airlines.

Route: BON to MIA via CUR

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sun Country Airlines

Title: "told me the credit is expired"

Review: This airline sent me an email that said I had a flight credit for a cancelled COVID flight. The email didnt have any details. Everything is now open, so I called back to use the credit. They told me the credit is expired. They said they made a policy to hard cancel credits May 31st, 2021. I ask did they send any notice out, and the supervisor told me it is the travelers responsibility. How in the heck can I be responsible for their cancellation date? How in the heck would a reputable company not send out a notice of their policy, with the credit. I think this airline is a joke! In the small scale, it is $90! But, I wonder how many people they cheated out of $90+?

Route: Dallas Ft Worth to Las Vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Airways

Title: "refuse refunding customers money"

Review: We had our Jetstar flights cancel 2.5hrs prior to dep. Citing "bad weather" (raining) they only provided alternative options for the following day. We were forced to purchase Virgin tickets because their planes can miraculously fly in the rain. After demanding such, Jetstar first told us we would receive a full refund on the card purchased from, only to receive a notice 2 weeks later saying a "credit" had been processed. Contacting them again, THEY ARE NOW REFUSING to provide a refund (despite promising one) saying it's not their company policy. Due to Jetstar citing "bad weather" this apparently permits them to refuse refunding customers money even though it was rubbish to begin with.

Route: Brisbane to Australia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Go First

Title: "They don't care for customers"

Review: They don't care for customers. Go first cancelled the flight abruptly. They don't even have courtesy msg or email to customer about cancellation. They can put you in any flight of the day or night without checking. Front desk is the worst, they forgot basic courtesy. Very rude. Customers are last for them

Route: Srinagar to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "we were denied complementary room"

Review: Traveled from London via Bahrain to Mumbai. If we have layovers above 7 hrs and ticket value over 450USD then passenger are entitled for complementary room. We had 8 hr layover at Bahrain but flight got delayed 2.5 hrs and when we reached Bahrain we had only 6 hr layover left and due to which we were denied complementary room. Its like we suffered 3 hr check in line at the London airport then 6.5hr flight took more the 9hr (aircraft time) and now we are be denied of room as well. So Gulf Air do not have rewards for its passengers. Also the staff is very rude and unpolite. Even after requesting they don't serve water and at Bahrain when i requested for the room they said flight got delayed at London, we cant help in any way, not even some food voucher its like its passengers fault that flight got delayed. Even after requesting they could not even provide 5$ worth of food vouchers.

Route: London to Mumbai via Bahrain

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: French Bee

Title: "denied entry for being too late"

Review: I didn't even catch the flight. I was denied entry for being "too late," even though I had plenty of time to board. The staff at the counter said I should have been there four hours earlier. Their correspondences indicated no such thing. I have never missed a flight in my life, but I wasn't alone. In the five minutes I stood in line at the help desk, I met almost a dozen other people with the same issue. I'm writing this from an airport lobby, resting my head on my book bag, preparing to sleep here for the night. Never, ever fly this airline.

Route: Paris to Newark

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sriwijaya Air

Title: "no notification flight changed"

Review: I had a flight to Jakarta that arrived at the airport at 12am, so I intended to wait until my 6:40am departure flight at the airport. When I arrived at the terminal I wasn't allowed to enter yet to check my bag, so I spent the night outside the terminal. The update beside my flight never said 'gate open' or 'now boarding' as some of the others did, so finally at 6:00am I went into the terminal, where I was told my flight was not going to the city (Malang) I had paid for because their airport was closed, so I'd be taken to Surabaya instead. Because there was no update outside I didn't even have time to ask questions as the check in clerk took my bag and told me to run because boarding had already started. I just made my flight (ironic since I'd been at the airport for almost 6 hours at this point). Once onboard, there was no mention of the new destination or what was going to be done for passengers. As I de-planed, I asked the stewardesses, who told me I simply needed to find my way to Malang myself. I paid for a flight to a city, you gave me no warning that I would not arrive there, and then you tell me 'too bad, figure it out?' After I collected my bag (which had tags to Malang by the way), I found the Sriwijaya office and asked the man working there what the airline was going to do for me. His limited English made it a problem to communicate, but essentially he said the same thing as the stewardesses. When I approached him again to ask if he could at least tell me how to get to Malang, he couldn't help me. Thank goodness for another traveller that was in the same boat as me - he 'took me under his wing' and helped me get on a shuttle to the bus terminal (one hour), then through the madness at the terminal and onto the bus for Malang (2.5 hrs), and then to a taxi to my hotel (20 mins). Meaning that not only did I receive no notification that my flight had been changed, no assistance in reaching my actual destination, but it added almost 4 hours to my already 20 hour long commute from the Philippines.

Route: Jakarta to Malang/Surabaya

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SATA Air Azores

Title: "They rescheduled my flight"

Review: They rescheduled my flight by making it longer by 15 hours! They did the last day so I didn't have any other options. I couldn't check in online or via phone. So had to arrive at the airport super early. No TSA precheck either! Waited in a really long line.

Route: New York to Porto via Ponta Delgada

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sriwijaya Air

Title: "cabin crew are friendly"

Review: Denpasar to Jakarta on Sriwijaya Air Boeing 737-800 with registration PK-CLT. Also my second flight with Sriwijaya Air Boeing 737-800. The flight was full. Departed from Denpasar on-time. Cabin crew are friendly with passengers and helpful. As usual when you fly with Sriwijaya Air, you will get some snacks or meal too (depending on distance, on this flight is a cheese bread and a mineral water). The cabin is clean, with comfortable seats, about 30 or 31 inch seat pitch.

Route: Denpasar to Jakarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "yet to get any reply"

Review: Scoot was the worst budget airline I encountered. I recently took Scoot airlines from Singapore to Penang (Malaysia) on 17 Jun'22. As I have checked in my luggage and upon arrival, my luggage was spoiled. So, I made a complaint to the ground staff and was requested to fill up the form for claim. Since then, I have been following up numerous times and it is already more than 1 month and yet to get any reply.

Route: Singapore to Penang

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: NAM Air

Title: "Worst customer service"

Review: Labuan Bajo to Denpasar. Worst customer service I've ever witnessed. Very aggressive ground crew from Labuan Bajo, not one but 4 employees were attacking us and shouting, they have zero manners and their etiquette to deal with tourists is nonexistent.

Route: Labuan Bajo to Denpasar

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "a really bad experience"

Review: Had a really bad experience with Jetstar Asia when I'm moving back from Malaysia to Singapore during the Covid19 Pandemic. The flight was underbooked, with more than 90% of the seats empty. Despite this, the service was lacklustre and they were giving me a hard time during the check-in process and squeeze out more money from me with a list of fees. My flight was supposed to come with a meal, and I paid for it already with the ticket, yet during the flight, no meals were provided. It infuriates me that amidst such a difficult time, they're still more concerned about ripping their customers rather than providing satisfactory service to ensure customers would stay loyal and use their service again once the pandemic is over. I have decided that I would never be using this airline again in the future.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "The worst airline ever"

Review: Madrid to Prague. The worst airline ever. They are overpriced - prices like classic airlines but service worse than low-cost airlines. I am trying to avoid them each time I have to fly somewhere, but unfortunately I live in Prague, so sometimes they are the only option. Only 2 btimes from my last 15 flights there were no delay. Normally it is from 1-3 hour if you are lucky. It is a big surprise when they have classic gate and you do not have to travel by buss to plane. Their excuses (about delays, taking your hand-luggage down to plane so u have to waiting for them etc) are understable for children at maximum.

Route: Madrid to Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: FlySafair customer review

Review: Due to the system failure we couldn't book in online. Since we traveled from far we arrived minutes late at check-in and they refused to let us through and promised to put us on the next available flight with no additional costs. However they charged us an extra R2000. This is extremely unprofessional from an airline which knew their booking system was at fault. Will never fly with them again.

Route: Durban to Cape Town

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Alaska Airlines

Title: "employee Dereje was extremely helpful"

Review: Alaska Airlines Disabled Persons Services employee Dereje was extremely helpful in helping me and my family negotiate the Seattle Airport, transporting me safely and effectively from the Arrival Gate to the Taxi Dock. He is personable and empathic.

Route: Los Angeles to Seattle

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Virgin Australia

Title: "Terrible experience"

Review: Terrible experience. My flight was cancelled and I wasn't even put on the next one. To make things worse, I wasn't granted in the lounge either. A very long stay at the airport and no service at all.

Route: Melbourne to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Bahamasair

Title: Bahamasair customer review

Review: My girlfriend and I flew round trip from Nassau to Cuba. Our return home was delayed for three days due to incompetence and failure to follow up on promises. On the way back, the flight was oversold and we were bumped off in Havana. There was no call for volunteers and no consideration of priority for those with connecting flights in Nassau or nowhere else to go in Havana. According to local staff, this had never happened before and they were completely unprepared to deal with it. They were eventually coaxed into arranging a hotel and were great about it - very embarrassed that it had happened, etc. It still took around five hours of messing about in the airport, however. We had very little cash left (because we thought we were about to leave) and as US credit cards don't work in Cuba, we were pretty much stuck and were not even able to contact the other airline that was getting us home from Nassau. A VP from Bahamasair, got involved. He told us to ask for him when we got to Nassau and he would sort everything out. When we got there he was unavailable and neither he nor anyone else had done anything at all. As a result, we wasted most of the day in Nassau airport then got stuck for another night in Miami before finally making it home 3 days late. To add insult to injury, the complaint process is absurd. After more than four months, Bahamasair eventually offered us a pittance for compensation, in travel vouchers - which I am unlikely to use as I will not subject myself to their appalling service again. 1/10 rating may seem harsh as they did provide us with accommodation and (limited) meals for part of our delay. Also the people we actually dealt with face-to-face were great. However the utterly incompetent way they handled everything pretty much trumps any positive aspects.

Route: Havana to Nasaau

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: PLAY

Title: "I will never fly Play again"

Review: One of the most horrible experiences ever. We bought our tickets from Baltimore to Reykjavik in November, picked the seats, bought carryon, paid for priority boarding, etc. we received our confirmation and we went on with our lives. In February I checked our reservation and just on a whim checked the plane and looked at our seats. Turned out they changed the plane and instead of moving our seats they left them. I had to contact play via Facebook messenger (they have no telephones) and asked about the seats. They first answered we had 36e and 36f and 20a and 20b. I had to tell them that 36f and 20a did not exist. They said we can move your seats. So we ended up getting separated. That was problem #1. Problem #2- most uncomfortable seats I have ever sat in. We had bought the XL leg room. So so so uncomfortable. There are no power charging plugs for the phone. No wifi. No entertainment. The cabin lights are always on so dont expect to sleep. Everything is a fee, even water. Loading In Reykjavik was a pleasure, they put everyone on a bus (priority boarding and regular boarding) drop you off in front of the plane and make you carry up the baggage with you. All in a single mass. Older and feeble people struggled and had to get help from other passengers because there was not a single Play employee helping all while dealing with 20 degree temperatures with winds. Good times. I will never fly Play again.

Route: Baltimore to Reykjavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "would never fly with again"

Review: Cancun to Mexico City. Our original flight was cancelled and were sent confirmation of the change to a flight some 8 hours later via email, less than 24 hours prior. After waiting for 8 hours in Cancun airport as we'd originally scheduled a connecting flight from our London flight, we then had to wait a subsequent 2 hours with little or no information until flight finally left Cancun around 1 am. The service desk at Cancun airport was extremely slow and not very accommodating, as was the customer service when I phoned to see if we could catch a different flight after being told our original one was delayed. We received no apologies, no compensation, no food or beverages in the airport and crucially, no explanation as to why the original flight was cancelled and subsequent one was delayed. Once aboard, the flight went smoothly, but everything prior to it was dreadful and would never fly with again.

Route: Cancun to Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "they followed the protocol"

Review: I would like to say thank you to the cabin crew on flight EK 213 from Dubai-Miami on 01/29/23 for their professional management of a violent person inside the aircraft, despite the delay it brought as a consequence of this unacceptable behavior they followed the protocol for this kind of situation.

Route: Miami to Jakarta via Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thai Lion Air

Title: "waiting to refund my money"

Review: Denpasar to Bangkok. I received my fragile item in many pieces at Bangkok airport and they didn't want to accept their responsibility. They forgot to serve our meals (me and my 12 years old son) so we bought inside the airplane and I am waiting to refund my money for the food back.

Route: Bangkok to Bali

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Porter Airlines

Title: "experience of newly expanded Porter was not positive"

Review: Cabin staff were pleasant. But my 4pm Porter flight back was canceled due to maintenance issues, and I was rebooked on a 6.55pm flight which departed about 10-15 min. late. Then when we arrived, had to again wait about 10-15 min. for gate agent to arrive. I found seats on new Porter planes with two seats per side quite uncomfortable. Used to fly with Porter whenever I visit family in Montreal because of convenience of flying out of city centre airport, but first experience of newly expanded Porter was not positive.

Route: Toronto to Montreal

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "atrocious, awful airline"

Review: This is an atrocious, awful airline. I would highly recommend anyone to avoid this airline at all costs and pay the cost for an actually functioning airline. I have no idea how this scam of a business is even certified by the FAA. Constantly delayed or canceled flights every single day in and day out. Complete intentional and likely fraudulent booking flights while not having the planes to fly them. One of the worst airlines of all time, should be permanently shut down.

Route: Orlando to Huntsville

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Montenegro Airlines

Title: "sat without any explanation"

Review: After boarding our Montenegro Airlines flight on time, we sat for 45 mins without any explanation and then told a crew member was ill and they would tell us what was happening soon. After another 45mins we were told that we would depart soon with only 2 crew. Because we were late Tivat airport had closed and we diverted to Podgorica the only other airport. We were then bused to Tivat arriving approx 5 hrs late to be told that there was nothing wrong as they class both airports as one! Never again.

Route: Gatwick to Tivat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Sky Airline

Title: "very bad experience"

Review: Arequipa to Lima. I had a very bad experience with this airline. No good information about the delay and no support or refund because of my missed connection flight and resulting hotel costs etc. Would never fly again with them.

Route: Arequipa to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: French Bee

Title: "Avoid French Bee at all costs"

Review: Avoid French Bee at all costs! While flying with my wife and two young children from Paris to LAX, we checked in online and got our boarding passes on my phone. The boarding passes explicitly stated that baggage drop closed 1 hour before (the time it stated was 13:50, flight was at 14:50). As such, we arrived 90 minutes early to provide some buffer, but when we arrived at the baggage desk they claimed bag drop was closed and that we were too late. Every agent was incredibly rude, disrespectful, and actively unhelpful. They stated that we needed to go to the ticket counter to rebook our flight, and the ticket agent initially quoted a price of $150 per person to change our flights. However, they said we needed to sit and wait for our original flight to depart (so we officially "miss" it) before they'd rebook us. Then, when we went to rebook, they claimed it was impossible for us to change to any flight within the next 3 days for under $2000. Ultimately, we ended up having to fly into SFO instead and fork over $2,500 for the privilege of flying in 4 hours late to an airport 300+ miles away from home. If they had even told me it'd cost that much initially, I would've just ditched our checked bag instead of allowing them to force us into missing the flight we had boarding passes for! I would never consider flying French Bee again, and I'm aghast that they're still in business with their predatory and dishonest business practices. There were at least another 5-10 people on our flight who had something similar happen, as well. It's a total scam, never ever ever get tempted by their "cheap" prices!

Route: Paris to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Lao Airlines

Title: "very pleasantly surprised"

Review: Chiang Mai to Luang Prabang with Lao Airlines. Wasn't expecting much from this short flight and was very pleasantly surprised. The staff was friendly and efficient. Drinks were provided as soon as possible. I even got my first Beerlao. The food was a snack of 2 apple slices, 2 grapes, and a bun filled with a piece of ham. The ham didn't look too appetizing to me so I ate the bread. Considering the flight was so short, getting anything more than pretzels was a surprise. The flight itself was on time and smooth. The only drawback was that the propellers are loud when you're seated near them.

Route: CNX to LPQ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: QantasLink

Title: "Monumentally bad service from Qantas"

Review: Monumentally bad service from Qantas - flight was over five hours late departing. No information given to passengers and, due to multiple flight cancellations to other destinations, the few customer service staff were unable to cope with demand from passengers. What I witnessed and how I saw some customers treated was appalling. What an ungracious airline and an experience I would never want to repeat.

Route: Melbourne to Launceston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "Waste of money"

Review: I would not have bought the Emirates tickets if I knew I was flying with Qantas. Poor seats and inflight entertainment sucks (Headset point is broken). 4hrs of boredom and food is below average. Airline staff cannot figure out fix the problem or have my seats changed. Waste of money! 800NZD for round ticket AKL to MEL. Done with Emirates and Qantas (I didn't even choose Qantas). Will stick with my fav airlines Qatar and AirNZ!

Route: Auckland to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Volotea

Title: "worst company I have experienced"

Review: Volotea is definitely the worst company I have experienced. They do not respect any certain policies and they will make your online check in an awful experience! They will continuously want you to not only pay for priority but also to choose a seat otherwise there will not give you the opportunity to check-in online and instead you will need to pay much more money in the airport! You will need to pay at least 50-70 euros additional anyway and there is no way out.

Route: Thessaloniki to Zakynthos

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: French Bee

Title: "They claimed we were late"

Review: Horrible experience with the airline. We booked this flight for our travel from Paris to LAX and we arrived at the airport 2 hours before departure. Inspire of arriving that early, they didnt let us checkin. They claimed we were late. The staff were very rude and very unhelpful. When we tried to reschedule our flight at the counter, the guy was more angry than me and was more rude. I didnt understand why he was angry considering I shouldve been more angry. We had to pay a penalty of 150 euros plus the fare difference if we chose to reschedule. They dont refund the money if you want to cancel. I know they offer less fare prices and its very tempting to book with the airlines but please dont do so. Its not worth it. We paid 2000 dollars and booked a different flight and we lost the money that we used to book with French bee airlines. Oh and another thing is you have pay extra money for the meals if you have any preferences like vegetarian or vegan or so.

Route: Paris to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: American Eagle

Title: "last time I fly this airline"

Review: Do not fly American Eagle. I flew on flight 6002 March 11,2022 from Montgomery to Charlotte. This was the worst flight ever. Their customer service is ridiculous. We landed in Spartanburg NC for a reason that no one knew. We were held on the plane for 4 hours waiting plus the 5:30am flight which was 50 minutes. The entire flight lost their connection flights and had to suffer the long day at the air port because no one knew how to connect a flight to another flight. We werent given any options. Nothing to help us get through. Some customers had medical Conditions that required eating before medication and nothing. As we were waiting the toilets got stuffed up and couldnt flush any more. The seats we sat in basically had no support in the middle and sagged down the center. It was painful sitting and waiting. All in all this will be the last time I fly this airline.

Route: Charlotte to Cincinatti

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "Good flight, high allowance for luggage"

Review: Good flight, high allowance for luggage, reasonable meals and entertainment and acceptable level of hospitality and cleaning. The flight was on time and reasonable check in and luggage collection process

Route: Dubai to Cairo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "regularly cancel their flights"

Review: Vancouver to Beijing via Hong Kong. Hong Kong Airlines is the worst airline to book flights with because they regularly cancel their flights and do not care about what passengers have booked with them. I booked a flight in Sept of this year for travel in March and Hong Kong Airlines cancelled our flights to HK and Beijing right off costing me additional costs to make changes to our hotels. At the end, they offered me a full refund 3 months prior to departure when I had booked my flights 6 months prior, and their CS did not even bother to look up any other reasonable flight changes with other partner airlines to make my original arrival and departure dates work. I told them the reason I booked my flights in advance was to get the travel plans fully secured on exact dates and offering me a refund now would be useless as it would be impossible for me to find similar flights now. The CS did not seem to give a damn! Do not fly with them!

Route: Vancouver to Beijing via Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Asiana Airlines

Title: "meal service was very slow"

Review: Seoul to Los Angeles. This is my 9th time flying business class with Asiana Airlines. But during this last flight, I didnt feel like I flown a business class seat. Only 2 washrooms were available for business class passengers which were small, the 3rd washroom was for FA staff use only! The meal service was very slow. Dinner service took them almost 2 hours to finish due to the fact they only had 2 FAs for the whole business class section - (20 passengers) the FA forgot my wine, a spoon a couple of times. The crew manager went around, but didnt actually introduce himself, and thanked the passengers one by one. They saw me awake during the flight when they were making rounds, but didnt bother asking if I wanted a snack or anything. The amenity kit has changed and it looked really cheap!

Route: Seoul to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "Would never fly with this airline again"

Review: Miami to Rio de Janeiro. Would never fly with this airline again. We booked airfare on this airline from Miami, FL to Rio de Janeiro, we had booked a cruise that was leaving from Rio, the cruise was canceled and when we tried to receive a travel voucher for future travel we had nothing but problems. We purchased premium business class tickets and the paperwork we were provided stated we had one year in which to use the voucher. After going back and forth with the agents too many times to count we were finally given a voucher in the amount of $1274.34, which we used for a trip to Punta Cana, leaving a balance of $694.46. Have lodged many complaints with the company and they do not respond. Use caution if you have to book with this company, obviously they are a low cost airline for a reason.

Route: Miami to Rio de Janeiro

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "suitcase was also broken"

Review: London to Hong Kong via Moscow. Experience on board the plane was fine I was actually pleased with this. But upon arriving to my destination I was told 1 of my suitcases had not arrived and I will receive it the next day, then when my first case arrived one of the bottom wheels had been smashed off.! The next day when my other suitcase had arrived and been delivered to my home address this suitcase was also broken.

Route: London to Hong Kong via Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air New Zealand

Title: "needs better trained staff"

Review: The worst airline in the whole world. Majority of the staff I work with are unprofessional, under trained, and rude as hell. They dont even bother helping you when you need it and I had this problem on the way to Hawaii and on the way back home. Prior to my flight back home, I paid $120 to check in an extra bag. Got to the airport checked in. Only at the gate they told me that one of my bags wasnt loaded onto the plane as I never paid for it. I showed them proof of payment and then only they loaded it. Why wasnt this done at check in? Oh I know why - I was attended by a new employee who kept giving me death stares and talked as soft as a mouse, half my time wasted was me asking him to repeat himself. He also made me pay double money for my visa as he gave me the wrong information the first time. Seriously this airline needs better trained staff.

Route: Hawaii to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Europa

Title: "Chaos during check in"

Review: Chaos during check in, poorly designed check in area. The airline asks you to download all documents to their website / Covid test, Vaccination certificate, Attestation, you get a boarding pass but when you arrive to Terminal 1 the business class agent has no idea about this process. He did not even have a computer. Luggage check in was smooth. Priority lane for security unpleasant and slow. Boeing 787- cabin with 1 -2-1 lie flat seats, nice staff. Cabin overheated. Only 1 wc available.

Route: Madrid to Miami

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "worst travelling experience"

Review: I bought a ticket for a flight from Montreal to Mexico City on October 25th at 10h25 pm and a return ticket from Mexico city to Cancun at 11h00 am with transfer to Montreal (fl. 2820) at 17h00. Flight AIJ2811 departed with 1h15 delay from Montreal where we all had to wait in a very cold corridor, standing up, or lying down, with no access to a bathroom, with crying babies, then they decided, we would board (15 min. before midnight) and for unknown reason they decided that the flight would be diverted to Cancun to fill the tank. We were supposed to get to MEX at 3h25 am. Result: we landed in Mexico more than 3hrs later, I had hired and paid for a taxi through Booking) to pick me up between 5h and 6h am. The driver waited until 4h30 and then decided to leave, Result I lost the fee for that taxi driver and then had to pay for another one from the taxi pool which is not advisable for a woman alone in Mexico. 2, On Nov. 2, I got an e-mail from Interjet that my flight was now Mexico to Montreal, Being now aware that they do change the flights at a whim, I thought that they managed to give me a direct flight to Montreal instead of the 2 flights trip I had bought. So the taxi delivered me to the area for International departures of Interjet. But no, after waiting in line for a good half hour, Seems it was a mistake, that my previous booking was still standing. So I rushed to the national departures (about the distance of a football field to cross) for my flight that was supposed to leave at 11h am. 3. But no worry that flight was late.(fl. 2370) It left at 1h45, We landed in Cancun at close to 3h00, I had to collect my luggage at the conveyor and re-register it and then had to go through security once again and then, realising that Cancun time was an hour later, I arrived at gate 56 to be told that the plane had just left. (fl.2820) 4. Re-crossing the whole airport again, they gave me another ticket back to Mexico (which left later than scheduled) with a transfer for Montreal at 1h00 am (fl. 2811) (which actually left at 2h40 am). In conclusion I had 3 flights, spent 27 hrs in planes or at airports on that day and arrived a whole day later than expected. All because the first flight of the day was late) 5. Upon arrival in Montreal, my luggage which was alright when I re-registered it in Cancun, had been opened, the lock was gone and they broke one of the wheels, so it is a total loss. At this point, I am still unsure if anything disappeared from it, So I do not recommend Interjet. It is by far the worst travelling experience I ever had.

Route: Montreal to Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: S7 Siberia Airlines

Title: "cost efficient upgrade fee"

Review: It was 2 sectors from Novosibirsk to Vladivostok and then transfer from Vladivostok to Seoul. Baggage was checked-in through to final destination, which is very convenient. Online check-in via app with cost efficient upgrade fee> (from Vladivostok to Seoul only 53 USD). Food was good. Entertainment system including map, movies, music etc is broadcasting by Wi-Fi to your own device, which is better for me since I can use my own headphones and no advertisement.

Route: Novosibirsk to Vladivostok via Seoul

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "Staff welcoming and friendly"

Review: Haneda to Kuala Lumpur with ANA All Nippon Airways. The flight into Japan was wonderful. Staff were welcoming and friendly. However, I was a little disappointed with the check in process on my outgoing flight. Once I was told of the weight limit for each baggage, I was given an extra box to move items into (which is greatly appreciated). It would be even better if the weighing scales were pointed out to passengers with the same fate as I in the future. Quite a few of their staff could not understand simple English. This also, should be improved in the future. Thanks for your service during this flight.

Route: Haneda to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "that was the ticket I bought"

Review: My flight was Sapporo to Bangkok but I had to transfer on Hong Kong about 24 hrs. For first 24hrs I accept to wait because that was the ticket I bought but the airplane was delayed after that. I asked them as I want to get a shower but they say no and give me a voucher for food. The flight still delayed so they gave me a second voucher food which mean nothing to me. Im disappointed didnt fix the problem properly to me.

Route: Hong Kong to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "Zero customer service"

Review: Three passengers paid for extra legroom for both legs of our trip, Madrid - Athens and Athens - Larnaca. On the online system and on the reservations we were given extra legroom seats. At the ticket issuance at the airport these were changed to normal seats without any explanation. We were advised to write an email for refund. Wrote an email on June 19th 2022. Since then, wrote 4 more emails, phoned the airline 5 times and each time they told me they see the case and i am right but they cannot do anything about it because they are ticketing and customer service can only be contacted via email. Eight months later and no reply, no acknowledgement nor refund. Zero customer service, zero respect for client.

Route: Madrid to Larnaca via Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Boutique Air

Title: "terrible with customer service"

Review: Alamosa to Albuquerque. Landing safely was the only positive event of our entire experience with Boutique

Air. Both flights were +2hrs late, almost missed the connecting flight in ABQ. When enquiring about the flight status, their personnel claimed to be unable or unwilling to track incoming flights or estimate how long the delay would be. The airline personnel are incompetent, arrogant, uncaring and absolutely terrible with customer service. They act as if you are doing the customer a favor by providing the flight. Makes one wonder what kind of maintenance program is implemented if the public face of the company is so terrible. They have the market cornered and are the only game in town for a lot of regional airports. That is the ONLY way they can possibly stay in business. This airline is worse than Spirit. I can't see how this airline can possibly stay in business if there is even the slightest competition. Every passenger I spoke to said they would fly another airline if there was another choice.

Route: Alamosa to Albuquerque

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aerolineas Argentinas

Title: "I am overall pleased"

Review: Buenos Aires to Miami. I have flown Aerolineas Argentinas 10 years ago, and I was not looking forward to this trip, but since my friends bought it, I was forced to join. To my surprise the airplane was new, excellent condition and even had entertainment. I think it was way better than my Iberia from Madrid to Buenos Aires. The food was very good, I had beef, which is no surprise when you think it's an Argentinian airline. Also wine was great and the crew was professional and efficient. They seemed to be very happy with their job. Entertainment was great on the A330 but not that great on the A340. Of course they are not Emirates or Qatar, but I am overall pleased with this airline.

Route: EZE to MIA

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "treat their passengers like fools"

Review: I arrived early for my scheduled flight Kochi to Srinagar via Mumbai. It was scheduled at 1030am but I landed at Mumbai 1030. Due to that I couldn't board my flight. The airline clearly knows the landing time and I'm going to miss my connection flight, but I have not received any single call regarding this even your staff could have inform me during checking. I visited the help desk for the issue they said no more flights for today, and tomorrows flight's also cancelled. Next day I booked indigo flight to the destination from my pocket. Go Air is worst airline, they treat their passengers like fools.

Route: Kochi to Mumbai via Srinagar

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Norwegian

Title: "made a mistake in a booking"

Review: Copenhagen to Tel Aviv. Norwegian used to be my favorite airline, but I made a mistake in a booking, called to change it, and was advised to cancel the ticket and claim for a refund. I did that and was told a refund was not possible and a change of booking was also not possible due to the cancellation of the ticket. Numerous approaches to their service department were met with the same robotic response that ignored my comments and used a "sorry for any inconvenience" template. What a shame and disappointment.

Route: Copenhagen to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "dont care if you are satisfied or not"

Review: I will never fly them again! I booked a flight from Las Vegas to Honolulu and I booked a flight with a different airlines to get from Honolulu to Australia. Right before departure they said that something is wrong with the engine and we have to wait to fix it. They took almost 2 hours and I didnt see anyone fixing anything! Due to this, I missed my flight to Australia because of the time of landing! I basically lost around $2500 because I had book another ticket to Australia and also book a hotel room plus food for that night! I was trying to talk to the staff for more than 3 hours at the airport and they kept sending here and there without any solution! The service is so bad, they dont care if you are satisfied or not.

Route: Las Vegas to Honolulu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Regional Express

Title: "offer my profound thanks"

Review: I would like to offer my profound thanks to all Rex ground staff and our flight attendant for making my day of retirement so overwhelming. I have been travelling to Whyalla to work as a diagnostic sonographer for many years and I travelled back to Adelaide from Whyalla for the last time two weeks ago. The Sunday prior, on my arrival in Whyalla, Gavin met me at the airport and gave me the most exquisite gift of some miniature origami pieces he had made himself, a gift that moved me to tears. On the following Friday, on my departure for Adelaide, most of the Rex ground staff were there to farewell me with hugs and a very moving card. When I boarded the plane, Claudio indicated my seat which was festooned with a farewell sign and a bottle of wine! After giving his safety briefing, Claudio announced to the passengers that I was retiring and when he came with drink/snack service, I was presented with my own special cake! These wonderful people have looked after me for so many years and I consider myself so lucky to have known them.

Route: Whyalla to Adelaide

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Vueling Airlines

Title: "cancel flight an hour before boarding"

Review: After going through security the airline decided to cancel flight an hour before boarding. Went to the airline desk to be assisted and there was no one from Vueling airline to assist. We had to wait an hour for someone to take us back to landside, went to find someone from Vueling landside to assist but there were no staff available to assist and the lady at the info desk advised to call the airline customer service instead. A complete nightmare. Eventually after we got through to a real person on the phone they could not help and kept referring us to the Vueling website! Do not book with the airline and avoid if you can.

Route: Gatwick to Barcelona

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "Absolute worst customer service"

Review: Cancun to Toronto . Airline wrongfully charged me $360 for checked luggage that did not board the plane. I had to pay this amount the second day in order to get my luggage. (We had 9 pieces) They did not refund the amount for the service which was not provided. Upon calling customer service several times, after every single agent saying Im sorry I understand but there is nothing we can do. Absolute worst customer service, and rude agents.

Route: Cancun to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Croatia Airlines

Title: "please do not use them"

Review: Paris to Zagreb. I had a very bad experience with Croatia Airlines. My luggage was lost, alongside several other passengers on the same flight. Croatia Airlines just did not care. Over the next 5 days, I repeatedly contacted customer service and registered a claim, no response. With very few belongings, I repurchased basic necessities. After 5 days, I finally went to the airport and contacted baggage claim. After a 9hr wait, my luggage was flown to Zagreb and I was able to leave Zagreb, it ruined my entire trip. Several months later, after submitting a claim that only included a fraction of what I purchased for hygiene, Croatia Airlines again ignored all of my follow-up emails. The service was terrible, the cost was high and thus, I will never fly Croatia Airlines again. There are much better airlines, for your own sake, please do not use them.

Route: Paris to Zagreb

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ZIPAIR

Title: ZIPAIR customer review

Review: The seats are abysmal for a long-haul flight, both my wife and I had intense lower back pain around 8 hours in. No entertainment available onboard, they will advertise free Wifi, but it only worked about 20% of the time. As a low-cost airline, no meals, snacks or drinks are included, you have to pay in advance or onboard. You cant even get a cup of water for free. Check-in procedure was horrific. No online checkin, the self-check kiosks did not work at Narita, luckily we arrived three hours early because it took nearly two to get through the line. If you have to fly this airline, be sure to get travel insurance. If you have the extra $100-200 to spare, fly with someone else, its worth it.

Route: Los Angeles to Tokyo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "rescheduled the flight 2 times"

Review: I suggest you never book the flight via Go First. They rescheduled the flight 2 times on the day of departure without giving a reason of operations. All the further plans are dropped due to this delay. Worst Experience.

Route: Bombay to Varanasi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Ethiopian Airlines

Title: "ruined my very expensive vacation"

Review: Worst airline ever and I have never had such a horrific travel experience. My flight was delayed 7 hr at the start of my itinerary. I was never updated on the new departure time. I kept calling the global center (7x) and they would not verify the new departure time! My flight eventually left at 4am instead of 9pm but I missed all my connections and the start of my safari vacation. All my vacation plans had to be changed at last minute and this was extremely stressful. Then Ethiopian airlines lost my luggage for 7 days. No one from the airlines would help me. They kept saying they had no idea where the bag was even though I knew it was in Addis! The Ethiopian website is not helpful as it is not ever updated! No one contacted me so I had to spend my safari time following up. Finally after 5 days the airline said they would compensate me $100 for the lost bag but no one at Ethiopian Global office nor in DC would assist me. I am not able to get the compensation! The airlines said they can not help me and I needed to speak with their offices in South Africa! This has been a nightmare experience ! Especially on a business class ticket. For my safari, I was without clothes for half the vacation. Now I Can not get compensation. Everyone I speak to at Ethiopian airlines is extremely rude. No one will let me speak to a manager, or assist me or say they are sorry. On my way home, I had to fight to sit in the Ethiopian lounge. They said I could not sit in the lounge for more than 3 hr and my layover was longer. When I checked on my luggage in Johannesburg , they told the lounge staff I did not have any bags checked in although I had bag tags to prove I had checked luggage - my bag was missing again. I had not yet left Johannesburg. Ethiopian airlines ruined my very expensive vacation and still wont let me speak to any management about this trip! I can not get anyone to respond to my compensation!

Route: Washington to Johannesburg via Addis Ababa

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Fiji Airways

Title: "flight was overbooked"

Review: Melbourne to Nadi. Booked my flight 1st April to fly on 19th August, get an email 3 days before we fly that our flight was overbooked and changed to fly out the next day. By then our accomodation has all been locked in and for any changes via booking.com will be a fee of the whole booking. I called the airline, emailed them and all they could do is say sorry, there was nothing they could do. Then coming back from Nadi to Melbourne, we had trouble checking in, we were told the flight was overbooked and that they opened a seat for us to accommodate getting both of us on the flight. The seats were separate to each other. I later found out when sitting next to a young couple with a 9-month year old, that I took their baby's seat where he was meant to sleep in and that one of the flight attendants said that they overbooked flights because a lot of the time people don't show up and that a lot of the airlines do it too. The flight attendants are lovely but the airline needs to get its act together and stop messing people around with their booking.

Route: Melbourne to Nadi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Transavia

Title: "Crew was pleasant"

Review: Heraklion to Eindhoven. Flight landed on time. Seats are very cramped on the newer airplanes of Transavia. No IFE on board. Crew was pleasant and correct. Prices for food and drinks weer average.

Route: Heraklion to Eindhoven

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: FLYONE

Title: "Avoid at all costs"

Review: This is an awful company. They cancelled and changed my flights twice at short notice, causing me to miss my entire holiday. They refused to apologise or refund, and will not honour a very simple request for a letter explaining what happened. The customer service team is rude and if you try to engage with them on social media they block you. Avoid at all costs.

Route: Chisinau to Yerevan

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "even changed the seat"

Review: Mumbai to Srinagar via Delhi. Selected the flight due to least trouble of not changing the plane at Delhi and paid extra fare for seat selection. It was good till we landed at Delhi. There I was handed a new boarding pass and was made to run from one plane to another boarding gate undergoing the security once again. The airline had changed the flight and even changed the seat as per their choice without a word of sorry.

Route: Mumbai to Srinagar via Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Norwegian

Title: "why they can't refund"

Review: I purchased 4 flights for my family three months before our holiday. Norwegian changed two of the flight times and instead of offering a refund are charging a premium to adjust my tickets to an alternate flight. I have had to re-book 10 tickets and pay twice now for each of the flights as Norwegian don't take responsibility for changing flight times if its 60 mins or less. I don't understand why they need to be adjusting flight times 3 months out and I don't understand why they can't refund my tickets 3 months out.

Route: Krakow to Turramurra via Helsinki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "This is unacceptable!"

Review: Cabin staff was friendly. The gate staff in Pensacola were friendly and informative. However, the staff in Tampa at the gate was horrible and did not keep us up to date. She was coming at the passengers like they were committing a crime over not wearing masks and smoking which I did not see anyone not wearing a mask that wasn't eating nor did I see anyone smoking. She was very aggressive with her little announcement. The ticket booth opened up later than the rest of them in the morning and there was not much seating offered at the Pensacola gate. The cabin is tiny and seats are very uncomfortable even for the small duration of the flight. It was hot and we were offered warm water. The worst part of this was that the flight was delayed due to weather in Tallahassee so they unloaded "8" suitcases so that the plane can fly. Nobody was notified. We were all just standing around waiting and I had to start asking around. Silver did not have an office so we had to go to the ticket booth to ask and submit a claim even though my name was not on the list of 8 ppl given to the staff. This is disheartening as I learned that some of the fellow passengers had important medication in their checked bags. If bags must be removed they should certainly ask about who relies heavily on items in their bags to LIVE! As it is frustrating to not have my luggage my life doesn't depend on it. The removed luggage was placed on a Delta flight that was not arriving until almost midnight. This is unacceptable! I would pay 3x more for a better experience from a flight in the same state.

Route: Tampa to Pensacola

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Oman Air

Title: "Terrible service"

Review: Dubai to Bangkok. Oman Air has canceled the flight and still has not refunded the ticket amount. They arranged a call once and then nothing after that. No reply to emails or to the feedback on their website as the person in the call has suggested. Terrible service and never want to use this airline again.

Route: Dubai to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: S7 Siberia Airlines

Title: "a pleasant experience"

Review: Palma de Mallorca to Moscow. Check-in was a breeze. The aircraft was new and clean. Seats were in a 2-2 layout and were comfortable. Cabin crew were polite, professional and efficient. In terms of catering, the Greek salad and the desert were fantastic. A pre-landing fresh apple-cucumber-mint juice was a fantastic touch. Huge kudos to the airlines creative team. The design of boarding passes, reading and marketing materials and the aircraft livery are definitely making S7 one of the most stylish airlines in the world. Flight delayed by about 30 minutes due to heavy traffic (not the fault of the airline). Hot meal options were mediocre at best. No IFE for a 4.5 hour flight. The ticket price was expensive and comparable to Aeroflot. Overall a pleasant experience with S7 Airlines. Up to its possibilities, the airline delivers a great product in terms of quality. Though, you would expect a lower price tag for what was on offer.

Route: Palma de Mallorca to Moscow

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: flydubai

Title: "nothing commendable with basic food"

Review: Flying second time, long waiting in check in with just one counter for business and one for economy classes. Passengers exhausted and it took more than an hr. Service ok, nothing commendable with basic food. Nothing good compared to the fares they charge.

Route: Budapest to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "most of the time above average"

Review: Johannesburg to Lusaka. To be fair, most of the time SAA flights are above average. This time round was not one of them. My Qatar Airways flight was delayed in Doha, I spent over two hours on my mobile trying to change my flight for the next day, can't wait to see the bill, and nothing was resolved. I spoke to four different people, each time having to start at the beginning of my story, only to be told I have to visit an SAA office. Pretty hard when you are in Doha and they don't have an office there. At the end it cost me the same price as the ticket to have it changed once I got to Johannesburg airport. Once on board we taxied to the runway only to turn back and park for close on three hours due to a technical fault - we were not allowed to disembark. As I said, to be fair, this is the first delay I have encountered after 40 or so flights.

Route: Johannesburg to Lusaka

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Pacific

Title: "I've never been so angry"

Review: Jetstar Pacific is on a different planet when it comes to customer service and reliability. We were flying from Ho Chi Minh City (HCMC) to Hanoi and had our flight cancelled 4 times - not just once, but 4 times and no one said sorry, even though they spoke good English. I've never been so angry in my life. We had a tour booked which we lost our money to and we ended up wasting a whole day of our precious time in Vietnam trapped inside an airport. What angered me the most is that no one apologised, or tried to help us out. The company doesn't deserve any customers. I would advise travellers to boycott flying with Jetstar Pacific, unless you want disappointment, or to spoil your holiday.

Route: Ho Chi Minh City to Hanoi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Norwegian

Title: "good value for the money paid"

Review: New York to Copenhagen in premium cabin, return via Gatwick in economy. JFK-CPH sector Check-in was reasonably quick. No lounge offered (as it was an upgrade; lounge access is by invitation only for PremiumFlex category booking only.) Seat are configured 2-3-2 layout. The premium cabin was full and seat was comfortable even though it was not full-flat. Was able to sleep 4 hours straight with eye-shade on. Dinner was great (salmon option) and it took for a while to start so that passengers could sleep early as it was late evening flight. Breakfast was also sufficient. It was a great to have warm bread on board. It was on-time flight and luggage came out quite reasonably quick. I didn't use entertainment much as most of the flight I was sleeping/napping and eating. Flight attendants were friendly and efficient. Return flight was via LGW. CPH-LGW was on 737-800. Flight was non-eventful. Gatwick to New York was on Evelop Airlines (contracted charter equipped with A332). It was uneventful as well. Seat was comfortable for long-haul economy. Was able to sleep most of the flight. All in all, it was a good value for the money paid. Get to destination as scheduled with reasonable comfort.

Route: New York to Copenhagen

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "I will never schedule with them again"

Review: First thing is you can wait on hold for several hours or you can have them call you back and still wait several hours. 2 days before our scheduled flight they sent an email which said our flight was canceled. It took most of the next day to be informed that our flight was not canceled. It was due to a system glitch. On our day of travel we are informed at the airport that our flight was truly canceled. Never received notification. I will never schedule with them again.

Route: Ft Lauderdale to Key West

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: "Cost cutting to the max"

Review: Cost cutting to the max. The inflight service has now reached the bottom. No more choice of meals, just a mini portion of salad, cheese pasta without salt or pepper. A mini sandwich as a second meal during a 9h flight.

Route: Vienna to Montreal

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Iberia Express

Title: "did not let us board the flight"

Review: While boarding a plane to Santorini and despite of having all required covid related documents, Iberia Express did not let us board the flight. Further, they did not take our bags off the airplane. Since we did not make the flight to Greece, we stayed in Spain without our luggage and had to buy the essentials to last few days. We are back in USA now and still don't have our bags and it's been 5 days. Iberia customer service is terrible, their luggage tracing system is a complete mess, rude uncaring staff on the phone and in airport unwilling to help.

Route: Madrid to Santorini

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "abandoned in Sofia"

Review: Flight Sofia-Tel Aviv scheduled at 0555 on April 2 was first delayed till 1425, then after all passengers had been sitting on the plane for 2 hours, it was canceled under the most weird explanations given (first like "we missed out time slot and the tower does not allow us to start engines" and then like "BGU does not accept delayed flight"). Needless to say, no support or help given, no WIZZ representative on ground, no phone to call and no contact to, well, contact. 150 passengers are abandoned in Sofia, some rebooked with other companies, some just stuck in Sofia without any perspective and any resolution attempt from WIZZ staff.

Route: Sofia to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "Absolutely terrible experience"

Review: Absolutely terrible experience and finger pointing travel experience. Flight was booked through SATA airline with JetBlue providing domestic flights. First it was ridiculous to fly Tampa International Airport to Boston Logan then to JFK with Jet Blue; then SATA from JFK to Azores Ponta Delgada. Jet Blue cancelled flight to JFK at last hour. We even flew directly over JFK enroute to Boston Logan. Jet Blues agents were inconsiderate and not customer friendly or helpful service. They rebooked our flight for a day later with entirely different airline flying to Madrid then back to Azores a day late. This cut the time in Azores plus defeated the purpose of stopping in Azores for a shorter trip to Europe. Will never again Fly with JetBlue or recommend them to anyone. Another thing before taking off from Tampa the restrooms in the plane were nasty. I guess it just shows how poor an airline Jet Blue is based on my experience. To address finger pointing they blame the cancellation on weather. It wasnt even raining or bad weather. We flew directly over JFK to Boston.

Route: Tampa to New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Fiji Airways

Title: "refund will take 6-8 months"

Review: SFO to Nadi in August, the flight was cancelled due to mechanical issues - not a problem. The problem was the airline has just notified me that the refund will take 6-8 months. That is unacceptable.

Route: San Francisco to Nadi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jet2.com

Title: "look at different companies"

Review: Tenerife to Stansted. We have no issues with the flight or crew on the flight both were brilliant. However, we did find one of the reps at the hotel (Hard Rock Tenerife) on Saturday 7th December who, was handling the luggage transfers I found not in keeping with good. Customer Service. I thought we had booked the whole package via Jet 2 but, it appeared that I had booked through Expedia so not able to use this service even though flying with Jet2.com. Her colleague was helpful and friendly and explained the situation but the rep was quite rude, not verbally but, when looking on the paperwork and seeing I had booked through Expedia she quickly walked over to her colleague who was on the phone to the office and pointed at the fact it was booked through Expedia and pulled a face. We were planning on bringing our family back sometime next year but will now look at different companies.

Route: Tenerife to Stansted

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Saudi Arabian Airlines

Title: "Poor quality airline"

Review: Poor quality airline - dirty interior and no seat belts available for infants (not a one-off experience - Ive had the same experience on three internal flights).

Route: Al Ula to Jeddah via Riyadh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "an enjoyable experience"

Review: On time, clean. Employees helpful and courteous. Complementary water offered for this very short flight. Plenty of leg room. Not crowded. Overall, an enjoyable experience. Much much cheaper than competitors, which were experiencing problems.

Route: Jacksonville to Fort Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: PLAY

Title: "happy with all aspects"

Review: This was our first time flying with Play and we are very happy with all aspects of the experience. We will definitely be using Play to fly to some other destinations.

Route: Keflavik to New York Stewart

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Asiana Airlines

Title: "Seats reasonably comfortable"

Review: Sydney to London return via Seoul over the Christmas period. Outbound flight into Seoul does not connect to London, meaning an overnight stay is required. We made a two night city break of it. All four flights were on time. Good standard of customer service throughout flights and meals were acceptable. Seats reasonably comfortable with plenty of legroom (I am over 6 foot). Quite a limited selection of IFE movies and music (do these things really cost airlines so much?!). A380 and A350 aircraft were both modern, especially the A350. Website and online check-in not very user-friendly.

Route: Sydney to London via Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Cape Air

Title: "blocked me from emailing them"

Review: I actually have not flown Cape Air yet as my ticket is for 2 weeks from now. I emailed Cape Air asking for refund due to corona virus. Sadly, I live in US and nobody can travel, all people are cancelling trips .. so it's not possible for me to get to San Juan and then take the Cape Air flight even I wanted to. Other airlines, hotels, are refunding ok.

Cape Air said I could reuse the ticket in coming months, then I said, like most, I will not be able to afford to travel for this kind of expensive trip for years as we resave. Then I get an email message that Cape Air literally 'blocked me' from emailing them. Despite the fact that almost nobody will be able to fly Cape Air for several weeks so plans will be empty, despite the fact that Cape Air will likely cancel most flights soon anyway, Cape Air is 'choosing' to keep all the money from hundreds of flights over coming weeks paid by people getting sick, losing jobs, and in crisis. Pay more if you have to for another airline!

Route: San Juan to Tortola

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jet Airways

Title: "A disappointing journey"

Review: A disappointing journey! My son and I are now en route from Chennai to Prague on 17 Feb. We are at the time of writing this review still stuck in Paris for 9 hours waiting for a flight to Prague. This is a Jet Airways shared with Air France. The reason given was a one hour delay in Chennai which made us miss our connecting flight. Consequently we have had to wait for 9 hours for the next connecting flight. Without as much as a courtesy of a free lunch or a drink. This isnt so much about the cost of a lunch as much as it is about caring for your passengers. Horrible wait and the last time on this airline.

Route: Chennai to Prague via Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Hong Kong Airlines

Title: "waited 24 hrs for our baggage"

Review: Our flight from Los Angeles to Hong Kong was delayed for 5 hrs, then Hong Kong to Manila was also delayed.

The worst part is when we arrived to Manila, 3 of our baggage didn't arrive, we waited another 24 hrs for our baggage.

Never gonna fly this airline again.

Route: Los Angeles to Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SmartWings

Title: "a pleasant surprise"

Review: Prague to Podgorica. Flying with SmartWings was a pleasant surprise. I was able to choose seats at the check-in desk, as the online check-in wasn't working for me. They were very benevolent with cabin baggage. Plane clean and new on the way to Podgorica (bit older on the way back), however the seats very pretty tiny but OK for short flights. Buy on Board service is for very reasonable prices and I love their ginger beer (3EUR). Overall I was pretty surprised as I read a lot of negative reviews here before. Also the value for money was pretty good as I had a return ticket for 120 EUR, which is pretty good for TGD airport.

Route: Prague to Podgorica

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: VivaAerobús

Title: "Worst customer service I have received"

Review: My flight had my maiden name, they cancelled the entire flight instead of helping me with the name change. Then instructed me to repurchase my entire round trip. Their 4 Hour policy did not apply. Worst customer service I have received from an airline. Extremely unprofessional customer service agents

Route: Houston to Guadalajara

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Airlines

Title: "last time taking China Airlines"

Review: New York JFK to Yangon via Taipei. I have flied so many times with different airlines from JFK to Yangon. But this is the worst experience ever. All my baggage are left at the transit. I can understand that thats because of short transit hour and the airlines told me thats normal for them. The problem is that I requested the wheel chair and no one picked me up at the transit. This is seriously ridiculous. I was awaiting the wheel chair until the last 5 minutes to the next airplane. This must be my last time taking China Airlines.

Route: New York to Yangon via Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Shanghai Airlines

Title: "absolute disgrace of an airline"

Review: Hong Kong to Shanghai Pudong on Shanghai Airlines. For reasons as yet unexplained to me, we boarded the aircraft at 16.45h and remained on the aircraft on the ground until 23.40h (yes, an unbelievable 7 hours), when we were then told that the flight is now cancelled and we deplaned again. During the time onboard neither the captain or first officer spoke with the passengers and the cabin crew made three announcements stating only that "we would be updated on the departure time later". An absolute disgrace of an airline and crew.

Route: HKG to PVG

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "truly deserve nothing"

Review: Toronto to Edmonton. This is the worst airline I have ever flown, the staff were so very rude. They have you squashed in there like sardines, you cannot move, you are constantly bumping the seat in front of you, as is the person sitting behind you. The seats, if you could call them that was like sitting on concrete, you literally had to crawl over the armrest to get out of your seat as there is no leg room at all. I have never been so uncomfortable in my entire life. The staff were horrible and when coming around with the beverage cart, they kept skipping rows and not bothering to ask people if they wanted anything. No in-flight entertainment at all, not even a place to plug in your headphones to at the very least listen to music. This airline is a joke if you ever see Air Canada rouge come up, stay far away. I tried to opt-out of giving any star ratings at all because they truly deserve nothing, but it would not allow me to submit otherwise.

Route: Toronto to Edmonton

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Edelweiss Air

Title: "satisfied with high standards"

Review: Dusseldorf to Larnaca via Zurich, and it was the first time I flew with Edelweiss Air. I was satisfied with the high standards and service provided. The flight lasted 3 hours and the crew served the passengers the snack, meal, dessert. Metal cutlery was provided to all passengers instead of plastic.

Route: DUS to LCA via ZRH

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "Horrible service"

Review: Merida to Mexico City. Horrible service. The airline employee took my carry-on bag against my wishes and arguments. They claimed it was overweight, but it still ended up on the airplane as checked baggage. Now I have to get it from baggage against my will, which will probably make me miss my next flight. They also only serve sugary soda (no water or coffee) as drinks out of single-use bottles.

Route: Merida to Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "never use this airline again"

Review: My flight from Tijuana to Cabo was delayed 4.5 hrs. Minimal notification from airlines and only compensation was a $40 voucher to be used on another flight within 1 month. They offered a dry ham sandwich which was stale and not appetizing. It was thrown away no other meal compensation given. The flight from Cabo to Tijuana was also delayed this time 5.5 hours. No communication from airlines. This is unacceptable for an airline. I will never use this airline again and urge all my friends to do the same. It appears that delays are very common as other Volaris flights were delayed same day. The airline staff did not seem apologetic to these significant and very disruptive delays.

Route: Tijuana to Cabo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Saudi Arabian Airlines

Title: "great full service airline"

Review: I spent a span of 21 hours flying Saudia across three regions of the world in economy and satisfied with my experience in the whole. To start, the pros to flying Saudia was the price, seating and it's incredible staff. My flight was extremely affordable relative to competitors and the seats were fantastic due to having a lot of empty seats around.

Additionally, inflight crew were friendly and took initiative in the most authentic way. I felt well looked after in the most genuine way! As for my cons, they dealt with the lack of cleanliness, catering and online infrastructure. My seat from Geneva and to a lesser extent out of Jeddah to Seoul wasn't the cleanest. One of my flights had residual trash in the seat pocket and a lot of dirt was wiped off using a wet towel. Moreover, I get that economy food doesn't have a reputation for being 5-star, but the pasta I had was rubbery, tasteless and inept at hiding the fact that it was mass produced. Finally, Saudia could invest a little in improving their online/app features for requesting special meals as they were difficult to navigate and calling was too much trouble due to prolonged wait times. In summary, Saudia is a great full service airline to fly for those who value comfort and service for a price that doesn't break the bank!

Route: Geneva to Seoul via Jeddah

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "damage to covers is not compensated"

Review: Seoul to Taipei. The flight experience itself is very correct. However, at arrival in TPE I went to fetch my baggage and noticed that the new cover I bought as a protector for my Rimowa was damaged and I can no longer use it. EVA ground staff said that damage to covers is not compensated. Cannot understand this because it also costs money ($50). Also when sending an email I get a standard email that they are looking forward for my patronage again. I'll choose to fly other airlines instead.

Route: Seoul to Taipei

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Firefly

Title: "I dont care attitude"

Review: Kota Bharu to Kuala Lumpur. This is connecting flight from Kota Bharu to Kuala Lumpur (code sharing with Malaysia Airlines on to Osaka). I dont care attitude of the staff at the counter.

Route: Kota Bharu to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia Philippines

Title: "get credit card charge refunded"

Review: I purchased a round trip for my in-laws to visit us in Korea and made the reservation by phone direct to Air Asia Philippines. After accepting and charging my card successfully, their fraud/review department declined the transaction on the same day. I was only able to find out by calling them again the day before the flight. My in-laws ended up paying in cash at the counter in Manila and made the flight. One month later, I am still trying to get my credit card charge refunded. After 4 different support case numbers, I am still waiting 'for their investigation' even though I received an email stating the refund was made/authorized one month ago. My bank shows no incoming transactions and Air Asia would not/could not provide their transaction number that initiated the credit card refund and state that the delay is from inaction by my bank.

Route: Manila to Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Cyprus Airways

Title: "online check-in still not available"

Review: Flying by CY260 from Larnaca to Prague on Nov 26. One would think like on-line check in is the business as usual for most companies on the planet and a must for all the airlines operating in EU. Until you fly Cyprus Airways. Despite the fact that already in August Cyprus announced that "The online check-in service is available for all the flights departing from Larnaca, Tel Aviv and St. Petersburg. More destinations will be introduced in the coming months.", the reality is that on-line check in still not available. There are also no self-check in kiosks at the airport in Larnaca, the home base of Cyprus Airways. Rather than that, I was advised by Cyprus Airways staff to get to check in 2.5 hrs before the departure, i.e.in case of my flight at 4:30am! The plane is high density and they charge 3.50 Eur for a simple Nescafe.

Route: Larnaca to Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Malaysia Airlines

Title: "they served meals free"

Review: I didn't expect that I would get a meal for 2 hours of flight going to Kuala Lumpur from BKK but they served meals free of charge. I took Malaysia Airline to Incheon from Kuala Lumpur and the best part of the 6 hours of journey was that the crew were providing with soft drinks and the food served was so great. They had a Korean stewardess working in the plane so it was easier and comfortable to communicate with her whenever i needed a help or anything.

Thank you for your best service.

Route: Bangkok to Incheon via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Norse Atlantic Airways

Title: "Awful experience"

Review: Awful experience and do not recommend. We had to wait to check in for 2.5 hours because they did not plan on having so many flights leaving around the same time and only having 4 people working. They ran out of all but one meal option - which we had paid for ahead of time to only not be able to eat it due to it being spicy. Drinks were not offered for 5 hours on the plane. When we land, our luggage takes over an hour to arrive and there is no one to tell us what was happening. When I emailed customer service, the only response was - you could have gotten a water for free. Will not fly again.

Route: Orlando to London Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "Superb airline"

Review: Superb airline. I really can not fault the airline at all. The cabin crew are extremely attentive, polite and friendly. The food was very tasty. In flight entertainment was very extensive for two 6 hours flights.

Route: London Gatwick to Bangkok via Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "unsmiling cabin crew"

Review: Sydney to Ho Chi Minh City. It seems a shame that Vietnam Airlines continues to shoot itself in the foot, instead of improving. My trip from Sydney to Ho Chi Minh City was afflicted by the same problems as in past 6 years. The safety announcement prior to take off was almost inaudible and beyond comprehension. I brought this to the attention of the senior cabin attendant in economy who didnt seem concerned. Even the video presentation had errors with the actor in the life-vest demonstration blowing across the inflation tubes, not into them. The food served about an hour after departure was okay, not special. Soon after the trays were cleared away we entered an area of quite strong turbulence. The seat belt sign was illuminated and an almost inaudible message alerted passengers, but then the sign stayed on for almost 3 hours after the turbulence had ceased. Naturally, passengers ignored the sign and went about the cabin and to the toilets with no concern from the cabin attendants. As has been the case for years, the in-flight entertainment leaves a lot to be desired, especially when compared to similar carriers. Choices are extremely limited, while the secondary control on the top of the seat armrest repeatedly changes the volume, turns your reading light on or calls the cabin attendant if you rest your arm on it. A serious design error approved by Vietnam Airlines. The pre-landing snack was a beef pie. Mine was cold, and I asked the senior attendant for a hot one. She said nothing, took the tray and disappeared. Soon after, the food server in the other aisle saw that I had no meal and gave me a hot pie. After another 5 minutes the senior came back with my original pie. Is this the best VNA can do with cabin service? Oh, and like every VNA flight I've taken in the past 6 years, the unsmiling cabin crew seem to regard their job as boring and a grudging effort. VNA has the potential to be among the top international carriers in the world, but it will take a total attitude turnaround of senior management to achieve this.

Route: Sydney to Ho Chi Minh City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Caribbean Airlines

Title: "no one can give an explanation"

Review: Ft Lauderdale to Montego Bay. Thanksgiving day was a disaster, flight schedule to leave at 9:40am was cancelled. They said delayed 3:45pm, then 4:45, then 5:45, now 6:45. Very frustrating and no one can give an explanation. The workers at the podium said no one is giving them any information so they don't know what is going on. This is unacceptable and not good service. They will be my last resort for travelling if need be.

Route: FLL to MBJ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Pobeda Airlines

Title: "over-met all my expectations"

Review: I have had many experiences commuting between Germany and Russia for the past 20 years. Yesterday I finally made my maiden flight with Pobeda Airlines. I purchased most of the options offered by Pobeda such as XL legroom (Row 15), Priority Boarding, Cabin Baggage etc. The final price with all the Extras incl. Credit Card charges was about 14.000 RUB or 240 EUR within less than 24 hours prior to departure which is quite close to the cheapest Aeroflot Y-class fare if booked one week in advance. (The next day flight for the same route was about 4.000 RUB / less than 100 EUR by the way!) in general, Pobeda met and even over-met all my expectations. Booking was easy and less time consuming than most of the airlines I have traveled before, Check-in agent (AHS) provided fairly good service (three counters open), Gate D40 (terminal position, bridged) dedicated to DP at CGN airport is right in the middle of T2 with two integrated immigration control counters. One minus - gate is a bit small to accommodate 189 PAX with no snack / beverage service or vendor machine. I purchased optional Priority Boarding in advanced, but finally decided to board with last passengers (189 in total, 100% load factor) in order to check capacity of the overhead bins to accommodate all the hand luggage - surprisingly there were more than enough space for all 189 passengers personal belongings. Inflight crew did really an excellent job to get all the passengers satisfied. All four girls served all three hours of flight time long with no interruption providing water, helping passenger with infants, etc. Seats are slim and very comfortable. I used to travel Aeroflot business class for the past 7 years, and my impression was that my Pobeda XL seat at Row 15 provided slightly more space than Aeroflot's business class. Deboarding at VKO was really fast over the front and rear doors. All in all - I would definitely recommend Pobeda to all my friends/colleagues.

Route: CGN to VKO

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "no flight, no refund"

Review: I booked to fly to Sierra Leone (cost for 2 people, £1009) but due to the pandemic we weren't able to fly (flight was booked for Oct 2020, and was cancelled). So i called them and asked what we needed to do. I was told that as the tickets were non-refundable, I needed to pay a service charge (£306) to get a voucher for the flights (to the value of £1009). So i did. I received email confirmation, a receipt and a credit note for the £1009 to use against a new booking. But when I tried to use the voucher, they told me it wasn't valid, i can't use it, they have no record of it or me paying for it. When I try to sort this out, I am told I must email via the website, so I do. I receive an email back asking me to call. So I do. When i call, I am told they cannot talk to me, i must email, so I do, and i get an email asking me to call. So i try again, and get told I must email... and round and round it goes. No one will speak to me, and every email receives a reply asking me to call. I sent them the receipt and the voucher but they refused to look at it saying they have no record of it and would never charge for a service fee. End result; no flight, no refund. I will never ever book with Royal Air Maroc again under any circumstances.

Route: London to Freetown via Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Philippine Airlines

Title: "The most horrendous service"

Review: The most horrendous service you could possible imagine! What were supposed to be simple Sydney to Tokyo return flights (via manila) ended up in a horrible mess of late minute changes, then more changes, and insistence that I pay for the many costs involved, including the most ridiculous one of all; I pay for accommodation for three nights due to an enforced three day stop over in manila. None of this was of my doing - all decided by Philippine Airlines, and not one sensible reason ever given for any of the changes. Their 'help lines' and 'support' are non existent - number either do not work or are answered by ostensibly caring people with no authority or desire to actually do anything to help. Disgraceful - I'm surprised they are still in business.

Route: Tokyo to Sydney via Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Batik Air

Title: "will never fly Batik Air again"

Review: Denpasar to Perth. No inflight entertainment at all. Food was the worst I have tasted. From 21st June 2018 it is to be a full service flight. Only water and Pepsi were available and both were warm. Staff speak very little English. The plane wasn't cleaned before boarding. The only complement I can give Batik Air is the leg room. We will never fly Batik Air again.

Route: Denpasar to Perth

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "a shambles of an airline"

Review: Never ever fly Wizz Air it's a shambles of an airline and any money you save on tickets will be paid for by awful experience and awful customer service! First of all the check in was a disgrace. We waited in line for nearly 2 hrs and nearly missed our flight because of the check in delays. Furthermore, my bags were checked in under another passengers name (luckily as one of friends). This wasn't the end of it! Upon arriving in Lyon airport, it turns out that Wizz hadn't bothered to put at least 30 pieces of luggage onto the flight so left my luggage in Gatwick (along with around 20 other passengers' luggage). This meant I was on a ski trip with only the contents of my rucksack. The process of getting my bags back has been a disaster. Firstly they delivered my bags in Val d'isere to the wrong address, without informing me, so I flew back to London under the impression my bags were still with Wizz. Only because I had my phone number written on my luggage did I find out where it was (still in Val d'isere). It's now been 2 months since I flew with Wizz and still no sign of either of my bags. I wouldn't wish this situation on my worst enemy as this has been hell trying to get any information/progress on my luggage. Wizz charge £1.45/min on landline calls and £15 fee for calls that could be 'handled online'. For any money you save on flying with Wizz you will pay for it in admin and awful customer service. This is a god awful airline and I will never fly with them again. Please take this advice

Route: Gatwick to Lyon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Loganair

Title: "Delayed yet again"

Review: Edinburgh to Wick. Delayed yet again, becoming more and more part of the trip. They do not care the delay has on onward travel. Commented to a gate staff female employee and was told nothing to do with me, there is no pilot".

Great customer service - not.

Route: Edinburgh to Wick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Transavia

Title: "We had a terrible experience"

Review: We had a terrible experience traveling on Jan 5-8th with our service dog. Our flight on Jan 8th was delayed and we were sent from one check-in area to another. Despite arriving 2 hours early, we were told the check-in was closed and had to take another flight. We came back the next day, and had to wait for 3.5 hours for the service dog to be allowed on the flight, then 1 minute before departure they told us the dog is allowed and they made a mistake. We were not given any options for accommodation or compensation for the time lost.

Route: Paris to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "not liable to pay me any compensation"

Review: Absolutely terrible aftercare and customer service. My bag has been lost as it did not make the flight to Larnaca. I had people from EgyptAir sending me photos of the bag in Cairo, but they never managed to send it to me in the UK. I have now been told that on 8/11/22 it was sent to Saudi Arabia and would be 'irretrievable' but that as I only submitted a 'courtesy tracking request' initially, they were not liable to pay me any compensation. Why would the original 'lost baggage claim' just be a tracking request.

Route: Nairobi to Larnaca via Cairo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Volotea

Title: "Very pleasant flight"

Review: Very pleasant flight and nice plane, comfortable seats and very smart and polite staff onboard. Staff at Turin airport wasn't very helpful, sometimes it does happen but when I asked at the lady over the counter an information about my boarding pass she replied you have the information in the line at the bottom end, she was also in a hurry maybe for onboarding passengers but I didn't expect such a reply. At the end plane arrived half hour earlier so wasn't bad at all

Route: Turín to Cagliari

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "A wonderful experience"

Review: A wonderful experience. Their cabin crew help you with whatever was possible. On return the gate agent helped me to reschedule my flight in a way I got an entire day in Amsterdam.

Route: Lisbon to Copenhagen via Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Malindo Air

Title: "most inconsistent airline"

Review: Colombo to Sydney via Bali. The most inconsistent airline I have ever travelled with the the poorest comfort by far. food for purchase with correct money currency only and no credit facility for electronic payment! Every flight I took from Sydney to Bali to kL through to Colombo was tough to purchase was only able to purchase on location of currency for food beverage purchases you better be on. The flights were either delayed and cause a scramble for the connection flights. The staff are surprisingly ok because they are not overworked. The seats in economy are so uncomfortable. Malindo also misplaced my luggage on a 8hr layover in DPS, and I was left stranded until my luggage arrived for connecting flight 4 hrs later. I strongly advise anyone thinking of flying with Malindo to definitely take a more reputable airline carrier as you may not want this sort of experience like I had.

Route: Colombo to Sydney via Bali

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Flair Airlines

Title: "We never use them again"

Review: This the issue for all small airlines. No customer service at all. Their prices are low but at the end will be same as expensive airlines since they are adding everything with cost. We had a flight at 6AM from Vancouver to Toronto. We purchased 2 checked bag for $170 and we arrived couple of minutes la the for check bag drop off and due to shuttle bus delay and waiting line. They told us we cannot go however my wife and my daughter could go since we still had time to board but they did not offer us and they did not even allow us to take the flight and send our luggage later. The staff did not know anything and they asked to talk with customer service which was close till 8AM. We asked to rebook and they said we should pay double of amount of original ticket and also pay again for luggage. That was insane. No help at all. We never use them again.

Route: Vancouver to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "comfortable and relaxing trip"

Review: Rome to Warsaw. Very comfortable and relaxing trip, I arrived in Warsaw a few minutes early. Clean plane, very nice on-board staff offered us snacks and drinks. I will travel again with Alitalia.

Route: Rome to Warsaw

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "In-flight service was quite nice"

Review: I was supposed to fly on SQ25 to Singapore via Frankfurt. The flight was canceled after we are at the gate for 4 hours past the departure time without any explanation. Being flown with SQ for many times, I suspect this had to do with JFK rather than the airline. However, they should still bear the responsibility for addressing to their customers. We were rebooked to the non-stop SQ23 to Singapore the following day. We ended up on the A350-900XLR, which was quite nice, but I still prefer their A380. Due to the flight change, we did not get our book the cook meals. In-flight service was quite nice as expected from SQ.

Route: New York to Singapore

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "check in counter is slow in Dubai"

Review: The check in counter is slow in Dubai. The flight was also delayed. The food portions are really good although you might find the bread hard. The cabin crew didn't answer call bells, they would =turn it off cleverly while passing by.

Route: Dubai to Lisbon via Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "suitcases were damaged"

Review: My complaint is not necessarily with the Airline but more so with the Ground Staff at either OR Tambo or George airports or Both. In the past year I have noticed a lot of Scratches and dents on our luggage. (This even on the Cape Town Flights). We have even gone as far as wrapping them at a hefty price to try and protect them.(Wrapping price has jumped rapidly over a short time - Currently R90-00 and expecting it to be R100-00 soon). On our trip yesterday (FA 228 16h05 - OR Tambo to Georg) I was horrified at the condition of my and my Wife's suitcases. We specifically purchased more expensive and robust luggage cases to prevent damage. Well to no avail as they were damaged. One can clearly see that the suit cases were carelessly and violently thrown from a distance. Many people are complaining of the same thing. Then there was also the situation of the Airbridge at Gate C 13 at OR Tambo that is out of order. Many old people and ladies with babies had to walk down the stairs onto ground level and back up into the plane. This is very unprofessional for a Major Airport.

Route: George to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Astana

Title: "best option for the region"

Review: Almaty to Istanbul. I use Air Astana for my domestic and international flights, I can say that they are best option for the region. The quality of service, aircraft quality keeps increasing.

Route: Almaty to Istanbul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "There is no space to move at all"

Review: This company is a complete joke. Both flights were delayed. 10 years ago, Air Canada came up with Rouge to be able to compete with a few low costs company who were supposed to be starting across Canada. 10 years later, they sell their tickets 1200$ Montreal- Miami: you get the low cost comfort and service but at a full price. Please, get rid of this awful company. Passengers are seated like animals. There is no space to move at all. The legroom is very small and the seats are not comfortable.

Route: Montreal to Miami

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Monarch Airlines

Title: "lack of legroom between the seats"

Review: My wife and I flew to Majorca on 10/5/17. Everything was fine as far as the flight was concerned, on time, very courteous and professional cabin crew. My main gripe is the lack of legroom between the seats. I am six feet tall and weigh just over 19 stone. I could not fold the food and drinks tray fully down and had to put my coffee on my wife's tray. My knees were pressed up against the back of the seat in front. I didn't see why I should have to pay for extra leg room, I have flown several times with other airlines and have never had problems in that respect. On arrival at Palma there was no Rep to greet us and show which bus to get to our hotel. Eventually we got a Jet2 rep to show us where the Monarch desk was to find out the number of our bus. At no time did any correspondence from Monarch (or indeed Thomas Cook, our original booking agents, who placed us with Monarch) give any instructions about procedure upon arrival at the airport. I feel that this is an area that needs attention, I feel that Thomas Cook took our holiday booking, placed us with Monarch, and then washed their hands of us and took no further part in our holiday, the same applies to Monarch.

Route: Manchester to Palma

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Etihad Airways

Title: "They nickel and dime you"

Review: Abu Dhabi to Riyadh. I reserved a flight and picked aisle seats on Etihad weeks in advance. Sometime thereafter, they changed my seats to a middle seat and did not inform me at all. I only found out when I went to check in online, and when I changed to a different seat, they CHARGED ME AGAIN for the new seat! Another $30 USD for correcting their mistake! I complained on their web site, but only got a canned response of "seat fees are not refundable." Horrible service. They nickel and dime you and don't care about you after you've paid. Will never fly them again.

Route: Abu Dhabi to Riyadh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Ethiopian Airlines

Title: "told to stand at the counter and wait for 15 minutes"

Review: Got a bunch of emails for upgrades, then couldn't finish my online check-in due to system errors. After the personal check-in was told to stand at the counter and wait for 15 minutes only to be asked why I am standing there, I can go and board the plane. And on top heavily damaged a brand new Samsonite luggage bag.

Route: Oslo to Stockholm

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "probably just go back to United"

Review: Normally fly with United Airlines but decide to try SouthWest airlines since Military Fare discount when you call. So far United is better when it comes to boarding for military first. Military boards after A group on Southwest Airlines. I will probably just go back to United Airlines, unless United Airlines doesnt do military fare discount.

Route: Kansas City to Seattle

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Monarch Airlines

Title: "we were allocated different seats"

Review: Information if you are travelling with children we are a family of 7 (5 adults and 2 children). We always prebooked and paid for our seats to ensure we sit together. Our outward flight to Palma was fine we sat in the seats booked, not so lucky on the way home. We were allocated different seats, 3 in the booked seats 3 moved 3 rows back and to our horror one of the children had been seated across the aisle inbetween two strangers. I queried this at the check-in desk and was advised our seats had been changed by Monarch so we could not sit in the seats we had pre-booked and would need to contact them re the change. The most distressing thing about the re seating involved the lack of concern they had for childrens safety as they seated my grandson separate to other members of our family even though there are 5 adults he could have been with. With the cooperation of the other passengers we changed my grandsons seat so he was sat with his brother and a very distressed mother. I emailed them for an explanation as to why our seats were changed and a child separated from the family. Their first reply took 2 week and was a standard business reply with no explanationI then emailed back as I was not happy with the reply and again asked for an explanation. The second reply took 17 days and still they had no explanation as to why the seats were changed as it was not their policy to separate familys. I will never again travel on Monarch with children as I don't consider them a responsible airline.

Route: LBA to PMI

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "delayed for almost 3.5 hrs"

Review: Worst Indian airline you can ever fly with. No time management of flights. The flight which was supposed to depart at 22:55, took off at 2:15 next day. It was delayed for almost 3.5 hrs. The staff was very unprofessional and had no intention to help.

Route: Delhi to Ahmedabad

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Malindo Air

Title: "One of the worst flights"

Review: Delhi to Bali via Kuala Lumpur. One of the worst flights i have ever been to. Upgraded to a business class with an amount of Rs 27,000 for two people. The seats were not reclining, the tv screen was not working. And to top it all no food was served even in business class. We were rather uncomfortable even after upgrading it to business. While coming back from bali to delhi, we took the economy seats only, n to my surprise i found out even the water is chargeable, forget the food. And seats were dirty, one of the two seats which we took, the screen was not working again. The economy class recliner was also not working. Worst experience. Would never recommend anyone to fly from malindo air.

Route: Delhi to Bali via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "changed our flight without notice"

Review: Airline changed our flight without notice, they can't help you in Montevideo to solve the problem because of the system. I bought another ticket from another company to return home.

Route: Atlanta to Montevideo via Panama

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "terrible in terms of consistency"

Review: Kuala Lumpur to Singapore with Jetstar Asia. Absolutely terrible in terms of consistency. Also encountered a one hour delay flying from Singapore to Malaysia. If you value your time, please fly with another airline as two out of two times I encountered a one hour plus delay. They really need to step up their game. Whether your flight is delayed is just a coin flip.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Icelandair

Title: "The staff was wonderful"

Review: The staff was wonderful. My luggage was lost on my return flight but arrived at my home in Pennsylvania. I received a call from Copenhagen. Everyone was so nice. The US staff was terrible in Baltimore when I arrived. Such a disappointment but nothing to do with Icelandair. My only complaint is that there was not enough air on the plane. The sun was on my side of the plane and heat was radiating thru the blind. I could not lay my head against the window because it was so hot. I am Closer to Harrisburg airport but chose to drive over an hour to Baltimore just so I could fly Icelandair! I will do it again!

Route: Baltimore to Copenhagen via Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: TUI Airways

Title: "Captain and crew were very informative"

Review: Overall my flight with TUI was great. Captain and crew were very informative and friendly and had a comfortable flight to Gran Canaria. I sat on seat 17a which I picked and the seat was reasonably comfortable for a 4 hour flight and this flight was meant to be on 737-800 and for a picky person into aviation this was a huge bonus as we were given TVs. Food and drink was offered however I got myself a Burger King prior to the flight however I did get a Diet Coke on the flight - forgot the price. We landed in quite hard and my favourite bit - the airport. Getting through the first part of immigration was fast and easy but when we had to joint the vaccination/covid test line which had 2 desks and 4 flights that was terrible. Then the baggage we had to wait almost 2 hours for due to a mix up made us even more tired and stressed. Anyway the general flight was great and I praise TUI and their crew.

Route: Birmingham to Las Palmas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: ITA Airways

Title: "most appalling customer service"

Review: Appalling from the time we booked are seats. We paid extra for seats with additional leg room and specific seats numbers - we did not get due to a change of aircraft the oldest aircraft I have ever seen. Spoke with customer service before the flight and was told to speak to the person on the check-in desk in regards to a seat change to honour the extra money we had paid. The check-in person was not able to help, but assured us that we would get a refund if we just sent a ITA Airways and email attaching or tickets. We have done this however to date after 30 emails ITA Airways will not honour the refund. The most appalling customer service I have ever received. The plant was very basic and looked like it should be retired. Never will I fly with them again!

Route: Paris to Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Kuwait Airways

Title: "barely have any complaints"

Review: Bangkok to Rome via Kuwait City. First time travelling with Kuwait Airways and barely have any complaints. Luggage drop/check in fast and smooth, normal (not incredibly organized) boarding. When it comes to the flights, much more leg space than what you usually get on other aircraft and everything was new. Big screen , not the widest western movie selection but you may find 4/5 movies that you'd like to watch. Food more than decent (good salmon quiche also), plentiful and fruit and veggie tasted fresh. Kind -and really pretty hostesses,I'm a girl and can add that on top! Only given a blanket, face mask and handcuffs. No problem with the luggages. The airport in Kuwait deserves mention: free wifi and free lounge with the comfiest recliner chairs and snacks for economy travelers. Add on top of this (and actually in the first place) a really competitive fare! Would gladly choose again!

Route: Bangkok to Rome via Kuwait City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Arabia

Title: "positive and very well mannered"

Review: I was on flight G9291 Sharja to Tbilisi flight on 16/4/2023. I found that cabin staff Alexandra was positive and very well mannered. She was managing everything perfectly and it was a great pleasure to watch her go about her work.

Route: Mumbai to Tbilisi via Sharjah

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia X

Title: "Children under 5 in sleeper cabin"

Review: Children under 5 in a sleeper cabin? Fortunately the mother was very attentive to her children's needs however the half dozen times they did get upset and cry was enough to wake us each time rendering the choice of a sleeper cabin redundant and had we been informed of this we would have chosen a hot seat saving 600 each. Also attitude of attendants was the worst we have experienced.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Melbourne

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Malindo Air

Title: "This is the worst airline"

Review: Kuala Lumpur to Lahore. This is the worst airline I have ever encountered. They cancelled my flight without any notice and it's been more than 1 month, they still won't refund my money. Contacting customer care is useless because they never give a reply other than "your issue has been forwarded to the relevant departments" more than MYR 1000 and they have eaten all my money. I have no idea why such a fraudulent airline is still allowed to operate. I searched on Google for a feedback number since they are extremely efficient on email and I found more customers whose flights had been cancelled by Malindo and the airline has not reimbursed them and some flights had been cancelled 3 months ago and efficient* and concerned Malindo won't give the money back.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Lahore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "I strongly recommend Aeroflot"

Review: Paris to Phuket via Moscow, economy class, Dec 4th 2019. Frequent Flyer with Aeroflot for nearly 3 years now, all I can say is that I'm fully satisfied with them. Swift priority check-in and security check in Paris via dedicated lanes for Frequent Flyers. Lounge access. Fly Attendants very welcoming, helpful and genuine. Space + seat (front row) and economy seat with good width (18') and pitch (32') - Aeroflot is one of the very few Airlines to still give 18 inches width (most nowadays give 17" or less). Moscow Airport is quite good, the various lounges for Frequent Flyers / business passengers are really excellent. Arrived on time and relaxed to Phuket. Had only once in 3 years a delayed luggage (was delivered 48 hours latter to my door in Paris, free of charge to me). Overall an excellent Airline and I strongly recommend Aeroflot.

Route: Paris to Phuket via Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia X

Title: "professional and pleasant"

Review: Red eye flight from Kuala Lumpur to Perth on 17 April. The flight leaves at 0005 and arrives into Perth at 0530. Boarding was shambolic as there was one lady in charge up front and she spoke fast and her speech was so unclear that nobody understood her and everyone just got up and boarded anyway. It was storming before takeoff so we waited on the tarmac after boarding in the middle of a thunderstorm. The flat seat was comfortable and they provide a duvet and a large pillow for sleep. You are given a small complimentary bottle of water and a tablet with noise cancelling headphones. The tablet is loaded with a limited number of movies and TV shows and lasts about 4 hours. I don't understand why they serve you food at 0030 (I was not given a choice, just handed a tray of food) after takeoff instead of serving it before landing. The cabin crew were very professional and pleasant but boarding announcements were appalling as the purser was a Japanese man and although no fault of his, his accent could not be understood by virtually anyone on the aircraft. Quizzical looks all around! All in all, they were punctual, efficient and pleasant. One drawback. They turn on the lights about an hour before landing when we easily could have had an extra 30 minutes of sleep. Points to improve: your staff need elocution lessons on clear speech.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Perth

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "a great lower cost option"

Review: Virgin America was a great airline to fly. The crew was helpful, the plane was clean and the seats were pretty comfortable for the 3 or so hour flight to Orlando. I really liked the plane, the interior decor was great and I really like how you can order food from your seat, and drinks are free! Just a great lower cost option to fly!

Route: LAX to MCO

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Asiana Airlines

Title: "a recommendable airline"

Review: Seoul to Shanghai. At the boarding gate airline members carried out an accurate weight and size-inspection of carry on luggage. Seats were comfortable enough for this 2-hour-flight. In flight entertainment selection is mediocre. Flight attendants are very strict with drinks being brought into the cabin. I carried a beverage which I bought in the departure hall, when they caught me sipping at it they requested me to give it up and started making a fuss over it. Meals were served during the short flight, quality was acceptable. Considering the bargain ticket a recommendable airline.

Route: Seoul to Shanghai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "flight attendants just disappeared"

Review: Chicago to Taipei. While EVA deserves its reputation as a top airline, my most recent experience with EVA was not my best. During my 6/2019 flight from ORD to TPE, I had to call for a Flight Attendant 3 times for a beverage before an attendant came over. The flight attendants just disappeared after the first meal, that often happens on USA airlines, but I have never experienced that on EVA before. Another note: the plane was just a bit too warm to sleep well. I have requested to lower the temp on other EVA flights and usually, FAs do lower it a bit, but this time, my fault, I just too dispirited to ask, and I will dress more lightly on the return. My TPE to ORD return trip this week was canceled due to the ongoing EVA flight attendant strike that began 6-20-19. After I received email notification my return flight was canceled, I waited in a queue overnight at TPE airport 10 hours trying to rebook, I was #1131 of 1375. I was grateful EVA kept the ticketing desk open all night for those of us who were waiting, however, the six EVA agents stationed in front of the queue doing nothing productive but chatting with each other could have been better utilized at the ticket desk assisting customers to find alternative flights and lessening the waiting time. After 10 hours of waiting, I was assisted and offered different options for my return flight to the US. The agents were mostly helpful but seemed annoyed when I refused their initial offer of return flights with no seat assignment or were a lesser booking class than my original ticket. In the end, EVA agents were able to rebook/reroute me on a return flight with one stop. I will likely continue to fly EVA routes when there is a choice, however, given my experience with EVA this time, when I next book a flight, I will look at all flights options instead of EVA first.

Route: Chicago to Taipei

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Kuwait Airways

Title: "the worst airline ever"

Review: Kochi to London via Kuwait. Kuwait Airways is the worst airline ever. First flight delayed and missed the connection flight from Kuwait. Our trip got delayed by 24 hours delay. Hundreds of passengers with similar delays simply being dumped into the airport hotel. Extremely rude behaviour from the ground staff. No apologies offered on both the trips. One of the staff even told us "nobody forced you to book Kuwait Airways". Don't know why and how such a terrible airline exist. Literally taking the passengers for a ride. Do not fly Kuwait Airways. Simply avoid.

Route: Kochi to London via Kuwait

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "worst customer service"

Review: The worst customer service I have ever dealt with. They lost my bag but the worst part started after that. No news about where is my bag - 30 days have passed. No one helps. No one read emails. No one picks up the phone. No one responds to the reports filed (3 filed so far).

Route: Chicago to Copenhagen via Helsinki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thomson Airways

Title: "I would recommend it"

Review: Birmingham to Bridgetown with Thomson Airways. Journey out very good. Comfortable seats, we were in the 3rd row. Drinks were offered often, and lunch and tea were fine. Cabin staff were attentive and cheerful. Films etc were fine and flight went smoothly and was on time. Journey back was not the same. The cabin staff were ok but very scruffy uniform appearance. There was spilt water or condensation on galley floor and no staff effort to mop it up. The dinner meal was good but breakfast possibly the worst I have had, with undercooked bacon and sausage. I found the B787 pressurisation makes a difference and the mood lighting is good. The cabin is light, tall, and airy. Overall I would recommend it but some cabin crew need extra customer care training and pride in the job.

Route: BHX to BGI

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Allegiant Air

Title: "I had no issue whatsoever"

Review: Had two great flights and great experience from start to finish. Agent in Asheville on 6/19 was very friendly. No-frills flight was as expected, a no-frills flight from point A to point B. Return trip 6/26 was the same. Apparently, unbeknownst to me, there was a seating issue. Manuel and Jaelynn at Punta Gorda fixed without issue. They were friendly, kind, helpful and very respectful. Not sure why so many negative reviews online. I had no issue whatsoever.

Route: Asheville to Punta Gorda

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Shandong Airlines

Title: "stay away from this company"

Review: Guangzhou to Shanghai. A bad airline at the level of the third world. Flight was delayed without explanation for passengers for more than two and a half hours. No information was given. It was also not known how long the flight would be delayed. We had to make a follow-up flight, because of the lack of information we could not call and announce when it was coming. According to the IATA Regulations, the airline must assist in the event of a delay. The flight itself was in an old-fashioned old-fashioned airplane, broken chairs, uneven, and tattered. A ridiculous meal that even on an internal cabin flight was a better meal. Of course, the company did not apologize to the passengers for the back, did not provide a team to deal with the consequences of the rear, and completely ignored the passengers and the damage caused them. This is the first and last time I fly with them and recommend that everyone stay away from this company.

Route: Guangzhou to Shanghai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Olympic Air

Title: "smiling and courteous cabin crew"

Review: Efficient and polite check-in at Athens Airport, buses used to access aircraft for boarding. Greeted at aircraft door by smiling and courteous cabin crew who tried to keep order when passengers were finding their seats but the problem was that people were not listening to crew instructions and were not maintaining social distance. Many were British tourists I'm sorry to say. Very short flight, just 20 minutes and we landed early. Polite goodbye from crew. Nice flight.

Route: Athens to Mykonos

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Volotea

Title: "Kind and helpful on-board staff"

Review: The flight left on time from Venice and arrived on time. Kind and helpful on-board staff. The return trip was also ok and on time. The aircraft was clean and welcoming. A great trip to a special destination such as Lourdes!

Route: Venice to Lourdes

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "they never answer"

Review: Guadalajara to Las Vegas. 27th March 2020 I booked a trip to Guadalajara from Las Vegas on March 1st, 2020. Leaving Las Vegas on March 28th 2020. And due to availability, I had to book with Interjet for my way back home. I had booked a flight from Guadalajara to Las Vegas to fly out on the 2nd of April of 2020. I have been trying to reach Interjet, and they never answer their phone. Due to the Corona Virus, I was advised by my primary physician not to travel outside of the US, I been calling Interjet to change it and they never answer. I went online to change my flight to another date and they referred me to customer service to change it. Interjet will not let us change our date or cancel our flight. I have been calling several times and they never answer. The call gets disconnected within a few seconds. This is frustrating.

Route: Guadalajara to Las Vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "horrible customer service"

Review: Montreal to Cancun. It was my first time booking with this airline. The plane was nice and the service on board was ok. During my trip, I got a notification they had canceled my return flight so I, therefore, began to call them to book a new return flight. I spent hours on hold and wasn't able to reach anyone. We finally paid and booked a return flight with another company. Once I returned home I called them everyday and spent hours on hold. When I finally reach someone they kept transferring me back and forth to different employees. None who could help me since they never transferred me to the right department. I will never book with them again and please take my advice its not worth it. They have horrible customer service!

Route: Montreal to Cancun

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sky Express Airlines

Title: "hopeless checkin process"

Review: Athens to Naxos. Absolutely hopeless checkin process. It is out sourced to 3rd party who do 10+ other airlines. Result is hundreds of passengers trying to get thru 4 desks. If you are Greek & shout & push your way to the front you catch your flight maybe. Everyone else is left in the queue. Miss your flight, go buy another ticket for the next flight! Avoid this scam!

Route: Athens to Naxos

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: PLAY

Title: "This airline is a nightmare"

Review: This airline is a nightmare. My brother booked a flight, paid for it, got an email the morning of to check in and then got to the airport and there was no flight and no one to help him. We were unable to do anything other than Whatsapp the airline help desk (no phone number no email) which was a bot. Never using play again. I recommend staying far far away from them.

Route: Baltimore to London via Keflavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "we still have no luggage"

Review: Worst experience Ive ever had flying. Lost bags on the flight from Athens to Rome. Its been about a week now and we still have no luggage. Its cost us money, time and stress and Aegean dont reply to emails or answer phones to update us.

Route: Mykonos to Rome via Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thomson Airways

Title: "We were very pleasantly surprised"

Review: We were very pleasantly surprised with our experience in Premium. We normally fly Premium Economy on British Airways and this was a far better experience the plane was lovely and new and the crew were much friendlier.

The premium experience on board is good, nice to have additional space and a private section of the cabin and the crew were generous with drinks. The food was fine and we were pleased to be served two hot meals on the way out. Our checked bags came off very promptly at both ends the Premium labels did seem to make a difference. The only slight negative was that our flight left Gatwick late afternoon and the Premium check in line took longer than the normal one as they seemed to give priority to those checking in for next mornings flights. Strange, but didnt spoil the overall experience.

Route: London Gatwick to Goa

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Pacific

Title: "staff were friendly"

Review: Flew Jetstar Pacific from Hanoi to Ho Chi Minh. Got an email a week prior to flight saying that it had been rescheduled to half an hour earlier than the original time. Check in was easy, plane took off a little late (pretty much the original booked time) and the staff were friendly. Reminded me of easyJet in the UK, no problems and cheap. Also got assigned the extra leg room seats - probably because all 4 of us were tall - and we didn't even have to ask.

Route: HAN to SGN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Buta Airways

Title: "Everything went smoothly here"

Review: Tbilisi to Baku. Everything went smoothly here. Boarding was quick and on time. We were pushed back on time, which also meant the flight left on time. It was only a short hop of 55mins. I will see how they are again when I fly 3 hours plus on my next flight. Overall No issues. Airline very smooth and would recommend.

Route: Tbilisi to Baku

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Norwegian

Title: "matter related to Coronavirus"

Review: No meaningful customer service, no reasonable accommodations for matter related to Coronavirus. Took hours to get anyone on phone (hung up on rather than connected 4 times), agent knew nothing, website unclear This is a discount operation in every meaningful way related to interfacing with the airline.

Route: Boston to Barcelona via London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Astana

Title: "never come back with blanket"

Review: My flight from Tbilisi to Bangkok via Almaty on 15-16APR. I wasn't sure what's wrong with inflight service for sector ALA to BKK. My friend and I have asked crew for blanket as it's very cool and we were unable to adjust the temperature due to the type of the aircraft which didn't have the option on the compartment. She was providing blanket to passengers and when she reached my row/seat, she said that Women/Children first. Her tone/sound eye contact was very rude. Is this policy to provide blanket to women and children first? I don't mind if I get after, but I didn't get it. I doubt that Women/children paid more expensive ticket? However, I also paid for the ticket. I was taking free flight. We were waiting until she provided blanket to all women and children. However, she has never come back with blanket to us. My woman friend sitting behind has offered her blanket to me as I was so cool and freezing. Have sent this comment to the airline and they apologized but not response or clarify from what I doubt/questions. In addition, drink hasn't served even water in the morning before landing at Bangkok. I asked for water, but the crew said I am busy with collecting blanket and never come back to us.

Route: Tbilisi to Bangkok via Almaty

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: American Eagle

Title: "Very great experience"

Review: Very great experience. Will 100% fly again. Comfort was great, loved the free food and snacks. Also crew was very nice and always tried to help me whenever I needed help.

Route: Chicago to Atlanta

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: US Airways

Title: US Airways customer review

Review: This was the most horrible experience. We were trying to leave BWI, when we got a phone call saying we were an hour delayed. Okay, it happens. Someone from the airline was checking the people with connecting flights to make sure they could still make it, he said we "should" make it. Well, we had a gut feeling "should" wasn't enough so we went to another counter. They said we would have to change our flight because we would only have 4 minutes to make it to a gate on the other side of the airport before the flight departed. We wouldn't have eaten calmly and taken our time to do things if we were told that to begin with! So they tell me we will have to stay an extra 5 hours sitting at the airport to our connecting flight or that we would have to pay for a hotel and stay the night in Charlotte, they wouldn't pay, but regardless I had to be in Charleston that night. So I asked to be refunded because it was not sounding like great options. There was a sweet lady that helped us and told us to let the flight attendant know we had to make our earlier flight as soon as we landed. However when we got onto the plane about 2 hours later, they delayed us another 30 minutes because of traffic. We wanted to leave, I would make it driving down south faster than flying (and a lot cheaper), but a nice lady on the plane saw how upset we were and helped calm us down. She then explained that we wouldn't be able to make it to our earlier flight, but that we could ask the help desk to get us seats on the 10:30 flight, or have the airline pay for our hotel to leave the next morning because the delay was due to "maintenance" issues. We had no choice so she met us as we landed and tried to help us find an airport nearby our original location for a friend to pick us up at. Her shift was over and was beyond sweet for helping us for so long. She actually found us a flight leaving 15 minutes after we landed but they wouldn't have been able to deliver our luggage. So we took the seats on the 10:30 flight and of course without sitting together (I get anxious so I always need someone, so my fiancé and I were upset). We sat there and of course, they say they have to change a tire that would take a bother 30 minutes. That whole trip ended up totaling 11 hours after delays, maintenance, and layover. The worst $700 spent for a mediocre travel that could have been avoided if they had their act together.

Route: Baltimore to Charleston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "website is not clear"

Review: Port Elizabeth to Johannesburg. There are hidden cost when you fly with FlySafair. The website is not clear about additional costs such as luggage, what is included, or what is excluded.

Route: Port Elizabeth to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Virgin Australia

Title: "ignores the facts when they are wrong"

Review: Virgin Australia seems to be a company based on greed. A company that ignores the facts when they are wrong, treat loyal customers of many years terribly, that simply seem unequipped to handle their mistakes, is a company that both unethical and greedy. On this flight I was in the lounge, as is usual, the flight was delayed by 40 minutes. When they called for boarding the delayed flight I went to the gate to be told it was closed. When it was called we used the toilet then went straight to the gate. Put simply the time that the flight was called with the time it took to walk to gate was not enough. Returning the lounge I was told, in the most awful manner, I had to leave and re enter (rudel) and then charged $300 for the next flight for myself and my employee. I followed up with customer service. They sent an email that completely ignored the situation and told me that you should get the flight 30 min before departure. What is the point of the lounge calling the flight if it isn't correct. Beyond that the customer service completely ignored the actual situation and just told me rules that didnt apply to the situation. I am transitioning over to another airline now but be warned. On the surface they seems very approachable but in reality they are crooked, greedy and backward in their approach to the customers. Cursing feels more suited to the situation but this review will have to do.

Route: Sydney to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Cathay Dragon

Title: "polite, cheerful cabin crews"

Review: Hong Kong to Kuala Lumpur. My first time boarding this airline. Very friendly, polite, cheerful cabin crews and excellent service. Food and beverages is very good and actually better than their sister airline Cathay Pacific. Will definitely recommend them to other travellers. Will fly them again in future.

Route: Hong Kong to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Flair Airlines

Title: "I'll never use Flair in future"

Review: I was shopping for flight from Toronto to Calgary, Flair came up with a price that's $40 cheaper than air Canada. Then the ripoff started on every step: * They charged $62 to check in my carry on, which is free with Air Canada. Then they charged another $62 for the same carry on for my return trip, that's a total of $124 for a small carry on bag. Then at the on line boarding, they charged another $16 to select the standard seat (just the standard one, the front seat is $50), and I ended up paying $120 more, and that was $80 more expensive than Air Canada. If I know about these additional rip offs with Flair upfront, I would never have chosen it. I'll never use Flair in future.

Route: Toronto to Calgary

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Volotea

Title: "check-in to cost an extra 30 per person"

Review: They will rip you off left and right for nothing! No way is it acceptable for check-in to cost an extra 30 per person! Unbelievable, basically paid for air.

Route: Mykonos to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Azerbaijan Airlines

Title: "airline is one of the worst"

Review: Baku to Dubai. This airline is one of the worst in the world. They ruined the New Year holiday for our family. Our daughter was supposed to fly as an unaccompanied minor, she flew like this in August, so we knew the procedure. In August we arranged everything through our travel agent. This time they changed their rules, and didn't allow our agent to do everything, saying that her parents needed to be in Baku in person. A question, if her parents are in Baku in person why would we want to arrange the unaccompanied minor service? A very incompetent staff, I was on the phone with them since 10 o'clock in the morning until 5 in the afternoon, and not one could list me all the documents required. I've spoken to 6 different representatives and all 6 gave me different information. At the end of the day, we had to cancel her trip, because it seems impossible to obtain whatsoever information from the staff. Very rude, incompetent, not caring staff. Absolutely useless, only thinking about the company, and not caring about their clients at all. Before we also had very bad service from the air stewards, but this time they outperformed themselves. No rules, no clear procedures, nothing. Be careful, and do not fly with them! Also be careful when you do the online booking, or book the premium seats, because you will not have those, and there will not even be a booking of those! You will never be able to prove anything to them, they do not care about anything.

Route: Baku to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Lion Air

Title: "experience was not pleasant"

Review: Denpasar to Jakarta. I picked Lion Air because it was the cheapest of all budget airlines (compared to Air Asia, Citilink, etc). The flight was delayed by 1.5 hour and another 30 minutes delay on flight. Apparently this is a regular thing to happen according to my other flight. The onboard experience was not pleasant. The seatbelt that I have was broken so it couldnt lock, which is very dangerous. The washroom is not well taken care of. The toilet seat was broken and the soap container was extremely dirty. The flight attendant are ok. The seats are ok. There werent any in flight entertainment, only the security procedure pamphlet (if you can find it entertaining, thats good) For the price difference of 20 dollar, it was not worth the flight. So I would rather choose other better budget airlines.

Route: Denpasar to Jakarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Virgin America

Title: " my first and last experience"

Review: I scheduled a Virgin America flight from San Diego to San Francisco the day before it was supposed to take off. The next day, 2.5 hours before my flight I got an email that said the entire flight was cancelled. I made the reservation only the night before - how could the entire flight be cancelled?! It was my first experience with Virgin American and also my last.

Route: SAN to SFO

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Italy

Title: "online check in didnt work"

Review: Milan to Moscow. Worst services ever. Their online check in didnt work for me. Tried to pay online for the bag couldnt do it as well. At the airport paid 50 Euros, instead of 25 online. Said that if I wont pay I wont fly.

Route: Milan to Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "worst experience ever"

Review: Cairo to Barcelona. Worst airline - after waiting for 3 hours was told that our flights was cancelled due to technical reasons. Which I understand, however staff are not helpful at all. We need to keep on asking about whats gonna happen. We waited For nearly 4 hours before they make a plan. No communication between staff. Some staff rude and unapproachable. Really a bad experience. We booked for Turkish airlines but because of code sharing we end up with Egyptair and worst experience ever. We ended losing 1 day in Barcelona and our accommodation. Also they have inflight entertainment but you cannot use it as they don't provide headsets.

Route: Cairo to Barcelona

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "really a bad experience"

Review: I will not recommend this airline to anyone. It seems no one wants to take accountability for anything. The ground staff was good but they input the TSA PRE CHECK was put in wrong so even though it said TSA precheck on my boarding pass but they did not allow me. Since the Airline was a partner of United we purchased our tickets with United Card so at least 1 bag can be checked in for free but no that does not work I had to pay $35 for the checked bag. When I returned to Orlando the bags took more than 1 hour to be on the belt so all the passengers were waiting for their bags. This was really a bad experience.

Route: Orlando to Huntsville

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Sun Country Airlines

Title: "Will not recommend to anyone"

Review: They delayed our flight 5 times. Then they decided to just straight up cancel the whole flight and reschedule it for the next day. It would be understandable if the weather did not permit a safe flight. But the weather was amazing...clear skies...low wind...it was a beautiful sunny day. We attempted to get a refund for our all inclusive hotel that was already paid for because the deadline to cancel for a refund had already passed. We submitted pictures of our expenses via email and explained that the cancellation on their part was not weather related. Their response.....our policy states that we do not reimburse for the loss a hotel room due to a cancelled flight. The flight attendant on flight 558 was absolutely horrible!!! Yelling at women and children trying to use the bathroom before the flight was scheduled to depart. Arguing with senior citizens and just yelling.....do not argue with me! Horrible first experience on this flight. Will not recommend to anyone.

Route: Cancun to Harlingen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Delta Air Lines

Title: "Just sloppy all around"

Review: Employees were nice but this flight was a nightmare. 3 hours stuck on tarmac in Birmingham 2 of them waiting for fuel. Layover in Atlanta was worse. Unprofessional 100% didn't have water or food . Don't think I'll fly Delta again. Just sloppy all around.

Route: San Jose to Tampa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "staff tired, stern, no smiles"

Review: Vienna to Belgrade. Never fly with Air Serbia, even if they give you free ticket. We flew to Belgrade on Air Serbia flight JU601 on Sep 11. Flight attendants looked as if they had number of sleepless nights prior to this flight. Tired, stern, no smiles. Extremely cold air blew onto us. There was no way for us to adjust the flow. when I asked if something can be done, I just got unpleasant stare, and not a single word. Still have pain in my ear after two days. Upon arrival, we realized that our bags were missing. Filed a claim immediately. Staff at the Baggage claim were unprofessional and disorganized. The following was the answer to my question about contacting someone at the call center number provided on the claim form : You can try, but nobody has answered on that line in the last several months. How is this possible? Yes, it is. After two days of trying, we are still to hear someone answer. We sent many emails as well, no replies, no acknowledgment. Went back to the airport morning of Sep 13, were informed that one of our bags will arrive on the evening flight from Vienna, JU605. Went to the airport again in the evening. We were told that our bag was probably not loaded onto flight. Probably? What does that mean? The baggage hall was full of delayed bags It looked very chaotic. We are losing hope that our bags will ever be found. In the chaos that is Belgrade airport is, anyones bag can easily be stolen. If you have any respect for yourself, for your time and money, do not fly on Air Serbia!

Route: Vienna to Belgrade

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Sriwijaya Air

Title: "totally useless"

Review: Jakarta to Denpasar. Late due incoming. Being in the industry this is an excuse for every flight of the day running late and progressively getting later. It is the hallmark of an airline that is typical of the bottom feeder that is Sriwijaya; totally inadequate to operate. CGK - DPS, 3 hour delay incoming. DPS - CGK 2.5 hour delay incoming. Would not fly this airline, and I use the term loosely, ever again. Rumours of their impending bankruptcy is now generally accepted as only a matter of time and now can confirm why. Totally useless!

Route: Jakarta to Denpasar

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: TAP Portugal

Title: "it is looking more and more like a low cost company"

Review: Poor boarding planning. Most passengers were allowed to board carry on luggage, only the last passengers that had reserved seats at the front of the plane and were last to board were asked to leave luggage behind. Passengers were unhappy and when entering the plane we could verify that there were plenty of room available at the overhead compartments. Safety on board was not properly verified. There was one passenger traveling with a big package (painting?) in front of her legs (photo attached). The strict control of the 12 kgs per passenger is absurd and not in line with competition. It is also not enforced in an equal manner, not everyone is forced to pay excess luggage. When possible will avoid flying TAP in the future. Unpredictable application of rules would be the main reason. We never know what will happen. I travel for work and would like some more predictability. I say that with some pain because it is my flag company. Unfortunately it is looking more and more like a low cost company.

Route: Brussels to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Spirit Airlines

Title: "never fly this airline again"

Review: I will never fly this airline again. I had a death in the family and I called customer service in order to credit my ticket to a future flight. I called first to move my flight and was told that they could not move the flight to the date to a future date and they did not fly to the destination where the Funeral was. They never issued a credit but was told they was a possibility to help because of the death of a family member and I could forgo the chat feature in the App. Yes, I was speaking with someone that told me to text someone else through the app. Thats what I call great customer service. So, I did. During the text chat I explained the death of my family member and they gave their condolences and ask me to send over either a link to the Obituary, the actual Obituary, a death certificate or a doctors note. The one I sent was the link to the obituary since the others would take time. It took all of 30 seconds to tell me that I did not meet the policy. I didnt understand and I asked what did the mean? They said that I bought the ticket after he had died and I explained that I had not yet received word that my family member had died and I was out of the country when I made the reservation and got the word the following morning. Needless to say I didnt have the patience to text back and forth and explain myself and I asked again can I just receive a credit, im not trying to get away with anything, I just want to go to a funeral. So, instead of wasting the dollars that I had spent to go to waste. I decided to fly through MCO and fly to my final destination, where the funeral was. I confirmed my flight and checked in and headed to the airport while reading what I can take onboard with me as a personal item. I have a over night carry on briefcase. On the website it strictly dictates backpack, briefcase, purses, etc; as I walk into the area at the FLL security checkpoint. I am stopped and asked to fit my bag in a make shift square which fit but the wheels prevented the bag going clean through meanwhile there were backpacks people were carrying twice the size of my briefcase. I really dont get this policy if you cannot enforce all sizes of back fitting in that same square. I paid the $89 bag fee to fly onto my next connecting flight to my final destination to make it to the funeral which really is tomorrow but again because Spirit Airlines has no soul and a terrible policy in the event of a family members death.

Route: Ft Lauderdale to Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "horrible service, horrible system"

Review: The absolute worst airline I have ever dealt with. First my flight gets delayed an hour. No big deal, then another hour, then another. Then it gets cancelled. I never got an email saying it was cancelled, they just verbally told us. I also never saw my flight on the departure board in the airport. I along with the rest of the flight stand in a like for approximately 2 hours. They did provide hotel and transportation if needed. I get an email saying my flight was rebooked to 8pm the next night, although there was a flight at 7am the next morning. I get it switched to the 7am flight. I get a taxi service provided by Lynx, it has my flight written on it so the driver had proof I can use the ticket. I go to my place, sleep for 2 hours, then come back for 5am (2 hours before my flight for domestic) I get in the line for the Lynx desk so I can pay for a tag for my carry on (83$). I tried to do it online but it would not let me so I was hoping they would charge me the online rate but they did not. They charged me before my boarding pass was printed so I lost 83$! My boarding pass would not print and the agent didnt understand why. She looks at my boarding pass and I am on the flight for 8pm! After

I stood in line and got my flight changed to 7am! They said I had to call Lynx at 7am. Thankfully the flight was already delayed 2 hours so I would have time to call them and switch it. I called right at 7am and the line was busy, I called a total of 25 times and the line was constantly busy. It tells you to stay on the line to talk to an agent and right after that message, it hangs up on you. I went up to the desk and asked if they are able to help call and give me assistance as I didnt want to keep being hung up on and the flight was leaving in an hour and a half! I was never able to get through to someone on the phone, had to end up booking a new flight with Air Canada as I couldnt sit in the airport for another 12 hours with no food and sleep. I would give Lynx a 1/10 as they provided hotel and transportation if needed. Other than that, horrible service, horrible system, rude agents, not organized at all. Never again will I be spending my money toward this airline!

Route: Calgary to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Arabia

Title: "the service was very good"

Review: Flew Air Arabia from Sharjah to Muscat (and back to Sharjah) as part of a visa run (UAE visa change). Really liked the cabin crew and on-board experience. Cabin crew were very well presented. A lot of the passengers were non-English speakers and I noticed the cabin crew were very polite and treated all of them with dignity and respect to help show them to their seats and put away their cabin bags. Plane was new, seats were clean and plane had a free-Wifi network streaming movie/TV programme (they called it SkyTime) which I used via my smartphone - it was fast. Bought snacks and coffee on board - nothing special but the service was very good. I am an experienced traveller and I really liked this airline and their onboard experience. I would fly with them again.

Route: Sharjah to Muscat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Berlin

Title: "won't recommend to anyone"

Review: Flight from Berlin to Paris was delayed 1.30 hour. I only received a bottle of water and 2 cheap biscuits as compensation although I missed my last train and therefore had to pay 50 for a cab. First time I booked Air Berlin but won't recommend to anyone.

Route: Berlin to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Arik Air

Title: "sat there for another 4 hrs"

Review: By far one of the worst experiences I have had flying out of the country. They were supposed to take me from JFK to Lagos and then to Liberia, it almost seems impossible for them. After a 12 hours layover in New York, when it came time to board, they were late checking their passengers in and then when we got to gate we sat there for another 4 hrs before they told us to line up for boarding. We waited another hour and they proceed to tell us that the flight was going to be delayed for an hour, 45 mins later we were told they were having technical issues that could last for hours. If you ever going to west Africa, Arik Air is not the airline.

Route: JFK to ROB

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: "Both of my bags are sitting in Vienna"

Review: The airline did not transfer my bags from the Vienna leg of my trip. When I arrived at LAX my bag was not on the plane. There were at least 20-30 other people on my flight that did not receive their bags. I was unable to obtain my bag to recheck it onto my domestic flight for the final leg with United Airlines. Since my final leg was with United I could not file a claim with Austrian Airlines. Both of my bags are sitting in Vienna. I am on day six with no bags and no word, despite completing the required claims forms. This is ridiculous. I was in Europe for six weeks and nearly all my clothes are in those bags. The airline is simply not doing what it should be doing to ensure passenger bags are delivered. They are either over-committed on their flights or severely understaffed, either way, the airline obviously does not care about getting bags delivered on time when people depend on them. I would recommend NOT using Austrian Airlines or their affiliate Lufthansa if you want your bags to accompany you on your trip. On a side note, my bags were delayed 8 days on my outbound trip. As an additional comment, the service on the plane was also substandard. The flight attendants were not friendly, appeared annoyed by their responsibilities, and the restrooms were filthy by mid-flight. I saw a flight attendant look inside one of the bathrooms curiously and with visible disgust, but no one ever cleaned it. The main meal was not bad but subsequent snacks and small meals were nothing more than a slice of meat and a slice of cheese on doughy bread.

Route: Krakow to Los Angeles via Vienna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thomas Cook Airlines

Title: "Overall not a pleasant flight"

Review: Manchester to Varadero, Cuba. Never used this airline before, but had no reason to think it would be any different to the many long haul flights we have taken over the years. Wrong! We had no idea we were flying with a long haul version of Ryanair. Nice clean plane, decent amount of leg room with rather uncomfortable seats. We had had to pay £25 each way to choose our seats or risk the real possibility of having to sit separately on a 10 hour flight, which had already added £100 to the cost of holiday. The overhead lockers are quite small, and the baggage allowance is a measly 20kg hold and 6kg hand luggage which is strictly adhered to. On the return journey we were 1.2kg overweight, and were charged £20 by the completely inflexible ground staff - no receipt given, and cash only payment. Have been overweight by this trivial amount several times on other airlines, but have never ever been charged! Disgusting daylight robbery. On board we got settled in and once in the air the drinks trolley came. We were charged £2.80 for a cup of tea! I thought it was a joke , but everything was to pay for, at 10 times the cost of the supermarket (1.30 for a kit kat!) The only free drinks were a bottle of water on the outbound flight (none on the return) and the tea with the two meals, which was half the size of the one you had to buy. We also got a complimentary cornetto on the outbound flight, which was so small it was gone in two bites. The out meals were quite nice, coming back the breakfast consisted of a yoghurt and a cake, Who eats cake for breakfast? Turns out we do, because we are starving ! The headsets were free but poor quality, the entertainment was rubbish, unless you wanted to pay an extra £5 for a better choice of films etc. The cabin crew were pleasant enough if a little disinterested. Overall not a pleasant flight, and not only will we never use this airline again, we would not recommend it either.

Route: Manchester to Varadero

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Laudamotion

Title: "Had a bad experience"

Review: Bucharest to Vienna. Had a bad experience flying with this airline a month or two ago, but gave LM another chance. The dirt cheap tickets were a factor. Flight started boarding 45mins late, now stuck on the tarmac for 50 mins. On the flight to Bucharest the electronic booking system shut down. They had to check in everybody manually, which took ages. This airline is a joke.

Route: Bucharest to Vienna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "the overall experience was very poor"

Review: Apart from a very kind, helpful and polite cabin crew, the overall experience was very poor. The seats were very uncomfortable and rows too tight. The food was about the worse I have ever had on a long flight. No night set, no basic hygiene kit. A lot to improve compare to the top notch companies like Qatar Airways, Emirates, Etihad, Singapore Airlines, ANA, etc. Although the entertainment offer was satisfying, the screen was really slow.

Route: Zurich to Manila via Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Etihad Airways

Title: "staff did absolute minimum only"

Review: Masks still have to be worn on board, that it getting a bit old. Felt that staff did absolute minimum only, much much interaction with guests. Needed assistance with luggage when boarding (accident), a flight attendant assisted, but I was on my own after landing, nobody cared. No free WiFi in business class Food was fine, good wheelchair service after landing in Abu Dhabi.

Route: Zurich to Abu Dhabi

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "super-narrow seats"

Review: Rome to New York. No legroom, super-narrow seats, truly awful food and indifferent flight attendants. Although, The contrast with our flight from JFK to PDX on Delta (also economy) was practically decadent in comparison.

Route: Rome to New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Oman Air

Title: "never met with such bad customer service"

Review: My family was supposed to fly in April 2020 to Muscat from Amman, Jordan on a short holiday trip. Covid struck, airports closed and I spend emailing back and forth with Oman Air for a good year requesting a refund. Their replies would come sometimes a month after I would write them and when it seemed I might just get refunded, I had ridiculous requests like submitting a photo of my expired bank card that I used to purchase the tickets and the like. Needless to say, I was never refunded, silence from Oman Air side for more than 4-5 months. I've never met with such bad customer service as Oman Air. I might still travel to Oman, but for sure I will never book Oman Air again.

Route: Amman to Muscat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Transavia

Title: "Worst customer service"

Review: Worst customer service. I requested a refund for canceled tickets and i told them that the original account is closed. They said get us a paper that its closed so we can transfer to a new one, i did and then they transfered to the closed account anyways. They then asked for another paper and when i got it, they said we cant help we already transfered the money. First of all, no money has reached the closed account and now they want to do the same thing to me with another canceled flight. They have literally been the worst customer service i ever dealt with. I recommend everyone stay away from Transavia because they don't care about your money, they will rob you and then reply to your emails by ignoring you and ignoring everything you were talking about.

Route: Beirut to Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aircalin

Title: "never fly again with this airline"

Review: Noumea to Fiji. We arrived at Noumea airport at 10 am to be told that our 1pm flight was cancelled due to ash cloud from Port Villa over Fiji. Other planes resumed flying at 10.20am. Aircalin had already cancelled our flight and had no re-scheduled flight? How can you cancel a flight before the scheduled time? We had to return the next day at our cost to be redirected to Brisbane and then to Fiji with a 9 hour wait in Brisbane. There were only 10 passengers on the original flight that was cancelled and not re-scheduled. Will never fly again with this airline.

Route: Noumea to Fiji

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Astana

Title: "weren't able to give me an answer"

Review: I'm replying back on Air Astana's response which been posted on 18th September 2018 : Air Astana's response: Let us highlight that the transfer counter in Beijing is not just an Air Astana or Cathay Dragon transfer counter. It is a general airport transfer counter for all airlines, and all transfer passengers wait there for the counter to be opened at 6am. Based on the report from our colleagues in Beijing, on arrival you were met by our staff, who checked your baggage tag and passport. After the transfer counter opened, you were provided with boarding pass on time and continued with your flight to Hong Kong. I asked so many times Air Astana representatives to recheck exactly this details about operation hours of transit counter in Beijing, they weren't able to give me an answer. Based on the report - "your colleague in Beijing met me and provided the boarding pass"?! Nobody met me at the transfer zone, the lady from the immigration desk saw i was crying and offered me the help, she wrote on a piece of paper details of my flight based on my ticket on my phone, the boarding pass i got only at the gate, couple minutes before it closed! My baggage was founded by Cathay Dragon - yes, but when at the same day i called Air Astana representatives before my baggage been found and asked to check regarding my missing baggage, i got an answer over email only after 1 week. I have been a loyal customer of Air Astana over 11 years and instead of apologies, Air Astana representative try to look this case that it's my fault - its fault of Air Astana representatives. You cannot sell on your official website the tickets which have only 1H transit time, i believe you should recheck transit desks operating hours before you sell those connection flight or at least notify your clients about potential risk of missing the connecting flight, as flight arrive at 5AM transit desk open at 6AM next flight at 7AM. 2. I believe Air Astana representatives should have better knowledge about those details and when clients ask about transfer activities in the airport where will be connection flight, your rep. should be able to provide this info. I will not even bother to write all this post but its very affair that after 11 years using your airline I have been treated like this!

Route: Almaty to Hong Kong via Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: "could not stand it any longer"

Review: My family and friends (6 persons) bought on 13/4/2022 tickets to Vienna for Christmas 2022. We received confirmation from Austrian Airlines for Flight Athens - Vienna on 25/12/2022 at 14:55 Flight Vienna - Athens on 31/12/2022 at 22:05 On 23/12/2022 I tried to check-in online for the first flight but I received a reply from the system mentioning that it was not possible to complete the check-in and that I should make it at the airport when I will arrive to board to the flight. I called the Customer Service to understand if there is something wrong with the system and I discovered that Austrian Airlines cancelled both our flights without notice to us. I asked for a solution for the situation caused by Austrian Airlines and they informed me that they could: Book seats in an earlier flight (25/12 at 13:25 instead of 14:55) Book seats in another return flight on 01/01/2023 at 18:25 (instead of 31/12 at 22:05) I accepted and booked these tickets upon receiving an assurance from the Customer Service that they will pay for the additional cost that will arise, due to the change of our departure date. I asked if there is any restriction / prerequisite for the expenses and they replied that they do not have any restriction as long as we do not book a five star Hotel. After our trip, we sent the invoices of the expenses to Austrian Airlines and after a two months dialogue they denied to pay our expenses and furthermore they denied to pay compensation. Fortunately, we discovered APF (Agency for Passenger Rights) and with their efforts, Austrian Airlines was convinced for their mistakes and payed full compensation according to the EU directive but about 65% of our expenses because, as they claim, they have restrictions. At the end we accepted the 65% because after five months of continuous efforts with the airline we could not stand it any longer.

Route: Athens to Vienna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Buddha Air

Title: "Worst service and worst passenger handling"

Review: Such a shameless worst service I have ever taken. I have chosen Buddha Air 3 times up to now and Buddha Air is always delayed. 1.5 hrs delayed and they kept us inside the bus for the whole 1.5 hrs in this heat. They said they were maintaining the tire first and they said their airplanes door needed maintenance again. February 2, 2023 is going to be my last flight with Buddha Air. Worst service and worst passenger handling. The crew members dont even know how to handle the crowd. Buddha Air - never again.

Route: Kathmandu to Bharatpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sichuan Airlines

Title: "impressed by the quality of service"

Review: I've been on many flights and I must say that I've been very impressed by the quality of service displayed by Sichuan Airlines. Cabin crew were very kind, and made me feel at home. Pilot flying skills were pretty good, I must say this was actually one of the most stable flights I've been on, with limited turbulence and I felt very safe.

Route: Sydney to Lhasa via Chongqing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: AirAsia X

Title: "did not get what I paid for"

Review: Melbourne to Kuala Lumpur. The plane was delayed by 20 minutes because they were waiting for a passenger. I have never heard of this happening before. On the way back to Melbourne I was sitting in the hot seat which is positioned just at the back of premium class. The hot seat is in the quiet zone where there are supposed to be no babies, however there was a baby in premium class who was crying much of the time. I paid extra to sit in this area and did not get what I paid for.

Route: Melbourne to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Malaysia Airlines

Title: "disappointing and poor service"

Review: I have not been able to travel to Japan to go Snowboarding for the past 3years so you can imagine my excitement to get back there finally again. I had packed all my gear into my snowboard bag Snowboard, Boots, Bindings, Jacket, Pants, clothes and other gear. When I arrive in Osaka to where I was to collect my bag for a transfer flight my bag did not turn up. I enquired there with JAL as to the where and they said it had not arrived and filled out a report. Very disappointing to finally arrive for a week of Snowboarding without any of your own gear. Eventually the bag was found left In Kuala Lumpur and was sent to me 5 days later after it was lost. When I finally received the bag I noticed various damages to the bag. Japan Airlines were helpful in communicating with me however I am still yet to have any communication, Apologies or compensation from Malaysia Airlines. Very disappointing and poor service.

Route: Brisbane to Sapporo via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Boutique Air

Title: "worst airline I have ever flown"

Review: This is the worst airline I have ever flown with. The customer service lady was asleep and the baggage handler) was rude to my daughter and other customers. He even made a point to loud talk a lady in a wheelchair because she didnt get his calls. Flight delayed for 8 hours and even the chat people are rude. Save your money and time!

Route: Atlanta to Muscle Shoals

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sunwing Airlines

Title: "humane and generous service"

Review: Cancun to Kelowna. I cant express my gratitude enough to Sunwing for their humane and generous service during the Corana Virus situation. While everyone we meet where left stranded by their airline Sunwing treated their customers with the outmost care. All services were provided as usual, the staff was conscientious and calm. We boarded our plane without delays and arrived at our hometown airport without a glitch. It will be with Sunwing that I will travel in the future. From the bottom of my heart I thank you.

Route: Cancun to Kelowna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Flair Airlines

Title: "behavior was so abrasive, rude and abusive"

Review: After being told that our 2 bags of chips and cashews would be fine to take on the plane by the first check in attendant, while trying to go through the last check in at the terminal, we were told that we would have to pay the carry on fee. My husband then proceeded to pack the snack items in his personal item and was yelled at and harassed in front of the remaining passengers telling him that was not acceptable to put the items in his personal bag when there was plenty of space for them. We left the snacks behind and made our way down the ramp when she then followed my husband yelling forcing him to apologize for his behavior in order for us to board. Her behavior was so abrasive, rude and abusive, I have never experienced that before in all my years of flying. She was so focused on our snacks, that she didn't check my husband's boarding pass and passport delaying take-off as they had to ensure he was on the plane.

Great start to the morning!

Route: Edmonton to Kelowna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Panama

Title: "Worst airline ever!"

Review:

Bocas del Toro to Panama City. Our Air Panama flight just got canceled, because they could combine two flights in one. No heads up in advance, just the message when we arrived at the checkin desk. We had to wait for 3 ours so they can get a higher profit, no compensation what so ever, not even a drink. Worst airline ever! I have to give a rating of one because a zero wasnt allowed

Route: Bocas del Toro to Panama City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Berlin

Title: "cabin crew was unfriendly"

Review: Abu Dhabi to Berlin. The cabin crew in our section was unfriendly. When asked for milk for my coffee she just waved it, never said a word, no smiles, no response in English. I had the person next to me translate. Nobody looked at passengers when we entered the plane, the crew talked to each other and we were just not greeted with a smile like all other companies I have flown with. I had to make this review, as it was not a good atmosphere, I felt really uncomfortable and it was quite a long flight.

Route: Abu Dhabi to Berlin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Asiana Airlines

Title: "very helpful and friendly staff"

Review: Tokyo to London via Seoul. Spacious comfortable seats for long-haul flights, very helpful and friendly staff. Check-in was easy and ground staff very professional. The food could be a bit better but still no complaints.

Route: Tokyo to London via Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Oman Air

Title: "Customer service is appealing bad"

Review: London to Zanzibar via Muscat. They changed my flight and lied about giving me a hotel in a 20 hour layover.

Customer service is appealing bad and has been equipped to disappoint you. They have a poor Web form to send feedback that don't work.

Route: London to Zanzibar via Muscat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Peach Aviation

Title: "did not want me to get on the plane with that"

Review: The boarding time started 10 mn before the flight. The customers of 3 different planes at almost same time departure were passing the security and I got through while the boarding time already started. I had my mountain crampons in my carry on luggage. They did not want me to get on the plane with that (I can understand), make me wait more than 5 minutes before to get me out and did not help me too find a solution. No one moved. I missed the flight because of their incapacity of reaction. I was not refund neither offered to get in another one. My way back, was also no refund. The staff did not care more especially after having checking that I took a basic plan. It is not cheap as it seems according the mess at the boarding time, the non professionalism of their employees. I am still chocked that they make me lose 12,120 JPY and that it is just about the flight itself (to be add transportation in/out airport, hotel reservation, sadness to see all my plans crushed). And that with a bit more of reaction they will have guide me to a locker asap and meme my travel possible.

Route: Sapporo to Tokyo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "connecting flight got cancelled/left"

Review: My return journey from Barcelona to Stavanger via Frankfurt was horrible! It took a little extra time to fly from Barcelona to Frankfurt and meanwhile connecting flight got cancelled/left and my ticket was reissued having a 10:30 hours transit. They issued a voucher of 15 euro for lunch but it didnt work at their participating shops! I emailed them to reimburse but didnt hear back from them. I was exhausted spending those 10:30 hours without kind of cooperation. Even couldnt avail another convenient flight of them that could reach me early as they said that their server wasnt working.

Route: Barcelona to Stavanger via Frankfurt

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Japan

Title: "crew extremely inattentive"

Review: One of the worst airlines I've ever used. Charged 50 USD for being 2 lbs over on combined weight (heck I could have put stuff in my pockets and that would have made it ok). Flight crew from Tokyo to Sydney were extremely inattentive, and never once offered food or beverage on an 8 hour flight.

Route: Tokyo to Sydney via Gold Coast

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "subjecting us to enormous hardships"

Review: Maldives to Delhi. We booked a return flight from Delhi to Maldives. Our return flight from Maldives on 22nd September was cancelled and we were made to take a flight via Bengaluru subjecting us to enormous hardships of disembarking at Bengaluru, multiple security checks and luggage check in, delay in reaching the destination. We were told at Maldives that this is a regular practice of Go First. They book the return tickets and subsequently cancel the return flight several times in a week when the passenger has no choice.

Route: Maldives to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Oman Air

Title: "Comfortable seats, very clean cabin"

Review: Zurich to Bangkok via Muscat. Good handling at online booking with seat selection. For online check-in the seats were not available any more, so we selected other seats. Good service on baggage drop/check-in. Good flight service on the route ZRH to MCT. Rich choice of amenities (amenity bag and pijama), blankets for the flat bed seat. Good choice of food, very good selection of drinks. Very good service on the flight MCT to BKK. Good choice of food and very good selection of drinks. Comfortable seats, very clean cabin.

Route: Zurich to Bangkok via Muscat

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: S7 Siberia Airlines

Title: "service was wonderful"

Review: Hong Kong to Novosibirsk. My very first trip to Russia, in the business class cabin. The aircraft was a new Boeing 737-MAX8. Service was wonderful. Flight attendant's English was basic but we understood each other very well, thanks to my elementary and enthusiastic Russian I had learnt before going to Russia ! Food was very good. No lie flat bed but plenty of space. Only 8 seats in business cabin so very intimate.

Route: Hong Kong to Novosibirsk

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "What a huge disappointment!"

Review: We arrive to Calgary airport at 12:30pm. Our flight was for 2.40pm, found out it was delayed until 8.40pm. Online it said that it was on time. We sat and waited a couple of hours, and then checked back in to find out the flight was totally cancelled with no explanation as to why. Multiple times we tried calling Lynx Air, they kept hanging up on us. We ended up booking through Porter Air, for the following morning at 6.30. We had to pay out of our pocket for a hotel, flight and a cab to and from. Not impressed with Lynx Air, I would never fly with them again, and I would highly recommend, no one flying with them. What a huge disappointment! I missed work on Friday, as well.

Route: Calgary to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Shanghai Airlines

Title: "delayed for 16 hours"

Review: Shanghai to Seoul. The first and last time riding Shanghai Airlines and China Eastern Airlines. The check-in was chaotic because only 3 or 4 check in counters were opened. During the security checkpoint, the checking was way too slow for me, and I was waiting 3 hours. It was the final call for boarding- and I was bussed, and I rode the airplane, but it was delayed for 16 hours for no reason, staying in the airline and the flight attendant gave only me nothing. No offerings, no services, and no refunds.

Route: Shanghai to Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Volotea

Title: " I have no complaints"

Review: I made the round trip Asturias to Málaga. I am a member of Volotea and I have a series of discounts. It is very easy to travel with this company, established in Asturias, both when searching for flights and when checking-in. The ground crew is very friendly and the cabin crew. We went in emergency exit seats and the space is very wide. I have no complaints.

Route: Málaga to Asturias

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: "Very bad experience"

Review: Very bad experience. I lost business meetings because of the delays and the bad service. They caused me a big lost of money. It took more then 12 hours and 3 flights to arrive from TLV to Malaga (should take max 5 hours of flight). First flight from Tel Aviv to Vienna they lost the slot of departure, then instead of flying directly to Malaga they sent me in a Lufthansa flight to Frankfort and then another flight from Frankfurt to Malaga. I went out at 2:00 am and arrive to destination at 18:00.

Route: Tel Aviv to Malaga via Frankfurt

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "I will never fly with them again"

Review: The waiting time for calling them is over 4 hours easily. We have this small rescue dog, weighing about 10lbs, we would like to bring her with us to the trip. Before we purchased the ticket, we checked airline website to see the pet policy, and it was stated, that we could pay for the pets in carry on bag. So I was trying to reach the airline to pre-pay for the carry-on pet. I was on hold for over an hour and talked to a gentleman who claimed he didn't know how to do it and transferred me to another line, which I waited for more than 3 hours, so by the time, i got to talk to the lady, the time had passed 72 hours prior boarding time. and i was told i couldn't pre-pay to reserve for the carry on dog, and i need to go to the desk on the departure day, My family arrived the evening before our flight and I double checked with the desk people, and an on duty manager said it was OK, I was hoping to pay and make sure she can come on board on the next day flight. The guy said i couldn't do it until 4 hours to departure. So we got to the desk 3 hours before departure, the line person, the desk person all let us pass and put a sticker on our dog's bag. We boarded the airplane. For this flight, I paid extra 175 for reserving some seats for my whole family. The flight attendant found our dog bag was in front of my husband's seat, which is a special seat, no other seat in front of him, complained the bag needs to be underneath the front seat, how we could get this seat first place with a dog carry on. They got a gate person up to complain, and the gated person wanted me to show the receipt we paid for the dog, i told her what happened, and i didn't get a chance to pay for her on the phone or through the check in desk. So she started accusing us smuggling in the dog, as if we were criminal, even we showed her the canal sticker on the bag, and told her we got checked in by their airline desk. She insisted throwing us off the airplane and was very rude. I begged for paying at the spot, she said there is no way for her to take the money. Finally i moved the dog bag to be in front of my seat, behind another seat, the plane attendants were OK with it, she still insisted in throwing us out, other passengers were trying to speak for us. Finally the pilot said it is OK to let us fly. The entire episode lasted over an hour. my family and I were totally stressed. We finally made it. I will never fly with them again.

Route: Montreal to Calgary

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Akasa Air

Title: "spacious and comfortable seating"

Review: On time, clean, spacious and comfortable seating. One of the lowest fare, very courteous staff, offered free water and was very friendly.

Route: Chennai to Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Insel Air

Title: "flight was cancelled three times"

Review: Curaçao to Port of Spain with Insel Air. My flight was cancelled three times. Then they schedule the flight at 3am to avoid paying hotel. When you get there at 1am, it's closed with a notification that the flight is scheduled to 8am. When you come back at 5 AM, the flight is overbooked and they transfer you to a flight which again is scheduled at 3am the following day to avoid paying for hotel. The chance for departure - well, tomorrow will show..

Route: Curaçao to Port of Spain

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Meridiana

Title: "flight attendant service good"

Review: Only non-stop to Naples from United States. Great price. Got boarding ticket and seat assignment online a few days before the flight. Check in service fast and uneventful. Gate easy to find. Boarded on time and departed 15 minutes after scheduled departure time. Flight was fine. Food okay for airline. Flight attendant service good. I don't need much attention. Arrived in Naples 1 hour early. Would fly Meridiana again.

Route: JFK to NAP

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Tahiti Nui

Title: "Terrible customer service"

Review: Los Angeles to Papeete. Terrible customer service. Our return flight was originally booked on 2/6 from Tahiti to LAX. They notified us that they cancelled this flight due to schedule change. They gave us the option to leave a day earlier of the next day. We had already booked our non-refundable hotel room by this time so we inquired if we left a day earlier if they would cover our hotel cost for the night of the 5th. Verbally they assured us they would cover it so we locked in the 5th. They did say however that we would need to file a claim online with them. Which we did. We eventually got an email that said they aren't going to cover the cost of our hotel and we would need to go through travel insurance for reimbursement. Too bad we didn't have a current travel insurance plan. We called to try to get compensated in some way so we requested a free upgrade to premium economy. They said they might not have room but will add notes to our reservation for the ticket counter staff to upgrade us if there was room. 3 hrs before departure we arrive at the ticket counter and they had no idea what we were talking about as there were no notes added. They called their supervisor and we were declined due to no available seats. We board the plane and lo and behold there must have been at least 20 open seats in premium economy when the doors were closed. Lie upon lie upon lie. The only nice thing we found about this airline was the plane was a nice new 787 and the flight attendants were very accommodating.

Route: Los Angeles to Papeete

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: VivaAerobús

Title: "Please no one fly with this airline"

Review: I dont recommend no one to fly with VivaAerobús, 1st we had our plane, seat, & lounge tickets paid since January 2022, have in mind we dont have our passports so every ending of every month until our flight I called and made sure we were good to fly with out them they had mentioned we were fine to fly with out them. Our flight was on Thursday March 24 2022 once we arrived at the Reynosa Airport they made us pay to take a bus down to Monterrey airport because supposedly since the 1st of March they came up with a new law that no one can fly from border airlines without their passports, but we would have understood if they would sent us an email, phone call, text or even let us know thru our app about the changes made but nothing at all, we had to find out once we arrived at the Reynosa airport. After all this mess we get to Monterrey by bus, their they delay our next flight for 13hrs to Cancun and once we get their we have to repay our paid lounge because they stated the lounge was payed from the flight from Reynosa to Cancun. After the long wait and unnecessary travel we arrived in Cancun at 1am. Once after our vacation on our returning flight we get to Cancun airport and once again our flight, seat, & lounge is paid for to return to Reynosa let me remind you we had our seat # & paid for. Once we get their they give us a layover ticket even after I showed they in our app our seats placed. This airline really tried to give away our check in seats away. So much stress & hassle, as we tried to talk to a supervisor they would only repeat they couldnt help and we had to wait for our layover tickets. Please no one fly with this airline their nonsense!

Route: Reynosa to Cancun

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air China

Title: "Service was smooth"

Review: I had serious concerns about this airline before taking my trip, but ended up having a very good experience. So I promised myself I will write a review about it. Best value for money: what caused me to book was the offer of flying a flat bed C-class seat from JFK to Shanghai for $2,200 (return tkt), only with a quick stopover of 90 minutes in PEK. Pre-flight concerns: - I kept receiving automated emails from the airline that my itinerary has changed and that I should contact them and I can change/get a refund for my tkt. The small change that happened once was a 5 minute change in departure time which increased my layover in PEK (good thing, since you need those 90 minute to transfer) - customer service: it's impossible to reach them by phone, the line is not manned. So I emailed them. They responded within 24hrs (or so) and said that my flight's transfer time in PEK is too short and my tkt needs to be changed. But when I went online I saw that my same exact flight itinerary was still being sold on various websites, incl. airchina.us. - The inconsistent response from their customer service really got me worried about the reliability of this airline, so I did some more research online on helpful reviews. I mostly read terrible reviews on how delayed the flights were, people missing their connections and being treated very poorly. That's when I got really worried about having booked this ticket, but figured I will take the risk. Also TPG wrote a fairly good review on them, so that felt comforting. Flight: - Outbound: upper deck of Boeing 747, half empty cabin. Seat was perfectly comfortable (flat bed). Service was smooth, food was good/fine - meat a bit chewy. Staff are friendly and helpful, though be aware they only speak limited english. - Inbound: Boeing 777-300 - full cabin. Seat perfectly comfortable (flat bed). Service was great, they accommodated my specific food requests despite not having ordered in advance. Overall a great flying experience. - All flights were pretty much on time - In-flight entertainment is ok, limited movies selection / limited music selection - no WIFI. Transfers in PEK: - 90 minutes is definitely needed if transferring. You need to take a quick 'airtrain' trip from domestic to intl., even if you don't change Terminals. The connecting flight to and from SHA was a tarmac parked aircraft with bus transfers, so that added time as well. I was traveling with filming equipment and I've never had to spend that much time at security, unpacking my entire bag with all the equipment and letting it run several times through the x-ray.

Route: New York JFK to Shanghai via Beijing

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Rex Airlines

Title: "badly mismanage flights"

Review: Seat size ok. Service abominable. 1hr delay and lost connection fare Plus additional bus and train fees. Subsequent 2hr delay meant missing last train out of Melbourne as well, getting stuck on a 3hr coach run to arrive at 4.15am (I was due in 10.30pm). How can they so badly mismanage flights? And so late for updates? They must have known earlier than notification that they'd not make it, they should have been offering refunds early to allow passengers to try their luck with the other, earlier, on time departing airlines. I'll never fly again, and most certainly not with Rex.

Route: Devonport to Tullamarine

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "I have no words for the hospitality"

Review: I have no words for the hospitality the Singapore Airlines staff on the flight has shown me I have taken more than 20 flights this year but undoubtedly this airline is the best. I will surely and only try to fly Singapore. I am just amazed by the love and care they showed to my 7 year old from Mumbai to Sydney and coming back to India from Sydney. Thank you so much.

Route: Sydney to Mumbai via Singapore

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "boarding was efficient"

Review: Flight departed and landed as scheduled, boarding was efficient. The aircraft operated from Sofia Wizz airbase. Cabin crew limited the communication to security matters only. Food and drink for sale as usual, no entertainment and no charging facilities. I would suggest the cabin crew: smile more.

Route: Tîrgu Mures to Memmingen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "Wi-Fi does not let you access anything"

Review: I ordered the lasagna but it was horrible, I couldn't pull it apart because they put the cheese first on top so it was literally impossible to eat it. The entertainment website on board, I think has less than 60 movies and the Wi-Fi does not let you access anything except their website. They do not even offer a package so you can speak with your family members

Route: Dubai to Amman

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "Good trip, recommended"

Review: LHR - ATH. Check-in was polite, professional and quick. Great selection of Duty-free shops and eateries in T2. Boarding was orderly and greeted at aircraft door by polite and immaculately dressed cabin crew. On time departure, clean aircraft inside and outside. Seats are comfortable with adequate legroom. Drinks service and snack served. Attentive crew. Toilets at rear of plane in Economy were clean. Smooth flight, landed early. Good trip, recommended.

Route: London to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Dolomiti

Title: "Air Dolomiti worked OK for us"

Review: Munich to Bologna and Pisa to Munich, both on an Embraer 195, economy. Both flights handled efficiently; southbound on time, northbound delayed by about 25 mins on departure due to late arrival of incoming flight (there had been thick fog at MUC early that morning which had sent things adrift for much of the morning). However, support given to those with tight connections. Modest in-flight service - snacks and drinks - wine came in proper glasses. Other reviewers seem to have had a hard time, but Air Dolomiti worked OK for us.

Route: Munich to Bologna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Berlin

Title: "has trouble with basic services"

Review: Berlin TXL to Frankfurt. Air Berlin has trouble with basic services and staff appears to be trained to deceive customer support requests. Flight AB6601 on 19 May cancelled without reason along with several other Air Berlin flights departing from Berlin TXL on that evening. No offer of compensation, no answers to calls, unfriendly and unhelpful staff at all counters. Due to the masses of people and the chaos at TXL at that time, checked-in baggage could not be reclaimed on that day. I had another flight in the morning next day from Frankfurt to Taiwan, which thanks to Lufthansa I was able to catch. My baggage is gone since even though I never even entered an Air Berlin plane but only checked-in. I cannot reach anybody at Air Berlin, emails remain unanswered.

Route: Berlin TXL to Frankfurt

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "deterioration of business class food and wine"

Review: While there was a direct SYD-SFO option with UA, their price for business class was excessive and my track record with UA in flight service isn't great. So I opted for the indirect SYD-HKG-SFO routing at a much more palatable price that also helped with my oneworld status. The check-in staff in SYD were great and then immigration and security were empty and I was through to airside in no time. Of course, with essentially everything closed at SYD including all the lounges, there was nothing much to do. Boarding was swift and we were on our way to HKG in no time. Security at HKG was also empty however fortunately CX's Wing lounge was open. After the mandatory additional security checks at the gate, boarding for the SFO sector was also swift. I can only say that the Cathay crew on both sectors were outstanding, much like the days of yore when Cathay was one of the world's greatest airlines. Courteous, caring and personable, they seemed to want to go the extra mile to ensure everyone was as comfortable as possible. If this review were just about the inflight crew then they'd get top marks however what drags down the experience is the continued deterioration of the CX business class food and wine offering. Most of what I consumed was average at best although the most surprising thing was that a salad that was listed both as a supper option and then again as an "anytime" option, only had one serving loaded for maybe 15 business class passengers. The crew were mortified but could do nothing. I realise things are tough for CX at the moment but why tantalise premium passengers with an extensive menu if you can't deliver on it? Offer me less but make sure there's enough of everything to go beyond just one passenger and I'll be happy.

Route: Sydney to San Francisco via Hong Kong

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: VivaColombia

Title: "exceptional for what you pay"

Review: Cartagena to Cali. Paid the ticket 69000 pesos, equivalent to mBP15 or EUR16. We left on time, we arrived before the scheduled time. Some people judge an airline when they spend peanuts for it. I find Vivacolombia exceptional for what you pay.

Route: Cartagena to Cali

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "became low cost long haul carrier"

Review: Bad experience started even before flying. Customer service is unreachable, they even removed live chat button on their website. They didn't give all ground handlers specific information about covid certificates, so many passengers were refused check-in at the airport. They asked for RT-PCR, not mentioning real time PCR is the same thing and many passengers' vacations were ruined. All flights were delayed at least for two hours, despite that they still asked us to come to the airport at original flight time. The seat was comfortable. But the meal service was so poor. Many of us are used to have at least two options of meals onboard. Well, Finnair has just one. So you have two options actually - to eat, or not to eat. If you are vegetarian, you have to book your meal in advance. Entertainment system is very poor. Selection of movies include very old 90's movies and a few newer ones. At least the screen is responsive enough, but antireflection coating would be a good idea. You can see a clear hierarchy in crew. There were two older ladies serving our aisle and two crew members in their 20's serving another aisle. You can clearly spot that younger generation has to do all the work and you can feel the tension between them. Those ladies were not even trying to do the service as quickly as possible. So younger ones even had to help them and finish our aisle every time. The flight was delayed, so we missed our connection flight. They rebooked us on two more flights home. Neither the reason of the delay, nor sorry was said to us onboard. Thank god we had only had luggage. I can tell you, running in very chaotic and confusing HEL airport is no fun. It was my first time flying Finnair as I've heard many positive reviews from the past that it is the best airline in Europe. Finnair even charges for seat selection for long haul flights. And if you add a checked bag, that's a third of the price of the tickets. Finnair became low cost long haul carrier with miserable service.

Route: Bangkok to Vilnius via Helsinki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Swoop

Title: "refused to refund the upgrade fee"

Review: We paid extra to upgrade to seats with extra leg room. When we boarded, our seats were regular. On both departing and returning flights. On the return flight, we asked the agent at check in to make sure our seats were extra leg room. She confirmed they were. They were not. Contacted swoop and they refused to refund the upgrade fee. They also rescheduled both our departing and returning flights, shaving an entire day off of our vacation. They don't even give you water on these flights. Just pay the $50 extra to fly with the regular airline.

Route: Toronto to Las Vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Fiji Airways

Title: "product could be improved"

Review: Los Angeles to Christchurch via Nadi with Fiji Airways. The people couldn't be nicer, but the product could be improved. The food wasn't very good on the outbound. Breakfast was served on a noon flight from Fiji to New Zealand - it should have been lunch. The inflight entertainment was very limited, and the angle seats were not flat. The pillow was the worst I've ever had in business class.

Route: LAX to CHC via NAN

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "Worst experience ever!"

Review: I was traveling from Ranchi to Bangalore on 19th Feb, 2020. My check-in baggage was 14 kgs and my hand baggage was 7 kgs so in total 21 kgs. I got the boarding pass and proceeded for security check where I was told that my hand baggage has food items so it needs to go in the check-in. GoAir charged me Rupees 2400 for it even though the total weight was less than allowed weight (cabin luggage was Zero kg). I was getting late so I had no option but to pay the amount. Worst experience ever!

Route: Ranchi to Bangalore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Malindo Air

Title: "absolutely absurd airline"

Review: Delhi to Kuala Lumpur. The airline refused our multiple requests to have our baggage in the cabin for our connecting flight. Promised our bags would come out first and it didn't. The flight was delayed which caused us to miss our connection. Made us pay for new tickets for the connection, absolutely absurd airline. Never again flying with this joke of an airline

Route: Delhi to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Brussels Airlines

Title: "Staff were friendly"

Review: Brussels Airlines is very similar to Austrian Airlines: slimline seats, buy on board catering but having the benefit of flying to major cities. Anything else is just subpar. Staff were friendly and the food wasn't bad actually.

Route: Yerevan to Brussels

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "A very pleasant flight"

Review: After checking in online and receiving my boarding pass I noticed that in the LH App my seat was not the same as the one on the boarding pass but 1 row in front, separating my wife and myself. When dropping off the bag at LH in Munich I was informed that my original seat has an issue with its electronic and as a precaution I was assigned a different seat. The check in agent then rearranged both my wife's and my seat to perfect different couple seat and all was really super. I was impressed that Lufthansa realised that there is a seat issue in advance and proactively cleared all issues. Boarding on the 15th of June for LH 494 was not as smooth as it could have been but acceptable. In flight service was top notch with very friendly and efficient attendants, meals very very well presented and of the highest quality. Plane was clean and in-flight entertainment good. LH Business Class seats are a matter of taste and admittedly I prefer those to the cocoon like atmosphere of others and when travelling as a couple just perfect. Choosing D and G seats will also eliminate the aisle access issue. Plane landed a bit before the scheduled time. A very pleasant flight.

Route: Munich to Toronto

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "Customer service is the worst"

Review: Customer service is the worst I have ever experienced relative to other airlines. Their "live chat" is worthless and its near impossible to rebook a ticket. You can't do it yourself if it involves more than one city which is absurd. Changing a ticket booking because the airline canceled flight is a basic level of service that I should be able to do from my phone. If you are going to force me to have a representative to rebook my ticket then provide representatives that are available! I spent days waiting on phone lines and "Live Chat" rooms for such a simple task. If the tickets weren't so overpriced, I would of dumped the money and rebooked with another airline. I have no issues with the actual planes, flight attendants or workers of Hawaiian airlines but the company needs serious restructuring of its customer facing services.

Route: Naha to Honolulu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Rwandair

Title: "never ever fly Rwandair"

Review: Johannesburg to Abuja via Kigali. I was supposed to fly as per my boarding passes attached, we were notified that there is a flight delay and we won't make our connection, a promise was made that our bags will be offloaded and brought back to us. We waited and nothing happened, our business trip is compromised as all my presentation notes and suits are in the luggage, not to mention that the host had to make other arrangements as we were a day late. I am very dissaponted at how Rwandair treats its customers, we've made several communications to no avail. I will never ever fly Rwandair nor recommend it to anyone ever.

Route: Johannesburg to Abuja via Kigali

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: SriLankan Airlines

Title: "never book with them again"

Review: I will never book with them again. The seats are broken and dirty, the food is very poor and the bathrooms are dirty. I booked with them a trip from Male to Frankfurt with a 3 hour layover in Colombo and 3 weeks before the flight they changed one of the flights with a 12 hour Layover instead of 3 hrs. I called several times and sent emails to the customer service in order to get the transit accommodation but no one ever answered. When i went to their office in Colombo to ask for the transit accommodation they told me that as there was another flight arriving from Male during my stopover, i could not use this service. The staff in Colombo were very rude and do not help you at all. They left us waiting in the airport for 12 hours without giving us any possible facility. Although we were waiting for information at the desk, they took their coffee and talk to each other without bothering to help us.

Route: Male to Frankfurt via Colombo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Shenzhen Airlines

Title: "impolite to their passengers"

Review: Shubuling to Shenzhen. However did Star Alliance admit this low quality airline into their more prestigious alliance? The website is absolutely awful in English and in Chinese. After failing to purchase a ticket through their website, I managed to buy one on Ctrip. But then the online check-in did would not work. However the verification function on the Chinese language website reassured me that my ticket did exist. Airport check-in was ok as I was first in line. However then the flight was delayed by an hour, then after boarding an announcement of another half hour, then half an hour later yet another delay. I wondered if it was a ploy to avoid paying compensation and why they just did not let us deplane and wait in the lounge. Being vegetarian I would have needed to pre-order my special meal, but as web check in was not available I was not able to order. The only positive was one very polite and helpful stewardess, whom my translator guessed wanted to please the foreign guest, as the flight crew was otherwise quite impolite to their passengers. In flight entertainment: Heidi, a German language film on a screen too distant to read the subtitles.

Route: Shubuling to Shenzhen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Flynas

Title: "The food on this airline is the absolute worst"

Review: The food on this airline is the absolute worst. I purchased a sandwich and it was cream cheese on a dry, spongy flat hotdog roll I wouldn't feed an animal. The staff are sour. The plane has never left on time (and I have flown them 8 times). They also falsely advertise their holiday destinations. For Sarajevo they have a photo of Mostar. Expensive for the level they are.

Route: Dubai to Riyadh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: China Eastern Airlines

Title: "never fly China Eastern again"

Review: Chicago to Bangkok via Shanghai. I am a physician, normally fly at least 1-2 times/year, for volunteer medical/surgical mission work. I used China Eastern airline for the first time, flying out Jan 30. I had problem at the airport when checking in, which never before in my traveling experience. My passport has printed out my first and middle name in short and not spelled out in full as in ticket. I showed 3 different government issued IDs to identify myself. The counter agent would not issue me a boarding pass and insisted that my traveling agent change my ticket name. When I called the traveling agent, they would take 2 days, and advised me to ask the airline agent at the airport to do that for me. However, the airport agent and her supervisor refused to help me at all. They were extremely rude to me, literally man-handled me to step aside so they can help other customer. I stood there for over 1 hr. Finally, I asked my traveling agent to book me with the different airline at the same day or tomorrow flight. When I asked the supervisor to do in writing that they refused to issue me my boarding pass and the reason, she came out later and told me that she can now help me correct the name on ticket to be exactly same as the passport. The aircraft was quite old, not a lot of comforting equipment. WiFi was not working, and when asked the flight attendant, she said will let me know when function return, but she never told me for the rest of 14 hr flight. Flight attendant never once ask what I need during the entire flight, I had to press call button and wait for 30 min each time I need something. In conclusion, the service was worst than economy class, despite being business class. On the way returning from Bangkok, I did not have any problem at the counter at all, although took extra 15 min to check in due to my name on passport again. The food was also just tasted like coming from a vending machine. Even though the ticket in business class is $1,000 cheaper than other airline, I will never fly with China Eastern again. Furthermore, my brand new luggage was completely destroyed

Route: Chicago to Bangkok via Shanghai

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia X

Title: "inflight staff were really nice"

Review: Flying from Seoul Incheon to Bangkok. Well, was not too bad at all. Plane was on time, arrived in Bangkok a little bit early, thanks to good wind I suppose, inflight staff member were really nice and smiling. On the other hand, there is the lack of inflight entertainment, but with some movies on my PC it was ok, and no free food. I bought some snacks before taking the plane and it was enough. But I suspect the airline to lower the temperature inside the plane so you will have buy them some cover. I felt really cold compared to many other airline I took...fortunately I had a jacket with me.

Route: Seoul to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Dimonim Air

Title: "Departure time was uncertain"

Review: Tanahmerah to Korowai Batu. This route is a government-subsidized one operated with tiny aircraft carrying only about a dozen passengers. No advance booking possible but Dimonim staff were helpful in getting us on a flight the same day. Departure time was uncertain but we eventually got on the plane. Once aboard it was a great flight offering sweeping views of the rivers and rain forests below. Cheap, too.

Route: Tanahmerah to Korowai Batu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Norse Atlantic Airways

Title: "introductory fares were so cheap"

Review: I was excited to fly Norse. The introductory fares were so cheap that the flight for my family of five came to around the same price as a single return on a direct flight to London with a legacy carrier. We flew MCO to Oslo, spent a night, flew to LON then back through Oslo to MCO two weeks later. The flight was on a brand new aircraft, we did the basic ticket packs, (no food, assigned seating or baggage). I dont like eating on night flights east, and happy to a la carte on the way back. Flight took off and landed on time, spotlessly clean, good food and entertainment. CEO managing check in on return leg was a nice touch too! My go to for regular MCO - Oslo - LON from now on.

Route: Oslo to Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "avoid this airline"

Review: The most awful experience. The flight supposed to be at 12.05 but they rescheduled it for 14.15 We arrived to the airport at 11.20 fall in queue for another 25 minutes and how surprised we were when an operator said check in is over (only one operator was working out of 7). One operator said check in was closed at 11:40. Another one said at 11:00 (means 3 hours before flight)? So they delayed flight for two hours and this information you can see online but you must come 4 hours before flight? Doesnt make any sense. Conclusion: avoid this airline. Save your time and money.

Route: Boracay to Clark

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "clean, comfortable flight"

Review: Knowing that the flight was full, Scoot assigned me and my family seats for free when I was supposed to pay. Upon check-in, I was met by a stern and unfriendly ground staff member, and that unfriendliness continued with the ground staff handling the boarding gate. They looked depressed, pressured, and tired as if they hated their job.

However, once on board, the team of flight attendants changed the mood of the flight. They ensured everyone was well looked after with their positive attitude throughout the flight. The seats gave me extra few inches of legroom and were surprisingly comfortable. That, combined with the A320NEO's new cabin feel, was a perfect recipe for a clean, comfortable, and awesome flight. The in-flight entertainment was rich in content and easy to use, however, being a Wi-Fi-based entertainment used by many people on the flight, the signal strength was incredibly weak. That, and the less-than-good ground staff team at Yogyakarta, were the only two things preventing this flight from getting a solid 10/10. The landing was around 10 minutes ahead of schedule, and the ground staff team in Singapore quickly arranged our bags at a special spot thanks to the long immigration queue in Singapore. Low-cost flying can be identic with no-frills yet dismaying service, lousy products, and pay-tons-of-bucks-for-everything. On Scoot, this wasn't the case for me, and they truly deserve the awards they've just obtained.

Route: Yogyakarta to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Japan Airlines

Title: "best airline I have taken so far"

Review: Japan Airlines is the best airline I have taken so far, and it stands out because of the consistent proactive and friendly service from crew members. They were very hardworking during the flight. I saw them walking around the cabin serving drinks and snacks to passengers who did not sleep between meal services. The toilets were kept really clean throughout the flight. Further, they turned off the personal TV of passengers who have slept to avoid disturbance to other passengers due to the light. Call button was answered within seconds. I sneezed during the flight and one of the crew members immediately popped over and asked if everything was ok and if I needed a blanket or warm water. This is economy class and I can say the service standard is better than business class of many airlines.

Route: Dallas to Tokyo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "thankful for the staff service"

Review: Chicago to Chengdu. I am extremely thankful for the staff service on that flight. This experience started disappointing, because wrong information was given when customer service number was called (twice) leading to delay in check in process, and I was not able to attend things as planned. A staff (in chef uniform) remembered me and greeted me. Once she heard about my bad experience, she started to make up for her colleagues mistake immediately. She had given me her personal heat pouch to help me with my headache and shared snacks with me. She offered hot water to me, and asking if I need anything that might help with my headache.

Route: Chicago to Chengdu

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "excellent customer service"

Review: Thai is a very good airline with excellent customer service and food. It is kind of value for money but it just average though. I didn't like though wa the wi-fi connectivity it was not as good as they said, but still I will give it a pass. Everything else was pretty good. So in summary Thai is a very good airline.

Route: Melbourne to Bangkok

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Shanghai Airlines

Title: "we had to go standby"

Review: Never use your frequent flyer miles from one airline and get placed on Shanghai Airlines. We had a confirmation number and ticket number from our partner, and Shanghai Airlines could not locate us in the system so we lost our reserved seats and had to go standby. Ticket counter said we'd have no issues on return flight. Guess what? We are standing in Bangkok as I type with the exact same problem with a sold out flight. Seems they don't put you in the system if you are using another airlines miles, even though they are partners, or at least that's how it looks from our end.

Route: Beijing to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Panama

Title: "We really enjoyed this flight"

Review:

Albrook (Panama City) to Bocas del Toro. After reading comments about this airline I was a bit worried but our flight with Air Panama was really okay. Checkin at the airport was quick, there were no lines. My bag was 17 kg so I had to pay 9 dollars for the 3 kg overweight. Totally fine. There are no infosccreens at the small airport of Albrook but as there are only leaving a couple of flights a day its obvious when boarding starts. The flight left at 2.30, so right on time. The fokker 50 used for this flight is old but seatpitch was okay for this 55 minute flight to Bocas. After a loud and bumpy take off the crew handed out some crisps and a soda. After 35 minutes of cruising with some wonderful views at the rainforest and Caribbean beaches, the pilot started decent into Bocas airport. After a soft landing and a short taxi to the small apron our luggage appeared within minutes. We really enjoyed this flight in this old air Panama fokker-airplane.

Route: Albrook (Panama City) to Bocas del Toro

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "Cannot be trusted"

Review: El Salvador to Mexico City. I flew with Interjet a week ago. I had some luggage vandalised and destroyed with a sharp object. I reported the incident immediately at airport. A report was taken. When I contacted staff of interjet, not a single person wanted to help. On the phone they hung up. At the airport they sent me to another city to report. On email they only say automated polite response. They stop responding and never helped. This is the worst airline. No customer service. No support. Do not fly with them. Worst experience. The flights were cancelled. They had no airplane for us. Had to wait an entire day. Cannot be trusted.

Route: El Salvador to Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Canada

Title: "Very poor service"

Review: I traveled from Dallas to Regina. On way back from Regina had to take a connecting flight in Montreal where had to pass through customs. There was so much confusion and no one from Air Canada would guide passengers properly. They were all in a cranky mood and didnt have patience to listen and guide property. Flight was delayed for 40 minutes as we had to wait for other flights that were delayed. People were upset and complaining that staff was not at all helpful, I had planned to buy food on board but crew just gave me beverage and didnt ask about food. I thought will ask me later but then I saw crew sitting and eating their dinner. I asked one of crew members arent you selling food to which he replied we asked but you didnt want anything. I told him that is a false statement you never asked me about food. I told him that I would like to purchase food and he said we have nothing. I got upset at his behavior so a senior member came and showed me a menu. There were only two choices so I selected one. They didnt have much food so avoided asking passengers. When I landed in Dallas I found out that I was the only person on two flights from Montreal whose luggage has not arrived. It was 12.15 am. Lady at the airport said it will come on 10 am flight but was not on that flight. Then I was told will come on 7 pm flight. I am still waiting. Very poor service with non courteous and unfriendly both ground and cabin staff.

Route: Regina to Montreal via Dallas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "you can only have one carry-on bag"

Review: We decided to travel with a carry-on suitcase and a hand bag. A surprise awaited me at the last stop, Manila - Dubai. After check-in at the airport, I received the boarding card, on the way to the boarding area, we were stopped by some people, they did not look like employees and did not allow us to go to our gate, they told us to go to hand over the luggage. I was at a loss as to why I had to return my hand luggage. In the end, it all ends with my ticket being taken away and being told to pay 5000, which is ~$100, on the grounds that you can only have one carry-on bag. I tried to understand why the amount is so high, no one explained anything to me and did not return the ticket until I paid. I was shocked that they took our suitcases and then called a completely incomprehensible amount and made us pay it, only after paying they gave us flight tickets in check format. I will never fly with this terrible company Cebu Pacific again.

Route: Manila to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "They lack experience, customer service, professionalism"

Review: First time flying with Silver Airways. Booked the flight because of their association with JetBlue. Biggest mistake! I knew something was wrong when there was only one ticket agent at the counter attending the guests to check in their bags. She took her time and looked a bit stressed. In addition, the departure time and gate information did not match the ticket sent to me. I asked about it and she said it was a mistake. Fast forward, we board the airplane and it was hot! I don't think that the temperature got to tolerable state ever! We land at FLL and my bag was not there. It was left at JAX due to weight limitations. This was never disclosed by the agent in JAX or in their website. I was told to file a claim with their Guest Relations team. They do not have a phone number. It's only an email. They denied the claim! This is an airline that should be non-existent. They lack experience, customer service, professionalism, and appetite to excel. It is a joke! People complain about Spirit, this is that airline but on propellers with about a third of their employees and experience. Run! Don't waste your time or money!

Route: Jacksonville to Fort Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Vistara

Title: "Not a pleasant experience"

Review: Not a pleasant experience, starting from boarding to inflight. Boarding was chaotic, no social distancing. Food served to me was the same as economy class, probably they have shortage of meal so served me the one for economy class. After boarding no one asked or provided water, only after take off.

Route: Guwahati to Delhi

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Interjet

Title: "customer service is a joke"

Review: New York to Mexico City. Interjet had a glitch in checking my bag. I checked 1 bag which was within the weight restrictions. They charged me $104 dollars. When I pointed it out to the agent, she called the customer service number and they mentioned that it happened a few times and it would be taken care of. I checked my bank statement and they have taken out the $104 from my account. Trying to contact their customer service is a joke. I now have to file a complaint with my bank in order to get my money, because I can't get in contact with anyone from customer service.

Route: New York to Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "Delayed flights, lost luggage"

Review: Delayed flights, lost luggage. and when they located it, they said I WOULD HAVE TO GO BACK TO THE AIRPORT TO PICK IT UP!! They don't even send it. NEVER AGAIN!

Route: Split to Istanbul via Belgrade

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jazeera Airways

Title: "very bad experience"

Review: Very worst airport staff, cabin staff, very unclean, very bad experience, no punctuality, no manners to senior citizen, please don't prefer or use this airlines.

Route: Oman to Cochin via Kuwait

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Croatia Airlines

Title: "avoid flying with them"

Review: Zagreb to Lisbon operated by SmartLinx Airlines. No information about the change of the operating airline, not even when boarding the aircraft at the gate. Flight itself nothing special, only with less legroom due to the high-density configuration of SmartLinx A320. From Lisbon to Zagreb operated by Croatia Airlines A319 immediately after our boarding has been completed the captain informed us that there is a small technical error and we will have to wait to fix it. And then it started: It turned into extremely long wait inside the aircraft before departure. In such a long delay (4 hours) the company is obliged to provide more than just a glass of water. We should be transferred back to the terminal and offered vouchers for food. Instead of that, after more than 3-hour seating in the aircraft the snack was distributed and then an hour after that we finally departed, however now without any snack during the flight since it was already distributed before take-off. So, it turned out that we spent more than seven hour in the Croatia Airlines airplane just with a tiny snack. Such things can happen; however, that should be properly handled. Croatia Airlines did it unprofessionally, totally unacceptable and also against EU regulations. On a positive side: both cabin crews were really nice, however unable to do anything since the general attitude of the company when dealing with an unexpected situation is way below professional standards in the industry. Will definitely avoid flying with them.

Route: Zagreb to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Monarch Airlines

Title: very happy with this service"

Review: I was expecting a usual routine flight with Monarch Airlines from Gatwick to Alicante, and not expecting any food unless I paid for it separately. Proved quite wrong and was surprised to discover that we were one of two Monarch flights leaving for Alicante this particular morning ; I wasn't expecting a full breakfast free of charge. Surprised and very happy with this service - thank you Monarch!

Route: LGW to ALC

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: LAN Airlines

Title: "excellent cabin staff"

Review: Buenos Aires to Miami with LAN Airlines. On time departure and arrival. Excellent cabin staff, very good service and very good food and drink. No complaints. Will fly LAN whenever I can. Cabin clean, good individual screens and movies / music. Airport checkin was smooth.

Route: EZE to MIA

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: ITA Airways

Title: "a broken airline can get worse"

Review: Unbelievable how a broken airline can get worse. Alitalia went bankrupt due well known reasons, ITA airways is the same rubbish with a different outfit. Like every state owned company one can only expect disappointment. If wasn't enough having my original flight cancelled and accommodated on a later flight, this flight was also delayed. Needless to say every ITA flight were either cancelled or delayed. Shame for Italy having its flag on a joke company like this.

Route: Catania to Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: easyJet

Title: "suitcase does not fit their regulations"

Review: They want you to pay more money for the hand luggage, because your suitcase does not fit to their regulations. I was flying with 2 little kids (11 months old) and 3 years old. And I was breastfeeding and at the same time talking to my eldest one. And of course my mask was quite often a bit below the nose and this man was shouting at me.

That was super unpleasant flight.

Route: Berlin to Faro

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: TAP Portugal

Title: "received such a strong attitude"

Review: I paid for my seats on a TAP round trip but my husband was departing later and returning with me so I had to book his seat right after mine. Their server at that point wasnt working but I figured no problem I will do it by phone. They then informed me since I bought the ticket through Expedia originally they could not do a phone seat purchase without charging me $200 extra for the return flight! They would have to re-issue it. Furthermore, they were extremely rude about it, particularly the manager, who basically said too bad, complain to Expedia, thats how it is even though the issue was their server and I had no trouble buying my seats for $61.00. I will work hard to avoid ever needing to use this airline again and will ensure my many friends hear about it. I cant believe there was neither any support, nor solution, and in fact though I was staying calm but strong about what I needed, I received such a strong attitude from the manager.

Route: Toronto to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "Very nice experience"

Review: Dakar to Casablanca. Very nice experience! Very satisfied to travel with the Royal Air Maroc. An airline serving its customers. Bravo the RAM. You are the Best!

Route: Dakar to Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "Never seen a company so reckless, careless, useless and horrible"

Review: The absolute worst customer service in history! My luggage has been lost for over 5 days! I'm in another country without medicine and clothes - I've called every number provided to me and still no help and no luggage. One person told me that they think my luggage is in Chicago and hung up. What am I to do? The line is supposed to be 24 hours and yet I can only get a useless person at a certain time, otherwise they "experience system problems and can not process the call". Never seen a company so reckless, careless, useless and horrible - full of lazy and unknowledgeable personnel!

Route: Detroit to Amman

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Astana

Title: "aircraft was new and clean"

Review: Delhi to Almaty. The aircraft was new and clean. Business Class passengers were greeted and escorted. The staff were attentive and courteous. Food on board was as good as airline food can be. We were a group of over hundred passengers that flew in over 3 days for a celebration and in spite of a some celebratory behavior, the crew were friendly and tolerant. One of the return flights had some technical issue and the aircraft had to be changed. We are looking forward to travel back again.

Route: Delhi to Almaty

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Alliance Air

Title: "absolute harassment by Alliance Air"

Review: I had one of my worst travel experiences with Alliance Air. I had booked 3 tickets from Vijayawada to Bangalore 2 months in advance. The total price at the time of booking was Rs. 10,910/- (including all miscellaneous charges). On the date of travel, while checking in, I was informed that I had to pay an extra amount as I had availed of the "Military discount" at the time of booking. Nowhere in the booking portal was the "military discount" even mentioned. I was asked to pay an additional amount of Rs 10,422 in order to board the flight. So in total, I paid an amount of Rs 21,332/- for an economy class flight from Vijayawada to Bangalore in spite of booking the tickets 2 months in advance. Just like me, there were 18 other co-passengers who had to go through the same ordeal. This is absolute harassment by Alliance Air. From now on, I'm never going to board this airline and will discourage anyone from choosing Alliance Air.

Route: Vijayawada to Bangalore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Kuwait Airways

Title: "just do not want my money"

Review: London to Kuwait via Bangkok. They emailed me a change of flight. The rescheduled flight took off from Kuwait three hours before I landed there. The seats on the plane were very comfortable so I decided to fly with them again. They have turned down three attempts to purchase two tickets online with three different credit cards which work everywhere else. I called their main office in Kuwait "We cannot help you or sell you tickets. Send an email". I sent two emails, one to Kuwait Airways and one to OASIS membership. Kuwait Airlines told me to phone the Kuwait office. OASIS membership told me to phone the Kuwait office or email Kuwait Airlines. Never met a company before who just do not want my money.

Route: London to Kuwait via Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aeromexico

Title: "don't have any type of consideration"

Review: They don't have any type of consideration and respect. I have my cousin that they wont let her board to the gate. Not even do her check in just because she was 2 hrs before the flight. They wanted her to be there 3 hrs before. I can't understand what's the difference between 2 hrs and 3hrs before the departure. When she was talking to them they simply ignored her.

Route: Mexico City to Guatemala

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Korean Air

Title: "attentive but not so friendly"

Review: Tokyo to Seoul. Check in is quick, seats are pretty good the only thing is that headphones and blankets are not available in the seats so you need to ask for some. The cabin crew are attentive but not so friendly, onboard meals are excellent but few movie options.

Route: Tokyo to Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Garuda Indonesia

Title: "trying to get a refund since March"

Review: I have previously flown with Garuda to Bali several times and was happy with the service. This year we had to cancel our trip due to my wife being diagnosed with Cancer. Garuda has promised to provide a refund but keep avoiding paying the refund. Allianz travel insurance would cover the cost of the flights but won't because Garuda promised a refund. I have been trying to get a refund since March. I email Garuda every week and keep getting the same response; "we do apologize for the inconvenience. Regarding your inquiry is being internally process, currently we are still waiting for confirmation and we will inform you shortly after we get the information".

Route: Melbourne to Denpasar

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Condor Airlines

Title: "Condor is truly terrible"

Review: Condor is truly terrible. I've read reviews before booking and still decided to give them a chance and I wish I didn't. Their customer service is awful and their only answer is "there is nothing we can do". They do not offer refunds or airline credits (no matter the reason) and they say if you have a problem with anything just leave a complaint. Please save your money and sanity by booking with someone else.

Route: New York JFK to Frankfurt

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cambodia Bayon Airlines

Title: "aircraft noisy and vibrates"

Review: Short trip from Siem Reap to Phnom Penh on March 17. One way cost $50. The plane is a Chinese Built MA60 turboprop aircraft that currently does not have a certificate to fly in Europe, N America, etc. It's very noisy and vibrates (much more than an ATR). Weather was good so no problems, but not sure I would like to be on one in poor conditions. The week before I flew PHN-REP on Bassaka Air A320 for similar cost, which was much better.

Route: Siem Reap to Phnom Penh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Akasa Air

Title: "The worst airline and service"

Review: The worst airline and service! I have booked for the first time and this is the worst decision ever. I booked five tickets for me and my family including two senior citizens. All five of us were allotted with different seats and that too in the middle ones. If thats not cruel and unethical then what it is? We started our mini vacation with a very happy note but alas the Akasa Air has ruined in the final note!

Route: Delhi to Bangalore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "thank her for the kind hospitality"

Review: My wife and I checked in at Counter B-03 and we were greeted by a very friendly staff today at about 5.20 pm. After verifying our tickets, she even offered us a packet of peanuts that we love so much. We didnt ask for her name but we really want to thank her for the kind hospitality!

Route: Cebu to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "ground staff get a minus 5"

Review: Bangkok to Hong Kong. Upon entering Bangkok Don Mueang Airport, I knew I was in for trouble. The crowd rivaled Times Square on New Year's Eve, but with less security and less discipline. I went to a booth marked Air Asia help, but the lone lady attending confused passengers was working on her computer and completely ignoring people at the counter. After about 10 minutes she looked up and curtly directed me to a herd at check-in area 1. After 10 minutes in that line (which was marked "charter flights"), a passing Air Asia employee explained that this was the wrong area and directed me to another herd at area 2. 20 minutes later, when I finally reached the counter, the check in agent informed me that my tennis racquets were potential weapons and had to be checked baggage - but first they must be wrapped somewhere "over there". That was another line that took 20 minutes and cost 300 bahts- about 10 USD. Keep in mind that I was a premium "hot seat" passenger. It was now about 15 minutes before boarding time, and we still had passport control and security to clear. A sign at the passport line estimated a 45 minute wait. My goose was cooked, BUT, after 10 minutes in that line, I discovered that there existed a much shorter courtesy line for invalids, pregnant women, and seniors. (finally an advantage to my 72 years). That line still took 12 minutes, and it was now boarding time with security still ahead. That actually went quickly, and I arrived at the bus-remote boarding gate at last call. The flight itself was actually quite pleasant. The attendants were efficient, the pre-ordered food was tasty, and I had all of row 1 to myself. Later, at HKG, to my great relief, my racquets and suitcase arrived apparently undamaged. Thai Air Asia isn't responsible for all the chaos at DMK, but they are understaffed, inefficient, and not customer-oriented. Also, as a Star Alliance gold elite, I am accustomed to quick and competent ground staff. I would give Thai Air Asia onboard service a 7, but the ground staff get a minus 5.

Route: Bangkok to Hong Kong

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Canada

Title: "This airline needs to wake up"

Review: The customer service agent at the Montreal-Trudeau airport was nothing but ignorant, the expression on her face was disgraceful and her lack of caring really showed. The flight got delayed for 1/2 hour than an hour and now 3 hours. I will miss my connecting flight and all charges are on me. This airline needs to wake up if they want to continue transporting human beings and treat them as such. Very disappointing but not the first time. There is always some type of show attached to this company. Be aware.

Route: Montreal to Vancouver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "thank you Hawaiian for a job well done"

Review: Boarding at JFK's Terminal 4 orderly and efficient. Seats comfortable for the nine hour flight back to Honolulu. The cabin crew was awesome with their food and snack service. The complimentary wine with the meals is a nice touch albeit the only course was a vegetarian pasta dish with salad and cookie. The snack prior to landing was good as well, especially with the mac-nut chocolate included. The flight itself was extremely smooth with very little turbulence along the way. Of the various airline pilots from different companies which I have flown, HA pilots make the smoothest landings, well appreciated. HA's entertainment could use more varieties of movies, and definitely a wi-fi system on board which HA has none. All in all thank you Hawaiian for a job well done. Hawaii truly does fly with Hawaiian.

Route: New York to Honolulu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Qatar Airways

Title: "we have heard nothing"

Review: My daughter left her trumpet on the plane. We contacted Qatar Airways in December and they replied after three weeks in January saying that they had the instrument and would return it. Since then, despite the fact that we have sent many emails requesting information / updates ... we have heard nothing. In terms of customer service they have been terrible. The Qatar Airways flight flight was ok, nothing special.

Route: Singapore to Doha

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Airlink

Title: "Comfortable and on-time"

Review: Comfortable and on-time service with a super friendly and welcoming crew for my first flight on this airline. Even the pilots took time to engage with my 3 children, would not hesitate to recommend and fly Airlink again when back in the region.

Route: Johannesburg to Harare

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: British Airways

Title: "another great experience"

Review: Another really great pair of flights, on time, no problems at all, champagne was ok and my meal choices were great, the new club suite is a good improvement over the previous seat, in flight entertainment could have been better, cant wait to fly with BA again and enjoy another great experience.

Route: Newcastle to Las Vegas via Heathrow

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "Southwest is not a military friendly airline"

Review: I am writing as a concerned Officer in the United States Army. I usually only fly with United or American and took a chance with Southwest bc I needed direct flights for my kids. I have three children who need to fly to CA to be with family as needed, ages 5, 8, and 15. Ive never bothered to do early check in bc Im priority boarding but decided to do it this time since its w a different airline then what Im use to. My youngest being a 5 year old girl was given a seat in C24 when her brothers were placed in C11 and C 12. So naturally I called the airlines. The lady said she couldnt change her seat. I asked what about priority boarding for unaccompanied minors (the 8 and 5 year old) she shut that down. I explained I need my kids to sit together please. I asked about priority boarding for military. I explained they have military ID cards and I will have mine on me as I plan to wait with them at the gate to see them off. She said Sorry but no priority boarding for them, we dont do that. She was so rude. I explained these kids are new to this routine and it is the 5-year old first time flying w/o mommy with her. The southwest rep could not care less saying that theres nothing she can do for us! I was very angry. Seeing how less than 1% of the population serves our military one would think they would treat military members and/ or their kids better, especially with everything they go through. Southwest is not a military friendly airline.

Route: Dallas Love Field to Sacramento CA

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "Service quick, polite and courteous"

Review: Chiang Mai to Bangkok. This is a domestic flight connecting to an international flight to Bali DMK-DPS, so after check-in we were directed to immigration and go to the international terminal's waiting room. We were given a sticker to wear that indicates we are transferring international passenger which had gone through immigration. When it was time to board, we were directed to a lane that lead us all the way to the domestic terminal and the domestic gate that we were supposed to board from. This is a short 55 minutes trip at around midnight, but during a short hop like this the FAs were able to give us the hot meal we ordered and clean up before the plane lands! Service was quick, polite and courteous, done by cheerful and friendly FA's, and this is how flying a Low Cost Carrier airline should be! US airlines, and not only the LCCs, have a lot to learn from this Asian budget carrier on hospitality and service from these FAs who obviously likes what they are doing, even on a short midnight flight.

Route: Chiang Mai to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "suggest you steer clear of this airline"

Review: First and foremost, the fact that KLM kicked us off our flight last minute is completely unacceptable. This is a blatant disregard for their customers' time and travel plans, and it's frankly inexcusable. And to make matters worse, they put us on a connecting flight on my birthday, which only added insult to injury. It's obvious that they have no regard for our personal needs or preferences. The fact that KLM Airlines can't even provide basic reliability and customer service is truly disappointing. It's difficult to imagine a more frustrating and inconvenient situation than having our travel plans disrupted at the last minute, especially when it comes to something as important as a birthday celebration. In conclusion, I would strongly advise against using KLM Airlines for any future travel needs. Their inability to deliver even the most basic level of service is a clear indication of their disregard for their customers. If you value your time and sanity, I suggest you steer clear of this airline at all costs. The reason for their rescheduling was due to them overbooking the aircraft which caused us to get kicked off and put on another flight.

Route: Florence to Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: SilkAir

Title: "get what you paid for"

Review: Short SilkAir flight from Singapore to Medan one way. The ground service at Changi airport were very professional and boarding was smooth. The seat was standard for short haul flight and the plane seems very well maintained. The meal was average but I didn't make a big deal out of it since it was a short flight. Even though it was short flight, they still provided entertainment service via wireless connection. This is my first time flying with Silk Air and I will fly with them in the future. The price is premium though but you will get what you paid for.

Route: SIN to KNO

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Akasa Air

Title: "amazing cheap flexi fares"

Review: This was my second trip with Akasa and I enjoyed the flight and overall experience from Check in to Cabin services to meals. We landed before time which was great, the best part about Akasa is their amazing cheap flexi fares.

Route: Bangalore to Lucknow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Interjet

Title: "this company is not reliable"

Review: I booked a flight for June 23, 2020 for me, my wife and my son with Interjet in September 2019 via Expedia. Throughout the covid crisis I checked with Expedia if the flight was still valid and I was answered in the affirmative. On June 20, 2020 I called Interjet and I was informed for the first time that the flight was canceled by them and I was suggested to contact Expedia for the terms of cancellation and compensation. However after verification, no message from the cancellation was not sent to me by Expedia or Interjet. So as far as I'm concerned, I still haven't been notified in writing. If I cancel my Expedia flight on my own I advise that I will have a credit valid only until March 31, 2019 with no option to transfer the passenger's name. I am always ready to travel and I dispute that Interjet deprives me of my right to travel and only offers me credit with the most restrictive conditions. I therefore contest the actions of Interjet and claim my right to receive the service for which I paid a high price. Personally I believe that this company is not reliable, solid, credible and all it wants is to appropriate the funds without delivering the goods. I have my doubts about its viability after the crisis. J'ai réservé un vol pour le 23 juin 2020 pour moi, mon épouse et mon fils avec Interjet en Septembre 2019 via l'agence Expedia. Tout au long de la crise du covid j'ai vérifié auprès de Expedia si le vol était toujours valide et on me répondait par l'affirmative. Le 20 juin 2020 j'ai appelé Interjet et on m'a signifié pour la première fois que le vol était annulé par eux et on m'a suggéré de contacter Expedia pour les modalités d'annulation et les indemnités. Cependant après vérification, aucun message d'annulation ne m'a été envoyé ni par Expedia ni par Interjet. Donc en ce qui me concerne je n'ai toujours pas été avisé par écrit. Si j'annule par moi-même mon vol Expedia j'ai vu que j'aurais un crédit valable seulement jusqu'au 31 mars 2019 sans option de transférer le nom du passager. Je suis toujours prêt à voyager et je conteste que la société Interjet me prive de mon droit de voyager et m'offre uniquement un crédit avec des conditions des plus restrictives. Je conteste donc les gestes de Interjet et réclame mon droit de recevoir la prestation pour laquelle j'ai payé un fort prix. Personnellement je crois que cette société n'est pas fiable, solide, crédible et tout ce qu'elle veut est de s'approprier les fonds sans livrer la marchandise. J'ai mes doutes sur sa viabilité après la crise.

Route: Montreal to Cancun

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Malaysia Airlines

Title: "asking for a refund of seat purchase"

Review: I have no response from Malaysia Airlines from my initial 30 December complaint. I purchased a seat prior to 25 December departure (8F), at check in I was handed a boarding pass with 7F and in addition, the check in rep told me seat was 13A according to a pop-up. I explained I paid for 8F though. She said she couldn't explain why so told me to go to the service desk. I went there and the rep said I was moved to allow a family to sit together. I wasn't asked, I was just moved, twice. Of course I wouldn't wish to split up a family if they had young kids. On all my complaint correspondence (no response) I always attach my boarding pass (7F) and my itinerary with 8F. Has been 3 times I've contacted them (in 52 days). All I'm asking for is a refund of seat purchase. I paid unnecessarily as I wasn't given what I paid for. Why won't Malaysia Airlines respond to me? They took money from me and now avoiding me.

Route: Kuala Lumpur to Perth

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SriLankan Airlines

Title: "rescheduled without notice"

Review: The flight was rescheduled without notice. A journey which should have taken 12h became 24h and the passenger, my mother who is 77 years old reached home exhausted. She missed the train we had booked before the Airlines rescheduled the flight and finally missed the other train again as the flight landed late. It incurred additional cost as she could not benefit from early online bookings.

Route: Colombo to Frankfurt via Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Blue Air

Title: "the worst low cost company"

Review: I made a reservation with 3 seat purchase for me, my wife and my 4yo boy on a two way flight to Larnaca. A month before flight they informed me they changed the time of departure. With worse times of departure. I said fine.. it happens. Bad luck. A week before departure I receive another email that they changed again the flights with a day before. With arrival near midnight on both flights. I had to get another another stay for a night even if I get there after midnight. Why can I do? Sleep with my 4yo in the airport? Two days before flight I try to fill the online check in because the airport check in costs extra. I receive a notification that I must fill within 24 hours and I see that the seat for my child was moved to the back of the plane. I said that I cannot let my 4yo to stay separate from us so I paid to change the seat even though I already paid for the right seats when I made the reservation. One day before flight: I try to fill the online checkin. The website informs me that I need to pay again the seats full price. So I cannot fill the online checkin and I have to pay for it at the airport. In conclusion: this is one of the worst low cost company with a site that wants to fool you to pay things at least twice. Don't ever fly with BlueAir. I know that I won't.

Route: Bucharest to Larnaca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Fiji Airways

Title: Fiji Airways customer review

Review: This was my first trip on Fiji Airways - I was en route to Los Angeles through Nadi from Brisbane. It was on a Boeing 737 which has always been one of my favorite aircraft to fly. The experience was excellent. We were greeted warmly by the crew with a "Bula". The cabin crew were courteous, gracious and warm. I noticed that some of the flight attendants took particular time with children. The seats were quite comfortable, thanks in part to the significant amount of pitch and a wonderful foot rest. The food on the flight was tasty and served with courtesy. Each seat was supplied with a large and comfortable pillow as well as a blanket which made the ride more comfortable and made taking a nap quite easy. Departing the plane for my next flight was simplified by the cabin crew's excellent directions and instruction. I will definitely fly Fiji Airways again when there is an opportunity.

Route: Brisbane to Nadi

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: "good customer service"

Review: Overall a good experience. Flight on time, good customer service online and at the airport (Tel Aviv). Very nice and welcoming crew on board. Clean and nice looking cabin.

Route: Tel Aviv to Vienna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: TUI Airways

Title: "Nothing was too much trouble"

Review: Due to Storm Ciara our flight was delayed by several hours and then we flew to East Midlands airport with onward coaches arranged to Gatwick. The Captain, came into the cabin many times to keep us updated at every stage and to answer any questions. He also offered trips/pics in the cockpit. The crew were great too. Nothing was too much trouble. We would like to pass on our appreciation for the great communication during a difficult time.

Route: Kittila to Gatwick via East Midlands

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: flydubai

Title: "It is worst experience with this airline"

Review: Last year I had a pathetic experience with Flydubai, they cancelled the flight at the very last moment without any reason. I was travelling to Dubai from CCU. It got cancelled & no refund, only voucher & we have to book Emirates with a much higher price. This business model must change. This time it got delayed on both journeys for 1-2 hours without any proper clarifications. Upon asked, they will provide standard answer of technical issues, blah blah. It is worst experience with this airline.

Route: Dubai to Tbilisi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: China Eastern Airlines

Title: "Worst airline ever"

Review: Los Angeles to Siem Reap via Shanghai. Worst airline ever. Customer service is the worst. On July 25 we were scheduled to fly out of Los Angeles at 1230pm on China Eastern Airline flight 586 to Shanghai; however, the flight was delayed by two hours and we departed at 2:30pm. When we arrived in Shanghai on July 26, our connection flight to Siem Reap, Cambodia, flight number 513, had already left. The China Eastern Airline agent changed our flight and said he would give us two connection flights: the first connection was to Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam, then to Siem Reap. But, when we arrived to Ho Chi Minh city, the flight to Siem Reap was not booked by the China Eastern Agent; therefore, we had to buy 2 new tickets to Siem Reap. The flight delay from Los Angeles to Shanghai was not our fault but the airlines and were greatly inconvenienced. This was a horrible experience. I called and went to the office. Heard nothing yet.

Route: Los Angeles to Siem Reap via Shanghai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Volotea

Title: "flight went very well"

Review: The flight went very well. The crew on board was attentive. The price of the flight was not expensive. Very good experience. 4th flight on Volotea without problem.

Route: Tenerife to Lille

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "This airline has really gone downhill fast"

Review: This airline has really gone downhill fast. The staff is using the Covid excuse to be rude and inattentive to customers. They sit and offer little to no customer service. I am specifically referring to business class. They do not even serve drinks in business class. Supposedly COVID is the big excuse. I am not convinced as other airlines like United have returned to normal and offer full service in business class. This airline has become one of the most pathetic on most routes. Avoid if possible and don't waste your money on business class.

Route: Panama City to Medellin

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Transavia

Title: "seat was very uncomfortable"

Review: Very bad airline that falls under KLM. On the way there was a rude head stewardess who refused to do the safety demonstrations in English and did not speak English on the flight. So someone who doesn't understand Dutch doesn't know what to do. It is known that Dutch flight attendants have a very cold/rude attitude, also on this flight from Transavia and Stewards aboard with no experience. People who think to pay 9 euros extra to be sure that you can take luggage with you are wrong. Most of them still had to drop off their luggage. Food & beverages are extremely expensive. For 1 sandwich you already pay almost 10 euros. I would not recommend this airlines for flight for over 1.5 hours. The seat was very uncomfortable and extremely small.

Route: Rotterdam to Barcelona

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "rescheduled without advice to us by Scoot"

Review: This was the final flight of our ill conceived use of Scoot to fly to and from Vietnam. This was yet another flight that was rescheduled without advice to us by Scoot. Our original booking would have seen us travel from Ho Chi Minh City to Singapore to Perth in the course of a day rather than have an enforced stopover of 18 hours in Singapore which allowed time to eat, bathe and sleep before returning to the airport. Boarding was disorganised and the flight was delayed upon departure by about an hour. Our pre booked seats were changed without advice and we ended up four rows from the toilets at various times there was the overpouring stench of stale urine in the cabin. both my partner and I used the toilets and prior to her being able to use them she had to do a clean with disinfectant wipes and tissues. Disgraceful it reflects poorly on the airline, cabin crew and our fellow passengers personal hygiene practices. None of our flights with Scoot departed on schedule each flight was re scheduled without notification to us. What is unfortunate about this experience is part of our decision was based upon past travel with Singapore Airlines, Scoots parents company. It is not a good look to be associated with such a poorly operated and managed low cost carrier who has little care or concern for its passengers. In Singapore Airlines case its association with Scoot is a race to the bottom. Scoot is little more than riding a public bus.

Route: Singapore to Perth

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "I wouldn't recommend"

Review: Awful experience. Flight was delayed several times, ended up leaving 7 hours late. Only received email notification for 2 of the delays so was unaware of the final delay. Was sitting with a couple in the airport who were taking the same flight, they contacted Lynx and were told the flight was cancelled and so they rebooked through a different airline. Turned out the flight was not cancelled. At first it was "maintenance issues" then it was "delayed inbound flight". Couldn't get a straight answer. Flight was then overbooked and multiple people had to be cancelled. Once we were boarding the plane we were told seat numbers on our boarding passes didn't matter and to sit anywhere we wanted. I'm sure this caused annoyance for people traveling together as we were told it as we were walking inside the plane to our seats. Everything seemed very unorganized and chaotic. Return flight was a bit easier but still delayed over an hour. I wouldn't recommend this airline if you are looking for reliable and timely flights. Chairs had charging ports in them, but they didn't work. They did provide water which was nice. Didn't end up being much cheaper than other airlines once you pay for luggage.

Route: Kelowna to Calgary

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "uncomfortable and frustrated"

Review: My husband and I flew from Amman to Mumbai with Egypt Air 2 weeks ago and had a so-so experience in business class. The only disappointment was the main entree which was inedible. Other than that we were able to lay down and sleep, which made the flight better. However, the horrible experience was on the return flight today (2/17/23) from Mumbai to Cairo in an old Boeing 737. The plane was terribly old, the seats awfully uncomfortable it was a red eye flight and we couldn't even lay down. And this was Business Class! We were uncomfortable and frustrated that this could even be called a business class flight! On top of that, the TV screen was horribly small and the earphones didn't work. I couldn't sleep and I couldn't entertain myself to pass the miserable time onboard. Surprisingly, the short segment from Cairo to Amman was on a newer plane (Airbus 320) and the seats allowed for comfortable reclining and the TV screens were much better along with the movie selection. Why use a better plane for a short segment (1 hour and 15 minutes) but use an old dilapidated plane on a red eye flight?

Route: Amman to Mumbai via Cairo

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Breeze Airways

Title: "great flight in both directions"

Review: I hadn't even heard of Breeze when I booked a non-stop round-trip ticket from Las Vegas to Richmond, Virginia. They had just added this obscure route. No one else offered a direct flight and they were $300 less than a similar flight that included one stop en route. Prior to booking, I checked out the reviews and overall rating, and prepared for late flights and lost luggage none of which happened. Great value, excellent flight on a new Airbus A220. Excellent crew and in-terminal check-in staff, both in Las Vegas and Richmond. On both ends the flights left on time and arrived ahead of time and the baggage service was fast. Instead of using the terms economy and first-class, they offer: nice, nicer and nicest more inclusive terminology. With Breeze, you have to do everything online and my recommendation would be to first time flyers to set up a real account first (not a guest account) and book the ticket. I booked as a guest then setup a real account, but they can't merge the two accounts. They deleted the guest account, but all of the texts for upgrades took me to the new account which didn't have my trip listed. I'm sure that will resolve itself when I book the next ticket. All communication is via email or online and it takes a day or two to get a response. It was a great flight in both directions.

Route: Las Vegas to Richmond

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: "We will never fly Frontier again"

Review: My family had pre-purchased tickets departing West Palm Beach Sunday, July 9th at 8:46PM. As we were arriving at the airport at about 6:00 we received word that our flight was cancelled. We were told that we could not get another flight out of W. Palm Beach until Thursday, 7/13. We were handed a card that we could use to process a refund.

The person at the ticket counter was working alone, and, since her terminal was not working was unable to help us other than to tell us we would have to find another flight ourselves. She phoned a superior several times asking for someone to come help her with the long line of angry customers that had, by now formed behind us. No one showed up. We eventually went on-line with our cell phones and determined that there was a flight leaving from Orlando Tuesday 7/11 and we booked flights. That meant we had to rent two cars, drive to Orlando, and then rent two hotel rooms for two nights. The flight that we booked leaving Orlando at 10:30AM was delayed multiple times, the last time because they needed to get a refreshed crew member to the airport, did not leave until after 11:00 PM Tuesday night. We will never fly Frontier again and we are now on a mission to let everyone else know that Frontier's customer service goals are to provide as little service to as few people as possible.

Route: Orlando to Philadelphia

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SpiceJet

Title: "The worst airline to fly with"!

Review: The worst airline to fly with in terms of time management. Last 5 flights I have taken with this airlines has resulted in dela . Todays flight is been already delayed by 1.5hr, which is very big disadvantage for me. The seats are uncomfortable and leg space is very minimal. Strongly don't recommend and not planning to take any further trips with this airlines

Route: Srinagar to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Blue Air

Title: "one of the worst airlines"

Review: I think this may be one of the worst airlines I have flown with for some time. I initially booked my flight on the basis of the basic fare without luggage and thought that it was fairly reasonable for a no frills flight. However i needed to add luggage later on and saw that it was over £65 each way. This did not include seat selection or any other benefit so I saw online that you could upgrade your ticket to include luggage, seat selection and meals. I decided to do this as it seemed that it would offer more comfort and if i was going to pay so much extra for luggage, i may as well include the others. The meals had to be preordered but i did not get what i ordered. You had to pay separately for drinks other than water. The waiting time for check in was a disgrace and i was in a queue for approx 90 minutes on my return journey and only passed through security whilst the plane was boarding which meant a rush through the airport to catch my plane. This was very stressful and then the "Premium" upgrade i had paid for did not include any priority boarding or any such benefit. The flight left on time and landed in good time. However it took over 45 minutes until i could pick up my luggage despite a very short queue in passport control. The staff were polite but all in all, i thought it was a horrible experience which worked out very expensive. My flight to Cyprus in the end cost more than i have paid for some long haul flights to the USA and SE Asia at almost £400 with luggage and meals included. I would recommend that you check the luggage prices and to steer clear of the food! I will not be using this airline again.

Route: Luton to Larnaca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Alitalia

Title: "a very comfortable way to fly"

Review:

Alitalia's Premium Economy is a very comfortable way to fly. On our recent trip from Amsterdam to Cape Town, we booked Premium Economy and - good to know - unlike others, Alitalia will put you in Business Class on connecting flights that don't have Premium Economy. A huge step up from many of the other airlines that will seat you in Economy. So those flights come with complimentary lounge access. Lounge in Amsterdam provided by KLM, which is just OK. Business class on board Alitalia is pretty standard but seats do have adjustable armrest that create a slightly wider seat, ample pitch and a little table in between seats that folds down. I was quite impressed with the catering, a traditional set up with a good pasta, salad and dessert. Service was fine. Connection in Rome is really easy as you are leaving the EU (no security). Our flight to JoBurg left on time with an early arrival. This is important because if the flight is late it will be handled at a remote stand, which easily adds 30 minutes to getting through the arrival process. Alitalia's premium economy is wonderful. Really comfy seats with great recline, quite adequate for sleeping. Avoid the first row, because leg space is really reduced there. seats are in a 2-3-2 arrangement with 2 rows on the side and 3 in the middle. Second window row is really the best. A nice amenity kit was handed out, pre departure bubbles in plastic cups. Meal service was upgraded and somewhere in between economy and business class. Proper linens, china and silverware were used. I had a great sleep on this flight. Breakfast was very basic. Service from the staff could be warmer, but nothing to get upset about. Arrival in Joburg was okay with a short wait at immigration. Alitalia sells a connection to Cape Town (which we took) on SAA, but they 'don't partner' which means if anything happens that will make you miss your connection they will point fingers to each other. We made our connection but trying to make some sort of a change in the trip was impossible because of this.

Route: Amsterdam to Johannesburg via Rome FCO

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "Thai Airways as we remember it is no more"

Review: Thai Airways always had subpar operations but at least they had good food, relatively spacious cabin, and smiling (if not the most efficient) staff. After the pandemic, even the few remaining strengths have now disappeared. From my experience from my last interaction I can safely say that Thai Airways as we remember it is no more. It is now one of the worst airlines in Asia. This is why - my flight got delayed but no one at the check-in counter mentioned that and there was no status change when I checked online. After waiting 3.5 hours, the flight was delayed a further 3 hours. Again, no emails or texts - just the airport screen showing the update. Then the flight suddenly got cancelled. Again no communication from Thai in this regard. No Thai staff to be seen anywhere at the Chennai airport and we could not exit the security area so no way for us to contact Thai. I made three international calls from my mobile just to connect with Thai Airways in Bangkok. The saddest part was that their customer service people said they had no way to contact their staff in Chennai. That's when I knew Thai had hit bottom. Their local phone lines are literally disconnected and the staff "helping" me at the airport were wearing Air India uniforms. Only airline in the world which abruptly cancels their flight but their website even after 48 hours shows the flight took off and landed on time! If I get a refund I will be lucky.

Route: Chennai to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: TAME

Title: "pathetic customer service"

Review: We made plans to visit Ecuador for May 2016. Unfortunately the earthquake of April 16th destroyed one of our destinations, Manta. It was too late to make changes and my wife did not feel safe with the possibility of aftershocks and even more earthquakes. Cancelling required much effort. Everyone (Delta, Air B&B, hotels) were happy to refund 100% of our money and they did so quickly. Everyone except TAME of course. After many phone calls, and emails, and me going through a very long process of getting the refund, then agreed to refund us 100%. They said it would take up to 20 working days. It has been over 20 working days and still not refund. I called TAME and I guess that the refund department has no phones and all they could do is email them, which of course I have been doing weekly. I get zero returns to my emails. Pathetic customer service; beware. If I do get my refund I will follow up on this post, to be completely fair.

Route: UIO to MEC

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Delta Air Lines

Title: "Worst customer service"

Review: Worst customer service. They change the flight timing after you book your preferred flight. We booked flight with less lay over time and Delta kept changing the timing so frequently according to their wish and now the lay over is more then other flights. They say you can change the tickets if you like and are not happy with the current flight time change. But all the other flights are so costly and asking me to pay more than 1000$ for flight change. I did not request a flight time change. Delta did and asking me to pay the price difference if I wish to change my flight timing. Me and my kids were traveling together and had one reservation number. I called customer service to see if I can make my kids travel using the unaccompanied minor service. Without even checking if it is possible or not, the customer service agent went ahead and first separated my kids and my reservations. I will never book tickets in Delta ever again. Greedy worst airline it is.

Route: baltimore to indi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Transaero Airlines

Title: "delays without any reason"

Review: Food is horrible. Served the same rice in breakfast and lunch. Soft drinks are served without ice. No alcoholic drinks served in economy class with or without payment. Flight delays without any reason. No compensation for delay even if it is more than 5-6 hours. In-Flight entertainment in Russian language.

Route: New York to Delhi via Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: ANA All Nippon Airways

Title: "cannot reach them by phone"

Review: Though ANA is a very good airline, and both the planes and lounges are great, the lack of customer service at this time is very frustrating. You simply cannot reach them by phone. I have spent countless hours trying to reach them. Covid is just an excuse to save huge money on service. Plus, there are no walk in offices. This will be the last time I use them. If you cannot make a change, or cancel, what is the point? The website keeps showing errors. Useless.

Route: Bangkok to Los Angeles via Tokyo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "staff on board was rude"

Review: First of all the front desk ladies were very sweet and helpful, I can not complain about them. Now lets start, the staff on board were rude and did not seem bothered with the clients at all. After the safety instructions were done, they simply went and buckled themselves in, not one of them came by and checked to see if any of the passengers were buckled in. When we arrived my sons car seat was booked in as special baggage, well thank you for breaking the chair into two pieces. The car seat was thrown on the floor in the middle of the conveyors where you collect your bags. We asked the people at the kiosk where we should collect the special baggage, they simply pointed to stuff thrown on the floor and there was where my sons car seat was thrown. When we flew with Mango on the 4th they brought my sons car seat to us to the kiosk on a trolley as it should be but to throw someone's baggage like it garbage is disgusting. Staff have no personality, no drive and no respect for your clients goods. When we flew with Mango again on the 4th of Feb the pilots were excellent, they kept telling us and informing us where we were, but the pilots of flysafair did none of that. I regret not flying with Mango again and regret that I used your services. I will never be you client again and I advise anyone not to make use of your services!

Route: Johannesburg to Cape Town

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Austrian Airlines

Title: "Worst customer service"

Review: Worst customer service at the boarding area, personnel on boarding gate are so rude, needs to be thought good manners, doesn't even ask nicely and demanding, from the person who demanded to check in the luggage, he said he is the supervisor. The one in the counter just threw the passport instead of handling it. The lady on the gate shouted to not to be in the way. No one is smiling.

Route: Newark to Vienna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Transat

Title: "one of our luggage never came"

Review: Toronto to Zagreb, I wish we had one good thing to say except one friendly flight attendant that made small chat. The rest of the staff seemed out on a mission to make passengers suffer. I was woken up from sleep bc the mask slid off my nose. To make it more interesting, while having the meal, the flight attendant reminded me to have a mask on. At the end of the flight an attendant reminded me to have the seat up. I showed her by pressing the button that the seat is broken, it doesnt go up. She pushes on it and again it doesnt move. She gets angry and argues that she is doing her job. She brings another attendant who says that the attendant is doing her job. I repeat, the seat is broken. She pushes the button. The seat doesnt move. At That point she is shaking the seat with full force and two hands manages to move it up. And to end the trip one of our luggage never came. Its been 4 days now and there has been no communication form air transat on the status of our lost property.

Route: Calgary to Zagreb via Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "worst airline customer support"

Review: One of the worst airline customer support I have ever encountered. Until now, living in Singapore was spotless but Jetstar has ruined that. I booked the flight wrongly and tried to cancel the booking under 1 hour, which is also their 1-hour-fix policy condition. Unfortunately, Jetstar did everything so I couldn't use this policy. I was unable to cancel the booking on the website (no option to cancel or change the destination), call the customer service to ask the same (it was outside of their working hours) or get any meaningful support from their virtual assistant (referring me to the same website that cannot execute the 1-hour-fix policy). When I called them the next morning, they refused to cancel my booking and required me to pay the change fee (if I wanted to change). So, their 1-hour-fix policy only works between 6AM and 10 PM, when their phone customer support works. Makes me really sad and hurt to see that these kinds of things can happen in lovely Singapore.

Route: Singapore to Phuket

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Iberia

Title: "placed in random seats on the back"

Review: Be cautious when booking. I paid in advance $40 per ticket to choose my seats (two window and two aisle on the same row 28) and was placed in random seats on the back. There were no excuses, no compensation and they would not issue me a refund. The excuse via email was that when the plane configuration changes the seat assignments may change as well. The plane had not changed and I was seated in a middle seat, first row. The tray table was broken, the screen would slide down continuously and I had no room for my personal belongings. Avoid flying Iberia and if you must, be very cautious because they are sneaky without shame.

Route: Madrid to New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "put on standby for the flight"

Review: Before my trip to Vietnam, I booked with KLM, first put on standby for the flight to Paris, then also put on standby for Ho Chi Minh, then to Hanoi I was not on the passenger list. The flight I was supposed to have was now full. A ticket is no guarantee to actually fly! What makes it worse; it's business as usual, so as a passenger you just have to deal with it. Employees were disinterested and even completely unwilling to help at Schiphol. Was stunned that KLM's service level had dropped to this level. Finally got in touch with customer service; apologies and the message that I did arrive at destination so that's why they don't apply compensation. They also indicated that it was normal that a flight was overbooked and that you could be placed on standby. Wanted to speak to a manager, but they said they would close the case and stop responding to my emails. Horrible start to the holiday and cringeworthy service. Ben voor mijn reis naar Vietnam geboekt bij KLM eerst standby gezet voor de vlucht naar Parijs, vervolgens ook standby gezet voor Ho Chi Minh, daarna naar Hanoi stond ik niet op de passagierslijst. De vlucht die ik moest hebben zat inmiddels vol. Een ticket is geen garantie om daadwerkelijk te gaan vliegen!! Wat het erger maakt; het is de gewone gang van zaken, dus je hebt het er als passagier maar mee te doen. Medewerkers waren ongeïnteresseerd en op Schiphol zelfs totaal niet bereid te helpen. Was verbluft dat het serviceniveau van KLM naar dit niveau was gedaald. Uiteindelijk contact gehad met de klantenservice; excuses en de boodschap dat ik wel op bestemming was aangekomen dus daarom hanteren ze geen compensatie. Ook gaven ze nog aan dat het normaal was dat een vlucht overbooked was en je standby geplaatst kon worden. Wilde een manager spreken, maar ze gaven aan de case te sluiten en niet meer op mijn mails te reageren. Afschuwelijke start van de vakantie en tenenkrommende service.

Route: Amsterdam to Ho Chi Minh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "I have not received the funds"

Review: I asked to postpone my flight for a later date and they then told me that they had refunded me (1 month later and after me following up every week because they just do not respond to emails), I have not received the funds and I have been communicating with them back and forth since September 2022, they told me that the refund was made in October 2022, it is now January 2023 and I have still not resolved this issue. They now tell me that they have refunded me and no deposits will be made on their behalf.

Route: Johannesburg to Paris via Cairo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Malaysia Airlines

Title: "staff are its only saving grace"

Review: 3 small Kababs for dinner, then lights off. Breakfast inedible - we tried each of the three on offer. Poor selection of entertainment. No true Transit through KL - an excuse to steal duty free bought in Bangkok. Discriminatory checks of hand luggage - my bag was with a locals and 3 cans of beer went through, my daughters were taken. We like Changi. No drinks between Bangkok and Kuala Lumpur, even international Business Lounge in KL, in a time warp, no drinks. Onboard staff are its only saving grace.

Route: Brisbane to Bangkok via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "the worst customer service"

Review: Flight was cancelled not Ryanair's fault it was French air traffic control - however, at the airport no one from Ryanair cared one bit, not one helpful staff member, I was sent from one desk to another no staff member had a clue what to do in event a flight was cancelled. Getting a refund was made very hard but I didnt give up, now I have a problem getting a simple email to verify my flight was cancelled, I need this for insurance claim for other expenses like car parking etc. Ryanair do not care one bit, I spoken to them on chat the staff are totally useless asking questions that are so irrelevant, then they send links that are also of no use, they are the worst customer service Ive ever dealt with in my life. Ive flown with them for decades but never again Id rather walk! Absolutely useless every last one of them, Ive sent about 30 emails and every time asked for a simple email saying my flight was cancelled they cant seem to be able to do it. Worlds worst company avoid at all costs.

Route: Stansted to Faro

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Porter Airlines

Title: "a thieves' practice"

Review: Flight cancelled due to weather conditions. Re-scheduling suggestion didn't work for me, so I cancelled the booking and requested a refund. Horrible customer service, took 30 days for first review. They refused to give me the money, only a credit. But I am a foreigner not planning to use Porter anymore, and don't have friends in Canada to transfer the credit. So the money stays with Porter, who didn't provide the service, that blames the weather, but I am the one who got screwed. Seems a thieves' practice.

Route: Toronto to Quebec City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: La Compagnie

Title: "a ton of legroom"

Review: We heard about this new airline and decided to give it a try. The price seemed quite reasonable for what we were getting. This is an all business class airline. The price was not much more than flying economy on other airlines. We read the reviews and were aware of time changes and flight cancellations that have occurred in the past. This was not a business trip, so we were a bit flexible. We flew from Newark to London and then back a week later. Our flight out to London was delayed by about an hour, but we got plenty of notice and it did not affect it one bit. On the way home, our flight took off a couple of hours early, but again we got plenty of notice of the flight change. Truth is the early departure worked better for us, so we were not unhappy with the change. Check in went very smoothly. No lines and the staff were very courteous and friendly. We were traveling light, 2 suitcases between 3 of us, but it is nice to know that if we decided to buy something large, it could fly back with us as a piece of luggage. Once checked in we went straight for the lounge. Nothing special, but much better than sitting in the regular waiting area. You get some decent food and drink before you board. If you wait till the end, someone will come around and remind you when it is boarding time. As a business class passenger you get to take the short security line. Truth is that at both Luton and Newark, it did not make a big difference as lines at both airports were short. Apparently this airline has two Boeing 757 planes. We rode on both. On the way to London we rode on the newer plane. The seats are so much nicer than any I have been in before. They have a ton of legroom, I could not touch the seat in front of me. The seats go almost flat. The seat controls are not intuitive, but you can figure them out if you play with the controls enough. The most important controls are the ones that convert the seat to a bed and the one that converts it back to a seat. The newer 757 is nicer. It has more bathrooms and there are no wires to charge the entertainment tablets. The seats also end up a bit flatter in bed mode. Entertainment wise, you get a nice big Samsung tablet. On the older plane where the tablets need to be plugged in, quite a few were running out of battery during our flight. A bit annoying, but if you kept the tablet in the cradle in front of the seat and left it plugged in, it was not an issue. The selection of entertainment was a bit slim. There were 6 TV shows to watch and about a dozen movies. Lucky for me there were a couple of movies I had not yet seen so I was kept entertained. Food wise, no matter what this is airline food and it is not fine dining. With that said, they did the best they could. The fruit was very fresh and the deserts were really nice. Another nice touch was real silverware and cloth napkins. I'm not a drinker, so I can't comment on the wine and champagne offered on the flight. When I shop for anything, I look at value for the money spent, not just the cheapest price. Value wise I would rate this airline very high. There are only 76 passengers per flight, so you don't feel like cattle getting herded to the slaughter house. The staff is very well trained and friendly. If you don't mind the chance of a flight change, the value is hard to beat. I would use La Compagnie again.

Route: LTN to EWR

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Druk Air

Title: "fantastic little airline"

Review: We recently flew business class New Delhi to Paro and Paro to Bangkok with Druk Air. They are a fantastic little airline being only one of two airlines serving Bhutan. We were on a trip via Delhi to Paro for 4 nights and then onto Bangkok. Both flights on time, lounges were shared and of a good standard. Both flights considering Paro being one of the worlds most difficult airports to land in were flawless by the flight deck.. some amazing views en route and pointed out by the crew. Food and beverage were of a high standard and plentiful for 2 hour flights combined with excellent service from very professional and delightful Bhutanese crew. Would certainly use again. Only point out being there is no Entertainment or wifi but the views en route you dont need it !

Route: New Delhi to Bangkok via Paro

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Breeze Airways

Title: "awful lack of communication"

Review: Our 5pm flight was delayed due to mechanical issues. For a couple of hours, the captain gave somewhat frequent updates that a spare plane was coming but delayed due to weather. All understandable. 3-4 hours later, we get a final update that the spare plane had launched and the crew was going to get some food in the meantime, then they all left with their luggage. At 9.30pm, we get an email that the flight is delayed until the next day. The lone service rep at the desk would either tell you to check the app/emails or just walk away. They refused to communicate anything over the loudspeaker, so fellow passengers were having to yell out updates to each other about new flight times, where to find luggage, etc. We will never fly Breeze again due to this awful lack of communication while leaving us stranded and scrambling 6 hours after our flight time.

Route: Orlando, FL to Fayetteville, AR

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: US-Bangla Airlines

Title: "my experience was satisfactory"

Review: Cox's Bazar to Dhaka with US-Bangla Airlines. The check-in process was smooth. The plane arrived exactly on time. But had to refuel for 15mins. We were on a full family trip. The staff was friendly and helpful. The seats were a bit tight and narrow. Food was average. Landing was smooth. We got our baggage in time. I don't know about others, but my experience was satisfactory.

Route: Cox's Bazar to Dhaka

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Fiji Airways

Title: "crew was friendly, welcoming"

Review: Nadi to Melbourne. Fiji Airways was a pleasure to fly with, the crew was friendly, welcoming and made us feel like we were at home. As it was only a short flight we had one meal, which was okay for aeroplane food. Cabin was clean, and the flight was smooth. They have inflight entertainment on the Boeing 737 - although not state of the art, it was drop screens every three rows, but it would keep your kids occupied. Would definitely recommend Fiji Airways.

Route: NAN to MEL

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: AirAsia

Title: "when it was time to board no wheelchair"

Review: My wife has problems with her knees and has great difficulty with stairs so we notified the person at the counter, they asked can she do stairs, I said no she can not. They said ok and charged us for wheelchair. Then she had a wheelchair brought and said I was to push it. I declined and she sent for someone. We had a layover in Kuala Lumpur and when it was time to board no wheelchair, and a long ramp and then she had to climb stairs anyway. When we arrived in Danang again no wheelchair. And nowhere to contact customer service to get our money back. Never again.

Route: Penang to Danang via Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "inexcusably rude treatment"

Review: The single worst airline I have ever flown with in my whole life. I have flown with Ryanair about a dozen times and probably 10 of them were late by more than an hour. Not to mention the inexcusably rude treatment customers receive. Unprofessional. It may be cheap but it feels even cheaper than it is. Cherry on top, had to wait another hour for the suitcase.

Route: Sofia to Berlin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: flydubai

Title: "we had a really bad experience"

Review: Unfortunately we had a really bad experience with Flydubai. Their service is rubbish, stuff not experienced not polite. Poorly talking to people and trying to tell you indirectly its a cheap flight so its a cheap service. Please save yourself time, effort, stress day and fly a good airline. Its a clean plane but not happy with the staff and even the service staff at terminal 2 not nice as well.

Route: Dubai to Ankara

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "The baggage allowance is a scam"

Review: The baggage allowance is a scam. I have paid for it was not allowed to take my small standard cabin luggage in. The staff were too keen to take more money off me. This is the second time its happened.

Route: Nice to Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: VivaColombia

Title: "price of the ticket"

Review: Medellin to Barranquilla. VivaColombia is an airline if you want travel for business or a short time. The experience on ground is not very well, the staff is not very friendly. The best of this airline is the price of the ticket. Need be more nice with the people and the internet service is confused. I dont need that, I only want to book the travel.

Route: MDE to BAQ

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "Think twice about booking Jetstar"

Review: Singapore to Bangkok. I booked a flight for 5 to Bangkok, choose my seats and paid in full. On the day of departure I was informed at the counter the flight was full due to overbooking and I had to take the next flight. Jetstar offered compensation of $150 vouchers for future booking. They will not offer cash vouchers. This is ridiculous as payment has been made in full. Why would I want travel vouchers for another flight with Jetstar? What makes Jetstar think I would want to fly with them in future. Think twice about booking Jetstar.

Route: Singapore to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Sky Airline

Title: Sky Airline customer review

Review: Lima to Santiago. One of the worst airlines I have flown. We were put on and off the plane twice for two separate mechanical issues. Then they lost our luggage and the gate agents were clueless on what to tell people. I eventually had to buy a new ticket on a different airline.

Route: Lima to Santiago

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "The worst airline in the world"

Review: The worst airline in the world, our trip was on August 29, they canceled the flight at the last minute, they offered an alternate flight almost until the next day without giving security of the connection in Panama, collecting the luggage was a nightmare, the lady at the counter He did us the favor of transferring us to United Airlines because we needed to reach our destination the same day United Airlines charged us for the full baggage ($160) money that to date I have not been able to recover, there is no direct telephone number to make the claim, only via email and every time I send an email they tell me to wait 19 business days for the refund of the money and from 10 to 10 we already go for 1 month and no money. La peor Aerolínea de Mundo, nuestro viaje fue el 29 de agosto, cancelaron el vuelo a último minuto, ofrecían un vuelo alternativo casi hasta el día siguiente sin dar seguridad de la conexión en Panama, recoger el equipaje fue una pesadilla, la señorita del counter nos hizo el favor de trasladarnos a United Airlines porque necesitábamos llegar a nuestro destino el mismo día United Airlines nos cobró el equipaje completo ($160) dinero que hasta la fecha no he podido recuperar, no existe un número de teléfono directo para hacer el reclamo, únicamente vía correo electrónico u cada vez que envío un correo me dicen que espere 19 días hábiles para el reintegro del dinero y de 10 en 10 ya vamos por 1 mes y nada del dinero.

Route: San Francisco to Costa Rica via Panama

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "didn't know how to smile"

Review: As someone who travels frequently, this was the first time I encountered a staff that didn't know how to smile or appear willing to help. This issue was not limited to a single staff member; the next desk had the same attitude. Since this was a work trip, my colleagues also had the same impression about the whole crew. It's not just about their lack of willingness to work; it's also the attitude that made me feel like I was doing something wrong or that I was an unvalued person who didn't deserve good service. I was not going to write a review but they forced me to do this with things that happened afterward. My bag has not arrived with me. Their staff assured me that my bag would be sent directly to Porto. Trusting their words, I didn't even think about tracking my bag during my 5-hour layover in Lisbon. Why would I? I have learned that my baggage was not even checked into Lisbon airport. Consequently, when I arrived in Porto, I had to wait a long time for my bag. I notified the lost bag department and missed my paid train home. I was exhausted and disappointed, not knowing what to do without my presentation materials. They called me whoever I was talking to (Stacey) was the only good thing about this airline. She was nice. I spent around 60 euros because of them. (paid ticket, presentation materials, clothes etc.) However, the other airline companies I know generally pay compensation right away. Here, they are asking you to fill out a form to claim your money. It is well designed for you to give up and not be able to fill out the form to claim your money. In any way, the time I lost, the frustration I had for a couple of days. These were all enough for me to never ever use this company. This was my first experience with American Airlines, and I am sorry that it turned out this way.

Route: Philadelphia to Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Batik Air

Title: "definitely book with them again"

Review: Jakarta to Jogjakarta. A great flight with Batik. I booked this flight two hours before departure and I was very satisfied with the experience given the low price. Flight left on time and arrived in Jogja 30 minutes late due to storms on arrival. I'm thankful for the generous baggage allowance. Crew was friendly and attentive. Would definitely book with them again.

Route: Jakarta to Jogjakarta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: easyJet

Title: "axing massively many flights"

Review: Once again, EasyJet has cancelled another flight. This time has been from Rome Fiumicino to London

Gatwick. They are cancelling many flights and it seems nothing is happening to EasyJet. They should be seriously be investigated and take the necessary measures to avoid they play with customers. I try to change to another date and customer service by phone were quite unhelpful and little comprehensive. European Union or the right organisation should look into them. Unfortunately, I booked a few more flights with them in the future and I feel really unconfident and stressed thinking about flight with them and would really wish to cancel them receiving the full refund. In fact, they have been in the news saying they are axing massively many flights and ruining holidays thousands of customers. As well, I read on news that their staff are pressured and working over hours. Hence cancellations.

Route: Rome to London Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "I will choose Jetstar again"

Review: Yangon to Singapore. Very Nice Trip. Flight on time and seat is comfortable Flight attendants are very friendly and very impressed. This is my first time flown with lost cost airlines but they make me very impressed. Starting from the purser to all the cabin crew all are very friendly and they talk very polite and a very comfortable flight. They also remind passengers to notice the time difference between Yangon (Myanmar) and Singapore. Both landing and take off was smooth. I will choose Jetstar again because of them. Wish I will meet them soon on the coming future.

Route: Yangon to Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: American Eagle

Title: "Dont fly American"

Review: Philadelphia to Myrtle beach. Sat on the tarmac while pilot told us weather was bad. Flight cancelled and returned to gate. Rebooked 24 hours later. No one offered meal or hotel. Turns out it was not weather but a technical issue. Why can airlines lie and get away with it? Dont fly American.

Route: Philadelphia to Myrtle beach

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: French Bee

Title: "it's good value for money"

Review: I don't understand why everyone hates on this airline. I flew from Paris to San Francisco and back in May 2019. The plane was new, enough space, great service, perfect entertainment program, relaxed bag rules (if you read the booking rules carefully and purchase the extras), courteous stewards, safe feeling inside, good food, unlimited supply of water, clean, punctual. The only problem is the booking process, which is a bit counter-intuitive, but this has nothing to do with the flight itself. I'd really recommend French Bee. The prices are super cheap also, so it's good value for money.

Route: Paris to San Francisco

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Airlink

Title: "professional and all smiles"

Review: Kasane to Johannesburg. Boarding with 15 minutes late due to late inbound. It was a full flight, once boarded and after we had taken off, the flight attendant came through with the trolley and offered a chicken sandwich. The sandwich was tasty. We hit quite a bit of turbulence once through it the flight attendant continued the service. The flight attendant was quite professional and all smiles.

Route: BBK to JNB

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: bmi Regional

Title: "BMI did not tell the truth"

Review: Munich to Bristol. Passengers were fed a cock & bull story about an excess weight problem for the flight meaning it would not be possible to land, as the weather conditions in Bristol were too bad (which later evidence showed had no foundation). This information came after being held on the bus at the gate at the airport for 40 mins waiting to be taken to the aircraft. Three volunteers (for a generous fee) were therefore asked to travel on the later plane. The plane was nowhere near full when it set off. On arrival at Bristol, at least 10 of the passengers' luggage had been left in Munich including mine. We were told the bags would be on the next flight and I was told mine would be with me that evening. When I chased that night, I was told there were no couriers available and it would come the following day. I called BMI customer service to find an explanation for the lack of honesty regarding the delay and problems with this flight and was told to complete an online form. The automated reply to this form said it would take up to 30 days to respond. Nothing after that time so I chased them. A further two weeks without contact and I had to call again. No alternative explanation could be given and no real apology proffered. I am left feeling that BMI did not tell the truth about issues with the flight, passengers were disrespected and the customer service follow up did not live up to what I would expect of this airline. Would not readily choose to fly with them again.

Route: Munich to Bristol

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Alaska Airlines

Title: "6 days and counting to get bag delivered"

Review: On a direct flight cannot get the bags for the customers on the flight given 2 hours to get it through TSA security. Then, upon getting the bag delivered 12 hours later, takes 6 days and counting, to get a bag delivered to the customer who lives 2 hours away from the destination.

Route: Seattle to Houston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Japan Airlines

Title: "a disappointing experience"

Review: Melbourne to Osaka via Tokyo, transferring from Narita to Haneda in Tokyo. Overall this was quite a disappointing experience, considering how much more expensive JAL is on this route than other carriers with a single stop. On all legs the cabin crew were great - very welcoming, responsive to requests and eager to please. All flights operated on time. The seating was fine, though there is very little storage space in the B787 business class seat. In Melbourne JAL uses the Marhaba lounge, which is OK but offers no hot vegetarian food options. At Haneda airport the JAL Sakura lounge has great views of the runway, but food and drink choices were very limited (tea, coffee, soft drinks and rice crackers only). No welcome drink prior to take-off was offered on any sector, but after take-off the cabin crew were very efficient in meeting any requests. Unfortunately the vegetarian meals were never Japanese, and ranged from bland to unpleasant (I'm thinking of a certain vegetarian hamburger). On board the domestic flight from Haneda to Osaka Kansai the seat was very comfortable and the service was excellent - but only tea, coffee and soft drinks (no snack) were served. JAL does not help business class passengers or provide tickets for the transfer between Narita and Haneda airports in Tokyo. You have to make your own way. I enquired on check-in in Melbourne about that, and was just told vaguely that "there is a bus". It feels like there is a great airline in there struggling to get out, but held back by obvious penny-pinching.

Route: Melbourne to Osaka via Tokyo

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Batik Air

Title: "3 weeks to speak to someone"

Review: Old plane that was dirty and had broken seats. No option to checkin online. Return flight was cancelled and then 3 days after I returned home I received an email to say the flight had been rescheduled. Takes 60 days to receive a refund. Customer email doesnt work. Took me 3 weeks to speak to someone.

Route: Sydney to Bali

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Tunisair

Title: "It was like a nightmare"

Review: This is by far the worst airline I have ever traveled with in my entire life. My flight was 4 hours late so I missed my connection to Barcelona. I had to stay for 24 hours at the airport with no food, water or hotel. My passport was held by transit officers there and I was not allowed to leave the transit room at all. They lost my baggage tag and my boarding pass. I asked for a hotel room to stay the night and they just shout at you and don't reply. I slept on the floor in a very cold room like a prisoner, I am not exaggerating but I felt like I was imprisoned. They wanted money just to let me out of the transit room to buy some water. Very very bad. It was like a nightmare. They have no one to complain to, no customer service, no email replies, no phone replies, simply nothing! Next day I arrived to Barcelona to find out that my luggage was missing. I filed a report and after 20 days my luggage is still missing, not only this but my baggage tag has been lost by the transit officers there. To add to this they never have a flight on time, all their flights are delayed.

Route: Cairo to Barcelona via Tunis

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "customer service terrible"

Review: My wife and I traveled to Phuket in September 2015. After travelling for over 24 hours we arrived in Singapore to find that Jetstar Asia had cancelled our flight from Singapore to Phuket for no apparent reason. We had to purchase new tickets at more than double the original cost. After returning home we have been trying to get refunds for these flights that we paid for twice. Jetstar Asia has largely ignored our requests for months now. Their customer service has been absolutely terrible and I would recommend that you avoid using this airline.

Route: SIN to HKT

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: China Southern Airlines

Title: "thank all the airport staff"

Review: During this covid situation, everything is harder than usual. Really thank all the airport staff for helping me. Especially the ground service, they are so patient and helping me to carry my heavy baggage. They control the situation for swab test and everything.

Route: Singapore to Guangzhou

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "worst customer service"

Review: Orlando to Guadalajara. Worst airline, worst customer service. They damaged my luggage and they said they are not responsible. They don't care, they didn't try to find a solution.

Route: Orlando to Guadalajara

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "We were seated separately round trip"

Review: I've been traveling with my wife for over thirty years (hundreds of flights) and never had the issue of being seated separately. We were seated separately round trip. I can only conclude they just don't pay attention to this, but they kind of seek it.

Route: San Juan to Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "Shame on you"

Review: Dubai to Manila. To not allow people with a one-way ticket on the aircraft is an absolute scam! I was not allowed on the plane until I showed I had a ticket to leave Manila. It is obvious that this is a scam to try to get people to buy another Cebu ticket. There is no immigration law or policy that states that I need to have a ticket to leave the country before I am permitted to board a plane or enter the country. Shame on you.

Route: Dubai to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Porter Airlines

Title: "forgot to put it back on"

Review: They lost our luggage on a one hour flight from Sudbury to Toronto. One of our checked bags made it however the other did not. The reasoning was due to an off loading and unloading error. Meaning they took it off and forgot to put it back on. Absolutely ridiculous, almost comical the care factor from the luggage people. Do not recommend unless you plan on traveling with no luggage.

Route: Sudbury to Toronto

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air New Zealand

Title: "Very disappointed with Air New Zealand"

Review: Very disappointed with Air New Zealand. Ill avoid flying with Air New Zealand if I can in the future. On both occasions this year it has departed late, 45mins when flying to US and One hour this time flying to Asia which made me miss a connection in the US and recently bags did not arrive at final destination due to late arrival for connecting flight. Barely had 30mins to run to connecting terminal. Also running out of food in Biz class is a first. On the occasion Ive flown biz class with other airlines Ive never experienced this. Portions were very small and Im a small eater. Barely had any service for snacks in between meals So was quite hungry. Service wasnt impressive by comparison to other airlines. I think Air New Zealand can do better and spend $ on improving service plus departing on time rather than fancy adverts.

Route: Auckland to Singapore

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Ethiopian Airlines

Title: "promised me to refund me within 10 days"

Review: My flight was cancelled on September 10 and they promised me to refund me within 10 days. After 10 days they said 2 more weeks. Next it was 4 to 6 months. I wonder what they will tell me next.

Route: Vienna to Zanzibar via Addis Ababa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Batik Air

Title: "the crew did an amazing job"

Review: So my entire family of 11 members was flying back where my uncle suddenly fell ill and the crew did an amazing job in making him feel comfortable. They gave him blankets, medicine and even hot coffee. Further gave my aunt and sister a different place to sit so that my uncle can sleep and rest. Special thanks to Aira for the extra help. In general the entire crew of OD208 did an amazing job!

Route: Delhi to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "Good in flight service"

Review: Dubai to Cairo. Long queue at boarding desk but checking was smooth, they had allotted our seat a day before journey and send the web boarding on mail, they had given us aisle and next to aisle. The aircraft seating configuration was 2-4-2, we wanted to change to window but as no window were available for 2 to seat together. But when we boarded found that no one was seating beside us means we 2 share 4 seats, that was comfortable. Flight departed and arrived on time, aircraft was clean good leg room, breakfast was good, we selected for special (hindu) meal and it was provided. No alcoholic beverage on Egyptair. Good in flight service. Overall good experience and can fly again.

Route: Dubai to Cairo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Xiamen Airlines

Title: "Super cheap tickets"

Review: Seattle to Tokyo via Shenzhen & Xiamen. Super cheap tickets, lack of information before and during trip, some airport confusion if you're really out of it or don't speak Chinese. They provide a hotel if flying all legs of trip on Xiamen Airlines with overnight layover, entertainment and food caters to Chinese tastes. I speak Mandarin, so I rate this flight a 8/10. Screaming deal of a ticket booked in 12/2016. Super nervous after receiving email in January 2017 of seat cancellation for the first leg of my trip (Seattle-Shenzhen). Customer service doesn't speak English. Got a call back in Chinese (my Chinese is ok, but not my first language) and took about 30 minutes plus another 30 minute call back to realize that the seat No I requested was cancelled and not the seat on the flight. Over next few months, received a few more e-mails stating that flight times had changed, even though they were the same as when we booked them. Still felt insecure about whether or not our trip would really happen. No online check-in for foreigners. We show up at the airport and have an easy check-in. Heard that Xiamen Air provides a hotel which the airport staff confirmed. Arrived at Shenzhen to some chaos - they separate the transfers passengers, people are confused as to where to go, but are shepherded by the Xiamen air staff. Waited about 45 minutes with several other foreigners to get my boyfriend's 24-hour transit visa which allows him to leave the airport. Disembarked at Xiamen, shepherded again by the staff to pick up our baggage. Many of the foreign passengers did not know about the hotel that Xiamen air provided us with, since we all arrived around 9pm and had connecting flights in the morning. They expected to sleep on the floor of the airport. Followed signs to the reception desk that makes lodging arrangements. Showed our passports and tickets and provided with a room at the E-Charms Hotel in Xiamen. If you are travelling alone, they will pair you with someone of the same gender. The hotel is about 10 minutes away from the airport and costs about 15 RMB one way. Although the room provided was free, we had to cover our travel expense both ways to and from the hotel. I think this is strange. If you are only going to and from the hotel, the cash machines up on level 2 allow you to take out 100 RMB. Hotel was nice for Chinese standards! Continued to Tokyo in the morning. Flights were all around ok - seats were good enough, entertainment and meals were Chinese oriented - we ordered vegetarian meals. They were stingy on the drinks and don't add ice unless you ask. Warm beers on international flights, but grab them early.

Route: Seattle to Tokyo via Shenzhen & Xiamen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Cathay Dragon

Title: "inflight service is okay"

Review: Hong Kong to Osaka. Cabin crew work efficiently and provided a warm welcome when we board. The flight has little delayed but overall is acceptable. The inflight service is okay. the aircraft quite old and is not cold enough.

Route: Hong Kong to Osaka

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Cathay Pacific Airways

Title: "satisfied with the trip"

Review: The flight was about 60% occupied. The economy class seats are just alright, about the same as other airlines. The entertainment is nice, screen is large. Plenty of movies/shows and documentaries. The cabin crew are responsive and quick to approach me when I pressed the bell for help. Meals are pretty good. I also bought the WiFi which cost $20 US dollars for the 2hr 40 mins flight. The service quality is about the same pre-pandemic. All in all, I'm satisfied with the trip overall.

Route: Hong Kong to Shanghai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Corendon Airlines

Title: "Not recommended"

Review: Not recommended. Online Check in is mandatory, but did not work on the German website. Only the UK Website worked. Bad service, stressed crew, we felt unsafe.

Route: Heraklion to Hannover

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air India

Title: "not friendly to customers"

Review: I travelled on AI171 from Ahmedabad to London Gatwick on 20 th April and during beverages I asked cabin crew for two cans of beer, so was served. Later I asked for more Beer and cabin crew lady said you can have later. I waited two hours and I called and asked and she said I can't have beer. She was not friendly to customers. Also TV screen was not working.

Route: Ahmedabad to London Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Tianjin Airlines

Title: "Good amount seat recline"

Review: Xian to London on 10th Feb 2020. Aircraft only 3.5 years old. Good amount seat recline with charger available, however the entertainment system need an upgrade. It is the coronavirus outbreak at moment, the crew did an excellent job measuring temperature and disinfected the aircraft. Excellent cabin service. I went back to spoke with cabin crew, they are willing to share their stories and experiences. The lack of entertainment system is covered by the excellent crew service.

Route: Xian to London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Garuda Indonesia

Title: "service could have been much better"

Review: Denpasar to Sydney. There is a big difference with Garuda depending on the configuration of the aircraft. Unfortunately this flight was the old configuration and was not a true lie flat bed. The IFE on Garuda is never great but this was as poor. Garuda also seem to struggle in Business Class when the flight is full. I have to say that the service on this flight could have been much better. On boarding there was no introduction by the FA, we then had to wait for an hour to get a glass of wine off the crew and this was not replenished without asking. As it was a late flight there was not dinner service and the breakfast. was tasty but service was haphazard. Overall not the best experience in Business Class.

Route: Denpasar to Sydney

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Nok Air

Title: "would use NOK air again"

Review: Booking with Nok air was simple and easy. Got a confirmed flight and at a great price. Checking in at Khon Kaen Airport was different as I know it is a tiny airport but was easy and swift. Overall the flight was fast and simple. Yes it is a budget airline but at least they gave you a small snack and water and the option to purchase food as well. Plane was clean and tidy and the staff very friendly. 55 mins and was in BKK. Duration from check in to landing around 2 Hours. By bus it would have been 6.5 hours. So would use NOK air again for sure.

Route: Khon Kaen to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "adamantly refused our request"

Review: Penang to Melbourne via Singapore. Our flight TR423 experienced a delay of approximately one hour due to an inbound flight delay. Upon our arrival at the Singapore airport, the crew members on TR423 requested that we move to the front seats in order to facilitate a quicker disembarkation. I would like to extend my appreciation to those Scoot crew members for their assistance. However, upon reaching Gate 35 at 2:20 am, I encountered two Scoot ground members who not only failed to provide us with directions to the gate as expected, but also informed us, along with five other passengers on the same route, that we were not allowed to proceed to the TR18 gate. Instead, they insisted that we go to terminal 3 to catch the Singapore Airlines flight SQ207 to Melbourne. During this time, one of the passengers was chatting with a friend on TR18 via WeChat and was informed that the TR18 flight was still at the gate, with the door open and waiting for us. We immediately conveyed this information to the Scoot ground members, emphasizing the urgency of the situation. Shockingly, despite being aware of the situation, the two ground members adamantly refused our request and directed us to the SATs Lounge. When I inquired about the refund for the Economy to Economy Plus seat upgrade that I had paid for, I was simply told to contact Scoot online for assistance. As a result of their refusal, the doors of TR18 closed promptly at 2:55 am, preventing me from boarding the flight.

Route: Penang to Melbourne via Singapore

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: bmi Regional

Title: "they say payment was made"

Review: The flight Paris to Bristol in April was cancelled because the captain didn't like the look of something on the plane. Instead of an early flight we eventually got to Bristol after midnight, not much use for the work planned that day.

Their way of fooling you is simple: agree quickly that you deserve the 250 euros compensation, but then do nothing. When you complain they say the payment was made, that it then came back to them, or whatever. It's now September and I realise they never had any intention of making the payment.

Route: Paris to Bristol

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "top 3 worst airline"

Review: Milan to Stockholm via Prague. In my personal top 3 worst airline in Europe. The only time I had to fly with them for business I got delayed because of the rain in Prague. I missed my connection and then the usual happened : no indication where to go, priority line closed at transfer desk, having to wait for hours to get another flight, staff giving incomplete indications etc. My day of work was lost because of them. Compensation was almost nonexistent. If your flight as any little problem, they will let you down.

Route: Milan to Stockholm via Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "the poorest customer service"

Review: I will never again book with Ryanair - the poorest customer service I have ever received in my life. We booked our flights out to Pisa (for our Wedding this August - 11 months later) last Sept and just 2 weeks after booking they changed our flights by 5.5 hrs going out and 7 hrs coming back. To add insult we paid for their most expensive flights to get good flight times to make the most of our Wedding holiday, as did 40+ of our guests too; and they put us onto their cheapest night flights that are still selling online now dirt cheap. Its 4.5 months on since they changed our online booking (no notification, we just found by fluke by logging in), but when we rang they said they cannot change the flight until it is confirmed then we will receive an e-mail to be able to request a refund or accept the new flights. I call every month and e-mail every month but I get the same text book answer you can change your flights when you receive your e-mail of the change, which could be up until 3 months prior to your flight date - So Ryanair's customer service answer is wait 6 months until all other flight prices are sky high so we cant afford to request a refund and must accept our overly inflated cost of night flights, as we bought them under false pretenses. We have 10 children all under the age of 10 with us, some are babies and were now stranded on a flight home at 10pm after we lose our accommodation at 10am, due to Ryanair's poor duty of care and customer service.

Route: Stansted to Pisa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Philippine Airlines

Title: "probably last time flying PAL business"

Review: My first and probably last time flying PAL business. The flight was delayed 3 times; there was no vegetarian or fish meal available in any of the flight, and it was not possible to pre-order the menu online. No sparkling wine "because unfortunately it finished" - so i only had a starter on BKK-MNL leg and no food on MNL-POM leg. The lounge in Bangkok had terrible food (how on earth one can find such food in Thailand?) - super fat udon noodles, rice and some fried snacks. The lounge in Manila food is not great either but better than the lounge they use in Bangkok. Nice dumplings. No in flight entertainment nor working internet on BKK-Manila flight.

Route: Bangkok to Port Moresby via Manila

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Xiamen Airlines

Title: "all unbelievably awful"

Review: I had 4 flights with Xiamen Air during one trip. First flight (Guiyang-Fuzhou) was delayed for an hour. 2nd flight (Fuzhou - Kuala Lumpur) was fine and with no problem. 3rd flight (Kuala Lumpur - Fuzhou) was delayed for two hours, 4th flight (Fuzhou - Guiyang) was cancelled. They replaced last flight with the flight next morning (provided transfer and hotel) and this flight is delayed too! Right now we're sitting inside the airplane and waiting for the info on how long delay is. Each time their excuse was - air traffic. That's all unbelievably awful!

Route: Guiyang to Kuala-Lumpur via Fuzhou

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sun Country Airlines

Title: "I will never fly Sun Country again"

Review: We arrived hours early enough to get in line. We were met by the apocalypse! There was a huge long line that was never ending. We got in line and were in line for two hours. This was the line to check a bag NOT security. There was such mayhem that they eventually just starting calling out flights and having people jockey to get up to drop bags so that the plane could leave. This turned into one giant cluster. Everyone was pushing and there was no line. To top it off they were not fully staffed to handle the number of flights that were departing. I have never seen such incompetence in my life and I fly often. I will never fly Sun Country again. They knew their flight schedule and number of passengers ahead of time and could have planned accordingly.

Route: San Antonio to Minneapolis

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "Do not check in your bags"

Review: Mexico City to Houston. Do not check in your bags. I paid to check in 2 bags and things were stolen. I did not realize it until I got home. I called numerous numerous times and nobody would let me do a report because I had left the airport. They do not care about the customers.

Route: Mexico City to Houston

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Caribbean Airlines

Title: "one year later and still no refund and lies, lies, lies"

Review: I paid for my ticket in February 2020 but because of Covid my flight got cancelled. I applied for a refund because my Father received a refund for the same Day returning flight. It is now February 14, 2021, a year later and all I have heard is excuses and lies! They even had the nerve to block me on Facebook rather than issue a refund. They even said a refund was issued and after 14 days said it never was and I should receive it soon, one year later and still no refund and lies, lies, lies. So disappointed in my Caribbean Airlines position in this matter.

Route: Toronto to Trinidad

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Loganair

Title: "I cannot praise them enough"

Review: My flight from Manchester to Norwich on 21st December was unavoidably delayed due to heavy fog in Norwich. The pilot came out to the passengers to explain this and paid particular attention to two elderly customers who were in wheelchairs, even offering his (only) coat to one. He stayed with us the entire time and updated us constantly. The cabin crew brought us mince pies and were very comforting. I cannot praise them enough for the service provided and won't hesitate to recommend & use them again. The flight itself was smooth and the pilot landed safely in tremendously awful thick cloud. Thank you.

Route: Manchester to Norwich

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jeju Air

Title: "a great airline"

Review: Osaka Kansai to Seoul. Very good flight. The menu was easy and cheap. Staff were friendly. Not only on the plane but the check in staff and the boarding staff. They could also speak English. Still would prefer Asiana more than this but Jeju is a great airline.

Route: Osaka Kansai to Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Mauritius

Title: "very good experience"

Review: Mauritius to Beijing with Air Mauritius. Very smooth check-in, immigration and security procedures at MRU airport. The A340 aircraft was a bit old but comfortable enough. Extremely good service by staff onboard and discrete meals. On-flight entertainment system could be improved but overall a very good experience.

Route: MRU to PEK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "kindness and smile should still be free"

Review: Even though I am an American, I was offended how rude they were with Serbian people. I fly 50 + flights a year and I have never seen such rudeness. I found the culture of flight attendants to be rude and pathetic. I know it is a low cost airline, but kindness and smile should still be free.

Route: Nis to Stockholm

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: SATA Air Azores

Title: "flight attendants nice and friendly"

Review: Ponta Delgado to Funchal. The seating in the plane was relatively narrow. The plane made a well-maintained impression. The flight attendants spread a nice and friendly atmosphere. The drinks were adequate, but the food should be thought over. Better a few cookies than a dry roll. Overall, you can rate this flight as average.

Route: Ponta Delgado to Funchal

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Israir Airlines

Title: "please avoid this company"

Review: Israir experience counts among the worst flight ever. No information beforehand (everything online is in Hebrew only), el al security theatre (augmented by the fact that the target of the airlines are elderly Israelis, who live in different century). No clean information about the hand bag policy - resulting in huge chaos and charging 50$ for a small Ryanair backpack of 4,5 kg! No in flight service, menu on board is only in English with no clear pricing. Despite the plane was half empty - to change the seat the crew required extra payment even after boarding completed. The flights are always delayed due even though the flight duration is incredibly overestimated. If you can, please avoid this company - below Ryanair quality and highly overpriced tickets.

Route: Prague to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jazeera Airways

Title: "Never flying on Jazeera again"

Review: Worst airline, worst crew, worst airport and worst experience. The flight was delayed for 3 hours and a half, staff is unprofessional and rude. Aircraft is old and uncomfortable. Never flying on Jazeera again.

Route: Kuwait to Jeddah

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Finnair

Title: "missed my first boarding point"

Review: In case if You run into any problems with Finnair you will be met with absolute ignorance and absence if any help from management team. I was flying with combined ticket and because I missed my first boarding point - my flight was canceled. I successfully made it to the second boarding point 5 hours before the flight and Finnair refused to restore tickets although it wouldn't cost them any effort. I had paid for both tickets and had a place booked on the plane. It was absolutely impossible to reach their support on the phone or via email. I am extremely disappointed in Finnair as airline company because they have terrible customer service and don't care about the problems of their customers.

Route: Dublin to Bangkok via Helsinki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Edelweiss Air

Title: "ridiculously tight seating"

Review: Las Vegas to Zurich with Edelweiss Air. Ridiculously tight seating in Economy class made this one of my least relaxing long-haul flights ever. Being a relatively standard size (190 cm) I was surprised to find that I simply couldn't sit normally without my knees touching (or rather pressing hard into) the seat in front of me. When the passenger in the row in front of me reclined his seat, I felt like a sardine - with badly hurting knees. Sleeping was completely impossible, and hadn't it been for the nice and friendly crew and the above average IFE that helped kill the 10 hours I was wide awake, it would have been my worst flight ever. Avoid this airline in Economy class at all costs if you're taller than 165-170 cm.

Route: LAS to ZRH

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "Very disappointing experience"

Review: Very disappointing experience. London wouldnt check us in the whole way so there was a huge queue in Helsinki at the boarding gate to get our documents checked again. Secondly, I had 3 lots of seat changes to my flights without asking and or notifying me of the changes. I selected 1A in advance months prior. I noticed I was moved to another seat before departure. Spoke to customer service via chat who said 1A was blocked and unserviceable. I then moved seats online to my second choice to then find in Helsinki I had been moved again and dumped in a seat right next to the engine. And of course, when I boarded the flight someone was sitting in 1A when I had been told the seat was blocked and not serviceable. I feel like this airline doesnt care about their customers in business class and they just blatantly lie about everything. I gave them the opportunity to rectify the issue, including providing complaint/feedback before departure which was not replied to. So its obvious they couldnt care less about the quality of their business class experience.

Route: London to Singapore via Helsinki

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: ZIPAIR

Title: "I was a couple minutes late"

Review: I paid for three flights, but only flew once, and there's no refund. For the last flight I was supposed to take they wouldn't issue a boarding pass because I was a couple minutes late for their rule to check in 1 hour before departure. So, it ended up costing me over $2,000 to fly another airline because of their rule.

Route: Honolulu to Tokyo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: NIKI

Title: "I got customer not found"

Review: Vienna to Abu Dhabi return. We booked our flight with FlyNiki from Vienna to Abu Dhabi and return. The inbound flight was okay, web check in worked like a charm once I called Etihad to see why I can't check in with them, and they pointed me to FlyNiki. One suitcase got devastated (no wheels left in Abu Dhabi) but they are not to blame. The problem came with the return flight. I tried checking in as usual on their website, tried the confirmation number first and got error: customer not found. Then I decided to try the tickets and lucky me, I got checked in. This however was not the case for my family. Every time I tried checking them in I got customer not found. I have tried contacting them the very same night with no success (their Abu Dhabi toll free number doesn't work). Finally gave up and contacted them via the online form (after almost 30 minutes of struggling with the thing). Next day I woke up and tried all the numbers I could find - Abu Dhabi airport, Etihad, Toll free number (all of these cost money to call) with no success. Not knowing if my family even had a chance of flying I contacted the hotel's concierge, who was lucky enough to get me through to AirBerlin. Now comes the funny part: the guy on the line confirmed all tickets are valid but I wasn't checked in, nor had any other passenger on the flight. The flight was empty. So I asked him if we go to the airport and check in there, would it be possible to get seated one next to each other (at least my wife and the kid). He said it's not a problem. Going to the airport the flight turned out to be full and it was only because of the kindness of the Etihad staff that we got adjacent seats. The thing that angered me the most was they did answer the contact form on their site 2 hours before the flight saying: We also want to inform you that for this reservation wasn't made any check-in for any of the tickets. The airport has already took control over the tickets so a check-in directly at the airport will be necessary. They don't even know what's happening with their own reservations.

Route: VIE to AUH

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vietnam Airlines

Title: "I have no complaints at all"

Review: Two legs with them Hanoi-Huè and Da Nang-Can Tho. Both aircrafts quite dated but clean and in good condition; Cabin crew kind and professional. My impression was that Vietnam Airlines is a reliable and valuable company. I have no complaints at all.

Route: Hanoi to Hue

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Tanzania

Title: "indifference to customer service"

Review: Mumbai to Zanizibar via Dar Es Salaam. As I have not been able to take this flight, my review covers customer service and booking issues with Air Tanzania. In November 2019 I booked two return flights with Air Tanzania. On receiving the e tickets, I noticed that my surname had been duplicated, thus rendering the ticket invalid. I immediately contacted the airline, via their on line contact page and a further email as back up. To date, I have received no response from the airline. I know that my emails have been received because the Air Tanzania sales office in Mumbai were copied in and have acknowledged receipt. I have made an official complaint, even copying in the Tanzanian Ministry of Transport who have overall responsibility for the airline. Once again, no response. I have thus been forced to cancel the tickets, which apparently are not refundable. I would urge potential travellers not to use Air Tanzania. Their indifference to customer service is well documented. I just hadn't realised how bad things are

Route: Mumbai to Zanizibar via Dar Es Salaam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Beijing Capital Airlines

Title: "flight was pretty painless"

Review: I took the overnight Beijing Capital Airlines flight from Phuket to Sanya. It was mostly empty, maybe 30 people on the entire plane. They gave me a sandwich but did not have black coffee though. Only coffee with sugar and milk mixed in. The flight was pretty painless. I had to check in at one terminal and then take a shuttle bus back to another terminal to enter the gate.

Route: HKT to SYX

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "some parts could be improved"

Review: Frankfurt to Chicago in Business. My journey started with a friendly check-in in Frankfurt. Although the Business lounge before entrance to Z gates was very busy, there were enough seats. Food and drink options were very good with a big choice of alcoholic (sparkling wine, spirits and beer on tap) and non-alcoholic drinks. On board the service was fantastic. The female crew member in my section was very friendly and attentive. Business seats in 2-2-2 configuration with a lack of privacy and storage space, but they are still comfortable. IFE had a very good selection, although the quality of the screen could have been better. The food was very good, both taste and presentation. Drink selection was great including Champagne, a great Spanish red wine and raspberry brandy. One negative aspect was the missing free WIFI for Business class passengers. While there were different options available for reasonable prices, I think WIFI should be free for passengers in Business Class. Overall I was satisfied with Lufthansas Business Class while some parts could be improved.

Route: Frankfurt to Chicago

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "worst airline service"

Review: vBerlin to Delhi via Helsinki. 10 hours before (9pm) my journey I test positive for COVID 19 so like any reasonable human being I contact all my close contacts about the same, since Finnair customer care is anyway not open post 8pm in Germany. The next day I contacted Finnair about my situation and that I have missed my flight due to covid requesting a reschedule of my onward journey. The quote they propose for the new onward journey seemed a bit high as there were better options that flew directly to my desired destination thus, I suggested them to just keep my return journey from Delhi to Berlin. They do not reply to my email for a day and the next day informed me that since I missed my onward journey now my return journey is also cancelled. A journey which I had paid to upgrade from economy to business. The customer service is extremely rude and has no sense of empathy. The entire airline operates without a sense of caring about their guests and is just looking to scam the customer in its operating methods. I would highly suggest anyone to not fly this airline, you will be better off with the middle eastern carriers always because they always at least care about their guests, the customer service at Finnair is cold-hearted with no empathy towards their guests health. If you book your ticket from an agent then this is probably the worst airline service that I have encountered to date as they simply tend to pass the buck on the agent, a behaviour that I have never seen with other flag carriers like AF, SQ, EY or QT

Route: Berlin to Delhi via Helsinki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sky Airline

Title: "crew was attentive "

Review: I flew from Santiago de Chile to Punta Arenas. Sky Airline offers only Economy Class seating. The flight from Santiago to Punta Arenas makes a regular but short stop in Puerto Montt. For a low-cost airline compared to South American standards, Sky Airline was quite good. The crew was attentive throughout the flight. The pilot even mentioned when we flew over the famous Torres del Pain national park in Patagonia. We were served drinks on both legs of the flight. Seat comfort is okay for short to medium distances. Also, they don't have any IFE or wifi connection available on their Airbus fleet. However, I would definitely fly again with Sky Airline since it's great value for money.

Route: Santiago de Chile to Punta Arenas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lion Air

Title: "flight was not very comfortable"

Review: The flight from Jakarta to Berau was a mixed bag. The leg from Jakarta to Balikpapan was flown on a B737-900 on Lion Air, which was pretty much on time though the flight was not very comfortable with very limited leg space. However the flight from Balikpapan to Berau was delayed by almost 4 hours which was really irritating since the flight kept getting pushed by an hour at a time. They did give each passenger a compensation of 300,000 for the delay but which did not cover the fact that I had to shell out extra for a hotel room in Tanjung Batu since the connecting boat to Derawan was missed. The flight as such was ok but the next time would prefer to fly Sriwijaya or Garuda despite paying a slight premium.

Route: Jakarta to Berau via Balikpapan

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "Best value for money"

Review: Aegean Airlines are the best airline in Europe. They keep on doing an amazing job. Website and application are very easy to access, cabin crew are professional. New aircrafts and clean cabin. Best value for money.

Route: Prague to Cairo via Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air KBZ

Title: "pleasantly surprised by Air KBZ"

Review: Yangon to Thandwe and pleasantly surprised by Air KBZ. Snacks served onboard seats generally comfortable. Organisational issues with boarding and a slight delay in departure from Yangon. Check in at RGN was not very organised, however, once inside the departure terminal - ground staff were more helpful. They give you a coloured sticker to put on your shirt to ensure you get on the correct flight. Would use again.

Route: RGN to SNW

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Japan

Title: "worst airline I have flown"

Review: Tokyo Narita to Okinawa. This is the worst airline I have flown. The customer service is terrible. They don't answer any questions you have about fees. The seats are the most uncomfortable I've flown.

Route: NRT to OKA

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "charge you fees for anything they can"

Review: This airline will shake you down at the airport and charge you fees for anything they can. I followed every rule. One small backpack and still they charged 70 euros. Checked in online but their own barcode would not scan, cost 55 euros.

Route: Santorini to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Peach Aviation

Title: "luggage exceeded the total size by 5cm"

Review: We flew from Tokyo to Sapporo and the baggage size/allowance was absurd. One of my carry on luggage exceeded the total size by 5cm due to a slightly elongated handle and the service crew didn't allow it and insisted to be checked in with additional cost. The manager came by and initially said ok to bring on board but the service attendant kept insisting I needed to pay for check in. I eventually gave in and paid the 10k Yen but really, just a 5 cm at that cost? I have never encountered a worse airline than this.

Route: Tokyo to Sapporo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: bmi Regional

Title: "don't care about customers"

Review: East Midlands to Brussels. Customer services are not flexible at all and aggressive through the phone. Two weeks before the flight day I have contacted them to change a name on the ticket. Impossible because of company policy. This means I will fly with a seat free next to me. Even offering to pay for administrative fee or an additional return ticket. They don't care about customers.

Route: East Midlands to Brussels

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Belavia

Title: "Awful experience"

Review: Minsk to Astana. Awful experience. Flight attendants gave me the impression I was being discriminated for not speaking Russian. The other passengers were allowed to move freely while they kept telling me to go to my seat because of "turbulence". When I confronted them eventually they stopped it. Poor food and beverage quality. Old airplane. But the worst thing was the service. They didn't even give me an immigration card.

Route: Minsk to Astana

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetblue Airways

Title: "The worst customer service ever"

Review: The worst customer service ever. First of all received terrible service at the check in having a service dog. Second the flight was delayed for almost an hour. Went to get coffee, took me 10 min came back and the boarding was over How is that possible? The board was still showing expected, hey moved me to another flight to Fort Lauderdale. I cant believe that I got service like that today.

Route: Los Angeles to Miami

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "Worst airline ever"

Review: Worst airline ever. In the last year, more than four flights of mine were delayed causing a lot of money loss. The staff are disrespectful and the organization is terrible. They are changing their prices continuously, which makes the booking very, very annoying.

Route: Palma to Budapest

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "extremely rude and cheap"

Review: Absolutely the worst airline out there. Terrible seat, extremely uncomfortable, rude and unfriendly staff. No snack or screen on a 4 hour flight. They charged us 35$ for checking out one bag on the way to Punta Cana and 35$ again on the way back. They lost our luggage with our home key, car key and all our medications. Nobody accepts the responsibility. They are extremely rude and cheap. The worst airline out there. Stay away! I will never travel with Air Canada again and will never recommend it to anyone.

Route: Ottawa to Punta Cana via Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: easyJet

Title: "Worst experience ever"

Review: Worst experience ever. Since when easyJet reduced the size of the bags that we can bring on the plane, seems that the only objective of the people that are working on the on-boarding, is to make money! Shame on you, especially the operators at Napoli airport.

Route: Napoli to Geneve

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Airways

Title: "I would never recommend Jetstar"

Review: I would never recommend Jetstar for anyone. Terrible customer service, not fair at all, not good food and not responsible with well being of people. I had to pay $200 more for extra kilos (more than i have paid for my tickets) and in the end the baggage didnt arrive on my destination. Took half hour (at this point i was already crying) to someone come to help me with the missing baggage and as soon she came she told me they would refund me the $200 dollars as it was not fair i had pay for something than even didnt come in the fly. I never saw this money and my baggage just arrived 2 days after missing shoes on it. All my experience was disappointed.

Route: Cairns to Gold coast

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air New Zealand

Title: "Very disappointed"

Review: We had all boarded and then it was announced that there will be a 30 mins delay. Surely the staff would have been aware of this delay and not board passengers till issues resolved? But ok, things happen, no big deal. Then the food options were announced, absolutely disgusted with the food choices! Our flight was at 9.30am so obviously breakfast service, 2 choices were muesli with yogurt or egg & sausage fritter - no fruit salad, no bread roll. Nothing! Since we don't eat pork or beef, we ended up not eating anything at all! and the drinks were only served once. I have flown with this airline numerous times and drinks have always been served twice. So after delay flight, we arrived at our destination starving. Prices of fares have gone up while the rest of services provided have gone very down. Very disappointed and will most definitely will only be using this airline as a last resort. (if ever again)

Route: Auckland to Nadi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Korean Air

Title: "flight attendants super polite"

Review: The Korean Air service improved from about 70% satisfaction to 99% for me. The flight attendants were super polite and calm in every aspect of my flights. Their service was great and whatever the orders in whatever the time, it was fulfilled without any hesitation from them.

Route: Washington to Incheon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Titan Airways

Title: "most cramped flight I've ever been on"

Review: Flew Titan Airways from Arlanda to Rome Fiumicino. Smallest, most cramped flight I've ever been on. Entertainment required an application to be downloaded before flying, which was not clear before or on the plane. The cabin staff did not inform about this either. The cabin staff was pleasant enough and the pilot ensured a smooth ride.

Route: Arlanda to Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "failure at the C-suite level"

Review: Bad business practices on multiple levels. I have been corresponding for months with AA over a charge dispute that occurred when I called their 800#. I have emailed all the way to the C-suite, provided pages of back up and detail, and thought the issue was resolved. I have multiple communication with the representatives from AA that "there was no charge". Then, when my credit card bill arrives, surprise! There is a charge. So I politely contact them again and now all of the sudden I have to deal with a third party company and not them - "it's not their problem". Yet, I only ever contacted AA?? And they didn't know this 3 months ago? Bait and Switch or just poor service standards? As someone in the service industry, I have made it a point to be professional in behavior and in my communications. This is not a failure on the poor representatives they have contacting me. It's a failure at the C-suite level and that is a shame. This was an easy fix and they failed.

Route: Minneapolis to Venice via London

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "The worst customer service"

Review: Worst customer service. we were traveling to Manila with my friend. We arrive at the airport 7:20 then they told us that we were already late for our check in for 9 mins and we cannot board - the only way is to rebook our ticket for the next flight and we have to pay for another ticket. We want to talk to a supervisor or anyone in charge but their just sayin its all the same explanation that we will get from the supervisor. They didn't care if you miss your flight or you have to pay for expensive rebooking even the one in the check in counter was worst he just left from the counter. We end up paying on other ticket, then worst part they put us on the last part of the seat. The worst customer service.

Route: Tacloban to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "unprofessional way of making money"

Review:

At the airport, my hand carry bag was weighed to ensure it was within the maximum allowed 7kg. Since it was within the allowed limit, I was asked to weigh my computer bag as well. Then the total weight exceeded the 7 kg (marginally by 3 kg) and I was made to pay $60. This is a very unprofessional way of making money. It was as if the Jetstar staff were waiting to find an excuse to make me pay extra for something. I will do my best to avoid this airline in the future.

Route: Singapore to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Sun Country Airlines

Title: "refuse to answer your phone calls"

Review: They refuse to answer your phone calls (have been calling for the last three hours). They not only don't have the information from my itinerary, even though they emailed me the itinerary number and confirmation code. This is so embarrassing and such a waste of money to fly this airline. They take your money and don't provide any customer service after taking your money. When we got on the phone, they hung up.

Route: San Francisco to Boston via Minneapolis

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Aeromexico

Title: "terrible and dysfunctional airline"

Review: Just such a terrible and dysfunctional airline starting with customer service. The app is terrible, service has no interest in being of service, business class is nothing of the sort. Stay away.

Route: Orlando to Mexico City

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Iberia

Title: "Any kind of service was painfully slow"

Review: The aisle space was so tiny I believe it could be dangerous in an emergency situation. I couldn't even drag my small, carry-on suitcase through the normal way; I had to turn it on its side. The seats were arranged 3-4-3, a setup I haven't even seen on larger planes. It's greedy and ridiculous. In an emergency situation it's probably downright dangerous. We were packed in so tightly that we couldn't even get out without the person in the aisle seat having to move, or bend over to pick up items on the floor. My mom had pain and cramps the whole time from being jammed in so tightly. The PA barely worked so no one could properly hear what the captain was saying, and free wifi was advertised, but only actually given to people in business and first class. Everyone else had to pay extra if they wanted it. Any kind of service was painfully slow, probably due to the small aisles. However, the food was actually very good and the entertainment selection wasn't bad. We also weren't sent our boarding passes until a few hours before the flight, causing unnecessary anxiety. Additionally, we were forced to wear our masks for an 8-hour transatlantic flight. According to the CDC, wearing a mask while sleeping can be hazardous to your health and that's just what most people like to do on airplanes, especially long flights. If you want to feel like a human being and not a rat in a sewer, don't fly Iberia unless you're getting business or first class.

Route: Barcelona to Miami

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Pacific

Title: "Leg space was enormous in the exit row"

Review: Da Nang - Hong Kong 5/9-2017 on a newer A320. Check in took hardly one minute, smooth, luggage granted was generous and hand-luggage was not assessed. Flight on time. Jet bridge in HKG but bus-run in Danang. In contrast to the domestic (Vietnam) Jetstar this was two steps up. Leg space was enormous in the exit row (no. 14) that I got without inquiring or paying extra: 3 reclining seats for myself I could stretch, sleep and almost play football. Load less than 40%. Price promotional bought 6 months earlier. 150 USD DAD-HKG return is a gift. Staff on board friendly, generous, proactive, however, selling food more expensive like that in Danang Airport where food/drinks are more 6 times more expensive than 500 meter away!

Route: Da Nang - Hong Kong

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "the plane was not clean at all"

Review: Flight attendants are not prepared at all in managing and organizing the flight and the passengers. I had a problem in sitting in my seat and they handled the situation in a very unprofessional way. I had the feeling that they wouldn't care if I travel standing in the aisle and not sitting during the 10 hour flight and Im not over reacting! The flight attendant refused to give me his name then after I insisted he gave me his name and dared me to file a complaint against him! They treat Egyptian nationalities really badly. Moreover the plane was not clean at all especially during the COVID pandemic which is not acceptable. You find used napkins in between the seats from previous flights! Thats not all, they lost my 2 pieces of luggage in New York and they are still searching for it.

Route: New York to Cairo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Avelo Airlines

Title: "Customer service is inadequate"

Review: If you ever have to cancel your flight, they will conveniently lose your travel funds and youll never see them again. I spent countless hours sending them the proof that they owed me travel funds and they just said that they couldnt find them and that it was the customers responsibility to keep track. What a joke I sent everything that they had sent me. how can I give them travel funds numbers to research whats owed to me if they never gave them to me in the first place. Customer service is inadequate and in accurate and they do not care if you are owed. If they say they cannot locate your travel funds on their end it, then you lose. I will never ever fly Avelo Airlines again, and if I am asked by anyone in my area, how I like them, I will always tell them the full story.

Route: New Haven to Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "totally unacceptable time frame"

Review: Lufthansa cancelled my booked flights and issued me a refund notice. When the money failed to materialise after 14 days I called them. I was told the refund would be processed in 6 to 8 weeks and this is their usual time frame for tickets purchased in South America. This is a totally unacceptable time frame, passengers beware.

Route: Bogota to Milan

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Germanwings

Title: "staff were friendly"

Review: My boyfriend and I booked the basic fare from Hamburg to Rome Fiumicino. I didn't expect much because Germanwings is a low cost airline but it was great. The staff were friendly, when boarding was completed the pilot welcomed us all on board and although we had just booked the basic fare the stewardess gave us drinks for free. Departed and arrived on time. The first time I was in Rome I waited nearly 40 minutes for my bag but this time they were really fast. Would recommend flying with Germanwings.

Route: HAM to FCO

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aegean Airlines

Title: "flight attendants were nice"

Review: I recently had 2 flights with Aegean, both of which were not bad. RHO to ATH and ATH to AMS. On the 2nd flight, I did see an attendant walking around the airport waiting room looking at bags, but she never weighed or measured anything. Both times the planes were delayed, though in their defense, most of the time I've flown in Europe pre and post pandemic, flights are delayed. The flight attendants were nice on both flights - always smiles and always helping. They never seemed to be unhappy, and some of the best I've encountered. I was impressed that they served a light meal and a beverage on my 3.5 hour flight and beer or wine didn't cost anything. Tui on the other hand, for the same length of flight, charged for food and/or drink and the leg room was much smaller, though their TUI allows 10kgs of carry-on luggage v. 8kgs for Aegean. I'd rather have the luggage allowance higher than the light meal and drink. The major thing that was scary was that almost everyone had left the airport in Athens before my moms luggage came off.

Route: Rhodes to Amsterdam via Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Aircalin

Title: "service was perfect"

Review: Kansai to Noumea on Aircalin. Boarding was long : we were called to queue and than we were standing 15 minutes before gate opened. Onboard service was perfect. Food was good. If you want to sleep, the seat is not flat but was acceptable.

Route: KIX to NOU

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air France

Title: "a wonderful flight"

Review: The plane was spotless and very well maintained. The service was very elegant and welcoming. Food was almost as good as in a good restaurant. I felt very welcomed on board. I will fly AF in C again for sure. It was a wonderful flight.

Route: Paris to Santiago de Chile

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "Cabin Crew services has improved"

Review: Kuwait to Bangkok via Bahrain in March 2019(Business Class and was really impressed with their fantastic Boeing 787-9 (Bahrain - Bangkok) , though there were some poor service issues. I compromised it with the marvelous window seat of the B787-9 with the super privacy. Last month when I decided to fly in the same sector, I got a good deal on Gulf Air Business Class, same sector & same aircraft. This time what I noticed much was the Cabin Crew services has improved much better than the earlier flight but the food need to be improved. The Passenger announcement made was with crystal clear voice.

Route: Kuwait to Bangkok via Bahrain

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Bahamasair

Title: " Submitted my form 7 months ago"

Review: My family and I booked a flight with them for June 2020. The Bahamas was on lockdown due to COVID so the airline cancelled our flight. According to their refund policy involuntary cancelations are issued full refund. Submitted my form 7 months ago and have been waiting to hear back ever since. Have sent multiple emails and phone calls. Just tried calling again and people would answer in English and when I began talking started speaking a different language and put me on hold again. They finally disconnected me after an hour of waiting. Avoid this company! The idea of a little bit of savings isnt worth the hassle of dealing with them.

Route: Fort Lauderdale to Freeport

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: WOW air

Title: "you will waste time and money in the end"

Review: My husband and I booked our flights months in advance because they were such a great price. Leaving from Pittsburgh, the flights were only 299 USD with cancellation protection. It is a month before we are scheduled to leave and WOW air cancels both our leaving and returning flights. Most airlines that I fly with offer you a lateral alternative so that some indemnity is given to the customer. Not in this case. WOW air only presents customers with two offers: to cancel for a full refund or to cancel and receive a gift certificate worth the cost of your trip and an additional 25%. Although this seems like a nice offer, the tickets to fly out of Boston or New York (as they have cancelled all of the flights from Pittsburgh) are twice the price of what we originally paid. I think WOW air is betting on the fact that customers will have made reservations and would be hesitant to cancel. What a racket. My best advice would be to never book with this company as you will waste time and money in the end. I made some non-refundable accommodations that will now go to waste but in my mind its better than playing into WOW air's deceitful marketing strategy.

Route: Pittsburgh to Reykjavik

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: ITA Airways

Title: "Extremely expensive and inflexible"

Review: Extremely expensive and inflexible airline. I made an error in making my booking and rather than see it for what it was ITA took every opportunity to extract the maximum income out of me. They did this with relish (Ryanair would have been proud) showing no empathy or compassion or understanding whatsoever. An airline to be used at one's peril. If you book ITA book with them eyes wide open!

Route: Milan to London City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "uneventful and on time"

Review: Flight out was uneventful and on time. Return flight, all in daylight was OK but several passengers were supplied with alcohol when they were clearly already drunk. This caused two serious disorderly incidents which although dealt with by a number of flight crew was very worrisome. I am ashamed to say the passengers were British.

Route: London to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sunwing Airlines

Title: "flight home was another nightmare"

Review: Toronto to Cancun return. We booked our vacation with Sunwing 4 adults and 8 children ages ranging from 13,10 and 2 twin babies 1. They boarded us on our flight to Cancun leaving us on it for over 2 hours at the airport while they de-iced it before we even took flight - making a 3hr45min flight a 6.5hr flight without even providing us with a meal to feed our children but forcing us to purchase overpriced wraps. Our flight home was another nightmare. Sunwing boarded us onto plane platform leaving all passengers trapped in the tunnel as there was no plane to load onto due to a fuel leak - the ignorance we received from the staff that never once bother to explain what and why we were trapped in a tiny tunnel they wouldnt return our boarding passes so we could cancel and book any other flight home. The food was terrible, no space whatsoever, they didnt turn any shows on until flight was 3/4 over.

Route: Toronto to Cancun

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Greater Bay Airlines

Title: "avoid using this airline"

Review: Worst airline ever. They check your baggage weights one by one, and if it ever so slightly exceeds the weight limit set for carry on baggage, they will charge a unreasonably high price of around 100 us dollars for the check in baggage (780 hk dollars). Furthermore, the only reason, it seems, that they are not allowing online check in is just to make overcharge customers who have baggage that is slightly over the weight limit of carry on baggage. The staffs are very unfriendly. I highly recommend other airlines such as HKExpress, as the prices for their tickets are much lower even when we eliminate the 100 us dollar charge that this airline will try to charge you. Moreover HKExpress has 1 checked baggage per person under 20kg by default. Conclusion: avoid using this airline.

Route: Hong kong to Incheon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "IFE not working"

Review: Brunei to Kuala Lumpur. My seat at 43A, IFE not working, shortly all aircraft doors disarmed, I ask a female cabin crew if she can reboot my IFE. Inflight Entertainment System. She said later and walk straight away. 10 minutes after airborne, i ask her again if she has already done the restart, she looked lost and said she is doing it now. another 10 minutes gone, i approached a senior cabin crew and I ask her if I can switch my seat to the front (as the back rows were full) and told her my situation with the IFE. She is very reluctant to answer me that the front first three row (which is identical size to my seat but were reserved seat options) were for paying customer only. I told her if she can do anything for my as my IFE is not working. She said she will reboot the system. few minutes later, they start the inflight meal service. Crew were very busy doing meal services, so i just not be bothering asking anyone of them again. 15 minutes before touching down, il went to the lavatory and saw the same crew again and I told her my IFE still not working. Without hesitation, she answered I have restart the system, if the system not responding, there is nothing I can do. A very disappointed cabin services.

Route: Brunei to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thomas Cook Airlines

Title: "I won't give them another chance"

Review: We have used Thomas Cook Airlines on two occasions - both to visit Orlando and both with a long delay on the return journey. It took 12 years to have the confidence to use them again after a 24 plus hour delay - 3 small children 1-6 years in age left in a hotel more suited to business travellers wasn't ideal. Sadly, they failed to offer a satisfactory service this year too - a 5.5 hour delay, without the provision of food and drink we were entitled to. Put a claim in and guess what - it was due to congestion, which was out of their control! I won't give them another chance.

Route: Orlando to Stansted

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "none of them had received calls"

Review: I have booked tickets for 6 people. 4 hours before the flight take off I received a call from AirAsia customer service that the flight is cancelled due to technical issue. I was asked to take the next day 5 am call. I told them I had already started my commute to airport and try to find an alternate flight for the same day. 10 minutes later I got a call again stating that the technical problem got resolved and I can use the same flight. When I enquired with some of the co-passengers to find out whether they received similar call from AirAsia, none of them had received calls like that.

Route: Bangalore to Kochi via Bangalore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "Total disrespect from staff"

Review: Total disrespect from staff at B7 around 11:45 p.m. July 2, 2023, who requires additional training on how to handle customers who are frustrated due to delayed flights (we were respectful and desired the same toward us) even customers that's upset and not respectful as a customer service rep no one/she don't / did not have the right to be disrespectful, get smart/sarcastic. We just wanted an additional room and I knew it was possible, as much money as American Airlines make. She also said due to our reservations was made together, this was the reason we were given only 1 room. She needs additional training or termination if this is repeated actions of hers which should not be tolerated in her field of service! AA did at least, after we were assisted by a nice manager named Liz and another gentleman that was with her, we did eventually received free taxi/ shuttle service to a nice Hilton Garden Inn facility, 2 nice clean rooms, a meal ticket (of only $12, but still was nice to receive) and we also was booked on another flight the next morning.

Route: Charlotte to Mobile

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Condor Airlines

Title: "If at all possible avoid them"

Review: I could barely fit in my seat and the customer service was absolutely terrible. Very complicated to figure out how to get where. There was a pot of confusion at the gate. There was nothing pleasurable about flying with them. If at all possible avoid them unless you are truly stuck somewhere.

Route: Florence to Denver via Frankfurt / Seattle

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Vanilla Air

Title: "choose Vanilla Air again"

Review: Hong Kong to Tokyo. Both out-bound and in-bound flights were on-time. Very little or no turbulence experienced during journeys. This was very good. Check-ins at ground were fast and efficient. Will choose Vanilla Air again in the future.

Route: Hong Kong to Tokyo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Ryanair

Title: "not recommended"

Review: Delayed for a reason or another. In flight you are bombarded with commercials, they try to sell you anything possible. Horrible airline, not recommended unless you are desperate.

Route: Bari to Bergamo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai Lion Air

Title: "Staff are very friendly and polite"

Review: Hat Yai to Don Muang with Thai Lion Air. Staff are very friendly and polite, staff member took me to my seat and put my carry on bag in the over head bin for me. The seat is comfortable. The airplane take off and landing was smooth. The flight departed and arrived on time. The fare is very reasonable, better than the bus and the train if you book in advance. Before buying ticket the travel agent let me know ahead one small carry on luggage is free. The other luggage will be charged.

Route: Hat Yai to Don Muang

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Bulgaria Air

Title: "nice welcome from flight crew"

Review: Dusseldorf to Sofia on 28 July. Online check-in is available but on their webpage it says it isn't from DUS - but it was and got my seat and BP quickly. Checked my bag at the counter - friendly agent but she was from an airport company - not Bulgaria air. Boarded by bus - full plane but people were organized and no pushing. Nice welcome from flight crew; bottle of water for each passenger was already in their seat. Departed on-time. Seat comfort is perfect - plenty of knee-room. 2 hour 30 min flight and was served a turkey and cheese sandwich, chocolate and a drink run. No in-flight entertainment but was watching my DVD's so didn't matter. Landed on time and jet-bridge into the terminal (which is new and easy to navigate). Immigration was quick and friendly and bags were on the belt soon. Good flight!

Route: DUS to SOF

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Iberia Express

Title: "meal was ok, very basic"

Review: Pre-boarded Iberia Express aircraft flying from Las Palmas to Madrid and took up our seats in 1D and 1F bulk head. Very good space, middle seat left empty as per other European Carriers, which gave a good level of space. Newspapers were offered before take off. Crew were very friendly and attentive throughout the flight. Drinks offered just after take off, and breakfast was served just after. The meal was ok, very basic, with cold toasted bread with a tomato salsa and olive oil, fruit yoghurt and coffee. Departed on time and landed ahead of schedule.

Route: LPA to MAD

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Azerbaijan Airlines

Title: "crew is polite and professional"

Review: Baku to Istanbul. The tickets were far cheaper and flight times were more convenient (daytime, not too early in the morning). I did mobile check-in but I also used the counter for luggage check-in. On way forward I checked-in my luggage for 30USD fee (my original ticket did not have luggage included). I had an allowance of 10kg cabin luggage, so I chose not to check-in my luggage on the way back - 10kg is really plenty (especially for business trips). The plane was new, clean and comfortable. The crew is polite and professional. I did not expect to receive free meal, but this airline provides catering and for IST-baku leg I got a very tasty hot meal plus selection of alcoholic drinks. On the way back breakfast were provided. Coffee and tea service is also provided (only downside - there is no milk/cream for coffee). I would not hesitate to fly this airline again.

Route: GYD to IST

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "no delays or other issues"

Review: Despite all the negative reviews, we booked through JetBlue and we had no delays or other issues on both our flights to and from Exuma. The flight staff didn't do much, but offer bottles of water, but we were in the air for 1 hour, no issue for us. Boarding was on time and fast. On return to FLL we were unloaded into a bus and taken to customs and it again was a smooth process and were in customs in 10 to 15 minutes. It's a small aircraft and only in air for short period of time, not sure what people expect for this type of flight.

Route: Exuma to Ft Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "They dont deserve to be in business"

Review: I was given a boarding pass for gate C 25 at Denver International Airport two hours before my flight. I get there and they tell me the gate has been changed to C 63. I am recovering from a pelvis fracture and knee replacement so cant walk that fast anymore. I get to C63 and the plane is still sitting there, but they gave my seat away. As though the ticket I purchased doesnt count for anything! Now my luggage is going to an airport I know longer have a flight to. After the fact, they text me about a flight to another airport later in the day. So clearly they could have texted me when they changed the gate, but didnt. This is how they treat their customers. Id rather not fly than ever have anything to do with Southwest Airlines again. They dont deserve to be in business.

Route: Denver to Chicago Midway

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "never fly with Copa again"

Review: At the airport in São Paulo the Copa attendant who did our check in was extremely rude and uncooperative. First, he gave us a hard time because of the doctors signature on the Covid test. Copa changed our flight leaving us with a 22 hour layover in Panama. When I contacted Copa requesting a change in my flight, I was told that I had to pay an extra US $5,000 to change it. At the check in in São Paulo, we were told that we needed an International yellow fever certificate to enter Panama. The attendant said that we didnt do our job gathering the travel requirements necessary for our flights, which is a lie! I got into Copas website right away, typed in our flight itinerary and the information about the yellow fever certificate was not there. Well, needless to say that we almost missed our flight trying to resolve the issue. The Copa attendant told us that if we had booked our flight directly through Copa, that we would have received all the necessary travel requirements, but that was too bad that we booked our tickets through a third party. Well, now we are being punished for not buying directly from Copa. If you are going to give your customers a very hard time because they book their flight with a third party vendor, you might as well stop vendors from selling your flight tickets. I will never fly with Copa again.

Route: São Paulo to Los Angeles via Panama City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "staff were very rude and unsupportive"

Review: This has been one of my worst flying experience in many years. Me and my wife had cabin baggage 20 and 24 Kg respectively (23 Kg per person was allowed), most airlines would try to help and understand that it is group check-in and in totality it is under the limit but they were very adamant and rude. I had to go back and forth from Finnair so they did not get a chance to spoil the end part of my vacation. We were returning from Finland and there were some disagreements between me and person sitting ahead of me, instead of helping to resolve the problem, staff said you need to resolve it by yourself. In total I had 4 flights through Finnair in this vacation and in most parts staff were very rude and unsupportive.

Route: Mumbai to Finland

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LAN Peru

Title: "seat was the most narrow"

Review: Lima to Arequipa. When I booked this flight I thought this is a decent airline, but I learnt to be wrong. The check in was efficient and the staff was very friendly - but this is where the positive ends. The Boarding was very chaotic and very slow. No greeting on board. The seat was the most narrow I have ever seen. I am not that big or high, but I was completely squeezed and could not move one inch. Really horrible seating situation, far below any decent airline. Service was very Bad. It took them a long time to start service, then they forgot our row so we did not get any drink or food, not even a glass of water. When I asked them to bring me some food and drinks I was told they have run out of food, so no food and no drink at all....worse than any lowcost Airline. Definitely my very last time I took this airline- I recommend to avoid this airline!

Route: Lima to Arequipa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: airBaltic

Title: "additional 60 for my cabin luggage"

Review: Vilnius to Amsterdam. I was charged an additional 60 for my cabin luggage such was 10kg in a normal Samsonite cabin sized suitcase. Apparently their policy is to allow only 8kg? I have never had my bag weighed by any other airline. Why should 2kg matter. I won't fly with Air Baltic again. Its not about the money ... its the feeling of being fleeced by an unscrupulous operator.

Route: Vilnius to Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Iberia Express

Title: "a nice experience"

Review: Stuttgart to Las Palmas via Madrid. Before the flight, I needed to contact their hotline. The German hotline is a total disaster. Even after having tries it for more than 20 times it was impossible to reach someone. You are redirected from one announcement to another and at the end you get kicked out. Unacceptable and unprofessional. Finally I called Iberia in Spain and - to my surprise - not only did I reach someone just after three attempts. My problem was solve immediately by a friendly and competent employee. Due to the bad experience with the German hotline, we had very limited expectations regarding the flights. But - to our surprise again - all flights were quite enjoyable. Nice staff, good food, decent space. And all flights were on time. It is not a real business class but very good value for money. Overall, a nice experience and nothing to complain about. But Iberia badly needs to improve their German service hotline.

Route: Stuttgart to Las Palmas via Madrid

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "I was disappointed"

Review: Dubai to Melbourne via Brunei. I was travelling with Royal Brunei for the last 5 years as they got a very good service but this time I was disappointed. Flight was delayed for 4 hours and only came to know about the delay when i reached the airport and then for 6 hours due to bad weather. I was waiting at the airport from midnight, they keep changing the gates and lots of confusion happened in between. At last the flight took off at 13:30 Pm. No one was offered any food or water for the delay. After the flight took off only got a small meal and a bottle of water. No juice or soft drink. I was expecting more food (as my experience in past) later but we didn't got anything and the crew was not helpful. The flight had less leg room. We land in Melbourne 8 hours late due to delay (11:45 am). Didn't get much for breakfast and coffee. I was travelling with Royal Brunei from 2014, but all other times we got great service and this was so terrible.

Route: Dubai to Melbourne via Brunei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Pegasus Airlines

Title: "so many better airlines"

Review: Worst experience with Pegasus Airlines, please do not book the airline. Its not worth the price paid for it. My flight had been delayed by 7.5 hours from Sebiha Airport in Istanbul to Kayesari Airport. There was absolutely no information conveyed about the same. The staff were not exactly approachable. On my return flight, there was a delay yet again. There are so many better airlines

Route: Istanbul to Kayesari

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Emirates

Title: "Food was good in general"

Review: Though Emirates only operates a handful of flights to and from Milan, it maintains a nice, spacious lounge with ample seating and good selections of food. I could walk around and pick any seat I want in the lounge without having to sit next to strangers. Tables in the dining area were quickly cleared and cleaned after guests left, so they were always ready for the next guests. One unique thing about Emirates was that I could board directly from the lounge, which made things much easier. On board, the A380 was nice. Every seat had a minibar, which was nice. Emirates does not offer full turndown service the way Qatar Airways does, but a mattress pad was provided (like on Japan Airlines) to make a more comfortable bed. The gender specific amenity kit, by Bvlagri, was very nice and useful. Food was good in general, and wine selection was ahead of other airlines, but service was slow and a bit inconsistent. However, I did encounter one of the nicest attendants in the sky.

Route: Milan to New York

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "customer service is disgusting"

Review: The worst airline I have traveled with, customer service is disgusting, the lack of responsibility towards travelers is nil. After the flight is delayed because there is no runway at the Panama airport, they send it to another airport to refuel and finally arrive in Panama more than 3 hours late, and the traveler misses the connection, and the only thing say you is "We are very sorry, I reschedule your connection for the next day, but it is not our problem where you spend the night". Also the luggage never reached the final destination with the passengers, until more than 36 hours after the passenger arrived to its final destination, the luggage finally appears.

Route: Medellin to Panama

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: QantasLink

Title: "friendly cabin crew"

Review: Townsville to Brisbane. Check in at Townsville Airport quiet no queues and friendly. Flight took off on time. What I like about this flight was the 2-3 seat configuration which is very convenient when 2 people travelling together. Pilot gave out information throughout flight. Hot potato and meat pie, water and drinks from bar. Will mention that my wife who was travelling with me was served a very nice Gluten Free toasted sandwich early into flight & asked for some tea -the cabin crew member offered to get her one but my wife said she would be happy with water as didn't realise just cold drinks. Very good flight & friendly cabin crew safe flight & arrived early.

Route: Townsville to Brisbane

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Rex Airlines

Title: "couldn't have been more helpful"

Review: I'd never flown Rex before, however, I'd heard good things. From booking to disembarking the whole process was easy. The reminder emails and texts were easy to understand and follow, the check-in process was easy. I am a single dad and was travelling with my three daughters eldest being 10 and Rex allowed me to board first with them to get them settled which removed some of the stress from me. The staff onboard couldn't have been more helpful ensuring I knew that if there was anything I needed they'd assist. They provided my girls with some snacks & water before the rest of the flight as we were seated at the back. They assisted in watching the girls as I used the facilities. They even gave them a few extra snacks on the way down.

Route: Melbourne to Adelaide

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: China Southern Airlines

Title: "My family and I are very thankful"

Review: I was back from France to China for vacations. It is the moment of COVID-19 and it was required to perform a PCR test within 72 hours before enter the airplane. However I forgot it. I was informed that I should change my ticket and I was upset about the fact that I couldnt set off at time. It was when I dont know what to do that Miss Xu asked me what happened. I explained that I didnt perform the pcr test. They told me not panic and asked me if I have taken the two doses of vaccine. I said yes. They lead me to a person who was responsible for this issue. I was finally able to board the plane with my attestation for the vaccine. My family and I are very thankful for the whole thing.

Route: Guangzhou to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: VivaAerobús

Title: "horrible and frustrating experience"

Review: Our flight from Mexico City to Oaxaca was cancelled due to an airport shut down in Oaxaca. We didn't learn about this cancellation until we were at the airport, and the agents at the airport were not helpful at all! Instead of giving us all of the information, they wanted to re route our flight to another city that was 7 hours away. I received an email from Viva Aerobus after the flight time communicating the change, as well as providing the option of receiving the full refund in a voucher. However, when I called their customer service they refused to honor this, since "the airline did not cancel the flight." After some debate the agent confirmed that they will be honoring the voucher, he would get the process started and I should be hearing back in the next 24 hours. After not getting any communication from Viva, I called their customer service number the next day. At this point, the customer service agent continued to tell me that they will not be giving a refund voucher in this instance, due to the "airline not cancelling the flight." Even though I had an email from Viva Aerobus that I will be receiving the 100% of what I payed for in a voucher, and the customer agent telling me that he is generating the voucher the first time I called. This has been such a horrible and frustrating experience, and they do not deserve anyone's business.

Route: Mexico City to Oaxaca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: fastjet

Title: "get what you pay for"

Review: Johannesburg to Dar es Salaam on fastjet. Flight was ahead of schedule on arrival, ground staff were quick. The food and beverages have to be bought onboard. You get what you pay for, its a no frills low cost airline. So far so good.

Route: JNB to DAR

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "regret booking my flight through them"

Review: Silver Airways is the worst possible airline to fly with. I had an issue with my boarding pass, called them at 10:30, saved my place in line and got a call back at 16:30. They were not helpful at all. I then had a second issue, the boarding passes didn't have pre check which I specifically called to make sure of as well even after the KTN numbers were added at the time of booking. They assured me everything was fine but no. I had no pre check and no time to wait at the counter since I specifically counted my time and was going straight to the airport from work. Not only that their customer service is mediocre but they also hung up the phone on me as I was speaking! Spend 100$ more and save yourself the trouble. I seriously regret booking my flight through them.

Route: Charleston to Ft Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: United Airlines

Title: "Extremely happy with my experience"

Review: I usually only see negative reviews for airlines specifically when people are furious. I am providing a good review in hopes that airlines will really start to consider customer service and the reliability of the flights that the consumers are purchasing. The United employee the morning of my flight was extremely helpful, organized, and clear. She arrived 30 min before everyone else (3 AM) and still helped everyone get in the proper place before TSA or check-in opened. I promptly made it through security and the flight took off on time and as planned. The flight attendants were spectacular and the pilot clearly communicated with updates throughout the flight. Extremely happy with my experience, thank you.

Route: Houston to Denver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: QantasLink

Title: "A comfortable flight"

Review: A comfortable flight seated in a pair of two seats on the left of the aircraft. The ground service and on board service were friendly and efficient, and we were pleasantly surprised to get a tasty snack and an alcoholic or non-alcoholic drink on this short leg (plus an Easter chocolate). The flight operated about 20 mins late. There was no attempt to enforce the airline's policy on take-on baggage. Luckily we were on early and could find space for our take-on bags over our seats, but other people were struggling due to the suitcase-size bags allowed on board.

Route: Hobart to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Xiamen Airlines

Title: "not book a flight on this airline"

Review: My wife and I booked a flight for May 2017 from Portland to Shenzhen via Seattle. After 2 months, Xiamen notified us that our flight from Seattle to Shenzhen had been cancelled. We had to re-book our flight with Delta at a higher price $686.00 per ticket on Xiamen vs. $891.00 per ticket on Delta or $205.00 more per ticket. Furthermore, our new flight only takes us to Hong Kong, which will cost us more even more money with van transfers and taxis. I would recommend that you not book a flight on this airline, as they are not reliable and will leave you stranded.

Route: Seattle to Shenzhen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Germanwings

Title: "only two agents available"

Review: Check in process at Cologne very poor. Flight displayed as delayed 35 minutes. 45 minutes past scheduled time, announced flight cancelled with no explanation. Luggage had to be retrieved, only two agents available to process 150+ passengers. Gave up after two hours stood in line and found own hotel. Still unable to get a reason for the cancellation. I suspect there will no be months of aggravation reclaiming our costs. Arrived home 16 hours late via another airline, without any Germanwings/Eurowings assistance.

Route: CGN to MAN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Nok Air

Title: "will not fly Nok Air anymore"

Review: Hadyai to Bangkok. Today, my Nok Air flight has been delayed and retimed twice. As a result, it was late more than an hour. Indeed, it's not only one time but I experienced this kind of delay many times. Subsequently, I would like this complaint might help it to improve its service in the future. However, for me, I will not fly Nok Air anymore.

Route: Hadyai to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Seychelles

Title: "Didnt get to see the Seychelles"

Review: Well, we never got to actually fly. It was supposed to be a two-day break in the Seychelles on the way from Madagascar to the UAE. First it became a one-day break because the airline changed the flight from the morning to the evening. It then sent several emails asking to bid for an upgrade. But on the day of the flight they didnt bother to tell us that they had decided to cancel it. We showed up in the airport and were in limbo for nearly 24 hrs about when and whether we would fly on. At the end we bought new and more expensive tickets on South African Airlines to get to work on Monday. Didn't get to see the Seychelles. Didn't get our money back. And have yet to be able to reach anyone at Air Seychelles the call center doesn't appear to be staffed. Avoid at all cost.

Route: Antananarivo to Abu Dhabi via Mahe

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Myanmar Airways

Title: "very nice airline and quick operations"

Review: Flew Myanmar Airways from Mandalay to Yangon on an A319 on 8 March 2017. Initial flight, which was on an older ATR72, was delayed 1 hour and 20 minutes. I was informed about this instantly when arriving at check-in in MDL. Upon request, I managed to board an earlier flight (a more modern and quicker aircraft) after a bit waiting at check-in. Service impeccable. Less than 20 passengers. Full catering service including food, beer, softdrinks and hot-drinks. Clean aircraft, observant and fast working staff. Arrived 40 minutes prior to schedule with the original flight which was said to be likely further delayed. They accept special meals and my seafood meal. The meal was confirmed but I had, upon consent, to forsake it as I took an earlier flight. Very nice airline and quick operations.

Route: Mandalay to Yangon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Icelandair

Title: "Onboard service was excellent"

Review: Zurich to Keflavík in Saga Class. This was a near-flawless flight. Icelandair uses the mediocre Aspire Lounge at Zurich Airport. The 757 is part of Icelandair's old fleet and is being phased out with the induction of the new 737 MAX aircraft. While the incoming aircraft was slightly delayed, they made up for the lost time with an on-time arrival into Keflavík. Onboard service was excellent. The Indian/Asian vegetarian meal was not. Icelandair's Wi-Fi, when it works, is among the best in the business and is complimentary for Saga Class passengers.

Route: Zurich to Keflavík

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Airlink

Title: "No sympathy for a customer"

Review: No sympathy for a customer at all. I flew from Durban to Johannesburg had a layover of 2h 15mins before flying to Angola. I had a negative covid results from a government clinic, had sma confirming my results, only to be told that was not allowed. I had to call the lab to send me one with a QR code. While we were waiting for results, the boarding pass closed. Later i asked if they can assist they told me i was supposed to change dates an hour before, but they never suggested that to me, then when i emailed them later, they told me the staff suggested i change the dates and I refused. I did admit I didn't know that covid results wasn't allowed, as at clinic they assured me it was ok. Customer care is worse. I wouldn't suggest anyone to fly with this airline.

Route: Johannesburg to Luanda

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: WOW air

Title: "a horrible first impression"

Review: On December 29th 2018 a friend and I were flying from Newark to Keflavík. We didn't hear the calls to board and lost track of time while we were eating, we admit fault to this. When we realized our flight was boarding, we ran to the gate. They representatives at the gate were the nastiest I've ever seen. They were talking to us like we were stupid for an honest mistake. They were making us feel so bad, telling us how everyone was waiting for us (which clearly we felt bad about enough) and how selfish we were, even threatening to not let us get on the flight when I snapped back at one of them. First of all, we knew we messed up. But as a customer service representative, it isn't your job to scold us like we're children. It was a horrible first impression of the airline.

Route: Newark to Keflavík

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "they were superb"

Review: BR17, SFO-TPE on a 777-300ER. Tickets bought 5 months out, and quite a favorable price. Check in at SFO, was weird. Staff didnt want to take my oversized luggage, until I suggested they get a bag like ANA, Singapore Airlines, or Asiana. Once they processed my luggage it was fine. TSA/Security the usual disaster, and no one taking charge. Apparently the SFO cleaning crew was on strike 10 Nov, because both EVA flights, SQ, Asiana, and others were delayed for aircraft cleanliness. We were delayed for over 60 mins. Boarding went smoothly. Cabin crew were smiles and polite for 01.00 in the morning. Once we had push backed and airborne the meal service commenced. Dinner was nice with Hagen Daaz. Drink/Cabin service continued throughout the flight. Seat was perfect as I slept like the dead. The lights were activated, and a excellent sign, for waking everyone up for breakfast. Breakfast was yummy. Landed in TPE late, but still made my connection. BR184, TPE-NRT on a 787-900 boarded and took off late due to a aircraft issue. Still landed on time at NRT. Cabin Attendants polite, professional, and all smiles. Handed out immigration documents while still at the gate. Constant drink runs, and a tasty meal. EVAs 787 seat was comfortable, and I was able to stretch out. EVA ground staff needs to be more professional, and expeditionary like ANA, and Singapore Airlines. Other than that they were superb! I will fly them again!

Route: San Francisco to Tokyo Narita via Taipei

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Philippine Airlines

Title: "now the worst airline ever"

Review: The service was great and the food was good. The seats are not comfortable and for business class and the money you pay this is not acceptable. We couldn't sleep because of it. The bags were not routed to the the plane going to Cebu. We had to go to baggage claim, get our bags, go through security again, check our bags in again. Awful!! The layovers are the really bad part. When we booked the flight they said 2 hour layover. The day we were leaving they said it had been changed to 3.5 hours - then when we checked in they said 6 hours, then at Manila airport it got bumped to 9 hours!! All with no explanation - our appointments in Cebu were toast. I called to have them change to Cathay, who we've flown and never had a problem and they said because we booked thru American Express we cannot change airlines. They later said that because the flight was in progress (waiting in Manila) they won't change anything. This airline used to be good but is now the worst airline ever!

Route: Los Angeles to Cebu via Manila

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "Such horrible attitude"

Review:

For the entire flight (GF 270), the front half of the flight was extremely hot. Through the AC vents hot air was blowing. When we told this to the flight attendant, he refused to accept that there was any temperature change. People were fanning themselves with paper and the instruction pamphlet. When I brought this to his notice, he said that "they are all people with high blood pressure". Such horrible attitude while people were feeling suffocated in that heat!

Route: Bahrain to Kochi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Malindo Air

Title: "Refund requests submitted but ignored"

Review: Purchased $2200 of fares to Bali before Malindo ceased Australian operations. Refund requests submitted but ignored. When pushed, they will promise to process but they then go to ground and ignore you.

Route: Melbourne to Bali

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "aircraft are dirty and uncomfortable"

Review: This airline does not provide any type of update for passengers on upcoming flights as other airlines do not even a reminder of your flight or the option to do online check in. The website is so bad and provides the very bare minimum in terms of flight information. The aircraft are dirty and uncomfortable, and there were lots of passengers that took their mask off during the entire flight without repercussion. The food was gas station quality at best and I was stuck with a broken screen during the second half of an almost 18 hour journey. The staff were nice, but they have little to work with.

Route: Dubai to Chicago via Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: KLM Royal Dutch Airlines

Title: "now choose to fly with other airlines"

Review: KLM was my preferred airline before covid, now it is consistently my worst travel experience airline! After having completed so many surveys for KLM where they wanted to know how valued and special I felt as a customer, now they seem not to care any longer at all about their customers. I used to be a flying blue gold member, almost reached platinum and now I am still a silver member. Despite this, the way KLM now treats me every time I fly with them is worse than the cheapest of the airlines. Their staff do not appear to know or understand the applicable benefits for each of their membership levels. It clearly states on the website that silver flying blue members have priority check-in, baggage drop-off and boarding. However, every single time I go to any of those lanes I am told extremely rudely that I am not allowed to use either of these services. Even when I show them the current KLM flying blue website / the KLM App that clearly states that silver members have those benefits, I am told that it no longer applies. In February 2023 KLM left us stranded in Tanzania for 24 hours due to allegedly security threats. However, when going to the official Dutch foreign ministry advice for travelling no alerts were provided for the area we were in. After I finally returned home, I filed a claim to KLM for compensation which was denied with no explanations. Then I filed a claim for reimbursement of expenses (namely 1 extra day at the hotel and 1 extra day at Schiphol long term parking) and I only received a refund for the hotel. I asked at least 25 times to KLM via all the channels they have (email, website, KLM customer service support at Schiphol airport, Messenger, flying blue phone number) why I didnt receive a refund for the parking expenses. After 3 months I am still awaiting for a reply that will obviously never come! Incredibly rude, utterly stupid and I would expect much more from an airline such as KLM. Unless I have no other options, I now choose to fly with other airlines and I know I am not alone in this.

Route: London to Amsterdam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Tahiti Nui

Title: "crew was friendly"

Review: I was concerned about this airline after reading many terrible reviews. My Air Tahiti Nui experience was the opposite and crew was friendly and very helpful. The leg room was better than most for economy. The food was ok. On each seat a blanket and pillow, plus a bag with socks, eye mask, ear plugs, ear phones which was a nice touch. They provided 2 meals and also offered food in the galley (sandwiches, drinks, soup and ice cream) nice selection of movies to watch also.

Route: Lax to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "Not enough room for knees"

Review: Toronto to Venice. Delayed 1 hour 40 minutes on departure due to technical difficulty. No water offered in that time. Personnel used last 3 rows of seats for themselves and didn't allow people to use them. Food was barely edible for me. Not enough room for knees for average man.

Route: Toronto to Venice

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Pegasus Airlines

Title: "a very unpleasant experience"

Review: This has been the worst experience of my life with this company, i am not even sure to travel again in the next years. A trip that should have taken half a day was transformed into 2 full days of Travel, waiting at the airport during a transfer in Turkey, queuing during hours to get a new flight, no information at all, nobody from the company apologizing for the situation or even giving information. They have no notion of customer service, you are not a human to them, just a problem on their route. I strongly advise you to avoid this company if you do not want to have a very unpleasant experience, as apparently they have very very frequent delays of flights and cancellations of flights due to purely financial reasons and a very bad overall organisation. Then if you miss a transfer you can be sure that the treatment of your demand will be very long and painful.

Route: Beirut to Paris via Istanbul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Malaysia Airlines

Title: "never use Malaysia Airlines again"

Review: First and worst experience of my life . I had connected flight with them and their flight delayed for 4 hours which resulted in passengers missing their next flight .Pathetic response from staff no responsibility taken , no apologies. My next flight was 24 hours later. I could not get accommodation in the airport I could not go out as Immigration would not let me one day visa. I have to spent full day with my infant son and I paid for all other costs because the flight won't take responsibility. I am still in the airport spending the night here and paying the cost for the mistake that airline did. Would never use Malaysia Airlines again.

Route: Perth to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Swoop

Title: "Staff was very nice"

Review: It all went smooth. The price was 1/3 of the major airlines. We added nothing extra. Our personal item, just a little smaller than a regular carry on was free and we were seated together. Easy boarding, they do tag carry on bags to ensure you paid the extra for them. We took two flights, a return journey, both left on time and arrived early. Staff was very nice. They did what they were supposed to take you on time to your destination as an economy air carrier.

Route: Victoria to Toronto

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai Smile Airways

Title: "They handed out a nice snack"

Review: The cabin crew were very courteous and knowledgeable about the safety features and when they finished praised passengers for taking note of the explanation. The staff who made the presentation spoke impeccable English! They handed out a nice snack, which on previous flights during Covid we didnt receive.

Route: Ubon Ratchathani to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Kulula

Title: "Long wait. Under staffed"

Review: Flew Kulula from Johannesburg to Durban. Long wait. Under staffed. Rude. Asked for seat with leg room and he put me in back seat with no leg room. Awful. This isnt the first time. Particularly poor is the attitude of the check in staff. Also not well presented or dressed but mainly lack of service.

Route: Johannesburg to Durban

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air Tahiti Nui

Title: "What kind of customer service is this?"

Review: My June 20th flight to Papeete was canceled by the airline due to COVID restrictions. When trying to get the $2300 or so back, I made at least 15 calls to my booking company and the airline. Booking company said Air Tahiti had to authorize any refund. Air Tahiti at first said they would only provide future credit (illegal for flights departing from the US) and then offered a refund minus a $250 service fee per person. I eventually filed a complaint with the DOT and was told by the airline they had received it. Later airline said they actually had not received it and couldn't process a refund until the DOT complaint was received. What kind of customer service is this? The agents are basically instructed to lie and give people the runaround. Eventually had the charge reversed by my credit card company.

Route: Sacramento to Papeete via Los Angeles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "do not want to refund me"

Review: Delayed 2 hours, no information about it. Stranded in New York for 24 hours, no help in the airport. Bought a ticket JFK to SFO myself and Royal Jordanian Airlines do not want to refund me, despite the 2 hours delay caused me not to catch my connecting flight in JFK.

Route: Tel Aviv to San Francisco via Amman / New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "I was pleasantly surprised"

Review: Washington to Los Angeles. I was pleasantly surprised by the entire flying experience on Virgin America. Comfy seats, free entertainment that's easy to access, tasty food for purchase, very nice staff, on-time boarding and takeoff - so much better than my experiences on United Airlines.

Route: Washington to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cobalt

Title: "want to book for next year now "

Review: The staff are friendly and it's clean and offers a good service most of the time. I do have two constructive comments however. I wish you would put your flights on sale way in advance. Eg I want to book for next summer now but have been told to wait until the end of the year. This is not good for their own business as most people want to book summer vacations for next year now - and if they are not on sale people will go to other countries like the Canary Islands etc and this is a shame. I had booked for trip returning to Dublin via LGW on 5th November and bought flight from Dublin on Ryanair now told change to Heathrow. New flight to Dublin from LHR required. Additional expense for people using you to route home.

Route: Stansted to Larnaca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Eurowings

Title: "They asked me to rebook my flight"

Review: Hamburg to Prague booked for April 2020. Their customer services can only say " Mam, I can't cancel your flight", when I say that you're rude, I want to talk to your manager, she hangs up on me. They asked me to rebook my flight.

Route: Hamburg to Prague

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: "had been a total of 4 delays"

Review: Horrible from the time I booked the returning flight had been delayed & rerouted Im sitting in the airport right now its been over 7 hours I have 4 young children who dont understand whats going on & I also have a job I need to attend or Ill be forced to call off there had been a total of 4 delays just sitting here waiting to get back home. This is beyond ridiculous. I will never book with them nor recommend. I guess you get what you pay for!

Route: Orlando to Chicago

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: US Airways

Title: US Airways customer review

Review: We're flying US Airways for the second time in two weeks and I'm not impressed! Both times the flight from Phoenix to Tampa was delayed due to maintenance issues. Are the planes in that bad shape or is there something else going on such as scheduling difficulties? It would be easier to take if the employees were a little more accommodating and apologetic instead of downright rude.

Route: Phoenix to Tampa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Kuwait Airways

Title: "recommend spending money on other airlines"

Review: Delhi to Paris via Kuwait. The flight got delayed twice and I was stranded in the night at the airport. Never book Kuwait airways as the passengers travelling were not good and the airline did nothing over the issue. I highly recommend spending money on other airlines.

Route: Delhi to Paris via Kuwait

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: XL Airways France

Title: "pilot did an excellent job"

Review: After reading all the reviews about XL Airways and learning that they have 3-4 planes in their entire fleet, I was extremely anxious. We arrived at JFK 3 hours early and were among the first in line to check in. After waiting in line for an hour, we made it to the counter where our back bags and checked bags were carefully weighed. Thank goodness, we were all underneath the required mass. The plane was boarded and we we got on the electricity went completely out but in a few minutes, we were on our way. The pilot did an excellent job piloting the plane and even though we took off late, we made it close to our normal time. After spending a few days in Paris, we went back to check in to our return flight but they had already boarded and we missed our flight. We tried calling customer service but only got a recording and wasn't until the next day that we found out we would have to purchase a one way ticket home. On the way back after Checking in for our one way flight back to the US, the woman at the counter was not sympathetic just said so sorry. We did make it home safely and once again the pilot did an excellent job. Bottom Line: I would take this airline again but make sure that I made the flight next time because you will not be compensated or offered a discount. By the way, I thought the food served on board was really good! We were served breakfast about an hour before our flight landed in Paris and dinner an hour or so into our flight on the way back.

Route: New York to Paris CDG

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "airline lost my suitcase"

Review: The flight with Royal Air Maroc was average. My seat wasn't clean. Unfortunately, the airline lost my suitcase. I made a loss report and a list of valuables. The airline does not respond to more than 40 messages. Inadequate customer service. Unfortunately, I am stuck here with damage of 1,500 euros and had no clothes etc. for the entire holiday.

Route: Istanbul to Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: TAG Airlines

Title: "Flight personnel very unprofessional"

Review: Flight to Cancun was excellent. I love the jet prop Saab 340. Flight personnel very unprofessional. Never any information from the pilot. Elevation, weather etc. No service. Just water. The return flight was terrible. We departed 21 Oct at 23.00 instead of 14.10. Little information from TAG. Only gave us water. We didn't arrive in Guatemala City, instead they landed in Flores at 01.00, 22 Oct, and put us up in a hotel. We departed 22 Oct at 08.00, arriving in Guatemala City at 09.00. The entire experience was 19 hours, instead of 2 hrs 10 min. On landing in Guate City we were promised a free return flight to Cancun. But they didn't explain how to receive it. I'm sure they don't want us to go through the red tape to claim it. I chose TAG instead of conventional Volaris A320 jet because I wanted a bit of adventure? The departure from Cancun was set as 14.10. I arrived at the gate coming from Valladolid 40 min. before boarding. Perfect timing? TAG first posted a 30 delay departure, and then endlessly extended it on the board, without speaking to the waiting passengers. Finally TAG said, the plane had been hit by lightening and they are sending a replacement plane and departure was set for 20.00. I don't believe it was lightening, I suspect it was equipment failure. We should come to the gate at 19.30. I sat and waited at the gate for an hour becoming thoroughly chilled by the AC and then decided to take the 30 min. ADO bus back to the terminal downtown and look for a pleasant restaurant. Good choice. When I returned to the gate the German group of four were surprised to learn that a passenger can leave the terminal and return. They were jealous. Departure was repeatedly pushed forward and we confronted the timid man at the gate and he told us, 'Oh, the replacement plane is on the way. Be here soon'. Airlines always lie to passengers. We were then told we would depart at 22.00, landing at Guate 23.00 local time. (2 hr flight, and one hr time change.) That didn't happen either. Then they began moving departure forward 10 minutes each 10 minutes. The plane arrived and we departed at 23.00, set to arrive 24.00 Guate time. I put in earplugs to shield the rattle of the Saab 340 and slept soundly awakening to the plane touching down. "This doesn't look like Guate airport." The pilot landed at the wrong airport? No. Bad fog at Guate and inadequate radar, so we landed at Flores Guatemala at 01.00 and it then took them 1.5 hrs to get us to a hotel. I slept from 02.30 to 06.00, feeling quite good. Many passengers were angry. We had only been given water once all these hours, and no food, and little information. Two brave Guatemala men stood and berated the TAG staff. I jumped in and said, "What do we want? A hotel room immediately, and a full refund of our tickets." Silence. We departed Flores at 08.00 for Guate and the flight was fine. Weather good. I've written TAG asking how I can receive my free rt ticket to Cancun. No reply.

Route: Cancun to Guatemala City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Tigerair

Title: "it's a decent airline"

Review: Singapore to Bangkok with Tigerair, a budget Asian carrier. It's hub is in Singapore and it flies a pretty extensive network around Southeast Asia. In-laws in Singapore recommended Tiger over its main competitors, AirAsia and JetStar. We have flown with them numerous times, the latest being a trip to Bngkok and back. Checking in at Changi in Singapore was a breeze as there was, for the first time, no line at the counter. Checking in at Bangkok was a lot more troublesome, as a group of seven was in line ahead of us and, instead of using the group check-in line, used the regular line. A substantial line developed behind this group as the Tigerair agent appeared to be relatively new on the job and seemed flustered. Another agent opened up and he took care of us quickly. Tigerair has a good boarding system, when they follow it, and so boarding is usually quite quick. Tiger has a couple of A319's, but mostly use A320's on their routes. Seat pitch is minimal at 30", so it's a little hard on me at 6'2" tall, but it's not unbearable as most of the flights we take are only 2-2.5 hours in duration. There is no IFE, meal or beverage service (unless paid for) and no in-seat power. Planes are kept quite neat and the seats, apart from the legroom, are pretty comfortable. I wouldn't want to fly Tiger much more than the 2-2.5 hours that we've done in the past, but for flights under this duration, it's a decent airline and, much to the shame of this American, offers a similar flight experience to the big three US legacy carriers.

Route: SIN to BKK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Volotea

Title: "Quality low cost company"

Review: Quality low cost company, traveler taken into consideration, comfortable seats sufficient for large sizes, multilingual and pleasant on-board staff. Compagnie Low cost de qualité, voyageur pris en considération, sièges confortables places suffisantes pour les grandes tailles, personnel de bord multilingue et agréable

Route: Alicante to Luxembourg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Virgin Australia

Title: "Worst airline I have travelled on"

Review: Worst airline I have travelled on. On a recent trip from Melbourne to Gold Coast the flight was delayed 4.5 hrs. Without notice they split our party and sent son and 2 young children via Sydney. With 4.5 hr delay, no apology in airport, no refreshments offered and rude ground staff. Customer services hide behind 'Conditions of Carriage'

Route: Melbourne to Gold Coast

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "worst experience with Volaris"

Review: I have had the worst experience with Volaris. If you are ok with not having any customer service then book your flight. It has been a challenge since having to reschedule our flight to Cabo because we got COVID in December. They gave us a "credit" but it only covers the base flight. I have tried to reschedule and everytime I click to pay the remaining balance, an error pops up. There are now only 6 seats left and I have been trying for the last 2 hours. Don't fall for the low fares, it will cost you lost of time and frustration that is not worth it. I now wish I would have paid the extra $200 and gone with a reputable company.

Route: Tijuana to Cabo San Lucas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Asiana Airlines

Title: "great service and inflight food"

Review: Chicago to Ho Chi Minh City via Seoul. Flight with Asiana Airlines was very comfortable with great service and inflight food. My flight was overnight and allowed me to sleep on my normal schedule and arrive refreshed. I will definitely add this to my list of preferred airlines. Seats are spaced for great leg room and the seat width is comfortable for a 6 foot, 240 pound man.

Route: Chicago to Ho Chi Minh City via Seoul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: "enjoyed all aspects of the flight"

Review: We flew Melbourne to London via Bandar seri Begawan and Dubai return, and can recommend Royal Brunei. We flew business and thoroughly enjoyed all aspects of the flight and services. I believe they offer a value for money service and look forward to the opportunity to fly with them again.

Route: MEL to LHR via BWN & DXB

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "Everything went smoothly"

Review: Manchester to Banjul via Casablanca. Good flights, pleasant staff, no problems. Everything went smoothly and would definitely fly with Royal Air Maroc again. I would definitely recommend them to anyone who asks about my journey

Route: Manchester to Banjul via Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: TAP Portugal

Title: "the worst airline service"

Review: Actually the worst airline service I have ever flown I went out of my way to add my review in hopes that people try to stay away from this trash airline. I flew from Miami to Madrid with the same bags Im flying back with, and for some reason they flag me before I board and now it costs 125? For a carry on bag that I use for every aircraft in the world and now they wanna charge me 125? Plus their air service is bad as well

Route: Madrid to Miami via Lisbon

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "rapidly became a nightmare"

Review: Toronto to Calgary and back. What should have been a routine in and out trip rapidly became a nightmare. Outbound Flight two hours late leaving Pearson because one or more crew members was still tired from their flight in from Vancouver. Inbound Flight delayed 5 hours due to "late arrival of plane". Flight then cancelled due to no particular reason. Waited two hours for the email notification only to find out Lynx were offering a new flight to Toronto, 3 days later.

Route: Toronto to Calgary

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Porter Airlines

Title: "have to sit here for nearly 2 hours"

Review: Ottawa to Fredericton. We have to sit here for nearly 2 hours to fly 1.5 hours. Plane was very warm and air didn't work. I can understand maybe an hour delay, but 2 hours. Come on porter, be prepared.

Route: Ottawa to Fredericton

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: Royal Brunei Airlines customer review

Review: Flew with Royal Brunei from Melbourne to London in July/August. Found the staff to be excellent, very friendly and they go out of their way to ensure a comfortable flight. The price was excellent and the quality and service is definitely worth more than the fare paid. The aircraft's are brand new 787's. They are spacious and have excellent legroom, I'm 6'7 and was able to stretch out my legs under the seat in front of me with ease. The best legroom out of any of the major international airlines flying to Europe. Food was great. Good hearty meals and a decent portion size. Hot meals served on all 3 flights. Lots of snacks and drinks offered during the flight. It is a dry airline but being a part cultural thing, not having that glass of wine with my meal wasn't a huge deal, you can bring your own alcohol on board but no-one seemed to take advantage of this. In flight entertainment is good, not the best variety when compared to other majors but a good selection of movies and TV shows to get you through the flight there and back. I didn't notice a huge change in the movies from July to August apart from a couple new additions but this certainly wasn't a big issue. If you want more movies, bring your own laptop. Two stop overs on the journey to London, a 3 hour stop in Brunei which is not too bad. Airport has been renovated and it very comfortable, apart from having poor wifi and the refuel stop in Dubai is a very quick 45 min stop so a good way to stretch your legs ready for the next leg. Will fly them again.

Route: Melbourne to London via Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Arik Air

Title: "absolutely no communication"

Review: Flew Lagos to Dakar. I arrived at Lagos airport for my flight which was supposed to leave at 8.30pm but was delayed. The airline did not announce this delay, instead, I had to run around asking airport staff for information and thanks to a nice gentleman I finally found out the the plane was delayed 4 hours. 4 hours wait for a 3 hour flight. After waiting 4 hours the plane was further delayed an hour and once we boarded, we had to wait another hour and a half until it took off. All this time there was absolutely no communication from the airline, we were just expected to wait in ignorance. In the end I arrived in Dakar at 6am instead of 12am as scheduled. I will never recommend flying Arik Air.

Route: LOS to DKR

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: SilkAir

Title: "demonstrating good service "

Review: My husband and I were onboard flight MI124 25 Nov 2016, from Singapore to Lombok when we were served by a flight steward who displayed exemplary service - outstandingly attentive and a positive sense of humour. He paid meticulous attention to our meal requests, and saw that we were adequately hydrated. He made our flight a very memorable and enjoyable one, especially for my husband, who has a low tolerance to flight travels. Thank you for demonstrating what good service and attitude is.

Route: SIN to LOP

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "experience was pleasant"

Review: Toronto to Beijing. This was the nicest airline. The food was great, seats were comfortable, the staff and crew were friendly and knowledgeable and the overall experience was pleasant. I was extremely impressed. Hainan will definitively be my first choice airline when I fly to China.

Route: Toronto to Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: ITA Airways

Title: "the most unprofessional occurrence"

Review: I took an ITA flight from Madrid to Tirana via Rome. I am, writing this to report the most unprofessional occurrence regarding the delayed or rather, non-delivery (arrival) of my luggage which was checked in at the Madrid airport on 1/9/2022 and upon arrival at the Tirana airport, my luggage, much to my horror and dismay, did not arrive with my flight destination being Tirana. I thus completed an irregularity report. I would point out that we arrived in Tirana in on 1/9/2022 with over a three-hours delay. The consequences were dreadful. My return flight to Madrid was on 18/9/2022. When I arrived at the airport in Rome, I had less than 90 minutes until my next flight but I decided to go to ITA's office in spite of the limited time I had, to enquire about my missing luggage. I was told that they didnt have any news & that it did not appear on the system! This, in spite of me being in possession of a reference. I then proceeded on my own volition toward the lost and found office at the airport where, I found my luggage without a tag. Unassisted by any staff, whom when I said that I had a connecting flight, STILL made no effort to help me. Time was running out whereby I almost lost missed my connecting flight to Madrid. This was truly disappointing, and absolutely unprofessional! In todays world, with all the state of the art security and technology available to you as a large prestigious 'airline, it begs the question how such an organization not only completely loses or misplaces a passengers luggage, but worse than that, to have their staff handle it with such apathy!? Stop just for a moment if you would, to consider how you would feel if this had happened to yourself or a member of your family? I have no doubt that you would be just as, if not, more upset than I am! I went back to the airport over a period of three days but my luggage still did not reflect on the system There was also no news or indication of where my luggage was at all, and little to no effort was made by ITA airways to assist me! After three days with no luggage, I was forced to buy purchase some clothing and requisites as I had planned my itinerary to first go hiking to the north with a motorbike and then to take a cycling tour around the south. I did not have any suitable clothing to go motorbike riding, hiking or cycling. This all happened because ITA airways staff had simply not bothered to look for it or find it.

Route: Madrid to Tirana via Rome

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Gulf Air

Title: "I was delayed by their slow system"

Review: Gulf Air refused me entry into my flight because their system did not update to show that I had bought extra luggage. The time taken to show that I had in fact booked it caused the delay and the lateness. The price paid for the extra luggage for myself and my mother did not carry over onto the next flight. I spoke to a Gulf Air agent, who told me that they will rectify the situation if I paid a £14 fee for my mother and £150 for myself. I reluctantly agreed to do this. I then received a call from Gulf Air who said that because my mother had initially booked her flight with an agency (lastminute.com), the fees would need to be increased to £314. I reluctantly agreed as I was in a desperate position. I then received an email that informs me that changing my ticket to the night time one was now £300, and not the £150 mentioned; this was despite the fact that I had booked with Gulf Air directly; which contradicts what they had said earlier about the agency. I then call them to ask about this new pricing; an agent answers me very patronisingly and essentially asks "are you going to pay or not?". So in total; I coughed out an additional £968 because I was delayed by their slow system in the first place (£314 for my mum, £300 for me, and combined loss of £354 of baggage). Seems like they can talk how they like with customers with no accountability. Their prices are good, but there's a reason for it.

Route: Dubai to London via Bahrain

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: TAME

Title: "worst airline I have ever seen"

Review: Lago Agrio to Quito. Cancelled my flight without any kind of inform. I sent a dozen of emails, requested the refund of the cancellation. Nothing happened. even there is not an automatic reply. I asked the staff of TAME at Quito airport twice, first time, they told me they can do nothing about that, advised me to go to their office in Quito. Second time, they ask me leave the email address, of course, still nothing happened. I visited many places of the world, I am absolutely sure about that, TAME is the worst airline I have ever seen.

Route: Lago Agrio to Quito

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Canada rouge

Title: "avoid Air Canada if at all possible"

Review: Unfortunately here to share a negative experience with Air Canada. I flew out from Toronto (YYZ) to Fort Lauderdale (FLL) on June 22, 2022, Flight 1628. To begin with, as sprawling as Pearson Airport is the signage is lacking and honestly not clear at all, so it was extremely confusing to figure out exactly where we needed to go just to check in for our specific flight. Air Canada's ground customer service was painfully slow and inefficient - I get there are staffing shortages with the pandemic aftermath, but this was a little excessive. Our flight boarded a few minutes behind schedule which wasn't the end of the world, but we were scheduled to take off at 4.45pm and did not take off until almost 7.00pm! All of us literally sat on the tarmac going nowhere for over 2 hours! The cabin crew was essentially clueless and the pilot kept giving one excuse after another for the delay which didn't even make sense. Every passenger was pretty agitated about the situation, to say the least...we finally took off way behind schedule and did not make it into Fort Lauderdale until almost 10.00pm (original landing time was 7.45pm). The flight itself was OK. At least on AC Rouge, I found the legroom to be mediocre, and the seating marginally comfortable. Flight attendants were generally polite, but not necessarily friendly. Overall, this is my second experience flying Air Canada. My first time was in 2015 going to/from Montreal and I also dealt with poor customer service then, so I should have learned my lesson, but I hope this cautions other potential fliers to avoid Air Canada if at all possible - especially if your travel plans are not flexible or if you need to catch a connecting flight!

Route: Toronto to Fort Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: United Airlines

Title: "Constant delays and cancelation"

Review: Nothing but issues from my flight to Hawaii and my flights home from Hawaii. Constant delays and cancelation. I am traveling with 2 children, they Have done nothing to help me. Stood in line at 12am to be booked a room because of my flight being canceled. Then the booked me on a late flight but only gave me a room for basically 9 hrs and refused to help me by phone extend my stay. So I am stuck with no car no clothes in a city I don't know with 2 kids and now have to go hang out at the airport all day.

Route: Honolulu to San Francisco

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: flyadeal

Title: "Worst airline ever"

Review: Worst airline ever. They closed the check in counter while I am waiting in front of the employee who was checking me in. When I complained to the duty manager they denied it. So I missed the Dammam to Jeddah flight. Coming back the airplane was late for 5 hours and no one informed us. When we complained they said we sent a notice, it might be by mistake that you didnt receive it. They never apologized. I was going to Umrah and I did not feel happy at all flying with flyadeal I strongly advise against this airlines. They abide to no rule. Waste of money and time.

Route: Dammam to Jeddah

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Eastern Airlines

Title: "a pleasant surprise"

Review: I couldn't pass up a business class fare for the same price as Thai Economy on this route. The experience was a pleasant surprise from start to finish. Check-in was efficient at the dedicated business counter. To my delight, China Eastern uses the Thai Airways business lounge, which is superior to the 3rd-party contract options at BKK. I got to enjoy a Thai curry and Singha before my flight, well done. On board, the business cabin crew were polite, efficient, and had sufficient English to assist non-Chinese pax. A variety of adequate but not memorable meal options were available. I had a Chinese chicken dish over rice with a glass of Tsingtao beer. The aircraft was neither brand new nor very old, but it was clean and in suitable condition. The 2-2 seats were fine for the 2.5 hour regional journey. On arrival (if you don't end up at a jetbridge at the airport), Business pax get a special van to the terminal, as opposed to a packed-to-bursting bus. This benefit is very welcome after a day of travelling. It's not SQ, but they're not charging SQ prices.

Route: Bangkok to Kunming

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: SriLankan Airlines

Title: "quality of the food is atrocious"

Review: Staff are friendly and attentive but let down by the quality of the service they deliver. It took ages for drinks and snacks to be offered. When they did come round it was time to close the doors and they were coming round to collect the drinks they had only just delivered. The quality of the food is atrocious, flying business class you expect better quality and for your options to be available, given this is most likely the smallest availability of business class seats available on a flight I have seen for such a long journey. The business class had 7 seats vacant so it's not like they were at full capacity. Both dinner and breakfast meals were limited in their choice, with breakfast apparently only having 5 breakfast omelettes available for the whole of business class. The quality of the food is no different to that of economy. The fully horizontal seats are incredibly uncomfortable and tired, the blankets did not keep you warm at night, and a number of customers asked for more.

Route: London Heathrow to Colombo

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Volaris

Title: "Worst airline ever"

Review: Worst airline ever, their service is really poor. Lack of information their system is obsolete, their crew is not educated. I have to pay $115 to get the boarding pass. They dont offer a cookie and they dont know how to handle an airline.

Route: Mexico City to Miami

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Kuwait Airways

Title: "comfort in the flight"

Review: Istanbul to Dubai via Kuwait City. I ended up with Kuwait airways as I missed my flight with fly dubai and I had to book a return ticket at the earliest. The only option i could see was Kuwait airways. I had none of the bad experiences others talked about. Agreed that they are not as courteous as some airline's crew but cant deny the comfort in the flight, there is food served onboard as well as in flight entertainment which need to be paid for on flydubai which costs same price but 0 comfort. If given a chance ill again fly with Kuwait airways and hopefully other people get to share a similar experience as me.

Route: Istanbul to Dubai via Kuwait City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Breeze Airways

Title: "chaos ran supreme in our experience"

Review: We decided to give Breeze a shot; the savings were great and I doubted it could be that bad. I was wrong. Their operations seem to be nonexistent and chaos ran supreme in our experience. Approximately five hours before departure on our return flight they informed us our flight was delayed and moved to a completely different airport, which took an extra two hours to get to. I had to spend the remainder of our trip figuring out what our options were. Their communication is awful: by 8pm I figured out that the plane slotted for our new "9:40pm departure" was still in the air and over 2 hours away from the new airport, but the app still said the status was "on time" for 9:40pm departure. It still showed as "on time at 9:30, when I stopped checking. There was no one at the airport from Breeze who could help, the app doesn't work as stated, their mobile website doesn't work as stated to make changes, and support was unreachable in this situation. I finally threw in the towel and booked a hotel for the night and a one-way ticket to return home return on Delta. I looked and the flight finally departed at 12:15am. On our outgoing flight we had major issues with bag check, ticketing, delayed departure, and they were understaffed and completely lost/flustered at the desks. The flight itself was fine until we landed - I have done a fair amount of flying, and I have never had that hard of a landing. It was unnerving how hard we landed.

Route: Provo to Orange County

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Spirit Airlines

Title: "additional $90 because my bag was 45 lbs"

Review: This is a warning to anyone tempted by the low fares Spirit Airlines offer. You pay an initial low fare, but the additional fees for everything will make the flight much more expensive than taking another airline. If your bag is a couple pounds over 40 lbs, $90 extra. Do you want to make sure your family sits together? $15 additional per seat. We paid around $200 for our checked luggage, then had to pay an additional $90 because my bag was 45 lbs. Their max is 40. Lines took forever and we got stuck in security. We made it to the gate while the door was still opened, but they shut it with us standing there boarding passes in hand. They didn't care. "Sorry, you'll have to rebook". No more available flights to Ft. Lauderdale that day which means we were going to miss our cruise ship. Meanwhile, our luggage was on the plane without us on it's way to Ft. Lauderdale. Thanks to Southwest, we found a flight to make our ship, but we couldn't get anyone from Spirit on the phone in Ft. Lauderdale to see about getting our luggage which was only 30 minutes away from the port. No one answered, no one cared. We made our cruise, but without our luggage. I contacted Spirit Airlines when we got back and explained the situation.

Route: Nashville to Ft Lauderdale

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Central Mountain Air

Title: "Terrible service/planning"

Review: Vancouver to Campbell River. I'm never booking with Central Mountain Air again. First flight was cancelled and I had to go with Pacific Coastal. On the return flight, both they and Pacific Coastal had weather advisories to Campbell River at the same time. Pacific Coastal said if the weather was too bad that they would go to Comox and bus us the rest of the way, whereas Central Mountain Air would fly back to Vancouver and tell us to get our own accommodation at our expense. Terrible service/planning. Go with Pacific Coastal instead.

Route: Vancouver to Campbell River

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "Dont expect any customer service"

Review: This is the worst airline my family has flown with! Food was so terrible. Everything is disorganized, almost no English is spoken by people on the planes or at the counters inside the US or in Panama. They do not take care of your baggage either. Lost my 23k suitcase, and did not provide me with a number to call or any information other than it can take 21 business days for them to find my bag. Everything was horrible except for the leg room in the plane that was decent. Dont expect any customer service either!

Route: Las Vegas to São Paulo via Panama City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Norse Atlantic Airways

Title: "Will fly them again"

Review: Check in and gate agents were friendly but did make me check the size of my personal item in measuring bin. Even if you have checked in online, you still need to do passport verification at the airport before getting boarding pass. Ordered two meals, the first, Salmon was nice but the second I could not finish. Flight was not full so had three seats to myself. Entertainment system was good. Will fly them again. You just have to know what you have to pay for.

Route: Oslo to New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: TAM Airlines

Title: "friendly and acceptable"

Review: Frankfurt to Sao Paulo with TAM Airlines. Service was attentive, friendly and acceptable for economy class. Food is as good or less good as with other airlines. Seat is standard and what you get for economy. The IFE is rather slow and not as quickly responding as for example in the 787 of LAN. Overall a good and pricewise interesting way to travel to South America. Luggage was damaged upon return at FRA, but ground staff not interested in being friendly or understanding.

Route: FRA to GRU

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "Will never use them again"

Review: Had the most unpleasant experience with checking in. There were three lines: one for first class, one said main cabin and the third one for dropping the bags. We waited in the main cabin line for 30 minutes because the airline representatives were extremely slow. And when it was our turn to check in, we were asked to wait because there were people in the first class line. Apparently, first class passengers get a priority in the main cabin line as well. We tried to ask but Hawaiian representatives very surprisingly rude. Ive never had such experience with airlines in USA. Will never use them again.

Route: San Jose to Honolulu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "best crew Ive had to date"

Review: Livingstone to Johannesburg. My 40th flight on SAA in the last 15 months or so, and I must say this was the best crew Ive had to date. Flawless service, engaging purser, the Captain even made his announcement in German as there were Germans on board. SAA has challenges, but once up in the air, their service is consistently good, and a positive attitude from all the crew.

Route: Livingstone to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Eurowings

Title: "Eurowings didn't offer any alternative flights"

Review: I was in Stockholm waiting for my flight back to Birmingham in June. It was cancelled at 5am, 1 hour before my flight. I was sat in the airport, alone and with no help. Eurowings didn't offer any alternative flights, assistance for hotels or food. I had to make my way back into the centre to try and find somewhere to stay, which was massively expensive due to hostels no longer being available. The only flight I could afford direct back to the UK was 2 days later, and three times the cost of my origin flights. To this day, Eurowings still haven't refunded me the full cost of my flights. I've solo travelled a lot, but this experience shook me up, as I was left with no help in a foreign country.

Route: Stockholm to Birmingham

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Edelweiss Air

Title: "the selection of films was good"

Review: Zurich to Ho Chi Minh. We paid 149 CHF to Upgrade to economy max each way. Thoroughly worth it, had 4 seats each on the way out, and 2 seats each on the return. Even without this bonus it would've been worth the money as the extra legroom and recline was nice. I found the food to be acceptable both ways, especially the fresh bread. I disagree with a previous contributor as I thought the selection of films was good, much better than recent trips on Virgin Atlantic and Thai - recommended.

Route: Zurich to Ho Chi Minh

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Condor Airlines

Title: "service on board is disappointing"

Review: The cabin crew was generally not very friendly, and some of them were unprofessional. When boarding the aircraft, instead of greeting the passengers and helping out with storing luggage, two of the crew members in the economy were engaged in personal discussions, not even acknowledging passengers. During the landing, they did not notice that some passengers did not have seats in the mandated upright position. The food quality is average, and you have no choice in terms of the meals you get. Also, they don't provide enough drinks, and you need to constantly go to the back and ask for more. They don't provide bottles of water, only small cups. Economy seats have very limited legroom and are not very comfortable. On the one hand, you get slightly lower prices than Lufthansa and have the advantage of flying directly; on the other hand, the service on board is disappointing. The flight was almost on time, but they run a tight schedule and delays are not unusual.

Route: Los Angeles to Frankfurt

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "simply canceled the flight last minute"

Review: They simply canceled the flight last minute and I have my own 1 year child we were left at airport for 10 hours.

No customer support, no apology. Avoid in all cases, don't ever use this airline.

Route: Riyadh to Amman

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Eurowings

Title: "Both flights were delayed"

Review: Don't book flights with this company unless you are willing to wait a lot and especially if you have connecting flights. Went for a weekend to Stuttgart. Flew from Amsterdam to Stuttgart on Friday and back from Stuttgart to Amsterdam on Monday. Both flights were delayed last notice for 1h and 30'. This is a huge delay for a flight of around 1h 15'

Route: Amsterdam to Stuttgart

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Interjet

Title: "most boneheaded experience"

Review: The most boneheaded experience I've ever had on an airline. Flying from Miami to Guadalajara via Mexico City. Arriving in Mexico City it proved impossible to discover the gate associated with my connecting flight. Not present in the airport departures listing. A random Interjet gate agent urged me to 'wait 20 minutes'. 20 minutes later urged me to 'go upstairs and ask at the Interjet desk'. Visit the desk and am told, 'Gate T'. Go to Gate T and find Tampico passengers being boarded. Return to the Interjet desk, told Guadalajara boarding after Tampico. Return to Gate T and a lengthy wait until I am sitting at a deserted gate. Return to the Interjet desk. Oh, that flight has departed. WTF! From where because it didn't leave from the gate you sent me to. Go downstairs and see my supervisor and she will book you on another flight. Supervisor insists that the gate information was sent to the airport and 'not our fault' that it wasn't displayed. Of course not, who would have the audacity to blame Interjet for this mess up. And thanks for the heartfelt sympathy. So now my 9PM connection is a 6AM connection and I am enjoying the night at an airport gate. If I wanted to fly for 20 hours I would have booked a flight to Asia. Interjet is the airline that can't shoot straight.

Route: Miami to Guadalajara via Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Airlink

Title: "overall this was a nightmare"

Review: Understaffed and poor internal communications - lost essential baggage for a short business trip. I recently made a business trip to Cape Town for a conference. One of my bags therefore contained marketing material (rollup banners). I checked these bags in in Maputo, they were treated as normal hold baggage. I was advised that I needed to collect the bags in person at Johannesburg airport and re-check them in for the leg to Cape Town. Upon arrival at Johannesburg, the bag containing the banners did not appear - either at the carousel or the fragile/oversized baggage counter. When I attempted to make a baggage claim, the SA Airlink baggage claim desk was unstaffed. I therefore had to pass through customs and look for another desk. The transit desk was also unstaffed. I reached the main ticket office, which was fully staffed, however the staff there would not assist me, and sent me to a check in counter. The staff at the check in counter tried to phone their colleagues in the baggage team, however there was no answer. As my connecting flight was due to board, the staff member advised me to rush through security in order to reach the boarding gate. She promised to try to find the bag. I asked her for my claim number, however she stated that I should send an email to report my claim. I asked her why she herself could not send an email, at which point she stated that she could not help me further, since she did not have a computer. As I boarded the flight I asked the gate staff if my bag had been found but she was not interested and just wanted to get people on board. Upon arrival in Cape Town, again I tried to contact SA Airlink staff to discover if the bag had been found, however there were no SA Airlink staff in the whole airport. Upon arrival at my hotel I received a call that the bag had been found in Johannesburg, and was probably at Cape Town airport. However there were no staff there to confirm. I was given a number to call early the next morning. I called it multiple times, however it never answered. Late in the morning I got through to a number in Johannesburg, where a staff member admitted that they were having difficulty contacting the Cape Town airport branch and promised to call me back. On this day, I had to attend the conference at which I needed to display the banners. I ended up having to get alternative (inferior quality) banners printed up in Cape Town, in order to use at the conference. SA Airlink only confirmed that the banners had been found, at the end of the day, when it was too late to be of use. Despite the fact that some of the HQ staff I spoke to were pleasant and seemed to be trying to help, overall this was a nightmare. Two things became clear: a) SA Airlink save money by not having a full complement of staff at the airports - this means that there is no one to assist the passenger in case of problems b) The ground staff appear to be very unhappy and disgruntled, if you have any problem at all they just "don't want to hear about it". The aircraft itself was clean and the onboard snacks were OK, and the flights left nearly on time. So really this airline's weak point is lack of ground staff, poor attitude of ground staff, and poor internal communications.

Route: Maputo to Cape Town via Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Air China

Title: "still have not received my refund"

Review: Worst airline and horrible refund policy. I was to fly from Beijing Capital to Dubai, but they cancelled the flight. I applied for a refund and its been 4 months and I still have not received my refund.

Route: Beijing to Dubai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "a very pleasant flight"

Review: Munich to Johannesburg. Having read some recent reviews about SAA on Skytrax, I was a bit apprehensive about flying SAA. I booked Economy, but put in a bid for an upgrade to business and the offer was accepted. Business class configuration on the older A330-200 aircraft looks a bit dated, compared to the product on other airlines and newer aircraft, but the seat reclined to a 180 degrees flat seat. The bedding was comfortable. Lavatories were clean. The cabin crew was very attentive. Four meals options were available, with dessert and cheese selections. Wine selection from selection of South African vineyards. All meals served on porcellan. Breakfast is a choice of continental, full english, or fruit salad and cereals. Cabin lights were dimmed immediately after meal service, so that seats could be reclined for sleeping. Those who wanted breakfast were woken an hour before landing. On schedule arrival in JNB. All in all a very pleasant flight, even if the aircraft used was beginning to feel it's age a bit.

Route: Munich to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Xiamen Airlines

Title: "crew were really pleasant"

Review: Dublin to Xiamen via Amsterdam. The crew were really pleasant and went out of their way to be helpful. Very clean plane and comfortable seat - the usual lie flat. Entertainment was so poor with a very small selection of movies. Maybe we expect more as the western/mid-eastern airlines give you a really decent selection. The food was below par and no great shakes at all. Big no-no - they did not serve any vodka! This is a very first for me on any airline worldwide and I fly 30-40 times a year. With gin is this possibly the worlds most popular white spirt? I only drink an odd vodka and tonic so I went without. However, for the value and it was an offer, I had to give 4 stars. Other airlines for my destination were 4-500 more expensive and that is a big saving. If the fare narrows to 2-250 I would fly another.

Route: Dublin to Xiamen via Amsterdam

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Japan

Title: "not fly Jetstar Japan again"

Review: The communication from staff is the worst of any airline I've flown. We waited at the gate yesterday with the airline claiming the flight was on time until after the expected departure time. Finally 5 minutes after our expected departure time they announced the flight was entirely cancelled. JetStar Japan took no accountability and refused to help anyone rebook, explain what happens to the overweight bag costs they had already charged, or anything else you'd expect. Thankfully JAL got us rebooked, sadly connecting with Jetstar Japan again. Now day 2 trying to fly a 1 hour flight with Jetstar Japan, they're over 20m late and are still claiming they're on time. Will we fly today to make our connection with JAL to the US? No idea. Me and hundreds of others who found out after departure time yesterday that they had cancelled wait on tenderhooks .. cancellations and delays happen. The complete lack of timely communication or support is a disgrace. I'll not fly Jetstar Japan again, nor JAL if it requires connection via Jetstar Japan.

Route: Sapporo to Tokyo Narita

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Tigerair

Title: "staff went an extra mile"

Review: Great Service. I was travelling Tigerair from DPS to SIN on flight TR2289, 31st August 2015. I had mild motion sickness on the particular flight. Just as I got to my seat the cabin crew came forward and asked me if I need anything, just to make sure I was alright. Tigerair staff went an extra mile to check on me every 10-15 minutes.

Route: DPS to SIN

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Air Serbia

Title: "seat pitch was very good"

Review: Athens to Stuttgart via Belgrade. Well-kept aircraft, seat pitch was very good and seats were leather covered. Service was limited to a small bottle of water and crackers, everything else you have to pay. There is a good option to visit the Belgrade Airport lounge for 18 where you can be in a modern, quiet space with great food and alcoholic drinks. Service there was superb. You can upgrade to Business from 60 where there is access to lounge, 2 carry on and food during flight.

Route: Athens to Stuttgart via Belgrade

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hawaiian Airlines

Title: "no one cares to fix the maintenance issues"

Review: We had our flight from Sacramento to Honolulu delayed due to a technical issue as one of the engines didnt start. It took them over an hour to figure it and in total 2hr delays. On the way back we had technical issues, engine stretch or something (different model). I am not sure how good their maintenance on this airplane are but its clearly a problem. We are not frequent flyers with Hawaiian Airlines but people who sits around us said it happens often. Just very sad how no one cares to fix the maintenance issues instead of going through this all the time! Whats the chances that both our flights in days difference had technical issues.

Route: Sacramento to Honolulu

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Oman Air

Title: "the experience was excellent"

Review: Our overall experience was excellent. Our Apex Suites extremely comfortable and spacious. The food and service outstanfing, especially on the sector delhi to Muscat on our return. However, we sat in seats 15A and B which is the small cabin with only 6 seats. On the outward these seats were fine except by the time they got to us they had no sleep suits available in my size. Sadly the same cannot be said for the return. Although the standard of food and service (once they remembered we were there as we were the only passengers in the cabin) was excellent, because they take food orders from the front cabin first, by the time they got to us there was no amuse buche left, and neither my appetizer or dessert choice which was extremely disappointing. Also no amenity kits were brought round (we may have been forgotten yet again?) We would definitely fly Oman Air again as the experience was excellent but would I choose seats 15A and 15B again - I'm not sure. Also I am very disappointed with the " after service " as I wrote to Oman Air in Muscat to point out the problems experienced in these seats at least 3 weeks ago and they haven't responded. I did expect better from such a good airline.

Route: Paris to Delhi via Muscat

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Tunisair

Title: Tunisair customer review

Review: We flew business class on Tunisair on a business trip to Tunis and had a good flight. A319 on FRA-TUN had business class seats, the crew was always on hand and the lounge in FRA was comfortable and a good choice of food and drinks. During the flight a selection of beverages was available free of charge and the crew offered additional drinks several times. The snack was a little small for the business class price, only a sandwich and a piece of cake was served. The flight back was good also, but there were no business class seats - just economy class seating with free middle seat. The lounge in Tunis is not the most comfortable but it does its job. The crew was friendly. Only minus point here: no food due to problems at Tunis airport (we were informed at the lounge so we had some snacks there). All in all we had two good flights and would use Tunisair again.

Route: Frankfurt to Tunis

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Volaris

Title: "Horrible experience"

Review: Delays are normal for this airline, so you would think that they know how to handle such delays, but they don't. 9 out of 11 of their flights were delayed at Mexico city. Only one person was handling a crowd of anxious people looking for information about their flights. Horrible experience. I also had to spend the whole night trying to sleep on the floor because of a delay in Monterrey.

Route: Monterrey to Guatemala via México city

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Malta

Title: "aircraft are old, shabby and dirty"

Review: What a disgrace this sad little airline has become. I fly regularly between Amsterdam and Malta several times a year and unfortunately Air Malta is the only direct option. Air Malta's aircraft are old, shabby and dirty and the leg room is pathetic! Because their economy product is so abysmal I recently decided to travel business class, what a joke! Firstly there is no business class check in lane at Amsterdam airport so this means queueing with everyone else. After waiting for over 30 minutes, I finally arrived at the business class check in counter. Why have a check in counter for business class but no separate check in lane? When I enquired about this I was met with a shrug and giggles, pathetic. Once onboard, the seat (1A) was filthy and the window covered in fingerprints and was so badly scratched I could barely see out of it. There was also rubbish stuffed between the seats. Amazingly to me there was no separation between economy and business, not even a curtain. This meant that the front toilet which is normally reserved for business class was open to everyone. For pretty much the whole flight there was a queue of passengers in the aisle. I paid over 1000 for my ticket and am absolutely shocked that this is what Air MALTA try to pass off as business class. For shame, what an absolute disgrace. This airline is an insult to the beautiful country of Malta and it's good people.

Route: Amsterdam to Malta

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Airlink

Title: "great service, great airline"

Review: First time using Airlink, check in very quick from a pleasant check-in agent. Security quick boarding was via a bus which is expected in this small aircraft, carry on bags also placed in the hold before boarding. Departed on time for this short 40 min flight, the service on this short flight carried out by 1 cabin crew was just great. Seat A1 so had the chance to chat to the stewardess who was very professional, comfortable seat a sandwich and coffee served before our decent to George. I normally drive this trip - not anymore great service great airline.

Route: "Cape Town to George"

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cambodia Airways

Title: "definitely use the airline again"

Review: Not that much leg room. If you are over 180cm tall, you will be bashing your kneecaps, but otherwise, the seat is pretty comfortable. The services from the cabin crew were friendly and efficient. Due to Covid restrictions, no snack was served on this flight. There is no screen in the seats, so you must supply your own inflight entertainment. Would definitely use the airline again, as their routes are handy and they were punctual.

Route: Phnom Penh to Koh Samui

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: bmi Regional

Title: "customer service is not good"

Review: Regularly use BMI regional to travel between Bristol and Munich for work. Price for flight is usually exceptionally high when compared to other airlines - unless you can get a ticket in one of their sales. Flights often delayed or cancelled with little notice. Flight schedules changed after booking, with up to 3 months delay in airline notifying of the schedule change. Customer service is not good, only able to provide generic half hearted apologies or request you put it in writing - which takes several weeks to get a response and is usually just a generic 'thanks for your feedback' with no real answer to questions. On board magazine and website states that food selection on board is a 'bistro box' however, this is rarely the case, some flights you are lucky to get a small packet of crisps. On the plus side, cabin crew are friendly and helpful, seats are relatively roomy for a small aircraft, and Bristol airport is more convenient than some of the larger airports.

Route: BRS to MUC

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: TAAG Angola Airlines

Title: "£the shortest, cheapest route"

Review: Johannesburg to Lisbon via Luanda. It was the shortest, cheapest route compared to other airlines. At times communication was a bit challenging because the airline is more Portuguese than English, not the friendliest flight staff. On the ground at check-in in both Johannesburg and Lisbon the staff were friendly and extremely accommodating. In Luanda, on my return flight - not so much - was told to stand one side and constantly sternly told to wait - not that I was moving or saying anything. For the price you can't actually .

Route: Johannesburg to Lisbon via Luanda

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Allegiant Air

Title: "I wouldn't recommend it to anyone"

Review: My flight was delayed and I had to wait in the airport for seven hours. I emailed Allegiant to ask if there was anything they could do to make this situation right, but they told me the case was closed and I wasn't entitled to anything per company policy. I will not be flying this airline again, and I wouldn't recommend it to anyone.

Route: Las Vegas, Nevada to Provo, Utah

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: easyJet

Title: "stranded with no help"

Review: If I could give 0 out of 10 I would! Myself and two friends were due to fly back from Prague last April when our flight was cancelled an hour and a half after it was due to take off. There were no customer service agents on site to assist us getting home or finding accommodation, just a text telling us our flight had been cancelled, no apology - nothing! I had to spend money on food, beverages and a hotel room for the night. EasyJet reimbursed me for the food and beverages (the lowest of the two claims I submitted to them) no problem, but when it came to the hotel room they kept rejecting my claim telling me my receipts and invoice were invalid because they didn't have my name on which is ridiculous. I seriously recommend avoiding this company as they clearly don't care about their customers and are fine leaving them stranded with no help whatsoever!

Route: Prague to Manchester

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Volotea

Title: "my favourite airline"

Review: Surely my favourite airline company among the so called low cost. Honest and friendly commercial politics (luggage, tickets). No tricks, no hidden costs. Easy App.

Route: Genoa to Naples

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Swoop

Title: "Flight attendants were sub standard"

Review: Worst airline I have ever flown with. Do not expect anything at any time along the way. If you fly with them, do your research. I thought I did. Ticket agents were terrible. Flight attendants were sub standard. I could list a dozen things along the journey and back. Some of which were beyond there control but do not expect any customer service. Its just not there. The indifference was what really got me in the end.

Route: Victoria to Edmonton via Las Vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Qatar Airways

Title: "free wi-fi isn't included"

Review: Service on point as always! Better seats in a Boeing 787. More comfortable for me. Well the privacy door is snice but seat comfy. Still don't understand why free wi-fi isn't included in business tickets.

Route: Doha to Phuket

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Qantas Airways

Title: "an under expectation experience"

Review: It was a bit of an under expectation experience, the seats were smaller compared to other airlines for the same class, they served cold chicken and rice. Check-in, cabin crews, cleanliness and entertainment were good enough.

Route: Denpasar to Melbourne

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "Terrible airline"

Review: Terrible airline. Our flight was delayed multiple times. We were supposed to be in a bachelor party but we were over a half-day late. This is unacceptable

Route: Calgary to Kelowna

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: TAAG Angola Airlines

Title: "Service was friendly"

Review: We flew with TAAG from Cape Town. As of a few days ago, passengers in transit no longer need to do the mandatory rapid covid test at airport in Luanda. Cape Town to Luanda is 3.5 hours in an older 737-700. Food was ok, not bad. Service was friendly even with a full flight. No inflight entertainment system. Arriving in Luanda we had to take the rapid test in a hanger. The process takes around 30-60 minutes depending how full flights are. For our return flight (2 weeks later) they thankfully stopped this mandatory testing. You just need to show your negative RT-PCR test (not older than 72 hours of flight). It does not matter if you're vaccinated or not, the PCR test is all they want to see. Rapid covid tests are not permitted for leaving SA or Portugal. Ground staff are well informed. The wait at Luanda airport was long around 5 hours before boarding the next flight close to midnight. We flew TAAG 5 years ago so coming back to Luanda we had an idea what to expect. In short it's a chaotic basic airport with little to offer except expensive drinks and food. There are even strange flea market type stalls selling traditional African items. Admittedly the airport has been upgraded a bit, now offering a duty free store and more open seating. This time we stayed in the Pall lounge using our Lounge Key Visa benefit. The lounge is basic but comfortable. They give you a few vouchers to exchange for drinks or toasted sandwiches. At least it is airconditioned. The flight to Lisbon was on a modern 777-300ER with a 3-3-3 seating with some of the best leg room I've experienced. At 1.86m tall, I still had plenty room in front of my knees. At present their inflight entertainment system has been turned off. This did not bother us, as at midnight you don't really want to watch movies. The flight is only 7 hours to Lisbon so sleep comes in handy for a full day ahead. Shortly after take off, they bring you dinner. We had a choice of beef or bacalhau (fish) which was actually quite tasty. The toilets were clean on all flights. Breakfast was also served around 90 minutes before landing in Lisbon. Coming back to Cape Town was only a 2.5 hours transit at Luanda so quite convenient. To go back to SA you don't need a PCR test if you are vaccinated. If not vaccinated then you have to do the test which is quite expensive around 80euros. All 4 flights there and back were perfectly on time, some even landed earlier than stated. Luggage allowance. Most tickets now cover you for 2 x 23kg bags in economy. Masks have to be worn on all flights except when eating but not heavily enforced. TAAG does not come close to Middle East airlines in terms of inflight entertainment, but the short overall flying time combined with a lower airfare works well for us, especially compared to options on other airlines which take much longer and cost a lot more.

Route: Cape Town to Lisbon via Luanda

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Aeroflot Russian Airlines

Title: "I tried to change the meal"

Review: Tel Aviv to Moscow. I ordered diabetic meal which was just not edible for me. when I tried to change the meal for the flight back they said its not possible because its 24 hours before the flight. I don't think 24 hours notification is unreasonable for changes about food.

Route: Tel Aviv to Moscow

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Eurowings

Title: "no social distancing and no extra line for priority"

Review: I booked with my family business class for our holiday in August, to Stuttgart, Germany. On our way back, at the airport, we lined up in the priority line. There was one customer in front of us, nobody behind us. We were in our holiday clothes, not suit and tie. The check in clerk stood up and shouted in German (I speak German) on top of this voice "This line is only for priority customers, you should join the other line". 100 heads turned around looking at us, all from the economy line and we looked like criminals. I then said I was business class. His female colleague then asked him if she should see us (him clearly being the supervisor). He told her not to and they let us wait until almost all of the economy line cleared out (like to be punished). When I challenged him about how embarrassing this was rather than apologising he lectured me that he had to keep the line free for business class customers (again like I was not) at which time I shut up and didn't say anything anymore. Also, the lounge in Stuttgart was closed (open in London), there was no proper food or drink on the plane and boarding was a farce with no social distancing and no extra line for priority. Finally busses in Stuttgart packed all the passengers of the whole plane in 1 bus to save on cost not caring about Coronavirus and social distancing in the slightest and drove like they had to win a Grand Prix race. Therefore my advice: 1) If you can fly BA instead, better fly BA economy than Eurowings business and you will be treated much better 2) If you cant avoid flying with them don't book any upgrades, they treat you like cattle anyway. You wont get any decent food neither and the business class lounges are closed.

Route: Stuttgart to London Heathrow

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: China Southern Airlines

Title: "airline service is good"

Review: The ground service is awesome. A kind lady took me to choose my seat, helped me address my oversized luggage, and led me to the security check. the airline service is good too, almost everyone could get a blanket if they wanted. The next flight from Sydney to Perth, I even couldnt get a blanket in the plane from Qantas.

Route: Guangzhou to Sydney

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Asiana Airlines

Title: "denying my request for a refund"

Review: Syracuse to Seoul via New York. I booked an itinerary that involved a JetBlue flight from Syracuse to JFK, then an Asiana flight from JFK to Seoul. However, with less than 48 hours left until the start of the trip, JetBlue cancelled its flight. Trying to be flexible, especially during a situation of a global pandemic, I booked a cab service that would bring me to JFK on time for my second flight. When I called Asiana Airlines to confirm the status of my flight (after waiting on the phone for a very long time), they told me that because I couldn't follow the order of the itinerary (as in take the JetBlue flight first), they could not let me on the plane, even though I had paid for my ticket in full. Even after I had explained that my JetBlue flight was modified and thereby it was impossible for me to follow the order of the itinerary, the customer service representatives (I spent hours on the phone taking to more than one) kept repeating that this is was company policy and that I could not be on the plane. How is this kind of blatantly exploitative, unethical practice allowed? They are completely refusing to be flexible and even are denying my request for a refund.

Route: Syracuse to Seoul via New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "Open seating is stupid"

Review: Constant delays with Southwest! When it's their fault, they punish you (customers) like we're in the wrong! A exlso, if I pay for a ticket with a certain seat number, I want to sit in that seat! What's the point of purchasing a ticket if it's always open seating! I think that's very unfair and it takes away from customers who purchase a ticket with certain expectations! I recently flew swa and was very upset because again, I paid for a ticket and almost didn't get a seat. If I purchase a ticket for a seat, I want to sit in that seat period! Open seating is stupid! Especially when you have a full flight. Very it together SW!!

Route: Cincinnati to Las Vegas

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Bangkok Airways

Title: "a very good product for the price"

Review: As others have noted, the airline is very good when it comes to being on time, which is a rarity in Thai society and life in general in the kingdom. Both cabin and ground staff conducted themselves professionally, unlike several other short-haul carriers, and its easy to see why Bangkok Airways stands out among them in a positive light. Somehow the aircraft was configured in a single-class configuration so everyone rode in coach. Legroom seemed to have diminished from the last time I flew with them 5 years back, so that was one sore point. Still, a very good product for the price which is just a few pennies more than what other airlines are charging.

Route: Chiang Mai to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Algerie

Title: "Very good flight"

Review: Paris to Algiers. Very good flight, excellent catering, clean plane, but crowded. The cabin is spacious for a 737, room for the legs, comfortable seat. Very good meal for a 2 hour flight. The crew is listening. Only complaint, the windows were dirty.

Route: Paris to Algiers

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "need to improve flight hardware"

Review: Tried for my first time this airline 1 August 2019 from Dubai to Copenhagen via Amman. Both aircraft were on older, worn but fairly clean A320 machines. No IFE apart from flight trip map displayed on shared monitor in front of cabin sections. Individual screens were installed but not activated. Trip went well and flights on time. Onboard, food was mediocre and no hot food were offered, only sandwiches, cakes, and drinks. They served a good red wine: Jordanian River (Shiraz 2018). Seat spacious. Ticket not cheap. Best part were the good lounges in Dubai (Ahlan lounge T1) and in Amman (Crown lounge). They were both splendid. However, lounge access was not granted from my ticket but from my elite status on another airline in Oneworld (Qatar Airways). I had a missing luggage issue from previous flight on which I was well informed while onboard prior to departure from Amman. Amman is a small and cozy airport. It could be a very good airline but need to improve flight hardware, cabin tidiness, food quality, and increase options, and include hot meals. Missing IFE also becomes an issue for the last flight which lasted almost 5 hours.

Route: Dubai to Copenhagen via Amman

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: United Airlines

Title: "A horrible airline"

Review: Just terrible united is one of the worst airlines anyone can chose to fly. So many unnecessary delays, terrible service. A horrible airline and i will never ever fly United again. I landed at 5:55 and i am still on this airplane and it is currently 7:15. This is horrible.

Route: Newark to Puerto Rico

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "seat is good with Flat bed"

Review: We flew Thai AirAsia from Bangkok to Tokyo Narita by Premium class on February 16, 2023. The check-in is nice and smooth. The seat is good with Flat bed and have a comfortable space. The service is OK and the cabin crew provide us with pillow and blanket (it was night flight). However, the food is quite normal and not many choice to made (mostly chicken dishes) and we received1 bottle of drinking water. The flight was smooth but delayed for 30 minutes. Overall, it is OK to fly.

Route: Bangkok to Tokyo Narita

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Ravn Alaska

Title: "delayed and I missed connection"

Review: Do not use this airline if you have any other options. I travel instate extensively for business. Over the last month, 2 flights into Kotzebue got cancelled. Last week, my flight from Homer got delayed and I missed my connection in Anchorage back to Fairbanks. Alaska Airlines, although a partner, said it was my problem that I missed my connection. Have a heated discussion, was finally given a seat, with a 5 hours wait in Anchorage. Yesterday, (May 14) I flew to Dillingham. Again, the flight out of Anchorage was delayed, and for some reason my one small suitcase was not onboard. I was told it would arrive on the 5:00pm flight and did not. This morning I was told it would be on the 9:30 flight, and it was not. The desk agent in Dillingham tried to call the Anchorage desk, and no one will answer the phone. A family member called the corporate office an hour ago, she was told the desk was too busy and we have not heard back.

Route: Fairbanks to Dillingham via Anchorage

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "they went way way above the call of duty"

Review: Urns Molina and Mariete Mayos were extremely helpful with my ticket reservation to Lima. I had missed the flight the day before and wasn't in the system and they figured out a solution and got me on board a flight. I think they went way way above the call of duty helping me and I'm very appreciative. Your airline is lucky to have employees like them. Thank you ladies for all your help.

Route: Miami to Lima

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Delta Air Lines

Title: "Terrible experience"

Review: Terrible experience. They over booked multiple flights having me and my family on standby list unsure if we would make it home. They also broke off 2 wheels on my suitcase with no compensation because it's normal wear and tear. Will never fly with this airline again.

Route: Kansas City to Belize City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Nouvelair

Title: "never fly with them again"

Review: Absolutely awful airline whose primary aim is to scam as much money out of you as possible. They sold me a ticket that included checked luggage but when I turned up at the airline to check-in they charged me £75 to check in a bag both on the way out and back in. The information they provide with the ticket and booking is so limited and everything is in French despite booking from the UK. The customer service is a complete joke. I will never fly with them again.

Route: Tunis to Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Korean Air

Title: "wouldnt recommend it"

Review: I was flying on business from Chicago to Korea. With the flight attendants its like they ask you a question and before you can answer, theyre already suggesting something else. Mind you, the flight wasnt full so theres no reason why they should rush. What really annoyed was when they started serving coffee and desert, they asked me if I wanted coffee or tea, instead I asked for water. To my dismay, the stewardess answered me dont you have a bottled water provided for in your seat? I told her, I was saving it for the longer part of the trip so I wouldnt have to bother her! Aside from the very limited options Korean Air is just a piece of work. I wouldnt recommend it to anyone.

Route: Chicago to Seoul

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: QantasLink

Title: "blown away by the service"

Review: I would like to express my thanks for the excellent treatment I received when I flew to Sydney from Toowoomba (flight QF2123 at 1700) on 29th August. I am partially disabled and needed wheelchair assistance as I cannot walk very far. From the moment I entered Wellcamp airport till I left Sydney airport I was treated like a VIP. My return trip on the 20th September (QF2016 at 0840) was a carbon copy. I was blown away by the service I received, both on the ground and in the air. I would recommend Qantas and will certainly choose again for any future flights. Thank you to all your amazing staff. My flight was booked by my daughter so I don't know my e-ticket details.

Route: WTB to SYD

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: American Eagle

Title: "service is extremely basic"

Review: Flew American Eagle from Albuquerque - Los Angeles and return. I decided to pay the extra for First Class because I wanted the sole seat 2A. The seat is very comfortable and there's plenty of space. The flight crews and cabin crews were great. Very friendly and helpful. The service though is extremely basic. No food only nuts, chips and cookies. It would be nice to offer the First Class passengers some sandwiches at the very least. The tickets are very expensive and there is nothing special about the on board 'fare'. The wi-fi on board is good but it is also not complimentary, you have to pay. Again, why not offer that for free to First Class passengers? On the ground in LA I was told that I could not use the Admirals Lounge because it is not for "First Class domestic passengers". Again the ticket is very expensive and I don't understand why domestic First Class cannot use the lounges. Dollars per mile, I am sure that American makes more money on their domestic First Class than on their international routes. I had to extend my trip and when I changed my ticket I was charged an additional $358.00!!! Outrageous! So, my ticket ended up costing over $1,200! I will think twice about flying with American when booking my next flight. They only seem interested in making money and not customer satisfaction.

Route: ABQ to LAX

Seat Type: First Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "a very good airline"

Review: San Francisco to Los Angeles, this was an excellent flight on a very good airline. I like Virgin America with their modern, simplistic approach with a focus on the things that matter and not others which cost money. The plane was modern, clean and streamlined with intimate lighting for an early evening flight from SFO to LAX. The service was friendly appreciating that at this time most of the passengers just want to relax. I was very impressed with Virgin America and will fly with them again.

Route: SFO to LAX

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thai AirAsia

Title: "take Thai AirAsia again"

Review: I fly with Thai AirAsia to Chiang Rai from Hat Yai. Check in via online and print out the air ticket. My flight is 7:20am Thailand time and arrived by 9:40am Thailand time. That time I get cheapest rate (around RM130/person). Check in is fast! Check in around 2 hours before we fly through the sky. Upon waiting, there is free WiFi before departure and have food and beverages. No entertainment features on the plane. On the plane, the seat is narrow. Cabin crew are very friendly. They speak Thai, English, Mandarin and Bahasa Malaysia. There is no free food and beverages. When arrived, they not allowed everyone to move in the plane once landing until final stop. When leave the plane, they say like "have a good journey". I'll take Thai AirAsia again in the future.

Route: Hat Yai to Chiang Rai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Eurowings

Title: "Cabin crew really annoying"

Review: Eurowings flight operated by Avion Express Malta. No business class available. No extra legroom. Seats not cleaned. Cabin crew really annoying and doesn't care. And they stuff others handbags on top of yours without being gentle. Just slam and press it in and close the lid.

Route: Tbilisi to Stuttgart

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: fastjet

Title: "very friendly staff"

Review: The flight from Kilimanjaro to Dar es Saalam was on time, check-in was very smooth, pleasant flight, and very friendly staff, including very good safety briefing. Similarly, the flight from Dar-JRO was on time, smooth flight, very friendly and client-oriented staff. On our return flight, KLM was approaching JRO to land, so we spent few minutes circling around. The captain promptly informed us, and cracked a joke, "a big bird is ahead of us and about to land, so we need to make way", everyone laughed which brought for a very good feeling.

Route: Kilimanjaro to Dar es Saalam

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: PAWA Dominicana

Title: "do not book with this airline"

Review: This is one of the worst customer service centers I've encountered in decades of traveling. We were planning to fly with PAWA to Puerto Rico before the island was ravaged by hurricanes. When we reached out to the airline to change our flight to a location with running water and electricity we were told that was not an option under any circumstances. We told the representative that we would be willing to pay a change fee and they refused. They offered for a $80 change fee we could fly to Puerto Rico the day before or after our booked flight. We again explained that the island had been devastated and we just wanted to go anywhere else with PAWA they again refused saying the airport in Puerto Rico was up and running and that is the only stipulation for rescheduling a flight. They said if it was a war ravaged country they would still send us there if the airport was up and running and that our personal safety made no difference to them. Do not book with this airline.

Route: Aruba to San Juan

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Lufthansa

Title: "Legroom in Economy was below minimum"

Review: Legroom in Economy was below minimum. With the Backrest in front of you at the back position you cannot eat or have a tablet on the table. The seat becomes uncomfortable after 3-4 hours. One snack (vegan Wrap) and one Meal (vegetarian Pasta or Chicken with couscous) was served - Taste was ok. Wine was offered free of charge. Crew was not very friendly. Infotainment was good. Lot of movies to decide and an USB-Socket.

Route: Dubai to Munich

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "Poor logistics, poor service"

Review: I usually do not write reviews with a good or a bad experience. I usually let bad experiences pass, however I feel I need to write a review to let others know just how poor of an airline Lynx is in terms of logistics and customer service. I had a 7:35 am flight scheduled today which had been cancelled and moved to 8pm. They did not alert me until around 3am in the morning. By email and a voice mail. Naturally I woke up and headed straight to the airport to find out my flight had been cancelled and I had to head back into the city. A few hours notice that your flight has been cancelled and a 3am phone call is not acceptable in the slightest. I then got to airport and had a small gym bag filled with a few changes of clothes and a small work laptop. I was charged $90 dollars to bring this small bag onto the flight an absolutely outrageous price. When I brought up my displeasure at the price and the prior service, I was told to call the airline to complain, this was coming from someone who works in customer service for the airline, and I was argued with. A member of her team even agreed that my bag was just a small bag and should not be charged but she was ignored. Poor logistics, poor service, bad prices, poorly trained staff. Stay away from Lynx

Route: Toronto to Calgary

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Sky Express Airlines

Title: "the flight attendants didnt assure Covid safety on board"

Review: Horrible Customer Service! I booked extra luggage by accident and I wanted to cancel it. I called 5 times and was on hold for forever to get someone to speak too. I asked about a refund and they just said there is nothing they can do. Flight: old propeller plane, uncomfortable seats and the flight attendants didnt assure Covid safety on board. They looked away to not see people take off their masks. And the flight was delayed also!

Route: Zakynthos to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "Avoid at all costs!"

Review: Terrible experience with LATAM Airlines after booking return Business Premium seats between London and Rio De Janeiro. The airline changed our flight times, dates, flight sectors and completely voided whole sectors from our trip multiple times without notification or explanation. I would notice the changes purely by chance via Checkmytrip.com. Following each change I would dutifully endure LATAM's service call centre for several hours, incorporating dozens of call disconnections, excuses and down right lies ranging from the flight has been cancelled to the flight no longer has availability, all while still selling our seats for said "cancelled, or unavailable" flights on their app and website - this they explained by lying that their website was glitching (for 3 months?) The changes made by LATAM to our booking over the course of a few weeks amounted to the following. The flight we booked (London to Rio de Janeiro (via Sao Paulo) dep 24th Feb and return to London 11th March) becoming London to Rio de Janeiro (via Sao Paulo) dep 25th Feb, return 11th March. Then London to Madrid dep 24th Feb, Madrid to Sao Paulo, Sao Paulo to Rio de Janeiro; then London to Frankfurt dep 24th Feb, Frankfurt to Sao Paulo, Sao Paulo to Rio de Janeiro; Then our return flight began to change without notification or explanation, changed from the flight we booked: Rio de Janeiro to Sao Paulo, Sao Paulo to London dep 11th Mar, which became 4.) Rio de Janeiro dep 11th Mar to Belo Horizonte, Belo Horizonte to Sao Paulo, Sao Paulo to London; then Rio de Janeiro dep 11th Mar to Brasilia, Brasilia to Sao Paulo, Sao Paulo to London; then Rio de Janeiro to Campinas, Sao Paulo to London (How do I get from Campinas to Sao Paulo??) then Sao Paulo to London (So now I have to get from Rio to Sao Paulo on my own?). This then culminated in the next change being made to our booking resulting in no return flight at all. After hours and hours on the phone to Customer Services without being offered any explanation or alternative return flight, we decided to continue with the outward journey via Frankfurt and fight it out face to face once in Brazil. On arrival at London Heathrow with bags backed to board the flight to Frankfurt, the check-in agent told us apologetically that we would be unable to board as LATAM had invalidated the ticket for the London to Frankfurt sector. The ticket was on the system but LATAM had not reserved the seats. We were advised to contact Customer services and ask LATAM to Validate the tickets. Invariably the LATAM agent I spoke with hung up on me and we had no where to go. As LATAM had not reserved the seats to Frankfurt via Lufthansa there weren't even seats available for us to purchase directly from Lufthansa to ensure we could make our onward connection to Sao Paulo. The distress and anguish we experienced as a result of LATAM's blatant disregard for their customers was like nothing I'd ever experienced with any other airline. As LATAM contract out their ticketing service to a third party agent (dnata) at London Heathrow, we had no option but to try and explain our situation to the third party agent. This dnata agent incredible and everything that LATAM wasn't. She listened to us, empathised with us and committed to us that she would help resolve the nightmare LATAM had placed us in. She re-booked us back onto our original flight (which LATAM had repeatedly refused to do). Avoid at all costs!

Route: London to Sao Paulo

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Regional Express

Title: "Absolutely fantastic service"

Review: Flew Mount Isa to Cairns. Absolutely fantastic service! Travelling with an infant at the age of 6wks on my own was a little daunting but Regional Express made the trip so comfortable and reassuring for myself and my baby. Would fly with them over a larger airline anytime. Thank You Rex!

Route: Mount Isa to Cairns

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Norwegian

Title: "nothing was complimentary"

Review: My flight from Denver to Paris was 5 hours delayed. They didn't tell me what was going on until hour 4, which they chalked it up to mechanical issues. It was pretty clear at hour 3 I was going to miss my next flight in Paris with easyJet, I tried to get information on my options, but the person at the gate was rude. The flight was less than great, since nothing was complimentary, do my research before I book next time. Missing my easyJet flight from Paris. On my flight back from Paris to Denver, the flight was delayed an hour. I sent in my incident report to this airline to get reimbursed for the $150 I lost, and a month later they tell me it was out of their control.

Route: Denver to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai Smile Airways

Title: "lack of professionalism"

Review: Flight TG337 from Bangkok to Chennai. Since the beginning, before the take off, I discovered that my monitor and audio didnt work properly. I asked the hostess for assistance, she told me that I had to wait 1 minute. Than she sit down for the take off that happened many minutes later. After take off nothing happened, I asked again and she said 1 minute again. After a few minutes I asked and she said 10 minutes. After 10-20 minutes nothing happened, then I decided to move to the empty seat in front of me. After a few time I was told that I had to come back because I didnt pay for the extra space of the seat (that was the one beside the emergency exit). I explained that my video and audio were not working and I was told told they were fixed. Then I moved back to my original seat and the systems were not working at all! Then I moved again to the place close to the emergency exit, I had dinner, and I was told more times that I had to come back to my place. I was treated as I was trying to get an upgrade without paying but actually I was the one who payed for a service that was not working properly. I asked to double check again because I wanted to be sure that I was moving seat for the last time and they confirmed. Then I moved one more time, at first the system was ok then it started again to jump the audio and video making impossible to watch the movie. Im very disappointed by the total lack of professionalism and politeness that I expect from hostess and mainly from a crew supervisor. At the end of the flight I was tired, frustrated and I could not watch the movie due to the frequent interruption by the crew and system not working. Im a frequent traveler for both business and tourism reasons and this is the first time I get so disappointed from a so weak and rude service. I wont travel Thai anymore and Ill suggest my company and everybody Ill speak with to avoid such a bad service.

Route: Bangkok to Chennai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: French Bee

Title: "This airline is fine"

Review: This airline is fine. My family of four (2 adults 2 kids) flew Miami-Orly and back for spring break. We checked in online and were all seated together. We didn't check bags, so I can't speak to that experience, but no one was weighing carry-ons on the way back. The boarding process is a little chaotic, but everyone got on the plane eventually. We did pay extra for meals (and checked bags if needed, but because it was unseasonably warm, we were able to manage with carryons), and the food was slightly better than average. Flight attendants all nice. International economy flights are always kind of unpleasant because they're so long, but there was just nothing exceptional about this experience. Seats seemed like the usual size to me--I'm on the small side, but my husband is over 6' and said seats were okay. He feels a bit cramped in any economy seat, but he found French Bee seats no worse than average.

Route: Miami to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Titan Airways

Title: "flight just like they used to be"

Review: Luton to Alicante 9th September. Due to technical problems with Monarch Airlines plane we boarded a replacement A320 operated for Monarch by Titan Airways. A flight just like they used to be. A professional and articulate purser, and other crew members very good too. Most refreshing was that all passengers received a free hot breakfast and beverages, served swiftly. The most enjoyable to Alicante I have taken, courtesy of Titan Airways.

Route: Luton to Alicante

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Delta Air Lines

Title: "clean seats and good service"

Review: I'd recommend this airline because it has seat comfort, games on the TV, excellent food like chips, water, etc. They also have lots of legroom, no turbulence, clean seats and good service. The only concern about this airline is they don't have much food on the menu but I'd still give this a 10/10.

Route: Boston Logan International Airport to Orlando International Airport

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: GoAir

Title: "an extremely risky option"

Review: Hyderabad to Delhi. I had booked a ticket with GoAir and paid a total amount of Rs 6,403 for the round trip. Four days before my flight from Hyderabad to Delhi GoAir emailed me that they were cancelling my flight for "operational reasons." My flight was at 10:25AM from Hyderabad, landing at Delhi at 12:45PM in the afternoon. The only options to rebook the flight that they gave me were a 5:30AM or a 11:30PM from Hyderabad (the former means I would have to leave for the airport at 3AM and the latter meant I would land in Delhi at 2AM). As a young woman travelling alone, neither of these options was conducive to a safe or comfortable journey and I was forced to cancel. They said they would only refund Rs 2,600 (much less than half the amount for the round trip) and also refused to refund the convenience fee charged by the agency. I had to pay an amount that was more than 400% higher to buy a new ticket with AirAsia (given that the trip was only four days away). Reading other reviews I see that GoAir has clearly made it a commonplace occurrence to cancel flights on short notice without offering reasonable or comparable alternatives to rebook. GoAir may be cheap, but it is an extremely risky option.

Route: Hyderabad to Delhi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Fiji Airways

Title: "no room to move "

Review: Apia, Samoa to San Francisco with Fiji Airways. Seats were ridiculous! There was no room to move at all. Approx 2.5 feet between my own seat back and the seat back in front of me. 11 hours in the middle and I could barely walk. The staff were professional, courteous, and helpful. This was my 3rd time to the South Pacific/Asia and it was the most uncomfortable trip of all. We were simply sardines.

Route: Apia, Samoa to San Francisco

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "Today Lynx loses my loyalty"

Review: Today Lynx loses my loyalty. My husband and I have flown with Lynx 8 times in the past year. Two days ago my flight was delayed by 4 hours, and the delay was announced after I had arrived at the airport. I accepted that stuff happens and still got home safely and still defending Lynx. But my flight today has now also been delayed due to staff shortage. The 4 hour delay means I miss my ride after landing, to my final destination. I must overnight. That means I need an overnight bag. I asked customer service if they would allow me to take a carry on bag, cost free, due to this being a result of their delay. That was refused. I could pay an additional cost, the same cost as the flight to take on a bag. Lynx, you've lost 2 of your greatest (former) cheerleaders.

Route: Calgary to Winnipeg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Scoot

Title: "best service I have experienced"

Review: All the flight attendants performed their tasks with enthusiasm and energy. I must make special mention of the senior cabin official, he was superb. No problem was too much. His energy and smile was infectious, the best service I have experienced on a flight

Route: Singapore to Perth

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: China Eastern Airlines

Title: "airline is 100% frustrating"

Review: San Francisco to Shanghai. Every aspect of my experience with this airline is 100% frustrating. I completely regret everything about this flight. Even before my flight I could see that it was a mistake to choose this horrible airline. Booking has been difficult, the website is broken. Trying to fix my ticket requires a call to customer service - which means losing hours out of your life on hold. Once I finally got through to a customer service representative, they were useless to the point of idiocy. Thanks to their broken website and miserable CSR's, I was unable to select my own seat, resulting in my entire family being spread around the aircraft, my children sitting alone in center seats between two strangers. My family checked four bags. One of which was lost and another was broken. I haven't filled out a claim form yet for the lost bag, but I already know that the customer service team is staffed by subhuman, uncaring scumbags. Judging from other people's comments, I will never see my luggage again. This lost bag has had a pretty bad effect on my vacation. My children are crying. Thank you for nothing, China Eastern Airlines, you pile of garbage.

Route: San Francisco to Shanghai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Corendon Airlines

Title: Corendon Airlines customer review

Review: Amsterdam to Faro return with Corendon Airlines. Both flights were on time and with all the comfort and service paid for. Ample room on my XL seats. Staff friendly and competent.

Route: Amsterdam to Faro

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Japan Airlines

Title: "meals were just plain awful"

Review: Sydney to Tokyo Narita. Sadly disappointed by Japan Airlines. While the crews and seating were superb the meals in premium economy (and economy) were just plain awful. I like Japanese food very much but, except for the Udon-in-the-Sky snack, the meals, especially on the Sydney to Narita leg were disgusting. Economy meals on Japan Airlines used to be some of the industry's best - these were some of the worst. I'd be happy to pay an extra $100 or more to get a decent set of meals instead of the awful food served on this route. On the other hand, its fair to say the cabin crew were superb, intelligent, and efficient in every way, the flights were on-time and the aircraft absolutely spotless, Its great that JAL uses the Qantas Lounge in Sydney and this is better than the JAL First Class Lounge at Narita, where the food has gone downhill. Also a lot of the staff in there are very officious and made me want to get out as soon as I could.

Route: Sydney to Tokyo Narita

Seat Type: Premium Economy

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "really had a bad experience"

Review: I booked a round trip ticket from Munich to Addis Ababa for me and my daughter so that I can bring her back from Addis Ababa because the Egypt air website doesn't have the option to book for children aged 2-11 if they are not accompanied by an adult. And there is no one-way option just for her if I had bought a round trip ticket just for myself. With this option restriction being a mishap, on the return flight, I couldn't check in my daughter because they said she didn't fly together with me from Munich but she had already come with a one-way ticket prior to that. And because of this, I had to miss my flight since I can't leave without her and the agents at the airport check-in said I had to fix my ticket at a ticket office the next day. And because of this, missing the flight cost me additional expenses besides the extra flight expense that I had to pay which are the no-show penalty and getting a new ticket for my daughter. The website needs to have a section with details on the booking process on what's allowed and what's not. Because not knowing these limitations makes your customers suffer to such extreme levels be it mentally, financially, emotionally, and physically. Put a section where for certain types of bookings, it is best to do the booking at a ticket office. Because you are really inconveniencing your customers, I really had a bad experience with my 5-year-old daughter. In addition, during the flight, I was covered with a blanket and my daughter was watching a movie but the cabin crew passed my daughter without giving her lunch but gave one to the person in the next seat, and my daughter me why she didn't get one when I called the cabin staff and asked she told me it is because she thought I was sleeping. It doesn't matter if I was sleeping if my daughter is awake, she could have served the food to her or woke me up.

Route: Munich to Addis Ababa via Cairo

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Royal Brunei Airlines

Title: Royal Brunei Airlines customer review

Review: Mainly a comfortable trip. Seat comfortable, however controls difficult to work out. Food just okay. While respecting another countrys stance on alcohol, I think when one has paid a lot of money for the fare then some respect could be shown for cultural preferences ie wine with dinner. I found the one hour stopover in Dubai very annoying. Passengers must leave the plane, walk a long distance to the transit lounge, then go through security and then get back on the same plane again. bl was sound asleep when we arrived in Dubai and never settled again after this. Flight attendants were excellent but its a shame they couldnt offer more ie better meals and wine. I flew with Qatar Airways business class 18 months ago and Royal Brunei Airlines does not compare with them, although I acknowledge that Qatar Airways fares cost more.

Route: Melbourne to London via Brunei

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Saudi Arabian Airlines

Title: "service quality has decreased significantly"

Review: I am not completely satisfied with my recent experience with Saudi Airlines, even though I hold Alfursan Silver Elite SkyTeam membership. Unfortunately, the service quality has decreased significantly in the recent period. Through several trips, I noticed a big difference in terms of guest care when calling the customer service centre you will wait for no less than 30 minutes, even when you were holding the premium membership, and most of the employees, if you reach them, will not solve your request or make it complicated and not initiating the service. The quality of food on board has deteriorated even to the business class and not only to the economy class and also the fulfilment of requests by ground staff or flight attendant mostly average to bad, and I noticed a lack of flight performance to leave or arrive on time in several flights and also even a large increase in prices and in return without good service I used to choose Saudi Airlines previously for several reasons, including the special membership that I carry, which gives me many wonderful services, beside the average to good service and reasonable prices, but now I will make this company my third or maybe fourth choice, even if my membership is reduced, it does not matter much.

Route: Paris CDG to Riyadh

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Norwegian

Title: "I was very pleased with Norwegian"

Review: Rio de Janeiro to Gatwick. I have flown to Brazil every year since 30 years ago when I moved to England. I have always flown British Airways. I understand why long haul flights are and can be so expensive, nonetheless I try to get the best price possible for a direct flight. I couldn't believe my luck to find out that a prestigious airline was providing a direct flight from the closest airport to me (1 hour away), and less than half of the cost for a round trip. The staff were very polite, friendly and smiley. I told them I was a nervous flier and 30 minutes or so after the take off one of the staff came and offered me to change seats to a less crowded part of the plane. The flight was very pleasant, calm and faster than expected. The entertainment was as good as the airlines I had flown for so many years. I didn't like the coffee but I never drink any coffee that is not a good Brazilian quality, produced and packed in Brazil. The food was not to my taste. The flight back from Rio was as good, and we arrived 22 minutes ahead schedule. I was very pleased with Norwegian and I will fly with them whenever I need to if they keep providing their services from Gatwick. Thank you. A happy customer.

Route: Rio de Janeiro to Gatwick

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Thomson Airways

Title: "this crew made me feel less than safe"

Review: We booked a 7 day package with Thomas Cook flying from Manchester/Dubrovnik return. Our designated airline was Thomson. We had a pleasant and uneventful flight outbound. On time and crew very good. After a lovely week in Croatia, we had an early morning start to the airport for our return flight to Manchester on 21st May. The flight was on time and no dramas boarding. Then it took a downward turn. We were seated in Row 31 near the back of the aircraft. From the moment that the doors closed, we were subjected to an absolute cacophony of noise from two female crew in the galley behind us. This went on over the security video (most of which I couldn't hear) and down the runway to take off. We were hopeful that this would come to an end once in the air, but no such luck. Due to turbulence, and the pilot asking that passengers remained seated, we were treated to a continued running commentary with added shrieks regarding the social media postings of these ladies, their friends and their nights out. I was trying to read my book, feeling very tired, and in need of relaxation. 20 minutes after take off, I gave up and pressed the crew call button. No response. After another 10-15 minutes, my call was clearly noticed amongst the girl's catch up and one of the flight attendants came to my seat. I politely explained that we were quite tired and that their constant noise was disrupting my flight. I was then told (3 times) that this particular attendant and her colleague were "only human" and "like a chat". Silly me, there I was thinking that they were in their workplace and responsible for passenger comfort and safety. When I pressed on and asked if perhaps they could just keep it down, I was told to "please don't say keep it down". There seemed to be absolutely no awareness that several rows of seats in front of the galley could hear every word, and no recognition that their conversation topics might be inappropriate in a supposedly professional setting. Whatever training this crew received regarding their conduct whilst airborne, clearly needs refreshing and soon. The high frequency chat went on throughout the flight. My particular favourite was the comment to a passenger in a seat a couple of rows in front of us which was "we're out of Jack Daniels, although who would want to be drinking JD at this time of day?! Lol." I suspect that anyone, particularly a nervous flier who might have fancied a tot of whisky, had their card well and truly marked right there! Most worrying was the 10-15 minute delay in pressing the call button and the arrival of crew (two rows from the galley). This was put down to the captain's request for seatbelts to be fastened. So what happens if someone has a heart attack during turbulence, which was to be fair, mild? Doesn't bear thinking about. It was crystal clear that for the initial part of this flight (over 40 minutes) the ladies in charge of the rear of this aircraft were paying absolutely no attention to what might be happening in the cabin. (I looked back frequently and they were always facing the back of the aircraft). Frightening in this day and age. I have complained about this to Thomson as this crew made me feel less than safe. Needless to say, no reply has been received to date, hence this post. My next flight in August is with Thomas Cook. They used to be the poor relation to Thomson. I book them ahead of Thomson now if there is a choice.

Route: Dubrovnik to Manchester

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: LATAM Airlines

Title: "It was a pleasure flying with LATAM"

Review: This was my first long haul flight on a Latin American carrier. Prior to boarding the plane in Lima everyone's bag was searched for contraband (water bottles or any liquids over 250ml). Once onboard the flight I was welcomed by the crew, made it to my seat which was originally a window, thankfully the guy next to me took up my offer and switched to aisle. Even though the cabin was outdated those seats were extremely comfortable and provide great recline. Each seat had a blanket, pillow and headphones. About hour and a half after take-off there were two options for dinner Asian style chicken and rice or pasta with seeds. As for drinks they had sodas including inka cola as well as beer and wine. Inflight entertainment is pretty good. The only thing that was missing on this flight was in between meals they offer nothing but drinks not even chips. An hour prior to landing we were given breakfast which was a warm ham and cheese sandwich with fruit and drink offerings. Since it was an overnight flight most people slept. It was a pleasure flying with LATAM.

Route: Lima to New York

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Batik Air

Title: "flight attendant is nice"

Review: Makassar to Surabaya. Extremely long queue on Check-in Counter. The check-in counter staff working slow. Great boarding time, on time. The flight attendant is nice. The meal is good

Route: Makassar to Surabaya

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: TAAG Angola Airlines

Title: "chose TAAG for its really low price"

Review: Rio de Janeiro to Johannesburg via Luanda. We chose TAAG for its really low price. The flight itself didn't have problems but cabin staff was arrogant. The seats were the most comfortable economy seats I've ever seen. Lots of room for your legs and they reclined more than other airlines. The food was okay, we were served 3 times from GIG to JNB. The inflight entertainment was okay, but in many seats the system or the screen was broken. The biggest issue onboard was the air conditioner. There is no individual air vent. So in the beginning of the flights it was really hot, and then it got progressively colder, until you could barely stand it. The blanket was enough for me, but you should have a coat handy. The ground service was mostly okay, except during our layover in Luanda: we boarded and they took us on a bus to the plane. There we waited for 15 minutes with the doors of the bus closed. Then they took us back to the boarding gate in the airport. Nobody ever told us what was happening or what went wrong. The flight got delayed 20 minutes. Not a big problem, but they should tell you what is happening.

Route: Rio de Janeiro to Johannesburg via Luanda

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Pegasus Airlines

Title: "spoiled the beginning of our vacation"

Review: Today we were unfortunate to fly with Pegasus Airlines. Our flight was meant to departure from Helsinki at 14:45 which it didn't. And until 19 it wasn't even announced when it'll be. At 19 they said it'll be 0:15 Later they said it'll be 2:30 And now, at midnight they've updated it again - it's now 4:30 in the morning! It's 14 hours of wait! They update it every two hours! they gave a food voucher and a hotel, but you can't sleep - you have to wake up every hour and check if anything has changed! It's outrageous!! The worst flight of my entire life! Absolutely spoiled the beginning of our vacation and 120 EUR wasted on a hotel night we don't get to sleep in on top of ridiculous wait time!

Route: Helsinki to Istanbul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "said I have to pay again"

Review: My booked Flight was canceled, therefore I am still looking for a better plan with the same travel date

However, the new schedule on 20 January 2023 and 19 January 2023 will not connect anymore with my business in Bangkok and also the class of service wasn't available anymore. The travel agent said I have to pay again if the new schedule was acceptable. This is also advised by Thai Airways Call Center. The schedule and Management consideration must be improved, assist us on time. Lastly, the guest will be decided to cancel this booking while waiting for the cancellation fee from the agent.

Route: Manila to Bangkok

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "didnt even have flight attendants"

Review: First my flight was canceled on 12/25, missing a days work to get here in the 26th and have the flight delayed until well after 7 pm. The excuse, allowing other passengers to board. This wasnt their flight and now were being inconvenienced having to wait. We shouldve been off at 4:25 but theyre so understaffed that they didnt even have flight attendants, luckily 3 women jumped in and took the job. As weve sat on this aircraft for more than 40 mins while they try to gather other passengers. We dont get discounted tickets or anything for this wait. And yet this is just supposed to be ok. We shouldve landed a hour ago. All to fill seats. They flight was already full. So weve have to wait, for 3 passengers. No thanks Southwest. This was it for me.

Route: Washington to Atlanta

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Finnair

Title: "I had no complaints after the flight"

Review: Flew with finnair onboard their a321 aircraft. At HEL airport, the experience was smooth, and a good thing was that they checked covid passes at the gate before boarding, so the experience was even smoother. When stepping onboard, you get a basic, but good clean kit. I like the cabin style, and the seats were comfortable for the 2 hour flight, as they should, as these aircraft are also used on longer routes up to 6-7h hours. One feature I liked, was the device holder, which I prefer over the overhead screens. About 20 minutes After takeoff the service started, everything went smooth, and as I had already ate some breakfast at the airport, I only took some of the delicious blueberry juice, which was free. After the service time went by, and we landed to BER. Overall I had no complaints after the flight. And for the price, it was much cheaper than what Finnair offered before covid.

Route: Helsinki to Berlin

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Norwegian

Title: "No priority boarding"

Review: I'm travelling with 2 instruments and bought 2 carry on bags and priority boarding. The 2 instruments together take less space then 2 carry on suitcases and fit within the size allowance. They decided to take away our instruments to check in with other non fragile things like trolleys. No priority boarding and very bad service. Avoiding Norwegian air from now on. Walking on board I see plenty of space.

Route: Gatwick to Copenhagen

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Europa

Title: "disgrace of an airline"

Review: São Paulo to London Gatwick via Madrid. This is a joke/disgrace of an airline. We had booked with 2 adults and 2 children (ages 5 and 3). They placed us in separate seats. On check in they demanded that we pay extra for the privilege of having our toddlers sitting with us. With this ransom over our heads, we paid extra. On getting to the gate, despite us showing our online tickets, they demanded we go to a separate desk (with 30 minutes wait) to print the tickets. We got to the print desk, and they didn't have the updated seats we'd paid for at check in. Despite us having a 3 year old and having paid to be together the staff of this disgusting airline insisted we all sit apart. We spent the first ten minutes of being on the plane negotiating with various kind, unlucky customers seat swaps. During the 10 hour flight, we were offered one meal and they also rationed water. There were several minor other gripes that place this airline way below its peers by itself but won't trivialise the above by going into details. Do yourself a favour and NEVER, NEVER use this disgrace of an airline. Employees there should feel ashamed.

Route: São Paulo to London Gatwick via Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Kenya Airways

Title: "the luggage was still in Nairobi"

Review: We were travelling from Amsterdam to Johannesburg with Kenia Airways. Our original itinerary was as follows. Amsterdam to Paris KQ1243 05/01/2023 16:35 > 17:50 Paris to Nairobi KQ115 05/01/2023 20:20 > 06:25 Nairobi to Johannesburg KQ760 06/01/2023 07:45 > 10:55 When boarding in Paris we were made to sit in the aeroplane for 4.5 hours without air conditioner, food, or drink. We eventually left and arrived too late for our connecting flight to Johannesburg. Kenia Airways wasn't prepared at all for this eventuality even though they knew about it for more than 12 hours. We were bundled into a group, and they tried sorting out the passengers rerouted flight. This took Kenia Airways 4 hours to complete for us, some passengers were still waiting after us. Our Itinerary changed to: Nairobi to Dar Es Salaam KQ488 06/01/2023 23:45 > 01:15 Dar Es Salaam to Johannesburg 4Z37 07/01/2023 03:25 > 06:10 On arrival at Johannesburg, we realized that our luggage wasn't on the carousel. Even after I did confirm with Kenia Airways 4 times that the luggage would be rerouted with our itinerary change. Once when we received our changed flight details. Second time just before we were taken to the hotel to freshen up. Third time on my return from the hotel and then the last time when boarding the flight to Dar Es Salaam. I was reassured that our luggage would be on the flight with us each time.

Now getting to realize that the above was all lies just to get rid of me, we started the process to find our luggage. After being sent to 3 different counters we were directed to the Airlink Customer Service Centre. Here we met our angel who checked and assured us that the luggage never arrived in Dar Es Salaam which means that Airlink didnt receive it from Kenia Airways. This meant it wasnt Airlinks responsibility anymore, but they then told us that they will load an enquiry and get the process going. Upon loading, he realized that the luggage was still in Nairobi but was scheduled to be on Flight KQ760 on 7/1/2023. This meant that Kenya Airways didnt change the luggage tags to include our flights. The problem was that now we were already on the landside of the airport and couldnt go back to the airside to get our luggage on the carousel after the flight land at 10:55.

Route: Amsterdam to Johannesburg via Nairobi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Singapore Airlines

Title: "Still my favorite airline"

Review: Still my favorite airline. Best Economy Class !, spacious seats with nice legroom, pleasing color fabric on seat covers. Each seat had a pillow and a blanket. You should ask to offer you an amenity kit (with socks, eye cover, toothbrush / paste). Pity they do not have inflight magazine due to covid (same excuse to save money and weight, a lot of airlines are using the same excuse). Both flights were on perfect A350 and on time. After takeoff they started the first service which was tasty and there was selection of wine, beer, drinks. After food was desert which was an icecream. During flight the crew was passing by the bottle of water for the passengers. At the galley there were some sandwiches and drinks. In the WC there were toothbrushes, cologne and cream. One hour before landing the second meal was served which was as good and plentiful as the first. IFE was great with a good selection of movies and easy to use. Great airline, keep the good work.

Route: Istanbul to Melbourne via Singapore

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Corendon Airlines

Title: "flight would have been exactly the same without any stewardesses on board"

Review: This was the worst service Ive ever experienced on any flight in my whole life. 4.5 hours over dinner time and there's not even a small beverage included. Not to mention food. We received a menu card at the beginning of the flight with horrendous prices. When I asked to pay by card, there was no opportunity given - cash only, which wasnt mentioned before and we had no more cash with us. So we arrived starving and dying of thirst. The only positive thing to mention is the safe take-off and landing - thanks to the pilot. But the flight would have been exactly the same without any stewardesses on board, because throughout the flight they were barely visible and not very friendly with questions and problems. I would not recommend this airline to anyone.

Route: Hurghada to Nuremberg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Croatia Airlines

Title: "better experience than budget"

Review: London Heathrow to Zagreb. I fly often between UK and Croatia where I keep my boat. Croatia Airlines tries hard to be a "proper" airline not a budget flyer and generally succeeds. The staff are polite, pleasant, friendly and work hard to provide good service. The plane is always clean and the inflight magazine is informative and well written in Croatian and English. It's a better experience than budget and often not much more expensive. It would be helpful if they could fly direct to Zadar and have more winter flights. In my experience they are reliable and on time. The website has improved recently and online check in works well. These are short flights and the catering reflects that. A pleasant Croatia snack delivered with a smile and wine if you want it.

Route: London Heathrow to Zagreb

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai Airways

Title: "service by cabin staff was very good"

Review: We flew Thai Airways again. This time from Bangkok to Tokyo Narita by economy class. The check-in was not good because of staff shortage and it took us about 1 hour for check-in (even though we did make check-in online). The flight was on time. The service by cabin staff was very good even though we were seated in the rear of aircraft. The food was good and tasty and we were given 2 bottles of mineral water during flight. The flight was smooth and we arrived a little late due to traffic at Narita airport.

Route: Bangkok to Tokyo (Narita)

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Silver Airways

Title: "Terrible airline"

Review: Orlando to Greenville. Terrible airline! Checked in day before and chose seat (as usual). Stayed night in Orlando to be sure we arrived at airport early. Arrived 2.5 hours before flight and were told at check in counter that the original plane had "mechanical problems " and that the replacement plane was smaller and we no longer had a seat for the scheduled flight. Did not receive any communication prior to coming to the airport about the change. Was told that seats were given on this new plane in order of check-in and arrival to the airport. So that means every seat was taken over 2.5 hrs earlier - really? I doubt it! Had to rebook with another airline for the next day - which means another trip for our family home and back to the airport. After reading the other reviews and our experience we will NEVER book with this airline again - unreliable.

Route: Orlando to Greenville

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Privilege Style

Title: "operated by Privilege Style"

Review: Very disappointed in this Norwegian flight operated by Privilege Style. Seats were uncomfortable with little or no leg room and it was an older airplane. This was a group fare, which we paid more for, that we could have booked for less, three days before our departure date. The crew were not friendly, one of our party asked for a blanket and was told that they had to buy it.

Route: Rome to Newark

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Malawian Airlines

Title: "luggage is left on the tarmac"

Review: A smaller aircraft is currently flying between Blantyre to Johannesburg, due to the runway construction at Chileka Airport. Unfortunately when the plane is full, luggage is deliberately left on the tarmac. I understand this is for safety reasons, but some communication from Malawian Airlines would be really appreciated. Or a simple solution will be to restrict passengers to 1 piece of luggage until the runway is completed and the bigger plane is flying again.

Route: Blantyre to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Thai Lion Air

Title: "new depths of poor service"

Review: Denpasar to Chiang Mai via Bangkok. I know not to expect silver service when booking a budget airline, but this airline is truly plumbing new depths of poor service and hidden money grabbing ploys. The staff are arrogant, unfriendly and a disgrace. The legroom on my 5 hour flight was not even suitable for a short domestic hop, let alone an international flight. The money saved in tickets is not worth the hassle and discomfort.

Route: Denpasar to Chiang Mai via Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Citilink

Title: "cleaning crew found my son's bag"

Review: On 23rd December 2019, my family and I flew from Jakarta to Kuala Lumpur on flight QG520. After the flight landed in KLIA at 7:20pm, we went through immigration and collected our luggage. My son realised that he left his black Addidas drawstring bag with his mini iPad and his wallet of Indonesian currencies underneath his flight seat. We were still at the baggage claim and we reported our loss to baggage lost department at KLIA. The officer there called the cleaning crew who was cleaning the cabin of the Citilink flight that we took. He said he has found the bag and will return it to us as soon as the cabin is cleaned. We waited for a short while before meeting the cleaning crew who found my son's bag. We appreciate that guy's effort in being honest by returning our lost bag. Thank you so much.

Route: Jakarta to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Vistara

Title: "experience was extremely disappointing"

Review: The worst airline I have ever flown with. I booked and paid a premium for seating in row seven. Online check in allocated the three of us row 25. I emailed Vistara three days prior to our departure explaining that when checking in online we had been allocated the incorrect seats. No response was received. Airport check in staff either couldn't or wouldn't correct the obvious error and didn't seem care even though one person in our group had mobility issues. Their response was that they were only responsible for checking in and it wasn't their problem. So now I have to fill out paperwork to claim a refund for the seating I booked and paid for which was allocated to someone else. Also the people in row 24 were totally ignorant of normal polite inflight protocol and reclined their seats which affected the person in our group with the mobility issue. We asked them to not recline their seats but all to no avail. Eventually after a vocal exchange with these people a flight attendant moved them to different seats. The whole experience was extremely disappointing and very unprofessional.

Route: Delhi to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "windows locked into darkness"

Review: Amman to Kuala Lumpur via Bangkok. Service and food on my flight to Kuala Lumpur via Bangkok was ok. I could stay in the airplane during fuelling, which was good. The only disturbing thing was the dimmable windows. They were just locked into darkness for the whole flight. There's a reason why I chose a window seat, so please let passengers enjoy the view, sunrise and sunset!

Route: Amman to Kuala Lumpur via Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "horrific disaster"

Review: Our mission trip to Africa was cancelled due to travel in vain. The airline failed to get us to our destination, it is as simple as that. There were 23 of us traveling together, all leaving from Albuquerque. Our American Airlines connection in Dallas was delayed so we missed our connecting Qatar flight which then spiralled into a nightmare of trying to get our flights rebooked for 48 hours. We were told that our tickets were booked and that our luggage would only go where our tickets specify (by multiple agents from Qatar and American) only to find out when we went to check in that our flights had not been rebooked, and later that our luggage was not remotely attached to our tickets (but halfway around the country or world without us). The nightmare we went through trying to get American and Qatar to talk to each other to make sure our flights were actually booked was an unacceptable fiasco that no paying customer should ever have to go through. We went back and forth between the two counters dozens of times only to find out each time that their systems would not work with each other. This ultimately ended in our trip having to be cancelled because the airlines could not get all 23 passengers on a flight to our destination before the gate closed. The lack of efficiency was only second to the lack of care and empathy on the Airline's part. The customer service we experienced from American throughout this process was abysmal- agents literally laughed at a hopeless mother of six who had been stranded for two days because of their system's incompetence. We did everything in our power to ensure that we were working within the system requirements, being diligent to double or triple check things (even though that is not our job) and get to the airport 5-6 hours early to be safe. None of it mattered. In the end the Airlines failed miserably to treat us like respected customers or even with basic human decency. Because of this disaster and being stuck in Dallas for nearly 72 hours we incurred thousands of dollars in expenses (hotel rooms, Uber rides, food deliveries). We hold American responsible for this nightmare, though Qatar played their part as well. If they had not closed the gate on 23 people 30 seconds before we walked up to the gate (and refused to reopen it) none of this would have ever happened. But it did happen, and now we need to be reimbursed for this horrific disaster.

Route: Albuquerque to Dallas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Nok Air

Title: "crew took pride in their work"

Review: As expected the plane arrived late and caused a 1.5 hour delay, but to their credit they managed to turn the plane around in just a mere 45 minutes, including disembarking, boarding and paperwork, therefore partially making up for lost time. Just factor in a delay of an hour or two and be mentally prepared for it to happen from such a no-frills airline and one will keep expectations in check. The crew took pride in their work and executed their job well.

Route: Chiang Mai to Bangkok DMK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Virgin America

Title: "the flight was very good"

Review: San Francisco to San Diego. Virgin seems not to have the super positive attitude that Alaska has. The passion and enthusiasm seems to be waning. The airline is nonetheless Leaps and Bounds better than United or American or even Southwest. The aircraft was clean and comfortable. The snacks and beverages were top-notch. The staff however seemed to be distant and indifferent. This is the opposite of Alaska where the staff is so passionate and helpful. The departure and arrival were prompt and punctual. All in all, the flight was very good. I just wish the staff seemed to be more connected and not so apathetic.

Route: San Francisco to San Diego

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Flair Airlines

Title: "only refunding me partial"

Review: Flair Airlines has cancelled on my trip 2 times now, completely made my plans a mess and when I went to get a refund because their most recent cancellation was both my flights for the same day, 45 mins apart from each other and for different cities. They are only refunding me partial. I couldn't get a straight answer from the rep on the phone so I asked to speak with manager, the told me they are busy. I continued to try and understand why wasn't being fully refunded for their cancellations and her answer kept being "its our policy" I told her I would wait for a manager and she told me she's "ending the call" and hung up on me. I am in complete shock on how flair handles their business and would never trust them ever again. This was a complete nightmare and their customer service is zero, they don't have any. I am being partially refunded for a flight that was cancelled by flair 2 times! Flair will not last long, they really don't know what they are doing.

Route: Saskatoon to Calgary

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jin Air

Title: "Would gladly fly again"

Review: Seoul Incheon to Tokyo Narita. First time to fly on a LCC and very pleased. Efficient check-in. Departed a few minutes late, but arrived on time. No extra charges like LCC in United States. Despite super saver fare, check-in agent let me choose seat and suggested first row for more legroom. Cute snack box had rice, muffin and banana plus a paper cup of water, perfect for short two-hour flight. Cabin attendants exceptionally friendly. They laughed when I ordered a Jin Air cap from duty free. I like their "uniform" - jeans, creates a relaxed atmosphere. Old plane and no in-flight entertainment, made up for by low fare and excellent service. Would gladly fly again.

Route: Incheon to Tokyo Narita

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Wizz Air

Title: "Flying Wizz Air was a terrible experience"

Review: Flying Wizz Air was a terrible experience. They charge you $50 pound extra to check in, due to some nonsense corporate online policy. A three hr prior to flight online check-in is required, this rip-off policy Wizz created for their own monetary benefit. When you try to talk to them Wizz hides behind the policy they created and does absolutely nothing. Poor customer service, other people on our flight were upset by the Wizz check-in rip off and being charged extra for their carry on baggage. Heard other passengers comment they fly all the time and this is the only airline that charged them extra for carry on. Wizz doesnt hesitate to suck every extra penny they can off of you. I would definitely recommend a different airline even if it cost more. By the time Wizz Air is finished pilfering your pocket its cheaper to fly elsewhere.

Route: Cyprus to Athens

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Air Tahiti Nui

Title: "very unprofessional service"

Review: Auckland to Papeete. From unannounced menu changes to wine that although listed on the menu was unavailable with cabin crew staff who very conveniently "forgot" passenger requests, a very unprofessional service. On an Emirates scale of 1 to 10 (with Emirates at 10), this outfit rates a 4 on a par with Air Fiji. Never again!

Route: Auckland to Papeete

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "The single worst airline experience"

Review: The single worst airline experience of my life. This airline is a joke. Absolute disgrace to abandon passengers in Manila airport with no food, water or information! Would definitely have not booked had I known this is how they treat passengers

Route: Bangkok to Hong Kong via Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Boutique Air

Title: "Boutique Air is unbelievably unreliable"

Review: Denver to Chadron. Boutique cancelled my flight 0704 at 1:40 pm due to mechanical issues. Rebooked me on their 6:00 pm flight 0713, Cancelled that flight. Booked me on a 9:30 flight 0704 and its now 1:46 am not even boarding yet. Boutique Air is unbelievably unreliable. 12 hours after my original flight departure time and we are still sitting at the A66 gate of DIA with no word as to when we will fly! Make other travel plans!

Route: Denver to Chadron

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Southern Airlines

Title: "staff are hospitable and helpful"

Review: Everything is good, staff are hospitable and helpful. Multiple kinds of food is provided on the airplane and it is delicious. But i don't know why they arranged the seats to let everyone sit close together.

Route: Guangzhou to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "maintains amazing cabin service"

Review: This was a wonderful trip, and cabin crew showed warm service and professionalism. Even under the epidemic, HNA still maintains amazing cabin service. The flight attendants try their best to maintain high standards of service to make me feel comfortable and respected. I believe I will choose Hainan Airlines flight next time I travel.

Route: Toronto to Beijing via Xi'an

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Lynx Air

Title: "what an inexcusable delay"

Review: First time flying today and what an inexcusable delay. They were understaffed and waiting for crew member. This was a poor coordination on the airline. Original departure delayed less than 3 hours which could have been a basis for compensation if more than 3 hours yet there were no offer of food or drinks. 2 hours of lost time just sitting in the airport

Route: Calgary to Vancouver

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Edelweiss Air

Title: "I would avoid Edelweiss"

Review: Ho Chi Minh City to Zurich. We booked this flight with Swiss but we actually flew with Edelweiss. Unfortunately, this airline is not a good one for long haul flights. The legroom was horribly inadequate and the whole flight was uncomfortable. We asked to be in seats with more legroom and offered to pay for this, but they said these seats are reserved for families with kids. In the airplane I saw plenty of people half my size sitting at those seats with extra room, so clearly they did not tell us the truth. Also, the food served was very poor, especially the breakfast. They also wanted to charge 8 swiss francs for a serving of wine. The ticket price was normal, so I would expect to at least get some drinks included. For anyone who flew with an Asian airline for a long distance trip, Edelweiss is simply bad. I would avoid Edelweiss for any long haul flights and would only use for short distance flights.

Route: Ho Chi Minh City to Zurich

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Frontier Airlines

Title: "the 24 hour window had passed"

Review: The system was down when I was trying to cancel it within the 24 hour window. By the time I was actually able to cancel it, the 24 hour window had passed, so I wasn't refunded. Who can I speak to about this. This was not my fault. Even an agent from Orbitz was trying to cancel it but the Frontier online system was down. This is not fair at all. I have the call log and everything. I did everything correctly on my end, therefore I don't think it's fair that I have to give up $93.98 for something that is not my fault. Orbitz said that Frontier has to be contacted about it and they cannot do anything on their end. I contacted Frontier and they canceled the flight but assessed an undeserved penalty which cost more than the flight itself.

Route: Raleigh to Houston via Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Copa Airlines

Title: "Stunningly bad service at every opportunity!"

Review: Stunningly bad service at every opportunity! Called COPA customer service the night before my trip to try to change my ticket. After being kept on hold for more than an hour, an agent was not able to change my ticket as I had hoped, but did me the disservice of erasing all my seat assignments on my original flights without telling me. So, the next day I flew in horrible seats instead of the exit row seats I had selected. Next interaction: I tried to use COPA's website to buy my partner a seat next to mine. I tried three times, and the website produced an error message each time. Then I tried to call COPA's customer service line three times to buy the seat; each time I gave up after being on hold more than one hour. Today I finally got through to an agent to buy the seats after only 10 minutes (yippee!), but he inadvertently hung up on me while processing the transaction. Bottom line, if you want to fly an airline with horrible customer service, COPA is the airline for you. Otherwise, you might try another airline.

Route: Lima to San Francisco via Panama

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Royal Air Maroc

Title: "entertainment not working"

Review: Casablanca to Paris. Flight arrived 5 minutes in advance to Paris. The entertainment service is not working for movies and music is very poor (only 2 choices). Cleanliness of the plane is ok Plane was not full. This flight is less expensive than the one of Monday.

Route: Casablanca to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Aerolineas Argentinas

Title: "stay away from long haul"

Review: What started as a very pleasant trip with Aerolineas Argentinas, ended up becoming one of the most bothersome long haul flights I have ever experienced. I flew from Rio de Janeiro to New York with a long stopover in Buenos Aires and a switch of airports in that city. Rio de Janeiro to Buenos Aires (Aeroparque): Aircraft used was a fairly new Boeing 737-800, flight was on time, crew was friendly, decent leg room and the food provided to us was very good (nice sandwich with a traditional argentine alfajor cake) and a good choice of beverages. Nothing really to complain about this flight. Buenos Aires (Ezeiza) to New York (JFK): Aircraft used was a brand new Airbus 330-200. Very modern plane with LED ambience lighting, good entertainment screens with a good selection of movies and music. Sounds great so far right? Well, the downfall begins with the amount of leg room Aerolineas Argentinas have on this plane. I take long haul flights at least 3 times a year and have had experiences with various airlines but I have never seen a plane with such little space as this one. It was really uncomfortable the whole time because of the limited leg room (I am 1,79 cm). Unlike my other flight on this trip with Aerolineas, the food served for dinner was horrible, I didn't eat it at all, worst food I have ever seen on a long haul flight and I heard other passengers complaining about it as well. Breakfast was decent but still overall very disappointed. Crew was uncaring and only offered water during the meal service; not a single time did they pass around the cabin offering water to passengers. My final thoughts? Regional and medium distance flights, Aerolineas does a pretty good job. Stay away from their Long Haul flights though.

Route: GIG to JFK via AEP / EZE

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Kenya Airways

Title: "excellent crew on board"

Review: Very good flight, excellent crew on board, as was the food and drink. My only gripe is the business class seats could do with an update, but they are comfortable none the less.

Route: Nairobi to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Cebu Pacific

Title: "one of the worst flights"

Review: Check in 2 hours only 4 desks open resulting in delay off flight delayed by 2 hours. They tried to disguise it as paperwork issues and baggage handling but check in staff gave away the issue due to lack of staff provided by airline. Same excuse used as when we first arrived that they had a problem opening up the baggage hold and tghid cause 1.5 hours of delays. Very little update or info from cabin crew and cockpit communications very limited or non-existent particularly over a duration of 8 hour flight. Right hand front toilet consistently with a queue of 3 to 8 people. I then found out that the left hand front toilet cabin staff were saying it was not in use despite a green light showing. Then when i pushed the matter they admitted that it was reserved for the Captain only. Absolutely unbelievable! The one working right front toilet was a total disgrace, absolutely filthy with no toilet tissue and contaminated water swilling on the floor. During turbulence announcements cabin crew took no action at all to ask the queue for the toilet to return to their seats despite they themselves strapped in (a major safety issue!). Not even one pot of noodles available during flight and not even any hot drinks at all. Pre ordered food choices were not available and PAX fobbed off with other alternatives of which the quality was lousy. Generally the cabin crew were inattentive and spend a lot of time just sitting down. No pro active action to do more than the very basic. I'm 64 years old Brit, a former pilot and have flown extensively with many airlines both locally and internationally. This was perhaps one of the worst flights in my entire life.

Route: Sydney to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Horizon Air

Title: "very poor customer service"

Review: My flight from Calgary was delayed due to a mechanical error. I had a connection to Anchorage that I barely made due to the delay. My disappointment was that I had paid for a premium seat and they gave it away to someone else. They gave me a middle seat and told me I would have to call to get reimbursed for a credit. That is very poor customer service. Heads up the premium seats have more leg room - but sit 3 across and are narrow. The inflight movie app did not work on my iPhone 6s- nor did it work on my brand new lap top. I would avoid this airline in the future.

Route: Calgary to Anchorage

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "Never again will I fly with Volaris"

Review: Never again will I fly with Volaris. Trust me, spend the extra cash to get a genuine, on time flight. Not only do you have to pay for extra, which includes bags, seats and much more. But the hassle of flying with them is not worth it. The crew is ok, a mediocre job for a mediocre airline. My flight was just under two hours late of the boarding time but that was enough to make me write a review. I have never felt more disappointed in an airline than Volaris. The plane arrive late but within 15 minutes we were already boarding. Which is good, only if you like sitting in nasty, chip crumbs filled seats that arent even properly sanitized. I guess thats why COVID was such a problem in Mexico.

Route: Monterrey to Tijuana

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Volaris

Title: "Not once on either journey did Volaris apologise for the delays"

Review: I took a return flight from Huatulco to Mexico City and back. On the way the flight was an hour late. Volaris were still claiming it was on time 40 minutes after our departure time and the inbound flight hadnt arrived. Once we landed in CDMX it took more than 30 mins to get off the plane (I was in row 33). The return flight should have left at 15.38. At 5pm they were still saying it was leaving at 4.30pm. From the first passenger boarding to closing the doors was over 40 mins. When we arrived in Huatulco one a a half hours late it took more than 30 mins to disembark again. Not once on either journey did Volaris apologise for the delays.

Route: Huatulco to Mexico City

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Go First

Title: "I had a very bad experience"

Review: I had a very bad experience with Go first. I booked a connection flight from Delhi to Kannur via Mumbai. Two days prior to the flight date i have got a message saying there's a delay in the flight from Delhi to Mumbai. When I checked the rescheduled time Gofirst has provided me a very unrealistic connection flight time in such a way that my first flight will reach Mumbai five minutes after the second flight departure from Mumbai. When I contacted their customer care they didn't even provide any solution. So I asked them if i can cancel the first flight and board second flight from Mumbai. Then they denied it saying flight is overbooked (The flight which I have already booked with full payment). The same flight available online with a higher amount at same time. When I questioned it they said they will consider my partial cancellation but still they haven't get back on the refund status. So I had to book another flight to reach Mumbai and board the second flight. Never going to choose go first again

Route: Delhi to Kannur via Mumbai

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Cubana Airlines

Title: "service has deteriorated even further"

Review: Since the last published review it seems that the service has deteriorated even further. Our flight from Havana to Santiago which was scheduled for 13.00 was cancelled at the last minute and we were told to come back in the morning! After seven hours in the airport and some vociferous complaining we eventually got on the last flight out that night. Our return trip three days later was scheduled for 8.25am but when I checked with the Cubana office in Santiago the day before I was told it had been delayed, by 12 hours. All the staff in the airports and on the planes were surly, uncommunicative and downright unhelpful. As with a lot of the state run services in Cuba, the state employees have got jobs for life and just don't care. If I had thought to look at these reviews before booking the holiday, I would have stayed well clear of internal flights and I would recommend this course of action to anyone considering it.

Route: Havana to Santiago de Cuba

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Iberia

Title: "shortage of cabin space for suitcases"

Review: Boarding the plane was slow compared to other airlines I have flown with. Once inside the aircraft, it obviously became very, very hot since it's summer and packed with passengers, but the ac unit blew very soft wind, so soft that it was barely enough to cooldown. There was a shortage of cabin space for suitcases and bags in so my nephew was forced to had put his suitcase in the cabin space 20 seats in front of him? The staff didn't even politely ask him or even apologize for the inconvenience. It's either this or you can leave your luggage behind, that's how it felt like. The seats were very small and were also kind of hard. Luckily the flight was just three hours.

Route: Tenerife to Brussels via Madrid

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Macau

Title: "8.5 hours at the airport"

Review: Shanghai to Macau with Air Macau. My flight NX135 was supposed to depart at 16:40. I got to the airport at 15:00 and I was told that the flight was delayed because the airplane was still in Macau. So at least 3 hours delay but they had no idea when the plane was flying to Shanghai and also no idea why it was still in Macau. At the gate, the staff told us it was due to "air traffic" and "weather in Guangzhou". In the end, we boarder at 23:30. I spent 8.5 hours at the airport. When I came back, I was told by my friends and colleagues that this is very common with Air Macau, thus I am sure I'm not flying with this airline anymore.

Route: PVG to MFM

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: QantasLink

Title: "service was good"

Review: My flight QantasLink flight from Launceston to Melbourne was at 10.40am and I reached the airport at 9am to get checked-in, but there was no one at the check-in counter. I was worried that the flight was cancelled since there was no one attending the counter, but I later found out that it was because QantasLink at Launceston was understaffed and the same lady that helped us with check in also have to handle the boarding process, hence she was busy and was not there for check-in at 9am. We waited for about 20 minutes before she appeared and she was friendly and her service was quick. The plane was an old DHC 8-400, so the interior wasn't too good, but the seats were still comfortable. The flight attendants greeted us with smiles and their service was good.

Route: LST to MEL

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Alaska Airlines

Title: "Super kind and accommodating"

Review: Traveling musician headed to Tampa for 3 shows. Have my expensive guitar with me and was offered a place to stow it in the flight attendants closet onboard. Huge shout out to Shelly and Shari on AK flight 326 from Seattle to Tampa on 5/21 9:15am! Super kind and accommodating. I cant thank you enough.

Route: Seattle to Tampa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "nothing short of a disappointment"

Review: I recently had the misfortune of flying with Southwest Airlines, and I must say that my experience was nothing short of a disappointment. From the moment I stepped foot onto their plane, it was evident that this airline lacks the professionalism and commitment to customer satisfaction that one would expect. First and foremost, Southwest Airlines had no regard for punctuality. My flight was delayed once, and then they decided to rebook it for an unreasonably early hour in the morning. This unexpected change disrupted my entire travel plans and left me feeling exhausted before I even boarded the aircraft. It is unacceptable for an airline to make such drastic alterations without a valid reason or proper compensation. To make matters worse, Southwest's servers seemed to be in a state of disarray. Throughout the booking process, I encountered multiple technical glitches and slow response times on their website. It was frustrating to witness a company of this scale failing to maintain their online infrastructure, leading to additional stress and wasted time on my end. The flight itself was another disappointing aspect of my experience. The plane's condition was subpar. Southwest Airlines made a promise to compensate me for the inconvenience caused by their multiple delays and rebooking. They specifically mentioned a $200 voucher, which I was eagerly looking forward to. However, even after reaching out to their customer service department, I was met with indifference and received no resolution. It is disheartening to be on the receiving end of such false promises, especially when they have a direct impact on the customer experience. In conclusion, my experience with Southwest Airlines was marred by their unprofessionalism, lack of punctuality, technical glitches, and broken promises. I strongly advise potential travelers to consider alternative options and avoid the frustrations and disappointments that come with flying this airline. Southwest Airlines has left a sour taste in my mouth, and I can confidently say that I will not be choosing them for any future flights.

Route: Salt Lake City to Spokane

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Level

Title: Level customer review

Review: This was my first experience with Level / Iberia and it was the worst flying experience. The flight to Barcelona, unlike our return flight, was not completely terrible. Pros: we departed and arrived on time, our bags arrived intact, and the entertainment options onboard were great. The WiFi was mediocre, but that's pretty common on most international flights. Cons: the flight attendants were hands down the rudest I have ever encountered. This is the only airline I have encountered that does not provide you with one glass of water on a 12 hour flight unless you request it and pay $5 for it. The return flight was a disaster. We arrived at the airport in Barcelona almost three hours before our departure time. We were unable to complete our check in online due to a computer error. We had a bag to check anyway, so we figured we'd just do it at the airport. However, when we arrived, the check in line was incredibly long and just got longer after our arrival. The line moved unbelievably slow. No one knew why. There were 5 attendants checking people in - all of them for our flight. They were each taking an average of 10 minutes to check in each party. After an hour of this and having hardly moved in the line, I went to front to find out what was going on and if we were going to make the flight. Found out that the computer error was universal and that no one could check in online. But the fact that this was not communicated to any of us in line made for a very tense situation. I was later told by another passenger in line that an attendant had told her they would hold the flight until everyone had checked in and gotten on board. But they never changed the flight departure time, and as it got increasingly closer to departure time, we all grew more and more worried. Add to this that the airport had poor air conditioning. After over 2.5 hours in line, we finally got checked in. The attendant told us that she hoped we made the flight, but to run, because it was departing in 10 minutes. And we still needed to get through security. So we ran. At the gate? We are trying to hold the flight for you. Please hurry. Once through, then wait in a shuttle bus with 40 sweating passengers to take you to another terminal to the plane. Rushed and pushed by employees and still left an hour late. Once on board, rude attendants unwilling to help with finding carryon space. Onboard no WiFi, completely broken. Freezing cold airplane, even with two sweatshirts on, but you could buy a $15 blanket if you wanted. Broken food ordering system. No one to collect trash. Then yelled at for leaving it on the floor. And they lost our luggage.

Route: Barcelona to Los Angeles

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Delta Air Lines

Title: "The second bag is still in Naples"

Review: My wife and I were returning from a long delayed vacation. We splurged on first class flights. Our flight was supposed to leave Naples, Italy at 0610. Air France sent a heavy aircraft to Naples that had problems getting back out. As a result, we missed our connecting flight in Paris (also an Air France flight) by about 15 minutes. We were rebooked on a Delta flight 5 hours later. When we arrived in Atlanta on Delta flight 085, our checked bags were not on it. We contacted baggage services and they told us the bags were in Paris and would be put on a flight the next day and we would have them by 9 PM. We made it clear that the bags contained prescription medication that we needed. The next day, neither bag showed up, despite repeated attempts to track them using Deltas online system. At 9:15 PM we were told that the bags would be coming in the next day (today). At 1000 today we found one bag loaded onto an Alitalia flight from Naples (they never made it to Paris to begin with), and that it would be transferred to a flight to Atlanta today. The second bag is still in Naples and no one at Delta can do anything to get it moving. They pass it off as the baggage handlers problem not Deltas.

Route: Naples to Atlanta via Paris

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: CSA Czech Airlines

Title: "Overpriced services"

Review: Prague to Brussels. Worst airline I have ever flown. Overpriced services and charging for absolutely everything on top of the basic ticket price. Worse than low-cost airlines.

Route: Prague to Brussels

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: Thai Smile Airways

Title: "recommend this airline"

Review: Gaya Airport checkin was fast. Boarding was smooth and the flight took off on time. The cabin crew was friendly and the meal was delicious. I will recommend this airline.

Route: Gaya to Bangkok

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: PLAY

Title: "hope not to fly again with this company"

Review: The policy in a company should be the same from the beginning. We flew last year with the same cabin luggage and I didn't pay, now from our flight on 20th February, they charge us 80 euros for the same cabin luggage, and we did pay for the big one. I do hope not to fly again with this company.

Route: Reykjavik to London

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Ethiopian Airlines

Title: "I was very impressed"

Review: Very pleasant flight with Ethiopian Airlines on Nov 28: Due to a very recent op, I required some assistance from the flight crew. They were very helpful and kind, I was very impressed. Flight was uneventful and comfortable, food was nice, all good! Addis airport for transfer from previous flight? Chaotic and seemingly rather disorganized. Luggage arrived fast in BKK, appreciated that!

Route: Addis Ababa to Bangkok

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Avianca

Title: "This company is terrible"

Review: This company is terrible, there was a mistake in my parents name, they got to the airport 3 hours before their flight, the people at the window were not able to fix their ticket. They were told only way they could have the name corrected was by calling customer service, so they called but never got to talk to anyone, they were offered another flight in 3 days. The whole family was already waiting for them and it was impossible for them to wait 3 days. I cant understand why if their seats were already confirmed why they couldnt do the simple name change? We lost that money and Avianca wont refund anything or at least offer a voucher for future travel. They had to buy a whole new ticket with another company and we did enjoy our vacation but not thanks to Avianca.

Route: Mexico to El Salvador

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Norwegian

Title: "arrived 15 minutes ahead of time"

Review: Norwegian flight from Copenhagen to Helsinki on 07feb operated by Jet Time. Departed five minutes ahead of schedule and arrived 15 minutes ahead of time. Due to the shortage of planes Norwegian has wetleased a number of planes from other companies. Because of this issue this flight was operated by Danish charter airline Jet Time with a not entirely new Boeing 737-700. The plane was a little worn but fine for the short one and a half hour flight, The Jet Time cabin crew seemed to be a little less trained than Norwegians regular crew but they were smiling and helpful if people had questions. In general I would much prefer flying Jet Time rather than facing a cancellation due to the shortage of planes. However if you expect modern planes, decent legroom and wifi you should probably not choose a flight operated by Jet Time.

Route: Copenhagen to Helsinki

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "seats were like rocks"

Review: First and last time with Southwest. Delayed both ways. We were in the airport for at least 6 hours waiting for our flight back home. Finally got back just in time to go to work without sleeping. The seats were like rocks, extremely uncomfortable. Even the app works poorly. Only fly Southwest if there are no other options and you dont have a schedule to keep.

Route: San Antonio to Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: South African Airways

Title: "impressed with the service"

Review: Johannesburg to Cape Town. I have not travelled on SAA for a while, and I was a bit apprehensive of using them having read some reports on this site. Check in was by machine in JNB. The first contact with SAA staff was in the JNB domestic lounge. Lounge facilities were fine, comfortable seating and good selection of refreshments on hand at the time of visit. (lunchtime) Boarding at the gate commenced slightly early, perhaps due to the bussing requirement to the remote stand where the aircraft was parked. On board staff advised that the aircraft was only 8 months old. After departure drinks and lunch were served, chicken or beef being the main course choice. Arrival in CPT was on time. Very impressed with the service on this short flight.

Route: Johannesburg to Cape Town

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Hainan Airlines

Title: "helpful and responsive"

Review: Seattle to Beijing. The aircraft is well furnished and equipped with great service entertainment and a large number of movies to choose from. The crew is very helpful and responsive. They fulfilled my ask for additional sheet, drinks, and earphones. Flight took off on time and arrived earlier than expected.

Route: Seattle to Beijing

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: EVA Air

Title: "Always a great experience"

Review: San Francisco to Taipei . Always a great experience with EVA Air. Website, price, food,entertainment, service, check in, luggage, no problems or surprises, 4 times using them. Recommend them.

Route: San Francisco to Taipei

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: China Airlines

Title: "avoid at all cost"

Review: Outdated airplanes, USB ports on seats dont work, many planes are not WiFi equipped. Operations are inefficient. I would avoid at all cost and book with a better airline.

Route: Taipei to Manila

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: AirAsia India

Title: "such a lovely staff"

Review: The ground staff Ms Piyalis at Kolkata behaviour was excellent. She helped us in completing all the process very fast, she was cooperative and very humble. Thanks to AirAsia for having such a lovely staff.

Route: Kolkata to Kuala Lumpur

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Garuda Indonesia

Title: "The flight itself was good"

Review: Flew on Garuda Indonesia on the GA 863 flight from Jakarta to Sorong. Check-in was not so busy as it was after 21:00pm, however the process was quick as I was helped by Herbert from the Garuda ground Priority Team. He then escorted me through security and into the Lounge where I was put in a VIP Room. When boarding was announced Herbert came and escorted me to the plane, the Garuda Cabin crew were on hand to welcome me and direct me to my seat. After takeoff, a choice of two meals was offered, however I chose to try and get some sleep as it is approx. a 4 hour over night flight. The flight itself was good and the stewardess Putri was quite helpful. The flight landed just after 06:15am local time Sorong. My baggage was delivered very quickly, and I was on my way to another flight. Overall, for such a short 4-hour overnight flight it was quite good.

Route: Jakarta to Sorong

Seat Type: Business Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Bahamasair

Title: "100% unacceptable"

Review: I fly MVP Gold weekly on Alaska Airlines for work and pleasure. I know a good airline, and I know a bad one.

BahamasAir is a customer communication mess, and worse than any other airline I've ever experienced. You show up at the airport, they don't tell you where the plane is, how long it will take, or if you'll make your next flight or anything that a modern-day airline does without question. Then, knowing the plane is delayed, they don't post the flight delayed until the flight is due to board. To make it even more ridiculous. There is no one at the gate, and the customer service line goes to a voice message. I asked the ticket counter to see if they could get us another connection but she said she could not see the flights. I asked if the airline used the internet and or any sort of modern communication available in the 21st century, she shrugged her shoulders and said no. How can an airline be so unorganized in this day and age and still be able to operate? If you're from the US, save your money and time if the Bahamas is on your list. We could have been on a beach in Italy faster than flying from Oregon to the Bahamas. Costa Rica is faster, Hawaii or anywhere for that matter. This is a mess of an airline and business. At a minimal timeline need to be communicated with reality. The overall Bahamasair experience is 100% unacceptable.

Route: Portland to Nassau via Orlando

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Turkmenistan Airlines

Title: Turkmenistan Airlines customer review

Review: We normally use Turkmenistan Airlines regularly to fly to India. Have been doing for over 10 years. We will never be flying with this airline again. On the way to Amritsar on the 31st July the crew on the flight were so miserable and safety was of no interest. Although we made it clear I couldn't eat meat when I booked the ticket, they ran out of vegetarian food when it got to me. They just dumped whatever on my tray. I asked what it was and they said lamb. I told them I'm vegetarian and I can't eat this. They said it's all finished and snatched the lamb from my hand and started having what I can only describe (due to the tone only as I couldn't understand the language) as a dig at me between each other. They never seem approachable and quite frankly they come across very annoyed if you call for them. On the way back from Amritsar the wait was only supposed to be 2 hours max. The flight was supposed to leave Ashgabat at 1:30pm but didn't leave until 6:30pm. I get that all flights can get delayed but it's the way the issue was dealt with. First of all we were not told that there was a delay and when passengers started questioning they just shrugged their shoulders like they couldn't understand English. Around 3pm they put 4:30pm departure time on the board and when it hit 4:30pm still nothing. Around 30-40 passengers got together to ask where our flight was. The manager said it's gone to Dubai and we asked why. She said she will be back in 2 mins and never returned. The other persons we questioned just kept telling us to go away and were actually laughing at us all. Very offended. There were Turkmenistan Airlines staff in the background looking at us and laughing amongst each other. When I finally got home I realised this is a regular thing. They say 2 hour wait but in fact it's been 5 hours for all three flights which my friends were on because the flight goes out to Dubai and back whilst we have to wait. We were never informed of this at all and if I knew I would never have agreed to fly with them especially because of the prolonged wait.

Route: Amritsar to Birmingham via Ashgabat

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Arabia

Title: "same documentation will be refused"

Review: On our first flight from Brussels to Casablanca on Friday 27 November everything went excellent. We had registered ourselves for the flight and received the boarding cards and delivered our baggage at the airport. We have registered with our valid Moroccan passport and our valid resident cards; they were accepted without any issues at all. We did not get any further notification from the registering team that the same documentation will be refused during the back-flight... On 13 December we had our flight back from Casablanca to Brussels. We had the flight at 07.10 in the morning; we were at 03.30 in the morning in the airport. We have waited until the gates were opened to deliver our baggage and register for our boarding cards, however when we wanted to pass to the gates office to weight our baggage we were intercepted by two Air Arabia agents (one was the responsible of the flight that day and the other was controlling the documents). They refused to let us go to the gates office to deliver our baggage and they stated that our documents were not legal, the same documents that we have used to register in Brussels, our Moroccan valid passport and valid permanent residents cards. We have even double nationality, as we have the Moroccan and the Dutch nationality. When we tried to explain our case to the agents, they became aggressive and started to insult my wife in front of all passengers present in the hall. I went to the Air Arabia office in the floor below but the offices were closed. The agents kept on refusing letting us pass to get our boarding pass while we had a valid ticket and valid documentation, the same documentation that we have registered and used from Brussels to Casablanca. If the documentation was to be refused, then we should be notified in Brussels before even boarding to Casablanca... but that was not the case. The agents were executing police task by refusing us to board, I have registered a complaint at the police office in the airport and the police has confirmed to us that the agents do not have the legal rights to hold us from passing as our documents are valid. If someone should prevent us from passing that should be only the police that has right to. The agents were becoming more aggressive, the responsible as insulted my wife and shouted to her and after went away without giving any sign of presence, time went by and the gates have been closed and the time of flight has arrived (7.10), I could go through and escalate the problem and even prohibit the flight, but because my wife is a heart patient I didnt want to escalate. My wife became unwell and had problems with breathing due to the stress caused by the agents, I have called for the airport doctor and we have waited for him in the cafeteria. When he came she was already better, he has examined her and confirmed she might flight back to Belgium. I have bought new tickets with Royal Air Maroc to Amsterdam as there were no tickets still to Belgium and we had to take the next flight and could not stay longer because I had to go to work next day. At the gates of the flight of Royal air Maroc, that was going to Brussels at the same time (12.30) I have presented the same documentation to the flight responsible and asked if the documents were OK to go to Brussels and she had confirmed it, when I said that the agents of Air Arabia have refused to let us pass she confirmed that it is ridiculous and there was no reason for that and that

Route: Brussels to Casablanca

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Level

Title: "customer service was unacceptable"

Review: Newark to Paris. Do not fly with Level. The airline canceled our flight and the customer service following the cancellation and trying to get a resolution to all of the problems it has caused to our travel plans has been deplorable. The soonest Level would rebook us on an outbound flight was four days later, and then Level canceled that flight too, meaning the soonest they could accommodate us was five days after we were originally supposed to fly. They ruined our vacation and we weren't able to travel at all. Level's customer service was unacceptable during the entire process. The night of the cancellation, clueless airport staff kept people standing around for hours trying to figure out what to do. All they kept saying was we had to call the customer service phone number, which was closed. It's ridiculous that customer service phone lines are not staffed at the times flights are operating to handle these issues. It took more than two hours before staff was even able to start providing hotel rooms, and then even then, there were not enough hotel rooms for all of the impacted passengers. Level airport staff were terrible at communicating information during the whole process. Level airport staff told passengers who weren't able to get a hotel room to find their own way to their accommodation and then the airline would reimburse them for any costs. Nope. Contacted Level after the fact and they continue to give us the runaround and try to weasel out of providing the reimbursement (which is required by EU regulations when the airline cancels a flight). More than a month later and they have still not done anything to resolve the issue. Then when we submitted a claim for the cancellation compensation we were entitled to under the EU 261 air passenger rights regulations, Level fabricated some story about the cancellation being due to "extraordinary circumstances" to weasel out of providing the compensation as required by the law, yet they have ignored multiple requests to provide documentation/substantiation of their claim of "extraordinary circumstances", as required by the European regulations. Every time you try to contact Level "customer service" they just copy and paste some irrelevant form reply and don't actually read or do anything about the issue you e-mailed them about. Avoid Level at all costs. It is not worth the risk and frustration to get burnt by their terrible customer service. Just think, if they stranded you in your destination city away from home for five days or more, not lifting a finger to help you during the process. It's worth the extra money to fly with a real airline instead.

Route: Newark to Paris

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jet2.com

Title: "Worst experience"

Review: Birmingham to Faro. Worst experience me and my partner have ever experienced. My partner is 31 weeks pregnant and we were off to Faro with our 2 year old for her first holiday. Our flight was delayed by 2.30 hours so we were at the airport for 7+ hours to then be told because my partners fit to fly letter is 8 days old rather than 7 we cant go - on your website it does say it should be within 7 days, but due to weekends and how the community midwife works by us we got it 8 days before as it states on jet2.com it should be under 16 days old from signing date so because we went for 7 days her letter would only be 15 days old on returning. Extremely stressful as we should of been asked at checkin 7 hours earlier and we could of gone hospital to try and get a emergency one. So we reschedule the flight for the next day after spending all night worrying about all this we managed to get a new note. So we get to Faro and are told our transfer to hotel we paid for the day before isn't available even though 2 airports Birmingham and east midlands said it would be there so we had to pay 80 taxi. We get to the hotel at 8pm and the guy at the desk said weve gave your rooms away because we didn't think you were coming it had only been 20 hours from when we should of originally arrived - jet2 should of informed them.

Route: Birmingham to Faro

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Adria Airways

Title: "extremely bad service"

Review: We were 11 people coming in with a short connection to Zurich hoping to continue with Adria to Ljubjana. We were before final call at the departure gate. Other people were still boarding. Adria had decided to rebook us and could not put us back on the plane. I and my wife had no checked in baggage. We had to wait 5 hours for next flight. This was extremely bad service and will do our utmost to never have to fly Adria again. We will also warn all our flying friends.

Route: Zurich to Ljubjana

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Virgin Australia

Title: "All in all an uneventful flight"

Review: I checked in early via self check in and dropped my bag off easily. We boarded about half hour late but being a short flight it didnt matter to me personally. Boarding was split into front and rear boarding. Full flight. Seats a little cramped but ok for this short hop. Coffee and tea were served free and entertainment can be accessed via their app. All in all an uneventful flight. My bag took about half hour to arrive.

Route: Melbourne to Canberra

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Qatar Airways

Title: "courteous and helpful staff"

Review: Very attentive, courteous and helpful staff. Good food, but the portions could be slightly bigger. My favourite airline as I have flown with many other airlines in the past but none of them beat the quality of service I receive from Qatar Airways. I am absolutely always excited when flying with them as I have never been dissatisfied.

Route: Bangkok to Zagreb via Doha

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Turkish Airlines

Title: "I will miss my connection"

Review: Last time that I will fly with Turkish Airlines. Flight delayed and I will miss my connection and the rebook is up to 16 hours. The customer service is not efficient and arrogant.

Route: Stockholm to Jeddah via Istanbul

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Business

Airline: American Airlines

Title: "Worst flight experience to date"

Review: Worst flight experience to date. Flight kept getting moved all over then delay for 5 hours until they pushed it to the next morning. After that everyone had to stand in line for over 2 hours to get vouchers for a hotel and food, but the food voucher could barely afford a kids meal at the hotel. Hotel was the only option for food since all of the restaurants and shops were closed. Employees were yelling at customers who have been getting the run around for over 5 hours. No one answered any questions on how to use the vouchers nor did they do anything to speed along the process of giving out the vouchers. Ended up getting the run around for so long I just booked a different flight since they werent really doing anything to fix the issue aside from making everyone wait even longer for a vouchers that they hardly can use. Only customer service that gets made at you for you being upset and their bad service.

Route: Dallas to El Paso

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Luxair

Title: "this flight went very smoothly"

Review: As always, this flight went very smoothly. The flight departed on time, a very modern plane (LX-LBB), the breakfast on board was, although smaller than in previous years, very tasty. The crew were very professional but as always, not a single English announcements. I hope it is only for me, but this really annoys me. Spanish announcements should be introduced as for LG flights to Madrid or Barcelona. On board Wifi would be more than welcome and miles should be earned on this route.

Route: Malaga to Luxembourg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Fiji Airways

Title: "Our flight got cancelled"

Review: Labasa to Nadi. Our flight got cancelled on the 5th of Jan from Labasa to Nadi due to bad weather. We made about 30 phone calls to Fiji Link both in Suva and Nadi. Each time a different story was told. Absolutely no help has been provided. We were meant to be back at work today. It's 3 days now. We asked Fiji Link to give us a date when we could travel back to Brisbane so that we can inform work. Fiji link failed to do that as well. No supplementary flights have been arranged, we have not received a single phone call, text or email to say they are making arrangements to fly us out ASAP. We even went down to the local airport only to find locals travelling out of the Island. How about those who are visitors here and have to return to work and attend to medical appointments? They fail to answer questions and are not supportive at all.

Route: Labasa to Nadi

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Air Seychelles

Title: "worst air travel experience"

Review: We had the worst air travel experience with Air Seychelles, flying from Antananarivo, Madagascar to Kathmandu, Nepal on 11/4/2016. We had two transfers - Mahe and Mumbai. We were treated like illegal immigrants and forced to stay at the airport overnight because the supervisor on ground in Mahe. We flew from Tana to Mahe. When we arrived Mahe, they refused to issue us boarding passes for our next two connections (Mahe-Mumbai-KTM) because we did not have onward tickets after Nepal. We explained that we are backpackers. We travel by land mostly and plan to cross the border by car from Nepal to India. The supervisor told us she will check and disappeared. When we asked about our flight, she said we still have time and she will not leave us behind. We waited in the airport until 9:10pm when our connection flight to Mumbai was boarding. By that time, we've purchased our onward ticket from KTM to Delhi as we cannot afford to miss the flight. We showed our ticket to one of the staff. The first thing she told us is we cannot boarding our flight because the gate is closed! Then when she phoned the supervisor, who demanded to see our India visa, which was completely irrelevant. We waited there thinking the supervisor will come back to us, but they just let us miss the flight like that! Even after we had all the documents they asked for. In the end, the supervisor never showed up and they did not let us board our flight even though we had the onward tickets. We were dumped in the airport without any explanation. We did not know why we need to show the airline our India visa while we are just flying to Nepal and what should we do for the flights that we've missed. When the supervisor showed up around midnight, she said we will have to wait for the next day to rearrange the tickets and just disappeared again. They tried to send us to a hotel but it was too late, the immigration officer didn't let us pass. Therefore, we were forced to sleep in the airport. The next day we spoke with numerous staff about our issue, including the supervisors and duty managers. None of them helped. In the end, we were able to board the flight that day withy the same documents we had a night before, which means we could've boarded our original flight!

Route: TNR to KTM via SEZ / BOM

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Egyptair

Title: "Friendly and efficient on-board staff"

Review: I was nervous to fly with Egyptair with so many negative reviews but it went really well. Flights on time from Tel Aviv to Cairo and back. Clean and modern aircraft. Friendly and efficient on-board staff. Lounge access (Star Alliance Gold) granted with "OK" experience. The boarding gate was chaotic. It was unclear when we were about to board (lots of flights using same gate).

Route: Cairo to Tel Aviv

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Asia

Title: "distasteful bait-ful experience"

Review: We were monitoring the prices for flights to SIN-CGK for the past two days. Prices were ranging from S$96 and above. On the third day, Jetstar had added 4 flights/day for the whole Month of Sept 2020 and dropped the price of their tickets by half. We thought it was a luxury to have 4 flights/day in this Covid era. Naively, we bought the ticket for my domestic helper at S$54. Two weeks later, we received an email that flight was cancelled due to Covid (like it wasn't 2 weeks ago?). Terms and condition: No refund allowed. We were supposed to redeem other flights using credit voucher. No big deal, we would just select the next available date. The thing is the prices have been inflated back to S$118. This has left me a very distasteful bait-ful experience with Jetstar.

Route: SIN to CGK

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Jetstar Airways

Title: "cabin crew was friendly and helpful"

Review: The cabin crew was friendly and helpful. But if you're a tall person don't expect the legroom to be great. I am 5'10 and I wasn't even able to stretch my legs. If you do fly with Jetstar just expect: No inflight entertainment (Unless you're flying the Boeing 787), barely any legroom, my knees were against the seat in front of me. Food can be a bit expensive is recommended you bring your own food. Isn't too bad if you're flying around for 1 hour. Your flying on a lowcost airline don't expect to much

Route: Melbourne to Auckland

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: FlySafair

Title: "the absolute worst flight"

Review: George to Johannesburg, Sunday 27th January 2019. We missed our flight Kulula to OR Tambo so we booked a flight on FlySafair, when we were booking the man at the counter (George Airport) advised us that the aircraft lands at Lanseria we said no we need to go to O.R Tambo he was adamant that the flight landed in Lanseria so my husband said dont worry we will take the 2 tickets and then ask someone to come fetch us as we reside close to OR Tambo so we bought 2 tickets. When we were checking in the lady in the front said we will be at the emergency exit 16D and 16E and if need be in case of an emergency would we be willing to help, we said yes thats no problem she then advised us unfortunately the emergency exit seats do not have windows, so we said no thats fine. Whilst we were in the queue at check in I got speaking to a lady who was in front of me and she advised me where she lives the area and I said thats the area I live I advised her that is she getting a lift all the way from Lanseria to her home which is close to mine she then said no the plane lands at O.R Tambo. I told her what the person at the ticket counter told me that the plane lands at Lanseria and we already made arrangements to be picked up at Lanseria she then said she hopes its not the case as she already told her daughter to collect her at OR Tambo, she then went to the front to go and ask, she was advised that it lands at OR Tambo and came back to tell us. I then luckily got hold of my husband cousin to change the arrangements We caught a flight from George to O.R Tambo leaving at 18h00 27.01.2019 last night when we got on board the aircraft the stewards were friendly and well-presented and I told my husband that the plane looks really good with plenty feet space we went to our seats and hello and behold it had a window. Surely the staff who work at the airport should know what they are talking about and should also know where the plane lands We left on time but this was the absolute worst flight I have ever experienced. Whilst I understand that the weather conditions werent great, this was by far the worst flight I have been on, when the Pilot landed everyone clapped thats how relieved they were that the plane had actually landed. When we eventually arrived at O.R Tambo our bag was open, the cable ties we used to secure the bag was off and the Bag was damaged.

Route: George to Johannesburg

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Couple Leisure

Airline: Southwest Airlines

Title: "Southwest - maybe fly, maybe not"

Review: Southwest - maybe fly, maybe not. The gambling of your Vegas trip starts the moment you book a Southwest flight. Will you actually get there, or will they cancel your flight? Well, I am not lucky in cards - so my flight got cancelled just because. No inclement weather, no real reason. Just the fact that Southwest is incapable of doing their job of scheduling and has no care for their passengers time nor plans. So what they refunded the money? Thats not what I was looking for - I was looking to see my friend and make memories. But their rebooking is just ridiculous. Delaying my weekend trip until Saturday night, no other options, no other compensation. They are professional at cancelling flights without a second thought and then basically insulting you with their rebooking. I will never book Southwest again, I would rather invest in a reliable airline to actually get to my destination. Now I have a ruined vacation I was looking forwards to for my first mothers day and my only option was to cry about it.

Route: Denver to Las Vegas

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Rwandair

Title: "Amazing cabin crew"

Review:

Amazing cabin crew, let me just say. Very attentive, funny and helpful. Very rarely do I see the cabin crew, literally, helping every single person to put their baggage in the overhead compartments. Very friendly wake up calls for food or landing! Very efficient with handing out meals and drinks, and didn't run out of anything, that I know of, on the flights. Seats were spacious and comfy (easily comparable to other big-name airlines). The Rwanda airport isn't impressive, but does offer free wifi and it seems like all connecting flights are only there for a very short layover (mine were 1 hour 19 minutes and the other 2 hours). Prompt boarding times! And every flight we landed roughly 10-30 minutes earlier than we were supposed to. I don't love the flight route, due to there being so many stops along the way, but definitely budget friendly, so can't complain over all.

Route: Cape Town to Dubai via Harare, Kigali, Mombasa

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Solo Leisure

Airline: Royal Jordanian Airlines

Title: "They never even said sorry"

Review: My son and I were flying RJ 733 to Amman from Riyadh on the 27th June to attend a colleagues' wedding scheduled at 9PM on 27th June 2019. Flight original timing was 12:20PM and changed to 14:10 hours. This change was announced on the previous day itself (26th June 2019). This means that the airlines had enough time or advance notification that there was some problem with that particular flight. When we checked in on 27th, the counter did not say there was any further delay. There was never any announcement but the display board showed a departure time of 4PM, after the original time of 2PM had lapsed. When passengers started to line up and waited in the queue for over 30 minutes, the person at the gate started saying "please go and take a seat" the flight is delayed as it is "too hot" and needs to cool down. All these conversations were happening in Arabic, and I am explaining what I understood. Then later (picture attached) the display board was still showing a departure time of 19:10 hours although the time was already 19:54 hours. The airline made no effort to announce any delays or provide food or any other amenities to the passengers. The flight finally left at 9PM after a delay of 7 hours. This is unacceptable from a flagship airline from Jordan. They never even said sorry, which is appalling behavior! We missed the wedding.

Route: Riyadh to Amman

Seat Type: Economy Class

Traveller Type: Family Leisure

Airline: Pegasus Airlines

Title: "unexpected and pleasant surprise"

